

Cinderella And Her Beautiful Octuplets

Chapter 11

Chapter 11

She hopped out of the car and was about to walk inside the restaurant when she bumped into someone who she never expected to see.

"Hannah!!" Rhoda, her best friend, called out in shock as she saw Hannah.

Hannah stared at Rhoda angrily, memories of years back when she caught her sleeping with her husband came running inside her head like a flash. All she wanted to do at this moment was just to kill her.

"Y-you are still alive" Rhoda stuttered. She didn't know why but she suddenly started feeling scared as she saw Hannah.

"Of course, I'm not alive. This is my ghost and I'm here to kill you" Hannah said and Rhoda stared at her without saying a word. Her eyes scrutinized Hannah who was now looking even more beautiful than before.

She now had a better shape than before that Every man will want. She felt so jealous of her immediately. She thought she was dead but no, she was alive, sound, and healthy.

They never heard from her again after she was raped but now suddenly she appeared out of the moon and she bumps into her, Rhoda thought.

"Now, if you would please excuse me. I came to this restaurant to eat, not to stare at your disgusting face" Hannah said and pushed Rhoda out of her way and was about to walk inside the restaurant but Rhoda dragged her hair and pulled her back, and immediately Hannah gave her a resounding slap.

"How dare you touch my hair, you bastard!!" Hannah groaned and gave her a dirty slap on her other cheeks.

She was shocked Hannah had hit her. It was unlike Hannah. The Hannah she knew in the past no matter how hard you hit her would never hit you, but it seems this was a new Hannah.

Rhoda placed her hands on her face which was now red from the slap Hannah had given her. She still stood at the door of the restaurant not wanting Hannah to go in.

Jeff was inside the restaurant and she couldn't afford for Jeff to see Hannah. She had remembered in the past that Jeff never stopped looking for Hannah even though he lied that he stopped.

All he wanted to do was apologize to Hannah and make things right and if he sees Hannah this time he won't stop chasing after her until she forgives him.

"I said get out of my way," Hannah said in a warning tone. She was already feeling angry. Why would Rhoda be acting like she owns the restaurant?

"You can't go in there. That place is not meant for the poor like you" Rhoda said and Hannah laughed so hard.

"Do you know I could buy this place in a split second if I wanted to? Don't you dare me, Rhoda, now get out of my way" Hannah said and Rhoda laughed in pain?

"I won't let you go in there," Rhoda said and suddenly Hannah pushed her out of the way and was about to walk in when Rhoda pulled her hair.

Hannah groaned and pulled her hair too while hitting her so hard on her face. She couldn't do anything when she saw her sleeping with her husband years ago. This was the perfect time to beat the hell out of her.

Hannah kept pouncing on her and suddenly pushed her to the ground and she came on top of her, punching her so hard on her face.

"Wtf!! Stop this!!" Jeff said as she pulled Hannah away from Rhoda making Hannah fall to the ground.

He immediately rushed to Rhoda and pulled her up from the ground. All his attention was on Rhoda and he barely noticed it was Hannah who had been fighting with Rhoda.

"What do you think you are doing Rhoda?" Jeff asked angrily.

"She started it, she hit me first," Rhoda said as she burst into tears. Jeff turned to see who started the fight and to his surprise, he saw Hannah.

"Hannah!" He was surprised to see her. Hannah stared at him angrily and picked up her bag from the ground.

"You all gonna pay for what you did, I promise you that," Hannah said and with that, she walked towards her car and hopped in it, she ignited the engine and zoomed off.

Rhoda opened her mouth wide in shock as she saw the car Hannah had hopped into and driven. It was the most expensive car in Atlanta city. Most CEOs drove it here in Atlanta.

She was so sure Hannah was sleeping with different men to be able to get that car because to her she would always remain poor.

Jeff had wanted to go after her but Rhoda held onto his shirt and started crying so hard.

"My whole body hurts, please take me to the hospital" Rhoda kept crying. Jeff stared at her for some seconds, lost in thought. He felt so much guilt. He had just pushed Hannah to the ground just now.

"Take me to the hospital and stop staring" she yelled and Jeff sighed softly.

He carried her up from the ground in a bridal style and carried her to the car. He ignited the engine of the car and zoomed off to the hospital where Rhoda was treated, after which he took her home.

The car screeched to a halt in front of Jeff's mansion. Jeff alighted the car and walked inside the house leaving Rhoda to walk in by herself. He went straight to his room.

Rhoda rolled her eyes and walked inside the house.

"Rhoda!!" Rosa, Jeff's mom, called in shock as she saw how swollen Rhoda's face was.

"Oh my goodness!! Who did this to you?" Rosa asked as she helped her sit on the couch in the sitting room.

"It's Hannah! She did this" Rhoda said angrily and Rosa opened her mouth in shock.

"What Hannah? You mean Hannah Rodriguez?" Rosa asked

"Which other Hannah do you know? Of course, it's her. She's alive and I was shocked to see her, " Rhoda said as she groaned in pain.

"Oh my goodness!! She's alive?" Rosa muttered in shock.

"Mommy" a little boy called as he ran towards Rhoda.

"Honey!!" Rhoda called out to his son as he hugged her.

"Mommy, what happened to your face?" Her son, David asked.

TBC