

Cinderella And Her Beautiful Octuplets

Chapter 251

Chapter

251

Lucas walked out of the house, hopped in his car, and drove out of the compound.

He had gone to a bar to cool off his head. He didn't want to believe what Hannah and Brandon had told him.

He doesn't trust his brother, but he trusts Hannah and she would never lie to him. He sighed softly as the waiter brought the drink which he had ordered for. He took the glass and gulped down everything at once.

Just then someone touched him from behind, he turned and saw Jules, Lisa's best friend.

He wondered what she was doing at the bar he was at, again. If she was following him.

"Hey, Lucas," Jules muttered as she sat beside him. He stared at her and looked away.

She rolled her eyes and then ordered two glasses of drink, one for her and the other for Lucas.

"What do you want, Jules?" Lucas asked as the waiter put the glass of drink in front of him.

"Nothing, I just want to spend time with you," she said and he raised his eyebrows wondering what she meant by she just wanted to spend time with him.

"Are you following me?-"

"What? No, I'm not" she said in a sharp response and he glanced at her one more time and then looked away.

"Go sit with someone else Jules, I need to be alone," he said and she rolled her eyes again.

"What's up with you? Woman problem. Lisa must be giving you a hard time, I knew it.

You found out what her real agenda was already, I was wondering when you would find out. Thank God" she said with an eye roll as she drank everything in the glass cup and Lucas turned to her.

"What are you talking about?" he asked, she stared at him for a few moments and chuckled.

"Oh, you haven't found out yet. I thought you have" she said as she shook her head and asked the waiter to pour her a drink.

"What are you talking about, Jules?" Lucas asked again for the second time and Jules let out a sigh before she finally spoke.

"Okay, I'm not supposed to tell you this, but you need to know the truth, it breaks my heart to see how much you love her but she doesn't love you in return. She's using you" she said and Lucas raised his eyebrows staring at her with a confused expression on his face.

"Are you so dumb that you can't see what's right in front of you? I'm talking about Lisa. She's using you, she doesn't love you, she loves your brother instead. She's such a manipulative liar.

Haven't you asked yourself why she came back after all these years" She paused as she drank the drink in the glass and then continued.

"I came to you that day telling you she doesn't love you because she asked me to.

She knew you would be an obstacle to her plans and she wanted to get you out of the big picture so she could start all over with Brandon.

She sent the girl Susan too, think about it. Susan left your house and a few minutes later Lisa was standing right in front of your door. Think Lucas, think!!" she said and Lucas stared at her looking speechless.

He was trying to put all of this together and he felt Jules was saying the truth but he didn't want to believe it. Lisa Looked him in the eyes and told him she wanted both of them to start over and that she came for him. "Why are you telling me all of this? Isn't she your best friend?" he asked and she rolled her eyes.

"She's not my best friend, not anymore. She's only using me to her advantage, when I'm no longer in use she would dump me. She's a selfish bitch who only cares about herself.

And I know how much you love her, people like her are the reason men like you find it difficult to love again" she said and he gave her one last glance before standing up from the chair he was sitting on. He walked out of the bar, hopped inside his car, and zoomed off. He was going to confront Lisa.

"Lucas, Lucas, don't leave me here" Jules who was still at the bar, looking drunk yelled while everyone was staring at her.

Meanwhile, Lisa is seen in her room going through what her spy had sent for her. She couldn't believe Brandon and Jeff Mikealson were brothers and Hannah was the ex-wife of Jeff.

She was shocked. She had asked her investigator to do more digging about Hannah, she needed to know more about her.

She smiled and decided to go downstairs to get water. With what she had seen, she needed to drink lots of water to digest all of it.

She walked inside the kitchen and saw Hannah standing inside the kitchen. Lisa hummed and walked past her and Hannah rolled her eyes without saying a word while she continued what she was doing. She didn't have time for any drama, all she wanted to do was prepare dinner for her kids.

Lisa took the bottle of water, and while opening it gently, she kept staring at Hannah.

"You know Hannah, I have been wondering what happened between you and your ex-husband, Jeff Mikealson right?" She said and Hannah raised her head and gazed at her wondering how she knew about Jeff. "Oh, the boss lady couldn't stay with one man. Imagine getting married to two brothers, you are no different from me Hannah but yet you judge me for loving both Brandon and Lucas" Lisa said and Hannah sighed. "I'm nothing like you Lisa. I don't use people as you do, I don't come between brothers, and don't pretend to love someone when I don't" Hannah said and Lisa scoffed.

"Are you sure about that? And who the hell told you I'm pretending to love Brandon? I love Brandon. Although I love Lucas too but not as much as I love Brandon. I love them both but my love for Brandon is much more bigger. Lucas is the one who's getting in my way, I just need to get rid of him completely and boom, Brandon and I will be back together again" she said and Hannah stared at her speechlessly.

She had wanted to respond but then she paused when she saw Lucas standing by the kitchen door listening to every one of their conversations.

She stared at him and saw he was hurt.

Lisa on the other hand was waiting for Hannah to respond but she didn't say a word instead she kept staring at the door.

She wondered what she was staring at and she turned only to see Lucas by the door.

"Lucas....." she called and tried moving towards him but he raised his hand.

"Do not dare come close to me. I trusted you" he said with pain in his voice.

He glared at her for a few seconds and then he walked away.

Lisa turned to Hannah looking so furious.

"You set me up!!"

Lucas's car screeched to a halt in front of the mansion. He had alighted the car and entered the house looking furious and confused.

He climbed upstairs to his room to see if Lisa was there but she wasn't. He wondered where she had gone too.

He walked out of the room and then saw a maid and asked if she had seen Lisa and she said she was in the kitchen. He decided to check the kitchen.

He climbed downstairs and walked towards the kitchen when he heard Hannah and Lisa conversing, much more like they were arguing.

He walked towards the kitchen and stood by the door while he watched them exchange words.

They hadn't seen him yet.

"Lucas is the one who's getting in my way, I just need to get rid of him completely and boom, Brandon and I will be back together again" she said and Hannah stared at her speechlessly. Lucas is easy to manipulate, everything would be under my control soon.

He froze the moment he heard what she had said, Hannah was right, she was using him.

He thought she loved him, she had looked him in the eyes and told him she came back for him. She lies to me.

At that moment he felt the whole world come crashing down on him.

This means Brandon was right all along, this woman is a manipulative liar. He felt pain and anger run through his veins.

Hannah had seen him and Lisa turned and also saw him. He had seen the look on her face when she realized he'd been standing by the door all this while.

She tried moving towards him but he raised his hands telling her not to come close to him and with that, he walked away.

He was going to throw her out of the house. He thought as he went upstairs to his room, took her clothes in her luggage, and brought them out of the room, throwing them downstairs.

Meanwhile, Lisa, who is seen in the kitchen, was looking so fierce. Lucas had heard everything she said and she saw he was hurt. Now her plans have been ruined.

"You set me up!!" She yelled and Hannah laughed.

"set you up? That would be a total waste of time, you set yourself up by going after two brothers.

Lucas loves you and was ready to start all over with you but you were just too selfish" Hannah said and she gritted her teeth.

"I will make you pay for this I promise," she said and they both gasped when they heard a loud banging sound in the sitting room.

They both stared at each other and wondered what the noise was.

They rushed out of the kitchen only to see Lucas throwing Lisa's things out.

"Lucas, what are you doing?" Lisa yelled and Lucas turned to her angrily.

"Kicking you back to the slum you came from. You are nothing but a liar. You lied to me," he said while kicking her things out.

"I never lied to you, Hannah is the one who set me up to say those words," she said and Hannah gritted her teeth.

"You bitch!" Hannah muttered.

Lucas scoffed.

"What about Jules? She would be lying too. And the girl Susan you set me up with too" Lucas said and Lisa opened her eyes wide in shock wondering how Lucas knew about all of this. Oh shit! That betrayer of a friend, I'm going to deal with her, she thought angrily.

"Jules is lying to you, she's lying to you. I love you so much Lucas, please don't throw me out, I have nowhere else to go" she cried but Lucas paid no attention to her as he took his phone and called security to come to throw her and her property out.

"What's going on?" Brandon voiced out as he climbed down the stairs. He had heard noises and decided to come see what was going on.

He raised his eyebrows surprised when he saw Lisa pleading With Lucas while he threw her things out.

"What happened?" He asked as he moved towards Hannah.

"He's found out she's a liar. She came with nothing and she's leaving with these things, damn!!" Hannah muttered as she watched the scene in front of her.

Lisa raised her head and saw Brandon.

She rushed towards him and got on her knees and tried touching him but he pushed her away from her.

"Please don't let him throw me out, I have nowhere else to go," she said and Hannah rolled her eyes.

"Go back to the hole you came from, whore," Jessica, who was climbing down the stairs, said and they all turned to her.

Lisa gritted her teeth angrily.

"I was wondering when my brother was gonna find out you are a selfish bitch who ruins lives and comes between people. I'm so gonna enjoy this" Jessica muttered as she sat on the couch with a broad smile on her face.

Just then two securities came in and started throwing out Lisa's clothes as Lucas had ordered, when they were done packing up the clothes. They carried her from the ground.

"Brandon, please, don't let them throw me out, I need to tell you something" she kept yelling as they carried her out.

"She has nothing to say," Jessica said as she brought out her phone and started taking pictures of Lisa while she was being kicked out.

Brandon chuckled softly and was about to go back to his study room when Lisa spoke, making him pause.

"Melissa, she's Alive" she yelled and Brandon paused and turned to her swiftly.

"What did you say?" He asked to be sure of what he had heard.

"Mellisa is alive, our child is alive," she said and Brandon quickly commanded security to let go of her.

"She's lying again Brandon, don't fall for her lies," Jessica said but Brandon paid no attention to her as he moved towards Lisa.

"Did you say Mellisa is alive?" He asked again to be sure of what he had heard and she nodded.

"Yes, Mellisa is alive-"

Chapter 253

"Did you say Mellisa is alive?" He asked again to be sure and she nodded.

"She's lying to you Brandon, we all know Mellisa is not alive," Jessica said and Lisa shot her a deadly glare and then turned to Brandon.

"I wouldn't lie to you about my daughter Brandon. Our daughter, I can't do that, she's alive Brandon and I'm telling the truth" she said and Lucas scoffed. "Take her out," Lucas says to the security.

"No one would touch her," Brandon said and the security men froze at once and moved back.

Jessica stared at Brandon speechlessly.

Lisa stared at Lucas and then at the security before moving closer to Brandon.

"Ask them to bring my clothes in," she said calmly.

"No, you tell me where Mellisa is or I will be the one to throw you out myself," he said with no emotion in his eyes and she let out a sigh and nodded.

"When Mellisa was kidnapped, I found out who kidnapped her and they demanded a ransom. I paid for the ransom and asked them to tell you she was dead because I found out someone in this house wanted Mellisa dead.

I needed to protect her so I had everyone believe she was dead so I could keep her safe" She paused and Brandon raised his eyebrows looking confused, wondering who wanted Mellisa dead. "And who wanted her dead in this family?" Hannah asked as she stepped forward.

"Elizabeth Colby. She hated me, she never liked me and had tried every possible means to get rid of me. She was the one who orchestrated the plan to kidnap Mellisa and kill her" Lisa said and Hannah let out a sigh. She wasn't surprised. She knew Elizabeth. She was a devil, she tried killing her once but still, she didn't believe Lisa.

"And where is the Mellisa now?" Hannah asked.

"She's in a safe place, I can't bring her out. What if someone tries to kill her again" she said staring at Hannah and Hannah rolled her eyes.

"She's the only reason you would stay in this house, bring her to me, I need to see my daughter," Brandon said Lisa paused for some seconds and then nodded before walking out of the house.

"Are you kidding me? What if she hires someone to act as Mellisa? You don't know what this woman is capable of, she would do anything just to be by your side. She's lying to you" Jessica yelled looking furious. "I would know my daughter when I see her, Jessica" Brandon said and Jessica stared at him angrily before walking away.

Lucas on the other hand stared at Brandon angrily and also walked away.

Hannah on the other hand glared at Brandon before walking upstairs to her room. The moment she got upstairs she met Arianna by the stair rails.

"Mom" she called and Arianna turned to her.

"What are you doing here?" She asked and Arianna sighed.

"I have been watching the whole drama downstairs, " Arianna said and Hannah chuckled.

"Oh, you saw everything " Hannah responded and let out a sigh.

"She's saying the truth," Arianna said and Hannah raised her eyebrows wondering what truth.

"Truth? Does it mean Mellisa is alive?" She asked.

"No, not that. I don't know if she's alive or not but she's telling the truth about Elizabeth. She was the one who's behind the kidnapping of Mellisa" Arianna said.

"I'm not surprised, she tried to kill me once," she said and then sighed while they both watched Brandon who was speaking to the security men downstairs. "Do you think she's alive?" Hannah asked.

"I don't know but the last time I investigated her, she was dead," Arianna said and just then she heard her phone ring.

It was a call from Micheal Adams.

"I would answer this," she said to Hannah before walking away.

Hannah sighed as she watched Brandon from downstairs speaking to the security and then moved away from them, and started climbing the stairs.

She quickly walked away from the stairs rails and walked to her room.

The moment she got to her room, she sat on the bed with lots of thoughts going through her mind. She wondered if Mellisa was still alive or if She was lying.

Just then the door opened revealing Brandon.

"Hey," Brandon muttered as he walked inside the room and closed the door behind him. Hannah stared at him and looked away.

"What was she like? Mellisa?" Hannah asked.

"She was pretty, she was the most adorable baby ever. She had baby blue eyes and blonde hair. She was so adorable. I don't know what she looks like now, it's been twelve years" Brandon said and Hannah smiled. "Sounds like she was the most beautiful baby ever," Hannah said and Brandon smiled and nodded.

"What if she's lying, Brandon?" Hannah asked and he sighed.

"Then I would know once I see her," Brandon said and Hannah stared at him and looked away. Silence followed but then she finally spoke breaking the silence between them.

"Jessica is right, You know she's crazy and she would do anything to be with you. I don't want anyone that would harm my kids" she said as she stood up and walked towards the dressing table.

"Nothing would happen to our kids. Nothing would happen to them or you, I promise I would protect you with everything I have" he said as she stood up and moved towards her then wrapped his hands around her tiny waist.

She swallowed into nothing as their gazes locked together from the reflection of the mirror. She then looked away and moved away from his grip.

"I was trying to prepare dinner before this whole drama, I need to go back to the kitchen-"

"The maid will prepare it, you should rest" Brandon said and Hannah stared at him and looked away.

"I'm fine," she said and made to move towards the door but he was fast enough and stood in front of her blocking her way.

"I'm serious Brandon, I'm okay," she said as she felt her heartbeat increase.

"I know" he whispered as he pulled her closer to himself, with the both of them lost staring into each other's eyes.

They could both hear their heartbeat at that moment in time. The entire room was so calm as the tension between the both of them increased. He tilted his head and suddenly smashed his lips on hers.

He tilted his head and suddenly smashed his lips on hers.

He pulled away from the kiss and then opened the door for her.

"You can go continue your cooking," he said and she stared at him and quickly looked away as she felt her cheeks turn red.

Hannah smiled as she went to the kitchen and prepared dinner. After which the family had dinner together, except Lucas who was at the wine cellar, drinking himself too stupid. Hannah had assisted the maids in clearing the table.

She was about to walk out of the kitchen when Brandon walked towards her.

"You look worried during dinner, what's wrong?" He asked as they both walked out of the kitchen.

"I'm worried about Lucas, he's hurt," Hannah said and Brandon sighed.

"He's going to be alright," he said and Hannah nodded. Just then the front door opened revealing Lisa.

"She's back" Hannah muttered with an eye roll as she and Brandon moved towards her.

"And where is the child?" Brandon asked and Lisa stared at the both of them and then turned towards the door.

"Melissa honey, you can come in," she said as they all stared at the door and a little girl walked in.

Hannah paused the moment she saw the little girl, she was just the way Brandon described her to her. The baby blue eyes, the blonde hair, she was so adorable. She looked like she was twelve.

She turned to Brandon who was staring at the child looking speechless.

"No, this is too good to be true. Mellisa is still alive and she's right here in front of me" Brandon whispered as he felt a wave of happiness run through him.

"Melissa, this is your Daddy, Brandon," Lisa said and Mellisa smiled and then moved towards Brandon and hugged him.

"I have been waiting for a long time to finally see you, I'm so happy right now," she said as she pulled away from the hug.

Brandon was speechless, he tried speaking but words weren't coming out. He couldn't believe her daughter was alive after all these years.

"Is this the daughter? Brandon, she looks so different from Melissa and she could easily pay someone to act as Mellisa" Jessica who is seen climbing down the stairs said but Brandon paid no attention to her as he touched Mellisa's face. He couldn't believe what he was seeing, his daughter was still alive. He felt his heart leap up in joy.

"Brandon don't tell me you believe she's your daughter," Jessica said and the little girl stared at Jessica and noticed the expression on her face. She was looking scary.

"Jessica, could you please stop? This is Brandon's child and I wouldn't lie about it. You think I would just have left all those years without saying goodbye to Brandon, I had to leave to protect her.

And stop acting like a bitch, you are scaring her" Lisa said as he moved towards Mellisa and held her hands.

"You Liar, I don't believe anything that comes out of your mouth, it's all a lie," she said and Brandon turned to her swiftly.

"Could you please shut up Jessica or go back to your room?" Brandon said and Jessica stared at him looking speechless.

"What? Brandon, you are siding with her?" Jessica muttered as she clenched her fist and then went upstairs to her room. "Hello Mellisa, you are so pretty," Hannah said with a smile on her face and Mellisa smiled at her in return. "Of course she's pretty, she's a copy of me and Brandon together," Lisa said and Hannah rolled her eyes. Brandon then asked one of the maids to take Lisa to the guest room.

"What about my clothes?" Lisa asked.

"It's in there already. You can go, I need to spend time with my daughter" Brandon said and Lisa raised her eyebrows. "You are kidding right?" Lisa smiled but then the smile on her face disappeared when she saw Brandon was serious. "No, are you hiding something from me?" Brandon asked.

"No, I'm not. You could spend time with her if you want to" Lisa said as she smiled at Brandon and then climbed upstairs to the guest room.

She needed to check if her clothes and everything were still in place.

Brandon then carried Mellisa and helped her sit on the couch and then sat beside her.

"Where have you been all these years?" Mellisa asked and Brandon paused for a few seconds and then let out a sigh before he finally spoke.

"I'm sorry I wasn't with you all these years. It's a lot more complicated, I'm here now. I promise to take care of you and be a good father" Brandon said and Mellisa nodded and then stared at Hannah who was staring at the both of them. "That's Hannah, your stepmom. You could call her mommy if you want" Brandon said and Mellisa nodded in response with a smile on her face.

"You have siblings too, I would be introducing you to them soon but first....." Brandon paused when he heard his phone ring. It was a call from the company.

"I need to answer this call," he said as he stood up and then walked away leaving Hannah and Mellisa all alone.

"Is it true I have siblings?" the little girl asked Hannah and she nodded and moved towards her.

"Thank Goodness, at least my stay here is not going to be boring. This house is so big, it's my first time being in a mansion like this.

My mom told me I might be staying here longer than I expected and might start a new school here. I'm going to miss all my friends" she said and then sighed softly.

Hannah stared at her and then sat beside her.

"You could still visit your friends from time to time. The chauffeur could take you there every now and then. I could even take you to see your friends if you want," Hannah said with a smile on her face and Mellisa opened her eyes shocked. "Really? Oh my goodness, you are so sweet. I wonder why my mom said I should stay away from you" Mellisa said and let out a sigh.

Hannah furrowed her brows.

"She asked you to stay away from me?"

Chapter 255

"She asked you to stay away from me?" Hannah asked and Mellisa nodded and she hummed. "Where did you and your mommy live, Mellisa?" Hannah asked.

"We stayed at....."

"Melissa, it's time for bed," Lisa, who is seen climbing down the stairs, said, cutting off her speech.

"But I'm hungry, you said once we arrive I would eat nice food here," she said as she touched her stomach.

"There's food in the kitchen Melissa, I could get you some," Hannah said and Lisa rolled her eyes.

"No, I would get her food myself. Stay away from my child, Hannah, and stop interrogating her" Lisa said as she clenched her fist before pulling Mellisa away. She dragged her upstairs to the guest room and closed the door behind her then turned to Mellisa with a furious look on her face.

"What? Don't give me that look. I did exactly as you asked me to, I'm hungry, can you please get me food, now" she said as she sat on the bed and let out a sigh.

"I thought I told you to stay away from Hannah and not answer any question she asked you?" Lisa clenched her fist.

"She sounds nice. Brandon said I could call her mommy. And she didn't ask me any questions, I only told her I would miss my friends" Mellisa said and Lisa rolled her eyes.

"Stay away from her, this is my last warning. I would go get the food" She said and with that, she walked out of the room.

Mellisa on the other hand lay on the bed spreading her legs as she enjoyed the softness of the bed.

She stood up admiring the decorations of the room. The room looks like the ones she watches in movies, she had always dreamed of living in a place like this and her dream had already come to pass.

She smiled to herself and then jumped on the soft bed.

Just then the door opened revealing Lisa, holding a plate of food.

She closed the door behind her and gave the food to Mellisa.

Mellisa sat up properly and started eating the food like an animal like she hadn't eaten in a week.

"Gross! Could you please eat gently?" Lisa said as she stared at her looking at her weirdly.

"I can't, it's so delicious," she said and Lisa rolled her eyes.

"Thank Goodness you are not even my daughter, she wouldn't eat like a dog: you are just my ticket to staying in this house and buying me more time to make Brandon mine," she said to herself as she removed her shoes and went to the bathroom to take her bath.

When she came out of the bathroom, Mellisa was done eating.

"Go in there and take your bath, you look like hell," Lisa said and she nodded and stood up before going to the bathroom.

Lisa sighed. She had hired her to act like Mellisa. The truth is she didn't know if Mellisa was still alive or even dead, but she was glad this girl looked so much like Mellisa. She made everything easier.

Her real name is Adrianna, she lives in a village downtown and her grandmother was sick. Lisa had agreed to pay for her grandmother's hospital bills and make sure she was alright if Adrianna did what she wanted and she had agreed. She was glad she was back in the house, she just hoped the little girl wouldn't ruin her plans.

She sighed softly and lay on the bed. She had almost fallen asleep when she noticed Mellisa was still in the bathroom. It's been one hour and she was still in the bathroom.

"Melissa" she called but no response. She then decided to call her by her real name, Adrianna but still no response.

She decided to go see what she was still doing and to her surprise, she saw her in the bathtub, sleeping peacefully.

"Damn!" Lisa muttered as she stared at her with no expression on her face. She then carried her from the bathtub and took her to the room.

She helped her wipe her body and put on some clothes on her, then helped her lay on the bed gently.

She hates to babysit. I didn't bring you here to babysit you, she said with a clenched fist as she stared at her.

She let out a sigh and then lay beside her on the bed. She stared at Adrianna.

Her color of hair was black but she had bleached it to blonde. She stared at the little girl, she looked like her baby Mellisa. She wished Mellisa was still alive.

She sighed and suddenly closed her eyes and drifted to sleep.

Meanwhile, Jessica is seen sitting in her room looking so furious.

"I know what I'm saying Matthew, that child isn't Brandon's child. She's lying to him and he just cannot see it" Jessica said as she kept pacing to and fro looking furious.

All she wanted to do was to expose Lisa's lie and she needed to find a way to.

Matthew moved towards her and sneaked his hands around her waist.

"Can we stop talking about Lisa, for just this night, you will resume tomorrow" he said and she rolled her eyes and nodded. He turned towards him and then kissed him on his lips.

Meanwhile, Hannah had climbed upstairs and made their way to her room when saw the door that led to the wine cellar slightly open.

She wondered why the door was open.

She pushed the door open, walked in and then saw Lucas sitting on the chair with three empty bottles of alcohol in front of him.

Shit! He's been drinking nonstop, Hannah thought and then sighed.

"Hey, Lucas" she called and he raised his head and stared at her.

Their gazes locked together, and she could see he was deeply hurt. There were tears in his eyes.

"Hey, are you alright?" Hannah asked with pity in her eyes.

"I had plans for us. I bought a house in Dubai and here in Atlanta. I bought a land to start up our company.

She was obsessed with you being The COO, I wanted to make her my COO. She lied to me" he said as he managed to stand up and was about to fall on the ground when Hannah held him, preventing him from falling. "I'm so sorry Lucas. I'm so sorry for what happened" she said and just then she pulled him into a warm hug.

"I'm so sorry Lucas. I'm so sorry for what happened" she said and just then she pulled him into a warm hug. Just then she pulled away from the hug.

"Come, I will take you to your room," she said as she helped him out of the wine cellar and took him to his room.

She helped him lie on the bed and covered him properly with the duvet. She glared at him for some seconds and was about to walk away when he held her hands. "Hey," she muttered as she turned to him.

"Could you please spend the night with me?" He said and Hannah furrowed her brows as she sat beside him.

"I can't Lucas, you have to rest," she said and he opened his eyes and tried sitting up but Hannah held him.

"You should be resting, Lucas, don't move," she said but he refused to lay down, he then sat on the bed.

"Why didn't you tell me in time that Lisa was lying to me?" Lucas asked.

"I don't know, maybe because you love her too much and you wouldn't believe me," she said as she paused while staring deep into her oceanic eyes.

"I would have believed you. I know you would never lie to me, Hannah" he said as he inched his face closer to hers.

"I love you, Hannah," he said and had wanted to kissed her but then she moved her face away and stood up.

"You should rest Lucas, Good night," she said as she glared at him for a few seconds and then walked out of the room.

She heaved a sigh of relief the moment she walked out. She wondered why Lucas would tell her he loves her when he knows she's married to Brandon.

He's probably drunk and doesn't know what he's saying, she thought and then went to her room.

The moment she opened the door to her room she met Brandon lying on the bed. He had this bright look on his face.

"What are you doing here Brandon? You should be asleep" she said as she laid beside him on the bed with a tired look on her face.

"I tried looking for you, where have you been?" He asked and she stared at him. She didn't know if she should tell him she was with Lucas and he tried to kiss her.

No, she shouldn't. He would get angry and it might lead to an unending fight, she thought.

"I need to sleep Brandon," she said as she closed her eyes.

"Hannah, I'm happy Mellisa isn't dead," he said and Hannah opened her eyes and then turned to him.

"Do you think she's Mellisa?" Hannah asked.

"Yeah, she's Mellisa. although she looks a little bit different, maybe because the last time I saw her she was still a baby," he said and she nodded in response and closed her eyes then drifted to sleep. Brandon stared at her pretty face as she slept with a lot of thoughts going through his mind.

The fact that he's found his daughter doesn't mean he would stop investigating about Lisa. He still needed to know how she was able to make the payment and take the child without him knowing. It was morning and Hannah had woken up so early to prepare breakfast for the kids. When she woke up, Brandon was no longer in her room.

She wondered when he left last night. She stood up, did her normal morning routine, and went to the kitchen to prepare breakfast.

When she was done, she called the kids downstairs to come eat.

The kids could be seen munching on their food when Lisa and Mellisa were seen climbing down the stairs.

"You didn't call Melissa down for breakfast," Lisa said as she pulled the chair backward and helped Mellida sit on the chair.

"Melissa honey, how was your night?" Hannah asked, ignoring Lisa.

"It was fine Mommy," she said and Lisa and the octuplets raised their eyebrows.

"Mommy?" they muttered at once to be sure of what they'd heard.

"I thought I told you not to call her mommy, I'm your mommy" Lisa whispered and she rolled her eyes.

"But Daddy asked me to call her mommy," Mellisa said with an innocent look on her face.

"He's not your daddy. I mean he's your daddy, you came here with me and you would listen to me alone" she whispered and then raised her head and saw Hannab and the octuplets staring at her. She smiled at the octuplets.

"Mommy, who is she and why the hell is she calling you mommy?" Jayden asked.

"And when did we have another sibling that we do not know about" Allison asked as they stared at Melissa who was staring at them.

Hey there! Just a friendly reminder that if you're not reading this book on nel5s.org, you might be missing out on the complete story. Head over there to dive into the next chapter-it's all free! "Sweethearts, this is your step-sister, Mellisa, and Mellisa, these are your siblings," Hannah said and the octuplets raised their eyebrows as they stared at each other.

"Step sister? Okay, what the hell is going on?" Aubrey whispered.

"Hi, I'm Mellisa," Mellisa muttered with a smile on her face. She had finally met the octuplets and she wouldn't lie, they were so pretty and handsome.

"I'm Jayden, these are my siblings, Allison, Addison, Aubrey, Audrey, Japer, Jaxon, Jamie," Jayden said and they waved at her.

"That's a lot of names to process, I believe with time I will master you all names and faces because you guys look a lot alike," Mellisa said and Jayden smiled. "Anyways, it's nice meeting you sister," Jasper said and they smiled.

"We could hang out later and get to know each other more" Jaxon said and Mellisa nodded.

Lisa felt her heart melt as she watched the kids converse smoothly and properly. They looked so cute.

Hannah smiled as she watched the kids, they were flowing so well. She let out a sigh.

"Okay now, kids let's eat before the food gets cold," Hannah said and the kids nodded in response and started eating.

"Everyone is having breakfast without me," Jessica, who is seen climbing down the stairs said as she stared at Lisa with a disgusted look on her face. This isn't going to end well, Hannah thought.

Chapter 257

This isn't going to end well, Hannah thought.

"Hello Jessica, what's wrong? You look mad, even your hair looks mad, I hope you slept well" Lisa said and Jessica frowned.

"No, I didn't because there's been the smell of rats since you arrived at this house and it's making me nauseous, you dirty chihuahua," Jessica said and Hannah sighed. "And where is your gigolo, he's not with you this morning. Oh I'm shocked or is he tired of following you around like a pet" Lisa said and Jessica clenched her fist.

"He's not a gigolo and I would remind you again, I'm married. Not everyone is a whore like you who sleeps around with men they make eye contact with" Jessica said and Lisa gritted her teeth. "There are kids here" Hannah muttered and they both composed themselves immediately.

Mellisa stared at Jessica and then looked away with a look of fear on her face. Jessica was looking so scary at that moment and she could chop off Lisa's head at that moment if she could.

The octuplets stared at Melissa and noticed the look on her face, she was scared. She was scared of Jessica.

"Don't worry she's not that scary, she's just pretending to be scary" Jayden said to Mellisa and she nodded.

"I heard that Jayden" Jessica said as she sat on the chair. Jayden turned to Jessica and then smiled at her. Hannah chuckled softly.

A few minutes later, the kids were done eating and wanted to go to their room to play when Mellisa decided to stand up and decided to join them.

"Where are you going to Melissa, you should sit here with me," Lisa said as she shot her a deadly glare.

"But I want to play with them," Mellisa pouted.

"You can go play with them,," Hannah said and Mellisa nodded and smiled before going upstairs with the kids to their room.

"Could you please stop interrupting me whenever I'm talking to my kid?" Lisa said and Hannah raised her eyebrows.

"She wants to play, which you wouldn't let her do because you are hiding something," Hannah said and the look on Lisa's face changed into a weird one.

"I'm not hiding anything," she said and Jessica scoffed.

"Even a blind man could tell you are hiding something, Lisa and I promise you I would find out and be the one to kick you out myself," Jessica said as she stood up to leave but then Lisa spoke making her stop right on her track. "Do your worst, bitch" she said and Jessica felt a surge of anger rushed through her veins. She felt like she was about to explode in anger at that moment in time.

"Did you just call me bitch?" She muttered angrily and then moved over to the table, took the cup of coffee, and poured it on her.

"What?! How dare you?!" Lisa yelled and took the butter and threw it on Jessica but then she dodged it and it met Hannah on her face.

"What the hell?!" Hannah muttered as she closed her eyes.

Jessica then jumped on Lisa and they both fell on the ground punching each other.

Lucas who was on his way out of the house when he saw Lisa and Jessica fighting and Hannah sitting on the chair with butter plastered on her face.

She was trying to locate the serviette on the table so she could wipe it off her face.

He moved towards her, took the serviette and helped her wipe off the butter.

"Thank you" Hannah muttered as she opened her eyes and sighed.

Brandon, who had heard noises, rushed downstairs and saw Jessica and Lisa fighting, while Hannah and Lucas stood talking to each other.

He quickly pulled Jessica away from Lisa.

"What the hell is wrong with you both, don't you know there are kids in this house?" He yelled angrily.

"You should ask this liar, she called me a bitch" Jessica yelled struggling to free herself from Brandon's grip.

"And you both stood there watching them fighting" Brandon turned to Hannah and Lucas.

Hannah rolled her eyes.

"Lisa deserves The beating," Lucas said with no expression on his face.

Brandon stared at all of them speechlessly not knowing what to say.

"I'll make you pay for this, I promise," she said and Jessica laughed.

"That would be if you would live to see another day because I'm going to kill you and the child you brought in" Jessica yelled and Lisa moved back a bit. "You need help, you are crazy" Lisa yelled and just then the front door opened revealing Arianna.

They all went silent the moment Arianna walked in. Everywhere was so silent that even if a piece of needle fell on the ground, it would be heard. Arianna stared at all of them one after the other. Hannah had butter on her face and dress and Lucas was standing beside her.

Brandon held Jessica who was breathing heavily, and Lisa also breathing heavily.

"What the hell is going on here?" Arianna asked, breaking the silence.

"You should ask this bitch," Jessica muttered as Brandon let go of her. She shook her head and then turned to Hannah.

"We need to talk," she said and walked upstairs.

Hannah had noticed the urgency in her voice. She wondered what was wrong. She followed her immediately and went to her room.

She opened the door behind her and closed it.

"What happened downstairs and why do you have butter all over you?" She asked.

"Lisa and Jessica happened. They are at each other's throats" she said and Arianna sighed.

"What's wrong Mom?" Hannah asked and Arianna stared at her for some seconds before she finally spoke.

"I found out something about Lisa," she said and Hannah raised her eyebrows confused wondering what she found and if she had been monitoring Lisa.

"Have you been spying on her?" Hannah asked.

"What? No, I mean yes. But no. I had asked Micheal to find out where she's been all this time and he found something" she said and Hannah stared at her waiting for her to continue. "What did he find-"

"What did he find-"

"He found out Lisa had been living on the outskirts of Atlanta and she had stayed alone all these years without a child.

She didn't have any child with her," she said and Hannah raised her eyebrows confused.

"She lied that she had left because of the kids and had been taking care of her. She was never with any child nor Mellisa. She stayed alone.

Now, the question is, Does the child belong to Brandon? I don't think the child is Brandon's. This is one of her schemes again" Arianna said and Hannah sighed. "What are we going to do?" Hannah asked.

"I need to tell Brandon," Arianna said.

"No, we can't. He already believes the child is his and we do not have any concrete proof yet, we need more evidence" Hannah said and Arianna sighed. "Micheal is still doing more findings,-"

"Till then we would tell no one about what you found," Hannah said and Arianna nodded in response.

Meanwhile, the octuplets and Mellisa could be seen in the room. Mellisa had joined them in playing video games.

She didn't know how to play it but Jayden had taught her.

"So, what school did you attend Mellisa?" Allison asked.

"Uhm, sorry I can't say," she said as she continued playing her game. The kids stared at each other.

"You could tell us more about yourself, we want to know you better," Jayden said and Mellisa sighed.

"I'm sorry, I can't say anything to you guys," she said again and Aubrey rolled her eyes.

"But why? We wanna be your friend," Addison said.

"I'm sorry I can't be your friend. Aunt Lisa, I mean my mommy asked me to not be friends with you guys and not to answer any damn question you guys ask me.

She said you guys are smart although the eight of you look dumb to me, no offense" She turned to the kids and then smiled before she continued playing her game. "What? Did you just call us dumb?" Jasper asked with a surprised look on their face.

"Don't tell your mommy please, I heard she's crazy pants, although she was nice to me just now, I wonder why my mommy said she's crazy. Well, it doesn't matter" she said and then smiled when she won the game.

"But..." Jayden, who was about speaking, paused when the door opened revealing Lisa.

"Okay now honey, we need to go get you some new clothes" Lisa who had just entered the room spoke and the kids stared at her weirdly, wondering what happened to her hair. If she had gotten into a fight because the hair was scattered. "Can I spend the night with them in this room? I like this room, it's so cool and there are lots of toys, unlike my house"

"Mellisa, stand up let's go," she said with gritted teeth as she kept blinking her eyes for her not to say any more word and suddenly pulled her up and dragged her out of the room.

"What do you think you are doing? You are going to expose me" Lisa whispered and she rolled her eyes.

"I haven't told you this, I do not like the name, Mellisa. It cringes and makes me wanna puke. Ugh, my school bully has that name too. Can you just call me my real name, Adrianna" she said and Lisa clenched her fist.

"Don't test me Adrianna else I'm going to kill you. You better do the job I paid your grandmother for, otherwise your grandma would go back to that hospital bed and I wouldn't sponsor her treatment anymore " she said and Adrianna stared at her with a sad look on her face and then nodded.

"What's wrong, is everything alright?" They heard Brandon's voice from behind.

"Oh Brandon you are here, Mellisa and I were about to go get dressed. We would be going to the boutique to get her some clothes, Isn't it honey?" Lisa asked as she stared at the little child.

"Yeah," she said sadly as she walked away and went to Lisa's room.

"What's wrong with her?" Brandon asked

"She's just sad I called her from the kid's room. She said she wanted a room like theirs with lots of toys-"

"She could share with the octuplets"

"I don't want Hannah getting mad. My kids are spending more time with her kids" she said calmly.

"She wouldn't. She should bond with the kids besides they are siblings " he said and she stared at him without saying a word.

"Okay, I would ask Alex to set up a room for her with any kind of toy she wants. If she needs anything, do not hesitate to tell me," Brabdon said and Lisa nodded.

"Brandon" she called and he raised his eyebrows while staring at her waiting for her to speak.

"Now that Mellisa is back and our family is complete again, maybe we could go back to the way we were before and start all over again," she said as she put her hands on his chest. He pulled her hands away from his chest.

"I have a wife, Lisa and I love her, nothing can come between us, not even you," he said as he pushed her away.

She scoffed.

"Oh, ignorant Brandon, you do not know your precious wife is having an affair with Lucas," she said and Brandon stared at her perplexed wondering what she was talking about. "What are you talking about?" Brandon asked and Lisa smiled.

"Your precious wife is having an affair with your brother right under your nose and you do not even know?" She paused and sighed.

"Well, I saw your wife coming out of Lucas's room last night. Maybe you should ask her what she was doing there" she said and when she saw the look on his face she smiled and walked away.

She had asked a maid to keep an eye on Hannah, and the maid had told her she saw Lucas and Hannah at the wine cellar last night and they both went to Lucas's room.

The look on Brandon's face changed. Was Hannah really with Lucas last night? Was that the reason she had come into the room so late and tired?

The look on Brandon's face changed. Was Hannah really with Lucas last night? Was that the reason she had come into the room so late and tired?

She knew Lisa was lying to him and nothing else. She's trying to get to his head again. He wasn't gonna let it work, he thought.

Hannah who had just walked out of Arianna's room went to her room and took her bath while she changed into her office wear and went to the company. Brandon on the other hand had gotten dressed too and went to the company.

Meanwhile, Jessica who was still looking furious had wanted to go upstairs to her room.

She was about walking past the octuplets room when the door opened revealing the octuplets.

She gave them a weird look wondering why they were staring at her like that.

"Why ain't you guys in school?" Jessica asked.

"Public holiday, school resumes tomorrow," Allison said to Jessica and she hummed.

"Okay then," she said and was about to walk away when they spoke, making her stop.

"We need your help, Aunt Jessica," Jayden said and she turned to them with a tired look on.

"What is it again?" She asked as she stared at them. They had this serious look on their faces, which meant whatever it was was serious.

"Come in," they said as they opened the door fully and asked her to come in before closing the door.

"What's wrong? Did you guys get into trouble, I cannot help you if you've done anything wrong" she said as she sat on the couch.

"We didn't do anything," Jaxon said and Jessica heaved a sigh of relief.

"We need your help on something," Jasper said and Jessica stood up at once:

"I'm not cooking for you guys again, the last time I tried cooking because you guys asked me to, this house almost caught fire-"

"We know, that's why we aren't asking you to cook again this time. Who knows it might be your hair which would catch fire again "Audrey said with an eye roll and Jessica shrugged. "Whatever! What do you need my help with?" She asked.

"It's Mellisa. Could you please tell us how she's my step-sister? I thought Aunt Lisa was with Uncle Lucas" Allison asked with a confused look on her face.

"Okay, I can't talk about this to you. It's complicated. Mellisa is your step-sister or maybe she's not, that's all you should know.

You guys are kids, stop prying your nose into things that concern adults" Jessica said and the kids hummed and stared at each other.

"Anyways that's not the reason we called you here. There's something off about Melissa. She called Aunt Lisa by her name but quickly corrected herself.

She said a lot of things, I don't know but I feel there's something Mellisa and her mom is hiding-" Jaxon said and Jessica raised her eyebrows waiting for them to continue.

"We want you to perform a secret DNA test and see if she's truly my father's child," Jayden said and Jessica stood up.

"I'm not doing that, I can't go through that stress, what if it comes out positive?-"

"And what if it comes out negative?" Allison asked.

"I don't know Allison," she said and then sighed.

"Please, we would help you keep an eye on Melissa and her mom. We know you don't like Aunt Lisa, we could help you," Aubrey said.

"Brandon Would kill me if he found out I asked you guys to spy on Lisa," she said.

"Who tells you my dad needs to know? He doesn't need to know about all of this, not even my mom. It's between us" Jayden said and Jessica sighed as she stared at them with their cute little eyes. She just couldn't say no. "Fine, fine. I would do it. Can you guys just stop that thing you all do with your eyes? Your dad does it too" Jessica said and the kids stared at her confused. "What thing?" They asked at once.

"Never mind, I need something for the DNA test, a few strands of hair or anything," she said and the kids stared at each other.

"We will take care of that and get back to you before the end of tomorrow," Jayden said and she stared at them and nodded before walking out of the room.

The moment she walked out of the room, she saw Mellisa and Lisa both dressed like they were going out.

"Going to find another man you would seduce," Jessica said and Lisa sighed. She didn't say a word, instead, she walked past her.

"A whore with decent cheekbones" she muttered as she walked to her room.

Lisa and Mellisa could be seen climbing down the stairs when they saw Lucas in the sitting room sitting on the couch.

"Mellisa, go wait for me outside," she said and the little girl nodded before walking out of the house.

"Hey, Lucas," Lisa called and Lucas turned to her and looked away.

"I know you probably hate me already but I'm sorry for what I did. I love you and also love Brandon" she said and Lucas rolled his eyes and still didn't say a word. She gritted her teeth.

"Hey I'm talking to you," she said and then Lucas turned to her.

"Oh, I know and I'm ignoring you," he said in response and he stood up.

"I know you are mad at me, but that isn't enough reason to be sleeping with Hannah," she said and he gaped at her.

"What are you talking about?" He asked, looking confused.

"I saw her coming out of your room last night, Lucas. Stop playing dumb" Lisa said and he shook his head and sighed.

He knew Hannah had helped her out of the wine cellar last night and took her to his room. He had almost kissed her but she had moved away from him. He sighed.

"Not everyone is a whore like you, Lisa. Hannah is nothing like you and that's more reason I love her" he said and with that, he walked away.

Lisa stared at him angrily as jealousy rushed through her veins.

Hannah all the time, I wonder what's so special about her.

"Not everyone is a whore like you, Lisa. Go get something doing" he said and with that, he walked away.

Lisa stared at him angrily as jealousy rushed through her veins.

Hannah all the time, I wonder what's so special about her.

Lisa rolled her eyes and then walked out of the house, there she met Mellisa talking to the chauffeur.

"I told you not to talk to strangers in this house" she muttered with an angry look on her face.

"And you, why are you here? Ain't you supposed to be driving Brandon to work" Lisa said to the chauffeur who was staring at her.

"Brandon doesn't like me driving him all the time, he loves driving by himself," he said and she rolled her eyes.

"Whatever. I need the key to the black Bentley, I need to get some clothes for Brandon's child" Lisa said as she stretched her hands forward:

"Brandon would kill me if I gave you the key to the car," he said and she scoffed.

"And you would be fired in a split second when I tell him you refused to let me take the car to take his child out for shopping," she said and he sighed and gave her the key. "Good boy," she said as she took the key and walked towards the car. She opened the car door and they both hopped in.

She ignited the engine and zoomed off at once.

Before she goes shopping, she needs to pay Jules a surprise visit and teach her a lesson for telling Lucas everything, she thought.

Her car came to a stop In front of Jules's house and she alighted the car, while she asked Mellisa to wait in the car.

She walked towards the front door and it was open as usual. She walked inside the house and saw Jules eating popcorn while watching TV.

"Hello Jules" she muttered and Jules turned to her with a surprised look on her face. She was looking nervous.

"What are you doing here? I mean I wasn't expecting you" she said as she turned to her.

"And why would you expect me when you spilled out all my secrets to Lucas? You fucking told him about everything and almost ruined my plans.

I knew you liked Lucas from the start but I didn't know you would stab me in the back. I thought we were friends" she said as she clenched her fist angrily.

"I'm sorry Lisa. I was drunk and he kept asking me questions. I didn't know what I was doing, I was drunk" she said as she went on her knees immediately. "What's gonna stop me from killing you now," she said as she moved closer to her and then kicked him to the ground.

She took the popcorn and poured it on her and then kicked her again.

"Watch your back because I'm going to be coming for you" She glared at her angrily before walking out of the house.

Jules on the other hand felt so scared. She knew Lisa, he was gonna send thugs after her to beat her up. She needed to do something about it.

She brought out her phone and called Lucas and just then he answered the phone call.

"Lucas" Jules called looking so scared.

"What do you want, Jules?" Lucas's voice sounded from the other side of the phone.

"It's Lisa. She's threatened to kill me and she would do it, all because I told you the truth, she's going to kill me" Jules yelled and Lucas sighed from the other end of the phone. "She wouldn't, don't be scared-"

"You don't know her and what she's capable of. she's evil" she said and Lucas sighed..

"There's a lot you don't know about Lisa, She's going to kill me.

I'm willing to tell you everything I know about Lisa, where she's been and who she's been with, I just need you to protect me" Jules said and there was a silence and then he finally spoke breaking the silence.. "I'm on my way to your house, send me the address and I promise you will be safe," he said and ended the call.

Jules quickly sent him the address and rushed to lock her door while she waited for Lucas to arrive.

Meanwhile, Jessica who is seen In her room laid on the bed looking tired. She was surely going to teach Lisa a lesson, she thought to herself.

Just then she heard Mathew's phone ring.

"Someone is calling you, Matthew," she said but Matthew, who was in the bathroom, didn't respond.

She sighed and took the phone to see the person who wouldn't stop calling. She saw the caller's ID, Clara.

She wondered who Clara was and why he was calling Matthew. Matthew never told her about anyone named Clara.

Maybe she's the nurse, she thought, and was about to drop the phone when a text message popped in from same Clara saying Alexander, answer the fucking phone call.

She paused the moment she saw the name Alexander. She then recalled a woman at the bar that called him Alexander Robert.

He had said he didn't know that woman that day, does it mean he lied? He knew who she was and lied.

Does that mean his name isn't Matthew but Alexander? She decided to see who this Clara was and opened his phone and then checked his text message.

"What do you mean you are married to a Colby, Alexander? Is that the reason you went back to Atlanta? Better get your ass down to Houston, I miss you" she read and she felt her heart stop beating at once. Does he have someone else's? Has he been lying to me all this while when there was someone else he loves?

And he lied about his identity, his real name isn't Matthew. Instead, his name is Alexander Robert. She felt her whole world came crashing down on her at that moment,

She thought he was different from all the other men she had met in the past but she was wrong because he was just the same as they are. Liars, she thought as tears gathered in her eyes.

Just then the bathroom door opened revealing Matthew. She quickly dropped his phone and lay on the bed.
