

Cinderella And Her Beautiful Octuplets

David is missing.

Chapter 81

"Mom, are you alright?" Jeff asked

"No, Jeff I'm not alright. David is missing" Rosa said and Jeff stood up at once from where he was sitting.

"What do you mean he's missing?" Jeff asked, obviously worried about his son.

"I... I came to his sc.... school to get...." Rosa kept stuttering, as tears filled her eyes. She felt so scared. She loves David so much and couldn't afford anything bad to happen to him.

"Mom calm down alright, I do not understand what you are saying, calm down," Jeff said trying to console his mom so she could speak properly.

Rosa sniffed and then spoke, this time a little bit calm.

"I came to the school to pick him up and then I found out he wasn't in school. I was told he left school but David would never leave school without me or you coming to pick him" Rosa said, tears streaming down her cheeks.

"Is there any friend of David you know about? Maybe he must have told you about any of his friends. Maybe we will be able to find him with the help of his friends" Jeff said and Rosa went dead silent. She was trying to remember the time David told her of his friends.

She couldn't remember their names but she remembered he said something like the octuplets.

"Mom, are you there?" Jeff asked when he noticed his mom went silent.

"Yes, I think he's got friends," Rosa said

"Do you know their names?" Jeff asked

"I can't remember exactly but I think he mentioned the octuplets," Rosa said Jeff became silent but then he finally spoke.

"T.. the octuplets?" He asked again to be sure of what he had just heard.

"Yes, the octuplets," Rosa said

"Are you sure of that?" Jeff asked and Rosa muttered a yes.

"Okay, go back home alright. I'm going to go find him and bring him home" Jeff said.

"I can't go home till I find him, I'm going to call the police," Rosa said and Jeff frowned.

"I said go home, Mom. And do not dare call the police if you do not want to see the other side of me. Now go home," Jeff yelled and Rosa flinched at once.

She wondered what was wrong with Jeff, his son had gone missing and he was acting weird.

She decided to go home and give him a few hours, if he was unable to find David and bring him home, she was going to involve the police. She quickly ended the call and then turned to talk to the principal who had told her David was not in school.

She was talking to a man who Rosa guessed was also looking for his kids too.

She then hopped inside her car, ignited the engine, and zoomed off.

Jeff is seen pacing to and fro in his office.

How come David is missing, David would never leave school just like that.

His son was a friend of the octuplets and he didn't know about it, shit!! He muttered and dialed Dave's number. And immediately he answered.

"Are you on your way already?" Dave, who is seen smoking, said over the phone.

"Dave, are you sure it's the octuplets you took back there in the school?" Jeff asked

"Of course, why do you ask?" Dave asked

"My son David is missing and I just found out he was a close friend of the octuplets, I don't know maybe you mistook him for one of them," Jeff said and Dave paused before he finally spoke.

"There were only eight kids we took and it was the ones you showed me. I do not know what your son looks like, maybe you should send a picture of him so I could confirm if he's part of them " Dave said and Jeff nodded in response. He quickly sent a picture of David to Dave. Dave's phone vibrated as a message entered. It was a picture of Jeff's son.

"I'll confirm and get back to you," Dave said and ended the call.

Meanwhile, David and his friends are seen looking so tense and scared.

They could remember vividly, how some hefty men came out of a big vehicle in a rush and pulled them into their vehicle in force.

They could remember them yelling and struggling, telling them to let them go when suddenly their noses were covered with a handkerchief and they had lost consciousness.

They had regained consciousness and found themselves in a strange room, with a bed and wardrobe in it. Wherever they were, they were sure it was a quiet area. "Somebody help us!!" Addison yelled

"Anyone there? Please get us out of here" Aubrey yelled as tears gathered in her eyes.

"Mommy is going to be worried about us, and Jayden, I hope he's safe," Jaxon said as he sat on the bed.

Jasper stared at Aubrey who was now wailing, she looked so scared. He moved towards her and hugged her.

"Shhhh, we gonna be fine. We gonna get out of here. Daddy is gonna come to get us" Jasper said

"We need to find a way to contact Daddy but there's no phone or anything," Jamie said while staring around the entire room, thinking maybe he would find a phone or something.

But then he suddenly remembered David usually brings his phone to school and when the principal had seized it before they helped him get it.

He turned to David who was looking so scared, nervous, and tense.

"David," Jamie called and he turned to him.

"How about your phone, did you bring it with you?" Jamie asked

David then remembered the day they had taken it from the principal's office, he had hidden it in his school bag and didn't bring it out ever since. He was scared the phone would be seized again.

"I don't know, maybe it's still in my bag," David said, shivering in fear.

Jamie stared around the room and luckily, he found their school bags in the corner of the room.

He walked towards the school bag and took David's bag.

He tried searching for the phone but couldn't find it, he poured out everything from the bag and suddenly the phone fell from it.

"Shit!! Why didn't I think of this while we were in school" Jamie thought as he picked up his phone and gave it to David to unlock?

David unlocked the phone and gave it back to him. Jamie went to the call log and dialed Hannah's number, immediately it started the ring.

Hannah answered the phone call and said hello, just as Jamie was about to speak, the door opened revealing Dave.

He quickly ended the phone call and hid the phone behind his back.

He gave the phone to David and he quickly kept it in his trouser pocket.

Dave walked in and stared at the kids in the room while he stared at the picture Jeff had sent.

His eyes suddenly came in contact with David and he stared at the picture to be sure it was him.

It was him, David.

"You are David right?" Dave asked, staring at David who nodded in response.

Dave stared at the rest of the octuplets, if he took just seven out of the octuplets, he wondered where the other one was. He sighed softly and turned to David.

"Come with me," he said and David stared at the octuplets and then stood up obediently and walked out with Dave.

Where are they taking him to, what if they are about to hurt him? Jamie and his siblings thought worriedly.

The octuplets is gone

Chapter 82

Where are they taking him to, what if they are about to hurt him? Jamie and his siblings thought worriedly. David who was scared stood behind Dave who was trying to call Jeff, just then Jeff answered the phone call.

"We found him, he was among the octuplets, we mistook him for one of the octuplets, I'm so sorry," Dave said and Jeff gave out a breath of relief. "Can you give him the phone?" Jeff said and Dave passed the phone to David. He took the phone and put it in his ear.

"Your Daddy wants to talk to you" he said and David stared at him in fear before he finally spoke.

"Daddy is that you? Daddy, please come save me and my friends, I think we were kidnapped I'm so scared" David said sobering

"Don't be scared sweetheart, I'm coming to pick you" Jeff said and with that, he ended the call.

He rushed out of his office and then to his car, he ignited the engine and zoomed off at once.

A few minutes later, his car came to a halt in front of his other mansion in town where he had asked Dave to keep the octuplets.

He hopped out of the car and walked inside the mansion, where he met David sitting down on a couch while staring at Dave with fear in his eyes. "David!" Jeff called at once and David stood up and rushed towards him at once. Jeff carried him from the ground and hugged him so tight. "Daddy, thank God you are here, I was so scared. My friends are in there, please help them, I think this man over here kidnapped them. Please, Daddy, help them, their parents are worried about them already " David said and both Dave and Jeff stared at each other. "Honey, your friends are okay, they are in safe hands," Jeff said as he dropped David on the ground.

"Now, go to my car and wait for me while I sort out things here," Jeff said and David nodded in response. He walked outside the mansion and hopped inside his Daddy's car.

Suddenly, he heard his phone vibrating in his pocket. He brought it out and saw a strange number. It wasn't a strange number, it was a number Jamie was trying to call earlier on.

I should answer the call and tell his mom where they are.

Just as he was about to answer the call, the phone battery went off at once.

"Shit" he muttered at once. He then put his phone in his pocket, he was going to charge it when he got home.

Meanwhile, Jeff is seen standing with Davis inside the mansion.

"How come you didn't know David was different from the octuplets?" Jeff asked

"He was outside the school compound with them and we were in a rush so we would not get caught, we had to take them and they were eight, so I thought it was the octuplets," Dave said and Jeff sighed softly. "If you didn't get one of the octuplets, where is he now? Was he inside the school when you guys arrived" Jeff asked, wondering where the remaining octuplet had gone.

"Do you want us to find him?" Dave asked

"No, that won't be necessary. Maybe Hannah found him and they must be searching for the others, you have to stay low.

"I'm glad you did a great job, I'll take over from here" Jeff said and Dave nodded in response.

Jeff walked out of the mansion and walked towards his car. He hopped in his car and put on his seat belt.

"Daddy, where are my friends?" David asked with a worried look on his face.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"Your friends are safe, you do not have to worry," Jeff said as he ignited the engine.

"Daddy please can we take them home with us and then take them to their parents? They are so scared, please let's take them home" David said and Jeff turned to him angrily. "David I said they are safe, can you please keep them shut!" Jeff yelled and tears gathered in David's eyes.

"If they are safe, why didn't you leave me in there with them? Those men are so scary.

They are my friends and they've helped me so many times and now I can't help them. You are such a bad daddy and I hate you so much" David said and Jeff frowned at him.

"If I were a bad daddy, you think I would come get you, You know nothing, you little boy, so, now shut up" Jeff yelled and David went silent with tears streaming down his cheeks. Jeff looked away from him, ignited the engine and zoomed off.

Hannah is seen in her room trying to call back the strange number that had called him but it was saying switched off.

"What if it's the kids trying to reach me?" Hannah said to Brandon who had just walked into the room.

"Do they take their phones to school?" Brandon asked

"No, they don't," Hannah said and sighed softly.

"If they've been kidnapped, the kidnapper would have been trying to reach out to negotiate the ransom except whoever took them wanted something else and not money " Alexander the butler who had walked inside the room with Brandon spoke.

"Whoever is trying to reach you isn't the kidnapper, must be someone else," Brandon said wondering who took the children and what they wanted.

"Is there someone on your mind, someone you suspect?" Alexander asked Hannah and she went silent trying to think.

"If there were people I knew would be capable of such as Rhoda and Jeff," Hannah said and looked up at Brandon who stared at her without saying a word.

Brandon believed Rhoda wasn't capable of such. To be honest, he didn't see Rhoda as the bad person Hannah painted her to be, and from what he sees Rhoda wasn't that bad.

The only person he suspected was Jeff Mickelson. He knows how obsessed he is with Hannah and how he wants to get her back by all means, he would do anything to get Hannah back.

"We should tell the police about it," Hannah said with a worried look on her face.

"No, we're gonna do things my way," Brandon said, and Hannah frowned.

"We will do things my way instead. These are my children we are talking about, not yours" Hannah said and Brandon's eyes became red immediately.

"They are my children too, the moment you agreed to be my wife, the octuplets became my children too and I would handle things my way so no harm would come to them,"

Brandon said angrily and with that, he walked away leaving just Hannah and the Butler alone.

"I think Mr Brandon is right. For the safety of the kids, you should not involve the police" Alexander said.

"I will make some calls and see how we can find them quickly," the Butler said and with that, he walked out of the room.

Just then Hannah brought out her phone and called Micheal Addams.

Chapter 83

Brandon is seen in his study room pacing to and fro and just then the door burst open revealing Liam. "Any news yet?" Brandon asked

"Not yet, the team is still searching," Liam said and Brandon sighed softly.

"What do we do now? What if they are hurt?" Liam said and Brandon stared at him with a worried look on his face.

"I'm sure whoever took them won't hurt them, they want something, and sooner or later whoever took them is going to reach out to us. For now, we keep searching" Brandon said and Liam sighed softly.

The look on Brandon's face showed he was so worried about the octuplets. Even though the kids weren't his biological kids, he saw them as one and took them as one. He just prayed they are alright.

"The chief of police staff is a close friend of yours, why don't we call him and ask him for help" Liam suggested and Brandon sat on his chair.

"We can't involve the police, Liam. The last time I was in a situation like this, you knew what happened in the end. I do not want to lose another child" Brandon said and Liam sighed softly, remembering what had happened in the past. He just didn't want to reminisce about it, so he quickly shook off the thoughts.

"Any news on my grandmother yet?" Brandon asked

"She was spotted at a restaurant down with a guy who was confirmed to be a reporter and also an investigator. She's still there at the moment.

"I hired someone to keep an eye on her already" Liam said and Brandon nodded in response.

Just then, they heard voices from downstairs. They walked out of the study room and climbed down the stairs and there they met Rhoda speaking with Alexander downstairs.

"Oh Brandon, here you are. I heard about what happened and I came immediately" Rhoda said immediately he saw Brandon.

"Did you tell her anything?" Brandon asked Liam.

"What? No, I didn't. I haven't even spoken to her or called her since" Liam said and Brandon stared at her wondering how she had found out about what happened.

"It's fine Alexander, I will take over from here," Brandon said and then Alexander nodded in response before walking away.

"What are you doing here Rhoda?" Brandon asked

"I heard about what happened. I rushed to your office and found out you weren't there. I had to come to your house and here you are.

How are you holding up? Any news about the kids? And how's Hannah?" Rhoda asked pretending to care and Liam gave a deadly glare knowing well this woman in front of them was a fucking pretender. Who knows, maybe she has something to do with the missing octuplets, Liam's thoughts.

"And how the hell did you find out about it? I didn't tell anyone about it" Brandon asked with a frown on his face.

"I... I had gone to your office because you promised you were going to come over for dinner yesterday. I just wanted to find out why you didn't come over.

And then I met Kate, Hannah's PA. She told me you had left and she overheard you talking to someone on the phone that the octuplets were missing " Rhoda said and Brandon turned to Liam and then to Rhoda. "You should go home Rhoda, this is my family's house and my wife does not like it whenever you come here. If you want to see me or ask me any questions, you should call me" Brandon said calmly.

He wasn't in for any drama. All he wanted was to find the octuplets and nothing else.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

Rhoda pouted as tears filled her eyes. Brandon felt sorry for her at once.

"I'm sorry, I didn't mean to disrespect you," Rhoda said as she moved toward Brandon, tiptoed, and hugged Brandon.

"I'm so sorry," she said, pretending to cry as she touched his hair and stylishly pulled out a few strands from it.

"It's fine. I didn't mean to be so harsh. I promise when all this is over I'll make time for you" Brandon said as he pulled Rhoda away from the hug.

Rhoda sniffed and wiped her tears with her finger.

"You should go home and rest," Brandon said to her as he stared at her. He wondered how he had forced himself on this woman in the past.

The woman from years ago had a different scent and when their body came in contact, he felt something but he felt nothing for Rhoda. He feels numb whenever he's around her. He sighed and then turned to Liam and whispered.

"Make sure she gets home safe, and Kate, make sure she's taken care of and doesn't tell another what she had heard," Brandon said in a whisper, and with that, he walked away. Liam turned to Rhoda with a frown on his face, he held her hands and pulled her out of the house roughly.

"Let me go" she winced and Liam let go of her immediately.

"What do you think you were doing by coming here and why do I have this feeling you were the one who kidnapped the octuplets," Liam said and Rhoda frowned "What do you mean? That's a huge accusation you putting on me" Rhoda said and Liam rolled his eyes

"Oh common we both know what you are capable of. You saw the kids just yesterday and today they went missing. Isn't that such a big coincidence?" Liam said and Rhoda rolled her eyes.

"As much as I hate Hannah so much, I would never think of harming her kids or kidnapping them. I'm a mother too," Rhoda said in a convincing tone and Liam hummed

"I do not trust you, the moment I found out you are involved in this. It would be the end of you. Now come let me take you home" Liam said and Rhoda frowned.

"Stop threatening me. And I can go home by myself. I do not need you taking me home" Rhoda said and walked away from him, she hopped into her car and opened her palm. She stared at the few strands of hair in her palm

And a wide smile spread on her lips. Now I have one of the octuplets and Brandon's hair, I can now take these samples to the lab and confirm.

Is Brandon their Biological father, Rhoda thought as she put the hair strands in a small nylon, sealed it, and put it in her bag.

She got what she came for, mission accomplished, She ignited the engine and zoomed off at once.

Liam stared at the car till it was out of sight. He didn't know why but he suspected Rhoda was behind the octuplets missing.

Just then, Another car drove into Colby's villa and a man in a suit and a shade climbed out of the car and walked towards Liam. "Hello, is Mrs Colby in?" he asked and Liam stared at him weirdly.

"And you are?" Liam asked and the guy in black removed his sun shade.

Chapter 84

Michael is seen in the sitting room waiting for Hannah to show up and finally, he could see her climbing down the stairs looking as beautiful as ever.

He stared at her strangely with lots of thoughts going through his mind but then he quickly shook off the thoughts.

"Hannah" he uttered as he stood up as Hannah walked towards her. He noticed her eyes looked so swollen. Has she been crying? Has her contract husband been treating her badly? "Are you okay?" Micheal asked trying to resist the urge to hug her and comfort her.

"I'm not Micheal, my kids are missing," Hannah said, tears slipping down her cheeks.

"What? Missing? How did it happen?" Micheal asked worriedly. He had kept his eyes off Hannah and the kids in just one day and this happened.

He had been invited to the white house and he had received a call from Hannah when he was there. He had to rush back when Hannah told him she needed to see him.

"Shit!! This is my fault! Come here, stop crying alright, I'm going to find them and bring them home" Micheal said as he put his hands on Hannah's back and led her to the couch to sit on it. Meanwhile, Brandon and Liam are seen upstairs watching both Hannah and Micheal. Anger and jealousy flashed in his eyes.

How dare he touch what belongs to him and how dare she bring man to his house, he thought and then decided to go meet both Hannah and Micheal downstairs but then Liam stopped him.

You shouldn't make a scene, I'm sure whoever that guy is, he's here to help, we all want one thing, for the octuplets to be found, Liam said and Brandon stared at both Hannah and Michael, and then suddenly he felt a sense of familiarity washed through him.

He recognized him from somewhere but he just couldn't remember where. He decided to go meet them downstairs.

"Brandon" Hannah called as she saw Brandon.

"Who do we have here?" Brandon asked

"This is Micheal Adams, an Fbi" Hannah said and Brandon raised her eyebrows.

"I thought I asked you not to involve the police in it?" Brandon asked

"He's not just a police or anyone, he saved my life and is the reason I'm still alive, I consider him family. Please let's just focus on finding my children" Hannah said and Brandon sighed softly without saying a word. "Hello, sir," Micheal said as he stood up and moved towards Brandon and brought his hands for a handshake.

Brandon had wanted to refuse the handshake but he then decided to accept it. Just like Hannah said, they should focus on finding the kids.

"Welcome, Micheal Adams," Brandon said in response and they all sat down.

After Jeff had got home, he opened his car door wanting to go open David's car door but David was quick to open the door and hopped out of the car.

He walked past Jeff and walked inside the house, there he met his grandma Rosa pacing to and fro with a worried look on her face.

"Grandma" David called and Rosa turned to him immediately and rushed towards him and hugged him so tight.

"Oh my goodness! Honey, are you alright? What happened, I was so worried about you" Rosa said as she pulled away from the hug and kissed David on his forehead.

"Grandma, some bad men kidnapped me and my friends, Daddy came to get me and left my friends. I begged him to help my friends too but then he refused. Please tell Daddy to help my friends, " David said and burst into tears. Meanwhile, Jeff who was standing at the door stared at David angrily.

"Shhhhh, it's fine, I will talk to Daddy. Now go upstairs to your room, I will be there in a bit" Rosa said and David nodded before climbing upstairs to his room.

"What's he talking about?" Rosa asked as she turned to Jeff but Jeff stared at her without saying a word. It was then she knew what was going on.

"Oh my goodness Jeff, did you kidnap his friends? The octuplets? Why would you do that? What if their parents start searching for them?" Rosa asked

"Hannah owns the octuplets, I'm going to make her get married to me again, then I will bring her and the octuplets home," Jeff said and Rosa stared at him weirdly.

"Hannah owns the octuplets? How come? She thought she was barren? How the hell did she give birth to octuplets and who is the father?" Rosa asked in surprise but Jeff gave her no response.

"Jeff, you should forget about Hannah and go look for Rhoda. I do not know why you are so obsessed with her" Rosa said and Jeff shot her a deadly glare. Rosa quickly shut her mouth. She knows how Jeff always reacts whenever she speaks badly of Hannah.

Just then Jeff heard his phone ring, he stared at the Caller's ID and saw it was Dave. He ended the call and then walked out of the house. He hopped inside his car and zoomed off.

His car came to a halt in front of his mansion where he held Hannah's kid hostage. He hopped out of the car and walked inside the mansion.

There he met Dave sitting while smoking.

"I have been calling you but you didn't pick up," Dave said as he puffed out smoke from his mouth.

"What's wrong?" Jeff asked

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! "The kids, they are screaming," Dave said and Jeff sighed softly.

"I think it's high time we get to work," Jeff said as he and Dave climbed upstairs to the room the children were in.

Dave opened the door and they both walked in, the kids who had been screaming went silent.

"What do you want from us?" Jamie said trying to mask his fears.

"Whatever you want, if it's money, my dad will give you whatever you want, just please let us go," Jasper said and Jeff scoffed.

"You think I want money? Hell no. I want something else" Jeff said and the kids stared at each other.

"What do you want?" Jaxon asked

"Your mommy is what I want," Jeff said and the kids stared at him confused.

"My mom? Who are you and what do you want her for?" Addison asked

"You'll find out very soon!" Jeff said as he turned to Dave.

"Tie them up and seal their mouths"

Chapter 85

"You'll find out very soon!" Jeff said as he turned to Dave.

"Tie them up and seal their mouths," Jeff said and then Dave took his phone, made a call and seven hefty men walked in.

"Tie them up," he said and the men walked towards the octuplets who had tried escaping from them but unfortunately they caught them and tied their hands and legs and sealed their mouths. After which the men left, leaving Jeff and Dave in the room.

Jeff stared at the kids and then dialed Hannah's number.

"Hannah" Jeff called as she answered the phone call.

"What do you want Jeff? I told you to stop calling my number" Hannah said and Jeff laughed.

"Hannah, you have just today and tomorrow to divorce Brandon and come back to me," Jeff said

"And what made you think I would do that?" Hannah asked

"Because your kids are with me," Jeff said and Hannah stood up at once from the chair she was sitting on.

"I don't believe you," Hannah said and Jeff moved towards one of the kids and unsealed her mouth. It was Aubrey, the last of the octuplets.

"Talk to your mommy," Jeff said as he yanked the kid's hair making her cry out loud. Hannah recognized her kid's voice immediately.

"Aubrey" Hannah called as fear ran through her veins.

"Mommy," Aubrey called out and tears slipped down Hannah's cheeks. Jeff moved away from the kid and asked Dave to seal her mouth.

He walked out of the room.

"Please don't harm my kids, I'll do whatever you want please don't harm them," Hannah said and just then Brandon took the phone from her angrily.

"She's not going to do anything you want. If you dare touch a strand of hair on their head I swear I'm going to kill you" Brandon said angrily and Jeff chuckled.

"Tell Hannah to meet me at the courthouse, I'll text her the location. That's where we are getting married" Jeff said and Brandon groaned.

"You know who I am already, I am Brandon Colby, I make the rules of this town, I run this town and I promise you I'm going to find you and make you regret messing with my family," Brandon said with gritted teeth and with that, he ended the call.

Jeff kind of felt scared, but he knew they wouldn't be able to do anything as long as the kids are with him. He knows Hannah was going to give in to what he wants for the sake of her kids.

Meanwhile, Hannah is seen pacing to and fro in the living room.

"I'll do whatever he wants, I just want my kids to be okay," she said feeling so scared.

"You don't have to do what he wants, I have a plan. We gonna track down his phone" Brandon said

"And how do you intend to do that?" Liam asked

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"Hannah is going to call him and stall him to keep talking while we track him down," Brandon said and then they all went upstairs to his study room, where he opened his computer and asked Hannah to call Jeff. Hannah dialed Jeff's number and placed it on a loudspeaker.

"I knew you were going to call back, I'm going to text you the location of the courthouse," Jeff said

"Jeff please, this is not the way. Just let my kids go and I promise I will marry you willingly" Hannah said

"I tried my best to talk to you calmly but you refused. I had thrown my wife out of the house because of you. I just wanted us to be happy and live like a happy family.

I want to make up for all the bad things I did to you in the past Hannah, I love you so much" Jeff said and Hannah sighed and gave Brandon the look "Have you located it yet?"

"Almost!" Brandon whispered.

"After so many years, I still love you, Jeff, you were the only one I have ever loved. But you broke my heart. You asked my boss to fire me, you slept with my best friend and then your mom threw me out of the house onto the street where I was....." She paused not wanting to remember how she was raped. This bastard Jeff ruined her life.

Brandon stared at Hannah with jealousy written in his eyes. How could she say she still loves Jeff, that bastard, he made her go through hell.

"Even though we get married again, your mom would not agree, she hates me so much," Hannah said

"She would agree to it, I'll take care of her," Jeff said and Hannah sighed softly.

"We found the location, end the call. Tell him to send you the location of the courthouse and that you would be there in the next 30 minutes" Brandon whispered and Hannah nodded

"Okay then, send me the location of the courthouse, I'll be there in the next 30 minutes so we can get married and get over with all this once and for all," Hannah said, and with that she ended the call.

"I found the location, Liam, take some men and Micheal with you and go to the location to get the kids, i and Hannah would go to the courthouse and meet him there. He won't see this coming " Brandon said and Liam nodded in response. Meanwhile, Micheal stood at the corner of the study room watching Brandon, he felt amazed with the way Brandon was handling the situation.

"Common, let's go, " he said to Hannah who was looking so stressed and tired.

"Maybe you should stay home, you look tired. I will handle him myself. You just have to trust me" Brandon said to Hannah

"No, I'll come with you," Hannah said and Brandon sighed softly and moved towards her. He pulled her into a brief hug and kissed her forehead.

"Everything is going to be fine," Brandon said and Hannah nodded in response.

Both Liam and Micheal stared at each other and looked away.

I thought it was a contract marriage, it doesn't look like one to me. This looks like a marriage filled with love and from the look of things, Brandon cares about Hannah so much, Micheal thought. "When the hell did Brandon become a sweet, soft, and caring husband?!" Liam thought in surprise.

Chapter 86

Meanwhile, Jayden is seen sitting on a chair inside a room, staring around the room. He's been that way for hours now.

After Mr Jones had taken him. He took him to Rhoda's house but unfortunately, he didn't meet Rhoda at home. He had called Rhoda and she asked him to lock Jayden up in one room.

When he told Rhoda, it was one of the octuplets he got, Rhoda didn't feel bothered a bit. At least she's got one of the octuplets, she could do what she wants to do.

Jayden wondered how long they were gonna keep him locked up in here, he just wanted to meet whoever sent those guys and ask what they wanted. On the other hand, he wondered if his siblings were safe and if they were already looking for him.

He sighed softly. He didn't know why, he wasn't scared a bit. He felt his family was rich and whoever sent those men to get him and his siblings needed money.

He knows his family will provide whatever the kidnapper wants just to make sure he is safe. He wondered if Mr Jones had left.

Suddenly, he felt so thirsty. He needed to drink some water. He stood up from the chair he was sitting on and moved towards the door. He tried opening it but it was locked.

"Hello, anyone there? I need water please, I'm thirsty" he said but there was no response. He sighed sadly and went to sit down back on the chair.

Just then the door opened and Jones walked in holding a glass of water.

Oh, he had heard me, Jayden thought as Jones gave him the glass of water. He took the glass and stared at the water in it and then at Jones.

"I didn't poison the water if that's what you are thinking about," Jones said and Jayden then stared at him for a few seconds before putting the glass of water in his mouth, and sipped up a little from it. He gave the glass back to Mr Jones which he took and walked out of the room, locking the door behind him.

Just then the door opened again and Jayden raised his head to see who had come in and to his surprise, he saw a familiar figure. The lady that had gotten into a fight with his mommy at the mall. "You!" Jayden muttered immediately after he saw her.

"Oh, I guess you remember me so well. Children and their unforgettable memories" Rhoda said as she smiled.

"What do you want?" Jayden asked

"Simple, I just want you to comply with me with whatever I'm going to do," Rhoda said and Jayden stared at her confused.

"Your mom is searching for you now, the earlier I get what I want, I promise to let you go after then," she said

"I do not believe you. I do not trust anything you say. Who are you to my mommy" Jayden asked and Rhoda sighed while she checked the time on her wristwatch.

"I do not have time for too much questioning, I have to visit the lab for a test," she said as she unexpectedly brought out a white handkerchief from her pocket and covered Jayden's mouth and nose.

"Hmmm ummmm" Jayden tried struggling but suddenly he lost consciousness.

Rhoda sighed softly and brought out a blade and cut a bit of his hair, put in a sealed nylon, and then was about to walk out of the room when Jones then walked in. He stared at Jayden and met him lying unconscious.

"What did you do to him? Did you kill him?" Jones asked as he moved towards Jayden to check if he was still breathing and luckily he was still breathing.

He carried him from the chair and placed him on the bed, so he could lay properly.

"I didn't kill him, I just made him unconscious, he talks too much. He's probably going to be awake, minutes or hours from now," Rhoda paused as she stared at Jones. "Since when did you start caring about children?" She asked and Jones sighed as he stared at Jayden.

He didn't know why, the moment Jayden had made a deal with him to go with him but he should let the siblings go, he instantly liked the boy. He was willing to risk his life so his siblings could be safe. Are there still people like that in this world? Rare. Whoever raised this child did a good job.

"He's different from every other kid I have met," Jones said and Rhoda rolled her eyes.

"I know you do not mean what you said," she said as she moved towards him. She placed her hands on his chest while caressing up and Down.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

She then tiptoed and the next thing she kissed him and a few seconds later, she pulled away from the kiss.

"Meet me in my room!" She said to Jones who bit his lips as Rhoda walked away from her.

He turned to Jayden who was still unconscious and then walked out of the room before locking the door behind him.

He went to Rhoda's room, and opened the door.. There he met Rhoda sitting on the bed waiting for him.

He moved towards her and placed his lips on hers, kissing her aggressively. He slipped his hands inside her dress and grasped her breast. A soft moan escaped Rhoda's lips.

He moved his mouth from her lips and then kissed her ear, her neck, and to her collarbone.

He helped her remove her dress and unhook her bra. Leaving her upper body naked.

He stared at her full breast and then at her face. He smiled at her and suddenly he put his mouth on her nipples, sucking her breast like a hungry baby feeding on his mommy's breast.

He sucked her right breast while he caressed the left breast with his hands. He then moved his mouth to the left breast and sucked it. After some minutes he stopped and started removing his clothes while Rhoda did the same by removing the trouser and panties she was wearing.

The both of them could be seen flinging their clothes on the ground and the next thing they both collapsed on the bed with Rhoda on top while riding him in ecstasy.

Everywhere was so calm and quiet, only the sounds of their moans could be heard.

I think we have a problem

Chapter

Hannah and Brandon were about to leave the house when the door burst open revealing Jessica, holding a lot of shopping bags.

She had gone shopping with her friends and they made her buy a lot of things. In as much as she was still angry at the octuplets. She still bought them something. It was some set of clothes she saw, they looked so beautiful and classy that she couldn't take her eyes off them. She had to buy them.

"Where are you guys going in a haste?" Jessica asked but no one answered her. She wondered what was wrong because Hannah was looking so tense.

Just then she saw the Butler, Alexander. The butler was about to go back inside when he saw Jessica but then Jessica called his name making him stop. She dropped her shopping bags on the floor and walked towards him. "Alex," she called and Alex turned to her.

"I know we had our past but I believe it would be best if we put everything behind us and just be friends. Please " Jessica said and Alex hummed.

"We do not need to avoid each other, besides I have a boyfriend already," Jessica said

"Oh, congratulations, " Alex said in response.

Just then Jessica heard her phone ring. It was a call from her boyfriend, Jefferson.

She smiled and then answered the phone call.

"Babe, I'm almost dressed, I promise not to be late," Jessica said happily, thinking Jefferson had wanted to ask her if she was ready.

"No, Jessica. I wanted to tell you I won't be available today. I have some work to do. It's an emergency " Jefferson said and Jessica sighed sadly. "Okay then," she said and ended the call.

"What's wrong?" Alex asked

"My boyfriend, we were supposed to go out today but he canceled saying it's an emergency," Jessica said and Alex muttered an "oh" with a cold look on his face.

Jessica quickly shook off the sadness. She would just hang out with him another day since he's busy, she thought.

"Mind telling me what's happening in this house and where my brother and his wife are rushing to? Where's the octuplets and where are the maids" Jessica asked, looking around.

"The octuplets are missing and I was asked to dismiss all the house help which I did. I was only following orders!" Alex said

"The octuplets are missing? What? What about grandma, have you seen her?" Jessica asked

"No," Alex responded

"Any idea where she went?" she asked

She was the one who tried killing Hannah before, what if she's the one behind this too, Jessica thought as she brought out her phone to call her but sadly it was entering voicemail. "Hello Grandma, immediately you get this voicemail, I want you to call me back," Jessica said and then turned to Alex.

"I have work to do, I need to go," Alex said and Jessica sighed softly.

Meanwhile, a black car with tinted glass came to a stop close to the courthouse. Hannah and Brandon were both in the car.

Just then, they saw Jeff standing in front of the court house pacing to and fro while checking his time.

Just then he picked up his phone and dialed Hannah's number.

"He's calling me?" Hannah said to Brandon as her phone rang.

"Answer the phone call and tell him you are close," Brandon said and Hannah answered the phone call. "I'm on my way, I'll be there in a few minutes, " Hannah said and with that, she ended the call.

They could see Jeff sigh in relief when Hannah said she was on her way.

"When are we going to meet him?" Hannah asked

"When Liam calls that the children are safe and with him," Brandon said as they both remained in the car.

Brandon turned to Hannah and noticed she was looking so nervous while staring through the glass of the car.

He sighed softly and then placed his hands on hers, Hannah then turned to him at once. She felt a cold feeling immediately after Brandon's hands came in contact with hers. They both stared at each other with a peculiar look on their faces.

"You don't have to be scared, I'm here for you and everything is going to be fine," he said and Hannah who was almost becoming lost while staring at Brandon couldn't say a word. Just then Brandon's phone vibrated, it was a text message from Liam. They both looked away from each other.

"It's Liam, he's got the kids and is taking them home," Brandon said and Hannah gave out a breath of relief, she felt like a huge burden had been lifted off her.

She then climbed out of the car and walked towards Jeff.

"Oh you are here already," Jeff said with a smile on his face but Hannah did the unexpected.

He slapped him so hard on his face. Jeff's face turned red immediately.

"That is for hurting me in the past and betraying me," she said and then slapped him again on his face twice

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! "That is for asking your mom to throw me out on the street so I could get raped" She paused as tears slipped down her cheeks. She then slapped him again four times on his face. "That is for kidnapping my kids and making them suffer" she yelled and Jeff who was now furious held her hands.

"How dare you hit me. I would only spare you because you are getting married to me, now come with me to the courthouse" Jeff said but then a voice spoke making Jeff pause.

"Let her go" Brandon spoke, his voice filled with so much authority. Fear ran through Jeff's spine. He remembered the day Brandon had given him a broken arm, this made him more scared.

"I thought I told you to come alone, and you brought him. I could make some calls and your kids would be dead, remember I have them in my custody. You would better come with me Hannah" Jeff said as Hannah pulled her hands away from his grip.

"You are a fool to think that we would come here knowing fully well, you had the kids. You think I trust you and what you say.

Those times I was talking to you on the phone, my beloved husband here was busy tracking down your location.

He sent some men over and now they've gotten the kids and they are on their way home" Hannah said and Jeff stared at them in disbelief.

"You are lying. You think I would fall for ur lies or believe anything you say" Jeff said and suddenly Brandon brought out his phone and showed him a video of the kids.

"You.... bastard.." Jeff said with gritted teeth and the next thing Brandon gave him a punch in his mouth making him stagger backward.

"You don't mess with my family," Brandon said and suddenly the police arrived at the scene and took him away.

"I'm going to make you pay for this Hannah, I'll make you all pay" Jeff yelled as the police handcuffed him and took him away.

"Your hands seem to be better now," Brandon said and Hannah laughed.

Just then Brandon heard his phone ring, it was a call from Liam. He quickly answered the phone call.

"I think we have a problem"

Me jones

Chapter 88

Meanwhile, Rhoda is seen walking out of the bathroom with her towel tied around her chest. She had sent Jayden's and Brandon's hair samples to the lab already.

They had told her the result would be out the next day, she had paid a lot of fees and told them she needed it to be out the next day.

She met Jones Putting on his clothes.

"I have to go now, I just got a call for a job. And my wife needs me now" Jones said and Rhoda nodded in response.

"I sent your payment to your account, I'll call you whenever I need you," Rhoda said and Jones nodded as he moved towards her, and kissed her before walking out of the house. He hopped inside the car and zoomed off.

Rhoda sighed softly and sat on the bed while she opened the drawer to her bed. She then brought out a gun from it.

She cleaned the gun and stared at it with a lot of thoughts going through her mind. She was going to wait for the DNA test result to be out tomorrow before she carries out her plan.

If the DNA proves Jayden is both Hannah and Brandon's Biological child, she was going to kill Jayden and send the corpse to Hannah.

She was going to ruin Hannah's life and make her pass through so much pain. She thought as she stared at the gun.

She then put the gun back in her drawer while she went to her wardrobe and picked up a dress to wear. She walked out of the room, to the kitchen to go prepare some food as she felt so hungry.

Brandon's car came to a stop in front of Colby's mansion.

Hannah alighted the car and walked inside the mansion with Brandon trailing behind her.

There they met Micheal and Liam in the living room.

"What's wrong? Where are my kids? What do you mean there were only seven of them, where's the remaining?" Hannah asked, looking tense.

"Hannah, you have to calm down. The girls are complete, it's just one of the boys who are missing, and I do not know who among them because they look alike....." Hannah didn't wait for Micheal to finish what he was saying when she rushed upstairs to her kid's room.

Brandon and Micheal both stared at each other.

The kid looks much like Brandon Colby. I thought she had gotten pregnant as a result of rape and she and Brandon were just in a contract marriage. How come the kids have a striking resemblance to Brandon, Micheal thought confused. "Were the kids the only ones you met there when you got there?" Brandon asked

"No, some men were there too, we took them and tied them up at the stable house," Liam said Brandon nodded and made his way to the stable house with Both Liam and Micheal trailing behind him.

They walked into the stable house and met six men sitting on the ground with their legs and arms tied and their mouths sealed.

The men opened their eyes wide in shock as they saw Brandon Colby. Brandon moved towards one of the men and unsealed his mouth. He stared at the man and then sighed softly before finally speaking.

"The octuplets you kidnapped. They are eight in number but now they are only seven, where is the other one?" Brandon asked coldly.

"When we got to the school, we only took the kids we had met. I swear to God it was just the seven of them we saw, we didn't see another one," The man said, shivering in fear. Brandon closed his eyes briefly and then opened it, and suddenly he landed a punch on his face.

"Where is he? Where did you hide the child?" Brandon asked again and the man burst into tears.

"We didn't take the child, I'm telling the truth," The man said and Brandon landed another punch on his face. Just then he heard his phone ring, it was a call from Hannah.

He brought out a handkerchief from his pocket and wiped the blood on his hands.

He moved away from the man and answered the phone call.

"Where are you, Brandon?" Hannah asked as she sniffed.

"I'm coming," he said and ended the call and with that, he walked out of the stable house.

Brandon stared at the men that were tied down. He had questioned them and threatened them with their family but yet they said they didn't take the kid and that it was just the seven of them they saw.

If they didn't do it, then who did?

Hannah had walked inside the octuplet's room and met the kids lying on the bed looking tired with Jessica beside them.

"Oh, my sweetheart!" Hannah said as tears filled her eyes. The kids stood up from the bed and then walked toward Hannah and hugged her.

"Sweethearts, how are you feeling, did they harm you or do anything to you guys?" Hannah asked as she sniffed and wiped her tears.,

"No Mommy, they only tied our hands and leg and then sealed our mouths," Jamie said

"And they yanked my hair, " Aubrey said and burst into tears.

"Shhh baby, it's okay. It's fine. I'm so sorry you all had to go through all that. I'm so sorry, it's my fault" Hannah cried and carried Aubrey who was crying too hard while she petted her. "What about Jayden? Wasn't he with you guys?" Hannah asked. She had noticed her kids were not complete when she walked in and it was Jayden who wasn't among them.

"A man came and took him, he followed the man and asked us to call you guys for help but suddenly some men came and kidnapped us," Jaxon said

"I thought maybe he would be home!" Japer said as they all had a worried look on their faces.

"Do you guys recognize the man that took him?" Hannah asked

"Yes, and his name is Mr jones," Allison said

"That might not be his real name but that's the name he told us" Audrey added

"That might not be his real name but that's the name he told us" Audrey added and Hannah nodded in response.

"You all should rest, I'll ask the maid to prepare something for you guys, you don't have to worry, I will find Jayden, alright," Hannah said and the kids nodded in response.

"Brandon asked the Butler to dismiss all the house help. I will help them prepare something, "Jessica said and Hannah nodded in response and muttered a thank you before walking out of the children's room to the living room. She found out Brandon was no longer there, she decided to call him and he said he was coming.

Not quite long, Brandon arrived and Hannah stared at him for some seconds before speaking.

"It's Jayden, he's missing. I think someone else took him. And the kids said the person who took him goes by the name Jones" Hannah said

"We can't just go out there and start searching for someone with the name Jones. There are a lot of people who go by the name Jones" Brandon said

"What do we do now?" Hannah asked worriedly.

"If they can remember what the man looks like, I can call someone so they can give a proper description of Jones's looks, so he can draw out their description. We could find out who the Jones is" Brandon said and Hannah sighed softly. She was trying to keep calm. But she's a woman and a mother, she can't just keep calm knowing her son is out there and might be feeling hurt.

"The kids are tired and they need rest, it's late already, we can do that tomorrow right?" Hannah asked and Brandon went dead silent. He wondered who had taken Jayden.

"Sure, you should rest too," Brandon said and Hannah burst into tears. Brandon moved towards her and pulled her into a warm hug.

"We are going to find him alright? He's going to be fine" Brandon said and pulled away from the hug and held Hannah's hand taking her to her room.

He helped Hannah sit on the bed.

"I know you must be hungry, I will go prepare something for you," Brandon said and with that, he walked out of the room to the kitchen.

There he met Jessica cooking. He stood for some seconds and stared at her before walking fully inside the kitchen.

Jessica turned and saw her brother opening the fridge.

"You can't continue to avoid me forever," Jessica said to Brandon and he didn't say a word.

"I apologized a million times already, what else do you want me to do? I am sorry" Jessica said and then Brandon turned to her.

"This is not the right time for this, Jessica," he said and Jessica sighed softly.

"No time is always the right time," Jessica said and rolled her eyes at him.

Just then Brandon heard his phone ring, it was a call from Liam. He answered the phone call and spoke.

"I will be there in a jiffy," he said and ended the call and then turned to Jessica.

"Can you please help me put up one or two things together for Hannah to eat, I have something to attend to" he said and Jessica rolled her eyes but then she nodded in agreement.

Brandon then walked out of the kitchen. Jessica prepared the meal and made sure the kids were well-fed, before putting them to sleep. It wasn't that difficult because they had already taken their bath and felt sleepy. She then took a plate of food to Hannah's room, where she met Hannah already asleep. She sighed softly as she stared at her.

She dropped the food on the table and covered her properly with the duvet.

Just then she saw Hannah's phone ring. It was a call from her mom. She had wanted to answer the phone call but she decided not to.

She then walked out of the room, closing the door behind her. She sighed softly and just then she saw Brandon and Liam walk inside Brandon's study room, with a strange guy (Michael Adams).

They looked so busy. She just hopes they find Jayden in time and that he isn't hurt.

Meanwhile, David is seen in his room trying to plug his phone so it would charge, so he can be able to call Jayden's parents.

He was so worried about them and hoped they were okay. Just then his door burst open and his grandma walked in making him shocked, the phone in his hands fell on the ground making it break. "What are you doing David? I thought I asked you to go to bed" Rosa said as she entered the room and saw David's phone on the ground.

She picked it up and saw it was already broken.

She had wanted to shout at him but she sighed softly as she noticed David was looking at her with fear in his eyes.

"Your daddy isn't home yet, you should rest alright. I have been trying to call him but he hasn't been answering his phone call. I hope he's okay" Rosa thought and helped David lay on the bed. She covered him properly with the blanket and pat his head.

"Grandma" David called

"Yes David" she responded.

"I miss my mommy. I wish I could see her one more time. I hope she's fine wherever she is"

It was morning and a brand new day, Rhoda had woken up so early and went to the lab to get the test results.

She opened it and to her surprise, it stated Brandon was the biological father of Jayden, which means he's the father of the octuplets.

What the heck?!, this means only one thing, Hannah was the woman Brandon had raped years ago and the octuplets were the result of it.

she thought and then decided to go back home. On getting home she met Liam walking out of her house. He was leaving.

She felt so nervous and scared the moment she saw him.

"I came just now and I didn't see you at home, where did you go to?" Liam asked and Rhoda stared at him looking nervous.

"What are you doing here?" Rhoda asked rudely.

"I came to collect some files I forgot here the other day and I was just about to leave, don't eat me raw" Liam said as he notice the look on Rhoda's face.

He wondered what was wrong with her, she looks like she was trying to hide something. He wondered what it was, he thought but then he quickly shook off the thoughts.

He hopped inside his car and started going through the files to see if it was complete. He needed to make sure everything in the office was in place, he couldn't afford for words to go out that Brandon's stepson is missing.

It's going to raise a big scandal and their investors might begin to call and say if he can not protect his family, how would he be able to protect his business?

Brandon had asked him to go to the company and made sure everything was in place, while they looked for Jayden.

He then noticed the files were not complete, meaning he must have left the rest in Rhoda's sitting room.

He climbed out of the car and then walked inside the sitting room when he suddenly heard a scream.

Rhoda is dead I

Chapter 90

He climbed out of the car and then walked inside the sitting room when he suddenly heard a scream.

It was a child's voice.

"Rhoda," he called and there was no answer. He decided to go check Rhoda's room upstairs when he suddenly saw her coming out of a room and then she locked the door.

When Rhoda saw Liam, at first she paused because she was frightened. She quickly maintained an innocent look.

"I thought you had left, what are you still doing here?" she asked as she walked past Liam to her room.

"I had forgotten some of the files, and I heard a scream. What's in that room or rather who's in that room?" Liam asked but Rhoda didn't say a word.

"Rhoda, that sounds like a child's voice, who the hell is in that room, did you kidnap..." Liam paused and Rhoda turned to him.

"Jesus Christ, Rhoda, did you kidnap Hannah's son? " You were the one all this time," Liam said with shock in his eyes. He just couldn't believe it.

"I didn't mean to hurt the child, I only hit him a bit in the head and he screamed and lost consciousness, the child is just too stubborn," Rhoda said

"How could you do such a thing? Is that how much you hate Hannah that you want to punish her kids for what happened?" Liam said and Rhoda rolled her eyes at him. She doesn't even feel guilty or remorse about what happened, Liam thought angrily.

"Let that child go and i'll tell them I found him on the street all alone," Liam said and Rhoda laughed.

"Same way you lied to Brandon I was the one he raped years ago, I would advise you leave and pretend you didn't see or hear anything," Rhoda said and Liam stared at her angrily.

"I'm going to tell Brandon the truth and what happened now," Liam said and was about to walk out of the room when suddenly she heard the sound of a gun being cracked.

He paused at once and then turned only to see Rhoda standing pointing a gun at his forehead.

"Where the hell did you get a gun and what do you think you are doing?" Liam asked as he swallowed hard. He raised his hands as a sign of surrender.

"I won't have you ruin my plans, you are better off dead than telling Brandon anything," Rhoda said

"And you think if you kill me Brandon won't know," Liam asked

"He would never know, besides no one knew you were coming here," Rhoda said and put the gun straight on his forehead, the gun was now touching his forehead.

"Okay fine, you don't have to pull the trigger, I promise to leave and not say a word to Brandon" Liam said and Rhoda scoffed

"And you think I would believe you?" Rhoda said and laughed. Just then in a swift movement, Liam moved to her side and held the gun, thereby dragging the gun with her while they shot the ceiling and then the lamps in the room. They kept dragging the gun and finally, the gun was now with Liam. He then pointed the gun at Rhoda.

Rhoda laughed and stared at Liam.

"You think I would let you leave here with that child? I won't let you leave here and tell Brandon anything. I won't let you ruin my plans and you are so stupid to think I have just one gun" Rhoda said and moved to her wardrobe to bring out another gun.

Liam thought she was joking, she truly has another gun. He didn't want to pull the trigger but now he has no option but to save his life.

Just as Rhoda was about to shoot him, he pulled the trigger and shot him in his hands and the gun fell on the ground.

Rhoda groaned and made to pick up the gun again when Liam shot her twice in her stomach. She fell to the ground with blood gushing out of her mouth. Her vision was already becoming dark. She closed her eyes as she breathed her last breath.

Liam began shivering in fear as he saw her close her eyes. He felt so scared, no one would believe it was self-defense, they would think he killed her on purpose.

He didn't want to go to prison, he needed to figure out a way to make sure no one finds out he killed her.

He then moved towards Rhoda, searched her clothes and brought out her phone, and texted Hannah.

"If you want to see your son and save him, you must come alone to this address, if you do come with anyone, you would find your son dead" he sent the message, and then he cleaned the phone with his shirt and placed it on Rhoda's hands. He took the keys to the room Jayden was in and walked out of the room. He opened the door and met Jayden unconscious on the ground.

He cleaned the gun and then placed it in the child's hands. He stared at Jayden for some seconds before walking out of the room, to the living room. He took all the files and made sure he cleared everything that would make anyone think he was at Rhoda's house today.

He walked out of the house, hopped inside his car, ignited the engine, and zoomed off at once.

He was sure Hannah would go there alone and then she would be blamed for Rhoda's death. Everyone including Brandon would believe because of how much Hannah hated Rhoda.

His car came to a stop in front of the company and he alighted the car. He walked inside the company looking so nervous.

He then saw Brandon's secretary.

"Hello sir Liam, the board members are waiting for you," The secretary said and he nodded as they both walked inside the elevator.

Liam tried pressing the button to the seventh floor but his hands were shivering.

"Are you okay sir?" the secretary asked and Liam smiled at him.

He managed to press the elevator button and walked and the door closed.

While in the elevator, the secretary kept staring at him because his hands were shivering, and he wondered what was wrong with him.

The Elevator came to a stop on the seventh floor and they both came out.

"Bring the other files from my office, I'll be in the boardroom," Liam said and the secretary nodded in response.
