

Cinderella And Her Beautiful Octuplets

Chapter 211

Chapter 211

She was surprised because she knew her kids so much that they hardly get along with anyone but it was different with Lucas.

"We could hang out and play some games together maybe later in the day...." Lucas paused the moment he saw Brandon walk in.

"And Daddy could join us, it would be fun, isn't it Brandon?" Lucas asked with a smirk on his face and the kids turned to Brandon with smiles on their faces waiting for him to say yes,

Brandon on the other hand didn't say a word, instead, he kept staring at Lucas with anger in his eyes as he bit his inner lips.

"Uhm, sweethearts, go to your room now, I will be there in a bit," Hannah said and the kids nodded Obediently before going upstairs to their room.

Hannah stared at Lucas and then Brandon, she wasn't gonna interfere in whatever was going between them, she said to herself and was about to move away when Lucas called her, making her stop. "Hannah" Lucas called and she turned to him.

"Erm, I wasn't able to thank you for what you did today," Lucas said and Hannah raised his eyebrows wondering what he was talking about.

"For nursing my wounds, thank you, they don't hurt that much anymore," Lucas said with a smile on her face and Hannah sighed.

"It's nothing, I'm glad you are feeling better," Hannah said and turned to Brandon who was looking more furious, with jealousy written all over him and if given the chance right now he would chop off Lucas's head. He thought he had asked Hannah to stay away from Lucas, he thought.

"Go wait for me in my study room Hannah" Brandon said and Hannah sighed.

"Yes, Hannah you should wait for him in his study room, I bet he's gonna explode of anger if you don't wait for him in his study room and no one knows what's gonna happen next.

You do not want the inner beast inside of him to come out," Lucas said and shrugged.

Hannah bit her lips knowing fully well that Lucas was trying to get to Brandon with his words so he would get angry and get into a fight with him again and it was working.

"What did you just say?" Brandon asked as he took a step towards Lucas.

"Brandon, please stop" Hannah muttered and stood in front of him so he wouldn't hit Lucas.

"Brandon, you should listen to your wife, you don't want to push her on the floor the same way you did earlier today," Lucas said as he sat on the couch and crossed his legs, spreading his hands wide on the chair. Hannah stared at Lucas and then turned to Brandon.

"Brandon let's go upstairs, please," Hannah said in a whisper.

"You know what Brandon, I have been wondering where she is. I need to find her" Lucas said as he stood up and Hannah stared at him confused, wondering what he was talking about. "One more word from you and you are a dead man," Brandon said angrily.

"You tried to kill me once, I wouldn't be surprised this time around if you try again," Lucas said this time, the smile on his face had turned into a frown.

"You should leave this house, Lucas. Do not push me" Brandon said, trying so hard to calm himself.

"No, this is my father's house and you have no right to tell me to leave. Tell me where she is Brandon or I swear to God....."

"Shut up!!" Brandon yelled and was about to move toward Lucas to hit him when Hannah held him, making him stop.

"Brandon stop, please" Hannah yelled Brandon stared at her and then gave Lucas a dagged look before walking away.

Hannah gave Lucas one last glance before going after Brandon.

Brandon is seen in his study room looking so furious and just then Hannah walks in.

"What the hell is wrong with you? Can't you see your brother is getting on your nerves, can you just ignore and stop fighting him" Hannah said and Brandon scoffed and turned to her.

"No, you don't get to tell me what to do when you don't listen to me," Brandon said and Hannah moved back and raised her eyebrows wondering what he was talking about. "What are you talking about?" Hannah asked.

"Oh please stop playing dumb, I asked you to stay away from him but you didn't, instead you went and nursed his injury," he said as he was about to explode with jealousy.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! "He came to my office, what do you expect me to do, push him out?.." she paused as she swallowed into nothing.

"You know what? You don't own me, you don't control me, you don't get to tell me who and who I should stay with or stay away from, get that into your head" Hannah who was now looking so furious said. "No, I own you Hannah, you are mine" he yelled, and just as she was about to walk out of the study room, he held her hands and pushed her towards the wall, pinning her to the wall while he held her wrist. "Brandon let go of me, what the hell is wrong with you?" Hannah asked as he tightened his fist around her wrist with a possessive look on his face.

"Brandon you are hurting me" she winced as his grip tightened around her wrist and just then he let go of her hands and moved back.

"I'm sorry, I...I.... I didn't mean to hurt you, I'm sorry" he said as he turned away from her.

Hannah sighed as she massaged her wrist which was hurting and looking red.

She stared at Brandon. She hadn't seen the look she saw in his eyes before, there was something he was hiding and was probably scared of. "Brandon" she called

"You should leave, please," he said and she sighed.

"I will leave when you tell me what happened between you and your Brother," Hannah said and memories of the past came rushing into Brandon's head.

He felt ashamed of what he had done and couldn't bring himself to tell Hannah the truth as he feared she might hate him for life.

Chapter 212

Chapter 212

"Brandon" Hannah called and he turned to her with no expression on his face.

"Tell me what happened between you and your Brother. Don't tell me he's angry because he thinks you tried to kill him, I know there's something else, what is it?" Hannah asked and he looked away from her before he finally spoke. "Nothing, you should go to your room," he said and Hannah scoffed.

"You are lying to me Brandon, I spoke with Lucas and even though he didn't tell me everything, I know there's more to why the both of you are at each other's throats. Spill it out" she said and he turned to her.

"Are you trying to side with him? He's a manipulative psychopath, he sure knows how to lie" Brandon said and Hannah scoffed.

"You are the one lying Brandon, you are not only lying, you are hiding the truth from me and making it look like Lucas is the bad one here.

I know absolutely nothing about you, you keep hiding a lot of things from me. Who was he talking about?" She asked and he turned to her and sighed.

"She's Mellisa's mother, My ex-fiancée," he said and Hannah paused and raised her eyebrows wondering what connection Lucas had with Brandon's ex-fiancée.

"Her name was Lisa, She was dating Lucas and then he had gone on a business trip for three months, before he came back something happened between us and she got pregnant with Melissa" Brandon paused and Hannah opened her eyes wide in shock.

She tried pushing words out of her mouth but words weren't coming out but then she finally spoke.

"What? You knew she was dating your brother and you still slept with her?" Hannah asked

"I didn't mean to do it. She drugged me and then it happened" he said and Hannah raised her eyebrows looking speechless not knowing what exactly to say.

She was still trying to process everything she had just heard. She raised her head and stared at Brandon, he was looking hurt.

"Where is Lisa now?" She asked

"She left after Mellisa was kidnapped and killed. I didn't hear from her after then" Brandon said and Hannah sighed.

She didn't know what to say.

She sighed for the hundredth time.

"You should rest, I'll need to go meet the kids," Hannah said and walked out of the study room.

The moment she walked out, she saw Lucas standing by the door.

He had been listening to all their conversations all this time, she thought as she stared at him and walked past him.

She went to her room, took her bath, and changed into a simple outfit before walking out of her room and going to the kitchen downstairs, to prepare dinner for the kids.

She walked inside the kitchen and sighed as she stared around.

Now she knows why Lucas hates his brother, he had every right to because of what Brandon did, he wasn't only angry, he was hurt, she thought and then sighed before moving towards the fridge.

She brought out some tomatoes, carrots and onions from the fridge. She rinsed them and put them in a bowl.

She brought out the carrot as she took the knife and started slicing it, and then she drifted away into her thoughts.

She could imagine the pain Lucas had felt when he found out about all of this.

She could remember how she felt when she saw her best friend in bed with her ex-husband.

She felt like she was about to die. She could only imagine the pain Lucas would have felt.

She was in deep thought and had forgotten she was slicing a carrot when the knife cut her hands and then she winced in pain and dropped the knife immediately. "Argh," she groaned as she stared at her finger which was now bleeding.

"Are you alright?" She heard a voice say from behind, it was Lucas.

"Yes, I'm fine," she said as she hid her hands.

"Did you cut your hands? Let me see it" he said as he dragged her hands and then saw the injury.

"Damn! What were you thinking? You should focus when using a knife. Come I will clean it up" he said and Hannah stared at him weirdly,

"No, seriously I'm okay. It's just a small injury" she said and he sighed.

"I insist, at least I should pay you back for what you did for me today," he said and after so much reluctance, she finally agreed to let him clean the injury.

They both walked towards the dining and sat on the chair while facing each other.

Hannah stared at him as he took the first aid box, opened it, started cleaning the injury, and then put a bandage plaster on it.

"I'm sorry for trying to get on Brandon's nerves just now," he said and Hannah stared at him without saying a word and he continued.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"Lisa was a sweet kind-hearted lady who had this charm that no man could resist.

Brandon lied when he said she drugged him, he isn't telling the whole truth and how it had happened" Lucas said and Hannah stared at him straight in the eyes, all she could see in his eyes was pain. He was hurt. "I'm sorry about what happened between the both of you, I'm sorry," Hannah said and Lucas smiled.

"It's fine. You know Brandon is really lucky to have a woman like you.

Because of you, I promise not to get on his nerves again. I will forgive him, I just need him to tell me where Lisa is.

I just want her back, that's all" he said and Hannah noticed from the way he sounded, that he really loved Lisa.

She wondered who this Lisa was and how she looked.

Meanwhile, Brandon is seen pacing to and fro in the study room. He looked so scared that Hannah must be angry and hated him.

He decided to go speak with her and tell her everything. He walked out of the study room and went to her bedroom, she wasn't there.

Then he decided to check downstairs and suddenly he saw Hannah and Lucas sitting at the dining table staring at each other.

He felt jealousy rush down his veins as he felt his heart beat increase at once, he felt like he was about to explode with anger mixed with jealousy at that moment.

Chapter 213

Chapter 213

"I'm sorry about Lisa, I hope you find her" Hannah said as she stood up and raised her head. She saw Brandon staring at her and Lucas.

"Do you need help in the kitchen? You just cut your finger, you could use some help" Lucas who hadn't noticed Brandon was behind him Said.

"No, it's fine. I will ask the maid to prepare the food" Hannah said and walked past Brandon, going upstairs to her room.

She sighed the moment she got into her room and sat on the bed.

She's doing exactly what she said she wouldn't do, getting involved in whatever was going on between Brandon and Lucas, she thought and gave in a deep breath.

Meanwhile, Brandon who is seen downstairs stares at Lucas, giving him a dagger look.

"Don't give me that stare, Big Brother" He said as he walked past Brandon, and walked outside the house.

He hopped into his car and zoomed off.

Brandon on the other hand wasn't ready for any fight with Lucas, he felt Hannah must have hated him already, he needed to talk to her, he thought as he climbed back the stairs going upstairs to Hannah's room.

He pushed the door open and walked in, there he met Hannah sitting on the couch. She stared at him and looked away.

"Hannah" he called as he moved towards her.

She stared at him not knowing what to say.

"How did you cut your hands? Does it hurt? I can take you to the hospital if you want to" Brandon said, looking worried.

"No, it's fine. It's just a small cut. Besides, Lucas had helped me clean the wound" Hannah said Brandon nodded in response and they both went silent at once.

"I..... I'm sorry for how I have been acting recently, I'm sorry, Hannah. I have been acting so insecure and I know you hate me now and....."

"What are you saying? I do not hate you, Brandon. I don't" Hannah said as she stood up staring at Brandon and he nodded.

"I didn't want to sleep with Lisa. I was drugged and didn't know what I was doing. I wasn't in control of myself" Brandon said and Hannah sighed.

"Lucas doesn't believe she drugged you, he thinks it's the other way around," Hannah said and Brandon sighed softly.

"I believe what you say, Brandon, I believe you.

Do you have any idea where Lisa is now?" Hannah asked and Brandon nodded negatively.

"No, she left when Mellisa had died. I tried finding her but it seems like she left the city. It would be impossible finding her" Brandon said and Hannah sighed.

"I know you think Lucas hates you or is a bad person, but he doesn't.

He's your brother and you are his brother. He's hurt and he feels betrayed because of what happened and his pain has turned into rage and anger.

You should understand that" Hannah said and Brandon nodded. He knows Hannah too well, no matter how bad someone is, she tends to see good in that person.

"Please just stop fighting with him, just stop, please. He's promised not to get on your nerves but he wants something else in return" Hannah said as he raised his eyebrows. "What does he want?" He asked

"Lisa, he says he wants her back," Hannah said and Brandon's face fell.

Lisa cannot come back, she was the one who came between him and Lucas in the first place. She's trouble, her coming here will only make things worse.

"What's wrong?" Hannah asked as she noticed the looks on his face

"Nothing, I'll ask Liam to do some searching," he said and Hannah nodded.

He had wanted to walk out of the room when Hannah called him, making him stop.

"Brandon" she called and he turned to her.

"Fixed things with your brother. He's your family, fix things with him" Hannah said and Brandon nodded and moved towards her.

He then kissed her lightly on her lips, gave her one last glance before walking out of the room.

The moment he walked out of the room, he bit his lips. He had lied to Hannah when he said he didn't know where Lisa was. He lied. He knows where she was but he cannot afford to make her come back. I'm sorry Hannah I can't do that. If my brother wants war, then war it is, he thought and with that he walked away.

Meanwhile, Matthew and Jessica who had left the house are seen inside a bar, with drinks on their tables.

"I'm sorry about my brother, he likes sticking his nose in things that ain't his concern," Jessica said and Matthew smiled.

"It's nothing. I will get used to it. You should give him a chance, Jessica. I don't know why you don't like him but he's your brother" Matthew said and Jessica sighed and nodded.

"I like him, it's not like I hate him," she said calmly.

Yeah, I understand" Matthew said in response.

"Let's not ruin this with the discussion of my brother," Jessica said and Matthew chuckled.

"I really love this bar, I do come here alone to relax my head whenever I'm stressed and this place we are sitting is my favorite spot" Jessica said and Matthew muttered a wow.

Just then the front door to the bar opened revealing Lucas. Jessica raised her head and saw Lucas scrutinizing the whole bar.

"Shit" she muttered as Lucas caught a glimpse of her. He smiled and walked towards them.

"What's wrong?" Matthew asked as he noticed the look on her face.

"Oh, little sister. I knew I would find you here at this bar. This place has always been your favorite spot" Lucas said as he smiled and sat with them. "What do you want, Lucas?" She asked.

"Nothing, I just want to apologize for being a dick since I arrived. I want us to start again, a clean slate" Lucas said and Jessica raised her eyebrows.

Lucas asking for a clean slate is weird and impossible.

"What are you planning, Lucas?" Jessica asked and he laughed.

"Nothing, we are family and it's not nice we aren't on good terms. I just want us to be a real family again" Lucas said and Jessica hummed and then turned to Matthew who hadn't said a word. Just then a lady in black walked towards the table they were sitting on, and stared at Matthew.

"Mr. Alexander Robert," the lady said while staring at Matthew.

"Excuse me," Matthew said as he stood up. He felt his heartbeat increase at once.

"Ain't you Alexander Robert, the only son of Marisa and Robert" the lady said and Matthew turned to both Jessica and Lucas who were staring at him and the lady. "Sorry, you got the wrong person, my name is Matthew...."

"You look so much like Alexander. I'm sorry I thought you were him" the lady said and Matthew who was looking nervous smiled as he watched the lady walk away. "Uhm, I'll be outside," he said and with that, he walked away.

"Hmm, weird. Alexander Robert" Lucas said and Jessica rolled her eyes and stood up before going outside to meet Matthew.

Chapter 214

Chapter 214

The moment Jessica got outside the bar, she met Matthew looking nervous pacing to and fro.

"Are you okay? What's wrong?" Jessica asked, jolting Matthew out of his thoughts.

"I'm fine. I'm just tired. Can we go home now?" he asked and Jessica nodded.

"I will go get the car," he said and left in a rush to get the car so they could leave.

Jessica on the other hand wondered what was wrong with him.

Maybe he's stressed from going to see his aunt yesterday, she thought and shook the thoughts off her head.

Meanwhile, Lucas is seen inside the bar staring around, trying to find the lady who had called Matthew Alexander, he just needed to ask her a few questions but sadly she was nowhere to be found. He sighed and then a waiter then brought a drink to his table.

"I didn't ask for a drink," he said to the waiter.

"That lady over there asked me to bring it for you," the waiter said and Lucas turned in the direction the waiter pointed.

He saw a lady with blonde hair, putting on shades. He hummed as he stared at her, she looked familiar, he thought and just then the lady stood up and walked towards him.

"Hey Lucas," she said as she sat close to him.

"Thank you for the drink," he said and she smiled and removed her glasses.

The moment she removed her glass, Lucas paused at once.

"You!!!" he said as the look on his face changed at once.

"Remember me now?" she said and he scoffed. He didn't expect to see her again.

"Jules" he muttered and she laughed.

"Long time no see Lucas, I see you are back from the dead" Jules said and Lucas chuckled.

Jules was Lisa's best friend and when Lisa and Lucas were dating then, they all hung out all the time.

"I wasn't expecting to see you since your friend is nowhere to be found," he said and Jules smiled.

"She left town. You can't find her, Lucas. I'm gonna give you a piece of advice, You should stop looking for her and move on" Jules said and Lucas frowned.

"And why would I listen to you?" Lucas asked.

"Because I was her close friend. Stop looking for Lisa, because the truth is she never really loved you, she only loved your brother, Brandon" Jules said and the look on Lucas's face changed at once. "Did Brandon send you?" He asked as he held her wrist at once.

"Brandon didn't send me, I haven't seen him in ages. Let go of my hands you are hurting me" she said between gritted teeth.

"I know he did send you, and I know what you are saying is a lie. Lisa loved me, my brother only brainwashed her.

Tell Brandon to try harder because I won't give up on finding her" Lucas said and let go of her hands immediately.

He gave her one last stare before standing up and walking out of the bar.

Jules sighed softly as she massaged her wrist.

He's so strong and arrogant, I wonder why he thinks Brandon sent me, she thought and then stood up and went after him.

"Lucas" she called and Lucas who was about to enter his car turned to her.

"What do you want, Jules?" She asked

"I didn't mean to get you angry, I was only...."

"You know where Lisa is right?" He asked to cut off her speech.

She paused and sighed as she moved towards him.

"I don't know where she is but..." her speech was suddenly interrupted when Lucas held her by her neck and pinned her to his car.

"Tell me where she is, Jules, or so help me god I will kill you" Lucas said as his hands tightened around her neck making it difficult for her to breathe.

"Stop!! You are hurting me!" She managed to say as she was choking.

Lucas heard voices from behind, he turned and saw some people staring at him.

He sighed and let go of her neck immediately.

"Stay away from me" he muttered as he pushed her away and with that, he entered his car and zoomed off.

Jules kept on coughing. damn, she muttered as she managed to stand up from the ground and quickly composed herself.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! She turned to the people staring at her and smiled. She straightened her dress before walking away.

Lucas, who was on his way home, realized his phone wasn't with him. Shit!! I must have left it at the bar, he thought and then quickly turned around and drove back to the bar.

His car came to a stop in front of the bar and he alighted the car and walked straight inside the bar.

He walked towards the table he had sat on and luckily his phone was there. He gave out a breath of relief and picked up the phone from the table.

Just as he wasn't about to leave, he mistakenly collided with someone.

"Watch where you are going, man!" He said as he raised his head and saw Jeff Colby and a male figure standing beside him. It was Dave, his close friend.

"You watch where you are going, mate," Jeff said as he hit him on the chest.

Lucas frowned the moment Jeff pushed him and suddenly he punched him in his face.

Jeff groaned and had wanted to hit him when Dave held him, stopping him from fighting.

"Watch where you are going next time," Lucas said as he gave Jeff one last glance before walking out of the bar.

Jeff on the other hand stared at him angrily.

"Why did you stop me?" He asked Dave as he pulled his hands away from him and sat on the chair.

"We are in public and People are watching, you don't want your name flying on the news again that you got into a fight. Enough has happened already, you have to be careful" Dave said and Jeff sighed. TBC

Chapter 215

Chapter 215

Meanwhile, a black car screeched to a halt in front of Colby's mansion.

Jessica and Matthew alighted the car and walked inside the house, where they met Arianna at the dining table, with some maids arranging food at the dining table. There was lots of food on the table. She wondered if there was any occasion that she didn't know about.

"Mom" Jessica called and Arianna turned to her and smiled.

"Oh honey, you are back," she said as she moved towards Jessica and hugged her. Then kissed her on her cheeks.

"Hi" Matthew muttered and Arianna smiled at him.

"What's the occasion? Why is there so much food on the table?" Jessica asked.

"Honey, it's been a long time since we had dinner together as a family. I just wanted us to have dinner together" Arianna said and Jessica hummed. "You should go change your dress and come eat," Arianna said and Jessica nodded before going upstairs with Matthew to change their clothes. After Jessica left, Arianna went upstairs to Hannah's room. She planted a soft knock on the door and the door opened revealing Hannah. "Mom" Hannah called as she opened the door fully and hugged Arianna. She hadn't seen her today, she was wondering where she had gone. "You weren't home this morning, I was wondering where you had gone," Hannah said as she pulled away from the hug.

"I had some business I needed to attend to," Arianna said and Hannah nodded.

Just then Arianna saw Hannah's hand was bandaged.

"Honey, did you cut your finger?" Arianna asked

"It's just a small cut, it doesn't hurt," Hannah said and Arianna hummed softly.

"Honey, I prepared dinner for the whole family. You should come downstairs and eat" Arianna said and a wide smile appeared on Hannah's face.

She always loved it when Arianna cooked. It always tastes good and it's been a long time since she cooked, and today she had finally cooked some food, and she was surely gonna enjoy the food.

"Sure, I'll go get the kids," Hannah said in response.

"I'll go inform Brandon," Arianna said and with that, she walked away.

Hannah walked out of her room and went to the kid's room, where she met them asleep.

After she had cut her hands and left the kitchen, the maid had prepared some food for them and they had eaten and now they were asleep:

She had wanted to wake them up but then she had a change of heart she didn't want to disturb them as she felt they were probably stressed from school.

She smiled as she stared at them. These children were her happiness and the only reason she never gave up, she would do anything to make them happy, she thought as she moved towards them and covered them properly with the duvet. She gave them one last glance before walking out of the room, closing the door behind her.

She went downstairs and there she met Jessica, Matthew and Arianna already sitting.

"Hey," she muttered to both Jessica and Matthew before sitting on the chair. Matthew smiled at her.

"Hey," Jessica muttered in response.

"Where are the kids?" Arianna asked.

"They are asleep," she said in response and Arianna nodded.

Just then Brandon is seen climbing down the stairs. He walked towards them and sat on the chair beside Hannah.

Hannah stared at him and quickly looked away.

"Where's Lucas?" Arianna asked

"Probably still at the bar downtown sticking his nose in things that ain't his concern," Jessica said as she drank from the glass of juice.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

Arianna raised her eyebrows confused.

"Seriously, that's no way to speak of your brother," Lucas who had just entered the house said and everyone turned toward him.

"Whatever!" Jessica muttered.

"Lucas, you just came in time. Join us" Arianna said and Lucas stared at her and looked away.

He wasn't in the mood to join them but the moment his eyes and Hannah's came in contact he changed his mind.

He walked towards Hannah and smiled at her before sitting on the empty chair that was beside her.

Hannah who was now in the middle of both Lucas and Brandon glanced at both brothers and to Arianna who was staring at her. Everyone was silent but then Arianna broke the silence. "Lucas, I heard you've resumed work at the company," she asked as they all ate.

"Yeah, I have. Why do you ask? It's not like you care" Lucas said rudely and Arianna sighed and managed to smile.

Hannah stared at Arianna and noticed she was hurt by what Lucas had said, she frowned.

"That's no way to talk to her," Hannah said as she glared at Lucas with anger in her eyes.

"Hannah, it's fine," Arianna said.

Lucas stared at her, sighed and then smiled.

"I didn't mean to say that, rudely, I'm sorry," he said to Arianna and then turned to Hannah who looked away from him and continued eating her food. There was an intense silence but then Lucas broke the silence.

"Matthew, do you mind telling us about your family? Since you are now a part of this family, we should know more about you" Lucas said and Jessica sighed. "Do not start, Lucas" Jessica said

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"It's fine. There's nothing to know about me, Lucas. I'm just a boy who lost his parents at a young age and then lived with his aunt" Matthew said with a smile on his face and Lucas hummed. He didn't know why he felt Matthew was hiding something.

"Oh my goodness! I'm sorry about your parents" Arianna said and Matthew smiled.

"That's a long time ago," Matthew said in response.

"And where does your aunt live? I would love to meet her in person or maybe there is no aunt" Lucas said and Matthew bit his lips and forced himself to smile.

"Stop Lucas, do not start or ruin my evening," Jessica said angrily.

"Okay, I don't want to ruin this dinner, let's all eat and enjoy," Lucas said as he smirked, he took an apple from the table, and took a bite while staring at Matthew just then he caught a glimpse of Brandon staring at him. He chuckled.

"Brandon, the octuplets aren't here? Woah, I love those kids. They are a copy of you.

If Mellisa was here, she would be so happy she had siblings.

Oh, I forgot, if Mellisa was still alive maybe Lisa would still be here.

What am I saying? Mellisa is dead" Lucas said and Brandon frowned at him.

"Enough Lucas! You know what, I'm out of here" Jessica said as she stood up and walked away.

Matthew stood up and went after her.

"I will be in my room," Arianna said as she stood up and went upstairs to her room.

Brandon on the other hand glared at Lucas and didn't say a word, with that he walked away.

Hannah and Lucas were the only ones left at the dining table, but then she stood up to leave when Lucas stood up and stood in front of her.

"I'm sorry, I didn't mean to ruin the dinner"

Chapter 216

Chapter 216

"I'm sorry, I didn't mean to ruin the dinner," He said and Hannah sighed.

"You should not be apologizing to me, you should apologize to your mom, Jessica, and Brandon.

No matter how angry you feel towards him, never mock him with his dead daughter, it's wrong" she said and with that, she walked away from him.

Lucas sighed. He didn't want Hannah to hate him, he was going to do all she said if it would make her happy, he thought.

He decided to go upstairs to his room.

Meanwhile, Hannah who had gone to her room, opened the door and she was welcomed by the sight of Brandon sitting on the couch.

His face looked down, he was looking sad.

"Hey, are you alright?" She asked as she walked inside the room leaving the door slightly open. He nodded and stood up.

"I just came to inform you about the banquet party that will be hosted tomorrow by Mr Thomas. You would be attending it with me" Brandon said and Hannah nodded in response.

He glared at her and was about to walk out of the room when he paused and turned to her.

"Hannah, I....." he paused and swallowed into nothing. Then moved towards her and continued.

"I just hope you love me back the same way I love you," Brandon said and Hannah stared at him wondering why he said so and what was going on in his mind.

She stared at him without saying a word. Staring at those beautiful eyes of his, she had almost felt lost in it.

Just then Brandon grabbed her by her waist and pulled her towards him.

Hannah could feel her heartbeat increase as he gazed into her eyes. He leans in and gently places his hands on her cheeks, his gaze still on her eyes.

What have you done to me, this woman? Every fiber in me craves you and just the thought of you drives me crazy, he thought as he stared at her with love in his eyes while caressing her face.

"Brandon" she called in a whisper as she swallowed into nothing.

He closed the gap between them and then pressed his lips to hers.

Hannah at first had wanted to resist but she didn't, instead, she let him kiss her and she kissed him back.

It was a soft, slow, tender kiss. They were almost lost in the kiss as they stayed connected for a few moments but then Brandon suddenly pulled away from the kiss when he felt he was about to lose control. He stared at her little innocent eyes and then kissed her forehead, bade her Goodnight and turned to leave.

Meanwhile, Lucas who was about to go into his room had wanted to pass by Hannah's room when he saw the door slightly open and from there he saw Brandon kissing Hannah.

He felt the surge of jealousy rushed through him as he kissed her. The color of his eyes had changed into red. He suddenly moved away from the door and walked to his room. He opened the door and entered the room then closed the door behind him. He moved towards the bed and sat on it, anger flowing through his veins.

Brandon had ruined my relationship and my life and now he's happy, no, it won't happen. I'm going to ruin his life, he thought angrily.

Meanwhile, Isabella is seen at the dining table eating dinner when suddenly her dad walks in and joins her.

"Sweetheart, how are you?" Edward asked as he kissed her on the cheeks but Isabella paid a deaf ear to him as she didn't say a word.

Edward sat on the chair and stared at her. He knew she was angry because he hadn't told Brandon to marry her but she doesn't understand that he cannot do it without Elizabeth.

It was him and Elizabeth that was planning all of it all along but all of a sudden, she had left the country.

He needs someone from Brandon's family to back him up before bringing up the proposal but now his daughter is sad and impatient, he has to find another way.

"Honey, I know you are angry at me but I promise you, I will make sure Brandon gets Married to you.

We just have to wait for the right time" Edward said but still, Isabella didn't say a word.

"There's a banquet party that will be held tomorrow by Mr Thomas, Brandon will be attending. You can come with me since I would be attending" Edward said and Isabella stood up. "No, I'm fine, I won't be attending," she said and with that, she walked upstairs to her room. Edward sighed softly.

Meanwhile, the moment she got to her room, she brought out her phone and dialed her best friend's number immediately.

"I'm attending a party tomorrow and Brandon will be there, I'm gonna need a sexy dress for the party, so text me where you are so I can come pick you up and we will go shopping," she said and with that, she ended the call. It was morning and a new day. Hannah had woken up early and helped the kids dress up for school, after which she dropped them off at school before going to the company.

Her car came to a stop in front of the company, she parked her car in the parking lot and was about to alight the car when she saw Brandon's car drive in.

She quickly alighted the car and rushed inside the company as she didn't want to go inside the company with Brandon.

Meanwhile, Brandon on the other hand had seen her rushing inside the company like she was avoiding him.

He quickly rushed out of his car, and strides toward her with his long legs.

Just as she was about to press the elevator bell, someone from behind her pressed it.

She raised her head and saw Brandon standing behind her. Her face flushed in embarrassment as she saw him.

She was trying to run from him but he still caught up to her, she thought as she stared at his long legs.

"Are you avoiding me?" Brandon asked as they entered the elevator.

"What? No, why would I avoid you?" She asked, trying to avoid his gaze.

"Maybe because of the kiss last night. You know if I hadn't pulled away something else would have happened" he said while staring at the petite woman who was staring at the ground. "What? No! Nothing would have happened, besides that wasn't the first time we've kissed and nothing had happened before" Hannah said and Brandon raised his eyebrows and smirked. Hannah bit her lips in embarrassment as she realized what she had said.

"Really? How about this?" He said as he moved towards her, about to kiss her when the elevator suddenly stopped and opened and there were lots of workers standing outside the elevator. They all bent their heads and pretended not to see anything. Hannah's cheeks flushed in embarrassment.

Chapter 217

"I'm sorry Mr Brandon, we would use the other elevator," they all said at once and were about to leave when Hannah spoke, making them pause.

"It's fine, you can use this one," she said as she and Brandon walked out of the elevator.

Hannah, who was trying to avoid Brandon's gaze, was just about to enter her office when Brandon held her hands.

"Let go of my hands, please. I don't want people saying I'm sleeping with the boss in the company," she said, staring around as she wondered if anyone was watching.

"What are you talking about? I'm your husband and who cares about what people say" Brandon said as she caressed her hands.

"Well I do, I care," she said as she pulled her hands away from his and walked inside her office.

The moment she got inside her office. She placed her hands on her chest and heaved a sigh of relief.

Meanwhile, Brandon on the other hand had this smile on her face the moment Hannah had entered her office.

He walked towards his office, still smiling to himself.

The moment he entered his office, he met Liam arranging some files. He paid no attention to Liam as he walked towards his chair and sat on it.

Liam stared at him wondering why he looked so happy. He hummed and continued what he was doing.

After he was done, he was about walking out of the office when Brandon called him, making him stop.

"I want you to order a new dress for Hannah, she will be going to the banquet party with me," Brandon said. Liam raised his eyebrows and then nodded in response before walking out of the office. Meanwhile, Hannah who is seen in her office heard a knock on her office door. She stood up and went to open the door.

"Hi, Mrs Colby, " A lady said as she walked inside the office holding a vase of flowers and putting it on her table.

"Hi, I didn't order flowers, you must be mistaken," Hannah said and the lady smiled.

"Someone did, and asked us to deliver it to you" she said and then brought out her phone and sent a text message to someone and just then more people holding a vase of different flowers walked in and arranged the flowers everywhere. Hannah stared at them looking confused, she wondered who would have gotten her flowers.

She brought out her phone and decided to call Brandon as she felt he would be the only one who would send her flowers.

She dialed his number and it was ringing, she watched the people who had brought the flower leave her office. Just then she saw a piece of letter attached to one of the flowers on her table.

She moved towards the flower and took the paper.

"Hey," she heard Brandon's voice from the other side of the phone.

"Did you send me flowers?" She asked as she held the piece of paper and read what was written on it.

"I'm sorry for last night, I promise to apologize to everyone as you've said" she read and then it dawned on her it was Lucas who sent it.

"No, I didn't send any flowers," Brandon said and Hannah sighed.

"Yeah, about that, I already know who did," she said and ended the call.

She wondered why Lucas would be sending her flowers at work, not one or two but lots of flowers, and this was too much. What was she going to use it for, she thought, staring around.

She decided to arrange the flowers in one corner of her office, maybe she would share them among the workers, she thought and just then the door to her office burst open revealing Brandon who had a strange look on his face. The moment he entered Hannah's office he saw lots of flowers. Her office was filled with flowers. He had frowned but then quickly replaced the frown on his face with a curious look.

Even without a seer telling him, he knew who had sent it, it was no other person than Lucas. He was the only one stupid enough to send his wife, Flowers.

"Who sent you flowers?" He asked, pretending not to know it was Lucas who sent it and Hannah turned to him.

"Lucas, he was apologizing for last night," Hannah said and Brandon raised his eyebrows.

"Apologizing for last night? Over what?" He asked.

His brother wasn't taking a new leaf, he's trying to play games here. How dare he send my woman flowers, he thought angrily.

"I'll send someone to get rid of the flowers," Brandon said

"What? This was gotten with lots of money, you cannot just get rid of it like that. It's better to give it out than waste it" she said and Brandon glared at her for a few seconds. "My decision is made, I'm getting rid of the flowers," Brandon said and made some calls. It wasn't long before some people came in with Liam and got rid of all the flowers. "Please do not throw the flowers away, you can give them to the workers," she said to Liam who nodded in response.

When they were done packing everything off her office, Brandon turned to Hannah.

"I don't want you accepting any gift from Lucas. If you need flowers, you could just tell me you need them " he said and walked out of the office angrily, not giving Hannah the chance to speak. Hannah sighed softly not knowing what to say. She wondered if Brandon was jealous, she thought as she checked her time.

The banquet party would be starting in thirty minutes, she needed to go home and dress up, she thought as she picked up her bag and glanced at the letter on her table.

She picked it up and dumped it in the bin, and with that, she walked out of her office.

Chapter 218

Meanwhile, Lucas is seen in his room going through his phone when he suddenly receives a call from the florist that the flowers have been delivered.

He smiled as he ended the call. He knew Brandon would have seen the flowers by now and would be angry, he chuckled.

He stood up from the bed, took his bath, and put on a black trouser and a shirt.

He walked out of his room and went downstairs, the moment he got downstairs he met Jessica sitting on the couch in the sitting room.

"Hey, little sis" he muttered and Jessica raised her head and stared at him then looked away.

"Come on sis, you can't be angry with me over last night. I'm sorry for ruining the dinner last night. I'm sorry, please forgive me" he said Jessica stood up and was about to walk away from him but then Lucas stood in her way. "Get out of my way, Lucas," she said and Lucas pouted.

"Please, forgive your Brother," he said and Jessica sighed. No matter how much she tried to hate Lucas, she just couldn't, he's still her Brother and she must confess, those times he was gone, she missed him.

"Fine, I'm giving you one more chance. If you mess up this time, I will not give you another chance" she said and Lucas smiled and pulled her into a tight hug.

"I...I can't breathe Lucas " she managed to say and Lucas quickly let go of her.

"Sorry," he muttered and she smiled.

She wondered what was wrong with him, why he was in a good mood. Just then Jessica heard the doorbell ring.

She moved towards the door and opened it. It was the delivery man, he had brought the cloth she ordered for.

"Thank you, keep the change," she said as she took the clothes and gave the man money. She then closed the door. "What's that?" Lucas asked.

"It's a dress for a banquet party Mr Thomas is holding for his company.

I was invited, Brandon and Hannah were also invited, they would be attending too" Jessica said as she checked her time.

The party would be starting any moment from now, she needed to get dressed, she thought, and then walked away.

Lucas hummed as a thought crossed his mind, he needed to attend the party too, he thought, and was about to climb upstairs to his room when he saw Arianna walk out of the kitchen with a cup of coffee in her hands.

As much as he didn't want to apologize to her, he had no choice but to because he wanted to get on Hannah's good side, he thought, and then walked towards Arianna.

"Lucas" Arianna called and he smiled.

"I want to apologize for ruining dinner last night. I'm sorry, I didn't intend to" he said and Arianna smiled.

"It's fine son," she said as she smiled. Lucas nodded and with that, he walked upstairs to his room to get dressed for the party and just then the front door opened revealing Hannah. "Hey Mom" Hannah muttered as she walked in, and moved towards Arianna and kissed her on her cheeks.

She then noticed the look on her face, she looked happy.

"You look happy," Hannah said and Arianna chuckled.

"Lucas Apologized, I wasn't expecting him to but he did apologize. So I'm happy. I thought he hated me but turns out he doesn't" Arianna said and Hannah raised her eyebrows. Oh, he did what he had said, Hannah thought as she smiled inwardly.

"Why are you home this early? Ain't you supposed to be at the company?" Arianna asked.

"I came to dress up for the banquet party," Hannah said and Arianna nodded in response.

"You should go get dressed, you don't want to be late," Arianna said and Hannah smiled at her before walking upstairs to her room.

Meanwhile, Brandon is seen in his office looking furious when the door bursts open revealing Liam.

"Sir, Mrs Colby has left the company. I think she's going home to get dressed for the banquet party" Liam said and Brandon sighed. "How about the dress?" Brandon asked.

"Delivered. She would meet it at her bed when she gets home" Liam said and Brandon nodded and stood up.

He needed to go home, he would be the one taking Hannah to the banquet party. She wouldn't be going in her car, she would be going in mine instead, he thought and with that, he walked out of his office. He walked towards the elevator, pressed the button and when it opened, he got inside. The elevator opened when it got to the last floor.

As Brandon walked out of the company, he heard whispers.

"I heard Mr Brandon was the one who had distributed Flowers to all the workers. He's so generous" the workers kept whispering among each other.

Brandon raised his eyebrows surprised at what he had heard.

He brought out his phone and dialed Liam's number as he walked towards his car.

"Did you tell everyone I was the one who asked for the flowers to be distributed to them?" He asked as he opened his car door and hopped in.

"Mrs Colby asked me to," Liam said in response and Brandon sighed before ending the call.

He wondered why she would ask Liam to tell everyone he was the one who distributed flowers when they both knew he would never think of such, he thought as he ignited the engine and zoomed off. Meanwhile, Jeff is seen coming out of his room putting on a black suit. Looking so handsome.

He climbed down the stairs and just then he saw Rosa in the living room watching TV. He stared at her and looked away.

"Jeff" Rosa called as she stood up and he turned to her.

"What do you want?" He asked

"You've been avoiding me and David for some time now. You would leave the house before we wake up and then come back home when we are all asleep.

I know you hate me, Jeff, you have every right to. But please don't turn your back on your son, he needs you" Rosa said and Jeff glared at her and walked away without saying a word.

He needed to get to Thomas's Banquet party in time, he didn't want to be late.

Chapter 219

Chapter 219

Hannah opened the door to her room and was suddenly welcomed by the sight of three shopping bags sitting pretty on her bed.

She wondered what was in it and who had entered her room and kept it on the bed. She took one of the shopping bags, opened it and brought out the clothes in it.

She checked the second then saw a Diamond necklace, an earring, and also a Diamond hand bangle. She then checked the third and saw diamond heels and a black heels. She then saw a letter inside the shopping bag. She brought it out and read it "Put it on for me, I love you" she smiled as she read it out loud. She knew it was Brandon who had sent it.

She quickly replaced the smile on her face with a frown.

She dropped the piece of paper on the bed and picked up the gown admiring it.

It was a red gown, it was so beautiful and elegant. Everything about the dress spoke about money, money, and money.

Oh my goodness, this must be so expensive, she thought as she dropped the gown on the bed.

She didn't want to be late for the party, so she rushed inside the bathroom, took her bath, and walked out with a towel tied around her chest.

Just as she was about to remove her towel from her chest the door burst open revealing Brandon.

"Brandon" she yelled and quickly tied up her towel.

"What?" Brandon asked.

"Can't you knock before entering my room, what if I was naked?" she said and he rolled her eyes.

"What are you hiding?" He asked as he sat on the bed and she frowned.

"What are you even doing here? Ain't you supposed to be at the office?" She asked and he sighed.

"Did you like the dress?" He ignored her question.

"No, I didn't ask you to get me a dress, I have tons of dresses I would wear and I'm not wearing that dress to the party, now you can leave," she said and Brandon gazed at her with no expression on his face. "You're going to put that dress on," Brandon said and Hannah scoffed.

"I won't, you can't force me to put it on," she said and he hummed and stood up. He took a step towards her and she took a step backward.

With every step he takes forward, she takes a step backward till her back hits the wall. He smirked as he placed his hands at the end of her towel wanting to lose it.

"Brandon please stop," she said as she felt her breath become intense. She could feel her heart thumping so hard against her chest.

"Why do I love you so much? What have you done to me? Every fiber of me craves you, I know you crave me too" he whispered in her ears and a cold shiver ran down her spine.

He bit his lips as he gazed into her eyes. She stared at him looking nervous.

"You are going to put on that dress and that's final. It's an order, not a request" he said and Hannah looked away from him.

"I'm not putting it on," she said trying to compose herself and he hummed,

"I can see you are acting stubborn. I love it when you act stubborn though, makes me wanna kiss you hard till you lose your breath and then lay you on the bed and...."

"Stop, stop!! Just stop! I will put on the dress, I will put it on" she said, cutting off his speech and he laughed.

"Good girl," he said as he kissed her lightly on her lips and pulled away from her. Hannah quickly looked away from him as she blushed.

"The party would be starting soon if it hadn't started and you would be going with me in my car," he said and Hannah rolled her eyes.

"I would be going myself with my car," she said and Brandon sighed.

"I knew you would say this, that's why I did what I needed to do, so you would have no option than to go in my car," he said and she stared at him with a frown on her face. "What did you do to my car, Brandon?" She asked and he shrugged.

"Nothing, I only asked the chauffeur to take it to the mechanic shop," he said and Hannah stared at him confused.

"But the car doesn't have any fault," Hannah said.

"It had automatically developed a mechanical issue when I drove in, so out of my kind heart, I asked for the car to be taken for repair," Brandon said and Hannah stared at him speechlessly. "Get dressed, I'll be downstairs," he said and with that, he walked out of the room, closing the door behind him.

Hannah sighed the moment he walked out of the room.

Pervert!!! She muttered as she sat on the bed tiredly and stared at the dress.

Now she would have no option than to put on the dress and go with him in his car. She thought and then stood up from the bed to get dressed.

"Hey, look at you. You look handsome in tuxes" Lucas muttered and Brandon stared at him without saying a word.

"Common Brother, you can't continue to hate me. I'm sorry for what I did yesterday and for ruining dinner" Lucas said and Brandon scoffed.

"I will forgive you when you stop sending my woman, Flowers" Brandon said and Lucas chuckled.

"Oh about that. I felt I should give her something as beautiful as...," Lucas paused when Brandon gave him a deadly glare.

"Leave Hannah alone Lucas. Stay away from her" Brandon said Lucas had wanted to speak but he paused when he saw Hannah climbing down the stairs looking as beautiful as ever. Brandon, who was wondering what he was staring at turned and saw Hannah climbing down the stairs.

He gasped the moment he saw how beautiful she was in the gown he had bought for her. It felt like they had seen the most beautiful woman on earth.

Lucas on the other hand notices how the dress she was putting on accentuates her curves and flatters her figure.

She looked radiant, and he was struck by how beautiful she was.

Everything she was putting on spoke elegance, money and money.

He had wanted to walk up towards her but then Brandon walked towards her and gently put his hand cheeks, removing a strand of hair that was lying on her face...

She turns to face him, and they share a long, loving look while Lucas stared at them with jealousy in his eyes.

Chapter 220

Chapter 220

"Hey, you look... beautiful," Brandon said as he admired her and Hannah gave out a small smile.

Hannah turned to Lucas who was staring at her and then she looked away before walking out of the house, with Brandon by her side. Brandon opened the car door for her and beckoned for her to get in.

"You don't have to open the car door for me," she said and Brandon sighed. She stared at him and entered the car and he closed the door. He moved towards the driver's seat, hopped inside the car, ignited the engine, and zoomed off.

Meanwhile, Lucas on the other hand had walked out of the house, hopped inside his car, and drove off.

The moment Lucas left, Jessica and Matthew walked out of the house, entered the car, and drove off to the party.

Meanwhile, Jeff had just arrived at the party and walked inside Thomas's house where the party was being held.

He scrutinized the whole house, it was really big on the inside and the interior decoration of the house looked magnificent.

"Jeff, thank you for coming," Mr Thomas said as he walked towards Jeff and they both exchanged handshakes.

"Come, I'll introduce you to all my friends," Mr Thomas said and Jeff nodded as they both walked away.

Just then a black car came to a stop in front of Mr Thomas's house. The car door opened and Brandon and Hannah alighted the car.

Hannah sighed as she stared around, there were a lot of people at the party and most of them were now staring at her.

"That's Mr. Colby's wife, the COO of Colby co. Her dress is so pretty," one of the ladies in the crowd whispered.

Hannah took a deep breath but then she suddenly felt Brandon holding her hands.

She became calm instantly.

"The party has started," Hannah said as they walked in.

"Yeah, it's your fault we are late, you didn't get dressed in time," Brandon said as they walked inside the house fully.

"What? You are the cause. If you weren't flirting with me acting like a pervert, we would've come early" Hannah said and Brandon rolled his eyes while trying to find Thomas.

"I need to find Thomas, he should know I'm here," Brandon said and Hannah pulled her hands from Brandon's.

"Uhm, I'll go get a drink. You can go find him, I can take care of myself" she said and he hummed. She smiled at him before walking away.

Brandon sighed and went to look for Thomas. Just then he caught a glimpse of Thomas with some men in suits, they were all laughing while talking.

He recognized most of the men there as they were prominent businessmen in the city. Edward was in their midst too.

He walked towards them.

"Thomas" Brandon called and they all turned to him at once

"Oh, Bradon Colby, you made it," Thomas said as he moved towards Brandon and hugged him.

"I'm sorry I'm late," he said and Thomas smiled and pulled away from the hug.

"It's fine, I'm glad you made it. These are my friends, I believe you know most of them already" Thomas said and Brandon stared at all of them and just then he saw Jeff, staring at him. "Oh wow, the devil agent is here," he thought and then looked away from him.

"Brandon" Mr Edward called as he stood up and walked towards Brandon and they both exchanged handshakes.

"How are you Mr Edward, I'm sorry I haven't come to see you," Brandon said and Edward smiled.

"We can always see and talk any time. Let's enjoy the party" Edward said as he sat down and they all smiled. He then turned to Thomas.

"I would love to speak with you in private Mr Thomas" Brandon said and Thomas wondered what he had wanted to talk about.

"We would talk about business when the party's over. Come on, join us and drink with us," Thomas said as he took a glass of drink and gave it to Brandon.

Brandon on the other hand smiled as he took the glass of drink, he then sat down while he and Jeff kept giving each other a deadly glare.

Meanwhile, Isabella is seen sitting at the corner of the party, beside two ladies who were gossiping and wouldn't stop talking.

She had been sitting here waiting for Brandon to arrive but she hadn't seen him since she arrived an hour ago.

Just then Hannah walked past her and sat on the table close to her. She brought out her phone and texted Arianna that she wouldn't be coming home in time and that she should go pick up the kids from school. After which she put her phone back in her purse.

The two ladies beside Isabella started talking about Hannah.

"Isn't that the wife of Mr Colby? Oh my goodness, her dress is so pretty and it looks very expensive" one of the ladies said

"Yeah, and she's so beautiful. Everything about her speaks of money and elegance. I wish I could be like her" the other lady said and Isabella turned and saw Hannah sitting all alone on the table next to hers.

She frowned the moment she saw her. Jealousy ran through her. She looked beautiful in the dress she was wearing and that Diamond necklace and earrings she was putting on cost a lot.

She was sure Brandon bought it for her. The more she stared at the lady the more hatred she felt for her.

She stood up and decided to approach her, she was going to warn her to stay away from Brandon.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! "Hannah" Isabella called and she raised her head only to see Isabella standing in front of her.

"Hey, can I help you?" She asked politely and Isabella scoffed.

"I know Brandon doesn't Love you, you are the one forcing yourself on him, I want you to stay away from him," Jessica said looking furious and Hannah laughed.

"You've got the guts to approach me and ask me to stay away from my husband? Where do you buy your audacity from? Have you got no shame? Going after people's husbands like a whore?" Hannah asked and the frown on her face deepened.

"How dare you call me a whore" she muttered and was about to hit her when Hannah held her hands and pushed her to the ground.

"How dare you push me? Do you know who I am? Do you know who my father is? He's a prominent man in the city and would throw you in jail for what you had just done" She yelled angrily, breathing intensely. Hannah chuckled and clicked her tongue.

"And do you know who I am?"

Do not dare come after me, Isabella because you will lose.

I am Cinderella Mackenzie, I run this town, I make the rules, and trust me I always win.

Ask around about the people that have messed with me if they lived to see another day" she said and with that she stood up and walked away.

Isabella, who felt embarrassed, turned and saw the two gossip ladies staring at her.

"What are you staring at?" she yelled and they quickly looked away.
