

Cinderella And Her Beautiful Octuplets

Chapter 131

Chapter 131

Brandon then turned to Hannah, "I'm leaving now" he gave Matthew one last glare before walking out of the house.

Hannah gave Brandon side eyes, but then she had no choice but to go with him in his car. She then walked out of the house. She got outside the house and saw Brandon sitting in his car, patiently waiting for her. She angrily hopped inside the car.

She turned, facing the window not wanting to stare at Brandon.

Brandon had this victorious smile on his lips. He asked the chauffeur to make sure Hannah's car tyre was flat, he planned everything all along.

He would see how long she would avoid him. Besides, they work in the same company and they would be coming home together.

He ignited the engine and took off.

Meanwhile, Jessica and Matthew are seen sitting in the dining area, talking to each other,

"What's up with those two?" Matthew asked as he took an apple from the basket on the table and bit it.

"I don't know, probably one of their arguments as a couple, but do not be deceived, they both love each other," Jessica said and Matthew smiled at her.

"My divorce lawyer will be here in a bit," Jessica said as she stared at her phone. Matthew had done what he was asked to, pretending to be Jessica's husband, now his work was done.

Just then the lawyer arrived and without wasting time, she put some papers on the table and asked Matthew to sign.

"For what it's worth, you are the best first wife I have ever had," Matthew said and with that, he signed the paper.

"So, that would be all," The lawyer said as she put the paper in her bag.

She smiled and wrote a check then gave it to him.

"That's your balance payment. Thank you" she smiled.

"This might be our last time together, why don't I take you on a date, bills on me. I know the money is yours but bills on me" Matthew laughed as he stared at the huge amount on the Cheque. and Jessica raised her eyebrows and he chuckled. "You shouldn't waste the money I paid you, I'm sure there are other things you have to do with it," Jessica said and Matthew sighed softly.

just the lawyer's phone vibrated.

She checked her phone and turned to Jessica.

"Have you seen the news?" The lawyer asked

"No, what's the problem?" Jessica asked as she stood up and walked to the living room, with Matthew and her lawyer behind her. She picked up the remote and switched on the TV.

Jeff is seen sitting while he is being interviewed in his house.

"I heard Miss Jessica have a new husband and you guys had just married a few days ago, we would love to know what happened" The interviewer asked

"I and Jessica were never married in the first place. She tricked me into believing I was marrying her just so she could get a hold of all my properties, she is a gold digger" Jeff replied to the interviewer. "What?" She yelled angrily.

"What is he doing?" Matthew asked, wondering why Jeff called the press telling them all of that.

"He's declaring war!" Jessica switched off the TV and dropped the remote.

"What are you going to do now? You can't have the press following you wherever you go and releasing untrue statements. You have to release a statement too" Matthew said, looking concerned. "He's right, you have to release a statement," The lawyer said

"That son of a bitch, I am going to kill him" Jessica muttered angrily.

Meanwhile, Robert is seen walking out of the bathroom, he had just taken his bath. He put on his clothes, carried his phone, and walked out of the room.

He knew Brandon had left with his wife already.

He then went to Brandon's study room. He stared around to see if anyone was coming but no one was. He pushed the door open, luckily, the door wasn't locked.

He entered the study and then quickly moved towards his computer.

He searched for some contacts in it and some messages, then copied it to his phone.

He stared at some files on the table, opened them, and took a picture of them.

He walked out of the study room and closed the door behind him like nothing had happened.

He decided to go downstairs. He climbed down the stairs and there he saw Jessica and a strange guy.

Jessica who had seen Robert stared at him with shock in his eyes.

"Uncle Robert" she called out, surprised and Robert smiled at her. She frowned.

"What are you doing at our house? Does Brandon know you are here?" Jessica asked, looking so furious.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

She never for once liked Uncle Robert, he's the wicked uncle. Jessica remembered how Robert and her Dad had always fought before he was sent to prison and now he was back. "Calm down Barbie, Brandon knows I'm here. He said I can stay" Robert said and Jessica gave him an icy glare.

"And who is this young man? Is he one of your gigolo?" Robert asked as his eyes moved towards Matthew.

"Matthew is not a gigolo, he's my husband. Oh, you missed the wedding, because you were in prison, I wonder who brought you out" Jessica said looking so furious "Matthew Windsor," Matthew said as he brought his hands for a handshake which Robert rejected.

"Let's go," Jessica said to Matthew and they both walked away.

"It seems like you hate him so much," Matthew asked while trailing behind Jessica.

"He's evil, while you stay here, do your best to avoid him," Jessica said and Matthew nodded in response.

Grandma Elizabeth is seen in her room, putting on makeup on her face. She needed to go see an old friend of hers today, and she wanted to make sure she looked good. Just then she heard her phone ring, it was a call from Jeff Mikealson.

"Seems like someone is back to his normal self again" she muttered as she answered the phone call.

"I'm ready to talk and listen to the deal you have to bring, so let's meet. I'll send you the address" Jeff said and ended the call and just then a text vibrated on her phone. It was the address. She let out a devilish smile as she held the phone in her hands.

TBC

Chapter 132

Chapter 132

Brandon and Hannah had gotten to the company. Hannah immediately came out of the car and entered the company.

She pressed the button to the elevator and entered. Just as she came out of the elevator, she saw two employees gossiping, and talking about her.

They hadn't noticed Hannah's presence.

"She slept her way to the top," one of the employees said.

"I knew it, she must have seduced Mr Colby into marrying her and giving her the position of the chief operating officer" the other added and Hannah cleared her throat.

They both turned and saw Hannah. They covered their mouths and bowed their heads with shock in their eyes.

"This is a place of work and not a place to gossip, the both of you are fired," Hannah said and walked past them.

They both stared at each other with the look of disappointment on their faces.

After she had gotten to her office, she closed the door behind her and dropped her bag on the table.

She wondered if these employees these days have no work other than gossiping.

She sat down and began work immediately. Just then the door burst open revealing Brandon.

Hannah raised her head and saw the CEO in her office.

"You should learn to knock before walking in," Hannah said with a frown on her face.

"The last time I checked, I owned this company," Brandon said and Hannah scoffed

"And the last time I checked, I am the chief operating officer," Hannah said as she rested her back on her chair. All her attention was now on Brandon. "What brought you here?" Hannah asked

"I heard you fired two of my employees, " Brandon said as he picked up a file from Hannah's table and opened it.

"Yes I did, is that the reason you came here?" Hannah said with so much authority in her voice, and Brandon sighed softly and kept the file back on her table. "Well, I came here for something else, not that.

There's a new company that has recently opened here in Georgia.

The CEO wants to meet and partner with us, you will be coming with me to meet him.

The meeting is today by 4 pm" Brandon said and Hannah nodded in response.

Brandon glared at her without saying a word and then he walked out.

Hannah on the other hand wondered why he had just left like that. It wasn't the typical Brandon. Brandon always loved getting on her nerves, she wondered if something was wrong. She quickly waved off the thoughts of him from her head.

Meanwhile, Jeff is seen sitting at a restaurant when Elizabeth strolls in and sits close to him.

"What took you so long?" Jeff asked with a frown on his face.

"There was traffic. I saw the statement you gave to the press, was it really necessary?" Elizabeth asked as she dropped her bag and removed her jacket.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"Jessica deserves that, now the whole world would know the kind of person she is," Jeff said and Elizabeth rolled her eyes.

"She's still my daughter and I care about her besides you started all of this, " Elizabeth said and Jeff scoffed

"If she's your granddaughter and you care about her, you wouldn't be here in the first place, now tell me what deal you have and what truth you told my mother you would tell me," Jeff said and Elizabeth sighed. "Well, I found a way you can get back at Brandon and his company, but first of all, you would have to ask your mother to tell you the truth about your father," Elizabeth said and Jeff stared at her confused. "What are you talking about? My father is Christopher Mikealson and he died years ago in a car accident, so what am I missing out on?" Jeff asked looking confused

"What if I tell you Christopher was never your father," Elizabeth said and Jeff chuckled and stood up.

"I'm not going to sit and listen to this anymore, you should go back to your family," Jeff said and was about to leave when Elizabeth spoke.

"You should ask your mother, then you would know I'm not lying to you," Elizabeth said and Jeff paused. He gave Elizabeth one last glare before walking away. Immediately, Jeff left where Elizabeth was, he went straight home.

He walked through the front door and entered the house, he saw his mom watching TV.

"You are back, I thought you were going to the company," Rosa asked as she picked up the remote and switched off the TV.

"Mom, is Christopher my biological father?" Jeff asked and Rosa felt her heartbeat increase at once.

"Of course honey, why do you ask?" Rosa said feeling nervous. She wondered where Jeff had heard what he was saying.

Jeff moved towards his mom and took her hand while staring deep into her eyes.

"Mom, I need you to tell me the truth, was Christopher my father?" Jeff asked and Rosa blinked twice, she removed her hands from that of Jeff and looked away from him.

"He is your father," Rosa said and Jeff frowned.

He knew his mom so well and knew when she was lying to him and now he refused to believe she was lying to him.

She just wants her to say yes that Christoper was his father.

"Why are you lying to me?" Jeff yelled and moved towards Rosa and held her by her neck, choking her.

"Let go of me Jeff, you are hurting me" Rosa cried out and Jeff quickly let go of her neck.

Tears slipped down Rosa's cheeks.

"He's not my father right!?" Jeff asked this time in a calm time with the look of disappointment on his face.

Rosa started shivering, more tears slipping down her cheeks.

He knew the truth already, his mom lied to him, Christopher Mikealson was not his father.

"Who the hell is my father?" Jeff asked, looking so furious.

"I don't know," Rosa said and Jeff chuckled

"Don't you dare lie to me. Who the hell is my father?" Jeff yelled, this time looking more than angry, his eyes were so red. All his veins were so visible because of the anger he felt deep inside of him. He clenched his fist and then hit it on the wall.

"Who the hell is my Biological father?"

"I don't know who he is, Jeff. I'm telling the truth. I don't know"

TBC

Chapter 133

Chapter 133

"I don't know who he is, Jeff. I'm telling the truth. I don't know" Rosa Cried and Jeff stared at her angrily without saying a word.

Just then he received a call from the Mikealson's Company that the board meeting was about to start. He gave his mom one last glance before walking out of the house.

He got to the company and went straight to the board room and to his surprise he saw Jessica and her new husband, Matthew, and a woman who he assumed to be her lawyer, sitting with other board members waiting for him. The board members were staring at Jessica with surprise in their eyes wondering who she was and what she was doing at the board meeting.

He felt so angry the moment he saw her.

"Everyone out!" he voiced out angrily. Everyone stood up at once and walked out of the board room leaving Jessica, Matthew, and the lawyer.

"You, what are you doing here?" he yelled angrily and Jessica scoffed.

"I came to the board meeting or have you forgotten I own 35% shares of this company?" Jessica smiled and Jeff tightened his fist.

"You are going to get nothing from my company," Jeff said and Jessica sighed and stood up.

"I know you would say that, that's why I brought my lawyer, so we would be doing it the legal way, no need getting violent," Jessica said and Jeff was about to move towards her when Matthew stood up and stood in front of Jessica. "Back off, man," Matthew said and Jeff scoffed.

"And who do you think you are to stand in my way?" Jeff asked as he stared at Matthew.

"I said back off man," Matthew said, already looking pissed.

"And what if I don't" Jeff asked as he pushed Matthew on his chest. Matthew paused for some seconds and then punched Jeff in his mouth making him stagger.

Jeff tried to punch Matthew in return but Matthew was quick to get his hand and then held it, he twisted his hands and brought it down, and then punched him on his nose. Jeff groaned and then he fell on the ground. "That's for giving the press that crappy speech about my wife," Matthew said angrily and Jeff, whose nose was bleeding, laughed.

"Your wife? You are kidding, right? Your wife? She's using you. I would advise you to run away from the Colby's as fast as you can because they are going to ruin you, I pity you" Jeff and touched his nose which was bleeding. Jeff spit out blood immediately. Jessica, who hated the sight of blood, looked away immediately.

"Matthew that's enough, let's go," Jessica said and held Matthew then pulled him out of the room, while the lawyer trailed behind them.

Matthew looked so pissed and Jessica noticed it. She didn't say a word, she had just met Matthew a few days ago and paid him to marry her and now he stood up for her.

No one had ever stood up to protect her the way Matthew did today, she didn't know why, but when Matthew stood in front of her and asked Jeff to back off, she felt this tingling feeling in her.

And when he called her his wife, she felt her heartbeat increase. She kept smiling to herself as they got to the car. She didn't notice she was smiling.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"Hey, are you alright?" Matthew asked jolting Jessica out of her thoughts and she smiled at him.

"Yeah, I'm okay," Jessica sighed softly.

"I'm sorry for earlier on, I just....."

"It's fine, I'm just wondering how you can punch and even catch a punch," Jessica said and Matthew laughed. "My dad taught me all of that, he was a soldier before he died," Matthew said and he looked so sad.

"Oh my goodness! I'm so sorry about that. I'm so sorry" Jessica said and Matthew smiled.

"It's fine, it's in the past now," he said as they all entered the car including the lawyer and they drove home.

Meanwhile, it was almost 4 pm and Hannah was ready to leave the company. Brandon had told her they would be meeting with a client today, so she wanted them to get there in time. She walked out of her office to Brandon's office. She planted a soft knock on the door.

"Come in," a masculine voice said and Hannah opened the door and walked in. She saw a pile of files on Brandon's table, he looked so busy.

"It's almost 4 pm, ain't we going to see the client?" Hannah asked

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"No, he rescheduled the date of the meeting. He had something important to do, so he canceled it" Brandon said, his eyes fixed on the files on his table.

"And you didn't bother telling me?" Hannah asked and Brandon dropped the pen on his hands and leaned his back against his chair.

The black sleeve he was putting on, made him look charming at that moment.

"I was busy with work, I forgot to tell you, besides, we would be going to a house party held by Mr Edward" Brandon said as he stood up arranging his sleeve properly. The man was looking elegant as he tucked in his sleeve properly. "And who is Mr Edward?" Hannah asked

"He's a good business partner of mine, we've known each other forever, and he's part of this company's growth too. He's also a family friend. I will introduce him to you once we get there" Brandon said as he walked out of the office. Hannah sighed softly and trailed behind him.

They both got to the car, Hannah opened the passenger seat and hopped in, not wanting to sit beside Brandon in the front seat.

Brandon on the other hand sat on the driver's seat, without saying a word or insisting that she sit beside him. He ignited the engine and drove off.

During the ride, the car was silent. Brandon gazed at the woman through the rearview mirror, she was looking so stunning and elegant.

He swallowed hard as he admired the petite woman from the rearview mirror.

Just then Hannah raised her head and stared at the mirror, and suddenly their eyes met with each other.

TBC

Chapter 134

Chapter 134

Just then Hannah raised her head and stared at the mirror, and suddenly their eyes met with each other.

Hannah quickly looked away. The car came to a stop in front of a big mansion. Hannah got out of the car while Brandon did the same.

Brandon moved towards Hannah and gestured for her to put her hands over his like a gentleman. But Hannah stared at him and walked away. Brandon rolled his eyes and went after Hannah.

Immediately, Hannah walked inside the mansion, she stood admiring the beauty of the house and the elegant men and women that were at the party.

"Everyone here looks so rich," Hannah, who noticed Brandon was now standing beside her, voiced out.

"Were you expecting poor people to be here?" Brandon said while staring around searching for Mr Edward.

Hannah gave him a side eye and huffed.

"Most people here are senators and politicians," Brandon said as he spotted an old family friend of his, or rather an old friend of his dad who had also seen him and was walking towards him with a smile on his face. "Senator Daniels " Brandon muttered as they both shook hands with a smile on their faces.

"Brandon Colby," Senator Daniels smiled. He was so happy to see Brandon. It's been almost forever since they saw each other.

"How have you been?" Senator Daniels asked and Brandon replied to him.

"I am fine," Brandon responded.

Just then his eyes drifted towards Hannah who was standing beside Brandon.

"And who is this Beautiful lady we have here?" Senator Daniels stared at Hannah as he admired her beauty.

"This is Hannah, The company's new COO and my....."

"Mrs Mackenzie" Hannah cut off Brandon's speech as she knew what Brandon had wanted to say.

"Daniel Daniels but everyone calls me Senator Daniels" He brought his hands forward for a handshake which Hannah took with a smile on her face.

Senator Daniels took her hands and planted a soft kiss on them while staring straight into Hannah's eyes.

"And she's my wife" Brandon finished his sentence and Daniel paused for two seconds and then turned to Brandon.

"You sure have a good taste in women, she's pretty and sexy" Senator Daniels smiled and then touched Brandon on his shoulder before walking away to meet some new people who had just arrived. "Was the wife part necessary? I'm only here because I'm the COO of Colby Co, nothing more. This is business" Hannah said and Brandon scoffed without saying a word.

She turned and stared at him wondering why he wasn't saying a word.

Just then an advanced man walked towards them with a smile on his face and suddenly hugged Brandon.

This must be Mr Edward, Hannah thought as she stared at both Brandon and the advanced man.

"Brandon, it's been a long time. I thought you won't be able to make it" Edward said as he pulled away from the hug with a wide smile on his face.

"I wouldn't miss this party for anything. You are family so, I would always show up with just a phone call from you" Brandon said and Edward smiled. "And who is this Beautiful lady beside you?" Edward asked

"Mr Edward, this is Hannah, the new COO and my wife," Brandon said and Edward frowned as he heard the word wife but then quickly replaced it with a smile.

"I didn't know you were married," Edward said and Brandon smiled.

"Anyways, it's nice to meet you, Hannah. Welcome to the family" Edwards said and gave Hannah a heartwarming smile.

Edward was disappointed when he heard Brandon was married. Elizabeth didn't inform him that he had a wife.

Edward had moved back to town because he felt it was time for his daughter and Brandon to get married and make things official.

Edward was part of the people who had made Colby's co a success because he had invested so much in it. And he felt marrying his daughter wouldn't be a problem for Brandon.

"Daddy, this gown doesn't fit me," a young lady said as she walked towards Edward with a frown on her face but then paused when she saw Brandon. The frown on her face was replaced with a big smile. "Brandon Colby" she called out and ran into Brandon's arm.

"Isabella" Brandon laughed as he hugged her. Brandon and Isabella had been friends for a very long time before they moved out of the country and now they were back in town to stay permanently. "Oh my goodness! I can't believe it's you" Isabella said as she hugged Brandon so tight and refused to let go of him.

"I miss you so much," Isabella said as she finally pulled away from the hug. Brandon smiled at her.

"Daddy, why didn't you tell me you were going to invite Brandon?" Isabella said as she practically held Brandon's hands refusing to let go.

Brandon stared at Hannah who has this strange looks on her face.

"Isabella, this is....."

"Common Brandon, I will introduce you to some of my friends" Isabella cut off Brandon's speech as she held his hands and dragged him with her. Hannah on the other hand who felt so invisible all this time rolled her eyes plainly with a flash of anger in her eyes.

"I'm so sorry about my daughter's behavior. She only misses Brandon so much because of how long they've been apart from each other.

They've been friends from a young age and I hope you understand that" Edward said and Hannah smiled at him.

"Of course I do," Hannah said and Edward smiled before walking away.

Hannah turned and saw Isabella who was all over Brandon introducing him to some new people.

"I need to get a drink," she said to herself as she walked towards where the alcohol was and poured herself a cup of drink.

She took a sip of it and turned to see Brandon still standing beside Isabella and he was smiling. She drank the cup of alcohol and dropped the glass on the table. She's never felt this angry in her entire life.

She didn't know why she was feeling the way she was feeling now, she felt so jealous and felt like ripping off Isabella's head at that moment in time.

TBC

Chapter 135

Chapter 135

"No, I can't be jealous, right? I'm not even jealous" She thought as she kept staring at them, with the look of jealousy in her eyes but she would never agree she was jealous. She took another glass of drink and held it in her hands, she then gulped down everything in the glass and dropped it.

She walked out of the house as she was feeling a little bit tipsy. She then entered the car and leaned her back against the car seat while waiting for Brandon to be done.

Meanwhile, Brandon on the other hand who was speaking with some businessmen and women with Isabella by his side, turned, eye searching for Hannah but she was nowhere to be found. He wondered where she had gone.

"Excuse me, please," Brandon said to the men and women as he released Isabella's grip from his.

"Hey, are you leaving now?" Isabella asked as she followed Brandon who was still looking around trying to find Hannah.

"Uhm, I have something really important to do right now, so yes," Brandon said as he brought out his phone and tried calling Hannah but she wasn't picking up.

"Can we hang out some other time, please? Maybe we can have dinner together," Isabella said and Brandon nodded in agreement and she smiled happily before walking away leaving Brandon all alone.

Brandon decided to go check his car outside, if it was still there and to his surprise it was. He wondered where Hannah had gone, he thought as he walked towards the car and opened the car door and to his surprise, he saw Hannah sitting inside the car. In the front passenger's seat.

Immediately, he opened the car, Hannah turned to him with a frown on her face and looked away.

"Why are you in the car? The party is inside" Brandon said and Hannah rolled her eyes.

"Can we just go home please, I need to go pick the kids off from school" Hannah said as she made sure she avoided Brandon's gaze.

"Mom is gonna bring them back from school," Brandon said in response as he wondered why Hannah's mood was so sour.

"Okay then, I need to go home," Hannah said

"But Hannah, the party ain't done yet, and Mr Edward...."

"You can go back inside and meet your Isabella or Edward whatever, I don't care.

I said I want to go home, it's either you give me the car keys or you take me home or I take a cab instead" Hannah muttered as she opened the car door and climbed out of the car. "Hey," Brandon muttered as he walked towards. He tried getting closer to her but Hannah pushed him.

"Don't get any closer" she warned and Brandon perceived a faint smell of alcohol.

"Oh my goodness! Did you drink?" Brandon asked

"It's none of your business if I drink, I only took a sip, so I'm fine. I'm going to take a cab now," Hannah said and Brandon held her hands.

"You do not need to take a cab, common, let's go home," Brandon said, wondering what's up with her.

"Let go of my hands" Hannah pulled her hands away from Brandon's and entered the car.

Brandon moved to the driver's side, opened the car door, and got in. He switched on the ignition and drove off.

Hannah on the other hand kept staring outside the car, while Brandon drove the car, he stared at Hannah for a few seconds before fixing his eyes back on the road.

"Hey, are you alright?" Brandon asked, he turned to Hannah and stared at her again for some seconds and then fixed his eyes back on the road since he was driving. "Yes," Hannah responded, eyes still fixed outside the car.

"Isabella has been a friend of mine from when we were growing up. She's practically a family friend and I have known her for a long time.

She only acted the way she did, because it's been a long time since she saw me" Brandon said and Hannah scoffed, wondering why he was explaining.

It's not like she cares. She doesn't care. Besides they aren't married, it's only a contract that binds them together, she thought, still feeling angry.

Brandon's car came to a stop in front of the mansion, Hannah didn't waste any more seconds as she alighted the car in a rush and walked inside the house.

"Is she jealous because of how Isabella was acting, Brandon sighed. He's known Isabella for a long time and Isabella has always been that way, a carefree person. Brandon sighed and alighted the car and walked inside the house.

Hannah on the other hand went straight to her room immediately she entered the house. She dropped her belongings and sat on the bed while she removed her shoes. Just then Brandon opened the door and walked inside the house with his car keys in his hands.

Hannah raised her head and stared at the tall, slender man who was standing in her room.

"You should knock before entering, this is my room," Hannah said as she stood up from the bed and Brandon then sat on the bed.

"And this is my room too," Brandon said and Hannah frowned.

"Okay then, I will find myself another room, you can have this room onto your rude, arrogant, ....." Hannah paused and clenched her fist. She felt like she was about to explode at that moment in time. "Self" She completed the sentence and was about to walk out of the room, when Brandon held her hands and pulled her towards him, making her fall on top of him, on the bed.

He wrapped his hands around her waist and pinned her body to his.

She tried to move but she couldn't move. She stared at his face and turned away.

"Let me go, Brandon," she said, avoiding his gaze but Brandon, who had this evil smirk on his lips, held her face and turned it towards him.

Their faces were so close that they could feel each other's breath. Hannah swallowed nothing as she stared into the man's ocean eyes.

"And what if I don't" he asked while staring deep down into her eyes and suddenly, he kissed her.

At first, Hannah struggled to pull away from the kiss but gradually, she gave in to the kiss.

Suddenly Brandon pulled away and smiled at her.

"Do you like the kiss?"

TBC

Chapter 136

Chapter 136

"Do you like the kiss?" his lips curved into a smile as he stared at the woman on top of him whose breath had become intense.

Hannah scowled and tried standing up, this time he released his grip from her.

She stood and stared at Brandon angrily.

"You can always tell me whenever you want me to kiss you, don't worry you won't pay a dime, it's free," Brandon said and Hannah hissed.

"I want you out of this room before I return" Hannah walked out of the room, closed the door behind and took a deep breath.

She touched her forehead and sighed before walking to the kitchen to get a cup of water.

She walked inside the kitchen and met a few maids who greeted her, she smiled at them and strolled to the fridge. She took a bottle of water, opened it, and poured it into a cup before drinking it.

She dropped the bottle on the kitchen counter while staring into nothing. The thoughts of Brandon kissing her kept playing in her mind.

She tried pushing the thoughts away but it just kept coming back. She poured herself another glass of water and gulped it down.

"Why am I thinking about him?" she said to herself and walked out of the kitchen. Immediately she walked out of the kitchen, the front door opened revealing Arianna and the kids. They had closed from school. "Mommy!" the kids yelled and rushed towards her.

"Hey, sweethearts," Hannah muttered happily as she saw her children.

"How was school today?" she asked, smiling.

"It was fine Mommy, " Jayden said

"Grandma took us to buy ice cream when we closed" Aubrey voiced out

"Mommy, can grandma take us to school every day?" Jamie grinned

"And can she pick us up from school every day?" Addison suggested.

"Mommy please don't forget about the upcoming event, it's important you and Daddy attend," Audrey added

"Our classmates will be attending with their parents too," Allison spoke out

"And the matching clothes too," Jasper said

"Any color is okay by us, but you and Daddy must wear the same color" Jaxon added

"Of course sweethearts, anything that would make you guys happy" Hannah who was waiting for the kids to finish speaking finally spoke.

"OK kids, go to your room now and wait for me, I'll be there in a bit," Arianna said and the kids nodded happily before running upstairs to their room.

"Careful!" Hannah yelled and Arianna laughed.

She had almost forgotten she was going to attend their school event. She was glad they reminded her.

"These children never cease to amaze me," Arianna said and Hannah smiled.

"I'm so sorry, they must have stressed you so much" Hannah stated and Arianna laughed.

"Don't say that, they are not stressing me, they make me so happy and feel alive" Arianna said and then checked the time on her phone.

"You came back early from the office today," Arianna said as she walked to the kitchen and asked the maid to order something for the kids. Hannah trailing behind her.

Just then a message popped into her phone.

"Yeah, we attended a house party of some man named Edward," Hannah said and Arianna raised her eyebrows.

"Edward? He's in town?" she asked as she started going through her phone.

"Yeah, you know him?" Hannah asked

"He's been a friend of Colby's for a long time. I didn't know he was in town" Arianna said, her eyes still fixed on her phone.

"I heard they've moved into town permanently," Hannah said and Arianna hummed and then dropped her phone.

"I need to go meet the kids before they turn their room into a mess," Arianna said and Hannah nodded in response with a smile on her face. Arianna love her kids so much, she's literally the best grandma her kids ever had. She wished her mom was still alive to see her and her children. She wished her mom never died of cancer.

She sighed softly and decided to go back to her room. She was sure Brandon must have left.

She entered the room and luckily she found the room empty. She sighed in relief and bolted the door.

She was sure Brandon had gone to his study room, so she locked the door to prevent any further disturbance from him.

She sat on the bed and noticed his car key was there and his phone too. She frowned.

He must have left it here so he could come back here again, or I'm I wrong? She paused as she stared at the bathroom door that was opened.

She hoped her thought was wrong. She walked to the bathroom and to her greatest surprise, she saw Brandon peeing.

"Oh my!" She muttered and quickly looked away in a rush and tried rushing out of the bathroom when she fell and hit her head on the door and sat on the ground.

"Ouch!" She cried and tried standing up from the ground as she held her head.

Brandon, who was done peeing, laughed and washed his hands. He dried his hands with the hand towel and moved towards the petite woman who was sitting by the bathroom door.

"You could have told me you wanted to see it, I would have shown you without you hurting yourself," Brandon said and sighed and then he carried the woman from the ground and dropped her on the bed. "Does it hurt that much?" he asked as she closed her eyes while her hands were still on her head.

"I'm fine, just leave," she said and Brandon smiled.

"I will leave, but first tell me, did you like what you saw just now?" Brandon asked and Hannah opened her at once.

"What? I didn't see anything" she said and Brandon rolled her eyes.

"You little liar," he said as he bit his lips and Hannah felt her cheeks turn red immediately.

"I promise, I didn't see anything," she said as her cheeks flushed.

"Then why are you blushing?" He asked and she closed her eyes feeling embarrassed.

She then opened her eyes and frowned at him.

"Get out!" She said and Brandon stood up.

"Your frown looks don't scare me. You look like a cute little cat" Brandon said and Hannah stared at the man in amusement.

Just then Brandon's phone vibrated and a text message popped in.

He picked up his phone and stared at the text message. He then stood up and walked towards the door. He tried opening it and then he realized it was bolted.

He turned to Hannah.

"Did you lock the door because you wanted to seduce me?"

"What?! No!" Hannah yelled as she stared at Brandon whose mind was filled with dirty thoughts.

Brandon laughed as he saw the look on Hannah's face. He smiled and then walked out of the room.

Hannah heaved a sigh of relief, the moment he left.

TBC

Chapter 137

Chapter 137

After Brandon had walked out of the room, he opened the text message and saw it was from Edward. He was asking where he was because he couldn't find him at his party. He quickly dialed Edward's number.

"Brandon, you didn't tell me you were leaving," Edwards said from the other side of the phone, the moment he answered it.

"I had to take my wife home, she wasn't feeling too well," Brandon said and Edward hummed.

"Alright, I will be paying a visit to the company soon, we've got business to discuss," Edward said and with that, he ended the call.

Brandon sighed and placed his phone back in his pocket. He went to his study room and noticed the door was open. He wondered who entered the room and left the door open.

He closed the door behind him and sat on his chair, facing his computer, and decided to go through some unfinished work and check more online about the company that wants to partner with them. Meanwhile, at Mr Edward's mansion. A black car came to a halt in front of Edward's mansion.

Elizabeth alighted the car and walked inside the mansion. She smiled as she stared at the interior design of the house. It had been a long time since she visited this place.

The house was almost quiet because the party was over, just a few people were remaining and they were already leaving.

Just then she saw Edward moving towards her.

"Edward" she smiled and moved towards him then hugged him.

"Elizabeth Colby, after all these years, you still haven't changed a bit, still looking sexy and beautiful" Edwards complimented the old woman, as he pulled away for the hug.

Elizabeth felt her cheeks turn red at once.

"Stop flattering me" She rolled her eyes and Edward smiled.

"Welcome back to Atlanta" she responded as she placed her hands over that of Edward and they walked upstairs to Edward's room.

Edward and Elizabeth had always been so close in the past and had some special kind of relationship that no one knew about.

Even after Edward left the country, he had always been in contact with Elizabeth and when he arrived in Atlanta, the first person he informed was Elizabeth.

"What about Isabella? I didn't see her just now" Elizabeth said as they both walked inside the room and closed the door behind her.

"She left with her friends" Edward responded and she turned to him.

"So I believe you've seen my grandson," Elizabeth said as she put her hands on Edwards, playing with the collar of his sleeve.

"Yes, but he's married. You didn't tell me he was married" Edward said and Elizabeth placed her finger over his mouth and asked him to shut up.

"It doesn't matter, Brandon doesn't like her, she's the one forcing herself on him," Elizabeth said as she started unbuckling Edward's jacket.

"Doesn't look like it to me" he swallowed his saliva as he stared at the woman who was trying to seduce him..

"I don't like Hannah, I want Isabella for Brandon, so you are going to tell Brandon to marry your daughter, he won't be able to say no because of how much you've invested in Colby co," Elizabeth said as she removed his sleeve and bit her lips seductively. "What if....."

"Shhhh, no what if. Isabella likes Brandon so it would be easier. All you have to do is act according to what I tell you and do as I say" Elizabeth said as she traced her fingers on Edward's chest and then moved it down to his waistline, down to his trouser, and grabbed his stick.

A soft moan escaped Edward's lips.

"Fine, I will do whatever you tell me to" Edward Moaned and a devilish smile escaped Elizabeth's lips.

Suddenly, Edwards kissed her, and the next moment, their clothes could be seen thrown across the room, only the sound of their moans could be heard.

After they were both done, Edward laid on the bed looking so tired and weak. Elizabeth stared at him and kissed him.

She stood up and picked up her clothes which were on the ground and put them on.

"You are leaving? Why not spend the night? I really missed you. Just spend the night please," Edward said and Elizabeth sighed softly.

"Next time alright. I have to get home, I have got something important to do" Elizabeth said as she finished wearing her clothes.

She picked up her phone and her bag and put on her shoes. She put on her lip gloss and straightened her dress before walking out of the room like nothing had happened behind the closed door. Immediately, she walked out of the room, she saw Isabella walking through the hallway.

"Grandma Elizabeth" Isabella called surprised to see her coming out of her dad's room. She wondered what she was doing there.

"Oh, my sweet Isabella, " Elizabeth muttered and pulled Isabella into a hug.

Elizabeth had known Isabella from when she was just a child. And their both families were quite close. She was so glad they were back in town, now everything is gonna go as planned.

Edward never had plans of coming back to Atlanta this soon but Elizabeth had been the one who pressured him into coming back to Atlanta with his daughter, Isabella.

"Hey," Isabella muttered as she pulled away from the hug.

"Brandon told me he saw you today. You need to see how happy he was when he told me. My Grandson likes you a lot but he won't show it.

He loves pretending. Now, you are in town, grab every opportunity you get and make sure he becomes yours" Elizabeth said as she kissed Isabella on her cheeks before walking away. Isabella smiled. Her dreams had come true, and Brandon liked her. She was so happy.

She smiled and then walked past her father's room to her room in happiness.

She was going to her dad's room to talk to him but now out of the happiness she felt, she had forgotten she needed to talk to her dad.

Immediately Elizabeth walked out of the house, she hopped into her car, and then smiled. All her plans were falling into place already, everything was about to go the way she wanted. Now, Hannah and Arianna would be out of Brandon's life for good, she thought and just then she heard her phone ring.

It was a call from Jeff. She wondered why he was calling if his mother had told him the truth already. She decided to answer the phone call.

"Jeff," she muttered as she placed the phone on her ear.

"Hey, I'm sorry for walking out on you before. What you said is the truth. My mother lied to me about my real father. Christopher Mikealson isn't my real father.

Do you know who my real father is?"

TBC

Chapter 138

Chapter 138

"Do you know who my real father is?" Jeff asked over the phone. Elizabeth paused for some seconds before she finally spoke.

"Even if I do, it's not my place to tell you. Your mom should tell you the whole truth, then you can come to me and I will take over from there, alright" Elizabeth said and ended the call. She turned on the ignition, before zooming off.

Meanwhile, at the Colby's mansion, dinner was ready and Hannah had gone upstairs to call the children to come down for dinner, after which she went to Arianna's room.

She planted a soft knock on the door and a feminine voice spoke "Come in"

She opened the door and walked. There she met Arianna going through some papers. She looked so serious while going through them.

"What paper is that?" Hannah asked and Arianna raised her head.

"These are work papers. I'm trying to validate some stuff about the company. So I need to go through this stuff and check some things.

I will be meeting up with a client tomorrow to discuss business. There are some certain things I need to be sure of before I meet up with the client" Arianna said and Hannah nodded in response. "I was about to come call you for dinner," Hannah said as she stared at her.

"I will join you guys in a bit," she said and Hannah nodded in response. With that, she walked out of the room.

Immediately Hannah left, and it wasn't quite long before the door opened again.

"Hannah I....." Arianna paused as she raised her head and to her surprise, she saw Robert staring at her with a smile on his face.

Arianna frowned.

"What are you doing in my room, you should leave now," Arianna said as she stood up, arranged the papers, and put them in her bag.

"Hey, we ain't fighting, alright," Robert said calmly as he stood staring at her.

"What do you want, Robert?" Arianna asked as she maintained a straight face. "You know my brother was really stupid for trying to kill you.

You are a beautiful woman, Arianna. You are what every man craves for.

I still wonder why Wilson tried to kill you" Robert paused and clicked his tongue.

"You can't blame him, has anyone ever told you that my mom is pretty good at manipulating people? That woman is bitch" Robert whispered with a serious face.

"Same way she's manipulating you now and using you," Arianna said as she moved towards the door and opened it.

"You should leave now," she said while holding the door's knob.

Robert heaved a sigh of relief and moved towards the door, about to leave, when he paused and turned to Arianna.

"Come to think of it," he said as he moved closer to her and touched her hair.

"You are single, I am single. I know you are rich, trust me, I am too, even though I have spent a lot of time in prison, I'm still rich and I can afford you and treat you the way Wilson never did.

We can be a couple. A power couple at that. We can achieve great things and get revenge on Wilson for what he did to you. what do you say?" Robert said and Arianna stared at him disgustedly and slapped his hands off her hair. "You son of bitch!!" Arianna muttered as she stared at the man in front of him. He sure had the guts to stand in front of her and spit trash.

"Get our Robert, before I lose my cool," Arianna said angrily, and Robert laughed.

"Common Camilla quit acting hard to get, I know you like me too. Just say yes to....." Arianna didn't let him finish his speech when a hot slap landed on his cheeks.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

Robert's eyes changed immediately, as the look on his face was replaced with anger.

"How dare you hit me?" Robert muttered angrily.

"And I will do it again," Arianna said looking so fearless as she stared at Robert straight in his eyes.

"You wouldn't want to....." Arianna gave him another sounding slap again, this time twice cutting off his speech.

"You think I'm that woman you tried to force yourself on years ago?"

No, I'm not that weak Camilla Colby anymore.

A lot has changed about me and in case you don't know who I am, let me introduce myself.

My name is Arianna Mackenzie, the CEO of Mackenzie Co. Go out there and ask about me, I bet you would think twice before doing or saying anything stupid.

Don't try me, Robert, or else I'm going to ruin your life. Now get out!" Arianna who was looking fearless voiced out while Robert stared at the woman looking speechless.

He wondered if it was the Camilla Colby he knew years ago, was the one speaking.

"Are you threatening me?" Robert asked, still surprised.

Meanwhile, Elizabeth, who had just gotten home, entered the house, walked past the dining room and saw Hannah and the kids at the dining table eating. She wondered why Brandon and Arianna weren't with them. She stared at them and looked away before climbing the stairs to her room.

She walked down the hallway and was about to walk past Arianna's room when she saw Robert staring at her with his eyes looking so red and there were five hands on his face.

"Robert" Elizabeth called and held his hands pulling him away from Arianna's room.

She wondered what he was doing in her room and what had transpired.

"Thank goodness, mommy's boy, your mommy is here, now go to her, and you..." Arianna paused and turned to Elizabeth

"Tell your son to stay away from me" she voiced out and locked the door in their faces.

"What were you doing in her room? What if Brandon had seen you?" Elizabeth asked worriedly. She was worried Robert was going to ruin all her plans.

Robert walked past her and walked to his room. He stood at the fireplace looking so angry.

Elizabeth, who was following him, opened the door and walked in.

"Robert, I know how angry you are but I can't have you go back to prison.

I have got everything under control. I have got a plan to help you get back everything, Wilson stole from you. We are so close at getting everything we've always wished for" Elizabeth said as she stood in front of her son. Robert sighed and hugged her.

"I'm sorry Mom, but I can't sit and watch you ruin my plans.

You are a self-serving bitch who only loves herself and I know whatever you are doing is not for me but for yourself" Robert said as he forcefully pulled away from the hug and held Elizabeth by her neck, then he pushed her head in the fireplace and let her face burn.

He pulled her out from the fireplace and pushed her to the ground.

He cleaned his hands and walked out of the room, he then left the house like nothing had happened.

TBC

Chapter 139

Chapter 139

Hannah and the kids were done eating, Hannah took the kids to their room and helped them take their baths, after which she read them a bedtime story and put them to sleep.

She then went back to clear the dining table, but just then Brandon, who was done working and decided to take a break, was seen climbing down the stairs.

"Why are you clearing the table? Where are the maids?" He asked as he walked towards her.

"I asked them to rest their head, it's been a long day, this isn't a difficult task, I could clear the table myself," Hannah said and Brandon hummed and sat on the chair.

Hannah hadn't called Brandon for dinner because she didn't want to see his face, not after what had transpired between them earlier on. Memories of how Brandon had kissed her and teased her came running into her head. She suddenly finds herself blushing. She raised her head and saw Brandon staring at her, she quickly looked away.

"I'm starving, you didn't call me to come join you guys for dinner," Brandon said and Hannah paused.

"I thought you were busy, so I didn't want to disturb you. Besides, It was just me and the kids," Hannah said as she packed the plate inside the kitchen and Brandon followed her.

"What about mom?" He asked as he walked towards the fridge and opened it, then brought out a bottle of water.

"She's busy with work. And as for Jessica, I don't think she's home yet" Hannah said, as she put the plates in the sink and started washing them.

"You don't have to wash them, the maids can do it," Brandon said as he stared at Hannah. He didn't know why, he just didn't want her stressing herself over minor things.

"No it's fine, I can do it," Hannah said and Brandon hummed while staring at Hannah from behind. She was wearing this simple straight gown that brought out her figure eight. She looked so sexy and the way she moved her body involuntarily while washing the dish drove Brandon crazy.

Hannah who felt Brandon's eyes on her from behind felt so uncomfortable. She then turned at once and suddenly she saw the man standing in front of her.

How did he get here so fast? She asked herself as she felt her heartbeat increase a bit.

"What are you doing, Brandon" she whispered

"Why are you nervous?" Brandon asked as he touched her cheeks and Hannah swallowed into nothing. She closed her eyes letting whatever she was feeling wash over her. Brandon chuckled as he stared at the petite woman, and then moved away from her.

"I just wanted to drop this on the trash bag," Brandon said as he dropped the disposable can on the trash bag.

Hannah had this disappointed look on her face but then quickly replaced it with an expressionless one.

"What were you thinking? You thought I wanted to kiss you?" Brandon asked as he stared at Hannah who rolled her eyes at him and resumed washing the dishes.

"I told you, you could just ask me if you want anything," Brandon said and Hannah knew he was teasing her, so she wasn't going to pay any attention to him.

Brandon laughed and just then, a maid rushed inside the kitchen looking tense.

"Mr. Colby, you have to come with me," she said, breathing heavily.

"What's the problem?" Hannah asked and dropped the dish she was rinsing as she and Brandon followed the maid.

They entered Grandma Elizabeth's room and saw her on the floor, her face looking burnt.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"What happened to her?" Hannah asked, looking worried.

"I don't know Ma'am. I came to drop the towels I washed so I can go to bed and I met her this way" the maid said and Hannah stared at her and then she turned to Elizabeth, who was looking half conscious. "I'll call the ambulance," Brandon said as he brought out his phone and walked out of the room.

Meanwhile, it was morning and Hannah had gotten the kids dressed up for school and went to drop them off before going back home.

Immediately, after she got home she met Arianna and Brandon in the sitting room.

"Do you have any idea who would do that to get it?" Brandon asked Arianna who sighed.

"Definitely, Robert," Arianna said

"I don't think so, Elizabeth worked out her ass to bring Robert out of prison, he wouldn't do that right?" Hannah asked and everyone went dead silent.

"We are not sure yet, let's wait till she's conscious and tell us who did it," Brandon said as he stood up.

"Has anyone heard from Jessica?" Arianna asked and just then the door opened revealing Jessica.

"Where did you go last night?" Brandon asked

"I was with my friend. Where's grandma? What happened to her?" Jessica asked.

"She's at the hospital" Hannah responded and Jessica stared at them waiting for an explanation concerning what happened and why she was at the hospital but everyone was staring at her without saying a word.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"Hello, can anyone tell me why she's at the hospital and what happened?" Jessica asked and they sighed.

Brandon knows how much Jessica loves Elizabeth, even though she's a bitch, Jessica still loves her so much and would break down if anything happened to her.

He would have thrown Elizabeth out of the house a long time ago, but Jessica was the reason he let her be.

"You should go to the hospital and see for yourself, the chauffeur will take you there," Brandon said and with that, he walked away.

It wasn't like he cared about Elizabeth, she was a bitch and deserves whatever happened to her.

Hannah who was looking worried trailed behind Brandon as they walked inside the study room.

"Do you think it was Robert or maybe someone walked inside the house and did that to her?" Hannah asked

"I don't know, besides I don't care," Brandon said in response.

"She's your Grandma Brandon,"

"Yeah, My Grandma who was there when my dad shot my mom and my grandma who tried to kill you, so I don't care if she's my grandma, she deserves it" Brandon said as Hannah sighed

"She's still human, Brandon. Her face is burnt and she's going through a lot of pain, she's still family" Hannah said and Brandon turned wondering if it was Hannah speaking. He then frowned at Hannah. "Family? For God's sake, That woman tried to kill you and you still feel pity for her? Why do you have a kind heart, Hannah?" Brandon asked and Hannah stared at him without saying a word. "Stop being kind to your enemies, they are going to take advantage of you"

TBC

Chapter 140

Chapter 140

"Stop being kind to your enemies, they are going to take advantage of you," Brandon said and with that, he walked out of the study room leaving Hannah all alone.

Hannah on the other hand wondered why she had a soft heart towards Elizabeth. She's tried to kill her before, maybe because she's forgiven her even though she never asked for her forgiveness.

She walked out of the study room and went to her room to get dressed for work. After she was done, she put on a light makeup and wore her body spray. She picked up her phone and her bag before walking out of the room. She climbed downstairs and met Arianna going through her phone.

"I'm going to the office now, you should take care of yourself" Hannah muttered as she moved towards Arianna and kissed her on the cheeks.

She was about to walk out of the house when the door opened revealing Micheal Adams.

"Micheal" Hannah called surprised to see him.

"Hey" Michael smiled at her, she smiled at him in return before walking out of the house.

Brandon's car was no longer in the compound, which meant only one thing, he had left for the company already.

Thankfully, her car tyre had been fixed. She opened her car door and hopped inside, she switched on the ignition before zooming off.

Meanwhile, Micheal who had just entered the house walked towards Arianna.

"Hey, you called me and said it was urgent," Micheal said as she sat beside Arianna.

"Yeah, I think Robert is up to something and I want him to be followed, I want every one of his moves to be watched," Arianna said and Micheal nodded in response.

Meanwhile, Jessica had just gotten to the hospital and went straight to Elizabeth's ward, she met her lying on the bed with bandages, wrapped around her face and her neck..

"Grandma" Jessica called and Elizabeth raised her head and saw Jessica. Tears gathered in her eyes as she was in great pain.

"What happened to you? Who did this to you?" Jessica asked as she sat beside her and held her hands.

Tears gathered in Jessica's eyes as she stared at her grandma. She was in so much pain, even though Elizabeth was a bitch, Jessica still cared for her so much, because she practically grew up with Elizabeth by her side. Elizabeth tried speaking but she could speak. She tried speaking but Jessica didn't understand what she was saying.

"I don't understand what you are saying Grandma" Jessica said looking confused.

Elizabeth kept pointing and Jessica turned to see what she was pointing at, and then she saw Uncle Robert standing by the door.

"Mom, oh my goodness! What happened to you" Robert pretended to care as he moved towards Elizabeth.

Elizabeth kept trying to speak, trying to tell Jessica that it was Robert, but Jessica didn't understand what she was saying.

"Go call the doctor, she must be in so much pain, " Robert said and Jessica stood up to go call the doctor.

Immediately Jessica left, and Robert frowned.

"If you dare tell anyone I did this, I'm going to kill your precious granddaughter Jessica and make sure you never live to see the next day," Robert said and Elizabeth stared at him with tears in her eyes. "Do you understand?" Robert asked and Elizabeth nodded in response.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

Just then Jessica came in with the doctor.

Jessica noticed Elizabeth was now looking so calm, unlike before. She stared at Robert suspiciously before looking away.

"Doctor, how is she?" Jessica asked the doctor who was done checking on her.

"She's in lots of pain, the fire affected her throat, so for the time being she won't be able to speak, but she will be fine.

"I'll ask the nurse to bring a book and a pen, in case you wish to communicate with her, you can ask her to write down whatever it is she wants to say" The doctor said and Jessica nodded in response. The doctor walked out of the ward and a few seconds later, a nurse walked in and gave Jessica, a pen and a book before walking out.

"Grandma, who did this to you? You don't have to speak, just write it here" Jessica said and gave the pen to Elizabeth.

She took the pen and paper and stared at Robert for some seconds before writing on the paper.

"It was an accident, I slipped and fell on the fireplace," she wrote and gave it to Jessica who read it and sighed.

"I'm so sorry, Grandma, you are going to be fine," Jessica said and Elizabeth nodded in response.

She stood up and left, leaving Elizabeth all alone with Robert.

She brought out her phone and dialed Matthew's number, but it went straight to voicemail.

"Hey, Matthew. I know you don't want to talk to me anymore, but I need to talk to you. I'm so sad right now and need a friend, please call me" she said and removed the phone from her ear.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

She sighed as she remembered how Matthew had told her last night that he didn't want anything with her again.

He did not want to be seen with Jessica again because the paparazzi had started digging out stuff about him and his family, here by putting his family's life in danger.

He didn't want to involve himself in what was going on between Jeff and Jessica, anymore. Jessica sighed and sat on the hospital's bench, lots of thoughts going through her mind at the moment. Meanwhile, the moment Jessica left, the doctor walked in.

Robert walked towards the doctor.

"Do you think her face will heal and return to normal?" Robert asked the doctor while he stared at Elizabeth.

"It's a second degree burn, so yes," The doctor said and Robert sighed.

"Well, I want you to perform a face surgery on her," Robert said and the doctor turned to him.

"But why?" the doctor asked and Robert gave him a threatening look.

"Sure, a surgery can be done....." The doctor said and Robert smiled.

"I have a sample of how I want her new looks to be," Robert said and brought out a picture from his pocket.

It was a picture of Arianna.

"I want her to look exactly like this woman on the picture"

TBC

