

Cinderella And Her Beautiful Octuplets

A set up

Chapter 91

Hannah had woken up in the middle of the night as she couldn't sleep. She kept on thinking about her son and at that moment nothing else mattered to her than her son being found.

"What if he's hurt and he's hungry too? I can't imagine him getting hurt and what if he's dead? No, it can't be" she kept on thinking about it.

She had walked out of her room and had wanted to go out of the house to look for her son at midnight but then she saw Brandon, Liam, and Michael discussing and making calls. This means they haven't slept too and they would not let her leave the house.

Brandon had seen Hannah from downstairs and then went to meet her upstairs.

"What's wrong? Why are you still awake? You should be resting" Brandon said

"I don't know how you do this by acting strong, I can't sleep knowing my son is out here probably hurt or something. I'm not as strong as you are.

Let's just call the police so they can search for him and find him, please" Hannah said in fear.

"We cannot involve the police" Brandon responded

"You keep saying we can't involve the police, why? Can't you tell me why?" she asked, this time in an angry tone and Liam and Micheal who were downstairs were forced to look up because of how she had yelled.

Brandon stared at her angrily, "Why can't you just trust me and let me do things my way and find him" Brandon yelled back, this time losing his patience.

"You've been telling me to keep trusting you for the past few hours now and yet, here you are doing nothing to find him" Hannah yelled

"You think I'm here doing nothing?...." Brandon closed his eyes and took a deep breath, trying to calm himself down. The moment he opened them, he couldn't see Hannah in front of him again.

He turned and saw her walking back to her room. He followed her and they both entered the room. Hannah picked up her phone and was about to call the police when Brandon spoke.

"I know how you are feeling Hannah," Brandon said and Hannah turned to him

"You do not know how I'm feeling because if you do, you obviously would have involved the police by now," Hannah said

"I do. I had a child before...." Brandon said and Hannah paused at once.

"Y.. you had a child?" she asked again to be sure of what she had heard and Brandon nodded.

"Where is the child?" Hannah asked

"Some set of robbers had broken into our home one night and took her.

We involved the police and did everything they asked us to do, but in the end, I lost the child. She was killed" Brandon paused and took a deep breath trying to mask whatever pain he was feeling. "Her name was Mellisa. I do call her Lisa. She was a sweet loving soul. She was just 3 years old" Brandon said and Hannah became dead silent. She didn't know what to say.

"I'm so sorry, I didn't know about that," Hannah said in a calm tone.

"Trust me, I know every bit of what you are feeling. But I promise I will find Jayden and make sure he's okay" Brandon said and Hannah nodded calmly.

Brandon moved towards her and wiped the tears that were on her face.

"I'm sorry for yelling at you earlier on," he said and pulled Hannah into a warm hug.

The hug lasted for a few minutes, After that he pulled away from the hug.

"You should rest now, I have to go," He said and Hannah nodded in response. She sat on the bed tiredly, staring at the ceiling.

Not quite long, she could hear the sound of a bird chirping from the outside. She stood up and opened the window only to see everywhere was so bright.

It was then she realized she had been awake for so long, staring into nothing.

She moved away from the window and walked outside her room. She climbed down the stairs and there she saw just Micheal and Brandon, although they didn't see her, She wondered why Liam wasn't with them. "He's probably gone to the company since Brandon won't be going," Hannah thought and then went back to her room.

Just then she heard her phone vibrate, it was a text message from a strange number. She opened the message and read it.

If you want to see your son and save him, you must come alone to this address, if you do come with anyone, you would find your child dead

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

She paused for a few seconds and then reread the message.

She had wanted to go show Brandon the text message but she didn't. What if the person who sent this message finds out?

I need to go myself and save my son, she thought and then walked to her wardrobe, and put on a pair of black trousers.

She picked up her car key and walked out of her room. She climbed down the stairs gently without Brandon nor Micheal seeing her.

She then used the back door and walked out of the house. She walked towards her car which was in the garage. She entered her car, ignited the engine, and zoomed off.

Her car came to a halt in front of a big mansion. She checked the address as she stared at the mansion. It was the house address.

She alighted her car and entered the compound which was so silent. No single sound could be heard. At first, a cold shiver ran down her spine.

"Maybe I should go back home, what if this is a setup?" she thought with fear running through her spine. But then she had a second thought, she needed to save her son.

She planted a soft knock on the door and it creaked open by itself. At first, she wondered why the door wasn't locked.

She pushed the door open and walked in.

"Anyone home?!" she yelled but there was no response.

We need to talk.

Chapter 92

"Anyone home?!" she yelled but there was no response.

She scrutinized the living room, trying to see if they would find anything but she didn't. She decided to go upstairs to check.

She climbed upstairs and she saw the door to the first room was wide open. She decided to check what was in the room.

She moved away from the corner and walked inside the room. Immediately she walked inside the room she saw a figure lying on the ground with blood all over.

"Christ!" she yelled and then quickly covered her mouth when she recognized the body on the ground. It was Rhoda, she's dead.

Fear gripped Hannah immediately.

"Oh my goodness!" she muttered as she felt tears slip down her cheeks.

She walked out of the room shivering in fear and brought out her phone to call Brandon but then she suddenly paused when she heard a sound or rather a voice of a child.

She became silent thinking she would hear the sound again and luckily, she heard the sound again. She noticed it was coming from the next room.

She put her phone in her pocket and then walked to check out who was in the room. Surprised, she saw her son lying on the ground with his eyes closed murmuring.

She had wanted to rush towards him but paused when she saw him holding a gun in his hands.

"Oh my goodness!" she muttered at the same time with shock and fear written all over her.

"Mommy!" her son murmured again and she rushed towards him. If her son ever wakes up and sees a gun in his hand, knowing there is a dead body who had been shot in the other room, it would ruin his life forever.

She didn't want that for her son. What if the police come and test Jayden's fingerprint on the gun? He would be accused of killing Rhoda. He's just a child and he knows nothing. She quickly removed the gun from his hands, cleaned it thoroughly with her cloth, and held it in her hands, making sure her hands touched every part of it.

"Mommy!" her son murmured again and she quickly dropped the gun and pushed it to the corner of the room.

"Jayden" she uttered and Jayden managed to open his little eyes.

"Mommy you are here!" he managed to say and then closed his eyes.

"Yes, honey, I'm here. I'm here to save you" Hannah muttered as she carried him from the ground.

"Mommy, please take me to the hospital, my head hurts so bad" Jayden managed to say, and then suddenly he lost consciousness.

Hannah hadn't noticed Jayden had lost consciousness already, she was in a rush to take him to the car and take him to the hospital. She opened the car door and dropped him inside the car.

"Jayden?!" She called but he wasn't responding.

"Honey, please talk to Mommy," Hannah said shivering in fear with tears slipping down her cheeks.

She checked if he was still breathing and luckily he was. She quickly locked the car door and brought out her phone to call Brandon.

Immediately, she dialed his number, and he answered immediately.

"Hannah, I have been searching for you. Where did you go?" Brandon asked in a worried tone and Hannah sniffed.

"Brandon, we have a problem," Hannah said as she started crying so hard.

"What's wrong? Calm down alright, I'm coming to get you, just tell me where you are and wait for me" Brandon said as he picked up his car key and rushed out of the house.

"I can't wait, I need to take Jayden to the hospital. I'll send you the address, you have to call the police and ambulance, there's a dead body here" Hannah said as she called out the address to him. Brandon paused a bit, this is Rhoda's house address, he thought.

"I have to go to the hospital now," she said and immediately ended the call. She hopped into her car, ignited the engine, and drove off at full speed as she needed to get her son to the hospital in time.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! Brandon is seen standing outside Rhoda's house as he watches the police bring out her dead body from inside the house and put her in a body bag, then zipped up the bag.

Brandon was still confused about how all this had happened and how Rhoda ended up dead. After Hannah had called him, he went straight to the address and then went inside the house only to see a dead body. He had to quickly call the police and the ambulance. He wondered who might have done this.

Just then the chief of police, Traven staff walked towards Brandon.

"I'm sorry about your loss Brandon, I promise we will find whoever did this to that poor girl," Traven said and Brandon muttered a thank you and then he walked away.

Brandon brought out his phone to call Hannah and she answered the phone call. He asked her what hospital she was and she gave him the address.

Brandon hopped in his car, he had a lot of questions to ask Hannah and on the other hand, she had a lot of answers to give him, he thought as he ignited the engine and zoomed off.

His car came to a stop in front of the hospital. He alighted the car and walked inside the hospital to Jayden's ward.

There he met Jayden lying on the bed with his eyes closed and Hannah was sitting beside him with a worried look on her face.

"How's he?" Brandon asked and Hannah turned to him. Oh, he's here already, she thought.

"He's okay, the doctor said he's going to be fine," Hannah said and Brandon nodded in response while staring at her.

"We need to talk, Hannah, we need to talk about what happened to Rhoda and how the hell did you get there?" TBC

You'll pay for everything

Chapter 93

"We need to talk, Hannah, we need to talk about what happened to Rhoda and how the hell did you get there?" Brandon said and Hannah nodded in response. "What happened? Did you kill Rhoda?" Brandon asked

"What? Why would you think I would do such" Hannah asked

"I don't know what to believe Hannah, what happened?" Brandon asked

"I received a text this morning from a strange number to come to a house and the address was sent, I was asked to come alone, or else I would see my son's dead body.

I couldn't risk it, I had to go alone" Hannah paused and brought out her phone and showed Brandon the text message which he read.

He stared at the phone number and noticed it was Rhoda's contact. He brought out his phone to confirm which he did.

"I had gotten to the house and everywhere was so silent, when I got in I met Rhoda's dead body lying on the ground. And Jayden was in the next room with....." she paused. She didn't want to tell Brandon she had seen a gun in Jayden's hands while he was unconscious.

"I saw Jayden unconscious, I had to take him to the hospital after I called you. I swear to God I didn't kill Rhoda. I didn't do it" Hannah said and Brandon sighed softly not knowing what to say or believe.

He knows how much Hannah hated Rhoda and now Rhoda is dead and Hannah was the first person who had seen the dead body? something is off.

If Hannah didn't kill Rhoda then who did?! He thought.

He didn't know if Rhoda had any other enemies. Brandon sighed, it pained his heart that Rhoda was dead. He blamed himself. He felt he had ruined her life in the past by raping her and now she's dead in the home he bought for her. "You shouldn't have gone there without me, you should have told me and this wouldn't be happening," Brandon said

Just then they heard Jayden groan softly.

"Mommy" Jayden called as he opened his eyes and Hannah rushed towards him.

"Honey I'm here," Hannah said as she touched his forehead and kissed him.

"How did I get here?" Jayden asked as he managed to sit on the bed with the help of Hannah.

Hannah stared at Brandon and then at Jayden before he finally spoke.

"I found you, I had brought you to the hospital. You're gonna be fine honey. How are you feeling now" Hannah asked as she managed to smile.

"I'm okay mommy,, what about my siblings, are they safe?" Jayden asked and Hannah nodded in response.

Jayden gave out a breath of relief.

"Mommy I know the person that kidnapped me. The woman from the mall the other day said she needed something you have" Jayden said and Brandon raised his eyebrows

The woman from the mall was Rhoda. Did Rhoda kidnap Jayden? Okay, this is making me more confused. Why would Rhoda kidnap Jayden, Brandon thought. Something doesn't feel right.

Just then the doctor walked in and then smiled at Jayden and Hannah.

"I think he's fit to go home now, he just needs enough rest and would be fine," the doctor said and Hannah nodded in response.

"I'll go pay the hospital bills," Brandon said and with that, he walked out of the ward.

Hannah sighed as she stared at his son.

"Honey, you are going to be fine," Hannah said and pulled her son into a hug.

After Brandon had paid the discharge bills, he carried both Hannah and Jayden home in his car.

The moment they got home, they were welcomed by paparazzi at their gate. The security men opened the gate and the car drove in.

His car came to a stop in front of his mansion. He alighted the car and opened the car door for Hannah and Jayden who both climbed out of the car.

Just Liam walked out of the house.

"I rushed here after I heard what happened! How's Jayden?" Liam asked

"He's fine," Hannah said in response.

"Okay, what the hell is going on, and who the hell brought the paparazzi to my gate," Brandon asked

"I think someone tipped them off about what had happened. They believe Rhoda is your mistress and they know that mansion was bought by you, they think you killed her" Micheal said as he walked out of the house and everyone turned to him.

"What?!" Brandon muttered

"It's all over the news already," Liam said and Brandon muttered shit!!

Just then a car drove inside the compound at full speed and an advanced woman alighted the car, carrying a child in her arms.

It was Rosa and her grandchild, David.

"You!! You Hannah!! You put my son in jail and you killed this child's mother" Rosa yelled and Hannah stared at her weirdly.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! Jayden, who was in his mom's hands, saw David.

"David!" He muttered and David muttered his name too. Hannah quickly recognized the child in Rosa's arms, he is her children's friend and she had met him once in school.

"Please take Jayden inside," Hannah said to Micheal, who carried Jayden from Hannah and took him inside the house.

"What are you talking about? I put your son in jail because he kidnapped my kids and as for Rhoda, I didn't kill her, I would never kill anyone" Hannah said and Rosa scoffed and dropped David on the ground.

"Oh spare me that innocent look and words. You were the reason Jeff had thrown Rhoda out of the house, leaving this child without a mother.

That wasn't enough, you had put Jeff in jail and now killed Rhoda. You are going to pay for this if you do not let my son out of jail" Rosa yelled

"Do your worst, Rosa Michelson" Hannah said

"You know what? I do not regret making Jeff divorce you in the past.

I'm glad I paid the nurse to kill all your children immediately after they were born and I paid her to poison you. Luckily you survived but in the process lost your womb.

I'm glad I did all of that and if given that opportunity, I would do it again and again" Rosa yelled and Hannah stared at her speechlessly.

"You! You were the one behind this all those time" Hannah said as she made to move towards Rosa to fight her but Brandon held her.

"You, you will pay for everything you did, I promise you, I only pity this poor child who is with you. You all do not deserve him. I promise you Rosa, I will make you pay for ruining my life" Hannah cried as Brandon held her. TBC

Chapter 94

Hannah is seen in the living room sitting on the couch staring at Brandon who was on a phone call at the other side of the room.

Jessica had taken Jayden upstairs to his room.

So, she was behind all this all this time, Damn. How could she be so heartless? What have I ever done to offend her, I swear to God I will make her pay for everything she did. She wanted me dead. God!, Hannah thought as tears gathered in her eyes.

On the other hand, she began to wonder who had killed Rhoda. She felt her head aching so bad, she closed her eyes trying to rest her head.

"Liam, come to the green room (Study room)" Brandon who was done answering the phone call said and Liam nodded in response.

Immediately they got to the study room, Brandon turned to Liam.

"Do you think she did it? Do you think she killed Rhoda" Brandon asked

"Sir, I'm not sure what to think anymore. Hannah hated Rhoda" Liam said and Brandon sighed softly.

"What do you think sir? Do you think she's capable of such?" Liam asked

"I don't know Liam, but from everything she said I believe she was telling the truth. She had received a text message from Rhoda, she had to go because that is what the text message stated.

But my question is, if she didn't kill her, who did?" Brandon questioned and Just then he heard his phone ring.

It was a call from the chief of police staff, Traven.

"Hello, Jack Traven," Brandon said

"Mr Colby, your name has been cleared off the issue but we have a problem, " Traven said and Brandon wondered what it was.

"What is the problem?" Brandon asked

"After a thorough investigation and all, we found the fingerprint of your wife on the door and a gun that was found in one of these rooms, your wife's fingerprint was found in it and I believe the same gun was used to kill Rhoda, I think your wife killed Rhoda," Traven said and Brandon muttered shit.

"I would call you in a bit, " Brandon said and ended the call and went downstairs to meet Hannah whose eyes were closed, and Micheal was sitting beside her.

"You lied to me!" Brandon yelled and Hannah opened her eyes at once wondering what he was talking about.

"What are you talking about?" Hannah asked with a confused expression on her face

"You lied you didn't have anything to do with Rhoda's death, but you were the one who killed her," Brandon said, obviously angry at her at the moment.

"What? I didn't kill her, I would never do such a thing to her" Hannah said and Brandon scoffed while he shook his head.

"You want to tell me why your fingerprint was found on the gun used in killing Rhoda? You want to explain how that happened?" Brandon said and Hannah became dead silent. She cannot tell them she had seen the gun in Jayden's hands. She knows someone must have put it in his hands, she didn't want to ruin her son's life.

"Brandon, it's not what you think. I swear to God, I didn't do it. I didn't kill her" Hannah said as she stood up and tried moving towards Brandon but then Brandon moved back.

"Don't you dare move close to me! Why did you do it?" Brandon asked with disappointment in her eyes.

"I think I know why" A voice muttered and they all turned to see Grandma Elizabeth.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"I did my investigation on her and I found out she was first married to Jeff but then she was thrown out of the house because Rhoda, her best friend, had gotten pregnant for Jeff and they both had a son together since Hannah couldn't have a child.

She felt betrayed and since then she has planned on revenge by killing Rhoda which she eventually did. You killed that sweet innocent soul" Elizabeth said and Hannah became numb, when she finally regained her composure, she then spoke out.

"I would never do that to Rhoda. Fine, I agree. I never liked her after what she did but I would not kill her" Hannah said and Brandon stared at her angrily. He felt she was still lying after everything.

"I believe her," Micheal said as he stepped forward.

"I have only known Hannah for some time and I can stand and say she's telling the truth. It's obvious Rhoda kidnapped Jayden and I think someone found out about it.

She tried killing whoever found out about it, but the person was quick to kill her and then texted Hannah to frame her. Someone else killed Rhoda," Micheal said and they all stared at him like he was saying nonsense. Hannah stared at Micheal with tears in her eyes, he was the only one who believed her. Brandon, whom she called her husband, didn't even trust her or believe her.

Just then the door burst open revealing the FBI.

"We are here for Mrs. Colby," The FBI said, moving towards Hannah.

"You have the right to remain silent. Anything you say can and will be used against you in a court of law.

You have the right to an attorney. If you can't afford an attorney, one will be provided for you.

You can exercise any of these rights by not responding to my questions, or making any statement.

Do you understand the rights I'm reading to you?" The FBI said as they handcuffed Hannah and took her away. Hannah felt the whole world came crashing down on her.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

The only thing on Hannah's mind was her kids, how would they live without her, who would take care of them in her absence?

Brandon stared at Hannah and looked away. He just couldn't stand the sight of the FBI taking her away. It pained his heart so much.

"Call my lawyers," Brandon said to Liam and walked away.

Micheal stared at Brandon with a look of disappointment on his face. He walked out of the house and Dialed Arianna Mackenzie's contact.

"Hello Micheal, I have been trying to reach you but your phone has been going to voicemails," Arianna said

"I guess it was a network problem. We have a problem ma'am " Arianna said

"Is it about Hannah? I have been trying to reach her for days but she hasn't been answering her phone calls" Arianna said.

"Yes, she's been taken by the FBI," Micheal said

"What??? And what did Brandon do about it?" She asked

"Nothing," Micheal said

"Shit!! I'm on my way to Atlanta now"

The Bitch

Chapter 95

Brandon is seen in his study room staring into nothing when the door bursts open revealing Jessica.

"What do you want?" Brandon asked and Jessica scoffed

"Seriously, you are just going to let the police take her like that and you'll sit here and do nothing," Jessica said Brandon raised his head, and then rested his back on his chair. "She killed someone and even lied about it," Brandon said

"Oh yes, deep down you know the truth that she didn't kill Rhoda. You are just scared to admit the truth.

I'm disappointed in you Brandon, her kids are upstairs in their room sleeping, when they wake up and start asking after their mom, I believe you would provide them one" Jessica said "There's nothing I can do about it, Jessica" Brandon said

"Oh spare me that lie. You are Brandon Colby. I know about your dirty pocket cops, Jack Traven. You could pay him to close the case.

You are capable of getting Hannah released at this moment but you do not want to" Jessica paused as she stared at her brother who would not even say a word to her.

"Need I remind you again, she's your wife Brandon, your wife. You were supposed to trust her and make....."

"Get out Jessica, I do not need lectures from you," Brandon said in a calm, yet deadly tone.

"Brandon....."

"I said get out!" Brandon said, cutting off Jessica's speech. She shot him a deadly glare and walked out of the room angrily.

Just then Liam walked in with his three lawyers and they closed the door to the study room so no one would hear what they were about to discuss.

Meanwhile, Jessica had seen Liam and some of Brandon's lawyers walk into the study room. She wondered why he called his lawyers.

"Is he about to divorce Hannah?" She asked no one in particular.

Just then she heard her phone ring, it was a call from the lab, she had dropped Brandon and the octuplet's DNA samples. She was told the result was out.

She decided to go pick it up herself. She would have sent one of the house help to go pick it but she didn't want anyone to see it, she didn't want Brandon to know she had done a DNA test for him and the kids.

After she took the results, she drove back home immediately because of the kids. She needed to be home before they woke up and surprisingly when she got home, she met the octuplets already awake.

She then dropped the test result without opening it and decided to attend to the children.

"Where is Mommy?" Jayden asked, feeling so tired and weak.

"Uhm, she went out to get something. She would be back in a bit" Jessica lied and the kid nodded in response.

"I'm hungry, Aunt Jessica, " Aubrey said as she yawned.

"I will go get you guys food to eat," Jessica said and with that, she walked out of their room to the kitchen to go prepare some food for them.

Just then Grandma Elizabeth walked inside the kitchen. Jessica turned to her and looked away.

"What are you doing here? Jessica asked

"Nothing, this is my home," she said in response as she walked towards the fridge.

"I thought Brandon threw you out of the house after you tried to kill his wife," Jessica said and Elizabeth closed the fridge and turned to her. "Well, I know I can stay now. She's out of the house for good and she's going to rot in jail. I was thrown out of the house because of her.

Now she's out and I'm in. I wonder whose dream has come true" Elizabeth said and Jessica stared at her angrily.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"Oh, spare me that look. I'm your Grandmother and she's just some sort of pest.

She was after your brother's money and company. And she killed Rhoda because she had slept with her ex-husband Mikealson.

I'm glad she's going to pay for everything by going to jail" Elizabeth said and smiled at Jessica and with that, she walked out of the kitchen.

Jessica wondered if Elizabeth was her grandmother and if she was the one that brought her up, because this woman she was seeing is a heartless monster, she thought and then shook off the thoughts of her from her mind. She wasn't going to let her distract her from taking care of the kids before Hannah gets released.

She checked her phone, to see if there would be any call from Jefferson but there was none.

She had been trying to reach him for days now and he hasn't been answering her phone calls nor returning her calls.

Jessica felt so worried and hoped her boyfriend was okay.

---At the Airport ---

A private jet had just landed. It has the name, Mackenzie on it. A car is seen waiting with two men in suits standing beside the car.

The passenger exit opened and a young lady who was in her fifties climbed down the plane. She was putting on a black shade, even in her fifties one would think that she's in her 30s.

She removed her glasses as she climbed down the plane exit door.

"Welcome ma'am" The two men standing close to the car bowed before her and opened the door for her.

She ignored them and it was unlike her.

She wasn't smiling at them, she was so angry and all that was on her mind at that moment was to get out of this airport and go bail her daughter from jail.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! She entered the car and they closed the car door, both men entered the car.

"Where to ma'am?" The driver asked

"The police Precinct," she said and the driver zoomed off immediately.

Arianna is seen walking out of the station with Hannah beside her, making way to her car.

Paparazzi are seen all over, trying to take pictures of them but Arianna's guard pushes the paparazzi away making way for both Arianna and her daughter.

They both got in the car and Hannah turned to Arianna.

"I didn't kill Rhoda, I swear to God, I didn't," Hannah said and Arianna smiled at her.

"Honey, you don't have to say a word. I believe you, I know you didn't do it. I trust you" Arianna said and Hannah gave out a deep breath.

At least her mom believes her.

"But the police....."

"Honey, the case is closed. They won't try to investigate who did it anymore besides the bitch deserved to die after what she did to you" Arianna said and Hannah scoffed.

"But how did you get the police to close the case?" Hannah asked and Arianna clicked her tongue.

"Honey, are you forgetting I'm Arianna Mackenzie? I once lived here in Atlanta, I run this town, honey, I make the rules of this town, and now I'm back to torture those that harmed you" Arianna said and winked at Hannah who smiled at her. "Especially that bitch, Elizabeth Colby"

Chapter 96

"Especially that bitch, Elizabeth Colby," she thought, and then Hannah hugged her, jolting her out of her thoughts.

"I missed you so much" she pouted and Arianna laughed

"Oh, don't tell me you missed acting like a baby," Arianna said and they both laughed.

"I miss everything mom, I missed having you around. I didn't know you would be coming" Hannah said

"Well, I was worried. I was already at the airport before Micheal called and told me the FBI had taken you. You weren't answering my phone calls" Arianna said and pretended to be angry

"I'm sorry Mom. A lot has happened these past few days" Hannah said and Arianna pouted.

"It's fine, Micheal filled me in about everything. I'm glad everyone is alright" Arianna said with a smile on her face.

"The octuplets will be so happy to see me," Arianna said and Hannah nodded in response.

"We just need to go get them from Brandon's house, " Hannah said feeling so angry.

"I don't want my children close to Brandon. I'm divorcing him once I get my kids back" Hannah said and Arianna felt her heart break into pieces.

"Honey, what happened isn't his fault...."

"Mom, you shouldn't start by defending him again. Why are you always defending him even when he's wrong?

Seems like he never does any wrong in your eyes" Hannah said and Arianna swallowed hard.

"Honey, can we not argue about this? You need enough rest. We will go get the octuplets tomorrow, for now, you need to spend some time alone resting" Arianna said, and just then the car came to a stop in front of a big Mansion. Hannah remembered this building, it was the first place she had come with her octuplets when she newly arrived in Atlanta. She had stayed here before she got into a contract marriage with Brandon.

They both alighted the car and walked inside the house, they were welcomed by the housekeeper, Sandra.

Immediately, Sandra saw Arianna, she moved towards and hugged her.

"Dios mío, Arianna, ¿eres tú? No, me dijiste que venias. te extraño mucho" Sandra said in Spanish and Arianna smiled as she pulled away from the hug.

"Yo también te extrañé, Sandra," Arianna said and Sandra smiled. She was so happy to see Arianna, after so many years.

"Sandra, you know my daughter,..."

"Yeah, I do. I have met her and the octuplets. They stayed here before she got married" Sandra said and Arianna smiled

"Oh yes, I forgot about that," Arianna said and they all laughed.

"Hello, Ma'am" Hannah smiled at Sandra

"Where's the octuplets?" Sandra asked

"Oh, they are with their father, Hannah's husband, " Arianna said and Hannah rolled her eyes.

"Food is ready, you should go upstairs and change then come downstairs for dinner," Sandra said and they both nodded before walking upstairs to their room.

"I didn't know Sandra could speak Spanish," Hannah said

"She's from Venezuela, she speaks it a lot. She just barely speaks it since she came to Atlanta because the people here seem to only understand English" she said and Hannah muttered "Oh" "Well, I tried teaching you Spanish but you just didn't want to learn," Arianna said and Hannah laughed

"Common, go take your bath and come downstairs. I'll do the same. I'm expecting someone" Arianna said and Hannah asked who.

"Some friends from the white house," Arianna said and Hannah nodded in response before walking inside her room to take her bath and dress up.

Brandon is seen in the study room, answering a phone call when Liam walked in. He had walked the lawyers out, they just left not quite long.

They had discussed and he planned to get Hannah out of jail by tomorrow morning. He had spoken to his pocket cops to make sure Hannah was okay and comfortable.

"You might want to see this," Liam said as he picked up the remote and switched on the TV.

Hannah could be seen on Tv, with a woman in glasses beside her, while men in black could be seen pushing the paparazzi away.

"She's out of prison?" Brandon muttered as he turned to Liam.

"Seems like it, someone went to her bail her out," Liam said

"But Traven said she was still in prison," Brandon said

"Except, he didn't know she was bailed out" Liam responded. Brandon brought out his phone and called Traven.

"I was just about to call you now. I just heard your wife has been bailed and the case has been closed" Traven said over the phone.

"What? That's a murderer case. It takes an upper hand to get it closed" Brandon said

"Well, I think whoever asked the case to be close has some connection with the White House," Traven said and Brandon raised his eyebrows surprised "Any idea who came to bail her?" Brandon asked

"Yes, it's her mother, Arianna Mackenzie," Traven said in response and Brandon nodded before ending the call.

"Arianna Mackenzie," Brandon said to Liam as he dropped his phone on the table.

"Never heard of that name before," Liam said and Brandon sighed softly.

"I thought her mother was in New York. This means only one thing, she's back in Atlanta " Brandon said and then scoffed.

He brought out his phone to call Hannah but it wasn't going through. Her phone was entering voicemail.

Just then the door to his study room burst open revealing the octuplets.

Both Brandon and Liam stared at each other and then at the kids.

"What's wrong?" Brandon muttered and Jessica walked in.

"Oh Brandon, since you sent Hannah on an errand, you should help her take care of her kids too.

I'm off to bed" Jessica said

"What about the maids and the Nannies?" he asked

"Remember, you told Alex to dismiss all of them," Jessica said and with that, she walked out of the study room, to her room and locked the door from the inside. Brandon stared at Liam who shrugged and with that, he also walked out of the study room.

"Daddy, is anything the problem?" Aubrey asked

"Of course not," Brandon said as he forced himself to smile.

"Daddy I'm so hungry, I need strawberries," Allison said

"Daddy, I'm hungry too, I need to eat pasta and cheese like the one mommy usually prepared," Addison added

"Daddy, my leg aches, I need a thorough massage," Audrey said and sat on the floor

"Daddy, I need to play a game. My iPad has broken, I need a new one" Jamie said

"Daddy, we need to take our bath, there's no one to help us," Jasper said

Oh, God. I'm so dead. Now I regret letting the police take Hannah away, Brandon thought as he felt like he was about to cry.

"Daddy, I need Fried chicken and sauce, as the one mommy prepares for us," Jayden said and Brandon touched his forehead while staring at them not knowing where to start. "I'm going to kill you Jessica!" he muttered slowly.

He decided to yell at them, maybe they will go back to their room if he shouts at them, he thought.

"Go back to your room now!" He yelled and to his surprise, instead of the kids leaving, they burst into tears and started screaming and Brandon quickly closed his ears. "Oh, God! What have I gotten myself into"

I'm going to marry her

Chapter 97

Brandon is seen sitting on a couch in the kids' room while he watches them sleep.

"Finally" he muttered. He was glad they had gone to sleep already. The kids had been stressing the daylight out of him. He regrets why he had allowed the police to take Hannah away.

Now, he knows what Hannah passes through to take care of her kids. He sighed softly as he walked out of their room and closed the door.

He turned and saw his grandmother walking towards him.

"Whatever you have to say, save it to yourself, I'm not interested," he said and Elizabeth rolled her eyes.

"I know she's out of prison. Saw it on the news. Are you sure it was her mother who got her out of prison or her rich boyfriend?"

Because from my investigation, Hannah has no parents. Her mother and father had died which means she's an orphan" Elizabeth said and Brandon turned to her.

He sighed without saying a word and was about to walk away when Elizabeth spoke again making him stop.

"What are you going to do with her kids?" Elizabeth asked

"Can you stop asking stupid questions, all this is none of your concern. You should learn to mind your business" Brandon said

"Oh common Brandon, I'm only trying to look out for you. At the end of the day it's just us family you got" Elizabeth said and Brandon scoffed

"Family, you say? You should have thought about that before trying to kill Hannah" he said and turned to walk away when he suddenly paused and turned to her.

"You know what? I should have thrown you in prison when I had the chance. You are just a waste of a human who won't stop thinking evil. I wonder how you became my grandmother" Brandon said and Elizabeth rolled her eyes. "At least, I wasn't the one who stood and let the police take my wife away," Elizabeth said and Brandon gave her a deadly glare.

"I have got to rest. I miss my bed... Good night" Elizabeth said and walked away, while Brandon walked inside his room, which was also Hannah's room.

Immediately, he entered the room, he could smell Hannah's scent. He closed his eyes imagining her presence in the room. He doesn't know why, he suddenly misses her so much.

I wasn't supposed to feel this way right? I am not supposed to miss her, what's this feeling I'm getting that I cannot explain, he asked himself.

Just then he walked out of the room to his study room. He wasn't going to sleep in Hannah's room, he thought,

Immediately, he walked inside the study room, he met Liam sitting on the couch.

"I thought you had left," he asked as he made his way to his chair.

"I didn't feel like leaving, felt you needed someone to keep you company. Are the kids asleep yet?" Liam asked

"Yes...Do you think I'm a bad person, Liam?" Brandon asked

"Why," Liam asked in Respond

"I don't know, Liam. I let the police take my wife away without doing anything even when I knew I could do something to prevent that.

That makes me a bad person right? I know it does. Her kids are there, missing her, and I cannot even tell them their mommy was arrested by the police" Brandon paused and Liam sighed "She killed Rhoda," Liam said

"We are not sure for certain if she did it. The fact that her fingerprints were on the gun doesn't mean she did it" Brandon said as he stood up and poured himself and Liam a glass of drink. "You shouldn't shy away from the truth, Brandon. Whatever proof the police found cannot be fake.

She hated Rhoda because she slept with her Ex husband and betrayed her. She didn't expect Rhoda to betray her because they were best friends.

Look at it from this angle, she killed her to get revenge for what she did to her" Liam said and Brandon stared at him without saying a word. "Hannah is a mother of eight kids, I do not believe she would do it," Brandon said and Liam rolled his eyes.

He wondered why Brandon was so defensive over Hannah all of a sudden. He had let the police take her away without doing anything. "I'll get to the bottom of this. I will find out who killed Rhoda" Brandon said

"You're just gonna waste your money, Brandon. Hannah was the last person found in the house" Liam said

"Doesn't make her a killer. And I don't care, I'll find who the killer is" Brandon said

"Ptfff, Don't say I didn't tell you," Liam said as he drank another glass of Alcohol.

He was already feeling drunk and sober.

He stared at Brandon as tears gathered in his eyes. He and Brandon have been friends for eternity and he had betrayed him and his family.

They were supposed to be best friends and never keep anything from each other. They were supposed to protect each other but now he betrayed him.

He wondered if he would ever forgive him when he finds out about what he's done.

A Blacked car is seen parked at the back of the prison gate. A man putting on a black suit is seen standing close to the car.

A police officer is seen escorting Jeff out of the station.

Immediately, Jeff saw the man in a suit standing beside his car, a smile spread on his lips.

He walked towards the man, shook hands with him, and pulled him into a hug.

"Thank you, Mr. Samuel, thank you for bailing me out," Jeff said and Samuel smiled at him.

"Anything for an old friend," Samuel said and Jeff smiled.

"So, what's your next plan, now that you are out?" Samuel asked

"I'm going to go after Brandon and his entire property, I'm going to make him and Hannah pay for sending me to prison, " Jeff said feeling so angry.

"How do you intend on going after Brandon? We both know Brandon is always a step ahead and no one's goes after him and comes back successful" Samuel said

"Well, this time I'll be successful because I have a better plan and no one will see this coming," Jeff said with a smile on his face.

"Hmmm, What plan?" Samuel asked

"I'm going to marry his younger sister, Jessica"

Hello Son

Chapter 98

It was morning and Hannah had woken up so early and gotten dressed. She was going to visit Colby's mansion and take her kids then send over the divorce paper to Brandon.

She missed her kids so much and couldn't wait to see them.

Hannah had walked out of her room and went downstairs for breakfast when she met Arianna putting on a white robe, with a cup of coffee in her hands. While she sat in the dining room, staring at her phone, looking so beautiful. "Good morning Mom" Hannah muttered as she walked towards Arianna and kissed her cheeks.

"Good morning honey, are you going somewhere?" Arianna asked as Hannah joined her at the dining table and Sandra brought a cup of coffee for Hannah too.

"Thank you, Sandra," Hannah said and turned to her mom.

"Mommy, don't tell me you forgot so quickly," Hannah said and Arianna stared at her with a confused expression on her face.

"Mom!!!!!! I told you we were going to get my kids today" Hannah said and Arianna clicked her tongue.

"Oh my goodness! I almost forgot, I'm so sorry" Arianna said and Hannah rolled her eyes.

"This isn't the first time you've forgotten something that important before. You should get dressed so we can get there in time. I miss my kids so much, I wonder if they've eaten" Hannah said and sighed softly.

"Honey, isn't it too early and we don't have to go get them today? I'm sure they are fine and Brandon must be taking good care of them" Arianna said and Hannah frowned.

"Mom, Brandon sucks at taking care of kids. He was the reason the kids got kidnapped in the first place. He's the reason for all this mess" Hannah said angry at Brandon.

"Honey, It's not his fault....."

"Mom, can you quit defending him all the time? Shit!! Just go put on something nice so we can go get the kids" Hannah said and Arianna nodded in response before standing up.

She walked away from the dining area, climbed the stairs, and walked inside her room. She stood in front of the mirror and took a deep breath.

"You are strong, Arianna. You are ready for this, everything is going to be fine" she said to herself as she stared at her reflection in the mirror: she exhaled deeply and untied her robe, letting it fall freely before walking inside the bathroom to take her bath.

Arianna is seen climbing down the stairs, looking as beautiful as ever.

"Woah! We are only going to pick the kids Mom" Hannah smiled as she saw how beautiful her mommy was looking.

Hannah stood up and walked towards her mom.

"How do I look?" Arianna asked nervously

"You look fantastic mom, are you going somewhere else after we pick up the kids?" Hannah asked with a wink.

"No no, of course not," Arianna said and Hannah scoffed

"Common Mommy, tell me the truth. You've got a new boyfriend here in Atlanta.

Oh my goodness! Mom, so quick. I wouldn't blame you, you are so hot and any man would want you" Hannah said and Arianna felt her cheeks turn red.

"Stop teasing me, Cinderella, we both know I'm so single. The men I tried dating in my past are assholes, so I just choose to remain single and be happy" Arianna said and they both burst into laughter.

"You know, I miss this so much, where we would talk, have fun, and all. I'm glad you are back in Atlanta now mom, now everything can finally go back to normal" Hannah said and Arianna smiled

"I hope so," she said as tears gathered in her eyes. She couldn't hold the tears anymore, she just had to let go.

"Mom, what's wrong? Why are you crying? Did I say something wrong?" Hannah asked

"No honey, no. I just miss you so much that's Why" Arianna said and hugged Hannah.

"Honey, no matter what happens just know I love you so much," Arianna said and Hannah pulled away from the hug.

"Okay, stop this is. Don't tell me you are about to die!" Hannah said and Arianna laughed

"Of course not. I'm fine. I just want you to know I love you, that's all" Arianna said and Hannah rolled her eyes.

"And I love you too, I love you so much," Hannah said and kissed Arianna on her cheeks.

"Now let's go," she said and walked out of the house. Arianna smiled and trailed behind her.

They both hopped inside the car.

"The visitors you were expecting last night, I didn't see them," Hannah asked as she wore her seat belt.

"Oh, they came, but you were already asleep. They were friends from the White House. When they heard I came they decided to come to visit me.

You were asleep when they came, I didn't want to disturb your precious sleep" Arianna said and Hannah nodded in response.

She ignited the engine and zoomed off.

A Black Lamborghini screeched to a halt in front of Colby's mansion. Hannah alighted the car same as Arianna.

Arianna stared at the big mansion in front of her and suddenly she felt her heartbeat increase.

Lots of blood flowed through her veins giving her chills. Lots of thoughts going through her mind.

She was lost staring at the building when Hannah touched her hands, jolting her out of her thoughts.

"What's wrong Mommy? You look nervous" Hannah said

"Nothing, I...The mansion is so huge" Arianna said and Hannah laughed

"Welcome to the Colby's mansion. You would be marveled by the inside, Common mommy, let's go inside" Hannah said and Arianna nodded as they both walked inside.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey! Immediately, they walked in, everywhere was so silent. Hannah wondered where everyone was. She was sure Brandon must have gone to the office already.

"I'll go bring the kids, they will be so excited to see you," Hannah said as she walked upstairs to her kid's room.

Arianna sighed softly as she turned scrutinizing the whole place.

"This looks so different from the last time I was here," she thought, admiring the place with a smile on her face.

Just then Grandma Elizabeth is seen walking out of the kitchen, holding a cup of coffee in her hands, when she suddenly sees a female figure standing in the sitting room, staring at everywhere. The figure looked so classy and beautiful from behind.

"Don't tell me Jessica brought one of her slutty friends again" Elizabeth muttered as she walked towards Arianna, who turned to her swiftly.

"Camilla" Elizabeth called out with shock in her eyes.

"Hello, Elizabeth. You miss me?" Arianna said in response with an evil smirk on her face and Elizabeth on the other hand, her face had turned soured like she's seen her greatest nightmare. Brandon is seen climbing down the stairs with Liam beside him while they kept talking about work.

They suddenly saw Grandma Elizabeth and a female figure who looked familiar talking to each other. The looks on Grandma Elizabeth's face were weird.

Brandon wondered who the woman speaking to her was and what she was telling Elizabeth that made her face look so sour.

"Brandon...." Elizabeth called out immediately after she saw Brandon walking towards them.

Arianna Swallowed hard and took a deep breath before turning to Brandon.

"Hello, Son," Arianna muttered with a smile on her face.

"Mom!!"

What is going on here?

Chapter 99

"Hello, Son," Arianna muttered with a smile on her face.

"Mom!!" Brandon called out with shock on his face. He opened his mouth to say a word but words weren't coming out.

It was his biological mom, Camilla Colby Montez standing in front of him. He felt like he was daydreaming, but it was real.

He stared at his mother who was standing in front him, speechlessly. One minute he was looking for his mom and another minute his mom was standing in front of him smiling at him. She looked so different from the last time Brandon had seen her. She looked more than beautiful.

"Brandon, I know you have a lot of questions and all. I can explain. You've got every right to hate me but I can explain I promise, just give me the chance to" Arianna said and Brandon scoffed.

"Where have you been all these years? I have been searching for you thinking you might be in trouble or something has happened to you" Brandon paused as he stared at her from her head down to her toes and then continued. "But you seem okay and are probably fine. Tell me the truth, those times I have been looking for you, you knew, you just didn't want to be found" Brandon said and Arianna sighed softly without saying a word.

"It was for your own good Brandon. Finding me would have put your life in danger" Arianna said and Brandon chuckled, Arianna could feel the pain in his voice.

"What the hell are you talking about?" Brandon asked

"Some people had been after my life for a very long time," Arianna said and stared At Elizabeth who was still staring at her with shock in his eyes.

She thought Hannah had died, she saw to that, how come she was alive? she thought.

"What people? You could have come to me but instead, you left me and my sister, you abandoned us" Brandon yelled and Arianna swallowed hard

"Honey, you have every right to hate me. But I never abandoned you and your sister. I was running for my life, every moment I spent with you and your sister put your guy's life in danger.

I had to fake my death and leave the country" Arianna said and Brandon closed his eyes and opened his eyes.

He didn't believe a word that Arianna was saying, he felt she was lying to him.

"And who the hell was after your life?" Brandon asked

"Your father," Arianna said in response and Brandon laughed.

"Father loved you so much and would never try to kill you, you were the one who left," Brandon said and Arianna shook her head.

"Yes Brandon, your father loved me but did you ever know that your father is a mafia lord? And runs one of the biggest drug cartel in Europe. He's a dangerous man, Brandon" Arianna said and Brandon stared at her with a confused expression on his face.

"You know what? Why don't you take your lies somewhere else and just leave? I do not wish to see you anymore, just leave" Brandon said and was about to walk away when Arianna spoke, making him stop.

"Brandon, please," Arianna said as tears gathered in her eyes. Brandon turned to her swiftly.

"Why did you even come back? Why? After all these years, why come back now? Just leave and get out and never return. We are doing just fine without you. You should go back to where you came from, I do not need you anymore" Brandon yelled at Arianna who flinched.

She blinked out tears from her eyes while staring at her son. She thought he would be so happy to see her again after years of trying to find her but it was the complete opposite.

Hannah on the other hand was with Jessica and her kids in the the room when she heard voices from downstairs.

"I'll go check who's that. Stay with the kids" Hannah said and Jessica nodded in response.

Hannah walked out of the room and went downstairs only to see Brandon yelling at her mom, telling her to leave.

"What the fuck!" Hannah muttered angrily and moved towards Brandon.

"How dare you disrespect my mom and ask her to leave? You disrespected me by sending me to jail for a crime I didn't commit, at least you should learn to respect my mom" Hannah said and Brandon stared at Hannah confused. "What the hell are you talking about?" Brandon asked, staring at Arianna, who swallowed hard looking nervous.

Hannah rolled her eyes at Brandon.

"This is my mom, Arianna Mackenzie, now show some respect before I force you to," Hannah said and everyone opened their eyes in shock.

Just a heads up: is the only place to read the complete version of this book for free. Don't miss out on the next chapter-visit us now and continue your journey!

"Okay, what in the name of god is going on here?" Brandon asked looking more than confused, wondering why Hannah was calling his mom, her mother.

Hannah stared at Brandon confused.

"Nothing is going on, this is my mom, you should apologize for being disrespectful just now," Hannah said putting her hands akimbo.

"You don't just stand there and stare, what the fuck is she talking about?" Brandon asked and Arianna sighed softly.

"I think it's high time you all know the truth..." Arianna paused and stared at Hannah. She knows what she was about to say would break Hannah's heart so much. "What truth Mom?" Hannah asked, confused.

"First of all, you should know my real name isn't Arianna Mackenzie. My name is Camilla Colby Montez and I am Brandon's Biological mother" Arianna said and Hannah opened her eyes wide in shock. "What?" She muttered

"Honey, I know what you are thinking. I can explain" Arianna said

"Go on, start explaining why the hell, she is calling you mom," Brandon said and Arianna sighed softly.

"Brandon, you should know that the octuplets are your Biological kids and Hannah was the young lady you had raped years ago on your birthday night," Arianna said and Brandon moved back a bit. "What?!!!"

We are leaving the country

Chapter 100

Jessica is seen in the kid's room talking to the octuplets.

"We did everything you asked us to do yesterday. We gave Brandon a hard time and stressed him big time like you asked us to, so can you please show us what the DNA test result says?" Jayden said and Jessica hummed. The octuplets had been asking after the DNA test results but she had told them she would give them the result on one condition.

Her plan wasn't to give them easily, not after what they did to her. So she asked them to give Brandon a hard time yesterday and make him do whatever they wanted which they did.

It was only fair if she showed them because they had done what she asked them to.

She brought out the envelope from her pocket and the kids stared at her eagerly waiting to see what the result says.

"Have you checked it before? What does it say?" Allison asked, looking nervous.

"I haven't," Jessica said and sighed.

"What if the result says he's not your father?" Jessica asked

"Not bad, at least he's still our father, so a win is a win," Aubrey said and Jessica chuckled as she opened the envelope.

She tore it and brought out the result. She stared at what the result said and then at the kids.

"Oh my goodness!" She muttered as she stared at what the result said. The octuplets were Brandon's biological kids.

The kids look so much like Brandon, this explains Everything! Why didn't even think of that, What the heck! she thought to herself.

"What does the result say?" Jamie asked

"Uhm, I think there's a mistake, I would call the doctor and confirm something. No one moves till I come back" Jessica said and with that, she walked out of the room with the test result in her hands. She locked the door behind her and rested her back on the wall, not believing what she had seen on the paper.

The octuplets were Hannah's and Brandon's Biological children, she thought.

Just then she heard noises from the living room, she decided to see what was happening.

"Brandon, you should know that the octuplets are your Biological kids and Hannah was the young lady you had raped years ago on your birthday night," Arianna said and Brandon moved back a bit. "What?" They all voiced out in shock

"What the hell are you talking about? The woman I raped was Rhoda and she had just died a few days ago, so I do not know what the hell you are talking about" Brandon said and Arianna sighed softly.

"I'm telling the truth, Brandon. The octuplets are your biological kids. Are you so dumb that you can't see how much they look like you?" Arianna said and Hannah scoffed

"Mom, this is a joke right?" Hannah said as she laughed and Arianna stared at her with tears in her eyes.

"No honey. It's the truth" she said and Hannah paused, staring at Arianna who was now staring at Brandon.

"I know I left, Brandon. I left because your father was trying to kill me. When everything was finally over, I decided to come home.

It was your 24th birthday when I decided to come home and surprise you" Arianna paused as tears slipped down her cheeks.

"I had just got to Atlanta when I found out what you did. You raped an innocent lady and dumped her on the street.

I had to take over from there and save Hannah's life. If I hadn't saved her life, she would be dead by now.

I had to clean up your mess and make sure she was okay. Then I found out she was pregnant, she had wanted to remove the baby but I asked her not to. She kept the children. Brandon, the octuplets are your biological kids and Hannah is the lady you raped years ago" Arianna said and Brandon stared at Hannah whom tears were slipping down her cheeks.

Everyone in the room had become so silent as they were left speechless by what Arianna had said.

Arianna turned to Hannah and tried touching her but she moved back.

"Hannah please," Arianna said and Hannah shook her head.

"You lied to me, you lied to me," Hannah said as she felt the whole world come crashing down on her. She felt the world was coming to an end.

Those times Arianna was being nice to her, she thought she was just being nice but she was trying to clean up the mess her son did, the thought of everything alone made her feel heart broken.

"I'm sorry, I was trying to protect you," Arianna said and Hannah laughed with tears in her eyes.

"Protect me? I trusted you, I believed every fucking word you told me. I never knew your son was the one who had forced himself on me, that night" Hannah said as she turned to Brandon, memories of that night came running inside her head like a flash.

As she stared at Brandon, all she could see was him forcing himself on her. She remembered how she cried that night, begging him to stop, it was a painful memory. She had tried to bury it all these years, but now the memory had just resurfaced again.

It hurts, she thought to herself.

"Hannah, I didn't just help you because of what my son did. I helped you because you were also the little girl who saved my life years ago.

But trust me, you are my daughter and I'll always be your mother" Arianna said with tears in her eyes.

"Oh yes, tell me more lies.... And the company never had any sort of challenges, it was never going bankrupt. You lied so I would come to Atlanta " Hannah said as she realized the whole truth. Arianna had planned everything. "Yes, it was never going bankrupt. I felt it was time for Brandon to meet his kids and you, so I lied the company had some crisis and only Brandon could help" Arianna said and Hannah stared at her speechlessly. "What other lies did you tell me?" Hannah asked

"Hannah please, you do not want to do this, please I'm sorry, I had to do what I needed to do," Arianna said and Hannah scoffed.

"This family, you all are a bunch of liars and manipulators. And now I'm going to do what I was supposed to do years ago" She paused and then turned to Brandon.

"My lawyers will be sending the divorce papers," Hannah said and walked past Jessica who was standing by the stairs watching everything take place.

She walked to her kids room and met them sitting while talking.

"Mommy, what's wrong?" The octuplets asked as they turned to Hannah. They noticed her eyes were all red like she had cried.

"Nothing sweethearts. I'm okay" Hannah said in response and the kids nodded.

Hannah walked towards their wardrobe and started packing her children's clothes inside their luggage.

"Mommy, are we leaving?" Jayden asked

"Yes honey, we are leaving the country"
