

Clan Cultivation 48

Chapter 48

Saying goodbye to the Great Elder, the two left.

"Xiaoxue, you have already established the foundation. Even if you go to the Danyang faction, it is very safe. When the foundation is established, you can no longer take your body!" Lu Xuanji said, "Instead, it will be taken seriously."

"There are many factions within the Danyang faction, and there are constant internal struggles and disputes. If I join the Danyang faction, I will inevitably fall into various disputes and calculations. I can't say that I will become cannon fodder and die in the calculations of some people. It is comparable to the Lu family's safety and freedom. ."

Ye Feixue spoke very freely.

Lu Xuanji was stunned.

This kind of feeling is as if someone would rather be self-employed and work for themselves than work for the Fortune 500 and go to be angry with foreigners.

"Actually, these are not reasons. The real reason is that I can't bear you. If I joined the Danyang faction and didn't see each other for ten or twenty years, then I would be afraid that I would forget you." Ye Feixue said, approaching Lu Xuanji, the distance is getting closer.

From twenty centimeters to ten centimeters.

In the end, leaning close to the body, feeling the heartbeat, feeling the breath that is close at hand, feeling the familiar breath.

Ye Feixue seemed to be drunk and fell into a dream, "Because of you, the world has value. Because of you, I feel that I am alive. Only with you can life have value and I will be happy. If one day, you leave, even if you become the ancestor of Jindan, what's the point."

Saying that, he didn't bear it any longer, and went straight to kiss him.

Take the initiative to attack without any hesitation.

It was this man who brought her out of the quagmire and into a whole new world.

This man is her light and her sun.

In the past moments, she has always been inferior and has an indescribable silence.

But at the moment of stepping into the foundation building, his courage continued to grow, he became crazy, and he kissed directly.

His face was blushing, and he closed his eyes to hide the embarrassment in his heart.

Feeling the kiss and the beauty, Lu Xuanji frowned slightly, and was about to push away subconsciously.

They have been with each other for more than 20 years. Because they are too close, it is difficult for Lu Xuanji to throb and fall in love with Xiaoxue.

During the years of getting along with each other, at first, they were raised as daughters; later, they were raised as sisters.

But it is difficult to produce love between men and women.

Probably too close.

Too close to produce beauty.

Subconsciously, he was about to push away, but the moment he pushed away, it stopped.

Pushing it away like this will hurt Koyuki.

Kissing, lingering.

After a while, the two separated.

Ye Feixue's face was flushed, and she seemed a little shy, but she just kept calm.

"Xiaoxue, you rejected Fairy Qingxue, it's very dangerous."

Lu Xuanji began to change the subject, talking about another incident, which was a reminder for her.

"I rejected her, and the Danyang faction will send someone to kill me." Ye Feixue said with a smile.

"That's not true. The weak use knives to kill, and the strong use rules to kill." Lu Xuanji said, as if recalling something, and said, "The strong make rules, and naturally they won't break their own rules in order to kill someone. He slaps himself in the face. Instead, he uses various rules to kill people."

"Why can't the cultivation families near the Danyang Sect develop? First of all, they constantly exploit the cultivation families in terms of resources; secondly, they absorb a large number of talents from the cultivation families; and finally, they continue to fight against the demon clan and the demon cultivators. , Our family cultivators are sent to the front line, in the most dangerous places, to fight the most tragic battles. Every time the war ends, the cultivation family suffers heavy losses, and many cultivators are either seriously injured or fallen."

"But can we say that the Danyang faction is a fake public benefit and deliberately attacking the Xiuxian family? No. It is the responsibility of the monks to resist the demon clan and protect the territory. Besides, in those dangerous areas, there are also monks from the Danyang faction fighting * battles, and some monks from the Danyang faction are dying. The Danyang faction also suffered heavy losses."

"After the cultivators of the Xiuxian family are killed in battle, the Foundation Establishment cultivator will give compensation to the Foundation Establishment Dan, and the Zifu cultivator will give Ziyang Jade as compensation. During this process, the Danyang faction does things that are reasonable and in line with the rules. Something wrong."

But it seems reasonable and reasonable, but in fact it is the biggest unreasonable.

It's like the Danyang faction, recruiting cultivators to go out, using the demon clan to consume the power of the major immortal clans, consume the opposition within the Danyang faction, and do things reasonably and in accordance with the rules. This is Chi Guoguo's conspiracy.

No one can raise objections.

In other words, if the objection is not on the table, it is shameful to say it.

"Brother, I rejected Fairy Qingxue. The Danyang faction will send us to some dangerous areas next time during the beast tide." Ye Feixue said. .

"It's inevitable."

Lu Xuanji said: "If the Danyang faction does not suppress the development of those immortal clans, gradually, the immortal clan will inevitably threaten the status of the giants of the Danyang faction. But the same Danyang faction will also refrain from pushing the immortal clan into force. On the way to a dead end, it will be fair to do things. Without those cultivating families to share the pressure, the Danyang faction will also lose a lot."

"Fortunately, the Ye family, the Wu family, etc. have the ancestors of the Zifu, and there are dozens of masters of foundation building. They are the first to attack the opponents of the Danyang faction. a little."

In order to give Ye Feixue an accurate understanding and avoid misjudgment due to prejudice, Lu Xuanji did not overly belittle or discredit the Danyang faction, but gave a relatively objective and fair evaluation.

For the Danyang faction, the Lu family's feelings are complicated.

On the one hand, the Danyang faction is an umbrella to protect the Lu family.

The Danyang faction is the main force in the fight against monsters and demons. Because of the deterrence of the Danyang faction, the Lu family can safely farm and develop their industries.

The Danyang faction formulated the rules and established order in the twelve counties of the Chu State, ending the chaos and disorder in the cultivation world and maintaining relative stability. The competition and infighting among the cultivators are all limited by the rules, instead of destroying and killing people at will, as in the past, there is no order at all.

At this point, the Lu family should thank the Danyang faction.

On the other hand, the Danyang faction is constantly sucking blood from the twelve counties, concentrating talents, suppressing some immortal clans, and using the war to keep reducing the number of immortal clans, resulting in many immortal immortal clans failing to develop.

This again made the Lu family itch with hatred.

The emotional changes in it require careful consideration.

For the Danyang faction, we must grasp a measure, not too close, because it will be eaten and killed, referring to the beautiful country in the previous life; but it should not be too far away, because the Danyang faction is the master of the nearby forces, and a policy will It can lead to the rise of countless families, or to decline.
