

Cinderella And Her Beautiful Octuplets

Chapter 181

Chapter 181

"Take the child to her mother," Brandon said and made to give the child to one of the security guards but she refused to go with anyone.

For the past few days, all she'd been seeing was strangers who kept threatening her and making her cry, and for the first time in days she had seen someone she recognized and now she feels safe with him. She wasn't gonna leave his sight, she was so scared.

"It's fine, you are safe now," Brandon said as he patted her back and touched her hair.

He decided to take the child to her mom by himself. He walked inside the house with Micheal and Hannah behind him and asked one of the guards to go call Mrs Mary.

It wasn't long before Mrs Mary was seen climbing down the stairs with her swollen eyes. She had cried all night as she felt so scared, she felt she had lost her little princess for good.

But just then she saw her daughter in Brandon's arms.

"Mila" she called and the little girl who was in Brandon's arms raised her head and saw her mom.

"Mommy" she called and Brandon dropped her on the ground.

Both Mother and child burst into tears as they ran into each other's arms.

"Oh my sweetheart" Mrs Mary cried as she carried her child and hugged her soright like her life depended on it.

She suddenly pulled away from the hug and checked her body if she was okay then pulled her again into another hug.

"Take them upstairs, and call the doctor to come to check on Mila," Brandon said to one of the guards who nodded in response.

"Thank you, Brandon, thank you," Mrs Mary said and Brandon nodded in response and then she turned to Hannah.

"Thank you, Mrs Colby," She said to Hannah who smiled at her and nodded. After which the guards took Mrs Mary and her kid upstairs.

The moment they left, Brandon heard his phone ring, it was a call from Liam.

"Hey," Brandon muttered the moment he answered the call.

"I just arrived at the airport, I'll be home a few minutes from now," Liam said

"No, I would text you where we would be meeting up" Brandon nodded before hanging up and texted Liam the address to where they would meet up. Brandon turned to Hannah who was looking so nervous.

"She's going to be fine, I'll get her back, I promise," he said to Hannah and then turned to Micheal.

"Do not let her out of your sight" he said and was about to leave when Hannah spoke, making him stop.

"Brandon" she called and he turned to her.

"Why ain't we involving the police in this? He is going to kill mom" Hannah said and Brandon sighed.

"I have got this alright, he is not going to touch her, I will make sure of that" Brandon assured her.

"Then where are you going?" Hannah asked

"I'll be back," he said and with that, he walked out of the house.

Hannah who was looking so angry and tended at the same time tired to Micheal.

"Maybe I should call Arianna," Hannah said to Micheal with fear written all over her face thinking Wilson must have hurt Arianna.

"The phone is obviously with Wilson," Micheal said.

"Then I need to speak with Wilson, he shouldn't try to hurt her, else I am going to kill him," Hannah said as decided to dial Arianna's number, luckily it rang and Arianna answered the call. "Mom, Mom is that you?" Hannah said and when she heard Arianna's voice she heaved a sigh of relief.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

She felt like a big weight had been lifted off her shoulder as she knew she was still alive.

"Honey," Arianna muttered.

"Oh my goodness Mom, are you okay? Are you hurt? I thought the phone was with Wilson?, Are you okay?" She asked as she noticed the sound of her voice. She sounded like she was in tears. "Wilson dropped the phone and left. He killed Mrs Mary's child. I thought maybe he would make the exchange but he didn't" Arianna cried in a whisper.

"No Mom, stop crying. Mrs Mary's child is back home, I don't know how. But I guessed Wilson had a change of heart and dropped her off by the gate" Hannah said and Arianna heaved a sigh of relief. "Really?" She asked

"Yes, mom. Mom, where are you? Tell me where you are" Hannah said and Arianna looked around.

"I'm at....." She paused when the door burst open revealing Stone.

He walked towards Arianna and took the phone from her and ended the call.

"Mom, mom" Hannah called and suddenly the phone was hung up from Arianna's side.

She tried calling her again but it was switched off. She then turned to Micheal.

"We need to find a way to rescue her, they are going to hurt her," she said as tears gathered in her eyes.

She loves Arianna so much and would do anything to make sure she doesn't get hurt. She needed to save her mother.

She remembered when she had no one and was almost at the point of death, Arianna had saved her life, now it was time for her to save Arianna in return.

She can't sit in the house doing nothing, she needs to do something about all of this.

Meanwhile, Wilson is seen in the hotel room with a confused look on his face.

He stares into nothing, wondering how Brandon knew about his family in Mexico. No, he's probably capping.

No one knows he has a family in Mexico, no one knows. He's kept his family hidden and safe for years and no one could possibly know he has a family. He's just trying to threaten me, he knows nothing about my family, he thought.

Just then the door to the room burst open revealing Stone. He was holding Arianna's phone in his hands.

"Mrs Colby was talking to someone on the phone just now," Stone said and gave the phone to Wilson who stood up and walked to the room Arianna was in.

There he met Arianna sitting on the bed with her eyes all red and swollen. When he had left her here some hours ago, her eyes weren't that swollen, although it was. He turned to stone swiftly and then hit him so hard on his face.

"Did you touch her?" He asked as Stone placed his hands on his face that was so hot from the slap.

"No Jefe (Boss), I didn't touch her. I would never do that" Stone said and Wilson stared at Stone and then at Arianna and then asked him to get out!

Stone walked out of the room and closed the door behind him.

Wilson stared at Arianna for a few seconds and sighed softly.

No matter how much he hates Arianna he wouldn't let anyone but him lay a hand on her because she belongs to him and him alone.

"Why did you come back after all these years?" Arianna asked knowing fully well that Wilson didn't come back to torture her family. He came back for a reason.

Chapter 182

Wilson stared at Arianna and didn't say a word and just then he walked out of the room. And there he met Stone standing outside the room.

"I want you to reach out to my wife and the kids and find out if they are right," Wilson said to Stone and walked away from him.

After which Stone brought out his phone and dialed One of the guard's numbers whose name is Pote. Immediately he answered the phone, he sounded so nervous. "What's wrong?" Stone asked.

"It's Jefe's (Boss) Wife and kids, they are nowhere to be found," The bodyguard said and Stone opened his eyes wide in shock.

"What do you mean they are nowhere to be found? What the hell are you talking about?" Stone asked

"I don't know how it happened, I slept and woke up and they were gone," Pote said and Stone sighed softly.

"Just keep searching for them," Stone said and with that, he hung up. He stared at the phone in his hands and then walked down the hallway that led to Wilson's room.

He knows how much Wilson cherishes his family and telling him his family was gone without knowing where they went would make him so angry and he might start killing anyone that comes his way. He knows the moment he tells him, he's going to be so annoyed and might even kill Arianna.

But on second thought, he wondered why Wilson had slapped him when he thought he had laid his hands on Arianna.

He had this possessive look on his face when he slapped him. He wondered if he still cared about her, no that's impossible, he was the one who tried to kill her in the past.

Why care now? he thought.

He sighed softly and then decided to go tell him what Pote had told him just now on the phone.

He planted a soft knock on the door and he asked him to come in.

Wilson raised his head and stared at him waiting for him to speak, and stone swallowed into nothing before he finally spoke.

"Pote said Mrs. Emilia and the kids are nowhere to be found," Stone said and Wilson stood up at once as the look on his face changed into one filled with horror.

"What do you mean they are nowhere to be found?" He asked as he stood up.

"I think they've been kidnapped," Stone said and Wilson stared at him shocked.

Kidnapped? He placed a bodyguard to watch over them while he was away and how come whoever kidnapped them walked past all the bodyguards he hired?, he said out loud and then walked out of the room to the room, Arianna was. Meanwhile, Brandon who had left the house had gone to meet up with Liam and the family of Wilson.

He had told Liam to lodge them in a hotel in town which he did and was waiting for him to arrive.

After Brandon had arrived he went straight to the room where Liam and Wilson's family were.

He planted a soft knock on the door and suddenly the door opened revealing Liam.

"Hey, they are inside," Liam said and Brandon nodded before walking fully inside the room, where he met two little girls who looked like they were nine and seven years of age and a little boy who was just three years old. Wilson stared at the kids and then at the mother, even a blind man could tell these kids belonged to Wilson.

Brandon sighed softly, he couldn't believe it after his father left, and he married another wife.

"Hi, I'm Brandon Colby, I'm Wilson's son," Brandon said and the lady stared at him for a few seconds before saying a word.

"There's no need to introduce yourself, the moment you walked through that door, I knew you were Wilson's son.

You look so much like him. I'm Emilia " Emilia said as she stared at the grown handsome man in front of him. He didn't know Wilson had a grown-up son.

He had never said anything about having another family here in Atlanta.

"Liam, take the kids to the next room, I would love to speak with Mrs. Emilia Privately," Brandon said and the kids stared at Brandon and then at their mommy.

"It's fine honey," she said to their kids who nodded and followed Liam to the next room.

"I believe you know the reason you are here?" Brandon asked Emilia who kept staring at him. He then sat on the couch.

"Yes," she said in response. Emilia knew the reason she came to Atlanta. Liam told her everything, how Wilson has another family and that he wants them to suffer after he left all those years. she came willingly. She felt like she was doing something good in her life.

It was really difficult for her to leave with Liam because of the guards Wilson placed all over her and the kids, so she cooked and served them and spiked the drinks with lots of sleeping drugs. While they slept she left with the kids. "How did you meet him?" Brandon asked

"Wilson?" Emilia paused and smiled.

"He was a close friend of my father before he died..." she paused as memories came running into her head and then continued.

"My father introduced him to me and after that, we became friends, and then something happened between us and I got pregnant for him.

My father swore I wouldn't have a child out of wedlock so he asked Wilson to marry me which he did.

I swear I didn't know he had a child or a family here" Emilia said and Brandon sighed softly.

"I'm sorry about your father. Well, he has children here who he hates and doesn't care about. He has my mother and would kill her if I don't find a way to stop him" Brandon said and Emilia raised her eyebrows.

"Wilson had always shown me and my kids what true love felt like. He cares for us and would do anything for us, I didn't know he was capable of such a thing," Emilia paused and sighed softly then continued speaking.

"I will do anything to help you, anything. Just tell me what I have to do" Emilia said and Brandon stared at her for a few seconds and then stood up from the chair he was sitting on.

"I'm going to call Wilson and you will have to speak with him," Brandon said and brought out his phone and then dialed Wilson's number.

Chapter 183

"I have your family with me right now," Brandon said as he put the phone on loudspeaker so Emilia could hear every one of their conversations...

"You are bluffing," Wilson said and Brandon chuckled

"Maybe you would love to hear the sound of your beautiful wife," Brandon said and passed the phone to Emilia.

"Wilson, Wilson" Emilia called and Wilson felt his heart break into pieces as he heard the sound of Emilia's voice.

She sounded so scared. Brandon took the phone from her.

"Now you know I'm not bluffing," Brandon said and Wilson groaned angrily.

"I'm going to kill you and everyone you've ever met" Wilson yelled over the phone and Brandon scoffed.

"You do nothing, you have two hours to bring back my mom to the mansion, two hours or you never hear from them again," Brandon said and Wilson chuckled. Just then Brandon heard the sound of Arianna whimpering. Brandon frowned.

"You touch a hair on her head and I promise you, you would never see your family again," Brandon said as he tightened his fist.

"Vice versa," Wilson said and with that, he hung up.

Brandon turned to Emilia.

"You would be coming with me to my mansion. I promise you, you and your kids will be safe" Brandon said and Emilia nodded in response.

Brandon stared at Emilia, for a few seconds. He wondered if Emilia knew Wilson was a mafia or if she was just pretending not to know what Wilson was.

He just found the woman suspicious as some things weren't adding up. He looked away from her and shook off the thoughts from his mind.

All he needed to think about right now was to save his family and nothing else.

"Let's go"

Meanwhile, Wilson is seen in the hotel room pacing to and fro while staring at Arianna and just then he pulls her hair and drags her out of bed. He held her hands and as he tightened his fist around her wrist making her groan in pain. He stared at her with pure anger in his eyes. "No! I can't give in to Brandon, who does he think he is" he said out loud as he pushed Arianna to the ground, and then turned to stone. "Dammit! How did he know about Emilia and my kids? Jesus Christ!" He muttered and then turned to Arianna who was sitting on the ground. "Stand up," he said as he pulled her up from the ground, and dragged her out of the house and to his car.

He Ignited the engine and zoomed off to Brandon's mansion.

It wasn't long before two Black cars drove inside Colby's mansion.

Brandon alighted one of the cars with Emilia and her kids while Liam alighted the other car.

Emilia and her kids stared at the big mansion in front of them.

"Come in," Brandon said and they nodded and followed him.

Immediately they walked inside the house, Brandon saw Hannah sitting on the couch with a worried look on her face.

"Hey," Hannah muttered as she stood up and walked toward Brandon. Just then she caught a glimpse of a lady with three kids beside him.

She wondered who the lady and the kids were.

"Who is she?" Hannah asked

"This is Emilia, Wilson's wife and these are their children," Brandon said and Hannah raised her eyebrows surprised.

He has another family, woah. She wondered how Brandon came in contact with them.

"Hey," Hannah muttered as she smiled at Emilia.

"Emilia, this is my wife, Hannah," Brandon said and she nodded in response and smiled at Hannah.

After which Hannah asked them to go sit on the couch over there and feel comfortable and told them to ask if they needed anything.

They nodded and went to sit on the couch.

She turned to Liam who had been standing there the whole time staring at her. He looked so different and so lean.

"Hey," Hannah muttered and Liam smiled at her and then bent his head in embarrassment. He feels so ashamed of himself for what he had done in the past, he just wishes he could go back and reverse everything. Hannah on the other hand wasn't thinking about what Liam had done in the past and how she had gone to prison because of him.

All that was on her mind at the moment was finding Arianna and nothing else.

She turned to Brandon.

"Why do you have Wilson's family? And how about mom?" Hannah asked in a whisper

"She's....." Brandon paused when the door burst open. They all turned towards the door and to their surprise they saw Wilson walking inside the house with two other hefty men and Arianna was with him. They all had guns in their hands including Wilson. He held Arianna by her neck and pointed the gun on her.

He stared around the room and just then his eyes came in contact with Emilia and his kids.

"Wilson" Emilia called and he stared at her with pain in his eyes.

"Daddy" his children called at once and he stared at them. Wilson loved his family so much and he hated the fact that he put their life in danger.

Wilson who was holding Arianna at gunpoint beckoned for his kids to come to him but they didn't as they were scared of the gun he was holding.

Wilson felt his heart tremble, this was all Brandon's fault. He brought his family into this and after today he knew nothing would ever be the same again. Wilson turned to Brandon as the frown lines on his face deepened.

"This is all your fault," he said as he stared at Brandon with pure hatred in his eyes and pointed the gun at him.

"How is it my fault? You ruined this family and then you left. I struggled to build all this back, I had sleepless nights, and you think you can just walk back into our lives and destroy everything I have built?" Brandon yelled looking so furious, his veins popping out on his forehead and Wilson scoffed.

"Everything you have belongs to me! They are all mine! The company, this manor, the estate, every fucking thing is mine!!" Wilson yelled.

"No, they are not yours, they are all mine!"

"No, they are mine!" Brandon yelled and Wilson cracked his gun and pushed Arianna to the ground. His focus was now on Brandon.

"Go on, pull the fucking trigger, I dare you," Brandon said and Hannah held his hands and whispered to him.

"Stop talking Brandon, he's going to pull the trigger," Hannah said with fear written all over her face. She stared at Wilson who was looking so angry and ready to pull the trigger any moment.

"No, he should pull the trigger then everyone will know the kind of monster he is. A man who doesn't deserve to be called a father.

You ruined this family and left to build another family. You ruined my life and went out there to live a happy life, whereas I still have nightmares of what you did to me in the past.

I will have to live with what you did to me every day of my life.

You son of bitch" Brandon yelled as tears gathered in his eyes. He's never felt this hurt in his entire life. Whatever his father was doing pained him so much. It hurts. How could someone he calls his father do such a thing to him. "Go on, scream, yell like the coward that you are. I am still your father Brandon and you will Bow down to me" Wilson said and Brandon scoffed.

"You are not my father, you do not deserve to be my father, you are not my father. You are a failure to fatherhood," he yelled and Wilson laughed.

"Oh you are a failure, Brandon. This was the reason your daughter Melissa was kidnapped and killed, I'm sure she's happy you are no longer her father" Wilson said and Brandon paused as tears slipped down his cheeks.

"How did you know about my daughter Melissa? You were gone when I had Mellisa, how did you know about her?...." He paused as more tears slipped down his cheeks.

"Did you..... Jesus Christ!" Brandon muttered as he took a step towards Wilson.

"One more step and I'm going to make sure your dead body is on the ground," Wilson said and had wanted to pull the trigger when Hannah came and stood in front of Brandon, blocking him from Wilson.

"How could you do this to your son? For god sake what kind of a father are you? If you are going to kill my husband, then you gotta kill me first" Hannah said as she swallowed into nothing. She could feel her heart thumping so fast like it was about to pull out of her chest.

"Oh wow, Romeo and Juliet. Is this how much you love my son? Let me tell you the truth princessa, he doesn't deserve to be loved by anyone. He's a coward.

Anyways, your wish is my command, I'm going to kill you first" Wilson said and was about to pull the trigger when he heard Emilia scream.

They all turned and saw Micheal holding Emilia and pointing the gun at her, while other bodyguards pointed their guns at the kids and the two hefty Men Wilson came with. Everyone was pointing a gun at each other.

"Gently Put down your gun or you say your last goodbye to your family," Micheal said and Wilson stared at Emilia who was already shivering in fear and had tears in her eyes. Wilson gritted his teeth and then gently put his gun down on the ground.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"Raise your hands above your head and ask your men to put down their guns," Micheal said and Wilson raised his hands and turned to his men and asked them to drop their weapons which they did after which they slowly raised their hands above their heads.

"Search them and see if they have any other weapons with them," Micheal said and one of the guards moved towards them and searched them, he found a handgun in Wilson's side pocket and brought it out.

He found nothing on the rest of the bodyguards, he then took the guns from the ground and moved away from them.

"I have done all you've asked now, give me back my family," Wilson said

"Why did you come back after all these years?" Arianna, who had stood up from the ground, asked at once and Wilson stared at her and looked away.

"Answer the goddamn question or I swear to God....."

"Fine fine..." Wilson said, cutting off Micheal's speech.

"I came back because I needed money, alright.

I'm stranded, I stole from Bernardo Provenzano, and now he's threatened to kill me if I don't return what I stole" he said and everyone stared at him confused.

"And who is Bernardo Provenzano? And I thought you were a mafia Boss why would anyone threaten you?" Brandon asked as he tried to remember where he had heard the name Bernardo Provenzano in the past. "You don't know Bernardo Provenzano, he's a silent killer and is fucking dangerous, he's the mafia Boss of all Mafias and they call him the Devil.

I was supposed to deliver coke (cocaine) to his companion in Las Vegas but then I replaced the drug with powder.

I was caught and now he's threatened to kill me and my family. That's why I came back. I just need my company back and everything so I can sell them off and pay him back" Wilson said and Brandon scoffed. "Well, you can't get the company back and whatever you want! You should rot in hell" Brandon said and Wilson tightened his fist and gritted his teeth.

"You know I'm still the chairman of the board, I could easily vote you out of the CEO position or rather fire you," Wilson said and Hannah smiled and stepped forward.

"Sorry father-in-law, you are no longer the chairman of the board, a new chairman has been voted in," Hannah said and they all stared at her confused. Brandon wondered when they voted a new chairman in and he wasn't aware. "What? Don't give me that look, I'm still the COO" Hannah said as she turned to Brandon,

Memories of how she had scheduled a meeting with the board and did a Zoom meeting with them last night convincing them to vote her in as the chairman of the board.

And after much persuasion, they finally voted her in and everything was concluded last night before she went to bed. She was officially the new chairman of the Colby Co Board and also the COO.

She gave out a small smile as she turned to Wilson who had a soured look on his face.

Chapter 185

Chapter 185

He stared at Hannah looking so furious.

"You little Devil" he muttered angrily and suddenly Arianna moved towards him and slapped him so hard on his face and he groaned angrily.

His family was at gunpoint and he could do nothing about what was going on now. He wasn't gonna let all this slide, all he wanted right now was to get his family to safety then he would be back for all of them. "I cursed the day I met you" Arianna yelled and slapped him again for the second time and spit on his face.

Brandon turned to Micheal and asked him to let go of Emilia and the kids which he did.

Emilia and the kids ran into Wilson's embrace and burst into tears.

"Shhhh, you all are safe now. Daddy is here. I promise to keep you all safe" Wilson said consoling Emilia and the kids who were shivering in fear..

"Slowly and gently walk out of here with your family and do not try anything stupid," Brandon said to Wilson who shot him a deadly glare before walking out of the house with his family and bodyguard. Immediately they walked out, Arianna turned to Brandon.

"Why did you let them go? Wilson isn't going to stop, I know him" Arianna said with a worried look on their faces.

"He won't try anything stupid for now, he's gonna get his family into hiding, if he tries anything again, then I would have no choice than to find Bernardo Provenzano myself since he's the only one he's scared of," Brandon said and Arianna sighed.

"You do not want to involve Bernardo Provenzano," Micheal said as he stepped forward and placed his gun in his pocket.

"Why? Do you know him?" Hannah asked

"He's a ghost like people call him. No one has ever seen him, no one knows what he looks like except a few people in his circle.

Like they say, he's a silent killer and very dangerous. He doesn't pity anyone, not even a child.

The FBI has tried finding him all these years but nothing, you don't want to involve him in this else this would be the end of this family" Micheal said and Brandon sighed softly.

Hannah then moved towards Arianna and hugged her so tight.

"Oh my goodness! Thank God you are okay, I was so scared" Hannah said as she pulled away from the hug and touched Arianna's hair.

Arianna smiled at her. Just then she caught a glimpse of Jessica who was standing by the stairs watching the whole scenario.

She had heard noises and decided to come downstairs to check and then she saw Wilson had another family.

The thought of it broke her heart. She couldn't believe her father left just to start a family elsewhere and when she saw how he showed them love and affection, she felt her heart break more because her father had never shown her nor Brandon that kind of love.

Parents are supposed to love their children right, but Wilson's case was different, he never loved them nor cared about them.

"Jessica" Arianna called as tears gathered in her eyes. She could see the pain in Jessica's eyes.

"Mom, are you alright? Did he hurt you?" Jessica asked as she climbed down the stairs and walked towards Arianna.

"I'm fine honey, how are you?" Arianna asked as she touched her face and more tears slipped down her cheeks.

"I'm sorry about your father, I'm sorry you have to witness all of that, I'm so sorry," Arianna said as she pulled Jessica into a deep hug.

Jessica smiled and pulled away from the hug and wiped the tears in her eyes.

"I'm fine Mom, I'm fine, he chose his family already, he's no longer my father, he's no longer my father," she said as she smiled and kept wiping the tears in her eyes.

"I don't know why, these stupid tears won't just stop coming out of my eyes," she said as she kept wiping her tears.

"Jessica....." Arianna called

"I'm fine Mom, I'm okay, I promise I am. Who cares about him when I have you and Brandon and everyone else" she said and turned to Brandon who was staring at her. She could see the pain in Brandon's eyes but he was trying too hard to mask whatever pain he

Was feeling at that moment and trying to be strong.

He moved towards Jessica and did what no one had ever expected him to do, he pulled her into a hug.

Jessica was surprised, since the day she knew Brandon as her brother, he had never hugged her to console her or make her feel better, he only walked away.

But now, it was different, he hugged her and whispered in her ear.

"Even though he leaves, you still have me, you have us, we've got each other.

I Promise I won't leave you, you are still my little princess" Brandon said and Jessica felt her heart melt at once.

All the hope she's lost came back again, she felt so much happiness run through her veins.

He pulled away from the hug and wiped her tears, then kissed her on the forehead, and with that, he walked upstairs to his study room.

Arianna smiled as she witnessed the affectionate scene in front of her. Brandon was a good big brother, even though at times he pretended not to care, he had always cared, she thought as she smiled.

Hannah on the other hand saw how Brandon consoled Jessica, and she felt tears stream down her cheeks. she quickly wiped her tears.

Jessica was so lucky to have Brandon as a big brother. She wished she had other siblings too. She was the only child of her parents, she thought as memories of her mom who had died of cancer came running into her head. She misses her mom so much, she was her best friend and everything, but sadly death took her away from her.

It was all her Father's fault, if he hadn't left her and her mom, none of this would have happened, and her beloved mother would still be alive.

She would never forgive her father.

Chapter 186

Chapter 186

Meanwhile, Wilson is seen in his car driving back to the hotel with his family with him.

He stared at the kids who were in the back seat from the rearview mirror, and then at Emilia who was sitting right beside him.

She hadn't said a word since they left Brandon's mansion.

"Are you alright?" he asked with a concerned look on his face and she nodded and gave out a small smile.

Wilson didn't love Emilia when he first got married to her but as time went on, he later fell in love with her when he realized what a great woman she was and what he was missing out on.

He loved Emilia and the kids so much, he loved them with all of his heart and would do anything to protect them even though it meant giving up his life and everything. That was how much he loved them. Just then he heard sounds from the back seat and heard one of his daughters yell out his name.

"Daddy" the daughter yelled and he stared at them from the rearview mirror and saw his other daughter having a seizure.

"Joan" Wilson called as he quickly parked the car at the side of the road.

"Joanna" Emilia called and got out of the car and went to the back seat and sat her up while rubbing her back.

"Where is her inhaler?" Wilson asked knowing too well that Joan was asthmatic and her inhaler was supposed to be with Emilia.

"Where is her inhaler?" Wilson yelled

"I dunno, I dunno maybe it fell off from my hand, I don't know," Emilia said, still rubbing her back thinking she would calm down but nothing was working.

"Let's go to the hospital, please, let's get her to the hospital now" Emilia yelled at Wilson who was looking scared and confused not knowing what to do.

He quickly nodded and rushed back inside the car, ignited the engine, and zoomed off at once at full speed to the hospital.

Immediately, they got to the hospital. He climbed out of the car and carried Joan in his arms while he ran inside the hospital.

The nurses who saw him walk in rushed towards him and took the child from him while they took her to the ward with Wilson, Emilia, and the rest of their kids behind them. After some time, the nurse had attended to Joan and she was now perfectly fine.

Emilia stared at her daughter and wiped the tears in her eyes. She felt so scared, she was glad her daughter was okay now, she thought as she held Joan's hand who was now asleep. Wilson stared at his family who was sitting beside Joan while he stood by the door.

"This is all Brandon's fault, he's going to pay. He would be back for him, he just needed to get his family into hiding first and make sure they were safe" he thought looking so furious.

"I need fresh air, I will be outside," Wilson said to Emilia who nodded. He then walked out of the ward and went outside to breathe fresh air.

Meanwhile, Jeff is still seen in the hospital ward. The doctors had refused to discharge him saying they needed to watch him for a few days and today they were planning on discharging him as the doctor said he could finally go home.

"I would go get the drugs the doctor prescribed from the pharmacy outside, when I arrive we would all go home," Rosa said to Jeff who nodded and then turned to David who was sitting beside Jeff.

"Don't move alright, stay with daddy, I will be back" Rosa said to David who nodded and smiled at her.

Rosa ruffled his hair playfully after which she walked out of the ward.

She brought out the paper on which the doctor had written the names of the drugs and kept staring at it while she walked down the hallway suddenly she bumped into someone mistakenly and the paper she was holding fell from her hands. "Oh my goodness, I'm so sorry," she said as she picked the paper from the ground.

"It's fine, just watch where you are heading next time" she heard a masculine voice speak. That voice sounded so familiar.

No, it cannot be him, the last time I saw him was ten years, maybe I'm the one hallucinating, she thought as she stood up properly and then raised her head and to her surprise she saw Wilson Colby standing in front of her. She felt a cold shiver run down her spine the moment their eyes came in contact.

She swallowed into nothing, as she stared at the man in front of him, he looked so different from the last time they had seen each other.

He looked more advanced and older.

She tried speaking but words weren't coming out of her mouth as she was speechless. She just didn't know what to say, she felt like she had suddenly lost her voice. Meanwhile, Wilson on the other hand was surprised to see Rosa.

"Rosa" he called out, jolting her out of her thoughts.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! "Wilson" Rosa who finally found her voice spoke out as she felt blood rushing towards her heart and her heart beating so fast.

Wilson felt speechless as he didn't know what to say, he was also in shock to see Rosa. They both stood there staring at each other not knowing what to say.

Meanwhile, Jeff who is seen in the ward had wanted to drink water but the jug was empty. He sighed and then stood up.

"Do not leave here, David. I will be back in a minute, I just want to go get water" He said and David nodded obediently.

"Good" Jeff said and with that, he walked out of the ward. He walked down the hallway and to his surprise he saw his mom standing with a man in front of her.

He wondered who the man was, he thought as he moved towards them.

"Mom" Jeff called out, jolting both Wilson and Rosa out of their trance or whatever they were in.

"Jeff I Uhm, I....." Rosa stuttered as sweat gathered on her forehead.

"Who is this man?" Jeff asked with no expression on his face. Rosa sighed softly. He didn't want to lie to her son anymore so she was going to tell him nothing but the truth. "Jeff, Meet your father, Wilson Colby"

Chapter 187

"Jeff, Meet your father, Wilson Colby," Rosa said and Wilson and Jeff both stared at Rosa and then at each other.

Wilson was confused, he had a son with Rosa and he didn't know about it. How come? He thought as he stared at Jeff whose facial expression had changed to an angry one.

"So, this is the man. I'm not even sure he knows I'm his son" Jeff thought as he noticed the confused expression on Wilson's face.

It's not like he needed his father anymore, he just wanted to be on his own and wasn't ready for any drama that would play out after all of this.

He stared at both Rosa and Wilson for a few seconds before walking.

Wilson stared at Jeff and watched him walk away from them. He then turned to Rosa with a confused expression on his face.

"What do you mean he's my son? I never got you pregnant besides you left without saying goodbye, so what's all this?" Wilson said now looking furious.

"I wouldn't lie to you, he's your son, your flesh and blood," Rosa said and Wilson scoffed and held her hands, tightening his hands around her wrist making her groan in pain. "You lying bitch, I know you are lying and trying to frame me, now tell the truth," he said between gritted teeth and Rosa winced in pain.

"You are hurting me, Wilson. People are watching" she said and Wilson turned and saw a nurse and a lady staring at the both of them. He quickly let go of her hands.

"Now tell the truth, is he my son?" Wilson asked this time, he was calm.

"Yes, he is. You can do a DNA test if you think I'm lying" Rosa said and Wilson stared at her for a few seconds and noticed she was telling the truth.

Jeff is my son, he thought.

"Then why am I finding out about it all these years? Why didn't you tell me when you were pregnant?" Wilson asked

"Because your mother, Elizabeth, threatened me. She threatened to kill me and paid me off to stay away from you. She warned me not to tell you that I was pregnant.

I had to leave for the sake of my child, I didn't want to end up dead" Rosa said as she massaged her wrists which were hurting.

"That bitch of a mother" Wilson voiced out as he bit his lips. Elizabeth was lucky she left the country before they had seen face to face, he would have killed her cold-blooded, Wilson thought and then sighed.

"What are you doing at the hospital? I thought you were no longer in Atlanta?" Rosa asked.

"I....." Wilson paused when he heard Emilia's voice from behind.

"Oh, there you are. I have been searching for you, Joan is awake and the kids are hungry, I have paid for the discharge already, we should leave, we don't want the bills increasing on us" Emilia said to Wilson who nodded in response. Just then she caught a glimpse of a lady behind Wilson.

"Who is she?" Emilia asked

"No one, you should go wait for me with the kids in the ward, I'll be there in a jiffy," He said to Emilia who took one last glance at Rosa and nodded in response before walking away.

She kept on looking back while walking away and finally, she was out of their sight.

"Who is she? What kids is she talking about?" Rosa asked, looking curious.

"That's my wife, Emilia. My kids are the ones we are talking about." Wilson said and Rosa raised her eyebrows surprised.

She wondered how many wives Wilson had and how many children he had. There is Camilla and her kids and then Jeff and then this woman, Emilia and her kids.

Woah, she thought with a surprised look on her face. But on second thought, she shouldn't be surprised, Wilson had always loved lots of women and never stuck to one. She wouldn't be surprised if he has another wife and children else where.

She remembered one time when his friends nicknamed him, Husband of all women, she thought and smiled.

"I have to go now, I will call you," he said and

Rosa stared at him with a confused expression on his face.

"How would you call me when you do not have my number?" Rosa asked and Wilson scoffed.

Rosa does not know who he is, he thought.

"Trust me when I say I would call you," Wilson said and with that, he walked away.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! Rosa shrugged and then sighed softly.

He then decided to go get the drugs from the pharmacy.

Meanwhile, Wilson had gone to the ward and helped Emilia in carrying the kids to the car.

They all entered the car except for Wilson who was still outside the car.

Just then a text message popped on his phone, he brought out his phone and saw a message from Stone.

He read the message and kept the phone back in his pocket.

He raised his head and saw Jeff standing a few miles away from him staring at him. They both stared at each other with different thoughts going through their minds.

"Let's go, Wilson," Emilia said and Wilson nodded and gave Jeff one last look before hopping inside the car.

He closed the car door, ignited the engine, and zoomed off at full speed.

Jeff then walked inside the hospital to his ward. There he met David who was sitting on the couch beside the bed and was sleeping already.

He sighed softly and sat on the bed with lots of thoughts going through his mind.

He couldn't believe after all these years he had seen his biological father. He expected him to say a word to him but he didn't say anything to him.

Maybe he doesn't care, he thought, and then sighed and lay on the bed. He wished he had just said a word to him, Anything, it would have made everything a bit better but instead, he didn't, he just had to accept the fact that he doesn't care. TBC

Chapter 188

It wasn't long before Rosa walked back inside the ward holding a white nylon in her hands that contained the drugs.

"Hey, are you alright?" Rosa asked and Jeff stared at her wondering why she was asking, it's not like she cared.

She's lied to him all his life, who knows if this was one of her lies again, he thought and then looked away from her. Rosa sighed softly. "I deserve every way you have been treating me.

I know you hate me so much and I deserve it. I have lied to you all these years and done lots of horrible things to you, I'm so sorry Jeff.

And I didn't lie when I said Wilson was your father, he's truly your father, I wouldn't lie to you about that. He would come around.

Please just give me the chance to make up for all the times I have wronged you and failed you as a mother, please Jeff I beg you" Rosa said and Jeff turned to her and sighed.

"It's too late. I'll be in my car, bring David while you coming" Jeff said as he stood up from the bed and walked out of the ward.

Tears slipped down Rosa's cheeks, she quickly wiped the tears from her eyes. She does not expect Jeff to have a change of heart so easily.

She ruined his life for years and she doesn't expect him to forgive her in just a day. She believes with time he is going to forgive her and give her a chance.

All she wants is for her family to be whole again and for everything to return to the days they were a happy family, she thought as she walked towards David who was fast asleep.

She gently carried him from the couch, placed him on her arm, and with that she walked out of the hospital ward to Jeff's car.

She placed David in the back seat and sat with him, she closed the door after which Jeff ignited the engine and zoomed off. Meanwhile, Wilson's car screeched to a halt in front of a house, which didn't look too big or small.

Emilia and the kids alighted the car.

"Who owns this house?" Emilia asked

"A friend of mine, he's out of Atlanta for the now and he asked me to stay here for some time before he returns," Wilson said and Emilia nodded as she stared at the surroundings of the house, it didn't look that bad, she thought and just then the door to the front door opened revealing Stone.

"Welcome Jefa (Boss). Welcome ma'am" Stone said and bowed his head at Emilia who nodded in response before walking inside the house with her children. Stone showed her the room where the kids would be staying and that he had gotten a few clothes for them already, she took them

After this, a female walked into the room holding a tray of food in her hands.

She gave the food to Emilia, which she took and fed her children. After they were done eating she put them to sleep.

She stared at them and sighed before walking out of the room and closing the door behind her.

the room, and she helped her children take their baths.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

She walked inside the room she and Wilson would be staying in. Wilson wasn't in the room yet.

She closed the door behind her and stared around the room. She moved towards the wardrobe and opened it.

She saw a gun inside of it. She stared at the gun for a few seconds and was about to pick it up when the door burst open revealing Wilson.

She sighed and gently closed the wardrobe.

"Hey honey" Wilson muttered as he walked inside the room wondering what Emilia was doing by the wardrobe.

"Hey," Emilia muttered as she turned to him. He moved closer to her and kissed her cheeks.

"What are you searching for?" Wilson asked as he removed a strand of hair that was on her face.

"Nothing, just searching for a dress, I want to take my bath," she said as she moved away from Wilson and removed her clothes leaving her naked in front of her husband. Wilson stared at her with love and lust in his eyes, even after three kids she was still looking pretty.

He licked his lips, moved towards her and touched her breast, she moaned softly and suddenly both lips came in contact with each other.

They kissed each other like their life depended on it. Wilson missed Emilia so much, he thought as he devoured her lips while using his hands to do wonders on her nipples.

She moaned in his mouth as he grasped her breast and suddenly she pulled away from the kiss and pouted.

"What's wrong?" Wilson asked as he noticed the looks on her face.

"You are hiding something from me," she said seductively as she traced her finger from his lips, down to his chest, and down to his manhood and suddenly grasped his dick and a soft moan escaped his lips. "I swear to God I'm not hiding anything from you," Wilson said, at that moment he felt like he was about to explode from whatever he was feeling.

"Then who is that lady you were with at the hospital?" Emilia asked and he sighed.

"She's an ex of mine who has a son for me," Wilson said and Emilia raised her eyebrows.

He has another son with another woman, she thought and then gave Wilson a weird look but then quickly replaced the look with a sexy one before he would notice.

He kissed Wilson shortly and then helped him remove his clothes.

She stared at his dick which was five inches long and very hardened. She grasped his dick and he closed his eyes and moaned softly.

She went down on her knees and placed his dick in her mouth, giving him a blow job. Wilson moaned loudly as he felt so much pleasure.

He felt his dick hardened the more in her mouth and felt like he was about to explode anytime soon.

Suddenly, Emilia stood up and pushed him on the bed. She came on top of him and started riding him, as the sound of their moans filled the room.

Chapter 189

Emilia and Wilson are seen lying on the bed beside each other while staring at the ceiling.

Wilson then turned to Emilia and smiled at her.

"I love you" he muttered and she smiled and then stood up from the bed.

"I need to take my bath," she said as she moved towards the wardrobe, brought out a towel, and tied it around her chest before walking inside the bathroom.

She removed her towel and hung it then stood under the shower, letting the water run through her, lots of thoughts flooding through her mind.

Meanwhile, Hannah is seen in her kid's room, helping them dress up for bed since it was night already.

She had cooked for them and made them eat after which she helped them take their bath and wear their pajamas.

She helped them lie on the bed and covered them properly with the duvet.

She had barely spent time with her kids because of the whole incident that has been happening for the past few days now.

"So, I'm going to tell you guys a story," Hannah said and the children smiled.

"Yeah, we are all ears Mommy," they said in response eagerly waiting to hear the story.

Hannah smiled as she told them the story. After she was done most of them were already asleep except Jayden and Allison whose eyes were still wide open.

"Mommy, I need to tell you something, " Jayden said and Hannah sat up properly wondering what he had wanted to tell her.

"We heard the screams from downstairs earlier today, we had wanted to come downstairs and see what was going on but then we remembered you told us not to leave the room, so we didn't" Jayden said and Hannah heaved a sigh of relief, thanking her stars that the kids didn't come out of their room to see what was going on.

"Oh honey, nothing serious was going on. Whatever it was has been resolved, alright? Mommy already handled it" Hannah said and Jayden nodded in response.

"I love you, Mommy," Jayden said and Hannah smiled

"I love you too, honey," she said in response and suddenly the little boy closed his eyes and drifted to sleep.

She turned to Allison and saw she was asleep already. She sighed and stood up then walked out of the room, closing the door behind her.

She decided to go to Brandon's study room and check on him. Since he consoled Jessica, he had left to his study room and never came out.

He didn't even come downstairs for dinner, she wondered if he was okay.

Brandon has always tried to be strong for everyone, he tried not to show his emotions because he's a man, but he's human too and he has feelings, she thought. She walked towards his study room, planted a soft knock on the door, and then walked in. There she met Brandon standing by his table staring at the ceiling.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"I want to be alone" he managed to voice out and Hannah sighed.

"I just wanted to check on you," Hannah said and he raised his head and saw Hannah. He thought it was Arianna.

"What are you doing here, you should be asleep," Brandon said as he walked towards his chair and sat on it and started going through the files on his table.

She stared at him for a few seconds without saying a word, studying his looks. She noticed he was looking so sad and his eyes were red.

"Are you okay, Brandon?" Hannah asked as she stared at him but he didn't say a word as he kept going through the files on his table.

She moved towards him and touched his hands, but he quickly pulled his hands away from hers trying so hard to avoid her looks.

She knew he was hurting, he's human and not a robot, he has feelings. With what his father had done, it would hurt him so badly.

She could remember clearly when he said his father tortured and abused him and never loved him. Imagine growing up without the love of a parent and a father figure. She just wished he would open up to her so he would feel better, even if it was a little bit.

"Brandon you....."

"Leave, Leave right now, Hannah, or I'm going to be forced into pushing you out" he yelled and she flinched and moved back a bit.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

He raised his head and stared at her. Even from his look, a blind man could tell he was deeply hurt.

"Just go, please go" he begged and she swallowed into nothing and nodded in response.

"Do you want me to go?" She asked thinking he would have a change of mind and ask her to stay.

"Yes, I do," he said and she nodded before turning to leave. The moment she got to the door, she paused and sighed softly then turned back.

"I'm sorry, no," she said and he raised his head.

"What?" He asked

"I'm sorry but I'm not going. Brandon, you shouldn't be alone right now. You are angry, you are hurt and probably terrified because your father is still out there. I still am" She paused and he looked away from her as tears gathered in his eyes. "So, go ahead, scream at me, yell at me, try to push me away but I'm not going anywhere," she said as she moved towards him, staring at him as tears gathered in her eyes too.

"Are you okay?" She asked in a whisper and he nodded negatively. He went silent for a few seconds and then raised his head and stared at her.

"No, I'm not okay," he said and the tears he'd been holding for long, he finally let go.

She placed her hands on his shoulder and then helped him stand up from the chair he was sitting on and just then she pulled him into a hug, while she patted his back, letting him cry on her shoulder.

Chapter 190

It was morning and a new day, Hannah had woken up feeling so tired.

She didn't sleep in time last night because she was with Brandon in the study room. She had to make sure he felt a little bit better before she went to sleep in her room. She stood up from the bed and walked inside the bathroom, took her bath, and wore a simple gown before walking out of the room.

She went downstairs to the kitchen to prepare breakfast, but breakfast was already prepared and everything was set on the table.

She decided to go wake her children up so they can come eat breakfast.

Immediately, she opened the door, she saw the lights were on and the kids were already awake, surprisingly they had taken their bath and put on their clothes.

She stared at them surprised.

"Mommy, Good morning" the kids echoed at once as they saw Hannah in the room. They looked so happy.

"Good morning sweethearts," she said as she smiled at them.

"Did you guys get dressed yourself?" Hannah asked and then a masculine voice spoke,

"I did" She turned and saw Brandon walking out of the children's bathroom with a towel in his hands.

"Brandon," Hannah called out, surprised. He smiled at her.

"Hey, Good morning" he muttered as he walked towards her and kissed her on the cheeks. Hannah raised her eyebrows, surprised.

Isn't this the Brandon of yesterday, how come he looks so happy?

"Daddy, could you help me button up my shirt," Audrey said as she moved towards Brandon.

"Of course honey," he said in response as he bent to her level and helped her button her shirt.

He then stood up and took a brush from the dressing table and started brushing their hair one after the other.

When he was done he asked them to go downstairs for breakfast while he was behind them.

The kids yelled happily and ran out of the room to the dining room.

Hannah who had this endless smile and surprise on her face watched the kids leave the room happily and then she turned to Brandon who was now standing in front of her.

"I have been so busy and barely had time for the kids for some time now. So I decided to spend some time with them today" Brandon said and Hannah hummed in response.

"I can't ask how you are feeling because you seem to be better," Hannah said and Brandon smiled.

"All thanks to you. Thank you for last night, thank you for being there for my family and for the company and me too, thank you Hannah, it means alot to me" Brandon said and Hannah smiled not knowing what to say in response.

He moved closer to her, leaving no breathing space between them and kissed her briefly on her lips before pulling away, after which, he walked out of the room and went to meet the kids downstairs.

Hannah smiled as she touched her lips, she felt so excited the moment he kissed her. She was glad he was feeling better now.

Meanwhile, It was morning and Emilia had woken up so early, that she sat up properly on the bed and saw Wilson still sleeping beside her looking peaceful.

She frowned as she stared at him. The sight of this man disgusts her a lot and it makes her angry.

She stood up and walked towards his wardrobe and opened it. She stared at the gun in it and then brought it out from the wardrobe.

She stared at the gun for a few seconds and checked if it was loaded with a bullet and luckily it was.

She turned to Wilson who was still snoring and sleeping peacefully, whatever anger she had felt for him kept on increasing.

She sighed and walked towards the door then locked it.

She then moved towards Wilson and tapped him, then pointed the gun at him.

Wilson groaned and opened his eyes a bit, they were still blurred and he could see someone standing beside him on the bed.

"Emilia" he muttered and cleaned his eyes before opening them fully.

"What the fuck!" He muttered the moment he saw his wife pointing a gun at him.

"What are you doing Emilia, that's a fucking gun and not a toy" Wilson muttered as he stared at the lady who gave him a cold look, with tears gathered in her eyes.

"You bastard" she muttered and Wilson stared at her confused.

"What's wrong Emilia? Did Brandon ask you to do this? Emilia you have to calm down, please" he said and Emilia scoffed.

He tried moving towards her and she frowned.

"Stay back or I swear to God I will pull the fucking trigger," she said as she cracked the gun, and the tears she'd been holding she finally let go.

"Emilia, you know how much I love you and the kids, please don't do this to me. Just tell me whatever it is and we will sort it out as a couple" Wilson said, wondering what was happening.

They were both on good terms last night and even had good sex, why was she acting this way? he thought.

"Oh please shut up and stop acting innocent, we both know you are an asshole. All these years I have been trying so hard to forget every fucking thing.

I tried to forgive you because of my children, our children but how could you be so heartless" she cried and he stared at her confused wondering what she was talking about.

"What the hell are you talking about Emilia? I have always loved you and the kids and always treated you all right. So what the hell are you talking about?" Wilson asked, trying to recall if he had hurt Emilia in any way but as far as he could recall, he hadn't.

"Oh please shut up, I know what you fucking did.

I was there that day but you didn't see me. I saw you pull the trigger with no pity in your eyes. You fucking killed my father" she said as more tears slipped down her cheeks and Wilson opened his eyes wide in shock. "Emilia, I can explain"
