

Clan Cultivation 92

Chapter 92

Resources are limited, without that family there would be unlimited resources.

Because of the limited resources, the family will focus on cultivating the three spiritual roots and the second spiritual roots. As for the four spiritual roots, the five spiritual roots are being abandoned.

Don't blame the family for being inhumane, because resources are limited, naturally we have to cultivate those cultivators with great potential and fast cultivation speed; as for those cultivators with slow cultivation speed and low potential, they are naturally abandoned.

The family must also maximize the benefits.

The family will only give basic benefits to the lower-level monks, and the rest of the resources need to be found by themselves. It is almost impossible to nibble on the family's resources and become a foundation building, or even a purple mansion.

The bigger the family, the more powerful the sect, the more masters, and the more money they lack.

Even because of lack of money, many forces subconsciously controlled the number of high-level monks because they couldn't support them.

The unspoken rule is that the resources needed by the small realm should be raised by oneself; the resources needed by the big realm should be provided by the family.

This time, the income was 200,000 spirit stones, and the eldest chief received 100,000 spirit stones. His father, Lu Jinwen, had 60,000 spirit stones, and Lu Xuanji had 40,000 spirit stones. It can be said that he made a fortune.

Ten years of farming is worse than fighting once.

War is the easiest way to get rich.

The premise is that you win the war and live to the end of the war.

In this raid on Baihu Mountain, three Zifu monks were killed, fifty foundation-building monks were killed, and the rest of the monks were injured.

The three cultivators of the Lu family went to war, but none of them died.

I have to say bad luck.

After rejoicing, they each went to heal their wounds.

Lu Xuanji thought of something, and he activated the Heaven Repairing Cauldron. Suddenly, the gray weather was flowing through his body. The wounds were healing, some minor damages were being repaired, and the injuries recovered very quickly. Originally, it took three years to recover from the injury, but now it only takes three months.

"Father and the Great Elder are injured, but they can repair their injuries by making up for the weather!"

Lu Xuanji laughed.

He opened the [Baidu Map] again, and saw a dense cyan dot on the map, which represented the Jindan cultivator; there was also a small dot exuding blue, which represented the Yuanying cultivator.

Suddenly, cold sweat broke out on his face.

Fortunately, Old Ancestor Jin ran in time, otherwise dumplings would be made, and it would be over.

As for Old Ancestor Jin, who killed the Nascent Soul Demon with one enemy against one hundred, in a cross-level battle, don't be kidding.

This joke is not funny at all.

"The picture gets bigger!"

Lu Xuanji expanded the map, and the picture on the [Baidu Map] began to enlarge. The little cyan dots, the little blue dots, turned into individual monks.

These demon monks were all transformed into human figures, standing there, exuding a terrifying aura.

There are several auras among them, which are still above Old Ancestor Jin.

Fortunately, Old Ancestor Jin evacuated in time, otherwise he might really be finished.

The [Baidu Map] function is bigger than expected.

On the battlefield, many moments are opaque and in a blind box state.

Before the battle, you will never know how many cards the enemy has.

Because of the unknown, accidents may occur at any time.

With [Baidu Map], you can clearly see everything that happens on the battlefield, clear the fog of the battlefield, and have a clear insight into the number, location, personnel information, etc. of the enemy. At the critical moment, it can give the enemy a fatal and devastating blow.

Take this battle as an example, because of inaccurate information, Old Ancestor Jin ignored the second Jin Dan Yaoxiu and was injured.

It also led to the leaking of the news. If it wasn't for the timely evacuation, dumplings would have almost been made.

The Jiaolong was advancing, and after it could travel a hundred miles, it suddenly returned and lay dormant near Baihu Mountain.

At this time, the Qi-training monsters, the foundation-building monsters, the Zifu monsters, etc. in the 100,000-strong mountain all acted, pulling the net of heaven and earth, searching for the invading human monks.

These arrests are extremely strict.

Searching every corner, looking into some subtle corners.

The 100,000-strong mountain became turbulent overnight.

Many experienced human monks were unlucky and killed by monster monks.

The search is continuing, and the intensity is very strong.

I searched everywhere and caught the "demon killer".

Through the [Baidu Map], Lu Xuanji had an insight into the situation in the Shiwanda Mountain, sensed the mighty search operation, and clicked his tongue secretly.

The Jiaolong continued to lurk, moving its position several times to avoid collecting.

It wasn't until ten days later that the search effort began to decline.

A month later, the search operation ended.

But the Jiaolong still did not act, and waited patiently.

Hunting and killing prey requires patience, but even more patience is required for the prey to escape.

For the hunter, if you fail countless times, you can try again; but for the prey, if you fail once, you will die.

Old Ancestor Jin is very reckless, but also very stubborn.

Waiting patiently, recuperating from injuries in the cabin.

The other cultivators were a little worried, but they were relieved and healed later.

As for other things, I don't want to worry about it.

Huhuhu!

Motivating the Heaven-Mending Cauldron, the Heaven-Mending Qi was condensed into a medicinal pill called the Heaven-Mending Pill.

I directly gave one to my father and one to the Great Elder.

After taking it, the Great Elder's complexion improved a lot, and he secretly marveled at it.

But he was also silent, and did not ask the source of Tianmendan.

Every cultivator has its own secrets. Don't be curious about some things In this way, hello and me, everyone.

I am too curious to have any friends.

After half a year, the situation gradually subsided, and the Jiaolong quietly left the Shiwanda Mountain and returned to the human race territory.

This expedition took seven months.

When they landed on Ziyang Mountain, everyone breathed a sigh of relief.

When he stepped out of the cabin, Lu Xuanji was breathing the air and basking in the sun, feeling an indescribable sense of comfort all over his body.

Many cultivators still stayed in Ziyang Mountain, waiting for Old Ancestor Jin to discuss his merits and rewards.

In half a day, Old Ancestor Jin just counted his merits and said, "The dead will be given compensation, the injured will be compensated, the meritorious will be rewarded, and the fearful will be severely punished. One hundred and thirty-five immortal clans participated in this battle. , there are still seventy-two scattered cultivators participating in the battle, and the deity will reward you for your merits and deeds!"

"The Wu family in Qingshui County, killed 300 Qi-cultivating monsters, 40 base-building monsters, and 3 Zifu monsters, and obtained 1.4 million spirit stones. Eight foundation-building cultivators who died in action were given 160,000 spirits. Stone compensation."

"The Ye family in Qingshui County, killed 100 qi training monsters, 60 foundation-building monsters, and 3 Zifu monsters, and obtained 1.8 million spirit stones. Five foundation-building cultivators who died in action were given 100,000 spirit stones. compensate."

"The Ye family in Beichen County, killed 200 qi training monsters, 50 foundation-building monsters, and 4 Zifu monsters, obtained 1.8 million spirit stones, and killed nine foundation-building cultivators, giving 180,000 spirits Stone Compensation"

"The Sun family in Beichen County killed 100 Qi-cultivating monsters, 70 foundation-building monsters, and 8 Zifu monsters, and obtained 3 million spirit stones. Thirteen foundation-building cultivators and one Zifu cultivator died in action, and given 660,000 spirit stones to compensate."

"The Taoist priest Ziyun, who is a loose cultivator, killed 30 monsters of Qi training, 15 monsters of foundation building, and 2 monsters of Zifu, and obtained 700,000 spirit stones."
