

Clan Cultivation 56

Chapter 56

Huhuhu!

Lu Xuanji gasped slightly.

The strong enemy was killed, and only then did he breathe a sigh of relief and let go of the tension and anxiety in his heart.

At this moment, the pressure disappeared, and I felt extremely tired.

It's not just exhaustion, the infuriating energy in the body is not enough at the peak moment.

But before he could rest, Lu Xuanji waved his hand and took out the storage bag to examine it carefully. There were ten volumes of Taoism books, five thousand spirit stones, three thousand kilograms of spirit rice, other clothes, materials, and so on.

He directly took ten volumes of Taoist books, and put five thousand spiritual stones in his pocket. Three thousand spiritual rice was collected, and the rest were discarded on the spot.

Then the spirit fire technique was activated, and the fire was burning, burning Wu Quanwen's body, clothes, storage bags and so on.

After ten breaths, Wu Quanwen's body disappeared, and a cloud of ashes appeared on the ground.

Another strong wind blew, scattered into the heaven and earth, and disappeared.

Just like this, the corpse was destroyed, leaving no trace.

The figure flickered, and Lu Xuanji disappeared.

Three days later, a teenager appeared here, and there was a middle-aged man, but the young man was in the front, but the middle-aged man was behind.

This young man is the head of the Wu family.

"Patriarch, two days ago, Elder Zai, who guarded the Elder Hall, noticed that Elder Wu Quanwen's soul lamp was extinguished, and he seemed to be killed by a powerful enemy. At that time, Elder Wu Quanwen happened to be sitting in Beiyanfang City. Realm. But when we forcibly opened the cave, there was no one in the cave."

"Then I used the search compass to search for the breath here, and I felt the breath of Elder Wu Quanwen here. There are traces of war here, there are traces of the explosion of the Purple Thunder Talisman, and Elder Wu Quanwen was burned to ashes, and Metal remains after the storage bag was incinerated."

The middle-aged man reported, talking about the information he had found out.

After three days, the traces here have disappeared.

The remaining traces are also vague.

Much evidence is clearly insufficient.

But the middle-aged man still deduced a lot of information, which perfectly restored the battle scene at that time.

The middle-aged man continued: "Here, there is the breath of the Heavenly Fire Art, and the breath of the Spring Breeze Wood Spirit Art...According to speculation, the Lu family has cultivated these two great supernatural powers. According to my speculation, the Lu family cultivator may be the murderer. ."

The head of the Wu clan said: "But I remember that there are true disciples of the Danyang School who have practiced the Heavenly Fire Art, the Spring Breeze Wood Spirit Art, and even some loose practitioners."

"We don't have clear evidence."

"We don't have any evidence, but the Wu family needs evidence to act." The middle-aged man said domineeringly, "The Lu family has the greatest suspicion."

He's not a catcher, so what do you need?

You only need a reason for suspicion, and you can kill.

"A monk doesn't need a reason to kill, but he needs an excuse, and he has to weigh the pros and cons. If it gets bigger, it will be bad for my Wu family."

The head of the Wu family sighed.

The Wu family has 18 foundation builders, as well as an ancestor of the Zi family. The family power is huge, far surpassing the Lu family.

If things got too big, and intimidating Chang Yuanshan would indeed overwhelm the Lu family.

But when things got bigger, it wasn't good for the Wu family.

What the world will think of the Wu family, killing people and stealing treasures is all it takes, and bullying their former allies will inevitably leave a reputation for domineering.

The reputation of domineering is extremely bad for the Wu family.

The Wu family only has an ancestor of the Zifu. Among the many aristocratic families in the Chu country, it is nothing. It is neither powerful nor domineering.

There is no domineering strength, but it is domineering. This is the way to bring disaster.

"Wu Quanwen, why don't you stay in Fangshi, but come here? It's not to kill people and get treasures. Seeing that there are too many treasures and spiritual stones, I want to kill fat sheep, but I meet a ruthless character on the way. , was killed on the way." The patriarch said indifferently, "If the matter becomes a big one, it will involve a big problem, and the trouble will free up my Wu family cultivator to intercept the guests and damage the reputation of Fangshi."

"That's enough. Let's just say that he encountered the tenth-ranked Red Dust Witch and died after being picked up... Add 3,000 spirit stones as a bounty for hunting down. As for Wu Quanwen's descendants, there is no pension... If they want to Ask why, and tell the truth."

The patriarch flashed a flash of anger.

Turn around and leave.

Killing people and stealing treasures is an unspoken rule in the cultivation world.

As the saying goes, horses are not without grass and fat, and people are not rich without windfalls.

Murder and set fire to the golden belt, repair bridges and repair roads without bones.

Many monks have gray income;

Even the family has some black gloves.

However, it is expressly forbidden to intercept guests. After all, you just bought something at your house, and you kill it when you go out. Even a magic cultivator can't do such a thing, and it's shameless. For the behavior of intercepting guests, the major families are severely punished, some expel the family, and some are directly executed.

Now Wu Quanwen failed to kill and seize the treasure, but died instead.

The so-called severe punishment is also unnecessary.

But the pension will not be given either, because it is not necessary.

As for the cause of death, he had to hide it for him and died from a certain devil. Anyway, the devil is a wanted criminal, and he has done a lot of bad things, so it doesn't matter if you add another crime.

Brush brush!

With a flickering figure, Lu Xuanji had already left.

After walking thousands of miles, he came to live in a small town.

When I got to the inn, I paid the money and lived in it, I was relieved.

Killing the cultivator of the Wu family, no matter what the reason, will bring trouble.

Fortunately, Ye Fan was the one who killed him. I don't care what happened to Lu Xuanji.

Removing his distracting thoughts, Lu Xuanji opened the storage bag and took out ten volumes of Taoist books just looking at it roughly, there are alchemy experience, Taoist exercises, some secret techniques, etc., It's just a casual look, but I don't plan to practice.

First, there is no time.

Second, a thousand tricks are not as good as one trick.

At the Foundation Establishment stage, many cultivators only cultivate one or two magical powers, not too much. There is no time on the one hand, and no need on the other.

"Hey, the White Bone Dao Sutra, the White Bone Relic, and the White Bone Needle, this is the magic method."

Suddenly, Lu Xuanji's pupils were shrinking, and a look of horror flashed in his eyes.

The book of Taoism is called "The White Bone Taoism". The first volume describes the secret techniques of magic Taoism, and the second volume describes the method of refining tools.

In the realm of self-cultivation, there are cultivators of immortality and cultivators of demons.

As for the magic monks, the attitude of the world is to chase and kill them all the time.

There are also insidious people, hypocrites, and bad people, but no matter how bad they are, they have to be concerned about face and sect rules, and they do not dare to slaughter a city at will and sacrifice their blood to magic treasures; they also do not dare to excavate the bones of their predecessors and refine them into puppets, for honoring ancestors;

Even if it is killing people and stealing treasures, they must be in no-man's land, and they must also be concerned about the rules of the sect.

But the way of magic is not the same. Killing and refining treasures, swallowing souls to train qi, killing and refining corpses, digging graves to refine bones, plundering and plundering, etc., are almost all evils.

The righteous bad guy, no matter how bad he is, is only challenging the bottom line of morality; but the cultivator of magic is challenging the bottom line of human nature.

It is forbidden to practice the magic way, once a cultivator cultivates, he will be killed without mercy.

Huhu.

Taking a deep breath, Lu Xuanji opened the "White Bone Daojing"

The opening chapter did not write about the method of cultivation, but the origin of the magic way.

The magic method originated from the demons of the outer starry sky.
