

Clan Cultivation 96

Chapter 96

Once, Lu Xuanji thought of using mobile phones as the foundation to perform big data operations and start the era of self-cultivation industry.

Just to calculate for a moment is to give up.

In order to establish a large industry, it needs a huge market, the free circulation of commodities, and the protection of private property.

But in the world of self-cultivation, it is simply impossible.

First of all, many comprehension families are in a state of self-sufficiency. Spirit rice, medicinal pills, spirit medicine, spirit tools, etc., can be produced and sold by themselves, and there is no need for an external market.

Outward purchases are mainly high-level medicinal pills, or high-level spiritual tools, etc. The quantity is small, and the transaction scale is small.

To develop the cultivation industry, there is a lack of market.

Secondly, there are monsters, scattered cultivators, magic cultivators, etc. isolated in the wild, killings and treasure hunts often occur, and commodities cannot be freely circulated at all. Even though many sects forbid killing and stealing treasures, they are still banned repeatedly.

In the wilderness, it is simply a place outside the law, and the killings continue.

In the end, the strong ones in the cultivation world are respected, and the slaughter continues. For some benefits, the Xiuxian family is constantly fighting; for some spiritual mines, spiritual veins and other comprehension sects often fight constantly.

In the cultivation world, there is no such thing as protecting private property.

It often happens that the strong plunder the treasures of the weak.

There is a motto in the world of comprehension, it doesn't matter how many spirit stones you have, the key is to see if you have the strength to protect your spirit stones.

After the death of the ancestor of the Zifu, the Lu family decisively cut some minerals, some market places, some spiritual veins, etc., to some cultivating families to exchange benefits and gain peace.

If the Lu family is not strong enough, but it occupies a large number of square markets, mines, etc., even if some families are afraid of Danyang sect rules and will not do it, there will still be loose cultivators, cultivators, or demon cultivators. At that time, the Lu family was in real danger of destroying the family.

Likewise, if he develops the self-cultivation industry, invents some machines, improves the efficiency of alchemy, the efficiency of alchemy, reduces costs, etc., this may bring some benefits to the Lu family.

But more will bring disaster to the Lu family.

A certain Zifu boss wants to buy this equipment from the Lu family, whether the Lu family will sell it or not.

Large industry, the advantages are high efficiency and high profits.

For many capitalists, the pursuit of industrial development is profit.

But in this world, many cultivating families and cultivating sects mainly focus on the planned economy and the self-produced and self-sold economy. They pursue safety, and then efficiency and interests.

In such an era, the development of the self-cultivation industry is not only lacking in market demand, but also lacking in the environment, and it is even more unnecessary.

Of course, it is not impossible for the cultivation industry to develop.

If he becomes the master of a world, he can unify the power of the whole world, and then a large industry can be developed.

As for now, he is just a foundation-building cultivator who wants to develop a large industry. If he is lucky, the industry will be acquired; if he is unlucky, he may violate the interests of a certain major force and be directly pinched to death by a certain boss.

Even if he becomes the master of a world in the future, he does not intend to develop a large industry.

Because large-scale industry essentially integrates human resources and turns human beings into screws.

In the world of self-cultivation, a capital society is established, an exploitative society is established, human beings are constantly oppressed, and they become slaves of money. Everything revolves around money. To be a person like Grandet, what is the meaning of living for 10,000 years.

Living in such an environment was very depressing, very tiring, very tiring.

Cultivation of immortals is for the sake of freedom and immortality.

As a result, after cultivating immortals, I made myself very tired and tired, and lived a very depressed life. This kind of longevity is really meaningless.

In the realm of self-cultivation, slow rhythm is the main, slow and orderly.

Those monks with poor aptitude gave up the advanced level, mainly enjoying life, and lived a very unrestrained life. Those monks with good qualifications can easily advance, easily improve their cultivation, and live freely.

Most of the monks lived happily ever after.

Those who are tired of living are mainly those monks who have poor aptitude but do not give up on the Dao.

For example, if the Five Spirit Roots have poor aptitude, but still want to build a foundation, they have to hunt down monsters everywhere, or kill and hunt for treasures, or refine medicine pills and sell them for money, or look for adventures everywhere. They get it because they do not give up. very tired.

For example, some cultivators have limited qualifications and are unable to become cultivators of the Purple Mansion, but they do not abandon or abandon them. Pursuing that 1 in 10,000 chance will naturally lead to a very tiring and tiring life.

But if we start the industrial age, the whole people will be very tired.

Thinking of the scene of introversion in the previous life, the scene of the whole people living very tired, Lu Xuanji resolutely gave up the idea of developing large-scale industry, and it is better not to harm the monks in the cultivation world.

"Ancestor, I'll lend you this for the time being!"

In the living room, Lu Xuanji saw the Great Elder again.

The first elder broke the switch three years ago and became the ninth floor of the foundation building; after three years of polishing and accumulation, it is already possible to impact the Zifu period.

He took out the Heaven Repairing Cauldron and talked about its specific functions.

"Heaven Patching Cauldron, but from Old Ancestor Jin?"

the Great Elder asked.

Only Old Ancestor Jin has such a magical furnace.

"Exactly!"

Seeing that the elder had misunderstood, Lu Xuanji nodded and said, without intending to explain, and said directly: "This cauldron can replace the Pure Yang Pill and purify the true essence. You can use it secretly, don't spread it."

"Naturally, I will rot in my stomach."

The Great Elder said excitedly which seemed a little unbelievable.

"How much does it cost to rent the Heaven Mending Cauldron?"

"Five thousand spirit stones!"

Lu Xuanji said.

"Old Ancestor Jin treats you very well. If it weren't for your parents still alive, I would have thought you were Old Ancestor Jin's illegitimate son, just like his own son." The first elder said with some emotion.

Five thousand spirit stones are rented for the Heaven Repairing Cauldron, which is almost the price of cabbage.

Lu Xuanji was speechless, but these things could not be explained and could not be explained clearly.

"I'm going to retreat!"

The Great Elder said.

He disappeared and went to retreat in the cave.

He is already one hundred and eighty years old, and there is not much life left, so he has no capital to spend time to polish his true yuan.

With the help of the Heaven Repairing Cauldron, the time for polishing the True Essence was shortened.

Lu Xuanji returned to the cave to retreat again, refining spirit stones and improving his cultivation.

Three years later.

Lu Xuanji's aura was changing, and he had already entered the third floor of the foundation building.

When I walked out of the cave, I was in a good mood.

Soon, I saw Ye Feixue.

Ye Feixue's aura was obscure and indescribable.

"What state are you in?"

Lu Xuanji asked.

"Recently, I just entered the eighth floor of Foundation Establishment." Ye Feixue said casually.

This tone, like eating a piece of cake at night, is extremely casual.

"The eighth floor of the foundation is built... It's too fast!"

Lu Xuanji covered his heart, and his heart was severely beaten.

This is the scene of the scumbag being attacked by the tyrant.
