

Contract Marriage With Mysterious President

Chapter 151 Who Is the Vice President

"Miss Miller, please go to the conference room to attend the board meeting." A secretary came to the president's office to invite Amy to the board meeting.

"The board meeting? I'm not a member of the board of directors. How can I go to it? Nina, are you mistaken?" Amy was dumbfounded. She was just a secretary. How could she attend the board meeting?

"No, I'm not, Miss Miller. Mr. Carter asked you to hurry up. The meeting is about to start." The secretary urged Amy. Of course, Nina did not know what was going on. Richard personally instructed Amy to go to the meeting.

Amy packed up the things in front of her, closed the door and went to the conference room.

There were many directors in the meeting room. Amy sat in a corner. There was a file in front of each seat. Amy felt embarrassed sitting there, so she took the file and read it. Very quickly, all the directors of HD Group arrived. When they saw Amy, they all looked at her with a strange expression.

Amy kept smiling at those directors, so she got stiff cheeks.

Richard was the last person to enter the arena. He was in a black Italian hand-made suit and his white shirt was tightly buttoned. There was not a trace of a smile on his handsome face. People would be awed by his domineering aura.

Richard walked into the meeting room and looked around. He saw Amy sitting in a corner, pretending to be focusing on the document in her hand. However, Richard knew that she definitely couldn't bring herself to read it.

Amy held the paper upside down, but she failed to notice it.

There was a seat left on Richard's left hand. The sign 'Vice President' was on that seat.

"Alright, all the directors are here. I hold such a board meeting today, for I want to inform everyone something about the investment. Besides, I'll announce a letter of appointment today." Richard ignored

Amy and started the meeting.

Amy didn't even hear what Richard said. The moment she entered, she saw that the president's left hand was the seat of the vice president. Hannah and Allison both warned her to be careful of that vice president, because she was a beauty.

However, Richard asked Amy to attend the board meeting. There were no documents that she needed to deliver. What was Richard up to do? Was he afraid of Amy's misunderstanding, so he wanted Amy to meet this vice president?

While Amy was trying to figure things out, Richard had finished everything he wanted to say.

"Alright, I have highly paid a vice president. She has business acumen.

Her suggestions for HD Group's important projects are not inferior to mine at all. The cooperation proposal with Field Group was put forward by her, which allowed our cooperation with Field Group to achieve a satisfactory result." Richard first spoke highly of the vice president.

The directors present held the document in their hands and began to read it. There was a brief introduction to the vice president on it.

Everyone turned their gazes to Amy.

Amy was lost in her thought. She felt that many people were staring at her, so she hurriedly looked up, thinking that they wanted her to do something.

"Do you need anything?" Amy asked in a low voice. She didn't hear anything just now, for she was thinking about the female vice president.

"Alright, I will announce the appointment letter. HD Group will appoint Miss Miller as the vice president, and I will give her 5% of the shares. Let's welcome Miss Miller to join the board of directors." Richard took the lead and applauded.

Other directors were cooperative. In any case, Richard had the final say.

He held 40% of HD Group's shares and was the main shareholder.

William and Jacob were unhappy. 'Richard, you even recommend your wife to the board of directors. Do you want absolute power?

Amy was stunned. What? The female vice president was her? Richard had never told her before, so she failed to take it all of a sudden.

"Let's welcome the new vice president to give us a few words." Richard asked Amy to speak.

However, Amy was not prepared at all. She stood up and did not know what to say. Fortunately, she got a quick brain. She immediately thought of what she should say.

She said something about her plans after taking office. Besides, she modestly asked everyone to support her and help her.

Richard was satisfied with her reaction. Although he didn't tell her that he had made her the vice president, he trusted Amy's brain.

After Amy finished speaking, everyone applauded and the board meeting ended.

After everyone else left, Amy walked up to Richard.

"Don't sit too far away from me in the meetings. Your seat is on my left.

It is the closest to my heart."

Richard packed up the things in his hands and said to Amy with a smile.

"Richard, why didn't you tell me? I wasn't prepared at all. I was almost scared out of wits just now." Amy looked at Richard reproachfully.

"This is my test for you. If I told you, you would have been prepared and your speech would not have been as good as today's impromptu one. You were awesome." Richard gave Amy a big hug.

"Why do you trust me so much? What if I make a fool of myself? What will you do? People will laugh at you for choosing me. By the way, Richard, why do you appoint me as the vice president of HD Group? I don't have any experience." Amy was a little in-confident.

Although she was talented in dealing with the documents in Richard's hands, she wasn't competent enough to be a vice president.

"You don't need experience but your heart. Follow your heart and read those documents that are sent to you. Your intuition is very important." Since Amy stood the series of tests, Richard was satisfied with her.

"But I..." Amy was about to say something when Richard kissed her lips. They kissed each other in the conference room.

Amy looked around nervously. She was afraid that someone would come into the conference room.

"Don't be afraid. No one will come in. Close your eyes and enjoy the moment" After Richard finished speaking, he moved his mouth close to Amy's again. Her lips were soft and sweet so that he was reluctant to let them go.

"I'm sorry. I'm here to put the teacup away." Allison pushed open the door and saw Richard and Amy were smooching. She deliberately made a loud noise to interrupt their intimacy.

Chapter 152 The Vice President's Office

Allison almost wanted to pick a fight with Amy, when Jacob told her that Amy was the new female vice president of HD Group. Everything that happened was beyond Allison's expectation.

"How could Amy be the new vice president? How could she be qualified?" Allison asked Jacob while holding his arm tightly. Her fingernails were even dug into Jacob's arm.

"I am also surprised, but Richard has the most shares among members of the board of directors. The other directors agreed to Richard's decision because they don't want to offend him. William and I just cannot stop him." Jacob felt sorry for Allison as he saw how upset she was.

"Allison, don't worry too much about it. What does Amy know? I will look for opportunities to kick her out." Jacob promised Allison.

"Leave me alone now. I need time to calm myself down." Allison asked Jacob to leave her alone. She went to the conference room subconsciously and heard people talking inside. She pushed the door open and saw that Richard and Amy were kissing. "Help us tidy up the room, thanks. Miss Miller, let's go." Richard helped Amy carry her things in his hands, and he walked arm in arm with Amy towards the door. Seeing that there were several teacups on the table, Allison could only tidy them up. That was obviously not her job, but Richard still asked her to do it. She felt heartbroken. Were all feelings Richard once had for Allison gone now? Allison did not believe it. She felt that Richard must be trying to take revenge on her because she had once left him. Allison's grip on one of the teacups was too tight because she was lost in her thoughts. With a crack, the teacup broke.

"Hey, Miss Field, what are you doing?" Hilary poked her head in the room as she heard the noise. She had just heard that the new vice president of the company was Amy and was on her way to look for Amy. But she heard the sound of something breaking from inside the conference room when she walked past the room.

"Hilary, you're here. Could you please bring me the broom?" Allison immediately greeted Hilary when she saw Hilary.

"Miss Field, I'm quite busy. I don't have the time. I'm sorry. You can take your time cleaning the room. I must go now." Hilary didn't even want to talk to Allison.

In the past, when Richard was nice with Allison, Allison thought she was so special and disdained everyone else. She wanted to make it up to Hilary, but it was simply too late now!

Hilary turned around and went out. She did not care how angry Allison was. In fact, the angrier Allison was, the happier Hilary felt.

Hilary was so joyful that she even whistled. When she went to the Vice President's Office, she found that there was no one inside.

"Weird. Where's Amy?" Hilary thought for a moment, and she thought that Amy might be in the opposite room. She walked over and opened the door of Richard's office.

"Amy?" Hilary poked her head in first, but she didn't see Amy there. She only saw that Richard was staring at her.

"Richard, you're busy with your work, aren't you? I know you are, so I will leave you alone. But you have to tell me where Amy is." Hilary walked up to Richard and looked around in an exaggerative manner.

"She's changing her clothes in the lounge." Richard lowered his head and began to work again.

Hilary thought to herself that Richard's words were pregnant with meaning. Why did Amy have to change her clothes again? Hilary peeked at Richard and then at the door of the lounge which was still closed.

"Don't fantasize about what you shouldn't think about. You're a grown woman now, so hold it. Don't tell me I haven't warn you about it if you can't find a husband in the future." Richard didn't even raise his head, but he knew what Hilary was thinking.

Amazed by her brother's words, Hilary didn't dare to fantasize about what Richard and Amy had done any longer. She knocked on the door of the lounge.

"Amy, it's me, Hilary." Hilary called out to Amy.

"One second." Amy replied in the room. She finished changing her clothes, looked at herself in the mirror, and then walked out the lounge.

"Wow, Amy, you look sharp no matter what you wear! My brother just bought this dress for you, didn't he? It's very beautiful, but it's also a bit too conservative. I can't even see your neck." It turned out that Richard just bought a new dress for Amy.

Women usually showed their neck or back when they wore dresses, but the dress Richard bought for Amy almost covered every part of her body. Both her neck and her arms were completely wrapped in cloth.

"She's my wife, so she can show her body in front of me only. Of course, she should wear a relatively conservative dress when she is with others. Did you even think before you spoke, my sister?" Richard was satisfied with the dress Amy was wearing.

Richard and Amy were going to attend a party tonight. Since Amy had been promoted as the vice president today, Richard wanted to introduce her to others. Hilary stuck out her tongue. She knew that her brother was conservative. But since Amy was so beautiful, Hilary did not want other men to hit on Amy, either.

"Richard, what kind of brother are you? Why didn't you tell me that you have made Amy the new vice president? You don't care about my authority in the company at all. When people asked me if I knew about the news, I could only answer them that I didn't know." Hilary was happy that Amy had become the new vice president, but she was not so happy that Richard had kept it a secret.

"Your authority? I didn't know you had something like that. Well, can you take Miss Miller to her office? I still have something to do. I'll meet you two there when I'm done." Richard was busy recently, because there were a few contracts with big companies.

"Okay. You can get on with your work. Amy, let's go." Hilary pulled Amy to the Vice President's Office which was just opposite.

"Wow, Miss Miller, look! My brother must have design things here by himself. Everything here is so sweet and feminine. Look at the flowers and the sky-blue curtains. Well, I never knew that he could be so considerate. I thought he only likes black and white!" Hilary walked around and looked at the design of the office with envy.

This office was indeed quite big. It was about the same size as Richard's office, but the decoration in Amy's office was warm. Many things were blue and pink.

"Hilary, how do you know that this is your brother's design?" Amy had never come to see her office before. She really liked it when she saw it today. It was just the kind of office she wanted.

"You will know what my brother's style is in the future. He likes simple-looking extravagance. Look at the legs of this table. People usually don't care much about them. But my brother has them wrapped in gold.

And the windowsill. It is also wrapped in gold. This is his style." Hilary introduced Richard's style to Amy.

Amy also looked around and found that Hilary was right. Richard had gold inlaid everywhere, but his style was not vulgar. Instead, everything looked low-key, luxurious, and elegant.

"Wow, look at this. Amy, I'm sure you're the first girl for whom my brother has designed this." Hilary pointed to a place and said to Amy._

Chapter 153 A Party with Cooperative Partners

Amy looked at the place where Hilary was pointing at and saw a small cabinet next to her desk. There was an induction stove on top of the cabinet.

Was there anything special about that? It was true that there was usually no induction stove beside a desk, but Amy could not think of what it was for.

"Don't you know why he designed this for you? Amy, you like tea, don't you? This is a stove for making tea. My brother knows that your tea might get cold after a while, so he has even designed something that could keep your tea warm. Look at this. If you put your cup here, your tea won't get cold. And the drawer. Open it and have a look. I'm sure there're your favorite snacks there." Hilary pointed at the drawer at the lower part of the cabinet.

Amy opened the drawer and found that there were really snacks and sweets that she liked.

"Hilary, how do you know your brother so well?" Amy felt touched after she understood that Richard had even designed the details.

"Because he has asked me a while ago what kind of office a girl would like. I told him a lot of unrealistic things, but I didn't expect that he could really make them real." Hilary pointed at many things in the office that Richard designed for Amy. Even the sofa in the office was white. The entire office was just magnificent.

"Come here. Let's have some snacks. Your brother bought too much snacks. I can't eat them up by myself." Amy took out the snacks and gave them to Hilary generously. The two of them started eating while sitting on the sofa. Hilary told Amy about Richard's childhood. They chatted joyfully.

"Alright, it's almost time. We should leave now. Hilary, tidy up this place. Why did you litter everywhere? This is Amy's new office." Richard looked at the packages of snacks on the tea table and frowned.

"I also ate the snacks. Let me clean it up." Amy hurriedly wanted to tidy up the table.

"No, leave it to me. Richard has asked me to clean it up. Just go with him. Otherwise, he will take away my allowance again." Hilary stopped Amy. She didn't want her allowance to be deducted.

"Come with me. You need to put on some makeup. It's inappropriate to go to a party without makeup, even though your face is pretty without it." In fact, Richard didn't like it when Amy dressed up, because other men might hit on her if she was too beautiful.

"Help her put on some light makeup that goes with her dress today." Richard said to Bellamy.

Bellamy glanced at Amy and thought that she was beautiful today, too. She was like a goddess just with light makeup.

But he found the dress Amy was wearing unbelievable. Even though Amy looked pretty good in it, it was just too conservative. Almost every part of Amy's body was hidden. Fortunately, the dress still showed Amy's pretty legs. Bellamy looked at Richard again. Richard was also looking at him. Bellamy smiled at Richard, and then he began to put on makeup for Amy. Many important people including foreign investors of the HD Group would attend the party today. Richard arrived early today, and there were not so many people in the hall at the moment. He took Amy to a quiet place. They could enjoy the sight while having tea there. Richard took advantage of the time and introduced the purpose of today's party to Amy. The party would provide major enterprises in R City an opportunity to persuade foreign investors to make investments here.

Richard also gave Amy a brief introduction of the international tycoons who would be there today. He told Amy five of them. He did not expect Amy to remember them all. He thought it was enough if she could remember one or two of them. It was not easy to remember them all, because their preferences varied greatly. Moreover, those tycoons had not arrived yet. It was not easy to distinguish between them when Amy hadn't even met them in person. "Alright, that's the basic information of them. Don't be anxious. I just want you to get a sense. The two people with whom we should try to establish cooperation today are Mr. Yuris Keller and Ms. Sherry Rose. They are the richest people in Europe." Richard patted Amy on the shoulder after saying that. "Don't be nervous, I'll also be there! You only need to help me from time to time." Richard whispered to Amy. He admired Amy for her business acumen and judgment, so he also wanted Amy to try using her skills today.

"Okay, I see. Richard, many people have arrived. You should go and greet them. I can sit by myself here."

Amy had seen people walking towards them, and someone was already trying to greet Richard.

"Alright, I'll go and say hello to them. I'll come back to you later." Seeing that Amy had settled down, Richard filled her cup with tea again and then went to greet his cooperative partners.

Amy went through what Richard had just told her in her head, and she managed to remember everything after that. She drank her tea while looking at the guests entering the hall quietly.

Many foreigners came to the party today. There were at least a few dozen foreign men and women.

Many of them had blond hair and blue eyes. It was really not so easy to distinguish between them if anyone saw them for the first time.

Amy stood up, picked up a glass of kiwi fruit juice, and slowly walked towards the guests.

She walked up to a lady and offered her the glass of juice in her hand.

"Hello, Ms. Rose. Would you like something to drink?"

Sherry looked at Amy in surprise. She knew that the girl in front of her was definitely not a waitress, because she was wearing a dress with the latest design of the season.

Sherry didn't know how Amy could tell that she was Sherry Rose when there were so many women with blond hair and blue eyes there.

But Sherry was also an experienced businesswoman after all. Even though she was very surprised, she managed to calm herself down in just a second.

"I think you made a mistake. I'm not Sherry Rose, but thank you for the juice." Sherry had been greeted by many people in many parties before. She thought Amy was just a pretty girl hired by those people who wanted to cooperate with her. And she thought that Amy only recognized her by chance.

"Ms. Rose, I didn't make a mistake. It's true that there are many ladies here, but I know you're Ms.

Sherry Rose from your manners and the look on your face. There's another clue. You are left-handed."

Amy raised the glass of carrot juice in her hand and took a sip.
"What's your name? You look young. I'm sure we haven't met. I saw that you came to greet me on your own. Nobody has introduced me to you. You're really a perceptive girl." Sherry also took a sip of her kiwi fruit juice. That was her favorite drink.
"Ms. Rose, I'm Amy Miller. I'm the Vice President of HD Group." Seeing that Sherry's attitude had softened, Amy offered her left hand. She was careful with what she was doing. Sherry was left-handed, so she offered her left hand. Sherry had an even better impression of Amy after she saw what Amy was doing. She knew that Amy was a considerate girl. It was not easy to find a girl like Amy now, since all girls saw themselves as princesses now.
Chapter 154 A Girl with Good Manners

"Hello, I'm Sherry Rose. Nice to meet you. You said you're Amy, right? I think there must be something special about you, since you become the Vice President of HD Group so young." Sherry also relaxed a bit. She began to talk to Amy.
"Ms. Rose, let's take a seat, shall we? You're wearing high heels, and you might feel tired if you stand for too long. The party will last for hours." Amy suggested thoughtfully.

"You're right. Let's go." Sherry took another deep look at Amy. Even though Amy looked young, Sherry could already tell from Amy's words that she was a girl with good manners. Sherry began to wonder if Amy also had any unique insights into business. They found a quiet corner to sit down. Amy let Sherry sit in a seat with a good view, so Sherry could have a good rest while looking at the whole hall.
"A lot of my friends are coming to the party today. This is my third time in China. I like Chinese tea culture very much." Sherry deliberately brought up a difficult topic. Young people nowadays liked coffee and other drinks better, even though many of them didn't know much about their own country's tea culture, which had a long history. Sherry wanted to make Amy retreat by showing her that the business world was not for every person.

"Ms. Rose, you have an elegant hobby. I know that many foreigners are interested in our tea culture, but they usually find it too difficult. I didn't know that you have good knowledge of the tea culture." Amy had been talking to Sherry in French. She was very respectful to Sherry, but she did not grovel. And even though had more knowledge about tea than Sherry, she still made Sherry feel proud of herself.

Sherry looked at Amy with new eyes after talking to her. She knew that a girl who had such a thorough understanding of Chinese tea culture must be a well-educated girl.

"Hello, Ms. Rose. There you are. I've been looking for you for a while." A middle-aged Frenchman with brown hair and glowing ruddy cheeks walked over and greeted Sherry.

"Who is this?" The middle-aged Frenchman spoke with a slight accent.

Sherry's.

"Hello, Mr. Keller. Nice to meet you. Please allow me to introduce myself first. I am the Vice President of HD Group, Amy Miller." Amy introduced herself to Yuris in fluent French.

"Amy? Are you sure my name is Keller?" Yuris looked at Amy. He turned his head to look at the other foreigners in the hall. There were other men with brown hair who had similar build with him. He did not know how Amy could tell that he was Yuris Keller.

"Mr. Keller, I know I didn't make a mistake. It's true that there are five men with brown hair among all the foreigners here, and four of them and you are of same age. But Mr. Keller, you like to grow a beard.

Or to be precise, a moustache. And you like brown leather shoes the best. The other four guests all wear black leather shoes." Amy told her analysis to Yuris.

"She's not bad. Sherry, you are in good company." Yuris gave Amy an approving look.

"Yeah, she is really an interesting girl. I was also surprised when she recognized me at a glance. It seems that the HD Group really treats us with respect." Sherry nodded at Amy. "Ms. Rose, Mr. Keller, it's almost time for the opening remarks of the party. I won't delay you any longer.

You could just get on with your own business first." Amy did not try to keep Sherry and Yuris there.

Instead, she asked them to go to the center of the hall, because she knew that the organizer of the party would introduce those foreign investors to the entrepreneurs from R City at the party.

"Our party today begins now. Now, I would like to introduce to you our foreign friends at the party today." The organizer of the party was an investment promotion company in R City, and the host was the mayor.

Then, the mayor introduced the foreign tycoons to everyone. Investing in R City was also a dream of many foreigners who liked Chinese culture, so there were many foreign guests there today.

After the introduction, the mayor gave a speech. He said he hoped that all companies could find good business opportunities at today's party. In other words, he encouraged all the entrepreneurs to persuade the foreign guests to make investments.

"Hey, Amy, my dear, you're here too. I heard that you're the Vice President of HD Group now.

Congratulations." Mrs. Newell came up to Amy. She saw Amy from afar, but she didn't go over when Amy was talking to Sherry and Yuris.

Amy had been standing next to Sherry to keep her company after the party began.

Mrs. Newell and Sherry had been good friends for many years, so they also talked to each other for a while.

When someone else tried to talk to Sherry, Mrs. Newell went to talk to Amy.

"Hello, Mrs. Newell. Thank you. Would you like something to eat? Shall I get something for you?" Alcohol was the major thing at the party, but there were also many delicious dishes. Amy knew that Mrs. Newell might be hungry now.

"Oh, thank you. Just bring me something you like and that's fine." Mrs. Newell took a seat and waited for Amy there.

The reason why Mrs. Newell asked Amy to bring her something Amy liked was because she cared about her daughter and wanted to know what her daughter liked to eat.

Soon, Amy came back with two plates on her hands.

"Mrs. Newell, the cake tastes soft and smooth. There is just some light cream on it, so you won't find it too greasy. There are many kinds of vegetables in this salad. It should taste good, too. I've also brought you some cod fish. It's tender and with no bones." Amy had thought carefully about what she should bring to Mrs. Newell. All the food she brought was both delicious and nutritious.

"Oh, I'm satisfied with what you have brought me, but why is your food different from mine?" Mrs.

Newell discovered that the food on her daughter's plate was different from the food on her plate.

"Well, Mrs. Newell, I love spicy food very much. I don't think you can have too much spicy food, so I didn't put that on your plate." Amy explained. She would almost lose her appetite if she did not have anything spicy in a meal. She got that habit from Stephen.

"Oh, you're right. I can't handle spicy food so well." Mrs. Newell had lived abroad for many years, so she could not have too much spicy food. However, she had made up her mind. She wanted to keep up with her daughter, so she would also try eating more spicy food.

"Amy, I'm sorry. I run into many friends just now, and I was talking to them. Sorry for leaving you alone."

Richard did not see that Amy was enjoying the food with Mrs. Newell at a table until now.

"That's fine. The opportunity today is priceless. You can get on with your work if you're busy. I can handle it here." Amy answered Richard thoughtfully.

"Mrs. Newell, my wife will keep you company today. Please excuse me. I'll have a drink with Mr. Newell now." Richard greeted Mrs. Newell and left again. _____
Chapter 155 Allison's Mr. McDreamy

"Hello, Mrs. Newell. You are here too?" Sherry and her friends toasted each other. She looked for her friends everywhere. She didn't expect that they would be with Amy. She paid special attention to Amy. Mrs. Newell had a bad temper. If she wanted to get close to her by some means, she would turn against her at any time. However, Mrs. Newell was talking happily with Amy at this time.

"Sherry, come here and take a seat. I believe you already know this person. I saw you two chatting just now." Mrs. Newell beckoned Sherry to sit opposite her.
"Ms. Rose, I'll go get something to eat for you. You drank so many drinks, and you may be starving." Amy stood up and was about to get Sherry something to eat.
"Do you know what I like?" Sherry looked at the things on Mrs. Newell's plate and asked Amy.
"Then please tell me. I'll get it for you." Although Amy knew Sherry's preferences, she couldn't be willful at this time. She had to listen to her opinions.
"Then I'll make my preference a test for you. If you satisfy me, I'll consider working with your HD Group."
Before Amy could say anything, Sherry opened her mouth. However, Amy felt a lot of pressure. She hoped that Richard's information was correct. If it wasn't, things would be messed up.
According to the information Richard gave her, she picked food for Sherry. Sherry liked fish very much. Basically, she ate all kinds of fish, but she was very particular about the parts of the fish. She only ate their belly.
Sherry didn't eat pork but tender beef. In terms of vegetables, she liked any kind of them.
Amy took the plate after she finished picking.

"Ms. Rose, please, I hope you will like it." Amy respectfully placed the plate in front of Sherry.

"Amy, aren't you too arrogant? Look at what you've chosen. Ms. Rose doesn't like cake." A person rushed out from behind Amy. She greeted Sherry warmly.

"Hello, Ms. Rose. We haven't seen each other for a long time." Allison held Hadrian's arm and walked over.

"Allison, hello, my darling. It's been a long time since I've seen you. Is your leg alright?" Sherry was also very happy to see Allison.

The two gave each other a warm hug and then looked at each other.

"My darling, you are getting more and more beautiful! Your shape is so good. It's really enviable." Sherry looked at the beautiful Allison and praised her.

Today, Allison was wearing a white gown decorated with white camlet.

She looked like a fairy, and it was completely different from Amy's style.

Amy was reserved, Allison was open, Amy was noble, and Allison looked like a deity. They were the two highlights of today's reception.

When Hadrian saw that his sister was talking with an acquaintance, he went to talk to his friend about business.

Today's opportunity was something that businessmen wanted to seize as it meant money.

"Ms. Rose, can I change the food for you?" Allison said to Sherry.

"No need, I like cake now, and I especially like this kind of mousse cake.

It was brought by Mrs. Newell. I like cake as much as she does now." Sherry did not ask Allison to change the food for her. She was very satisfied with the food that Amy had given her.

Allison glanced at Amy and the smile on her face froze. This world really changed quickly. She remembered that Sherry did not like desserts, but now she was going to accept it, which embarrassed her.

"Then Ms. Rose, Mrs. Newell, I'll go get myself something to eat. What else you need?" Allison behaved herself. She needed to be a likeable woman.

"No need. Just get your own. What a good girl." Sherry liked Allison very much. Sherry liked ballet, and Allison danced very well, so Sherry's preference of her stemmed from that.

Unfortunately, Allison's legs were broken, and ballet had become her past.

Andy had been watching Amy from afar while silently drinking a glass of red wine.

Richard was interesting. He made Amy vice president. Andy didn't understand what he meant.

In Andy's impression, Amy was a cute and beautiful girl. She had no sense of business at all. Now that she had become the vice president of HD Group, Andy was a little suspicious of Richard's intentions.

Amy was chatting with Sherry and Mrs. Newell, and she did not notice that Andy was looking at her.

Allison took a little food. She did not dare to eat so much like Amy did. She was afraid of gaining weight.

In addition, she had practiced dancing for many years, so she had developed the habit of eating very little.

She walked towards Sherry's seat with the plate in her hand and saw Andy looking ahead.

Allison's heart was filled with excitement. Andy? He was here too? For her?

Thus, Allison walked over with her plate. Looking at Andy's handsome face, she stuttered, "Andy, what are you doing here?"

"Allison?" Andy looked at her and was surprised.

"Yes, it's me. We've met again. It's been more than six months, right? How are you doing?" Allison asked Andy.

This man was someone that she had always been thinking about in her heart. She was so cheap. When Richard doted on her, she chose the cold Andy.

Richard did not like her anymore. She felt regretful and wanted to take Richard back.

After comparison, Allison felt that Richard fitted her better because he had pampered her so much in the past. It looked like he didn't like her anymore, but he was definitely taking revenge on her. Allison firmly believed in this.

"I'm good." Andy did not like Allison, but he didn't hate her. It was just that he had heard that this woman had once pursued him. He only heard about it because he had never cared about her.

"Andy, when did you come back? Why didn't you tell me? We are friends in France. I can send you off when you leave." Allison approached Andy and looked at him with puppy eyes.

Andy was her Mr. McDreamy. She had been fond of him since school, but he had always been cold and never smiled at her. She really did not know what woman such a man would like.

Chapter 156 A Sinister Heart

Allison was full of enthusiasm, but Andy had always been cold, making her feel bored. She said goodbye to Andy and walked towards Sherry.

Allison had completely given up on Andy, so she did not have any indiscriminate thoughts towards him.

Right now, the only person she wanted to catch was Richard. She believed that as long as her sincerity to repent was shown, Richard would change his mind as he had loved her so much.

As she was eating with Sherry, Allison felt a gaze from afar. She looked up and saw that Andy was looking in this direction. She looked left and right. There were all irrelevant people, and there were few young women other than herself and Amy.

Andy's gaze was focused. He had been staring at a place all this time. In the end, Allison was sure that the person Andy was looking at was Amy. However, Amy was talking to Mrs. Newell and Sherry, and she did not notice Andy's gaze.

She was a real vixen. Her ability to hook up with men was not bad. Even Andy had been attracted. Allison hated Amy even more in her heart. This woman should never exist. "Allison, my darling, why are you eating so little? Look at how much Amy has. You need to eat more. When you are married and get pregnant, both you and the baby will be healthy." Seeing that Allison ate so little, Sherry was anxious for her. "Ms. Rose, I've been dancing since I was a child. I can't eat much, but I am healthy. Amy should eat more. She had a miscarriage and her body is very weak." Allison deliberately talked about Amy's miscarriage. Allison tricked Richard into going abroad with her. They were away for two months and it caused a misunderstanding between the couple. However, she did not expect that Amy was a fool. She forgave Richard so quickly.

"You had a miscarriage? Then you really need to eat properly. Nurture your body and have another baby." Although Sherry had never been married, she was kind. She was concerned about Amy.

"Alright, thank you, Ms. Rose." Amy smiled and agreed. She had eaten a lot. She didn't care what Allison said. Being full was the most important thing. She knew very well that Allison wanted to create a grudge between herself and Richard. However, since she had chosen to forgive Richard, she would believe him.

Matt brought Gina to the reception. He had heard that Amy had become the vice president of HD Group. He actually felt less guilty. Amy was a good girl, but she was not born into a good family. Unfortunately for this woman, the Miller Group was destined to be acquired by Wilson Group. Matt still had ambitions for Amy.

"Matt, there are a lot of tycoons here today. If we win a few projects, then your father will definitely agree to your joining the board of directors." Gina watched these people talking to each other. She was fantasizing about many enterprises cooperating with Wilson Group. As long as Matt became a member of the board of directors, her chances of being a Wilson would be higher. "These people aren't easy to deal with. Why haven't I seen Amy? Isn't she the vice president of HD Group? She should be here today." Matt was eager to see Amy. "Matt, she was a woman. How could she be the vice president of HD Group? She must have played some tricks. You were right to leave her. Otherwise, the Wilson Group might be controlled by her." Gina did not dare to show her anger to Matt at this time. She tried her best to slander Amy. From Matt's eyes, she could tell that he still liked Amy. "It's usual for a woman to play tricks. Didn't you embarrass Amy the same way? On the contrary, I admire scheming women. If you have the tricks to become the vice president of Wilson Group, I will immediately marry you." Matt rolled his eyes at Gina. At this moment, Matt felt that woman would be cute if she played small tricks, but if she went too far, she would be annoying.

Not only did this woman get rid of his Amy, she also cuckolded him. If it wasn't for the fact that she had won the cooperation of HD Group, he would have kicked her away long ago.

Gina saw that Matt was glaring at herself, she was so guilty that she didn't say anything. "This young lady is really beautiful. May I have the honor to treat you to a drink?" As the two were talking, a blonde foreigner walked over. He spoke to Gina and handed her the other goblet in his hand. Gina looked at Matt. She did not dare to drink it. This man looked very perverted. Matt would definitely be angry if she accepted it. "No, no, I can't drink." Gina looked at Matt with pleading eyes. "Are you Tom Werner?" Before Matt came, he had memorized the characteristics of those foreign tycoons. This was Tom, who had so much money that he didn't know how to spend it.

But Tom had a very bad habit of being lecherous.

"Yes, I am Tom. Who are you?" Tom looked at Matt and didn't know him.

"Hello, Mr. Werner. I am Matt Wilson from Wilson Group." If it weren't for the fact that Wilson Group had an emergency, it wouldn't be Matt's turn to attend today's reception.

"Wilson Group, oh, I've heard of it." Tom nodded. His eyes were fixed on Gina's chest. The silica gel inside made Gina's boobs tall and attractive.

Matt had discovered Tom's intentions, so he winked at Gina.

"Mr. Werner, it's my pleasure to drink with you. I'll go with you." Gina knew that Matt wanted her to take down Tom, and she was a little sad. Matt was just using her and did not love her.

"Alright, Miss, what's your name?" Tom was very happy to see that Gina had agreed to drink with him.

From the moment Gina entered, he saw that this woman was very plump and she fit his taste.

"My name is Gina White. You can call me Gina." In order for Matt to obtain the project, Gina went all out.

"Gina, I'll go and say hello to them. Drink with Tom. He is a jewelry man." Matt set a goal for Gina.

"Alright, alright. Mr. Wilson, go. I'll stay with Gina. Come here, Gina, let's have a drink." When Tom saw Matt leave, his hands became restless. He hugged Gina's waist and leaned her tall boobs against him.

Chapter 157 Gina's Loyalty

"Miss White, you are so good. I like you very much. Can you come with me to France?" Tom dressed himself and looked at Gina with his blue eyes.

Gina's skirt had been wrinkled, but she had to wear it as she did not bring any other clothes with her.

"Don't wear these clothes. The clothes I bought for you will arrive soon." Tom took off Gina's clothes again. Looking at her beautiful body, he kissed her excitedly.

"Mr. Werner, does your cooperation with Wilson Group count?" At this time, Gina was still thinking of helping Matt.

"Of course it counts. After you leave, ask Matt to bring over the project. I will take a look." Tom was very satisfied with Gina. Few of Chinese women were that open.

"Okay." When Gina saw that her goal had been achieved, Matt would be nice to her for a long time.

"Gina, are you sure you don't want to go back with me?" Gina's clothes had been delivered. Tom helped Gina put them on. Although they didn't look very gorgeous, they were very sexy when on Gina.

"Thank you, Mr. Werner. I have no plans to go abroad for the time being. I will consider it if there is a chance in the future." Gina declined Tom's kindness.

She was eager to see Matt and tell him the good news.

Tom watched as Gina went away, and he enjoyed the aftertaste of contacting with her. He liked this woman, but he wasn't in a hurry. He would take time to win her heart.

"Matt, Matt." Gina put on her clothes and hurriedly went to look for Matt.

Halfway through the reception, Gina was nowhere to be seen. Matt knew that she must have left with Tom.

However, it didn't matter. If she could get the project in this way, it would be good. In any case, he didn't plan to marry Gina, and it would be good to use her.

He thought of a way to get close to Amy, but the big shots around her didn't leave him any chance at all.

At this time, Gina came again. With her face full of lust, Matt knew what she had done without thinking.

"What's wrong, Gina?" Matt looked very fond of Gina.

"Matt, bring me the project. I'll show it to Tom." Gina pulled Matt to leave.

The hickeys on her body disgusted Matt. When Matt looked at same thing on Amy's body on the second day of her wedding, he was not resigned in his heart.

He was very clear about what kind of person Amy was, but he couldn't even have a taste of it before that pure woman lost her virginity.

However, this Gina in front of him was disgusting. However, Matt did not show it. Just think of himself as a fool. When he became a member of the board of directors of Wilson Group, this woman would be useless.

Following Gina, he arrived in front of Tom. Tom looked at Matt mockingly. He was disdainful to this man, who counted on a woman's body to advance.

However, he had promised Gina that he would honor it. Wilson Group was not a small company and was worth the investment.

Matt handed over the project to Tom.

Tom read it and quickly signed his name.

"I have signed the agreement, but I have one more request. During my five days in China, I want Gina to be by my side. We will have other projects in the future." Tom was very interested in Gina.

Gina heard this from Tom, and she couldn't hold back any longer. She could explain to Matt what happened just now, but at this time, Tom had openly suggested it. She looked at Matt nervously.

"If Gina has no objections, I will not object, either. It should be her fortune to be with you." Matt agreed.

He didn't expect this woman to be so useful. Originally, Matt was prepared to spend a lot of effort to interact with these foreign tycoons.

He didn't expect that Gina would be able to take down Tom by herself.

Tom also said that there would be other projects in the future. That was great. If this went on, Matt would be a member of the board of directors very soon.

"Matt, I..." Gina was a little afraid of Tom. This foreigner was too greedy, so greedy that she couldn't stand it anymore.

"It's all right, Tom is a gentleman and he can take good care of you, Gina. Show Tom around the R City and introduce Chinese customs to him." Holding the contract signed by Tom, Matt was ecstatic.

"Amy, Ms. Rose, Mrs. Newell, Allison, you're all here. I'll bring you some drinks." Richard walked over. He had reached a consensus with several foreign enterprises, so he was in a particularly good mood.

"Mr. Carter, how are you? Your vice president is not bad. I like her very much." Sherry knew Richard, and she praised Amy in front of him.

"I like her, too. Looks like Ms. Rose and I have the same hobbies. What an honor." Richard's humorous words made the atmosphere relaxing.

He went to get juice for the four ladies, and each of them had a different one.

"Mr. Carter is so thoughtful. He remembers what everyone likes accurately." Sherry looked at Richard.

She did not know that Richard and Amy were a couple.

"Of course. I have to take care of and satisfy you. Ms. Rose, this is your kiwi fruit juice. Mrs. Newell, this is your orange juice. Amy, this is your carrot juice. Allison, this is your cucumber juice." Richard delivered the items to the ladies.

"Mr. Carter, thank you so much for your hospitality. However, I don't seem to have any suitable projects this time, I'm really sorry." Sherry was very cautious. She hadn't signed an agreement with any enterprise so far.

However, HD Group was very strange. This vice president was just taking care of herself, eating, drinking, and chatting with her, but she didn't mention anything about projects at all. It was confusing.

"Oh, that doesn't matter, Ms. Rose. When have a good project next time, we'll work together." Richard did not say anything more. He did not know the meaning behind Amy's behavior.

Did Sherry dislike Amy's project?

"Alright, then we'll work together next time." Sherry looked at Amy. Amy was smiling at her.

"Ms. Rose, do not be in a hurry to return. During these few days in China, can I take you to experience the profound tea culture here?" Amy politely invited Sherry. _____

Chapter 158 Peacocks Spread Their Tails

Sherry was indeed going to play in China for a few more days before returning. She did not have any specific arrangements. Hearing Amy's suggestion, she happily accepted it.

"Ms. Rose, I still want to invite you to see the dance show. It's been a long time. Shall I make some arrangements for you?" At this moment, Allison also reacted.

"Alright, since you've all said so, then I'll agree to Ms. Miller first. I have five days, and I didn't have any plans. I'll talk about tea culture with Ms. Miller first, and then go see the ballet show with Allison. I need to leave a few days for my old friend, Mrs. Newell. That's all." Sherry immediately arranged her schedule.

"Thank you, Ms. Rose. Then I'll pick you up early tomorrow morning and show you around." Amy was not dissatisfied with Allison's words. She had always had a smile on her face, which made people feel kind.

"Ms. Rose, then I'll pick you up at your hotel the day after tomorrow." Allison only left one day for Amy. She looked sideways at Amy. She didn't even know what tea culture was, so she couldn't join them. She didn't want to make herself a fool, but she would help Amy! She would help Amy embarrass herself so that Sherry would hate Amy.

"Well, good girl. Then it's a deal. I'm tired. Mrs. Newell, let's go out for a walk." Sherry invited Mrs. Newell.

"Alright, after eating so much delicious food, it's time for us to go for a walk. Otherwise, it's not healthy."

Mrs. Newell stood up, looking at Amy and Allison. She was very clear about their actions in her heart, but she wanted to see how her daughter would perform. This was a rare opportunity. She wanted to help

Amy, but it seemed that Amy didn't need help. She could only act according to the circumstances.

The two ladies left, leaving behind Amy, Richard and Allison.

"How is it going? Are you full? Do you want to go for a walk?" Richard was also very busy at today's banquet. Even if he didn't talk to others, people would come to him, so he didn't have time to be with Amy.

"I'm full. Let's go out for a walk. I heard that the garden here is very beautiful. I really want to see it."

Amy held Richard's arm.

Allison stood there awkwardly and watched the two of them show off their love.

"I'm very familiar with this place. Do you want me to take you for a walk? There is a wonderful place in the garden here." Allison wanted to make Amy curious so that she could join them.

"Really? Is there a very wonderful place? I'm interested. Let's go, Amy. Let's find out." Richard did not intend to go with Allison to see the scenery. He pulled Amy and left. He didn't want to have anything to do with Allison anymore. When the last time he accompanied her to France for surgery, he had made it very clear. It was just that Allison didn't want to give up.

Allison stomped her foot angrily. How long was Richard going to be angry?

However, she seemed to have seen something interesting. When Amy and Richard walked towards the garden, Andy seemed to have followed them. Allison couldn't wait to see what Andy would do.

Allison saw that Hadrian was still talking to others, so she did not disturb him and followed them to the garden.

The garden was not quiet today. There were also people who were talking business here. However, the garden was very big, and when they walked further, there were fewer people.

Richard slowly walked with Amy. The large garden could be regarded as a park. There were pavilions, small bridges, stream, and rockeries. When they reached the far side of the garden, a cry attracted the attention of Amy and Richard.

There was no one here anymore, and the sky was a little hazy. There was a small fenced courtyard. The fences were not high and just above knees. There was a house in the middle of the courtyard, and there were some bushes around the house.

"Peacock!" Amy's eyes lit up. She saw that there were some peacocks gracefully walking around in the open space of the small courtyard. There were also some peacocks perched on the bushes.

When a Peacock heard that someone was coming, it looked at Amy arrogantly. Perhaps the dress Amy was wearing today was too beautiful. It felt that it was necessary to compete. The peacock that saw Amy spread its beautiful tail.

"Richard, Richard, look! The peacock spreads its beautiful tail." Amy was so excited. The peacock spread its tail, and a few more also spread their tails.

"So beautiful. It's so beautiful. Peacocks are stunning!" Amy looked at the peacocks and shouted at them excitedly.

"Oh, Mrs. Newell, look at Amy. She made the peacocks here spread their tails. Let's go and have a look.

It's so beautiful." Sherry, who had also come here, looked at Amy and felt a little admiration for her.

Andy also walked over. Everyone gathered around the fences and watched as the peacocks spread their tails.

Perhaps because there were too many handsome men and beautiful women today, the peacocks kept spreading their tails as if it was a competition. In the hazy night, it looked like a beautiful painting.

"It's really beautiful. Amy had a way to make peacocks spread their tails since she was still a child. I didn't expect that when she grows up, she would be able to make so many peacocks spread their tails at the same time." Andy said from behind Amy.

When Amy heard Andy's voice, she turned around.

"Andy?" Amy's mind was on Sherry today, so she didn't pay attention to the others. She already had a plan in her heart, so she couldn't be greedy. Sherry was her only target today.

"Yes, Amy, congratulations on becoming the vice president of HD Group." Andy said to Amy with a smile.

In the distance, Allison saw Andy smiling. Could Andy laugh? That smile made people feel like spring breeze, so warm.

Envy surged in Allison's heart. She had chased after Andy for so many years, and she didn't even get a smile. However, Andy smiled at Amy.

"Andy, are you laughing at me?" In front of Andy, Amy looked like a cute little girl again, very casual.

When Richard saw Andy appear in front of him again, he was a little unhappy. If it was another man, he would still feel very superior. However, Andy was on par with him. This made his heart very uncomfortable.

"Mr. Baker, are you in the mood today?" Richard said sarcastically._____

Chapter 159 Allison's Plan Failed

Andy could feel Richard's hostility, but he felt the same. He had doted on the Amy for so many years, but she had married Richard. He was jealous.

"Mr. Carter, peacocks always like Amy. Every time when she went to the park, peacocks would spread their tails in front of her." Andy said to Richard. He was showing off that he had once participated in the growth of Amy.

"It's the same now. Everyone likes Amy." Richard didn't show weakness. It didn't matter if he didn't participate in the past. In the future, he would just spend the rest of his life with her.

"Ms. Rose, Ms. Newell, you're all here. Look at those peacocks. They're so beautiful. What are the three of them doing there?" Allison walked to Sherry and Mrs. Newell. She deliberately asked them to look at the three of them.

"They seem to be talking about something, but as a vice president, why is she so close to both of the presidents?" Hearing Allison's words, Sherry really had a little prejudice towards Amy.

"As a vice president, if she doesn't have a good relationship with the president, you wouldn't have been at this position. Amy is a very smart girl!" Allison deliberately said. She knew Sherry better. Sherry never married, so she didn't like a woman to get a position by her appearance.

"Women must rely on their own abilities. Appearance won't last forever." Sherry had a bad impression on Amy in her heart.

Mrs. Newell had been quietly listening to Allison's words. She was not in a hurry to interrupt but waited for the two of them to discuss.

Mrs. Newell finally spoke when she saw that Allison's face was full of satisfaction and happiness because she had successfully driven a wedge between Amy and Sherry.

"Sherry, I think I should explain it to you. Ms. Miller is Mr. Carter's wife, and Mr. Baker is Ms. Miller's neighbor since childhood. It's normal for the three of them to have a chat together."

"What? Ms. Miller is Mr. Carter's wife?" Sherry was stunned. Richard was a wealthy man, and his wife could live an easy life at home, but Amy was promoted to vice president. She was definitely talented enough for Richard to do so.

Amy was so beautiful. If she didn't have exceptional talent, Richard wouldn't have promoted her to vice president. However, what kind of talent did Amy have? She had successfully aroused Sherry's interest again.

Sherry glared at Allison. Why did Allison keep saying just now? Allison should know that Amy was Richard's wife. Since Allison knew that they were a married couple, she still said that. She really had ulterior motives.

Allison did not expect Mrs. Newell to speak for Amy. She thought Mrs. Newell would remain silent. It was really embarrassing at this time.

"Ms. Rose, I didn't know. Please don't be angry." Allison immediately put on a pitiful look, making it difficult for Sherry to say anything about her.

"Alright, don't make the same mistake in the future." Sherry pulled Mrs. Newell away. She really didn't want to see Allison at this time.

Allison was left behind. She was very anxious. Wasn't Mrs. Newell very arrogant? Why did she speak for Amy? Allison still wanted to destroy the relationship between Amy and Sherry.

After taking off her high heels, Amy felt relaxed. Today's banquet lasted for nearly five hours. She was walking around on her high heels, and her feet were aching.

"Let me rub your feet for you. You are tired today." Richard held up Amy's little feet with both of his hands and rubbed them.

"It's really not easy to do business. Richard, you have to attend this kind of occasions every day. How difficult is it for you?" Only attending once, Amy felt tired. Richard often attended this kind of occasions.

How tired would that be? Her heart ached for Richard.

"I'm used to it. When I first took over HD Group, I was a little unused to it. Sometimes, I really want to quit. But I can't fail the whole family. I can't bear it." Richard carefully helped Amy rub her feet. Her feet were fair and tender, as if he was grabbing a piece of jade in his hands.

Amy understood Richard's feelings completely. Her father, Stephen, did not want to do business. In the business world, everyone was deceiving others. It was simply not suitable for him.

If it weren't for giving Amy a comfortable living environment, Stephen wouldn't have worked so hard.

"Alright, we're home." Very quickly, the car arrived home, and Amy looked for shoes to get off the car.

"Let me carry you. You should take a rest and have your husband serve you." Richard stopped Amy.

He got out of the car first, opened the car door and picked up Amy, holding her shoes in his hand.

"This isn't good, right? Grandma will see us." Amy whispered to Richard.

"It's fine. She must be asleep by now." Richard said firmly.

It was almost midnight, who would be in such a good mood to wait for them at home?

However, there were some people who had such a good mood to wait for them in the living room.

Eva and Addy were both sitting in the living room, their faces gloomy.

Seeing Richard carrying Amy into the house, Eva was unhappy.

"Don't you have feet? Why do you let a man carry you in? Ridiculous!"

Eva slapped the coffee table, startling Addy.

Addy had been here for many days. She had always been rather reserved, because she was new here.

Cathy went back to her mother's house. She couldn't stay in this house anymore. Eva didn't like anything about Cathy and quarreled with her every day.

"Grandma, you haven't slept yet. Amy has been in high heels all day. Her feet hurt. I'm carrying her up."

Richard ignored Eva's expression. He pampered his wife, and no one could stop him.

Of course, Eva didn't dare to scold Richard. The entire family relied on him.

However, she was very strict with Amy.

"Don't you feel ached for your man? What kind of manners do you have to let a man carry you?" Eva said it again, and Amy wanted to come down. If she didn't get down, Eva might not stop.

"Richard, let me down." Amy said to Richard.

"Why? Your feet are hurt. Just ignore them." Richard carried Amy through the living room and went upstairs.

"You are really shameless. No one in this family listens to me, right? Are you going to piss me off?

Everyone is giving me a hard time." Seeing that Amy did not listen to her words, Eva began to curse loudly.

Chapter 160 A House in Turmoil

"Grandma, I respect you. Please respect my wife." Richard carried Amy and entered his room after saying this.

"What? These men can't think in front of beautiful women, right? First, my husband doesn't want to talk to me. Then my son is angry with me. Now, even my grandson is like this. I..." Eva wanted to continue but was stopped by Addy.

"Mom, don't be angry. It's already late at night. We should go and rest."

Addy had just been here, so she tried her best to be magnanimous. She didn't want to be like Eva, who annoyed people. Eva was the elder of this family, so it didn't matter. However, she was different. She was just an ex-wife, so she was more restrained.

"You are the best. You've been with me for so many years, and you didn't find yourself another man. It's hard for you." Eva patted Addy's hand.

Addy had been with Halbert before. How could she be attracted to other men? Of course, she would no longer look for a partner.

"Mom, I have to be filial to you. Why do I have to find someone?

Nothing is as important as you." Addy grabbed onto Eva's heart. She was sweeter than honey.

As the two of them spoke, they walked back to their rooms. Eva was walking while cursing Cathy and Amy. She hated pretty women.

Early in the morning, Richard woke up Amy with a move. She was going to accompany Sherry to experience Chinese tea culture today, so she must get up early and could not be late.

"Amy, you are going to accompany Ms. Rose today. You must be careful. Ms. Rose's temper is not very good. She is very difficult to deal with." Richard said to Amy.

"Yes, I know." Amy answered.

However, Richard still admired Amy. Yesterday, she actually spent the night with Sherry and Mrs. Newell.

Both of them were notoriously cunning and arrogant.

Amy chose the pink dress that Mrs. Newell gave her. She liked it very much. It was simple and proper.

Her long hair was wrapped around her head, making her look more mature.

She didn't wear too many decorations, only the jade bracelet that Cathy had given her.

Looking at herself in the mirror, Amy felt that she looked good. But she was still a little worried, so she asked Richard.

"Richard, how do I look today? Do I look dignified enough?"

"Yes, you look very dignified. How bad can my wife be?" Richard said proudly.

The more he looked at Amy, the more he felt that she was beautiful and dignified. He thought Matt was so stupid that he would give up such a woman.

"That's good. Let's go down and have breakfast." Amy knew that Richard was exaggerating, but she still felt very pleasant.

"We are all waiting here. How long do you want us to wait?" Eva was unhappy again when she saw Amy, who looked stunning, following Richard.

John glared at her.

"Amy, hurry up and have breakfast. After breakfast, you can go to work."

John said to Amy. He let the children eat and leave so that they didn't have to stay with Eva at home.

"Good morning, Grandpa, Grandma." Amy greeted the two elders.

"Morning? It's so late now." Eva said with a dark face as she drank the porridge.

Sophia listened to Eva scolding Amy. She was so happy that she ate one more steamed bun.

William and Jacob glanced at Richard and gloated in their hearts.

Richard did not say anything. He only helped Amy pull a chair and let her sit down. Only then did he sit beside her.

Amy pretended that she didn't hear anything. She didn't want to make things difficult for Richard. It wasn't that she was afraid of Eva, but she cherished the time of being together with family.

During the meal, Eva did not say anything else. Everyone silently finished their meal and left.

Amy didn't have her own car, so Richard arranged for the driver to accompany Amy all day.

Amy arrived at the hotel where Sherry was staying and waited for her at the door. She was here early, so she picked up a magazine to read.

Sherry had woken up. After breakfast, she was waiting for Amy. They made an appointment at 8:30, but it was only 8:10.

Sherry saw Amy enter the hotel. She was satisfied and thought Amy was a very punctual girl.

Just when she thought that Amy would call her, Amy sat on the sofa in the hotel lobby and read a magazine.

Sherry did not appear in front of Amy. She went back to her room, sat for a while, and drank some water.

Sherry looked at the time and saw that it was already half past eight. Her phone rang. It was an unfamiliar number.

"Hello, Ms. Rose. This is Amy. I have arrived at the entrance of your hotel. Are you ready to go?"

Hearing Amy's soft voice, Sherry felt comfortable.

"OK, I'm ready. Did I keep you waiting?" Sherry said.

"No, I've only been here for a while. Then I'll be waiting for you downstairs." After Amy finished speaking, she hung up the phone.

Amy was a very good girl. She was not centered on herself. They made an appointment at 8:30. She arrived early but she did not want to disturb Sherry. So, she waited until 8:30 to call Sherry.

Sherry was satisfied about it.

Sherry packed up and left the room. She also brought her old friend Yuris. Anyway, everyone wanted to stay in China for a few more days. It was perfect to have a suitable guide. "Hello, Ms. Rose. Hello, Mr. Keller. Please follow me." Amy smiled as she looked at the two big shots. She was very happy that they were all coming with her.

"Ms. Rose, Mr. Keller, this is our schedule for today. In the morning, the weather is better. I will take you to visit the tea garden in the suburb of R City. We will have lunch in the tea garden at noon. In the afternoon, the weather will be hotter. I will take you to an ancient tea house. There are all kinds of tea there, and you can enjoy your time there." Amy explained the schedule to them.

"Alright, since we have agreed to you, you can arrange it for us." Sherry and Yuris nodded.

"Thank you for trusting me. Then let's go to the tea garden first." Amy turned around and told the driver before heading towards the tea garden. _____ Chapter 161 Picking Tea

"Wow, are all these tea trees?" Sherry exclaimed as she saw the green plants all over the mountain. She wondered if those were the tea trees which she had only heard and read about.

Even though Sherry was a big fan of Chinese tea, she only saw, smelled and tasted the finished product of tea. She also got some knowledge of tea from books.

She had been to China for three times, but she never saw what tea trees were like.

"That's right, Ms. Rose, Mr. Keller. I have contacted the owner of the tea garden. We will pick, bake, and taste the tea made by ourselves." Amy said to them.

"Really? We can pick tea leaves by ourselves today?" Sherry's eyes lit up as she heard Amy's words. She liked the plan very much.

"Yes, Ms. Rose, I have prepared clothes for you to work in the tea garden. Mr. Keller, you could also change your clothes. There are clothes for you, too. Our professional tea picker will show you how to put on those clothes." Amy asked a male tea picker to take Yuris to change into the professional clothes for tea-picking, and then, she took Sherry to change their clothes.

"Ms. Rose, we only need the tip of the shoot. The tip is the best and tastes better than the rest parts. So we don't use the rest part to make tea." Amy was picking the tips nimbly, and Sherry even felt dazzled as she watched.

"Amy, do you come here to pick tea very often?" Sherry could only pick one tip at a time, but she found it interesting.

"Yes. I used to come here to help during the holidays. I didn't do it for money. I just want the owner of the tea garden to teach me tea culture." Amy said to Sherry.

Soon, Amy had picked a handful of tea tips. She then put them in the basket.

"Ms. Rose, the taste of the tea varies if you pick it at different times of the year. Sometimes we pick it with the dew, and sometimes without the dew. There is also a difference in the tea picked before and after the Tomb-Sweeping Festival. Sometimes we will pick tea when there was a fog..." Amy introduced different types of tea to Sherry.

"I've heard about that. I know there are Mingqian Maofeng Tea and Minghou Maofeng Tea. They taste different." Sherry was talking to Amy joyfully. They chatted with each other while picking tea, and they enjoyed themselves very much.

While Yuris was at a loss what to do. He didn't even dare to try touching the tea leaves since he thought the tea leaves were just too delicate.

"Mr. Keller, don't worry. You could just try as I tell you." The tea picker found it funny when he saw that a grown man like Yuris would still be afraid of tea leaves.

"No, I can't. I just feel that I might destroy the tea trees with my hands. Look! My hands are so rough!

And the tips are so soft and tender. I feel it's so cruel to pick the tips."

Yuris wanted to pick the tea leaves, but he just could not.

"Mr. Keller, everything in the world has its own value. For example, we feed chicken, ducks, fish, pigs, cattle, sheep, rabbits, etc. because we want to make them our food. And that's the same with the tea leaves. If we don't pick them in time, they can't realize their value. And no one will know their beauty, either." Yuris looked rough, but Amy knew he was a kind-hearted man. So she tried to comfort him.

"Alright. I'll try my best now." Yuris finally gathered his courage and picked his first tip.

Yuris and Sherry were best friends. He was also a big fan of Chinese tea culture influenced by Sherry. No, that was not the most accurate way to put it. Yuris was in fact a big fan of Chinese culture. He was amazed by the extensive and profound Chinese culture.

After picking his first tip, Yuris put it into his mouth. He immediately spat it out after tasting it. He found it both bitter and astringent.

"It's so bitter." Yuris frowned.

"Mr. Keller, have some water. Tea leaves are supposed to be bitter. They are just like life. How can you feel the sweetness of life without going through difficulties first?" Amy handed Yuris a bottle of mineral water.

Sherry liked the way Amy talked. Amy never showed off. She would only tell Sherry the allusion about tea at the right time.

Amy was carrying a small backpack with her. Sherry had no idea what was in Amy's backpack just now.

She thought Amy had probably brought her cosmetics with her so she could refine her make-up.

Sherry liked Amy even more as she saw Amy take out a bottle of mineral water from her backpack. Amy was such a considerate girl. She had even prepared water for her guests in her backpack, in case they were thirsty.

When Amy saw that Sherry was looking at her backpack, she thought that Sherry was thirsty. So she took out another bottle of water from her backpack.

"Ms. Rose, you're thirsty, aren't you? This is soda water. It's good for women like us." Amy had even paid attention to which type of water she should bring. Sherry could tell that Amy was used to taking caring of others.

Sherry's impression of Amy improved a lot. But this couldn't prove anything. Sherry still didn't know if Amy was good at business.

After taking a few sips of water, Amy took Sherry and Yuris to get on with their work again.

They worked in the tea garden for the whole morning. At noon, they all had a basket of tea tips.

"Alright. We've had enough tea leaves. We can go to bake the tea now." Seeing that they all had enough tea leaves in their baskets, Amy took Sherry and Yuris to the baking room.

Amy showed them how to make tea. They stir-fried the tea leaves first, and then they baked the leaves.

And finally, they let the tea leaves dry in the sun.

"Amy, do you think the tea is ready for sale now?" Sherry had begun to call Amy by her first name without noticing it. She became even friendlier to Amy now.

While Amy had noticed that. She felt that her efforts had paid off.

"It won't be competitive if we just sell it like this." Amy pointed at the tea leaves. It did not have any packaging or advertisement.

"Why? Isn't it natural and green like this?" Sherry felt amazed as she looked at the tea leaves. The green leaves had been turned into black and dry tea leaves.

"Of course, that is our focus of marketing. But it will look too plain if people want to give it to their friends and relatives as a gift. If we want to sell a product well, good packaging is necessary." Amy didn't explain a lot.

The tea leaves were almost finished now. They would be done when they dried up.

"Well, Ms. Rose, Mr. Keller, I think you must be hungry. It's time for lunch now. The owner of the tea garden has prepared a very special meal for us. Let's go to the dining room and enjoy our lunch there."

Amy told the professional tea maker to perfect the tea they just picked and made. And she took Sherry and Yuris to the dining room. _Chapter 162 Tense Atmosphere

"This is tea rice. These are eggs boiled in tea. And this is tea soup with rabbit meat...." Amy was introducing the dishes on the table.

"Are these all tea dishes? But why haven't I seen any tea leaves in them?" Sherry looked at the dishes.

They smelled nice, but she could not find any tea leaves in them.

"This rice is cooked with Hawk tea, so it's very fragrant. These eggs were boiled in tea. Even though the tea leaves used for this dish are just of average quality and not expensive, the eggs are quite nutritious."

Amy introduced the details of every tea dish to Sherry.

Sherry was overjoyed. In France, she only tasted the tea given by her Chinese friends. They would tell her how to brew it, but that was all. Today, she not only tried picking tea by herself, but she could also enjoy a meal consisting of tea dishes only.

She thought the trip today was fruitful and she had really learned a lot.

"Can we meet the owner of the tea garden today?" Yuris was pleased with the activities today, too.

"I'm really sorry. The owner of the tea garden has been away. He is probably busy with his own business abroad. Maybe you will meet him next time you come here." The owner of the tea garden was the brother of one of Amy's classmates. He was always nice to Amy, and he helped Amy a lot today by letting her use his tea garden.

"Oh, what a pity! We can't meet the man with such a good taste today. Fortunately, you have told us a lot of things we didn't know. Thank you very much, Amy." Yuris was very grateful to Amy.

"Mr. Keller, it's very kind of you to say that. Have more fish. The fish tastes yummy and tender, and there are very few bones in it." Amy picked up some fish for Yuris. Fish was Yuris' favorite food.

When they left the Evergreen Tea Garden, Amy took many tea leaves on the car. They were all gifts from the owner of the tea garden to Sherry and Yuris.

"We had a lot of greasy food at noon. And let's go to a tea house to have some tea and have a good chat there." Amy also invited another person who was already waiting for Sherry and Yuris in the tea house.

In the antique tea house, even the decorations were teapots and teacups. Amy took Sherry and Yuris to the private room she had booked, and Cathy was already waiting for them there. The water was boiling and bubbling. And the entire room was filled with the fragrance of tea.

"Ms. Rose, Mr. Keller, she is my mother-in-law. She is an expert in making tea. I invited her to make tea for you so that you can enjoy different tea arts in China." Amy introduced Cathy to Sherry and Yuris.

Now Amy finally got the chance to sit down, chat, and enjoy the time today.

They talked about black tea, green tea, flower tea, and all kinds of delicate sweets that went with tea.

Soon, their topic shifted from the tea culture to business. And finally, Sherry and Yuris made a business deal with HD Group.

"Yuris, do you feel that we are tricked into making the deal?" Sherry suddenly asked Yuris after they went back to the hotel.

"Yes, and we are happy to do it. Amy didn't force us. It was us who brought up the topic of cooperating with them. We will sign the contract tomorrow. You still have time to change your mind." Yuris said to Sherry affectionately.

"But I don't regret it. I feel that doing business with someone like Amy is the right thing. She is really a smart girl. Somehow, she reminds me of Eliana Rice. Both of them make you want to cooperate with them." Sherry went back to her room, and Yuris followed her inside to give her a massage. It was a long day for them.

"I don't regret it, either. We can only gain win-win results by cooperating with people like her. HD Group is really lucky in having her." Yuris helped Sherry take off her shoes and lie face down on the bed. And then, he massaged the back of her waist.

Yuris had been pursuing Sherry for more than ten years, but Sherry never said yes to him because of some old story. And now even if they weren't together, they had become as close as family.

After sending Cathy back, Amy also went home. She had talked a lot and walked in high heels today, so she was exhausted.

Fortunately, Grandma Eva was not in the living room, so Amy directly went upstairs. She fell asleep immediately after climbing into her bed.

Richard was also busy today. He did not go home for dinner, so no one came to ask Amy if she wanted to eat.

By the time Amy woke up again, it was already dark outside. And she felt very hungry.

After changing her clothes, she went downstairs to see if there was anything to eat. However, when she got to the living room, she saw that it was joyful there. Grandma Eva, Addy, and Sophia were sitting on the sofa watching TV. They were chatting so happily with laughter. Grandma Eva immediately put on a long face when she saw Amy.

"Don't you know how to respect me? Why didn't you greet me and tell me that you were at home? Are you waiting for me to greet you first?" Grandma Eva said harshly.

"Grandma, don't be angry. It's not good for your health. Amy is the Vice President of HD Group now, so she is definitely very busy. You should forgive her for forgetting to greet you." Sophia spoke as if she wanted to ask Grandma Eva to forgive Amy. But in fact, she was just trying to make more trouble and enrage Grandma Eva.

"Vice president? A woman should just help her husband and bring up their children. It's so indecent for a woman to go about the city and do business. Haven't we given you enough money?" Grandma Eva became even angrier.

Amy could never have expected that Grandma Eva would scold her so harshly. She just wanted to see if she could find something to eat at home.

"Grandma, I was very busy today, so I was really tired when I came home. That's why I didn't go to greet you. I'm hungry now. I want to see if I can find something to eat." Amy tried to explain politely.

"Are you trying to show off? Do you think you're the only woman who has a career in the family and we're all trash?" Grandma Eva did not care whether Amy's excuse was reasonable or not. She would just scold Amy whenever she had a chance.

Amy felt that she had been patient enough with Grandma Eva. Amy did not want to say anything after she realized that Grandma Eva was just targeting at her. She then went to the kitchen to look for food.

"Mrs. Carter, what do you want to eat? I can cook something for you." The cook knew that Amy did not have anything for dinner, so she asked Amy in the kitchen.

"Could you make me some noodles? I'm good with something simple." Amy was so tired that she didn't want to talk anymore. She wouldn't even have gone downstairs if she wasn't too hungry. The Carter's was such a depressive place for her. She almost couldn't breathe there. "It was your own fault for skipping dinner today. Cook for yourself! The servants also need to rest!"

Chapter 163 Richard's Worries

"Grandma, don't be angry. I'll go help Amy." Sophia stood up with a kind look on her face.

"Sophia, you are so kind. She is a bitch, but you still help her. She may still harm you in the future." Eva grabbed Sophia and didn't want her to help Amy.

"Grandma, I respect you the most in this family, but it doesn't mean that you can insult me. I'm already very tired after working for a whole day, but I still have to take your insults. I have never complained about it. I was just having a meal. What did I do to upset you? Why are you keeping grumbling? No matter how good my temper is, it's impossible for me to stand it forever."

"Do you think I'm being unreasonable? Why didn't you come down when it was dinner time? Do you look down on us so that you kept us waiting for you?" Eva was filled with anger.

Now, John didn't even come out to eat. He would have someone bring food into his room. After the meal, he would go out alone.

Cathy had returned to her mother's place. Halbert couldn't persuade her to come back. Every day, Halbert came back very late and didn't eat at home.

Richard and Amy didn't eat at home either. Even if the family ate together, Eva still felt that these people looked down on her.

"You should respect yourself. If you look down on yourself, who will respect you?" When Amy saw that the noodles were ready, she went into the kitchen and stopped arguing with Eva.

She did not say anything not because she was afraid of her, but because she felt that she did not need to have a conflict with such an old woman.

But now, Eva couldn't even give Amy a peaceful time during meal, which made Amy feel very annoyed.

Seeing that Amy had left and ignored her, Eva was so angry that she was trembling.

"Grandma, don't be angry. Who the hell is she? You are the head of this family. There will be plenty of chances to deal with her." Seeing that it was a right timing, Sophia whispered to Eva.

"What's in your mind?" At this time, Eva felt that she had been completely humiliated. If she did not show her prestige in this family, how could she live a happy life here?

"There's no hurry. Grandma, let's wait for the right timing." Sophia said to Eva and Addy.

"Alright, we'll listen to you." At this time, Eva was eager to suppress Amy.

After meal, Amy passed by the living room, but Eva was quiet. Eva did not say anything else and did not even look at Amy.

This was also good. Amy went upstairs in a good mood. She was full and spirited, so she looked through the cooperation plan with Sherry and Yuris. Afterwards, she changed everything that needed to be changed.

It was already midnight when Richard returned. He had several appointments with clients today, and everything went well, so he drank some wine to celebrate. When he returned, he felt a little dizzy.

He went upstairs and saw that Amy was still looking at something.

"Richard, you're back?" When Amy heard the sound of the door, she turned around and saw Richard's cool look with his suit on his shoulder.

"Yes, Amy. It's already very late. Why aren't you sleeping?" Although Richard was a little drunk, he knew that it was very late. Seeing that Amy was still busy, he felt sorry for her.

"It's fine. I'll go to sleep after I finish reading it. I've discussed the cooperation plan with Ms. Rose and Mr. Keller today. I'm modifying it." Amy went back to work again.

"They both agreed today?" Richard simply couldn't believe it. Although Cathy had told him, he still felt that his mother had exaggerated it. It was already amazing that Sherry agreed.

"Yes, Ms. Rose discussed it with Mr. Keller. They let me take the contract over tomorrow. If they have no problem with the contract, they will sign. They want to finish this deal before they go back." Amy looked at the contract again and confirmed that there was nothing wrong with it, so she put the contract aside.

"My wife is really a treasure. That's great. Thank you for your efforts." Richard immediately threw the suit on the ground. He walked over to hug Amy and kissed her on the face.

"Cut it out. Smell yourself! How much wine did you drink? I'll go prepare the bath water for you."

Although Amy said so, she smiled as Richard held her in his arms. His embrace was warm and sturdy, making her feel very safe.

"I want to take the bath with you." Richard acted like a spoiled child. At this time, he missed Amy very much.

"Alright, I'll go prepare the water first. You can't take a bath without water, can you?" Amy pushed Richard away. She didn't take a bath after she came back today, so she could also take a bath.

As the water was ready, Richard immediately took off Amy's pajamas and carried her into the bathtub.

Looking at Amy who was sleeping soundly beside him, Richard felt so happy and contented. He picked up the contract that Amy had drafted and took a look.

Amy had been working in HD Group since she graduated. She majored in foreign languages in university, but the contract she drafted was very professional. If she said that she had never done this before, many people would not believe it.

Could this be the talent? Judging from her ability, she was really a business genius.

However, at this time, Richard was not very happy. He originally wanted Amy to help him deal with some trivial matters. However, seeing how busy she was, Richard felt heartache. Wasn't it a little inappropriate for him to let his beloved wife work so hard for him?

"Amy, are you still going to accompany Ms. Rose today?" Early in the morning, Richard put on his suit and asked Amy who was still in bed. She was still sleepy.

"No, I'll just show her the contract. Today, Allison invited Ms. Rose to see the ballet show, so Ms. Rose is only available in the morning." Amy rubbed her eyes. It was already seven o'clock, and she should get up.

"Then I'll send you there later. When you're done, we can go to the company together." Richard had something to say to Amy.

"Then won't I delay you?" Amy asked Richard.

"No, I'll take you there. I have nothing to do this morning. We can have lunch together." Richard helped Amy put on her clothes. She was so sleepy that she walked with her eyes closed.

"Alright then." It would be good to have Richard send her off. After washing up, Amy didn't tie her hair up. Her hair was black and smooth. She had never permed her hair before, so her hair looked very shiny. _____

Chapter 164 The Secret of Amy's Business

Richard and Amy walked downstairs and went to the dining room. Apart from John, everyone else was here. Seeing Richard and Amy, everyone looked like that they were not in good moods. However, Eva did not say anything today. She just told others to eat, then everyone started the breakfast.

After breakfast, Richard and Amy told Eva that they were leaving and then left. They still had a lot of things to do today.

Eva only nodded. She didn't say anything weird this morning, which made Amy a little surprised.

After arriving the hotel where Sherry and Yuris were staying, Amy went to Sherry's room as they agreed before. Richard also followed.

Ms. Rose saw that Amy was very punctual. She did not say anything, but her impression of Amy was getting better.

When Amy and Sherry were talking about business, Richard and Yuris sat on the other side and chatted.

Amy took out the contract she had prepared last night, expressed her opinion, and asked Sherry for her opinion. Everything she did was perfect.

But Sherry did not sign the contract immediately. She took it and said to Amy, "Amy, I'm going to look at your contract again tonight. Although it's urgent and you have explained a lot, I can't decide right now.

Can I think about it?"

"Sure, I'm not in a hurry. I just want to show you the contract. If you have anything to add or modify, just let me know." Amy always had a smile on her face.

If it were someone else, they would definitely think that Sherry was making things difficult for them, but Amy did not think so. Instead, she felt that it was a reasonable request.

"Amy, I think you look like a friend of mine. Your working style and way of speaking are really similar to hers." After finishing the business, Sherry said to Amy.

"Ms. Rose's friends must all be successful people. How can I compare to them? Ms. Rose, you are flattering me." She had just stepped into the business world. How could he compare to those successful businessmen?

Sherry did not say anything else. She made a comparison in her heart and felt that they were too similar.

She suddenly found that even their appearances were a little similar.

After talking to Sherry, Amy went to talk to Yuris. The result was the same. They had to look at the contract first and then talk about other things.

"Alright, my job is done here, so I won't occupy your time. Miss Field will come to pick you up later, so I'm leaving." Amy stood up and said goodbye to Sherry and Yuris.

As soon as Amy got in the car, she began to sleep again. She looked completely different from the person who was energetic and organized just now.

Richard did not disturb her and just let her sleep.

When they arrived at HD Group, Richard walked into the company with Amy in his arms under the gazes of everyone.

At this time, Amy woke up. She glanced at Richard in a daze and closed her eyes again. She even found a more comfortable position in Richard's arms, falling asleep again. The news that Richard carried Amy into the company spread to every corner of the HD Group. Many people were envious.

"Hannah, our president and vice president are a happy couple. The vice president was carried out of the car by the president. I wonder what they did last night, making the vice president feel extremely sleepy when she arrived at work." The people from the marketing department surrounded Hannah since they knew that the vice president was Hannah's good friend.

"They have always been a loving couple. What's so strange about it?"

Hannah looked at the gossiping people and felt that it was inconceivable. What was the big deal about it?

Of course, she was also very gossipy and liked to hear it. As long as she heard good news, she would be very happy.

"Of course it's strange. Mr. Carter only had Miss Field in his heart in the past. There were Miss Field's pictures on his table and in his wallet. I don't know whose picture is in the president's wallet now." Their gossips were so detailed.

"Of course it's Amy's picture. There's no doubt about it." Hannah said firmly. Actually, she did not know whose photo was in Richard's wallet. However, this aroused her curiosity and she also wanted to find out.

After entering the office, Richard placed Amy on the sofa and went to get her a quilt. Amy woke up. She didn't know how she got into the office.

She looked at the surroundings. It seemed to be her own office, but really? In the end, she was sure that it wasn't her own office but Richard's.

She stretched herself and stood up. At this time, Richard came in with the quilt.

"You're awake?" Richard put the quilt on the sofa.

"Yes, it's so comfortable. I feel better now. Is there anything I need to do?" Amy glanced at Richard's desk. Fortunately, there weren't many documents.

"No, I don't have any documents today. I have finished them. Amy, I have a question for you." Richard hugged Amy in his arms.

"What is it?" Today, Amy knew that the business of Sherry and Yuris was basically settled, so she was very happy in her heart.

"It's the contract you made yesterday. I saw that Ms. Rose and Mr. Keller didn't seem to agree obviously.

How could you sleep so soundly?" Richard had always wanted to work with Sherry and Yuris, but there was no suitable project.

However, Amy asked the two big shots who had been engaged in jewelry and catering to invest in his real estate. This was something that even Richard did not dare to imagine. It was already a trans-regional investment. Could they agree?

"You don't have to worry about that. Didn't you tell me to know them well if I wanted to do business with them? I've studied the characters and hobbies of Ms. Rose and Mr. Keller. That's why I asked them to invest in our real estate. As long as one of them wants to invest, the other will have to invest as well."

As Amy spoke, she asked Richard to get her some water.

Richard immediately got some water for Amy. He felt his wife was quite smart and she made perfect sense when she was analyzing the situation.

"I have checked that Ms. Rose is going to invest in some lucrative business. It's not limited to jewelry or catering. HD Group has a long history in real estate. It is our ability to keep the business for such a long time in R City. They can clearly see this, so I suggest that they should invest in the real estate of HD

Group."Chapter 165 Bowling Game

"Amy, Are you available today? I'm Sherry. I'd like to invite Mrs. Newell to go bowling with us today.

Come and join us. It will be fun." Amy did not expect that Sherry would invite her to go bowling with her.

"Ms. Rose, I happen to be available today. Tell me the address. I'll be there." Amy suppressed her excitement and replied in a calm voice.

After hanging up the phone, Amy's heart was still beating wildly. She put down the phone and quickly rushed into the rest room behind the office, changing her clothes.

"Amy, where are you?" Richard walked into the vice president's office but didn't see Amy.

"I'm in the rest room. I'm going out. Ms. Rose called me and asked me to go bowling with them." Amy answered.

Yesterday afternoon, Richard hesitated for a long time and did not say what he wanted to say. He felt that Amy's enthusiasm for business had stopped him from saying those words.

Amy changed her clothes and came out of the room. She wore pink sportswear and tied her hair in a ponytail, revealing her slender neck.

"Then I'll send you there." At this time, Richard suddenly discovered what Amy needed. How could he be so stupid? However, he wanted to give Amy a surprise.

"Alright." Amy agreed.

When they arrived at the bowling alley, Eliana, Sherry and Yuris were already there.

"Sorry, I'm late." Amy apologized to them.

"Never mind. I called you so suddenly and you came already very quickly.

Come on, let's separate into two teams. Mrs. Newell and Amy are in one team. Yuris and I are in another team. Let's compete, shall we?" Sherry saw that there were four of them and they could be divided into two teams.

"Alright, Sherry, we haven't had a competition for a long time. I really miss the years we spent together."

Eliana was also dressed in a rosy sportswear today, looking noble and dignified.

"Ms. Rose, you are here too? What a coincidence!" Just as the four of them were preparing for the competition, Allison walked in front of them.

"Yes, Allison, do you like bowling too?" Although Sherry did not agree to cooperate with the Field Group yesterday, she still needed to show some respect.

"Yes, I also like bowling. This is my friend Gina. It looks like we can divide into three teams to play together." Allison brought Gina here.

Amy had seen Gina, but she did not say hello to Gina. The two of them were like enemies. Amy would not forgive Gina.

"We've divided into two teams. Then you two can form a group. We three teams can compete." Eliana did not look at Allison and Gina. She disdained to make friends such people. However, Amy was here today, and Eliana knew that Amy was going to cooperate with Sherry, so she accepted it.

"Mrs. Newell's suggestion is very good. Let's split up into three teams and see which team will win."

Sherry couldn't wait to play.

Allison and Gina exchanged glances, and they smiled.

"Ms. Rose, is there going to be a punishment for the competition?" Allison suggested.

"That will do. The competition will be more interesting with punishment." Sherry also felt that this suggestion was very good.

This would be even more fun, so everyone began to discuss what the punishment should be.

"Dance if you lose." Gina said first. She immediately gave a suggestion before Allison could stop her.

Gina did not know that Amy could dance, so she just wanted to see Amy embarrass herself.

Allison glared at Gina, but Gina did not know what was wrong with her suggestion.

"Dancing is good, but what kind of dance?" Yuris was also interested. "How about ballet?" Once again, Gina blurted out. She thought that Allison was a dancer and must be good at it. Even if she lost, it didn't matter. Amy definitely couldn't dance ballet and she couldn't let Eliana dance, so she would make a fool of herself in a while. When they heard that they were going to dance ballet if they lost, everyone was interested. This bet was quite amusing.

Allison really felt that she had brought a fool here. Before she could even speak, Gina had given a proposal. Didn't Gina know that Amy could dance ballet? However, it was already too late to say something, so Allison had no choice but to agree.

The three teams began to compete. Sherry and Yuris were the first. They looked like experienced players. Yuris' scores were either nine or ten.

When it was Eliana and Amy's turn, Amy was still a little nervous. She was relatively low-key in college, and she deliberately lost to Gina to make her happy. However, she hadn't practiced for a long time, and she didn't know if she still could play so well.

While Eliana played very well. Almost all of her scores were either nine or ten, and Gina felt that she had chosen the wrong teammate.

When it was Amy's turn to play, she took a deep breath. She looked at the distance and threw the ball.

At the beginning, the ball went relatively straight, but when the ball was about to hit the targets, it missed and only knocked down three on the side.

"Don't be nervous. It doesn't matter even if we dance. It's not like you can't dance." Eliana leaned towards Amy to comfort her.

Allison and Gina were overjoyed. Amy only knocked down three, and she wouldn't get any better results later.

However, Amy seemed to be possessed by the God of Bowling, and the rest scores were all ten. Sherry and Yuris were so shocked that they opened their mouths wide.

Was this girl too lucky? No, she got ten points for every round. It couldn't be luck.

Allison and Gina took a deep breath after looking at it.

"Alright, it's your turn now. Our results are already very high. Let's see if you can surpass us. If you can't, you'll have to perform." Sherry reminded them kindly.

Allison was quite calm. Her scores were either nine or ten. When it was Gina's turn, Amy whispered to her, "I let you win on purpose in college. You should know that it's very difficult for you to get ten points." After Amy finished speaking, she smiled and left.

Hearing that, Gina was even more nervous. _____

Chapter 166 The Accident in Bowling Alley

After Amy finished speaking, Gina became even more nervous. When they were in university, Gina liked another boy. She wanted to show off in front of him, so she begged Amy to deliberately lose to her.

But in the end, the boy didn't like her. While Amy had a handsome boyfriend, Matt. Gina was very jealous in her heart. So she seduced Matt and slept with him.

Now that their relationship completely broke down, she knew how competent Amy was.

However, she glanced at Amy. Even if she lost, she couldn't let Amy feel good.

Gina got eight points in the first round. She was still quite calm, but as her score became lower and lower, she became even more panicked. Seeing Amy looking at her coldly not far, Gina decided to make Amy suffer. She faked a fall while throwing the ball and it flew towards Amy.

At that time, everyone was stunned. Only Allison knew what Gina was planning, so she pretended to help support Gina.

The ball was knocked away by another ball. Amy was so frightened at that time that she stood still and forgot to dodge.

"Amy, are you alright?" Andy hurriedly ran over. He saw everything clearly just now. It was obvious that the woman had intentionally fallen and wanted to throw the ball at Amy.

"Andy? I'm fine." At this moment, Amy regained her senses. Looking at Andy's handsome face, she was stunned for a moment.

"Andy, are you here to play bowling too?" When Allison saw Andy, she couldn't help but walk over.

As Gina saw Andy, she started to feel jealous again. Why were all the men around Amy so outstanding?

Andy was still holding Amy's hand. Seeing that Amy was feeling better, he was relieved.

Gina also walked over, "Allison, who is this?" Gina did not know Andy. "This is a friend of mine, Andy." Allison wanted to show off in front of Gina, but they ignored the people who came with them.

Eliana also walked over. She was shocked heavily just now. But as she saw Andy holding Amy's hand, she pulled Andy's hand away and went to check on Amy herself.

"Amy, are you hurt?" Eliana had concealed her anxiety in her heart.

"No, thank you for your concern. I'm fine." Amy looked at Eliana and said.

Eliana was very nice to Amy, but Amy didn't know why.

Sherry and Yuris also came to show their care to Amy.

Allison seized the opportunity and wanted to talk to Andy.

However, Andy's gaze had always been on Amy, and he didn't look at Allison at all.

As Gina saw that Andy didn't even look at Allison who was beautiful and generous, she knew she never stood a chance on seducing him.

"Amy, I was so worried just now. Fortunately, you're fine." At this moment, Allison moved closer to Amy and pretended to be kind.

"Amy, I'm sorry, I slipped just now." Seeing that so many people were concerned about Amy but no one cared about her, Gina felt even more jealous of Amy.

How could so many people treat Amy so well?

Although Amy was fine, no one was interested in the match anymore.

"How about this? I'll treat everyone to a meal to express my apologies."

Seeing that everyone was unhappy, Allison suggested. If she could invite these people today, she could brag about it in the future.

"I'm good. That's it for today. We don't have the mood to continue playing now." Eliana was impatient.

Her daughter almost got hurt just now, and she had no mood to eat anything.

"Ms. Rose, it was an accident just now, so I want to treat everyone to a meal to express my apologies."

The cooperation Allison had discussed with Sherry yesterday had not succeeded at all, so Allison came here and wanted to continue discussing with Sherry.

"Mrs. Newell invited us here today. Since she said no, then no. Allison, you can take your friend back first. We'll keep in contact. Mr. Baker, do you want to have dinner together?" Sherry also knew Andy.

She and Andy's father were old friends.

"Not today. I'll treat Ms. Rose and Mr. Keller to dinner myself after I return to France." The headquarters of Andy's SR Company was in France.

"Alright then, it's up to you. We'll leave first." Sherry took Amy's hand and left with Eliana.

"Andy, then I'll treat you to dinner. It's already lunch time anyway. We haven't seen each other for a long time. Shall we go eat together?" Allison looked at Andy with expectation, hoping that he would not reject her.

"Alright." Andy did not reject her today.

Hearing that he agreed, Allison was so excited that she didn't know what to do. She didn't even know where to put her hands. Andy had never agreed to Allison's request.

Even though Allison knew Andy's taste very well, she didn't have the chance to please him.

"Then let's go. Let's go to the Royal Restaurant. You will like the food there." Allison immediately called the Royal Restaurant.

"Amy, Mr. Keller and I have read the contract you drafted. I feel that we are very satisfied with it. We will be free the day after tomorrow, so we can settle all details then." Sherry was especially enthusiastic about Amy while she was eating.

Amy thought that she would have to wait for a while before Sherry could reply to her. She didn't expect that Sherry would reply so quickly. Was it because she was almost injured today that Sherry wanted to give her a surprise in advance?

"Alright, then I'll pick you up and sign the contract in HD Group."

Although her heart was filled with ecstasy, Amy still had a calm smile on her face.

"Eliana, take a look at Amy and see if she is like you. Why do I feel that you two are very similar? She is just your younger version. Also, you two look like each other!" Sherry looked at Amy and Eliana, feeling amazing.

Amy and Eliana exchanged glances. Eliana was a little nervous. She didn't think she look much like Amy.

"Sherry, where precisely do you think Amy and I look alike?" Eliana asked Sherry with a puzzled expression.

Chapter 167 Amy Stepped into a Trap

Eliana heard Sherry say that Amy and she looked alike. She looked at Amy, and Amy looked at her.

"Rose, where precisely do you think Amy and I look alike?" Eliana asked Sherry.

"You are both beautiful women. Don't you think so?" Sherry's explanation amused everyone.

Eliana breathed a sigh of relief at this moment. She did not want others to know about her relationship with Amy since Stephen was still alive. She couldn't take Amy from him in his lifetime.

"That's right. The three of you are all beautiful women. You all look alike." At this time, Yuris also joked.

As they ate and talked, they forgot the unpleasant accident that happened just now.

After dinner, Eliana took Sherry and Yuris back to the hotel, and then she sent Amy back.

"Amy, you have to watch out for Allison. She's not a good person. I think she has a strong hostility towards you. I've heard about the story between Richard and her before, so you must be careful." Eliana reminded Amy in the car.

"OK. Thank you, Mrs. Newell." Amy thanked Eliana. Even Eliana could tell how hostile Allison was to Amy.

Then they had some small talks, and they enjoyed themselves. No matter what they said, they seem to have a certain tacit understanding.

Amy asked Eliana to send her to HD Group. She didn't want to go home right now.

"What are you doing here?" Richard looked at Amy, who was holding some snacks for him.

"You haven't eaten lunch yet, right? I knew it, so I brought you some snacks you like. Take a bite first."

Amy put the food on Richard's desk.

"OK. The red bean cake is still warm. It smells good. Let me try it."

Richard put down the pen in his hand.

He was busy today. The contracts with the partners had been drafted, and he was still making detailed changes.

Amy was right. He didn't have lunch. He only took two red bean cakes and drank the juice that Amy brought for him.

"Mr. Carter." The secretary knocked on the door. When she saw Amy inside, she did not go in rashly.

"Come in." Richard let her in.

"Mr. Carter, Miss Field brought this for you. She heard that you missed lunch." The secretary held a large food box in her hand.

"No." Richard refused without thinking. However, Amy had her secretary leave the food on the desk.

"You haven't eaten lunch. Why don't you take it? Since someone has brought you food, you should eat some first, or you'll starve later." Amy opened the food box. It was Richard's favorite food.

Amy and Eliana were eating hotpot for the lunch, so she didn't order takeout for Richard. Now that someone had brought food to Richard, she was relieved. After all, she cared for him and didn't want to see him starving.

"I've eaten your red bean cakes. I'm not hungry anymore." Richard didn't even look at the food. He felt whatever Amy brought for him was the most delicious.

"Come on. I'll feed you." Amy looked at the food and picked up Richard's favorite food.

"Alright." Richard smiled happily and opened his mouth and let Amy feed him. He suddenly realized that no matter what it was, it would become very delicious as long as it had anything to do with Amy.

While Allison looked at the loving couple at the door. She felt like her heart were torn apart. She swore that she would get back at Amy very soon.

Allison did not expect Amy to return to the company. She wanted to show her care to Richard, but Amy took the credit.

Oh Amy was really a bitch, and she ruined everything!

After the lunch, Amy cleaned up and went back to her office. Richard had a lot of work to do, so she didn't want to disturb him anymore. She went back to see if there was something she could do to help Richard.

Both of them were busy in their offices, but at this time, Amy received a phone call.

"Amy? Come back quickly. Grandpa isn't feeling well. I can't take him to the hospital by myself." Sophia said hurriedly through the phone.

"No one can help you at home?" Addy and Eva should always be at home.

"They went out with the driver. No one else can drive. I can't do anything by myself. So I can only come to ask you." Hearing Sophia's crying voice, Amy was anxious. She knew that John was sick, and John had treated her very well, so Amy grabbed her bag and left before she could say a word to Richard.

Sophia put down the phone and nodded to Eva and Addy. Everything was settled.

Knowing that Amy was about to return, they went to make preparations. Amy hurriedly took a taxi back to the Carter's mansion. But it was really quiet.

Amy arrived at John's room. There was no sound inside, so she pushed open the door. It was also quiet in his room. There was no one inside, and she did not see John.

Wasn't John seriously ill? Where did they go? Amy felt that it was very strange. She walked around the house, but she still didn't see John. And she didn't even see Sophia.

Amy went to ask a servant. It seemed that John was really sick, but he had been sent to the hospital. The servant did not know which hospital he was in.

Amy didn't have Sophia's number, so she could only call Richard, but she couldn't reach him either.

Amy couldn't get through to anyone on the phone. Only then did she realize that her cell phone didn't have any signal. To be more accurate, there was no signal in the whole house.

She could only call from the landline, but the landline was not working.

Now that Amy was completely isolated at home, she didn't know where to go even if she was desperate to go out.

The Internet at home was blocked, and all the cell phones had no signal.

At this time, Amy didn't have a

Richard. Chapter 168 John Passed Away

When Amy called Richard, he sounded very anxious on the phone.

"Amy, where have you been? Grandpa has been seriously ill for a long time in the hospital. Tell me where you are, and I'll pick you up." Although Richard was anxious, he also paid attention to his tone.

John was really sick. Did Sophia tricked her into coming back so that everyone in the family would have prejudices against her?

"No need to pick me up, Richard. Just tell me the location. I'll take a taxi." Amy also knew that Richard was worried about her, but it would be a waste of time. John was in a really bad situation. So Richard didn't say anything else and directly told Amy the address of the hospital.

Amy took a taxi and quickly arrived at the hospital. When she got on the 28th floor and got out of the elevator, she heard the sound of crying.

It was over. This time, she didn't get to see John before he died. Amy saw that the Carters were all crying in the corridor.

"Amy, hurry up and see Grandpa." Richard was anxiously waiting for Amy. As soon as he came out, he saw Amy arrive. He hurriedly let Amy enter the ward.

John had passed away. His death was also a relief to him. Years of illness had tortured him badly.

Although he was tough and didn't complain, everyone knew his pain. John could live longer, but how did he suddenly die?

William and Jacob were in the ward, and Allison was also there.

"You bitch, grandpa was so kind to you. You didn't come to see him while he was dying. Where did you go? Why couldn't we reach you? How heartless you are!" Eva hadn't forgotten to scold Amy at this time.

John's death was also a good thing for her. No one could suppress her at home in the future.

"That's right. You always pretend to be nice, but at the critical moment, what did you do? Did you wish grandpa to die?" Jacob also spoke at this time.

"What are you talking about? Don't judge without knowing the truth. Now that Grandpa was gone, why are we still arguing? Tell everyone to come and pay their condolences. We should arrange his funeral properly." Richard defended Amy and stood beside her.

Richard was still respected at home. Everyone seemed to calm down after hearing his words, but the way Eva looked at Amy was filled with hostility.

Richard took Amy to Cathy. At this time, the way Halbert looked at Amy was not very friendly either.

"Mom, let Amy stay with you. I'm going to take care of Grandpa's funeral. Dad, come with me." Richard called for Halbert to go with him to deal with these.

"Amy, where did you go just now? I can't reach you." At this time, Cathy finally got her chance and asked Amy in a low voice.

"Mom, if I say that Sophia tricked me back home and blocked the signal at home, will you believe me?"

asked Amy.

"I believe you." Cathy answered without hesitation.

She knew Amy very well. It was impossible for her not to answer the phone for such a long time. This was definitely a trap set by Sophia. However, Sophia was too despicable. She actually used John as bait.

"I don't care if others believe me or not. As long as you and Richard believe me, I will be satisfied." Amy said to Cathy.

They were silent after the conversation. John's death was such a blow to them. Now that Eva had returned, she would definitely help Addy and her family. Then Cathy and Amy would be in trouble.

"Of course I believe you. You are my daughter-in-law. I know you very well. It's just that our current situation is not good. Your father seems to have listened to your grandmother's words and has a bad impression of you. I don't want to go back home anymore." Cathy still hadn't forgiven Halbert.

"Mom, come back. Our home is incomplete and cold without you. Mom, if you leave, I probably won't be able to stay for long." Amy said to Cathy. Was this the ending of this family?

"Let me think about it. Amy, you are now the vice president of HD Group. There will be many people watching you. They are eager to find trouble with you. We are in a difficult situation but I haven't thought of a proper way to solve it for the time being." Cathy and Amy were discussing what they should do next.

"There are consequences. Let's see what you've done to John. Now that he was gone, are you happy?"

Eva walked over at this time. She pointed at Amy and Cathy and scolded them.

At this moment, however, a person was shooting from afar with a camera. But everyone was busy with John's matters, and no one noticed.

"Grandma, don't be angry. Amy may have some difficulties. Come and rest for a while." Allison supported Eva and walked to Amy's side. She looked as if she was considerate to Amy. Seeing this, Jacob felt even more distressed for her.

"Allison, you are so gentle and kind. However, some people are not as kind as you think. You treat her so well, but she may harm you behind your back." Jacob said to Allison.

"Yes, Allison. If only all the girls nowadays were as kind as you. However, some people insist on being mean and selfish." Eva also spoke for Allison.

Neither Amy nor Cathy argued with these people. In their eyes, it was not worth it.

John's funeral would be held three days later. But some people from the Carter family hadn't arrived yet, so they had to wait.

However, there were many stories about Amy in the newspaper the next day.

There was a large photo of Amy and a man on the news. The man held Amy's hand. The two of them were very close. The background of the photo was very blurry and you could only see his profile but Amy was facing the camera directly.

The headline was, "The daughter-in-law of the Carter family was dating another man as John Carter was dying. Where did all the moral values go?"

The entire R City was bustling with excitement. It was rumored that Amy was cheating on Richard when John was fighting with death. As a result, many people who did not know the truth were denouncing Amy.

Even within the HD Group, the story of Amy began to spread crazily. Richard looked at the newspaper and could tell that the man should be Andy. But when was this photo taken? The background was very blurry, which must be planned by others on purpose.

He decided to ignore it, but it wouldn't disappear. Just as Richard hid all the newspapers and didn't let

Amy see them, another overwhelming piece of news came out on the third day. Chapter 169 Amy Was Slapped

"Amy, you are just a troublemaker, right? You were exposed yesterday for dating a man instead of seeing your grandfather while he was dying. And now, everyone knew you were quarreling with your family at the hospital. What a capable woman you are!" Halbert looked at the newspaper and angrily threw it under Amy's feet.

Yesterday, Amy was with Cathy and thus she did not notice the news. But she was scolded by Halbert as soon as she returned today.

Amy looked down and picked up the newspaper. She saw the newspaper was full of photos of Grandma Eva cursing at her. The angle of the photos was excellent, and it looked like Amy was the one started quarreling.

"Dad, you were in the hospital that day. I didn't say anything." Amy said to Halbert.

"You didn't say anything? Look at this. Who was the man? What were you two doing?" Halbert threw yesterday's newspaper to Amy.

Amy took a look. It was a picture of herself and a man. His face was blurry on purpose. However, she could tell that the man was Andy. He was holding her hand. But it was truly an incidence. It was taken when she was almost hit by Gina's bowling ball.

The title was quite interesting. It said that she, as the hostess of the Carters, secretly went to meet her lover and didn't even bother to visit Grandpa John at the hospital. "Dad, this isn't the truth. He..." Amy wanted to explain to Halbert. "It's not the truth? When John was in critical condition, you weren't by his side. Everyone was calling you, but none of them got through. Halbert also called, he knew it." Grandma Eva walked over and argued loudly. When Halbert thought about it, he agreed with Eva. On that day, as he saw that Grandpa John couldn't make it, he had been calling Amy. However, the call couldn't get through. Halbert was very angry about this.

Grandpa John liked Amy very much and was always nice to her. But as he was dying, Amy wasn't there for him.

"I don't want to hear your explanation. You weren't there back then, and you couldn't be reached. Think about it. When did our family fail you? But what you did is a disgrace to us!" At this time, Halbert was furious.

Seeing that Halbert wouldn't listen to her explanation and that Grandma Eva was instigating, Amy felt it was useless to say anything.

"Grandma, Dad, I need to go out. Let's talk about these after I get back."

Amy had to pick up Sherry and Yuris. The contract was supposed to be signed today.

"Are you feeling guilty? Do you want to run? You wanna go find your lover and discuss how to deal with our family?" Grandma Eva walked over and pulled Amy, not willing to letting her go. She wanted to drive Amy out of the Carter family.

"Grandma, I have something very important to do today. Please let me go." Amy got so anxious since time was passing by very quickly.

"Is that how you speak to your grandma? This arrogant attitude? You did something wrong yet won't admit it?" Seeing that Amy was in a hurry to leave, Halbert was quite angry. Amy should give the Carters an explanation, right? But what was she doing now?!

"Dad, I will explain to Richard. He knows the best what I have done. But today, I don't have time to explain it to you. Please let me go. I have to go." Amy wanted to pull her arm out of Grandma Eva's grip. However, Grandma Eva was a farmer since she was young and thus she was quite strong. Amy had to make greater efforts to pull her arm out. However, before she could do anything, Grandma Eva staggered and fell to the ground. Bang! Halbert gave Amy a slap in the face. Halbert was hitting Amy very heavily and her face instantly swelled. She was at a loss for a moment.

And the next second, she burst into tears.

After Halbert hit Amy, he helped Grandma Eva up. He said to Amy, "Apologize to Grandma. You don't know how to behave yourself, do you? Don't you even know to respect the elderly? How were you brought up?" Halbert was still outrageous.

"Dad, I call you Dad because you are Richard's father. But it never means you are right and fair. I won't explain anything to you for now. I have to go now. If you stop me again, I will call Richard."

Early in the morning, Richard and Hilary had gone to prepare to welcome Sherry and Yuris.

Amy didn't leave with them since she had to pick up Sherry and Yuris, but now she was slapped at home.

A smug smile was shown by Grandma Eva.

"Mom, what happened to you?" At this time, Addy ran over, shouting exaggeratedly.

"Go!" Halbert felt that he had gone too far in slapping Amy, but he was still enraged in his heart.

Amy got into the car. She wiped her tears and looked at her right face in the mirror. It was red and swollen.

She had no choice but to untie her hair and tried to cover her face with the hair.

"Hello, Amy, you look good today. Your hair is so smooth and shiny."

When Sherry saw Amy, she felt that she liked her already. Anyone would like a smart, beautiful and polite girl when they saw one.

"Thank you, Ms. Rose, for your praise. You must have been waiting. Then let's go to HD Group now."

Amy smiled, but her face twitched in pain for her smile.

Due to Amy's efforts, they finally signed the contract. As the president, Richard shook hands with Sherry and Yuris.

"Richard, you are so lucky. You married such a smart and beautiful girl! She will help you a lot! You have to cherish her." Sherry said to Richard.

"Of course, she's my treasure." Richard hugged Amy, and his happy look relieved Sherry.

"Sherry, Yuris, I have prepared a banquet for you tonight. I look forward to seeing you there." Richard said to his two partners.

"No need. We have other appointments tonight. We're going back to Paris early tomorrow morning. I have to go back and inform my subordinates. After making such a large order, we have to make arrangements." Sherry refused. She really had something important to do tonight.

"Alright then, help yourself. If you need anything, just contact Amy." Richard did not force them.

"Mr. Carter, I really have something for Amy. Can you send us off early tomorrow morning?" Sherry looked at Amy expectantly. __Chapter 170 A Fake Fall

"Amy, you are my sweetie. Come and kiss me." Richard cupped Amy's face with his hands, but Amy had a painful look. He just happened to touch her where she was hurt. Amy gasped.

"What's the matter?" At this time, Richard discovered that Amy's face was a little swollen. He was focused on the negotiation. Besides, Amy covered her face with her hair, so he didn't see it.

"It's fine." Amy said that she was fine, but tears from grievance flowed down her cheeks.

"How could it be fine? Look at the fingerprints. Who slapped you?"

Richard's face darkened.

His wife was slapped, and he immediately burst into anger.

"I told you I'm fine. Let's go. I'm so tired. I need to rest." Amy didn't want to say anything. She wasn't in the mood to talk about what happened at the Carter's at this time.

"Amy, what happened to your face?" Hilary came to pack her things and saw that Amy was wiping her tears the moment she entered the room. Then, she saw a red mark on Amy's face.

"Richard, you slapped Amy? Why? Why did you do this?" Hilary pulled Richard and blamed him badly.

She thought Richard did this.

"It wasn't Richard. Hilary, let it go." Amy pulled Hilary.

It wasn't Richard? Then who did it? Hilary looked at Amy's face with distress. This mark was so big, so red, and it shouldn't be from a woman.

"Was it dad?" Hilary suddenly thought of the men in the house. At this time, the only man left in the house was her father. Her three brothers had gone to work.

"It's dad? Why did he slap you?" Richard pulled Amy and was about to confront Halbert. It scared Amy so much that she stopped him at once.

"It's because of the news recently. I don't know who took the pictures and made the headlines. Dad was angry when he read it. He asked me to explain. I was busy picking up Ms. Rose and I was about to leave.

Grandma didn't let me go. I don't know what happened, but she fell to the ground. Dad slapped me then." Amy told Richard what had happened at home this morning.

"It's Grandma again. Nothing will be good as long as she is around. It must be a fake fall, and she blamed you for this, right?" Hilary did not have a good impression of her grandmother.

"No matter what, my wife can't be bullied by them. Let's go, I will definitely help you." Richard couldn't calm down after hearing Amy's words. Amy was his wife and he would always defend her no matter what.

"That's right. You must go back. Amy, don't be afraid. Richard and I will help you." Hilary was also quite pissed off. What was wrong with her family? Were they crazy?

"What? Did she complain to you?" Halbert was drinking tea and chatting with Grandma Eva in the living room. Seeing that Richard returned aggressively, he looked up and glared at Amy.

Amy was not afraid of him and staring at him directly.

"Dad, why did you slap Amy?" Richard walked to Halbert and questioned him.

"Why did I slap her? Ask her. She hit your grandma! Don't you think I should teach her a lesson?" Halbert also stood up. They were both tall and now were confronting each other. People beside them were pressured.

"Grandma, did Amy hit you?" Hilary sat beside Grandma Eva and held her arm.

"Well, she knows what she has done." Grandma Eva was speaking vaguely since Amy didn't hit her.

"Oh, we must find the truth and everything in detail. Amy, did you hit my grandmother? I have to avenge her. Richard, show me the surveillance footage in the living room and let me see how Amy hit my grandmother." Hilary seemed to want to revenge for Grandma Eva.

However, her words reminded Richard. Hilary was really smart at the critical moment. She reminded him that there were surveillance cameras, so everything was recorded.

"Hilary, what's wrong with you? Is Amy so good to you that you want to help her against your grandma?

Speaking of this, Dad, we can check the surveillance footage to see how Amy hit Grandma." Richard pretended to scold Hilary, but his eyes were filled with praise.

"Go ahead. Let the evidence speak." Halbert wasn't afraid. He saw that Amy and Grandma Eva had an argument this morning.

However, Grandma Eva felt guilty. She fell by herself. If the footage was checked, it would be obvious that she faked a fall.

"Forget it. Why bother? We are family. It doesn't matter and I didn't hurt either." Grandma Eva hurriedly found an excuse.

"Grandma, no. Look at Amy. She is so arrogant. We must convince her. She made the mistake and should bear the consequence." Hilary didn't give in and made it very difficult for Grandma Eva.

"Dad, do it so that you can warn others that framing won't work here since we have surveillance cameras in this house." Richard refused to compromise.

"Alright, let's do it!" Halbert was provoked. He wanted to convince Amy that it was right for him to slap her.

It was useless for Grandma Eva to stop them. Halbert and Richard had turned on the TV and connected the monitoring system.

Everything that happened in the morning was revealed in front of everyone. First, Halbert threw the newspaper at Amy's feet, and then, Grandma Eva went to pull Amy to prevent her from leaving. The sound was recorded in the footage, and everyone could hear it clearly. Amy just wanted to pull her arm out, but Grandma Eva glanced at Amy, and when Halbert didn't pay attention, she fell on her own. Then, Halbert slapped Amy in the face. The truth was seen by everyone. Halbert glanced at Grandma Eva who lowered her head.

"Perhaps my legs went weak." Grandma Eva was still arguing, but her expression in the footage showed that she was trying to frame Amy.

Halbert also looked very nervous, but since he had slapped Amy, they wouldn't let Amy slap back, right?

He didn't say anything anymore.

"We can't let this go. You are Amy's grandmother and dad. You can't bully her by taking advantage of this. I'll leave this matter to Amy. In the future, don't make trouble at home. Grandfather has always wanted everyone to live in harmony, not against each other." When Richard said those words, he even glanced at Addy. Although she didn't say anything, but in Richard's opinion, she was not easy to deal with.

Chapter 171 Grandma Eva's Promise

Knowing that Amy would deal with this matter, Grandma Eva looked at Hilary for help. Her granddaughter would help her, right? She really didn't know who Hilary was helping at that time.

"Well, there's no need for Amy to deal with it. She must be in a difficult situation. I'll apologize to Amy on behalf of Grandma Eva. This won't happen again. Slapping you is definitely wrong. I wasn't considerate enough." Halbert's attitude suddenly changed. He admitted his mistake to Amy.

"I can admit my mistake in slapping you. However, I would like to know how you can explain the news in today's newspaper. You should give us an explanation." Halbert started to target at Amy again.

He could admit his mistake, but the news in the newspaper was not a joke, was it? He wouldn't believe that her son would trust such a woman.

"I want to tell you that Amy is very tired after working. She has signed a contract with Sherry and Yuris today. Do you know what it means signing a contract with them?"

Richard pulled Amy to sit down. He was the only one who cared for his wife.

"What? Sherry and Yuris signed a contract with Amy? Are you joking?"

Halbert pouted and looked at

Amy. Even Richard might not be able to win a contract from those two companies, and they never worked with HD group before.

Back then, Halbert had worked hard, but Sherry simply ignored him.

How could a brat like Amy sign a contract with the two companies?

"Dad, we didn't make it but it never means others can't. Amy did it. Not only did she make it, she also signed a long-term contract with both companies. Do you know what this contract means?" Richard looked at Grandma Eva and Addy.

However, Richard didn't say anything this time. Halbert said, "Signing these two contracts means that even if HD doesn't sign any contracts with any enterprises in the future, the wealth it brings will be enough for the rest of your life." Halbert was telling the truth.

With this great fortune, HD Group's position in R City would become even more solid. Of course, it wasn't a match for a foreign group like the Newell Group. Grandma Eva and Addy both opened their mouths wide. They were not happy, but they felt that Amy's status in the family would become higher and higher in the future. It would be impossible for them to kick her out.

When Halbert heard this news, his attitude towards Amy changed a lot. He became more sincere in his apologies as he apologized to Amy once again. This girl looked ordinary, but she was able to cooperate with Sherry and Yuris, the two tycoons. She was indeed a capable woman.

"Amy, it's my fault. I was wrong. Apologies alone can't express my guilt to you. I'll give this to you."

Halbert took out a fan made of expensive wood from his study.

Amy glanced at it and she didn't know what it could be used for. To her, it was just to create wind.

"Dad, there's no need. If we have a misunderstanding, we can just explain it clearly. We're family, and there's no need to treat me like a guest." Amy refused. She was an amateur in terms of antiques and calligraphy.

"Take it. You said we're family. And you should feel comfortable getting my gift. Your mother gave you a jade bracelet. I wasn't there at that time, and I didn't give you anything. Now I'll give this to you." Halbert insisted on giving the fan to Amy.

"Dad, I want to tell you that the man in the photo with me was Andy. That day, Ms. Rose asked me to go bowling, and I was almost injured by someone with a bowling ball. Fortunately, Andy was there. He helped me. That photo was taken at that time. There were many people present, but they were all blurred." Amy felt that she needed to explain the matter regarding that photo to Halbert.

As for what happened this morning, she didn't need to explain. Everyone was here, and they saw it.

There was no need to say anything else.

"Alright, I see. You guys go and rest. It's been a tiring day. I'll call you when it's dinner time." Halbert waved his hand helplessly. He felt that he was very tired living in his home now.

In the past, when his mother hadn't come, Cathy managed the house in an orderly manner, so he just left everything to her and lived a relaxed life.

However, it was different now. He felt that he was living with tricks every day, but he did not know what to do. His wife had returned to her parents' house and did not come back. The way his son and daughter-in-law looked at him was no longer as respectful as before. Was he, Halbert, living like such a loser? He let his son and daughter-in-law back, and Hilary left with them as she had nothing to say to these people. There were only Halbert, Grandma Eva, and Addy left in the living room.

"Mom, you're senior. I brought you here to enjoy your life. Don't worry too much. Addy, take good care of mom. If you need anything, just let me know." Halbert felt that he was very tired, so he went back to his room.

"You scared me to death. Addy, they are quite formidable. We have to be careful. I didn't expect that there was surveillance everywhere. Forget it, let's talk about this after Sophia's return. We don't have a place in the family now." Grandma Eva was taught a lesson by Halbert. She was shocked in her heart.

Could they bully her like this just after her husband passed away?

"Mom, we need to listen to Sophia. She's smart and knowledgeable. We just came here from the countryside, so we don't know much about things here. We need to deal with them slowly, and we need to prepare for the long term battle." Addy acted like a good guy.

"I wanted to help you! You've looked after me for so many years, and Cathy that bitch was the hostess here. It's unfair and I will help you. Addy, you still love Halbert, right?"

Grandma Eva held Addy's hand.

"Mom, I only love him. Otherwise, I would have got remarried a long time ago." Of course Addy only loved Halbert. How many people in this world could compete to Halbert?

However, Halbert had never liked her. Addy was able to give birth to two sons thanks to Grandma Eva's tricks. Otherwise, Halbert wouldn't have touched Addy at all.

"I am happy to heart that. You are good to me and I will always remember that, so I will help you. Don't worry, Addy, these two bitches will be driven out of the Carter family soon." Grandma Eva promised

Addy. Chapter 172 The Rumor-Monger Newspaper Disappeared

"Allison, how come the Carters trust that bitch Amy so much? We've used so many tricks to drive a wedge between them, but she cleared the air with just a few words. She really pissed me off." After Sophia found out what happened at home, she went to Allison.

Allison drank her tea gracefully. She also frowned. Amy was indeed lucky.

Many family members took her side. Halbert apologized to her. She even concluded a contract with Sherry and Yuris.

Thinking that Amy had signed a contract with Sherry and Yuris, Allison felt jealous. Sherry and she had known each other for many years. She had thought that Sherry would cooperate with her in one or two projects for sake of the friendship. However, when she talked to Sherry about it, the latter kept avoiding the topic.

But how did Amy conclude the contract with Sherry and Yuris? It puzzled Allison.

"There's no rush. Right now, our priority is to make Halbert and Richard hate Amy. Others are insignificant. Richard and Halbert have the final say in the family," Allison analyzed.

"Then what should we do? I'm dying to see Amy becoming miserable. I'll be walking on air then. Allison, can you move into our house as well? Grandma Eva is too old. William's mother isn't smart. I can't defeat them alone." Sophia begged Allison to move into the Carter's mansion. "You're stupid! What excuse do I have to move in? Jacob's girlfriend? How can I live with him before our marriage? What about my dignity? It will bring shame to my family." Allison told Sophia off for being stupid.

"I'm sorry. I didn't think it through. Allison, don't be angry." At this moment, Sophia had no other choice but to rely on Allison to help her.

"Never mind. I know you are just anxious. But don't rush me. I'll figure out a way, the best way, to get rid of Amy once for all."

"I won't rush you. Take your time." What Sophia wanted the most was to drive Amy out of the Carter family so she could get the jade bracelet as soon as possible. She was fearful of Allison. If Allison married Jacob, she would be the eldest son's wife. Then, Sophia's effort would be all for nothing. She had to be the most important woman of the Carter family so the White family could make a comeback in the R City.

"Come and eat something. Don't be too anxious. We need to make a flawless plan. Only in this way can we get rid of the trouble once for all. Do you understand?" Allison looked at Sophia's chest. It was said a woman couldn't have both big boobs and a smart brain. But Sophia didn't have big boobs. Nor did she have a smart brain. Poor girl.

Thinking of this, Allison straightened her back. There were very few women with plump breasts and intelligence like her. She felt good.

"Understood," Sophia said flatteringly. She gazed at Allison's chest and thought, 'You must have had the breast enlargement surgery. What's there to be proud of? I can have big breasts as well with a little money.'

The two of them sat back, drinking tea and eating snacks.

As they were working on their evil plan, Allison's phone rang. Seeing that it was her mother, Tracy, she hurriedly picked it up.

"Allison, hurry up. I'm in the hospital. Don't tell your brother or others. Come quickly." Tracy sounded very anxious on the phone.

"Okay. Mom, I'll be right there." When Allison heard that her mother was in the hospital, she had a bad premonition.

No Wonder She's Always In The Top 10 Of These Lists

"Sophia, I have to go. I'm going to the hospital. Go home. I'll let you know when I have a plan." After saying that, Allison took her bag and hurriedly left.

"Mom, what happened to you? Why were you so anxious?" After arriving at the hospital, Allison saw the pale-faced Tracy.

"Allison, come here. Listen, I have been diagnosed as having terminal liver cancer. What should I do?"

When Tracy knew this, she was shocked. She often felt pain in her right abdomen recently.

"What? Mom, there must be a mistake." Allison's mother had been her counselor. Allison was stunned at the news.

"I'm also doubtful. Tell your father and your brother that we are going to travel abroad. I want to go abroad for a recheck." Tracy had no faith in the examination in this hospital. She didn't want to die so early. How could she die before she saw her son and daughter get married?

Allison asked Tracy, "Should I tell them you are ill?"

"No, don't tell them. I don't want them to know, especially your father. I always suspect that he has a mistress outside. If they know about my illness, they will be thrilled. I'll have an exact diagnosis and then make a plan. Tell your brother that you want to travel abroad, and I'm going with you," Tracy said to Allison.

This was the best hospital in R City. If she had doubts about the medical examination result, she could only go abroad to have another examination.

"Alright, Mom, I'll call my brother right away." Tears flowed down Allison's cheeks uncontrollably. Tracy had always helped Allison. She was always coming up with good ideas. If Tracy died, Allison could only rely on herself.

"Richard, why hasn't Mom come back yet?" Amy was lying on the bed. Cathy hadn't come home yet and Amy missed her very much. Without Cathy, this family was turning into a mess.

"Dad has tried several times to bring her back. It seems that Mom has some unfinished business. Since she promised you that she would come back, she will definitely come back. She always keeps her word."

Richard stroked Amy's hair. He was still dealing with some work on the computer.

"Richard, why do you think things have become like this? Did we do anything wrong? Why doesn't Grandma Eva like me?" Amy was very respectful to the elder. She couldn't figure out why Grandma Eva had hated her from the beginning.

"How can you expect everyone to like you? It only matters as long as I like you. Don't worry about others. Let me tell you something. You'll be very happy about it. The newspaper that spread rumors about you and Andy has disappeared from R City, and the newspaper that reported about your arguing with Grandma Eva has gone bankrupt," Richard told her. "Disappeared? How strange! Did you do it, Richard?" There were only a few people in R City who was capable of doing so. Amy guessed it was her husband. "The bankruptcy was my work, but I didn't make the other newspaper disappear since I couldn't find it." However, even though Richard wasn't responsible, he knew who did it. _____ Chapter 173 Embarrassed Hannah Hannah had been depressed recently. Everything she feared had happened. Also, Kevin demanded she go to HA Group to discuss cooperation. No one else was welcome. Under the repeated requests of Cadman, Hannah had to go. When she arrived at the entrance of HA Group's office building, Hannah tidied her hair and straightened her clothes.

Although Kevin's reputation was not good, he was once the boy she admired. Hannah didn't want to look bad in front of him. All set, Hannah walked in. "Are you Miss Adams?" When the receptionist saw Hannah, she hurriedly ran over to welcome her. Hannah felt awkward. She was not used to the enthusiasm. "Yes," Hannah responded. "Our president is waiting for you. Please follow me." The receptionist walked to the president's exclusive elevator, and brought Hannah to Kevin's office. Although Kevin looked like a playboy, he was actually a wise and conservative man. But he wanted to scare away the women who were coveting him every day. Seeing Hannah, Kevin felt that the air was getting fresher, and the tiredness from dealing with the documents had dissipated. "Mr. Smith, Miss Adams is here." The receptionist brought Hannah into the president's office and left perceptively.

"Miss Adams, you're very punctual. Please take a seat. I'll be done soon with this," Kevin said.

"Take your time, Mr. Smith. There is no rush." Hannah sat on the sofa and waited for Kevin.

She looked around at Kevin's office. He was said to be a playboy, but his office was decorated in a solemn style. Everything in the large office was properly placed. Apart from black and white, there were no other colors.

Seeing this, she felt he was a professional CEO. Watching Kevin work earnestly, she thought he was really handsome. But he couldn't make a commitment, and Hannah did not like that.

"Alright, I've finished it. Let's talk about the cooperation plan with HD Group. I'm sorry, I forgot to get you some water." Seeing that there was no water in front of Hannah, Kevin personally went to get her a glass of water.

Hannah wanted to decline, but Kevin was fast and had come back with a glass of water.

"Miss Adams, please drink some water. I'm sorry for not being considerate. I'd like to invite you to lunch as compensation. Do I have the honor, Miss Adams?" Kevin sounded sincere.

The fact was that the receptionist went to the lobby to welcome Hannah and bring her to Kevin's office under his instructions, but he had specifically told her not to get water for Hannah.

"That's not necessary. Besides, I'm not thirsty." Hannah didn't want to go to lunch alone with Kevin. If the reporters saw it, she didn't know what they would write about her.

"Miss Adams, are you looking down on me?" Kevin squinted at Hannah. He saw how awkward she was.

But he just wanted to get along with her. He didn't have any other bad intentions.

"No." Hannah didn't dare to say that she didn't like him since he was a playboy. If she failed in this mission, Cadman would kneel before her, which was too much for her.

Hannah hurriedly took the glass of water and gulped it down. In the end, she drank it too fast and choked.

Overwhelmed by the embarrassment, Hannah wanted to cry. She wasn't ladylike at all at this moment.

How could she make a fool of herself in front of the man she cared about?

Hannah coughed violently. Kevin was anxious. He gently patted her back with his hand to make her feel better.

She finally stopped coughing, but her face was red and tearful. She didn't raise her head since she didn't want him to see her like this. Kevin handed her a tissue, and she wiped her face.

"Are you feeling better?" he asked worriedly when seeing that her head was lowered down.

"Yes. Do you have a mirror?" Hannah was concerned about her appearance. Although she kept telling herself Kevin was a playboy, she still cared a little about him.

"Yes, I'll go get it for you." Smart as Kevin was, he certainly knew what she meant. He brought the mirror to Hannah and went to the bathroom.

Hannah hurriedly looked in the mirror. Fortunately, her expression had returned to normal. There were no tears or snot coming out. She quickly collected herself. It was really embarrassing just now.

Seeing that she was ready, Kevin came out. There was still a slight flush on Hannah's cheeks. She looked even more adorable. Kevin wanted to kiss her, but he didn't dare, afraid that he would frighten her.

"Since you are fine, let's talk about the cooperation and have lunch together afterwards." Kevin hadn't forgotten about the lunch.

"Alright." Hannah only meant to answer the first half of his sentence. She didn't expect Kevin to add something in the end.

It was too late for Hannah to take it back. 'Forget it. It's just a meal. I need to eat anyway.'

Kevin talked about business logically and methodically. Hannah thought his ideas made sense.

Fortunately, she had also done a lot of preparatory work. The two of them talked in a tacit understanding for an entire morning and had a very pleasant conversation.

By noon, Hannah's stomach grumbled. Kevin immediately heard it and Hannah blushed again.

She didn't have time to eat breakfast in the morning. At this time, she was starving. Just now, her attention had been all on work, and she temporarily forgot she had come with an empty stomach.

"I'm sorry, I didn't realize it's already noon. Let's go and have lunch. I'm hungry, too. We can continue talking about it after lunch. What do you think?" Kevin closed the file in his hand.

"Alright then." Hannah knew that Kevin stopped the discussion because he had heard the grumble of her stomach. She agreed to his suggestion since she couldn't focus without eating anyway.

Noticing how embarrassed she was, Kevin was in a good mood. She always seemed so bold. But in fact, she could be shy sometimes after all.

Hannah was shy only before someone she cared about. Kevin had discovered it, but Hannah did not realize it.

Kevin happily brought Hannah to the company's canteen. He had a private room there.

"Order whatever you like." Kevin handed the menu to Hannah. She took a look and felt that it would be better if Kevin ordered for her.

"Mr. Smith, please order what you like. I'm not picky about food."

Hannah did not know what Kevin liked to eat.

"Alright then, I'll do it." Kevin took the menu and quickly ordered some dishes before handing it to the waiter. _____ Chapter 174 Kevin's Secret

The dishes were served soon. Hannah saw that they were all the ones she liked. Her mouth began watering.

"Alright, let's eat. We can get back to work after lunch," Kevin said to Hannah, and the two of them began to eat.

The dishes were Hannah's favorite. Kevin had done his homework. He knew what Hannah liked and what she didn't like.

However, Hannah did not know about this. She thought that her taste was very similar to Kevin's.

Hannah ate so much her belly bulged. When Kevin wasn't noticing, she rubbed her belly. The food in the staff canteen was so delicious.

"How did you like it? The food here is not bad, right? Next time you come, I'll treat you to steamed fish head with chopped pepper. We didn't have it today because the chef is on leave." Steamed fish head with chopped pepper was Hannah's favorite dish.

"Really? I like steamed fish head with chopped pepper the most. Then I'll eat it the next time I come," Hannah said without hesitation.

After saying that, she felt that she was being rash. If she didn't have a chance to come next time, wouldn't it be too embarrassing?

"Let's go back to the office." Kevin took Hannah's hand. The two of them returned to his office. Hannah let Kevin hold her hand. She was still thinking about steamed fish head with chopped pepper.

"Noon is the time to rest. I won't take up your rest time. You take a rest. We can talk about work in the afternoon." Kevin released Hannah's hand.

When he suddenly let go of her hand, Hannah felt a little weird. Only then did she realize that he had been holding her hand. His hand was warm and dry. It felt very comfortable.

No. What was happening? Why was she thinking of a playboy's hand? There must be something wrong with her. Hannah immediately came to her senses. No, she couldn't let this go on. Kevin was charming. If she spent too much time with him, she might be fascinated. Then she would end up being one of thousands of women abandoned by him.

'Hannah, you can't be charmed by him. Wake up. Clear your head,' Hannah kept warning herself.

"What's on your mind?" a gentle voice asked her. As Hannah turned around, her lips touched Kevin's cheek.

Both of them were stunned. Kevin's reaction was unexpected. When Hannah was about to turn around, he cupped her face with his hands and pressed his lips against hers. Hannah was out of breath. Only then did she realize he kissed her again. "Why are you still so silly? Breathe. Or you may be suffocated." Kevin looked at Hannah's flushed face and her moist lips, and smiled. All this was because of him. This woman belonged to him.

"You ... Mr. Smith, why do you keep kissing me?" Although Hannah blushed, she wasn't angry this time.

It was as if she had never been really angry with Kevin's kiss. Instead, she felt a little infatuated.

"I have only kissed you twice. If you want me to keep kissing you, I will agree to your request gladly."

Kevin smiled evilly. He reached out his beautiful hand to touch Hannah's lips.

Hannah quickly dodged. This playboy had always wanted to take advantage of women.

"Mr. Smith, there are many women who like you, and they are all very outstanding. I know that, but I am just the daughter of an ordinary family, and I am not as outstanding as those women. Please keep a distance with me. I am faithful in love." Hannah's face was cold. She wanted to make it clear to Kevin that if he hit on her again, the consequences would be very serious.

No Wonder She's Always In The Top 10 Of These Lists

It Must Have Been A Kind Of Hell For A Little Chrissy Metz

"Hannah, what do you mean? You emphasized that you are faithful? Am I not? You made it sound like I am a womanizer. I like to hit on you. What can you do about it?" Kevin was also angry. Why did she think he had many women?

"You are faithful? You're a famous playboy in R City. If you come on to me again, the consequences will be serious!" Hannah warned again.

"I'm not afraid of any consequences. I'll keep coming on to you. Hannah, you're mine. You can't run away from me," Kevin said with certainty.

Hannah looked at him strangely for a while. Kevin also looked at her, not knowing what was going on in her head.

Kevin was really handsome. In terms of appearance, he was not inferior to Richard and Andy at all.

Hannah looked at Kevin and pounced on him. She held his face and kissed him. But she didn't know how to kiss. She just bit him randomly and his mouth was full of her saliva. With such lousy kissing skills, she was forcing her kiss on him, but Kevin didn't resist. He just let her bite him. If it hurt too much, he would gently bite her back. Then she would restrain herself.

Hannah was panting heavily from the kiss. She was too tired, but biting Kevin felt good. His lips were soft.

After the kiss, Hannah let go of Kevin and gasped in his arms. Kevin fondly stroked her hair and her face. She was so weird. But he still had a question.

"Will you forcefully kiss me every time I come on to you?" Kevin asked.

"No, you must be responsible for me. If you can't do that, I will kill myself," Hannah threatened. She was just joking. She wouldn't die. It was great to be alive.

"Silly girl, of course I will be responsible for you. Don't worry, I won't let you die." Kevin hugged her. At this moment, he felt that the sky was so clear, the ground was so vast, and he was so happy.

The two of them hugged each other and didn't want to let go. They fell asleep on the sofa in such a position. Hannah's saliva dripped onto Kevin's fancy shirt.

"Amy, someone wants to ask us out for a get-together. Do you want to go?" Richard walked from his office to Amy's office and asked.

"Who is it?" Amy stopped what she was doing and looked up at Richard.

"Kevin. He has a new girlfriend. He wants us to meet her." Richard walked over and placed his hands on her desk, looking at her.

"He has a new girlfriend? He changes girlfriends constantly. I don't want to meet her. He will have a new girlfriend before I can remember this one's name." Amy shook her head.

"Amy, since when does Kevin have girlfriend? He only used those women as a cover up because his parents have been forcing him to get married, just like me. He is still a virgin. Of course, I'm not anymore." Richard revealed Kevin's secret.

"He's still a virgin?" Surprised, Amy almost choked on her own saliva. Chapter 175 Kevin's Girlfriend Amy was curious about Kevin's girlfriend, so she agreed to Kevin's invitation. What kind of girl would win Kevin's heart? Amy was looking forward to finding it out. In the blink of an eye, it was the weekend. Amy drove to the arranged place with Richard.

Kevin was waiting there. He looked radiant, and even his hair was neatly combed.

"Hello, Amy and Richard. My girlfriend went shopping. She'll be right here," Kevin said to them.

Amy suddenly remembered that she needed to buy something, so she went to the supermarket nearby.

After picking some drinks and food, Amy wanted to buy some napkins, so she walked to the napkins area.

"Hannah?" Amy saw Hannah at a glance.

"Amy?" Hannah looked at Amy. The things they bought were almost the same, such as food and drinks.

"Amy, where are you going?" Hannah asked. She felt that it was rare to meet Amy here.

"I'm going to Thunder Mountain. What about you?" Looking at the things in Hannah's hands, Amy found it strange.

"I'm also going there. What a coincidence! Then we can go together."

Hannah did not know that Kevin had made an appointment with Amy. She only knew that Kevin asked two of his friends out.

"Alright, then we can go together." Amy and Hannah walked out of the supermarket hand in hand and arrived at the place where Richard and Kevin were waiting for them.

"Kevin, the friends you have asked out are Amy and Richard, right?" No matter how careless Hannah was, she realized that something was wrong.

"Yes. Let me introduce her to you. This is my girlfriend, Hannah. Are you surprised?" Kevin pulled Hannah over and held her in his arms.

Heavens! This wasn't a pleasant surprise, but a shock. Amy failed to regain her senses for a long time.

Hannah blushed. At the sight of Amy's shocked expression, she thought Amy was angry.

"Amy, I planned to tell you in a few days. I didn't expect Kevin to tell you today. I'm a little nervous and uncomfortable." Hannah hurriedly explained to Amy.

"No, it's not like that. It's fine. It's good that you guys are together," Amy hurriedly said.

If Richard hadn't told her yesterday that Kevin was a virgin, she definitely wouldn't like Kevin, a notorious playboy, being with her good friend.

But now that she knew Kevin's secret, and that Kevin was the person Hannah longed for, such an outcome was the best.

They shared a car and headed for Thunder Mountain.

Two men sat in the front row and two women sat in the back row. Amy and Hannah were whispering in the back.

"Amy, do you think it weird that I have fallen for a womanizer?" Hannah was a little worried that Amy didn't like Kevin.

"No, your choice is correct. Let me tell you. Kevin is a virgin. Yesterday, Richard told me that those rumors about him were all false. He wants to find a girl he likes, so he creates such rumors." Amy secretly told Hannah Kevin's secret.

"Really? I thought he was lying to me." Actually, when Kevin said that, Hannah didn't have full faith in him. Now that Amy said so, she completely believed him.

He's Using This Secret Trick To Make Millions

Although people gossiped that Kevin kept changing girlfriends and that he became a trending topic with different women, it seemed that no one had seen him shopping with any woman.

It turned out that she was lucky to have such a boyfriend. Hannah smiled happily when she thought about it.

"Amy, I think I'm lucky. I'm so ordinary, but he's so outstanding. Why does he fall for me?" Hannah was intoxicated by the joy of Kevin asking her to be his girlfriend.

"Why do you belittle yourself? You're outstanding. Don't underestimate yourself. You're unique, and you're the best." Amy encouraged Hannah.

"Really?" When Hannah heard Amy's words of encouragement, she felt confident.

The group arrived at Thunder Mountain. As the name implied, Thunder Mountain looked a bit like Thunder God. There was a sharp nose and a sharp mouth. It looked quite impressive.

"Today, we come here to admire the scenery of nature. The only difference between Thunder Mountain and others is that the top of Thunder Mountain is covered in snow all year round. We have to rent clothes. Clothes on us won't be enough to stand the cold." Kevin told everyone.

Hearing that it was so cold, Hannah wavered. She was afraid of the cold. "It's so cold. I'm a little scared," Hannah said.

"Don't worry. I'm here. We'll rent down jackets," Kevin said as he lowered his head and shook her hand.

Hannah found it improper to argue at the sight of Amy's and Richard's excited looks. Since they had come, they should have a whale of a good time.

Kevin went to rent four down jackets and thick snow boots to equip the two girls.

"There aren't many visitors today, so we don't have to go to the special passageway. It's more interesting to play with the tourists." Kevin suggested.

Thunder Mountain was his property. It gave him a different feeling now than spending time with the tourists.

"Alright. I don't want us four to separate from others. It's more fun to have more people around."

Hannah immediately agreed. She had just promised to be Kevin's girlfriend, so she was a little awkward.

Thus, they went to buy tickets and lined up to get in the sightseeing cable car.

There were a total of twelve people in the cable car. Everyone was here to experience the scenery of Thunder Mountain. Although it was a hot summer day at the foot of the hill, this place was filled with ice and snow.

Two children sitting on the cable car watched the scenery beneath their feet and happily jumped. The cable car rocked, so Amy, who was afraid of heights, was even more frightened.

"Well, we can't do vigorous exercises in the cable car. Please tell your kids to stop jumping." Richard felt that Amy was tightening her grip on him, so he said to the two children's parents.

"Our children are just jumping lightly. They didn't do vigorous exercises. It won't be a problem. If you're afraid, don't come." The parents of the two children were unreasonable. "What are you talking about? We are in a public place, not your home. It clearly says that visitors can't jump. Can't you see it?" Hannah flew into a temper.

How could she forget that Amy was afraid of heights? She tightly grabbed onto Amy's shoulder.

"I can't see it. So what? What can you do to us? Thunder Mountain doesn't belong to you. I'll do whatever I want." Those children's mother was getting more and more aggressive, looking like a fierce rooster.

Chapter 176 Thunder Mountain

"If the cable car falls, it doesn't matter if we die, nor does it matter for you? You have four families here."

Kevin said coldly.

"Cable car is accident-prone. Have you heard the news recently? A kid lost his parents because of a cable car accident." Kevin continued.

"Stop jumping! Stop! Why would we meet you? What kind of luck is this!" The woman felt scared and hurriedly warned her children.

The man glanced at Kevin and then looked at Richard. God! They were famous people! But this woman just called them names.

The man lowered his head and the two children stopped being noisy. The others in the cable car became quiet then.

Suddenly, the cable car made a sound as it passed the pillars, and then it trembled violently. It scared the women. She immediately hugged the man, and had no regard for her children.

The man pulled her away, "Kids! Protect kids!" The man whispered to her.

The woman realized that. Everyone started laughing. What a selfish woman! The first thing she thought of when she encountered any dangers was herself. She didn't even care about the children.

"What are you laughing at? Really, do you know who I am? It was my misfortune to meet you!" The woman started cursing again.

"Stop talking. That's enough." The man covered his face and stopped woman. If he knew how stupid the woman was, he would never flirt with her. If it weren't for her beauty, he would have kicked her out.

The woman glanced at the man. What was going on? Why did he tell her to shut up? But she didn't say anything else. She just glared at the people in the cable car.

Richard and Kevin protected their girlfriends and looked ahead. They ignored that woman.

When the cable car reached the top of the mountain, everyone got off one after another. Amy did not say anything along the way. She did not know she was going to take the cable car. If she knew it, she would not come. However, she had to endure it now.

"Mr. Wilson, nice to see you. I think you were so absorbed in the view that you didn't recognize me."

When Richard walked past the man, he said this slowly.

Andrew was stunned when he heard this.

"Mr. Carter and Mr. Smith, it was my bad. Today's matter is all my fault. I'll invite you to dinner sometime." Andrew was the eldest son of the Wilson family, also a lecherous man. His wife was controlling and he couldn't bare it. So he was always out there hooking up with other women.

"Don't bother. We can't pay it back anyway. Bye then." Richard left without looking at him.

"Who is that? That's so rude." The woman with her two children was looking at Richard's back with disdain.

The two men, she thought, were good looking and covered in designer labels. They must have got into some kind of rich woman.

"Shut up! That's Mr. Carter, the boss of HD Group. And the other one is Mr. Smith, who owns the Smith's Beauty Salon. No one dares to even disagree with them! You stupid woman! You've ruined everything."

Andrew was furious that he wanted to slap her.

The woman was shocked. She remembered her husband said that he was going to cooperate with HD Group recently. If the partnership succeeded, the benefits could be substantial. But now it all seemed to have gone up in smoke.

"What should we do? He doesn't know me, right? I don't even go out. They definitely don't know me."

The woman thought she still had a chance.

But Richard and Kevin knew Andrew! Matt had won the HD Group and the Tom Group's projects. Landon had praised him a lot. If Landon found out about Andrew's scandal, then his position as vice president was at stake.

"Andrew, let's go take a look at the top of the mountain." The woman relaxed a lot when she found that Richard didn't know her.

But Andrew wasn't in the mood. He was depressed.

"I don't want to. I'm taking my child back. You can go yourself." Of the two children, one was the woman's own, the other his. Andrew used the child as an excuse to come out. His wife knew about him, so she was careful on that.

"Don't go, Andrew! We haven't done that yet..." They came out for a date, but didn't do anything.

"Don't come looking for me again. Let's break up. You stupid woman. If I lose the vice presidency, your husband's career will be over." Andrew warned and left with his daughter.

The woman didn't find anything fun, so she left with her child.

After got off the cable car, Amy stood for a long time before she recovered. She was still uncomfortable.

"It's fine. That cable car is safe. It won't break like Kevin said. We would be careful on that." Richard comforted Amy.

"Amy is afraid of heights. She used to be afraid to even sit on Andy's shoulders." Hannah explained.

When Richard heard that Amy had been so close to Andy since she was a kid, he was a little jealous. Why didn't he participate in Amy's childhood?

"It's alright. Let's go. I heard that the Thunder Mountain is unique. There would be snow at this time. I really want to see it." In order not to disappoint everyone, Amy followed. She also wanted to see the snow in summer.

Along the way, there was sparkling snow that had not melted away, some on the bushes, some on the branches, and some in the soil.

Looking around, it was a world covered in snow, a world of purity.

Hannah and Amy were wearing down jackets, but they still shivered when the snow wind blew in.

"Come, come into my arms. Kevin, I think this place is good. We can hug them with a proper reason."

Richard smiled. This was the first time Kevin had seen him smile so happily. ___ Chapter 177 Amy Was Injured

At the top of Thunder Mountain was a large lake right at the center. The snow on the periphery had melted. And the center was still covered with thick snow. Children were playing on the ice.

They walked around the lake, enjoying different scenery. Everywhere they went, they found a different kind of beauty.

There was still some snow on the plank road and it was slippery. They then strolled slowly forward, hand in hand.

A part of road was high from the lake. Everyone was looking towards the center. A boy was playing on the ice. But Amy suddenly saw a crack on the surface. She was worried and wanted to call the boy to come up. However, she slipped and slid into the lake.

"There's a crack! Get that boy up!" Amy didn't forget about the boy when she was slipping down to the lake.

Seeing that Amy fell from the fence and wouldn't stop shouting about the boy, Richard immediately flipped over the fence.

Kevin also jumped out. Luckily, the ice was thick. Amy only sprained her foot. Several people pulled that boy out. The crack of the ice was widening so fast that the boy fell into the lake.

Fortunately, Amy shouted, and then the boy could be saved.

Amy's foot was swollen. She sprained her ankle so badly that she couldn't walk at all.

The boy's parents walked over and thanked Amy. Fortunately, Amy reminded them, or they would have been too late to save their child. The water under the ice was bone-chilling.

"You were injured. Shall we take you to the hospital?" The relative of the boy asked with concern when he saw Amy's foot.

"It's fine. We can go to the hospital by ourselves." Amy waved her hand and refused. They were sensible enough to offer paying the medical bill.

"Take it, please. This is my business card. We can take any problem. Since you won't let us take you to the hospital, you can keep the money." The good-looking relative insisted on giving money to Amy and stuffed her with his business card.

Amy then accepted it. She put them in her purse.

Richard held Amy. He also suffered from the pressure of being ignored. They actually took no notice of this handsome man.

Finally, the family left. Richard left with Amy in his arms. Kevin and Hannah followed them together and got on the cable car again.

"Look at me. Stop staring at others." Richard said to Amy.

Amy looked at him as he wished. She enjoyed looking at his handsome man straight out.

Suddenly, a business card fell out of her pocket.

"Amy, that guy left you a business card. He's a lawyer." Hannah picked it up and handed it to Amy.

Amy was about to take it, but Richard took it and said, "Focus. Or you'll feel bad later." Richard had enough reason. Amy could only look at him.

After twenty minutes, they descended the mountain. Although there were some accidents, they had a good time today.

"There's a hospital nearby. We can go take a look." Kevin pointed at the hospital and said to everyone.

"Nothing serious. It's just a sprain. Use some potion and you'll be fine in a few days." The doctor examined Amy's foot and found that it did not sprain to the bone. It was just a ligament injury.

"Perfect. You can't leave me now." Richard hugged Amy. Amy was thin. He hadn't felt tired after holding her for so long.

"I wasn't going to do that anyway." Amy whispered in Richard's ear. Richard became more satisfied. He smiled even more brightly, drawing the gazes of all the doctors and nurses. What a charming man!

"That's all we can do today. I'm sorry. You guys aren't having fun, are you? We can now have lunch. After that, we will call it a day." Kevin said with pity. He had arranged spa, but now, because Amy couldn't walk, he had to wait until next time.

"Alright, let's have lunch. I'm hungry." When Hannah heard that, she finally felt hungry.

"Alright. It's time. Let's go." Amy and Richard were also hungry. Since it was Kevin's treat, they were going to have a big lunch.

"Just order whatever you like, the more expensive the better." Kevin was with his girlfriend today, so he couldn't be stingy.

"Kevin, this is the first time you take your girlfriend. Don't worry, we won't pretend to be polite. I want abalone, shark fin, and lobster." Richard said deliberately. He ordered these for Amy.

"You? You are allergic to seafood. Have you forgotten last time when you had them with Amy?" Kevin told everyone about Richard's allergy.

"You're allergic to seafood? Then why didn't you tell me?" Amy remembered that she had prepared a lot of seafood for Richard. It turned out that the so-called hickey on his body the next day was because of the allergy!

"You helped me with the dishes. I can't refuse them, can I?" Richard flattered.

"You!" Amy didn't know what to say. Why would he do that since he knew his condition? In order not to embarrass Amy, he even ate them all! That allergy could be fatal.

After lunch, they said goodbye. They had a good time today anyway. Richard carried Amy out of the restaurant and ran into a person who had been following them for a long time.

"What's the matter?" Richard looked at the person with an ugly expression.

"Mr. Carter, I'm really sorry today. It's all my fault that I didn't recognize you. I want to treat you to dinner tonight and apologize." Andrew was full of smiles. He was like a pet fawning on its master.

Chapter
178 A Wonderful Thing in the Family

Andrew was flattering towards Richard. He had offended Richard and Kevin today. If he did not apologize properly, then Wilson Group would probably find it difficult to survive. After thinking, Andrew then planned to come to Richard and apologize. Andrew saw them had entered the restaurant, but it would be a reward for him to follow them in. He then waited until they came out. But he didn't expect that to be the end of their day. Andrew then decided to come to Richard first.

"No need for that. I'm really sorry that I didn't let you enjoy today, Andrew." Richard did not want to have dinner with Andrew. This person was sinister and cunning, much harder to deal with than Matt.

"Please don't say that, Mr. Carter. It was I who made you unhappy today. It was all because that woman.

I want to apologize. I hope Mr. Carter can give me a chance." Andrew was the same person as Matt. They were always blaming others and couldn't see their own problems.

"If I'm correct, that woman seems to be Noah's wife. The HY Group is his, right?" Richard supported Amy and chatted with Andrew. Richard said it on purpose.

Andrew was shocked. Richard actually knew that woman! That Noah of HY Group was a hard nut. He used to have some reputation in the underworld. If someone provoked him, Noah would usually break his arm or leg.

However, that woman rarely went out. How did Richard know her?

"Noah is something. He doesn't even blink when killing people. Alright. I don't have time to have dinner with you. My wife was injured. We have to go back." Richard had told him everything. He needed to leave.

Andrew heard Noah's name, and he was stunned. If Noah knew that Andrew had an affair with his wife, he would definitely kill Andrew.

Andrew didn't even notice that Richard had left. It had been a long time before he realized that. Andrew could only go home.

"Richard, who is that Noah?" Amy didn't know much about the boss of HY Group.

"A guy who doesn't care about his image or life, but don't be afraid. He's still afraid of a few people here, and I'm one of them." Richard comforted Amy.

"So the woman with Andrew today is Noah's wife?" Amy seemed to have heard something, and her eyes lit up.

"Yes. Now Andrew is in a big trouble. We found out his secret. He'll try to get us to keep this. I remembered! He had a project with Wilson Group. I can ask him to give us two percent of the profit!"

Richard laughed.

The project mentioned had been cancelled, but Sophia persuaded Halbert. Then Halbert gave that project to Wilson Group. Richard had no choice but to take that. But Richard was uncomfortable about this. Now that he had caught Andrew, he would take it as a good chance.

"Two percent! That's a lot! Poor Andrew." Amy smiled. She was very happy to see this. Wilson Group absorbed Miller Group before. It was time to let Andrew pay it back.

"It's not going to make him go bankrupt, but it's going to cost him a lot. Amy, I will help you." Richard said affectionately to Amy. His eyes were deep and full of love. Amy looked back at Richard with her bright eyes.

Richard put Amy in the back of the car and kept her feet in a comfortable position. Then he drove the car.

The villa was quiet. Perhaps everyone was taking a nap. Richard carried Amy upstairs, then he met Sophia.

"What happened to Amy?" Sophia noticed that Amy's foot was bandaged up. Her tone was full of concern, but she couldn't stop smiling.

"Nothing serious. She sprained her ankle." Richard walked past Sophia. His faint fragrance attracted Sophia.

Until they left, Sophia was still there, feeling the smell of Richard.

Amy and Richard rested for a while. When they left the room, they noticed that there seemed to be something going on today. Everyone was here, as well as Janice.

"Richard, come! We have some honored guests today." Grandma Eva looked at Richard and hurriedly called him. Richard was the rock of the family, so of course she should treat him better.

Richard then carried Amy downstairs. Although Grandma Eva didn't want Amy to be here, she ignored it because of the guests.

"Grandma Eva, who's coming?" Richard placed Amy on the sofa and sat beside her. He then wiped her foot with medicine.

"Do you remember Allison? She and her family are here. We are going to discuss Jacob and Allison's marriage." Grandma Eva said joyfully.

"Allison and Jacob?" Richard was stunned. When did they get together? Richard would be embarrassed if they saw each other more often.

Richard glanced at Amy. Amy was also looking at him. This was really breaking news.

When Allison and Jacob were together, everyone felt that it was impossible. But today, Allison came here with her family. Their relationship was supposed to be true.

Allison must not marry Jacob for love. She wanted to take this opportunity to be close to Richard.

When Amy thought of this, she looked at Richard. Richard also looked back at her. Amy smiled, "That's great. Someone else will join our family. With so many people together, the house will be lively."

"Amy is right. It is said that the more families we have, the better our fortunes will be. Look, I gave birth to two sons. But now we have so many families here. It proves that our family is getting more and more prosperous." Grandma Eva agreed with Amy. She wanted to have more people in her family, so her life wouldn't be boring. More importantly, Amy and Cathy would not take it and leave.

"Grandma, they are here. Shall we all go out to welcome them?" Sophia ran in. She suggested everyone to welcome Allison and her family.

Chapter 179 Engagement or Marriage?

Allison and her parents came to Carter's mansion. Grandma Eva was so enthusiastic to see them.

The Fields went in. The table was full of dishes, which cost Eva a fortune.

"Allison, how do you like the dishes today? If there's anything you don't like, let us know. We'll change it next time." Eva held Allison's hand and said with a smile.

"They're good. I like them." Allison was genial, but she was looking at Richard when she answered.

Jacob was overjoyed. He had always loved Allison in secret. He didn't expect to be with Allison one day.

"Thank you, Grandma Eva. You're so nice to us. We love the food you prepared." Allison walked in with her parents, Tracy and Cesar. They greeted the Carters politely.

Richard helped Amy sit at the table, and all of them began to eat.

Janice and Garry didn't talk but just ate. Anyway, this had nothing to do with them.

Richard and Amy didn't want to participate in the others' conversation either. However, some people didn't like their silence.

"Richard, why don't you say anything?" Eva looked at Richard while casting a cold glance at Amy.

'How can you sit on your hands and let Richard shell the prawns for you? You have no manners. You should take care of your husband.'

"Suit yourself." Richard had nothing else to say. The others looked like a true family, but he and Amy were just like outsiders.

"Richard, this is your favorite." Allison picked up a rib for Richard.

"No, thanks. I don't like ribs anymore." Richard put his bowl aside. Allison paused, and she was somewhat awkward.

"Come on. Don't refuse Allison. Just take it." Grandma Eva snatched Richard's bowl and placed it in front of Allison, letting Allison put the rib into the bowl.

Richard didn't eat the rib. He knew Amy liked seafood, so he kept shelling prawns and crabs for her.

Allison was jealous to see this.

"Allison, here. It's tasty." Jacob shelled a prawn for her. Allison smiled and thanked him, and she ate it.

"Allison, you are underweight. You should eat more food. Jacob, you must take good care of Allison. You will form a family, so you must protect her." Eva was talking to herself. Tracy and Cesar were both busy eating. Addy entertained them warmly as if she was entertaining the parents of her daughter-in-law.

"Mr. and Mrs. Field, eat some more." Addy kept picking up food for them.

"We came here today to discuss the marriage between Allison and Jacob. Do you have any ideas?" Tracy said to the Carters.

"We don't know. We should have gone to your place to discuss this. Halbert, what do you think we should do?" At such a critical moment, Grandma Eva still had to ask Halbert.

Halbert was dumbfounded. No one had ever said anything about this to him. Now that he suddenly needed to discuss Jacob's marriage, he had no idea what to do.

"Cathy used to be in charge of this. I don't know either. Since it's Jacob's marriage, let his mother decide." Halbert really hadn't dealt with these things.

"How about this? Addy, you can make the decision." Grandma Eva was happy to let Addy make the decision. Someone must take care of the family. She preferred Addy to be the one, not Cathy.

"Well, well. Mr. and Mrs. Field, what do you think? After all, you are the parents of our future daughter-in-law. Your words matter." Addy really thought of herself as the hostess.

"I have a suggestion. I'll get engaged to Jacob first. It'll be too hasty for us to get married now. We can get married in a year. In this year, we'll have time to get along with each other and see how well we understand each other." Allison put forward her own opinion.

The Carters were shocked to hear this. Engagement? Didn't they agree to get married?

Jacob and Addy looked at Allison. Only then did Allison slowly express her thoughts, "You don't know my temper and personality yet. That's also a reason I want to get engaged to Jacob first. I can stay here to look after Grandma Eva. If she thinks I am good enough, I am qualified to be a family member. Then, I will marry Jacob."

As she spoke, Allison glanced at Amy. Amy didn't have a decent wedding when she got married. If Allison married Jacob, she must have a grand wedding. This was the difference between her and Amy.

"I think your suggestion is good. What a well-bred girl! Your words are reasonable. Then let them get engaged first." Grandma Eva was satisfied with this suggestion. She also wanted to see how Allison was.

She only knew that Allison's family was wealthy, but the children of wealthy families were always domineering.

Grandma Eva got wiser now. She wanted the Fields to help her eldest grandson. If Allison had a bad temper, her grandson would suffer, so she agreed with Allison.

Tracy and Cesar had nothing to say. Cesar was a man of no ideas. He always listened to his wife. Since their daughter had achieved her goal, Tracy had no objections. Her daughter would never marry Jacob. She was disdainful of Jacob. As long as Allison stayed at the Carter's, she would be closer to Richard and more likely to be with him. Jacob didn't dare to say anything. Engaging Allison was something he had always dreamed of, and he was thrilled to bits when he heard that Allison would stay at their place. He would be able to marry Allison shortly if they got along well. They were having the meal happily. Allison was ingratiating. She had started to call Eva as grandma and Jacob's parents as mom and dad. Halbert wore a long face. He felt that he no longer had any say in this family. Something was wrong, but he didn't understand what it was. He felt lonely. After his wife left, Richard and Amy always ignored him. The others wouldn't tell him anything, but they just wanted his money. He was confused. What exactly was he doing? What was wrong with his family? _____ Chapter 180 Tracy's Scheme

"Allison, get engaged to Jacob. It's fine. That Jacob is stupid. He will never know your intentions. As long as you cooperate with Sophia and drive Amy out of the Carter family, then you may cancel the engagement at any time." After Tracy said those words to Allison, Allison agreed to the engagement.

"Besides, if Amy refuses to leave, then I can only use my last resort, which is to take her to the hell with me." Tracy said grimly.

"Mom, you can't do this. I love you. Don't leave me. Don't go." Allison embraced Tracy.

When Tracy came back from abroad, she had been diagnosed with advanced liver cancer. She did not tell her husband and son. Only Allison knew about it.

"Mom, don't give up treating. With today's advanced medical science, there's a great chance of curing you." Allison tried to persuade Tracy.

"My girl, that's a lie. No one is able to cure the advanced liver cancer. I don't want to suffer from illness anymore. Even if I died, I would take Amy with me. Allison, I can do anything for you." Tracy hugged her daughter, who was the apple of her eye.

Later, they discussed how to become one of the Carters. At this time, Tracy would help Allison with whatever Allison wanted to do. As long as Allison was happy, Tracy was fulfilled.

The engagement between the Carter family and the Field family was a hot topic in R City, not for the couple, but the two famous families.

"I heard that Richard of the Carter family liked Allison. But why is his brother Jacob engaged to her?"

Many people were confused and asking questions.

"You don't know? Richard has abandoned the gentle and generous Miss Field for a slut that has bewitched him." A woman was gossiping, stirring up trouble.

"What are you talking about? What slut?" Hannah was so irritated that she jumped up as she heard that.

She just went to the restroom but overheard such a gossip. She was pissed off.

"Whoever seduces Mr. Carter is a slut." That woman was emulative. She stared at Hannah as if she wanted a fight.

"How dare you." Hannah rolled up her sleeves and was about to start a fight. That woman looked strange, and Hannah did not know where she came from.

"What the hell? This is the restroom of HD Group. Who are you? Why do you come to spread rumors here?" At this time, Hannah realized that she didn't recognize this woman at all, who was not an employee of HD Group.

"Of course I'm not the employee here. I'm here to talk business." The woman rolled her eyes and looked down on Hannah.

Hannah stared at this woman. Just as she was about to do something, she suddenly remembered she had seen this woman, who was the same unreasonable woman she had met on Thunder Mountain.

"I know who you are. You are the woman who met Andrew on Thunder Mountain. Well, you cheat on your husband and take your own children together to date another man. Shame on you." Hannah pointed at her and dug up her secret loudly.

"You, you slut, you are slandering me. Do you know who I am?" This stupid woman didn't know who she had offended.

"Of course I know who you are. You're a bad woman. You're here to talk business? How could our Mr. Carter cooperate with you? Unless he is silly enough." As soon as Hannah got excited, she failed to control herself and exaggerated as much as she could.

"Claudia, what was this lady saying just now? Why can't I understand?" A rough voice came from behind.

"It's fine that you don't understand. I also heard someone say that I am silly. Is that true?" Richard's voice sounded.

Hannah and the woman had walked out of the restroom. At this time, Richard and Noah had just finished their business talk and walked over.

They saw that two women were going to fight and they went over trying to stop it. However, when they got closer, they heard Hannah say that Richard was silly.

"Well, Mr. Carter, long time no see. There's some dust on your shoes. I'll clean them for you." Hannah lowered her head and helped Richard clean the nonexistent dust on his shoes.

"Alright, there's no dust on my shoes. What's wrong with you guys? Tell us." Richard looked at the two women.

Noah was pretty good-looking, but the back of his hand was covered in tattoos. He was young, but he had a beard and looked unfriendly.

"Claudia, I didn't understand what this young lady said just now. Please explain it to me." Noah opened his leopard-like sharp eyes and looked at his wife.

"Well, I don't know what she's talking about. We're just playing around."

Claudia was afraid of Noah. If Noah found that she had cheated on him, she would have great trouble.

"Miss, are you playing with my wife? But it seems you are not her friend." Although Noah said this to Hannah, everyone knew what he meant.

"You have nothing to do today?" Richard glanced at Hannah. Hannah, who intended to see what would happen, was so frightened that she ran away quickly.

"Oh, I'm sorry. I forgot that I have something important to do today.

Excuse me. You guys take your time." Hannah immediately ran away.

Seeing Noah's look, the rest timid standers-by went away quietly.

Seeing the two men were looking at her, Claudia was so scared that she didn't know what to say.

"Mr. Carter, I'm really sorry. I'll surrender a percentage point of the profits to you for today's cooperation as my apology. Claudia, let's go." Noah's words at this moment were very gentle.

However, it was his gentleness that frightened Claudia even more. The gentler Noah was, the more miserable end she would have.

Seeing Noah leave with his wife, Richard felt that this Noah was quite interesting, who immediately gave up his profits. It seemed that Claudia would have some trouble.

Noah was only doing this to conceal his rage. At this moment, Noah definitely felt embarrassed.

"Alright. Didn't you see enough? Do you want me to tell Kevin? Your single words might get that woman killed!" Richard said to Hannah, who was peeking behind the pillar. ____

Chapter 181 Frightened Hannah

Richard said to Hannah, who was hiding behind the stone pillar. When Hannah heard that someone was going to die, she panicked.

"Mr. Carter, I didn't know that her husband was here. I accidentally said it out in the quarrel with her. I didn't mean to make anyone dead. You have to help me. If that woman dies because of me, what should I do?" Hearing Richard's words, Hannah hurriedly ran out from behind the stone pillar and asked Richard for help.

"I can't help you with this. Go find Kevin. He will have a way." Richard transferred this trouble to Kevin.

It wasn't that he didn't want to help Hannah, but because Kevin was an expert in this field. He always had a way to prevent Noah from killing people.

"Will he scold me? Did I make a big mistake?" Hannah was nervous. Although sometimes she was unwilling to compromise, she did not intend to have people killed. She just liked to fight against unfairness.

"He dares to scold you? Never would he have that courage. Just go. He will definitely help you. I know that you did this for Amy, so I will also help you." Richard comforted Hannah and told her to go to work and stop gossiping around.

This time, Hannah really went back to her office. She told Amy and Hilary what happened to her today.

When Amy heard that someone might die, she felt that it was a bit too much. That woman did not commit a big crime. Why did Noah have such a big power to kill people? She did not like that woman, but at this time, she felt that Noah was going too far.

Hilary was the same as Hannah. She always felt happy if there weren't any troubles, but once there were, there was nothing she could do but be anxious.

"Mr. Carter told me to ask Kevin for help. I'll ask him out after work. Do you want to have dinner together?" Hannah really hoped that someone would be accompanying her at this time.

"No."

"No." Amy and Hilary both typed the same word.

Forget it. Hannah knew that they didn't want to be the third wheel, so she didn't insist on their going.

Hannah told Kevin what she had done today, her head lowered. She thought that Kevin was definitely going to scold her, and she was willing to bear it.

"I see. Why don't you eat? Aren't these the food you like the most?"

Kevin saw that Hannah hadn't eaten much, so he put some food to Hannah's plate.

"Did I make a huge mistake today?" Hannah was not in a mood to eat, even though the dishes on this table were her favorite.

"It's not serious. She was the one who had cheated. Besides, when you quarreled with her, you didn't know that her husband would know. Even if you did know, it was her fault. Since she had done that, it was bound to be talked about. Alright, stop thinking of her. Having a good meal matters more than anything." Kevin already knew about it. However, who he cared was Hannah, not that woman.

"Then do you think Noah will kill his wife?" Hannah said worriedly.

"No, it's a society of law now. He won't have so much power. Kill anyone as he wishes? Impossible. You don't have to worry. I'll go talk to Noah and persuade the couple." Kevin comforted Hannah.

A 25-Year-Old Becomes The Richest Man In His City

Kevin thought that his beloved Hannah was simply too naive. She must have been frightened by Richard, who was sometimes mischievous. What was more, Hannah did that for Amy. If there was a chance, he would play a trick on Amy, too.

Kevin made up his mind. He kept helping Hannah with the food. The dishes tasted so good, so Hannah slowly forgot about those troubles. She began to enjoy them.

Seeing that Hannah regained her mood and was eating in a typical 'Hannah Style', Kevin was relieved.

Women were supposed to be cared about. Only when the woman was happy would a man feel the same.

This was the truth that Kevin had summed up. See? Hannah's mouth bulged as she ate. What a lovely woman!

Amy did not expect Allison to do that. Interestingly, she hadn't been engaged to Jacob, yet she accepted the invitation and went to live in the Carter's old mansion.

The bedroom she chose was not near Jacob's, but near Richard's. Amy was very clear about what she was thinking.

"Amy, we will be family from now. It would be great if you can remind me sometimes, as I just arrived and may offend people unintentionally." When Amy returned home from work, she was stopped by Allison, who constantly showed her weakness, in the living room. Allison gave an impression that she was afraid of offending Amy.

"Just mind your own business." Amy said. Allison put on an extremely aggrieved face after hearing her words, pretending to be poor.

"Who do you think you are talking to? She will be your sister-in-law. Stop being arrogant and impolite.

Allison, come to me. With me in this house, no one is going to aggrieve you." Grandma Eva couldn't stand seeing that her beloved Allison was wronged.

"Grandma, it's fine. I want to get along well with everyone in the family. Amy didn't mean to talk like that. Am I right, Amy?" Allison's ability to provoke discord was stronger and stronger.

Amy snorted coldly. She really didn't know how to communicate with Allison, who had always coveted her husband. Allison's engagement to Jacob was just a cover, but Jacob couldn't see through.

"Amy, why are you still standing? Your legs are weak. You need more rest." Richard had finished dealing with his client, so he went back earlier today. He went downstairs and saw that Amy was stopped by Allison.

"Richard, are you blaming me for not taking good care of Amy? I'm trying my best to restore good relations with her." Allison looked at Richard with tears in her eyes.

"Why did our family end up like this? Allison, don't be too aggrieved. If you encounter anything in the future, tell me, and I will not let others aggrieve you." Grandma Eva didn't like Amy so much.

"Are you done? If you're done, then I'll go up and change my clothes."

Amy tried her best to be tolerant in this family. Grandma Eva was old and unreasonable, so Amy tried not to get in touch with her.

She wasn't afraid of anyone, but she didn't want to make things difficult for Richard. At that time, Grandpa John had wanted the family to be harmonious, but now, everything changed.

"Alright. I'll get you a cup of water." Allison immediately said that and was about to do that.

Without saying anything, Amy passed her and went upstairs to change her clothes. _____ Chapter 182

The Disturbance in the Carters

Amy went downstairs after she had changed her clothes. At this time, Allison had poured a cup of tea.

Seeing that Amy was coming down, Allison hurriedly picked it up and handed it to Amy.

"Thank you, but just put it there. I don't want to drink it now," Amy said to Allison.

However, Allison tilted to Amy. Amy tried to stop Allison with her hand. Meanwhile, Amy heard a scream. The hot tea poured on Allison's feet, which turned her feet red.

"Oh no! If you don't want it, you can just leave it alone. But how can you splash it on others? Richard, send Allison to the hospital right away. It can't be put off," Grandma Eva instantly pulled Amy away and said. She looked at Allison's feet with worry. There were already big blisters on them.

Richard saw that those blisters, which covered her entire feet, were bright and shiny. It looked quite serious. At this time, he was the only young man on the spot. It was inappropriate to let Halbert take her to the hospital. There was no other way. So he carried Allison out of the living room.

"There you go. It's impossible for her to walk with the injury," Grandma Eva said from behind.

Amy also got hurt, but Grandma Eva had never asked.

Amy also saw that there were blisters on Allison's feet. Although she knew that Allison had done it on purpose, she could not explain it clearly at the moment.

"Can I go as well?" Amy wanted to go to the hospital with Richard, but Addy stopped her.

"Stop messing around. Allison is already injured. What else do you want to do to her?" Addy's words seemed to imply that Amy wanted to do something bad to Allison.

"Stop it. Richard can handle it alone. You guys just stay at home," Halbert shouted with an outburst of anger. He was annoyed with the continuous troubles happened in the family.

"I'll call Jacob and ask him to go directly to the hospital. He's still working at this time." Addy finally remembered to call her son. Richard had no other choice but holding Allison in his arms. However, Allison was Jacob's wife. She couldn't let others take advantage of Allison.

Richard had sent Allison to the hospital. The rest of them in the room didn't say anything. Halbert's face was still gloomy. He was going crazy from the things happening around.

He had made up his mind. Even if he needed to kneel down to beg Cathy, he would do it in order to get her back. Without someone to manage the house, it was really a mess.

"It's completely a mess here without a person in charge. Halbert, have you thought about this problem?"

Grandma Eva just happened to raise the question.

"I know, Mom. We really need someone to manage the family," Halbert nodded. He had just thought of this as well.

"That's right. You see, how disordered this family is now! It's not long from the death of your father. It can't be like this anymore!" Grandma Eva had a candidate in her heart.

"I'll bring Cathy back tomorrow, even if I need to tie her up." Only now did Halbert realize the importance of Cathy. In the past, everything in the family had been well managed by Cathy. So Halbert was so at ease.

When Grandma Eva heard Halbert's words, she immediately felt down. It was not easy for her to force Cathy away and bring Addy in. If Cathy came back, everything would change again.

"Halbert, no hurry. Allison just got injured. She needs to rest for a few days. We need to take good care of her first. Otherwise, we will be sorry and ashamed for her family." When Grandma Eva heard that Halbert wanted to bring Cathy back, she managed to stop him.

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More Hundreds Of Thousands Of Fans Consider Her A Bollywood Sex Symbol "Why? Our family is already in a mess. If Cathy doesn't come back, I won't come back either." Halbert angrily turned around and left. He was mad that he couldn't make his own decision about his wife.

"Hey, Halbert. I don't mean that." Grandma Eva couldn't let Halbert move out. If Halbert left, Richard would definitely leave as well. Then how could there be enough money to support such a big family?

But Halbert was really annoyed. He hadn't gone back to his bedroom. It was lonely to be there alone. So he went to Grandpa John's study and looked at his portrait.

"Dad, have I really done it wrong? Why would things turn out like this? I want the family to get along well. Didn't you mean the same back then? But why does everything become more and more different from what I expect?" Halbert asked.

His mother was already in her seventies. She must be lonely living alone. But wasn't it wrong for him to bring her back? She wanted to bring Addy over to take care of her because she had gotten used to Addy's care for so many years. It was reasonable. But why did all of the matter go off track? Cathy went back to her mother's house in a fit of anger. There was always something bad happening between the daughters-in-law. Some of them even got injured sometimes.

'No! I have to bring Cathy back and let her take over the Carters,' Halbert thought.

After Halbert made up his mind, he came out of John's study. He took a coat and told the people in the room that he was going out for a few days. Then he left.

At this time, Amy was very relaxed because they were too busy to be hostile to her anymore.

Seeing Halbert off, Grandma Eva brought Addy back to her room. Amy was in the living room alone. She witnessed the whole farce which was all made up and directed by these people. Same things happened almost every day. She felt pretty tired of them. Why couldn't they just be nice and simple?

Richard hadn't come back all night, nor did he make a phone call. Amy tried to call him, but his phone was turned off.

Amy lay on the bed, reading a book. She was still thinking about some recent things of the company. At this time, there was a call from a stranger.

Amy hung it up, but the phone rang again.

"Hello, who is it?" Amy answered the call.

"This is Richard. I might not be able to come back tonight. My phone is out of power. I guess you would be worried about me, so I call you on the pay phone. Don't wait for me and go to bed early." This call was from Richard.

Hearing Richard's voice, Amy felt relieved. Although she still felt a little uncomfortable, she still chose to believe Richard.

Richard hung up the phone and tidied up the messy clothes.

He sat on the bench outside the ward. He was surprised that Tracy became so unreasonable. She had been trying to find Amy to pay the price because she couldn't let it go until Amy scalded herself to get blisters.

Richard was tired after arguing for the whole evening. In the end, he could only guarantee that he would stay here to accompany with Allison. Tracy finally gave up. _Chapter 183
A Night with Richard

"Richard, I'm really sorry. I'm fine now. You can go back now. I'll explain to my mother when she comes."

Allison looked at the tired Richard and knew that her mother had made a scene last night. However, she was actually grateful to her mother.

"It's fine. I promised your mother that I will be here for you." Richard showed nothing emotional on his face. He didn't get any sleep last night. It was past six o'clock. Tracy would be here in a minute. Richard did not want Tracy to interfere with Amy's matters.

"I'm really sorry. It was all my fault. I was too stupid to have not dodged Amy, but I don't think she did it on purpose." Allison looked like innocent.

"Alright, have some water." Allison's foot was blistered by hot water, and it seemed to have made old injuries on her foot flare up a little bit.

Richard got a glass of warm water for Allison.

"Thank you, Richard. You're still so kind to me." Allison took the glass and said shyly.

"Your infusion bottle is empty. I'll call a doctor." Richard then went outside to look for a doctor.

Allison finished the water. She felt that the water was especially sweet. She thought that Richard still had feelings for her, otherwise, he would not have stayed here even if her mother forced him.

Allison looked at the blisters on her foot. She felt not that bad for she could stay with Richard for a few more days. 'Amy Miller, with such a background, you can never defeat me. What can you give to Richard? You have nothing to offer. But I can give great help to him.'

Allison felt that time was what she needed to deal with Richard. She would slowly make Richard forgive her. She believed that Amy was just a passer-by and she was the one that Richard wanted to spend his life with.

The doctor came in and checked Allison's injuries. The doctor was instructed to say that Allison's injuries were getting worse and worse.

"Your leg was injured severely. You should really take care of yourself. You must protect it from any dangers. When you have to have your leg amputated, it will be too late to think about my warning." The doctor shook his head as he checked the wounds.

"Yes, I will. I surely will take care of myself." Allison was very satisfied with the doctor's words. Because they would worry Richard so much.

"Are you her husband? You're rather careless to injure her with boiling water even when her leg was in such a bad situation." The doctor talked to Richard boldly. He knew this man, but now he could only pretend he did not.

"I'm not her husband, and I didn't injure her." Richard did not bother to explain, but he did not care to be mistaken for Allison's husband more. He had a wife but her name was not Allison.

"Alright. I'm not interested in your matters. Her leg must be taken good care of. If anything happens again, it'll be too late." The doctor quickly finished the conversation. He took Allison's infusion bottle away and hurriedly walked away.

The doctor wiped the sweat right after running out of the ward. 'Oh My God, that was scary. But it seemed that Mr. Carter was rather kind to Miss Field. Otherwise, he would have kicked my ass.'

The doctor calmed himself down and walked into his office exhaustedly. Not long after the doctor left, Tracy got here. She made a lot of delicious food for Allison and also for Richard.

"How's it going today? Allison's leg has really suffered a lot. Richard, you must be tired after taking care of her all night. Come and have some breakfast before going to work. I'll stay here and take care of her during the day. What about you stay here with her during night? Her father is sick and it's not suitable for him to stay at night." Tracy took out all the foods she had brought. "OK." Richard promised Tracy to stay with Allison for three days so that Tracy would not go to Amy and make her life harder.

Tracy was asking her daughter how she felt about last night.

"Well, what else could I do? He stayed far away from me. He didn't talk to me and it was not easy to talk to him." Allison really hoped that Richard would have done something inappropriate to her, but he didn't even look at her.

"Don't worry. There are still two nights left. You can manage this. In that case, you can make him guilty."

Tracy instructed her daughter.

"Alright, I will try my best. Mom, thank you so much." Allison said.

"There's no need to thank me, silly girl. As long as you're happy, I will be happy. However, you have to grasp the opportunity of these two days. Otherwise, you won't have another chance. I cannot wait any longer." Tracy said to Allison.

After Allison finished her breakfast, she went to sleep. She had to save enough energy during the day so that she could deal with Richard at night.

"Allison, my darling, are you feeling better?" Jacob showed himself from the door with a big bouquet in his hand.

Allison glanced at Jacob and ignored him.

"Allison, you can't blame me for this. I was hit by a stupid Polo on my way here last night. That person was completely unreasonable. He quarreled with me all night before I had the chance to leave. He told me to end this mess tonight so I don't have time to be here with you tonight." Jacob felt that he was quite unlucky to be hit by a car when he rushed to the hospital.

"I'm not angry. Jacob, you have to go to work during the day. Go back and have some rest at night. You don't need to stay. My mother is here. Besides, my injuries aren't severe." Allison did not want Jacob to be with her from the beginning. If Jacob was here, Richard would definitely walk away without any hesitation.

"OK, then just let me take a look at you. I'll go to work later." Seeing that Allison did not blame him, Jacob felt that she was such a beautiful, gentle, and kind girl.

There were lots of people coming to the hospital to visit Allison. After Jacob left for a while, Sophia also came to see her on behalf of Grandma Eva and Addy.

"Allison, are you making the advantage of your injuries?" Sophia asked her.

"That's right. I want to use these stupid methods to drive Amy away from Richard. It's best to let them get divorced." Allison did not hide anything from Sophia because now they were on a same boat.

Chapter
184 Staying with Her at Hospital

When Richard arrived at the company, he went to tell Amy that Allison's foot was severely burned and that she might have to stay in the hospital for a few days. He might need to go take a look.

In order not to worry Amy, Richard did not tell Amy that Tracy wanted to get even with him.

"Her foot was burned, but not because of me. She did it herself. Why will you be with her?" Amy felt that it was none of her business. Allison splashed the hot water on her feet.

"I believe your words. But others won't. Don't get mad, Amy. I'll deal with this." Seeing that Amy was angry, Richard felt helpless.

He would try his best to protect Amy, but there may be times when he didn't notice the dangers. If something bad happened to the Field family one day, he would regret it. Now, if he went to see Allison, the Field family might give up revenging on Amy.

"There are surveillance cameras at home. It's not like you can't see what happened." Amy pouted. That was not her fault. Why would she admit it?

"I've checked out the surveillance cameras at home. Allison's back was facing the camera and we couldn't see the things in the front. It really looked like you pushed her. Alright, Amy, you should rest properly. Don't think too much. I know what to do." Richard knew that his wife was innocent, but there was a lot of evidence against Amy.

After work, Richard went to the hospital. He bought some fruits and flowers for Allison and thought that he could go home today.

"Richard? Glad that you come. There is no need to buy me flowers. Oh, it's my favorite flower, lily."

Allison knew that Richard still cared about her when she saw the fruits and flowers Richard bought for her.

"Oh, Amy bought them She likes lily very much." Richard really didn't realize that the lily was also Allison's favorite.

"Oh, then express my thanks to Amy. Richard, don't blame Amy. I was responsible for that too. I shouldn't have poured the water when it was so hot." Allison lowered her head, looking extremely aggrieved.

"Allison, you are too nice. You offered to get that woman a cup of tea, and yet she used the boiled water to scald you. If Richard hadn't stopped me, I would have gone to the Carter's to get even with her." Tracy heard her daughter's words from the side, and she started to talk loudly again.

"Mom, I'm fine. I really am fine." Allison seemed to be trying to persuade Tracy, but what she said made people feel that she had suffered great grievances.

"Mrs. Field, what else do you want to eat? Let me buy it for you."

Richard didn't want to listen to their conversation, but he couldn't leave. He could only waste his time here.

"I'm not eating anything. Richard, since you're off work, I must go back. The family is waiting for me.

Thank you for being here tonight. The doctor said that the blisters can break at any time. If we don't pay attention, Allison will get tetanus." Tracy had planned to leave at this time. Her daughter wanted to be with Richard, and she definitely would not ruin the chance.

"Let me walk you out." Richard followed Tracy to the door.
"No, no, Richard. Just stay with Allison. She is always injured, and she needs warmth. As a mother, I can only comfort her on the surface. It depends on you to heal the pain in her heart." Tracy tried her best to create chances for Richard and her daughter.
After saying that, Tracy left. Only Allison and Richard were in the ward.
"What would you like to have?" Richard asked Allison.
"I don't want to eat anything. I have taken the rib soup my mother made me. Richard, you can go to dinner. I think you haven't had dinner yet. If I could leave, I wouldn't let you stay here with me." As Allison said, she massaged her leg.

"Alright, stop massaging your legs. I won't leave. I'll go out to eat something and will be right back."
Richard glanced at Allison. Why was this woman completely different from what he had imagined?
She used to be a proud and arrogant woman, a pure one, but now, Allison scared Richard a little.
After eating some food outside, Richard bought some more food and brought it back in case that Allison wanted to eat later.
Seeing Richard appear in front of her again, Allison was very happy. She had really been afraid that Richard would secretly leave.
"I bought you Steamed Rice in Clay Pot. You can eat it when you're hungry." Richard pointed at the food on the bedside table.
"Alright, I'll eat if I'm hungry. But now I want to go to the bathroom. Richard, would you help me?"
Allison said shyly to Richard.
This was truly a dilemma. Richard looked down at Allison and then looked at the distance between the bed and the bathroom. He could only carry Allison in his arms.
"Just call me when you're done." Richard placed Allison by the toilet, walked out of the bathroom and closed the door for her.

"I'm done." Allison said in the bathroom. It didn't take a long time. When Richard opened the door and entered, he discovered that Allison's clothes had been loosened and he could see her breast.

Richard carried Allison back to the bed and helped her tidy her clothes.

"Richard, you like my neck the most, don't you? Do you still like it now?"

Richard had always said that Allison's neck was like the neck of a swan, beautiful and slender.

"Your neck is very beautiful, and I guess many men will find it beautiful, too." Richard replied seriously.

There was no warmth at all. Did his love in the past really disappear?

Allison's eyes widened as she looked at the door of the ward.

Richard also sensed Allison's anomaly. He turned around and saw an exquisite little face. Amy was at the door. There was a bright smile on her face.

"Richard, let me help you." Amy ran to Richard and hugged him. Richard quickly carried her up.

"Amy, why are you here?" When Richard saw Amy, he felt very happy.

"For you. It's so boring for you to be alone here. Besides, it's better for woman to take care of another.

You'll find it troublesome when Allison has to use the bathroom." After Amy finished speaking, Richard hugged her and kissed her on the face. _____ Chapter 185

Cathy Returned Home

Seeing Amy and Richard's intimacy, Allison clenched her fist, but was still smiling.

"Amy, hi! I'm so happy to see you." Allison said to Amy with a smile.

"Are you really happy to see me? Allison, how is your feet?" After Amy finished making out with Richard, she went to "care" about Allison.

"Oh, Amy, never mind. It's fine, I don't blame you." Allison put her feet back.

"Are you really alright? If there's nothing else, we'll leave then." Amy deliberately said. What Allison said seemed to be indicating that Amy felt guilty, but actually, she did not feel guilty at all. It was Allison's own fault. It had nothing to do with her. She had only come to keep Richard company.

Hearing Amy's words, Allison became anxious. She was just pretending to be polite. She just wanted to show she was a kind person in front of Richard. That didn't mean that she wanted them to leave.

"Richard." Allison's voice made people pity.

"Amy was joking. We're not leaving. Allison, take a rest. I'll take Amy out for a walk." When Richard saw Amy, he didn't have the mood to stay in the ward.

"Alright, then come back soon. I'm afraid I'll have to go to the bathroom later." Allison could only let them go out for a walk. She could not reveal her true nature in front of Richard.

Richard pulled Amy out of the hospital, "What do you want to eat, baby?" Richard said to Amy.

"A lot of things, but now I want to eat ice cream. It was too hot in the ward just now." Amy smiled as she held Richard's hand and lightly kissed him on the face.

"Alright then, let's go to buy some ice cream." Richard said to Amy affectionately.

They held hands and walked slowly down the street. Seeing an ice cream seller, Richard ran over and bought two ice creams and handed one to Amy.

"Richard, do you believe everything I say?" Amy took a bite of the ice cream and her lips turned red for the coldness.

"Of course." Richard answered without hesitation.

"That's very kind of you." Seeing that Richard believed in her, Amy was very happy.

"Then Amy, do you believe me?" Richard also asked Amy.

"I don't believe you." After saying that, she ran away. Richard chased after her. They were running under the streetlight. Richard quickly caught up to Amy since he strode at a large pace. He grabbed her and wrapped her in his arms.

"What did you just say?" Richard pretended to kiss Amy.

"I said I believe you, Amy believes in Richard." Amy leaned closer to Richard's ear and said loudly.

Richard hugged Amy and circled around on the ground. They were very happy. It had been a long time since they were so happy.

They ate ice cream and went for a walk by the river. It was already very late, so Richard wanted Amy to go back.

"Amy, you can go back first. I'll take you to the car." Richard was afraid that if Tracy came early tomorrow morning, she would do something bad to Amy when she saw her.

"Can't I just stay here with you?" Amy tilted her head. She saw that there was only a sofa in Allison's room. For someone as tall as Richard, it would definitely be very uncomfortable to sleep in the sofa.

"There's no need. I'll be fine by myself. As long as you believe me."

Richard kissed Amy's earlobe.

"Alright then, I'll go back. You have to be careful. Don't catch a cold. That sofa is so small." Amy could only go back. She just didn't want to go home and see those people.

Amy got on the car and went back to the Carter's mansion. Before entering, she heard someone quarreling inside.

She also heard Cathy's voice. Mom's back? Amy hurriedly walked in. As soon as she entered, she saw Grandma Eva yelling at Addy. Cathy and Halbert were sitting on another sofa.

"Why are you so stupid? You can't even hold a thing steadily, and you can't even stop your husband from cheating." At Addy's feet was a pile of broken ceramics, which were fractions of a teacup.

Cathy wanted to say something, but was stopped by Halbert. Halbert walked over and said to Addy, "Didn't you say that you were smart? How could you make such a mistake? Mom, if she really can't do it, you can just find someone else to look after you."

Halbert knew what his mother meant. She just didn't like the Cathy.

However, Cathy was chosen by him.

No matter what, she couldn't let others judge her.

"No, no, no. I'm not leaving! I'm not leaving." Addy hurriedly pulled Grandma Eva's hand. It was not easy for her to return to the Carter's. Even if she died, she would still die in the Carter's.

"Get out! Why are you standing here?" Of course, Grandma Eva would not let Addy leave. She trained Addy well, so Addy was definitely better than Cathy.

Hearing Grandma Eva's words, Addy hurriedly left.

"This family really needs an experienced person to run it. You are too young. No wonder you are always making trouble." Grandma Eva sat down and took the tea passed by the servant.

The servant cleaned up the rubble on the floor.

"Cathy is very experienced. During the thirty years of our marriage, our family has always been peaceful." Halbert finally managed to get Cathy back. He definitely wanted to regain her authority.

"Then Halbert, are you saying that I ruined your family? Alright, my son has grown up, and he dares to say whatever he wants to his mother. Then I will leave in case I bother you guys." Hearing this, Grandma Eva was extremely angry. She put the cup on the coffee table and stood up.

"Mom, that's not what I meant. I have no problem with you staying with us. You just need to enjoy all the time. Cathy knows how to handle the family's affairs. She will take good care of you." Halbert had already showed his determination that in the future, Cathy was in charge of this family, and Grandma

Eva should only care about enjoying herself.

"Alright, I want to see how she handles the family's affairs!" Grandma Eva had already stood up. Of course, she didn't really want to leave. She just wanted to scare Halbert. Since this did not work, she gave it up for the moment. She was waiting for an opportunity to bring it up again.

"Halbert, you brought me to bring the family back together, but do you think I can do this like I did before? Don't you think these people and these things are very troublesome?" Although Cathy didn't say anything then, she felt a headache when she heard the conversation between Halbert and Eva.

"Cathy, you can't escape from your duty. You will always be the head wife of this family. Mom doesn't like you, but it's just temporary. She will know that how good you are." Halbert comforted Cathy.

Amy watched them at the door for a long time before she stepped in. _____

Chapter 186 A Cool Maserati

"Mom, Dad, I'm back." Only when she returned home and saw Cathy did Amy felt that she was home.

"Amy, your father and I were worried about you just now!" Cathy was a little worried about Amy since Amy hadn't come back in such a late time. She wanted to call Amy to see where she went, but before she could call, Grandma Eva and Addy came out. This ruckus lasted for an entire night.

"It's fine. I went to the hospital to see Richard." Amy walked over and hugged Cathy.

"Mom, I haven't seen you for a long time. I miss you so much." Amy hugged Cathy and sighed emotionally.

"I miss you too. Ever since we parted at the teahouse last time, I really want to call you and hang out with you." Cathy liked her daughter-in-law a lot. She thought Amy was beautiful, generous, and smart.

"I'm so happy. Mom, it's so good that you're back. I can see you every day." Amy felt like crying.

During the days when Cathy wasn't at home, Amy went back to Stephen's place several times. She didn't want to come back, but Stephen later advised her that she was now the daughter-in-law of the Carter family, so she definitely had to endure everything.

"Yes, I can see you every day. That's good." Although Cathy had come back home, the family treated Cathy very well like a princess, she still missed the Carter family. She thought about her husband, her son, and her daughter-in-law.

Hilary went abroad with her friends a while ago. Although she missed Hilary, she thought that no one dared bully her outside, so Cathy suppressed the thought for the moment.

"It's late. You two can have a good chat tomorrow." It had also been a long time since Halbert had been with Cathy. In addition, this time, he had encountered such a thorny thing. He felt that he needed to communicate with his wife.

"Alright then. You still have to work tomorrow. Let's talk tomorrow. You can go rest." Cathy also saw that it was getting late. She felt sorry for Amy and let her go to rest.

Seeing Cathy, Amy felt that she was a lot happier. She happily went upstairs to sleep.

"Amy, Come out now. Someone is looking for you." As Amy was reading the documents, Hannah suddenly ran in from outside.

"Who's looking for me?" It had been a whole morning, and Richard hadn't even come to work yet, so Amy was quite worried.

"I don't know. Let's go. Anyway, that person said he was looking for you." Hannah couldn't help but pull Amy out.

"If you don't know him, you won't convey his message for him." Amy did not believe Hannah. Hannah knew how to make fun of her all the time.

"I really don't know him. I'm not lying. I think this person is nice, so I came to help him call you." As Hannah spoke, she brought Amy to the underground parking lot.

Amy knew that Hannah wouldn't harm her, so she followed Hannah. In any case, she had been working all morning, so she should rest at this time.

After arriving at the underground parking lot, Hannah accurately brought Amy to a place where a red Maserati was parked.

"Here, this key is for you." Hannah pointed at Maserati and gave the key to Amy.

"For me? Whose car is this? Why are you giving me the keys?" Amy didn't pick up the key.

"This car is yours. Who else shall I give the car keys to? How are you going to drive it without the keys?"

Hannah forcefully stuffed the key into Amy's hand.

The red Maserati was in the parking lot like a proud swan in the middle of a flock of wild ducks. It was too attractive and the color was too eye-catching.

Amy walked around the car and saw that the license plate had already been loaded. However, she still did not dare to get on the car. She could not have the car with an unknown origin.

"Hannah, tell me honestly, what's going on?" Amy said to Hannah.

"What else could it be? It's your husband. He has been busy all morning preparing for this, and he asked me to give you a surprise. But you don't look surprised. Did I fail my mission?" Hannah sighed. Amy was too calm. If it were her, she would have jumped up happily long ago.

Amy and her loved Maserati. In the past, they only looked at them from afar. Now that they had the keys in their hands. It felt so unreal.

"I also feel that Hannah failed. I wanted to hear Amy scream or laugh, but she was so quiet." said Kevin, who went out from behind the pillar with Richard.

"I feel that I am also a failure. I gave a car to my wife and she was not surprised." Richard also had an aggrieved expression on his face.

"Wow, honey, it's really you? I'm so happy. I just feel the whole thing is so unreal. I'm afraid that the car is actually not for me." Only then did Amy laughed from her heart.

"Amy, you really don't believe me, don't you. You're only happy to see your husband. How could I know a friend like you who valued men over friends? Kevin, I'm hurt." Hannah saw through Amy now. She talked and talked, but Amy had no reaction. Yet Richard's brief words made Amy extremely happy.

"You make jokes all the time. I'm afraid this is another joke of you. I don't want to get disappointed." At this time, Amy gently touched the car and couldn't let go of it.

"Let's go for a ride." Richard suggested.

"Alright. After that, let Mr. Carter treat us to dinner. I've made great efforts today." Hannah felt that she should eat it back and cost Amy a great deal for once.

"Sure. You can order whatever you want. Miss Miller will be the host today." Richard pushed Amy out.

The four of them got into Amy's new car and went for a ride.

"Amy, I came back today and saw a red Maserati in the parking lot. It's so cool. I've always wanted to buy one." As soon as Hilary returned, she was rushed to work by Cathy.

As soon as she got to the office, she found that in the parking lot parked her dream car.

"Yes, I also find it cool. I like this brand." Amy said with a serious face.

"Who do you think would buy such a cool car? I waited for a long time but I didn't see its owner. I really want to see what kind of beauty would drive such a cool car." Hilary had a longing look on her face.

"You know her. She is a famous beauty." Amy didn't tell her the answer. She just teased Hilary.

Hearing Amy's words, Hilary found it strange. If there was such a beauty in the HD Group, she believed she would have heard of it.

After learning this from Amy, Hilary left. She wanted to ask around and see who this new beauty in the HD Group was?

Chapter 187 A Disgusting Deal

"Amy, I find that you are not as pure as before since you followed Hannah. You lied to me and said that a beauty would come to HD Group. Are you that beauty? You liar!" Hilary was very well-informed. She quickly found out who owned the Maserati from Hannah.

"When did I lie to you? Am I not a beauty? Don't you think I'm a beauty?" Amy also smiled. She did not expect that Hilary would not realize that. Hilary was really simple-minded.

"For me, you're always a beauty. Even though you are a beauty, you have to invite me to dinner because you lied to me. And there is a present for you." Hilary hugged Amy's arm and refused to let go.

"Alright. I'll treat you to whatever you want. Bring Hannah along. It's been a while since we have been together." Amy smiled and agreed.

After work, they drove Amy's new car and went out to eat.

"How spicy it is!" Hilary kept complaining about spicy food, but she ate faster than everyone else. She was not so good at eating spicy food like Amy and Hannah in the past. However, influenced by them, she was gradually used to it.

"When I was abroad, I wanted to eat hotpot, but there was nothing like that. Those steak couldn't satisfy me at all." Hilary nagged as she ate. If she hadn't been bothered by her family, she wouldn't have gone abroad for fun for so long.

"It was so boring without you. We haven't seen you for so long. We miss you." Hannah pouted.

"Alright. Didn't I miss you too? If I didn't miss you, I would receive my friends' invitation to Switzerland."

Hilary was telling the truth and she also missed her family.

"Hey, Allison seems to be engaged to Jacob. It was said that you burned her foot. She deserved it.

Neither my mother nor I like her. She's a hypocritical woman." Although Hilary hadn't been here for a long time, she heard about the family as soon as she came back.

"Yes, she was engaged to Jacob. But I think her purpose was not so simple. And her feet were not burnt by me but by herself. I think it's just a bitter scheme." Amy had heard the rumor, which said that she had burned Allison out of her narrow mind.

"Let's forget it. Fortunately, it was Amy who Jacob met. Otherwise, my mother and I would have been awfully anxious. Wasn't he blind at that time?" Hilary was not soft-hearted when she mentioned her brother.

The girls laughed and chatted and they felt extremely happy. Being together again, they felt that everything they ate was especially delicious.

"Hey, look, is that Gina?" Hannah was sitting opposite the door in which she saw Gina walking in with a foreign man.

"Yes. Why is she with a foreign man? Oh, I get it. That man is Mr. Werner, right? He is a French capitalist, who is quite rich. Has Gina ended the relationship with Matt?" Hilary knew some of those people.

"He turns out to be Mr. Werner. I get it. I heard that Gina used her extraordinary ability to persuade Mr. Werner at that party, which helped Matt win a big project. It seems that Andrew's status in Wilson Group has been influenced by her actions." Hannah also heard it from many people.

"She is really cheap. Everyone can be her boss." Hilary curled her lips and looked down on Gina.

However, Matt also walked in after Gina and Tom entered the hotpot restaurant. Gina greeted him and Matt followed her.

Matt and Gina's actions aroused their interests.

Gina brought Tom and Matt to the reserved table, which happened to be right behind Amy and the other two girls. However, Gina did not notice them.

"Mr. Werner, please take a seat." After Matt arrived, he greeted Tom. Last time, their cooperation boosted his reputation in the company. And he discovered that Gina could help him a lot.

After they sat down, Gina ordered while Matt was preparing a cup of tea for Tom.

"Mr. Werner, this is Chinese hotpot. Didn't you always want to try it? Gina took it into full consideration and recommended this restaurant. This hotpot is the most authentic." Matt said to Tom.

"Nice. I like Chinese food very much. Chinese hotpot is also my favorite. But looking at its redness, I don't dare to eat it anymore." As Tom talked, he touched Gina's leg. Matt didn't care. He wouldn't marry this woman, who was just a tool for him. As long as he became the president of Wilson Group, he would obtain everything. However, what he wanted the most now was Amy.

"Mr. Werner, I'll get you some seasoning." Gina was still afraid that Matt would get angry, so she slapped Tom's hand off. She hurriedly went to prepare the seasoning for them.

"Mr. Werner, we enjoyed our cooperation last time. I hope we can cooperate with your group for a long time. May I know your idea?" When Matt saw that Gina had left, he directly asked Tom.

"Sure. I think Wilson Group is quite powerful. However, Richard, who is from HD Group, has also given me a lot of preferential policies." Tom was a crafty man. His cooperation with Matt was all due to Matt's girlfriend.

"However, no matter how good their preferential policies are, they are not as good as Gina. I have given my Gina to you although I love her so much." Matt knew what Tom wanted. Coincidentally, he was tired of Gina and he made a favor.

"But Gina still loves you. I want her to go with me to France, but she is not willing." Tom really wanted to get that sexy woman back to his country, so it would be much more convenient for him to have sex with her. Otherwise, he had to fly to China.

Amy and the other two girls were sickened by Tom and Matt's words. How could a man think his lover as a bargaining chip?

"Amy, I think it's good for you to be abandoned by him." Hannah was relieved. She had found out that

Matt was not a good person. _____ Chapter 188 A Good Show at the Hotpot Restaurant

"There's going to be a good show." Hilary smiled mischievously. She took out her phone and called someone.

Hilary said a bunch of things behind their back. Then, she hung up the phone with satisfaction.

"What show?" Amy and Hannah were both bewildered. Although they enjoyed spilling the tea, they couldn't find anything special right now.

"Not so fast. It's about to begin. But before that I need to go to the loo, in case that I won't be able to hold it later." After this she went to the bathroom stealthily.

"Alright, later we should take one as well, in case we can't hold it like she said." Hannah also talked to Amy about going to the bathroom.

A French lady, noble and glamorous, appeared in front of the hotpot restaurant. She looked around elegantly and found her target, towards which she walked directly.

While Matt was in the bathroom, Tom became handsier. Since he had already reached an agreement with Matt, he now became even more unscrupulous.

Without Matt, Gina would have let go a little. Her chest, which was about to burst out from her front, was rubbing against Tom's arm back and forth. He was turned on so much so that he could do it with her right there.

All of a sudden, a pair of fair hands appeared in Gina's sight. Then the hand picked up Matt's teacup and directly splashed it onto Gina's face.

Gina's face, which was in thick makeup, became wet immediately, right off she threw herself into Tom's arms for comfort.

"You shameless woman, how dare you seduce my husband. You will regret this!" That graceful lady had lost all her manners at this moment, and she grabbed Gina out of Tom's arms.

"Darling, darling, listen to me, listen to me." Seeing the woman he liked was hit, Tom was trying to do something. Although he didn't have the guts to make a move, a few words wouldn't hurt.

"Tom! Get out of my way! It will be your turn back home!" Tom shut his mouth at once, and turned to make it more convenient for the lady to hit Gina.

Gina couldn't believe the man who kept saying that he loved her and that he would take her to France couldn't put up a word for her right now. He was there watching as she was hit by the lady.

"Tom, Tom, help me, help me." Gina kept crying, but Tom could do nothing but stand aside and watch.

He even held a cup of tea in his hand and handed it to the lady from time to time.

When Matt came out of the bathroom, he could hear the chaos from the hotpot restaurant.

He had deliberately given Tom a chance to get along with Gina just now, so that he could achieve his goal of having a long-term cooperation with Tom.

That was why he had been staying in the bathroom for such a long time.

But hearing the cry from the hall, which sounded a bit like Gina, he came out to take a look.

There was a lady hitting a woman at his seat. That woman's hair was already a mess, and her face looked terrifying, in a mess of black, white and red. She looked like a ghost.

Tom was apologizing to the lady and rubbing her shoulders from time to time. It was like he was massaging her as she was tired from the hitting.

Amy, Hannah, and Hilary stood in distance and watched, afraid that the blood would splatter on them.

Matt looked around, but did not find Gina. However, he saw Amy who was watching aside with Hannah and Hilary.

"A....." Before Matt could even shout out the word "Amy," his legs were hugged by the ghost who had just been beaten.

"Matt, help me, help me."

"Who are you?" Matt flung off the ghost's arms hastily.

"I'm Gina, I'm Gina White." Gina cried so hard that her voice was hoarse.

This foreign woman was something with her strong hands. Gina was about to be beaten to death.

Of course this woman was strong. Tom didn't dare to provoke her. She was Tom's wife, a famous taekwondo champion.

When Matt heard that the ghost was Gina, he was shocked. Who was this lady and why she was beating Gina? The strangest thing was that Tom, Gina's biggest fan, seemed to have forgotten about Gina.

"Who are you? Why did you hit Gina?" Matt reached out, trying to stop that lady.

However, the lady was already simmering with rage. She slapped Matt fiercely right in the face.

It didn't occur to Matt that this woman would go crazy and even beat him up. His Amy was watching, which made him awkwardly hesitated to help Gina or not.

"You don't need to know who I am. Be smart and get out of my way." Tom's wife said fiercely.

"Well, isn't it interesting? But I have to go over and sort it out. It'll be no longer interesting if she dies.

Take a look. What's the use of a man like that? He will only protect himself when things happen." Seeing that the fight was almost over, Hilary restrained her smile and swaggered over.

"Hello, Grace, we haven't seen each other for a long time. Come and I'll treat you for a hotpot. Calm down, okay?" Hilary walked to Grace's side and held her hand.

"Hilary, you're here too. I'm really pissed off. This stinking woman is really shameless." Grace looked at Hilary and grabbed her arm in a good mood.

It was Grace who Hilary just called. They were friends.

"And you, you are shameless too. I'll deal with you later. I'm going to have hotpot with Hilary. The rest is up to you." Grace glared at her husband and went away with Hilary.

Tom looked at Gina with his bloody nose and swollen face. He could only watch but not dare to go up to help, so he gave Matt a look to take Gina away.

After that Tom walked over and tried to sit down to eat hotpot with Grace.

"Tom, you immutable bastard. What should I say? You'd better go away. I don't want to see you when I'm eating." Grace was really pissed off this time.

She knew that her man had always been a bit of a player. But that was at home. Now they were in a foreign country. She felt sorry for him and couldn't understand why anyone would be willing to be with him.

Tom listened to his wife's scolding, not saying anything. Such things happened all the time anyway, and he was used to it. _____ Chapter 189 Being Framed

After the incident at the hotpot restaurant, Hilary's trick succeeded. The partnership between Wilson Group and Tom Group was over. However, the previous order was big enough for Wilson Group to survive for a while.

Amy heard about it. It seemed that Tom's wife held Tom by the ear onto the plane. His wife was beautiful, smart, and had a good family. She was so domineering that Tom kept fooling around with other women.

It seemed like woman who was domineering would have difficulty in keeping a man.

After Cathy came back home, it seemed to be very peaceful.

Just like Halbert said, Eva didn't make a fuss anymore. She often took a walk in the garden and planted flowers with Addy.

Sophia was very busy recently. It was very late when she got home.

Amy often chatted with Cathy in the living room. The family seemed to regain its peace. However, Amy and Cathy felt that there was an even more terrifying storm behind this peace.

Allison's legs were healed. Richard sent her home. The Field family asked Richard to have a meal to thank him for taking care of Allison these days.

Hadrian was at home. They were both classmates and great business partners.

"Richard, my mother has prepared a meal to thank you for taking care of my sister. Please do me a favor and stay." Hadrian sincerely invited.

"Alright then, we haven't been drinking together for a long time. Let's have a good drink today." If it weren't for Allison, their relationship would have been better.

Hadrian was as realistic as his father.

Allison was similar to her mother. She was more flexible. Since they had grown up together, Richard trusted Hadrian very much.

Richard stayed to drink, which made Allison and Tracy very happy. Their plan could be implemented.

The Field family ate with Richard. Richard's favorite dishes were all around the table. Everyone was toasting Richard.

Richard was good at drinking. Although he had drunk a lot, he was sober. Richard didn't want to drink anymore. But Tracy prepared to toast Richard one last time.

"Come on, let us toast. You're so kind to Allison. If it weren't for you to send her to the hospital in time, there would have been scars on her legs. This one is for you." Tracy said deliberately.

She finished the wine. Seeing that she drank up her wine, Richard had no choice but to drink his.

Hadrian's phone rang. It seemed to have something wrong with the company. He said goodbye to Richard and left in a hurry.

Cesar also felt a little dizzy. He bid farewell to Richard and went back to his room to sleep.

"Richard, let's call it a day. You can go back now. We will see you around." Tracy got closer to Richard and looked at him.

Richard felt dizzy as well. He looked at Tracy and saw that she was swaying around constantly.

"Mrs. Field, don't move. I am so dizzy." Richard wanted Tracy to be still. Not only was his head dizzy, his entire body was also getting hot. His face was getting redder, and his breathing was very rapid.

"What's wrong with you? Richard? It's time for you to go back. Hey, you can't do this." Richard was groggy, and he could not hear what Tracy was saying.

There was a soft body in front of him. Richard's legs were very soft. He subconsciously grabbed onto that body and no longer knew what the people around him were saying. After a long time, Richard felt like a century had passed, and he gradually became less dizzy.

He opened his eyes and found that he was not at home. This place was very strange to him.

"Amy." Richard reached out and found a naked body.

"Richard." Allison's voice came. He turned around and saw Allison. She was looking at him with embarrassment.

Richard found himself naked and Allison was the same.

And why is Allison's body bruised? Richard was stunned.

"Allison, why are you in my bed?" Richard grabbed the blanket and covered his body.

Allison was obsessed with his strong body. She had enjoyed it enough last night.

"Richard, I'm not in your bed. You are in my bed. You drank too much yesterday, and ..." Allison lowered her head and stopped talking.

Richard was completely dumbfounded. What did he do last night? Could it be that he betrayed Amy? He was so annoyed that he wanted to slap himself. He shouldn't have stayed yesterday.

Richard put on his clothes quickly. There was no expression on his face, but his heart was about to explode.

"Richard, you don't have to take on responsibility. I love you. I'll accept anything you do to me." Allison also covered her body with a quilt.

The door was kicked open, and Hadrian stood at the door with a cold face.

"Richard, you're already married. Why are you sleeping with my sister?"

"Hadrian, I was volunteered. I'm willing to do whatever Richard wants me to do. Just leave us alone."

Allison wanted to protect Richard, but she was not dressed yet.

Hadrian and Richard started fighting. Hadrian truly loved his sister. He felt that Richard was irresponsible.

"Stop it, Hadrian. Richard is a reasonable person. I believe he will give us an explanation." At this moment, Tracy appeared.

Richard understood what was going on. However, he couldn't believe that Hadrian would do such a thing with his mother.

"Hadrian, we are done." Richard said coldly. His mouth was punched by Hadrian.

"Yes, we are. Richard, I am disappointed in you." Hadrian squinted at Richard. His eyes were punched by Richard and they swelled so badly that nobody could tell if his eyes were opened or not. Chapter

190 Distressed Richard

Richard had a fight with Hadrian. He was truly too disappointed with the Fields. He used to think that Hadrian was very sensible, but it seemed that he had misjudged Hadrian. Richard turned around to leave, but the Fields stopped him.

"Richard, you can't leave easily after insulting Allison." Hadrian pulled Richard back.

"Richard, we can talk about it." Tracy said.

"Richard, are you leaving just like that?" Allison asked.

"I'll go back first. You can discuss by yourselves. Just call me if you have the result." Richard felt that he was wise all his life, but he shouldn't have trusted Hadrian. He didn't know how to explain to Amy.

"You can't get away from it. Richard, this is your fault. You should solve it. Allison is not an easy girl.

Money is of no use." Tracy was very pushy at this time. She managed to trap Richard with great difficulty.

How could she let go?

Allison said bashfully, "Mom, I was willing to do so. Richard was just drunk..."

Tracy and Allison echoed each other. They looked at each other happily.

As Richard did such a thing, the Carters would not let it go. After all, the Fields had fame and prestige in the R City.

They were confident because they had sent a video of Richard sleeping with Allison to Amy last night.

But they couldn't figure out what Amy was thinking about. She didn't have any reaction.

"Then what do you want?" Richard stood in front of Tracy and asked her.

"Marry Allison, or I'll expose everything that happened last night." Tracy threw caution in the wind.

"No way. I have wife. I can give you as much as you want, even the entire Carter Group. But I will not divorce Amy." Richard told them his bottom line.

"What do I need the Carter Group for? I have my dignity. I only want you, Richard. If you don't marry me, I can only die." Allison also spoke at this time. She was no longer shy, but desperate.

"Allison, you can't die. I only have you and Hadrian. If you die, I won't live anymore." Tracy also began to playact.

But it was a real play. Richard and Hadrian didn't know what to do. Hadrian felt that it was impossible to force Richard to divorce and marry Allison. But before he could think of a solution, Tracy and Allison were so extreme. He never expected them to do so.

"Well, it has nothing to do with Amy. If you ask Richard to divorce Amy and marry Allison..." Hadrian didn't think that was a good idea.

"Then it's Allison's fault?" Tracy glared at Hadrian. Hadrian was good, but he was as pedantic as his father.

Hearing Tracy's words, Hadrian thought it was not the case. It was really troublesome. He didn't know what to do. How should he deal with this matter?

"It's not your fault. It's my fault. Whatever, I won't get divorced."

Richard ignored them and walked out of the Field's although Allison was crying and Tracy was cursing.

Amy watched the video in her phone. Richard held Allison in his hand.

Allison brought him back to the bedroom and then they fell onto the bed. Later, Richard lay on the bed and slept soundly. Allison lay on Richard. The video was so annoying.

Amy watched these videos and photos for many times. She also called Richard but his phone was turned off.

"Amy, what are you watching? You have sat on the sofa for a long time." Cathy walked over with Hilary.

Cathy held a plate of fruit while Hilary ate it secretly.

"Amy, what's wrong with you? Why are you unhappy? Oh right, where's Richard?" Hilary looked upstairs and did not see Richard. He rarely got up late.

"He probably had social activity last night." Amy did not tell Cathy and Hilary where Richard went last night. She wanted Richard to explain to her.

But a day passed and Richard did not come back. He even didn't call her. In the evening, Amy called Richard again. "Hello, Amy? Are you looking for Richard? He's taking a bath.

How about I ask him to call you back later?" Allison answered the phone. "No need." Amy hung up the phone. She felt strange, but she didn't know what was strange.

After Allison hung up the phone, she put on a smirk. She thought herself smart to turn off Richard's phone last night. When Richard left with anger, he forgot his phone.

"Amy, I don't believe you will trust Richard. It's already like this. Will you forgive him?" Allison looked at the phone with a smile. She thought her mother was so smart.

It was really over Kevin's head. As Richard was drunk, Kevin could only help him to his home.

Richard went for Kevin and asked Kevin to drink with him. He didn't say why, but just kept drinking. Then he got drunk.

Kevin knew Richard for more than twenty years, but he never saw Richard get drunk before. Kevin was truly shocked by what he saw.

"Richard, I'll call Amy. You're already drunk. I'll ask her to pick you up at my house." Kevin felt that Amy should know about this.

Just as he was about to pull out his phone, Richard grabbed his hand and said, "Don't call Amy." Richard shook his head, and tears flowed out of his eyes.

Before Kevin could ask why, Richard staggered back to his feet.

"I'm leaving. I'm going to drink." After saying that, Richard was about to walk out again.

Kevin grabbed him and said, "I won't tell her. You can't drink anymore. Just sleep here." Kevin had no choice but to lock Richard up in his room.

Kevin felt pain in his arm when he woke up the next morning.

Richard wanted to leave, but Kevin managed to subdue him and lock him in the guest room.

"What happened between Richard and Amy?" Kevin got out of bed and was about to let go of Richard.

But when he opened the door of guest room, Richard was not there._
Chapter 191 How Awkward

When he woke up at midnight, Richard realized that he was sleeping in Kevin's house and locked in a room.

He hadn't got his phone. Afraid that Amy would be anxious, he hurriedly jumped down from the window and sneaked back to the Carter's.

Amy could feel someone gently stroking her face. She knew who it was without opening her eyes.

She rolled over and dodged his hand.

Richard wanted to explain to Amy, but it was really bad for him. He didn't know if anything had happened between him and Allison.

"Amy, you already know, right?" Richard sat beside Amy and said softly.

Still angry, Amy kept silent. No matter what, she needed an explanation. Since it had happened, they had to work through it. Escape was not the answer.

"That day, I sent Allison home. Hadrian and her family wanted me to stay for dinner. I trusted Hadrian before, so I stayed. They must have drugged my wine. Do you believe me? I know you don't. You must think I had drunken coitus with her."

Richard was so regretful. He really didn't want to leave Amy, but if Amy insisted on divorcing him, he didn't know what to do.

"When I left the Field's in a hurry, I forgot to bring my phone. If Allison used my phone to say anything to you, don't believe it. I only have you in my heart. Last night, I was very irritated, so I drank with Kevin. I was drunk, so I slept at his house. He can prove it. Amy, this is the case. It's all my fault. No matter how you punish me, I don't want you to leave me." Richard was like a child as he felt like crying.

A pair of gentle hands grabbed his big hand. Richard was delighted. Amy had been listening to him.

"Amy, have you been listening to me? Amy, I don't know what to do now," said Richard, holding Amy's little hands.

"Amy, are you very angry? I am also angry, but things have happened."

Richard placed Amy's hand on his face and lay down on her, immersed in her scent.

Amy was angry with Allison, not Richard. How could she play dirty to get what she wanted?

"No matter what happens in the future, you have to tell me. We are husband and wife. We must not hide anything from each other. Otherwise, others may take advantage," Amy said softly, her other hand stroking Richard's hair.

"OK, I'll be honest. Amy, what should we do now?" Richard did not expect him to be so helpless and ask his beloved for help.

"Allison wants to marry you. All she did was forcing you to divorce me," reasoned Amy, but she didn't know what to do either.

The Field family was famous and powerful in R City, so money wouldn't work. However, if they let it go, Allison would go even further.

"Amy, let me hug you. I haven't hugged you for so long." Richard needed a warm hug.

They hugged each other quietly in the dawn. Times had never been so good.

"Richard, what's wrong with you? You look so dispirited." Hilary was having breakfast when Richard and Amy went downstairs. Richard had sprouted a beard, which had never happened before.

"Just eat your food. Can't so much food shut you up?" Richard glared at Hilary.

Hilary stuck out her tongue. Neither Richard nor Amy looked well. Could it be that Amy kicked Richard's butt because he did not come back last night? Hilary looked down at Richard's butt.

Richard did not know what Hilary was thinking. He walked down with Amy, sat opposite Hilary, and began to eat breakfast.

The vibe at the dining table was subdued. Amy and Richard did not speak, and Hilary did not know what to say. Did they have a fight?

"Mom, come and eat. Bring me a bowl of soybean milk." Hilary didn't know what to do, but she believed her mother would find a way.

Cathy was busy making the soybean milk that Amy liked. It was about to be ready when she heard Hilary calling for her. Then she knew that Richard and Amy must have come down.

She came out with soybean milk, and as expected, she saw all of them. She handed a bowl of soybean milk to everyone and then sat down. Recently, Eva and Addy didn't mess around. They stopped offending Cathy as Halbert said. And Jacob and William rarely came for dinner.

It was so quiet that Cathy felt that something was wrong. It seemed that something important was about to happen.

"Mom, look at my brother. Isn't he very handsome?" Hilary hinted at Richard's beard.

Cathy looked up at Richard and noticed that he was unshaven. Richard always took care of his appearance.

"Richard, Amy, what happened? What's the matter?" Cathy got to the point.

"Mom, we're fine. I'm just a little tired from work." Richard perfunctorily replied. He didn't want Cathy to know about those annoying things. Cathy had got so much on her plate, so he didn't want to make it hard for her.

"Tired from work? Well, eat more and take a rest." Cathy knew Richard well. There must be something wrong with him. However, now that they were at home, Cathy did not ask anymore. Home should be a safe place, but now, it had become the most dangerous place. Cathy gave Richard some more soybean milk and placed the buns in front of him.

Noticing Cathy stop asking, Hilary also stopped. She quickly finished her breakfast and drove her Audi to work.

"Take my car. I'll be worried if you drive," said Amy after they walked out of the door. Chapter 192 Allison Is Pregnant

"Hello, Richard." Cathy opened the door of her son's office and walked in.

"Mom? Why are you here?" Cathy never went back to HD Group for no reason.

"Of course I am here for something." Cathy closed the door and walked in.

"Come here. Tell me, are you in trouble? Did you quarrel with Amy?" Cathy asked Richard to sit beside her.

She did not allow her son to bully Amy. If it was her son's fault, Cathy would not be on his side.

"I didn't. Mom, didn't you watch me and Amy go out together? How could we have so many quarrels?"

Richard prevaricated.

"You are my son. I know you well. You little bastard, did you make Amy angry again?" Cathy did not believe Richard's words at all.

Richard thought for a moment. Perhaps Cathy could help him. She had been through a lot, so she might have more ideas than them.

Thus, Richard told Cathy what had happened recently. After hearing this, Cathy clenched her fists angrily and slapped Richard.

"You bastard. I have told you many times that Allison is not a good woman, but you just don't believe me. Now you've been set up. How can you make it up for Amy?" Allison's explanation was just as what Cathy had guessed.

"Mom, you're right. I did something very bad to Amy. But I don't want to break up with Amy. I can only punish the Field Group in terms of business." Richard could only think of using this method to threaten the Field Group.

"We don't have a partnership with the Field Group. They won't lose anything if they don't cooperate with us. The Field Group is a powerful enterprise. How can you make him compromise so easily?" Cathy also felt worried. Richard was a child that had always rested her assured. But he was tricked by someone else.

Allison tried her best to be a Carter. What did she mean? Didn't she always hold their relationship in suspense? Why did she come to pester Richard when he was married now?

"Mom, please persuade Amy. Although she didn't say anything about me, I felt that I made her sad. But I don't know how to console her." Richard felt very sorry for Amy. The more he saw Amy being tolerant, the more uncomfortable he felt.

"Of course I will. I will only recognize Amy as my daughter-in-law. Even if you bring someone else back, I won't allow her to be my family!" Cathy could get angry easily. But she felt it got tricky. It was difficult to deal with the Field family. They were determined to have Allison marry Richard.

"Let's think about it and see what we can do." Now Cathy knew what happened. But she was also puzzled by such a difficult problem. It was difficult for anyone to handle such a thing.

"Richard, will you compromise?" Cathy asked Richard once again for his confirmation because Richard really loved Allison in the past.

"No. I've been with Amy. I'm not interested in other women." Richard said firmly.

But it was just what he hoped. Sometimes people couldn't help but have to do something they hated.

When Richard didn't come up with a solution, the Fields was very calm, it was as if nothing had happened.

Although Richard and Amy still worked together every day, Richard always felt that Amy had something on her mind. He was the person who was to blame, so he did not dare to ask Amy. He could only do his own things and be good to her every day.

"Richard, are you sure you love me from the bottom of your heart?" Amy asked Richard.

"Of course. If I don't love you, then what else do I have to worry about?" Richard helped Amy tie her shoes.

"Well, as long as you love me, I don't care about anything else." What Amy suddenly said puzzled Richard a little. What did Amy mean?

More than a month passed in a blink of an eye, but the Carter family still didn't think of a way, and the Field family didn't have any movements. The peace made people feel very terrified. They were always worried that something serious would happen at some point.

It was weekend. Amy rested at home. Richard took Hilary to the construction site to assess the situation.

At this moment, an unexpected guest arrived.

Allison and Tracy came to the Carter's. They wanted to see Grandma Eva and Cathy.

The large living room was filled with people. Jacob wanted to sit next to Allison, but he was stopped by Tracy. She asked Jacob to sit opposite, which made Jacob very confused. Seeing that everyone from the Carter family was basically here, Tracy took out a report from the hospital.

She put the report on the coffee table and began to speak, "A month ago, Richard molested Allison after getting drunk. There has been no movement this month. But now Allison is pregnant. Tell me what you should do."

Tracy's words shocked the Carters.

"What? Allison is pregnant?" Almost everyone from the Carter family spoke together.

"Yes. We are helpless. Allison is a pure young girl. But she was defiled by Richard. You didn't give me an explanation up until now. So, we can only come here and ask for one."

Tracy looked aggrieved, which made everyone think that it was definitely Richard's fault.

"What's going on? Allison is my fiancée. We haven't held our engagement ceremony. Why is she pregnant with Richard's child?" Jacob suddenly stood up. His face changed in anger. He felt bad to be cuckolded.

"Calm down, Jacob. We will give you an explanation." Grandma Eva asked Jacob to sit down. She was also very interested in what happened today. She did not expect that Richard would make such a mistake. Wouldn't she expel Amy from the Carter family very soon?

"Tracy, what's going on? Why don't we know what happened?"

Grandma Eva wanted to know how Richard gave her such a good opportunity.

"That day, Allison's foot was healed. I ask Richard to take Allison back to the Field's. We appreciated Richard, so we invited him to stay for dinner. He was also very happy, so he had some drinks. But we never expected that after drinking, he would..." Tracy began to cry. Allison hurriedly consoled her.

"Mom, don't cry. They will give us a satisfactory answer." _____

Chapter 193 A Contract That Should be Destroyed

"Oh my goodness. What's going on here?" Sophia tried to fan the flames. Sophia knew what was on Allison's mind, but she was very happy now. Nothing was more important than to kick Amy out.

"Yes. Richard is quite rational. How could he make such a mistake? I know that Richard always likes Allison. Was he on purpose?" Eva looked at Allison and Tracy. She was a little pleased that she didn't have to mind Jacob's business. Moreover, Allison liked Richard. If Allison drove Amy out one day, Cathy would lose a good helper.

"I think so. Richard married Amy out of rage. Furthermore, their marriage is just a two-year contract. When it comes, they have to split up. Allison was supposed to stay abroad for two years. In other words, Richard and Amy's marriage was to delay the time and force Allison to come back." Sophia took something out. Sophia had seen Amy standing on the stairs, so she took out the contract found the other day. Tracy drew nearer Sophia and took the contract to look at it carefully. "So all of this was Richard's plan. He didn't mean to marry Amy. Look at the contract. The date is when Allison would come home from abroad." Tracy could not be more pleased by the contract. Hearing that, Cathy also took the contract and didn't look well. Because what they said was true. The date on the contract was the time when Allison would come back. But where did they get the contract? Cathy also saw Amy who was pale. Was the contract true?

"Sophia, where did you get it?" Cathy looked at Sophia. "Richard and Amy made this contract. If Richard hadn't told us, we would not have known it." Sophia looked at Cathy. She found it at Richard's place. Amy slowly walked down and looked at the contract that was signed by her and Richard back then. Richard took away hers and told her it was invalid. He said he was going to destroy it. But why did it appear now? "Amy, is it true? It's not true, right?" Cathy had seen their signatures on it, but she just didn't buy it.

"It's true. However, we are about to annul this contract." Amy said to everyone.

"Impossible! If it's invalid, it should be destroyed. How can I have it? Amy, stop fooling yourself. Since the contract is here now, it's valid. Your contract is due, and Allison happens to be pregnant. I think Richard just did it on purpose." Sophia continued to stir up troubles.

"Nonsense! Richard won't do that." Cathy glared at Sophia. Why was Sophia helping others not her?

"Cathy, if Richard wasn't on purpose, why this contract still exists? My daughter Allison carries Richard's child. If you don't want the baby, my daughter would be a single mother. But it is her first child. How precious it is." Tracy sat beside Allison and took good care of her daughter.

"Do you even care how I feel? Allison is my fiancée. Why do you want her to marry Richard?" Jacob was pissed off.

"Jacob, do you mean you are willing to marry Allison? It would be a good idea." Cathy thought that it was great to let Jacob marry Allison. After all, they were all family.

"No! It is Richard's child. Why should I marry Jacob? What kind of woman do you think I am?" Allison let out a cry of surprise. She planned to marry Richard not Jacob.

"Cathy, the Field family is well-established. Allison is pregnant with Richard's child, so we should ask Richard, right?" Halbert said. He didn't want to offend the Field family.

"I think it would be best to wait for Richard to return." Amy also agreed. Everyone just said what they wanted. It was imperative to ask Richard.

"Richard is now in the construction site and will come back later. How about Tracy and Allison stay for dinner?" The problem remained unsolved, so Cathy couldn't refuse her anymore. Richard had to give her an explanation.

Amy became a laughing stock in this family. They were very nice to Allison, as if Amy would leave soon and Richard's wife would be Allison.

"Amy, you are pretty strong. If William knocks someone up, I definitely will divorce him. There would be no reason for me to stay." Sophia tried to persuade Amy as she walked by her.

Amy forced a smile to her, "How do you know if William has mistress?"

Amy didn't want to talk to Allison anymore, so she walked away.

Eva was pretty nice to Allison. If Amy was kicked out, Cathy wouldn't stay for long in this family. Then Eva would be the head of this family sooner or later.

Also, if Allison gave birth to a child for Richard, it would be her first great-grandchild, to which Grandma Eva attached importance.

"Allison, you're having a baby and have to mind your health. Don't be angry. No more quarrel with others. You are carrying my first great-grandchild. Just be careful." Eva said to Allison to show her care.

"That's right. You are carrying our first great-grandchild. Grandma values it so much." Sophia did not win

Amy just now and was also pleased about this baby. Although Amy was so proud of herself, the one who was pregnant wasn't herChapter 194 Disputes at the Table

"Richard."

However, Richard ignored her. Instead, he directly walked to Amy's side and sat down.

Seeing Richard being so indifferent to her daughter, Tracy felt uncomfortable. However, in order not to get Richard fed up with her daughter, she had to endure it.

"Richard, you must be tired, but I have some good news for you today."

Tracy stood up. She walked behind Richard and helped him fill a bowl of rice.

"What is it?" Richard took the bowl and then placed some food into Amy's bowl.

"Allison is pregnant. It's your baby." Tracy smiled and said to Richard.

Richard was just about to put some food into Amy's bowl. When he heard Tracy's words, his hand trembled, and the food fell on the dining table.

No wonder it had been so peaceful recently. It turned out that they wanted to use this method.

"Congratulations, Richard. Among the three brothers, you are the first to be a father." Sophia added.

"I never expected that I would have a great-grandchild. I'm really happy." Eva also said. Amy just watched them.

Richard was shocked by the news. He never expected that Allison would be pregnant.

"I won't raise this child," Richard immediately replied.

"Why not? That's the first grandchild of the Carter family. We must have him!" Eva immediately placed her chopsticks heavily on the dining table.

"Anyway, I don't want it. I will only have children with Amy. Allison, go and have an abortion. I will give you a lot of compensation, as was said that day." Richard looked nervously at Amy, but Amy did not have much expression.

"Amy, do you believe in me?" Richard held Amy's hand and asked.

"I do." Amy answered without hesitation.

"What? It's impossible for my daughter to get an abortion. You don't consider the Field family a lightweight, do you? My daughter's pregnancy is the result of your mistake. Why should my daughter suffer?" Tracy immediately jumped up.

"What do you mean by saying your daughter has to suffer? We are not sure who the father of the baby is yet." Cathy was no a weak person. Although she knew that this child was most likely Richard's, as Richard had told her what had happened at that time, she still had to question it.

"What? What are you talking about? Is my daughter that kind of person? The Field family is respected and welcomed. We are not a petty family. That's your baby, the Carter's bloodline. If you don't admit it, I will have a way to make you admit it." Tracy threatened.

Looking at them quarreling, Amy felt a headache. She did not know what to do. She trusted Richard, but the current situation was not good for them.

"Some people took the position, yet they don't make their due contributions. If they don't have the ability, they should step aside." Eva rolled her eyes and said about Amy. "No matter what you say, I won't admit this child. Whoever likes it, take it. Let's go, Amy." Richard didn't want to argue with these people at all. He went out with Amy.

"Halbert, we've been friends for generations, but look at your son. He didn't want to take the responsibility. Allison is innocent. What does he mean by that?" Tracy turned to Halbert.

Talking to Eva and the others was useless. Although talking to Cathy would help, Cathy was not on her side. So she could only turn to Halbert.

Halbert felt annoyed and dizzy. He had been tired of the quarrels over dinner. Now that Tracy was targeting at him, he felt even more irritated.

"Stop shaking." Halbert tried to take Tracy's hand off, but just as he was pulling, Tracy fell down.

With a loud sound, Tracy fell to the ground. Her head touched the ground, and she fainted instantly.

"Mom, Mom, what's wrong with you? Stay with me. Are you trying to keep a secret by killing people?"

Allison was truly frightened when she watched Tracy fall to the ground, as this was not part of their plan.

She squatted beside Tracy and kept calling her.

"Quick! Send her to the hospital." Someone shouted, and the scared people finally came to their senses.

Although Jacob was the one being cheated on, he still carried up Tracy and drove her and Allison to the hospital.

"Halbert, you should go take a look. Anyway, she fainted in our house. Then you should tell Hadrian."

Although Cathy did not like Tracy and Allison, she had to care about them because that did not seem to be a fake faint. She might have fainted from the strong anxiety.

"OK. I'll take a look and give Hadrian a call. Addy, come with me. If they need someone to take care of Tracy, it would be more suitable that you take care of her." Halbert asked Addy to go to the hospital with him, because Cathy had to take charge of the overall situation at home.

When Addy heard that Halbert asked her to go with him, she was happy.

She hurriedly followed Halbert.

"The patient was anxious. Can't you just talk in a considerate way? You have made her so anxious that she fell down and got a lump on the head." The doctor looked at Tracy's head. What a big lump.

Seeing that Tracy's life was not in danger, Halbert was relieved. He asked

Addy to help Tracy wipe her face, which was still stained with blood.

Allison was crying from the side. She knew about Tracy's illness. This was definitely not because of anxiety. It was because her mother's illness had worsened.

However, this was a normal examination, which would not find that Tracy had other diseases.

"What did you do to us? I thought that we had good relationship, but now we are like enemies." Cesar and Hadrian looked at Tracy lying on the hospital bed and questioned Halbert.

"This is our fault. It's our fault. We are willing to compensate." At this time, Halbert could only say good words.

Tracy had fainted in his house. No matter what, this was the Carters' fault.

"Compensate. How? First, Richard impregnated my sister, and now you made my mother lie in bed.

What else do you want to do?" After Hadrian broke off his friendship with Richard, he had been furious.

"Then what do you want?" Halbert had no choice. It seemed that what Hadrian said was indeed the fault of the Carters.

"What do we want? Let's talk after my mother wakes up. You stay here and take care of her!" Hadrian roared angrily.

Chapter 195 Full of Doubts

Richard held Amy's hand tightly. He was really afraid that Amy would leave him.

"Why are you holding me so tightly? I won't escape." Amy's hand hurt. "I'm afraid that I will lose you, Amy. After this, you still trust me so much. Thank you very much." Richard said to Amy.

He was about to go crazy. He didn't expect Allison to threaten him by saying that she was pregnant.

"You don't have to thank me. I know you. And I also know what kind of person Allison is. Who do you think I will believe? It's just that you were too careless and let her take advantage of this." Amy was actually quite tired, but when seeing Richard being like this, she still needed to comfort him.

"It's my fault for trusting Hadrian too much and underestimating Allison. If they threaten me with death, what should I do? Amy, let's leave here." Richard felt that he had experienced a lot, but finally he got his hand caught in the cookie jar.

Amy smiled. Men were like this. They didn't know what women were thinking, nor did they know that women could be much more scheming than them.

"Richard, escape cannot help you. I don't think Allison's child is yours. We can wait for her child to grow up and have a paternity test." Amy said.

"Not mine? Really? Is that possible?" When Richard heard this, he immediately felt she had given him hope.

"Yes, the doctor says that I have a physique that allows me to conceive easily. However, we have been married for so long and I am not pregnant yet. But she can conceive at once. So I doubt that. Forget about it. This is just my assumption. Even if we are going to have a paternity test, we have to do it secretly. Allison won't be convinced unless the child is indeed not yours." Women were always smarter than men in this regard.

"So Amy, you mean that we should let Allison give birth first, and then make other plans?" Richard was a little puzzled. He originally wanted Allison to have the abortion, which was simple and fast.

"Whether the child is yours or not, the child is innocent. If it is yours, you should accept it. If not, you will be able to get rid of Allison." Amy didn't know if Richard would understand if she expressed it in this way.

Children were innocent and couldn't be used as weapons by adults.

"Yes, I see. Amy, thank you. Thank you for understanding me." Richard wasn't very upset now. It would be good since he knew what to do.

They ate something outside. Seeing that it was getting late, they thought Allison and her daughter should have gone.

"Let's go back. They are definitely waiting for us. We have to face them. Let's go back earlier." Amy held Richard.

"Alright, let's go back and face them together." Richard no longer escaped.

When they returned home, it was actually very quiet in the living room. There weren't as many people waiting for them as they thought.

Only Hilary stayed in the living room with Cathy, crying.

"Mom, Hilary, why haven't you rested yet?" Seeing at his mother and sister who were crying there, Richard walked over to ask with concern.

"Richard, Amy, you are back. Are you hungry? I'll go make you some food, okay?" Cathy did not ask anything. She only cared if they were hungry.

"Mom, we've eaten outside. What happened after we left? Where's Dad?" Richard looked around the house and didn't see Halbert. Normally, he could see Halbert wherever Cathy was.

"Your father went to the hospital. Allison's mother fainted, so she was sent to the hospital. Addy also went to take care of Tracy. I don't think things will be easy this time."

Cathy sighed.

"Yes, I don't think it's easy to handle. Mom, don't worry. We can just wait and see. If they force us again, I can only accept the child and ask Allison to give birth." Richard said to Cathy.

"Why do you want Allison to give birth to that child? Can Amy accept that?" Cathy looked at Amy in horror.

"Mom, the child is innocent. We just let Allison give birth to the child first. Then we can discuss it with them." Amy comforted Cathy. In the past few days after she came back, life was not peaceful at all.

"I don't think they would like to negotiate with us. They either faint or want to kill us. We've been friends for so many years and I don't know they are such kind of people." Cathy had always disliked Allison and her mother. She didn't expect that she really went into the trap set by them.

"We can only give it a try." Amy asked Hilary and Cathy to go to rest. She also went back to the bedroom with Richard.

Their conversation was heard by a man. Seeing that they all left, he hurriedly walked to the side and made a call.

When Halbert returned, his face was so dark He had begged the Fields, but he was still humiliated by them. They said that since he raised the child, his child should admit it if he made a mistake. Halbert had been suppressing his anger all afternoon.

"Darling, you're back!" Seeing that Halbert returned, Cathy went to help him take out his slippers.

"Where's Richard?" At this time, Halbert only wanted to see Richard and listen to his thoughts.

"He's upstairs. You wanna see him? I'll go tell him." Cathy stood up and prepared to call Richard.

"I'll go upstairs. There's something I want to talk with them." Halbert changed into slippers and went upstairs. He knocked on Richard's bedroom door.

"Dad, you're back!" As soon as Amy opened the door, she felt a burst of anger rushing straight into the bedroom.

Richard also saw that his father was very angry, so he sat up immediately.

"Dad, you wanna talk with me?" Richard asked Halbert.

"Well, you've seen what happened today. It's not something you can solve just by escape. You're adults now. You have to face it when you make a mistake. Tell me what you want to do." Halbert sat on the sofa and looked at them.

Cathy also came in and sat beside Halbert.

"Amy and I have decided. Let Allison give birth to the child. If she wants to marry me, she has to let me see the child first." Richard told Halbert the results he had discussed with Amy.

"One thing I don't understand the most is how you two got married under a contract? The date of your breaking up is exactly the date of Allison's return from abroad. Why is the contract in Sophia's hands? What exactly do you mean? I want you to explain it to me." Cathy raised her question in her heart. ____ Chapter 196 Tyrannical Eva Cathy asked Richard to explain the contract marriage and the whereabouts of the contract. Richard only said what he was feeling when he got married. He did it only to manage John at that time. However, as for why the contract was in Sophia's hands, Richard did not know either. The contract was in his villa and was originally going to be destroyed. However, he was delayed by something and put the "destroy" down.

When Richard returned yesterday, he did not know that his contract was in Sophia's hands.

"Let me ask Robin what's going on." Richard immediately called Robin and asked him why the things in his villa could be lost.

"But your decision won't work. Not only will the Fields not allow Sophia to have the abortion, they also want Amy to step aside and you to marry Sophia." Halbert didn't care who his daughter-in-law was. The Field family was much more powerful, and he wanted Allison more. "How is that possible? How can she let Amy step aside just by saying that she's pregnant? Then can she be so sure that the child is mine? No matter what you say, she can just give up on that. I can accept the child, but I'll never admit that she's my wife." Cathy also lost her temper. Allison was just pregnant, and she was pregnant by playing tricks. How dare she say that she wanted to marry into the Carter family? Richard and Amy exchanged their gazes and nodded. "Dad, if you are unwilling to tell them, I'll tell them myself. Anyway, I will definitely accept the child as long as it is mine. It's impossible for Amy to leave me. At worst, let them sue me." Richard defended his marriage with Amy. Halbert felt that his family were all unanimously unwilling to accept Allison. It seemed that it was indeed unreasonable for Allison to enter their family.

"No, I don't agree." Eva had listened to them at the door for a long time. At this time, she came in with Sophia's help.

"Mom? Why are you here?" Halbert had made up his mind, but at this time, he was interrupted by Eva.

"I don't agree that Allison should live alone. If she gives birth to the child, she will be a heroine to the Carter family. Why do you treat her like this? Shouldn't someone who hasn't been pregnant yet look at herself and step aside?" Eva glared at Amy.

"Grandma, Richard and I have only been married for a year." Amy said to Eva.

"It's been a whole year and you're not pregnant yet, but Allison can be pregnant in one go. How do you explain that?" Eva resolutely counterattacked.

"I mean that I've only been married to Richard for a year. If you say that, you're referring to Sophia, right? She's been married for three years, and she hasn't been pregnant yet. We're both daughters-in-law of the Carter family. Grandma, you are so unreasonable." Amy wanted to give way at first, but Eva was too arbitrary. She treated others' respect for her as a stepping stone.

When Eva heard this, she realized that she was wrong and Sophia was involved. However, she was an elder, so she couldn't admit her mistake. "I don't think that you are so clever. Look at Sophia. She never disobeys me. She's not like you at all, who dare quarrel with me." Eva was well known for being unreasonable. When she was still a young girl, she had quarreled with almost everyone in her village.

Therefore, she was not afraid of quarreling at all. Now that she was old and she could rely on her age to quarrel with others as she wanted.

"Grandma, have you forgotten that you've been talking about me? If you say the same words to Sophia, I don't think she would treat you like this. My respect for you is not meant to be wasted." Amy thought that the elders should be kind and amiable. Why was this Eva like this? "Regardless of what you say, I just want Allison to be my granddaughter-in-law. Her child will be my great-grandson. You want to marry to our family only for money. You'll be satisfied by money and I know that. Don't think that I don't know that your family is bankrupt and desperately in need of money." Eva's words sounded extremely sinister.

When Eva said this, Amy was really speechless. She was also forced to be angry just now. She couldn't keep arguing with an unreasonable person, who might also make her unreasonable.

"Grandma, that's my business. Why do you always interfere? I can marry whoever I like. If you like Allison, that's your business. It has nothing to do with me. I know how to handle my own business."

Seeing that Eva had always been targeting at Amy, Richard could not tolerate that.

"Alright, you've grown up and you don't need me anymore. If you don't let Allison marry you, then I'll die in front of you. You all want me to be dead, right?" Eva brought out the big guns.

"Mom, don't say that word, okay? Who wants you to be dead? We're just trying to figure out how to solve this." Halbert was really going to be crazy. The quarreling had only stopped for a few days. The family was really about to be destroyed.

Eva pointed at Halbert and Richard and said, "You are both Carters and my son and grandson. Why do you have to discuss it since it is beneficial to our family? Do you want to listen to that bitch and hurt Allison? She's such a good girl and you made her pregnant. It's our fault. If she wants to marry you, there's nothing wrong with it. Don't think about it. Get divorced and marry Allison!"

Eva didn't want them to continue discussing. Allison was certain to be her granddaughter-in-law. She just hated Amy, who looked so bitchy. Most importantly, her family had gone bankrupt. She didn't have anything now.

Eva just stood there and didn't leave. No one could do anything about it. Amy turned around and left.

She couldn't communicate with this old woman, and she did not know how she had offended Eva, so that she always target Amy.

"Grandma, don't be angry. It's all my fault for embarrassing you."

Originally, everyone had forgotten about this. At this moment, Sophia suddenly mentioned it again.

"What are you talking about? It's all the fault of that bitch. Sophia, you're a good girl. You are good to me. I know that." Eva comforted Sophia and gave her confidence in front of Halbert and Cathy.

"I feel that this family is in a total mess. Halbert, as the mistress, I don't seem to have any right to say anything. I don't even know why you asked me to be back." Cathy was upset by the quarrel. The home she had stayed for years was really in a mess right now.

"Cathy, Cathy, listen to me! Listen to me!" Halbert followed Cathy and left.
Chapter 197 Eva Is in Charge of the Family

"Grandma, are you satisfied now? Are you happy after you torture my families like this?" Richard, who had been sitting opposite Eva, didn't know why he had such a grandma. "Richard, I'm doing this for you. You have to understand me. I'm probably the only one in the world who treats you the best." Eva felt that she was doing it for the whole family. She did not feel that she was wrong.

"Grandma, thank you for your kindness. Sophia, please help Grandma back to rest." Richard also knew that in such a home, Amy really suffered a lot of grievances. It was better for them to move back to their own home. It would be better if they couldn't see what happened here. "Richard, I'm going back with Grandma." Sophia supported Eva and left. Richard closed the door and walked into the inner room. He found that Amy was looking at the computer.

He walked over and saw that Amy was busy with her work. He felt that it was a little funny.

"Why did you come in to work?" The way Amy talked to Eva just now really made Richard heave a sigh of relief. He didn't want his wife to be unable to say anything after being bullied.

"Then what should I do? It's impossible for me to quarrel with her all the time. Besides, I'm a junior, so I can only stop there. Do you think I need to fight with her?" Amy was quite optimistic. She felt that it would be better to work rather than argue with Eva.

"Amy, I'm afraid that you will leave me because of Grandma's words." Richard held Amy in his arms. Only by staying with Amy could he feel a trace of tranquility.

"Amy, let's move back." Richard said to Amy.

"How did you figure it out?" Amy smiled. She wanted to leave, but she was afraid that it would set Richard in a difficult situation, so she didn't mention it all the time.

"Amy, let's go back and enjoy the world of only you and me. This place is really different from before. If we are here, Mom's life will also be difficult. You will also be very aggrieved." Richard sat beside Amy.

"Alright, whatever you want to do, just do it." Amy kissed Richard on the face.

Allison's matter indeed influenced Amy, but since she chose to trust Richard, she had to not think too much about it.

"Amy, you are so nice. I will never leave you." Richard felt that he was so happy to marry Amy.

"Why didn't Richard come to dinner today?" Eva looked at the people on the table. She did not see Richard and Amy.

"Maybe they have something to deal with. Let's eat first. They may have a party outside and won't come back." Cathy hurriedly said.

"How can it be nutritious to eat outside every day? That bitch even doesn't persuade her own man to come back for dinner. Since she doesn't serve her man well, how can she still live in this house?" Eva always called Amy as a "bitch".

Cathy did not argue with her. In any case, her son and daughter-in-law had moved away. They chose to stay far away from the quarrel here.

"Sophia, you can't learn that Amy. As a woman who is already married, why does she still dress so beautifully? You should serve your husband and teach your son at home, instead of showing up everywhere. A woman should know how to be a good woman. But Sophia, you've done a good job." Eva couldn't accept that a woman went out to work at all.

"Grandma, you are right. I will listen to you." Sophia also despised Eva in her heart. If a woman didn't dress up beautifully, the man would have left her a long time ago. Just like Eva, she was rustic and Grandpa just didn't like her.

A 25-Year-Old Becomes The Richest Man In His City He's Using This Secret Trick To Make Millions

Hearing Sophia's words, Eva was happy. As long as Amy and Cathy weren't around, the family was still very harmonious and everyone still respected her. Eva was very happy during the process of the dinner. Just now, Halbert had told her that Cathy's health was not quite good, so she was no longer prepared to take care of the whole family. The power of controlling the family would be given to Eva. In the future, it was Eva who had the final say of the family. Since it was all up to her, she would definitely deal with that bitch. Sophia knew that in the future, Eva would be the one in charge of the family and she was also very happy. Eva always liked her, and her future life would be much easier than Amy's.

After dinner, Cathy found an excuse and went back to her room by saying that she didn't feel good. She was also prepared. After her son moved away and everything settled down, she would go to live with her son.

Halbert went to the study to deal with his business.

In the living room, only Eva and her people were left there and celebrated.

"Grandma, I think you should be in charge of this family. You are our backbone. You are much more experienced than any of us." Sophia flattered Eva.

"Sophia, you are so sweet. The family wasn't like this when I was in charge back then. Life was smooth and peaceful. And the families were also harmonious." Eva began to brag. Anyway, the people here did not know what happened back then. She could say it as she liked.

"Grandma, do you see how I've been bullied? I only have 30,000 a month. Grandma, please increase that a little." Sophia finally expressed her purpose.

"30,000?" Eva's eyes popped. She and Addy used 30,000 a year. Why did Sophia still ask for an increase?

Sophia did not understand what Eva meant. She thought that Eva also felt that the money was too little, so she pretended to be even more pitiful.

"That's right. It's only 30,000. If I go out for a meal, it'll cost several thousand. How can 30,000 be enough?"

"Sophia, I'm going to blame you. Your mother and I spend 30,000 for a year. And you need 30,000 a month! Do you still think that's too little? It's not easy for Richard to earn money. It's really absurd for you to spend so much money every month." Eva's face darkened when she heard that everyone in her family was spending so much money.

Sophia thought that after Eva took the charge of the family, it should be beneficial to her, but she never expected Eva to say such words.

"Addy, pay attention. From today on, I'll deduct their pocket money. 30,000 is too much. 20,000 will be enough." Actually, Eva felt that 20,000 was still too much. She didn't know why these people needed so much money.

Sophia felt that she actually found a trouble for herself. 30,000 turned into 20,000, which was even more inadequate for her.

"Grandma, just maintain 30,000 every month. I don't think it's not enough. If you deduct it like this, I really don't know how to survive." Sophia wanted to be coquettish. Eva liked her so much, so she should listen to her.

"I think 20,000 is too much. All of you should reflect on it. From today on, the family expenses should all be reduced. How much will it cost if we eat so much every day?" Eva said resolutely.

Chapter 198 Tracy's Worries

Cathy was sick. So she was no longer in charge of the Carter family's affairs. She ate lightly every day to reduce internal heat.

But she did not know that the entire Carter family was eating very lightly now. Grandma Eva made it a rule that the daily household budget should be no more than 100. There were nice dishes on the table anymore. Instead, they became the most ordinary pork and vegetable dishes. Sophia, William and the others were suffering.

"William, what's wrong with your grandma? We have money, but look at what we are offered to eat.

And your mother is a real bumpkin!" Sophia whined.

"Allison, it's been hard for you. My mother and grandmother are like that. When we went to see them, we never ate at home. Let's eat out at night instead of eating these stuff at home." William said. He wanted the best for Sophia, and he didn't want to eat at home, either.

"I miss Cathy now. We ate delicacies all the time when she was in charge. Look at what we're eating now!" It angered Sophia the most that her pocket money was reduced by 10,000.

"Yes, it's their fault. We won't eat at home anymore. I will take you out for dinner." William assured Sophia.

"I used to have 30,000 as pocket money, which wasn't enough already. Now it was 10,000 less. How am I supposed to live with it?" Sophia needed to subsidize her family. After the White family went bankrupt, her father often asked money from her. She didn't know what was going on. Even if her family was bankrupt, they should be able to live on the rest of the money. And Sophia had given them so much money before.

"Darling, I can give you money. It's just 10,000. I can take it from the company." Now in charge of the company, William had diverted quite some money. An extra 10,000 every month shouldn't be much different.

"You give me? I have all your salary cards. What can you give me?" When Sophia heard that William had other ways to get money, she was very excited.

"I can make it 10,000 less in the profit report and give it to you. The company is ours anyway. It is OK to do that." William said to Sophia.

"Can we? Great, then you give me 10,000 a month. Otherwise, I won't be able to survive." Sophia was elated. Grandma Eva deducted her money. Fortunately, she had a capable husband who could make it up for her.

"Honey, should we do something? You're not pregnant yet. I want to be a father." William held Sophia in embrace and looked at her with desire.

"You can't blame me. What if you are the one to blame?" Sophia said to William.

"I'm so healthy. There can't be something wrong with me. Come on, baby, for our baby!" After that, he threw himself on Sophia.

"What? You can accept a baby but not my daughter? How dare you! My daughter and grandson can't be separated." Tracy, who was lying on the bed, jumped up the moment she heard what Halbert said.

"Richard said it was the only thing he could do. If you don't want to, you can sue him at any time."

Halbert was also displeased with Tracy's attitude. As the president of the HD Group, he was yelled at like that. It never occurred to him that Tracy was this aggressive.

"How dare you!" Tracy became spiritless. Richard loved Amy. How dare Amy confuse Richard like this.

Tracy swore to herself that she would get one eye for an eye.

"Alright, I've told you what Richard wants. Think about it yourself. These things are for you. Hadrian, take good care of your mother. Goodbye." Then he left.

"Hadrian, throw everything out." Tracy, now sick and dying, wasn't afraid of anyone now.

"Mom, I think Mr. Carter has a point. Richard has a wife. If you insist that he get divorced and marry my sister, he definitely won't do it. It's not bad that he accepts the baby."

Actually, Hadrian wanted his younger sister to have an abortion. Things were strange that day when he thought about them.

He knew how much Richard could drink. It was impossible that he was drunk. When he heard that Richard slept with his sister, he fumed with anger. Later, when he thought about it carefully, he had doubts about what his sister and mother had done. But he did not want to say more about it.

"Hadrian, that's your sister. Do you want your sister to be destroyed by Richard like this? Why did he do that to your sister when he had a wife?" The more Tracy looked at him, the angrier she became. Why didn't he speak up for her?

"Alright, Mom, I'm going to the company. Don't get too emotional. I'll come and see you again when I have time." Hadrian knew that he could not convince his mother. At this moment, Tracy was very emotional, so he chose to leave.

"I might think you are not my son if I hadn't given birth to you myself. You are just as silly as your father."

Tracy complained as her son went out.

Her son was not close to her since he was young. He did not approve of her in many things, and neither did her husband. And that made Allison her closest pal in the family. She also loved her son, even though they were not close. She was his mother, despite a few whining and bickering, she cared about him.

Her son was already 30 years old, and didn't have a girlfriend. It was what she worried about the most.

She didn't have much time left, so she had to get things done for her son and daughter before she died.

Tracy didn't worry about her husband at all. As long as he had food and chess to play, he would need nothing.

"Mia, you said that you've got a niece the other day. Shall we have lunch or dinner together and have her meet my son?" Tracy called her friend and wanted to set up a date for her son.

"Alright, Saturday night is OK. Thank you, Mia. See you then." After Tracy settled the matter, she felt much better.

She wouldn't live long enough to see her son and daughter get married. However, she could rest assured if it was settled. Amy, you dare to snatch a man from my daughter, then don't blame me! Tracy clenched her fists. Chapter 199 Addy's Changes

Only Grandma Eva and Addy were at the table. Other people were busy, so they didn't come back to have meals today. Halbert was in the room with his wife. Cathy said that she was sick and felt uncomfortable.

"Addy, look at our family. I just ask them to eat some light food and they all find an excuse to eat outside. They have been doing this for three days, and I don't believe that they can be busy like this for three days." Grandma Eva put her chopsticks on the table angrily.

"Mom, they all had their own work to do. That is why they did not come back for dinner. And you said that Cathy failed in raising those children and have developed bad habits. Well, I don't think children are to blame here. Mom, don't be angry. We have gone through a lot these years and we know that it takes time to cultivate good habits in a child." Addy always knew what Grandma Eva was thinking about. And that was why Grandma Eva liked her so much. When she lived in the countryside and didn't know how things went on between her husband and his current wife, she managed to get on with her life. But now, she returned to the Carter's with great difficulty. She was really jealous when she saw her ex-husband being so nice to another woman every day.

However, she could take her time now. She had waited for 30 years and these few days meant nothing to her. Only by getting rid of Cathy could she truly come back to the Carter's and become the hostess in charge of the whole family.

"You are the sensible one. Addy, I am old now and I always want the best for you. Dress yourself up and make an effort, so you can become the hostess here. Men love women in fine clothes." Grandma Eva figured it out now that women had to be seductive to win a man's love. "Mom, I remember that don't you like women in skimpy clothes?" Addy always dressed up like a woman living in countryside. She wished she could dress up one day, but Eva was conservative. Therefore, she never put on makeup just to please Eva. "Looks like times have changed. I also need to change. Halbert will never fall in love with you if you stay that way for the rest of your life. I can find someone to help you dress up tomorrow. I bet you are pretty than those women." Grandma Eva was really angry. She was confused that why her son never fall in love with Abby, who was pretty in her eyes. Grandma Eva thought to herself, "It is those bitches who make a mess here. What I believed for so many years turned out to be wrong?"

After dinner, Grandma Eva called Allison and told her to come over tomorrow and take Addy to get dressed up. Grandma Eva and Abby were definitely not good at this, so they could only ask Allison for help.

Halbert went out for shopping and he bought some snacks that Cathy liked when he returned. As soon as he entered the living room, he saw a woman with curly hair sitting on the sofa. She wore a black cheongsam and looked a bit like Cathy from the back. However, her hairstyle was nothing compared to that of Cathy.

Halbert only looked at that woman's back. He didn't know where his mother found this woman. He didn't want to have much to do with his mother, so he walked upstairs. "Halbert." That woman called Halbert when she saw him. Halbert turned around to look at that woman.

She just got her hair done, and it didn't look natural. She also wore makeup on her face. That woman looked familiar to Halbert, but he couldn't remember who this woman was.

"Who are you?" Halbert looked at that woman.

"Halbert, I'm Addy. How do I look?" Addy spun around in front of Halbert.

Actually, Addy was good-looking. Otherwise, Grandma Eva and Grandpa John wouldn't choose her as their daughter-in-law.

However, she was in her fifties and gained some weight. She had love handles and looked like a bucket in skirt. She looked very funny.

"Are you Addy? Why are you dressed like this?" Halbert was frightened.

Addy was like a bumpkin, but Halbert was used to her look now. Halbert hated her even more when he saw Addy dress up in this way.

"Mom said that men like beautiful women, so she asked me to dress up. How do I look?" Addy had never worn a cheongsam before, nor had she ever had her hair permed. She felt that she looked like Cathy now.

Cathy also liked to wear cheongsam the most. She also had curly hair, but Addy did not notice that Cathy was in good shape.

As for Addy, she didn't have a nice body like Cathy.

"I think I like who you were before." Halbert then hurriedly left. He was afraid that he would burst into laughter in a while because Addy looked really funny.

Addy discovered that Halbert was still unwilling to be with her even if she became beautiful. She didn't know what went gone wrong with her.

"How is it? What did Halbert say?" Grandma Eva just walked out of Grandpa John's study. She didn't hear anything in that room, which was very soundproof.

"Mom, I think I am beautiful now, but Halbert still wants me to be who I was before. Maybe he doesn't want me to be as pretty as Cathy." Addy thought that Halbert didn't like her dress up because that would make her prettier than Cathy.

"No, I don't think so. Perhaps he hasn't got used to your new look. He will know how beautiful you are one day. We bought a lot of clothes today. Allison picked them and she's got a good taste. You need to put on your new clothes from time to time and wear them in front of Halbert. He will eventually realize how beautiful you are." Grandma Eva spent a few thousand today, and that was a lot of money for her.

Allison didn't want to be with them anymore. She could only pick up clothes that were a few hundred.

Allison didn't know how to choose as she had never worn such cheap clothes before.

But Grandma Eva thought that she bought the best clothes. When they were at the market, the clothes she bought were only a few dozen each!

Allison returned home and saw her mother lying on the sofa alone. She closed her eyes and didn't move at all. Allison thought that Tracy was dead, so she hurriedly walked over and knelt beside Tracy, calling her name.

"Mom, Mom, what's wrong with you? Don't scare me. Mom, Mom." Allison shouted.

Tracy slowly opened her eyes. She smiled when she saw her daughter's anxious look, "Allison, I was just tired and sleeping. Don't worry, I am okay." Tracy touched Allison's face. "Mom, I am scared. You can't die. What can I do if you die?" Allison lay on Tracy and put her head on Tracy's leg.

"My baby girl, I will not die until I get a handle on everything. Don't worry." Tracy comforted

Allison. Chapter 200 A Car Accident

Richard and Amy went back to their villa and lived a peaceful life, leaving the other Carters behind who wouldn't change their mind and wanted nothing good for the couple anyway.

"Amy, buy something for dad and something good. And you can go there first. I'll join you after work."

Richard walked to Amy's office and said to her.

"Alright, I am planning on buying him some clothes. I'll skip work then and take him shopping this afternoon." Amy replied. Today was Stephen's birthday. Amy had been occupied with too many things lately and had no time to pay him a visit. She couldn't miss this chance today.

After the heart surgery, Stephen recovered very well and had been living a full life. He ran in the morning, took a walk in the park and practiced Tai Chi every day. He was quite busy and got healthier.

When Amy called him for the shopping, he refused right away but agreed later because Amy was very persistent. Moreover, he thought it was a good thing that Amy cared about him.

Stephen prepared for the dinner first thing in the morning. He bought everything he needed and put the stew on the burner.

As soon as Amy entered the house, she smelled the stew. "Dad, what are you stewing? It smells good."

Amy sniffled.

"Your favorite. Small intestine. I'm simmering it over low heat. It'll be just perfect by dinner." Stephen pointed at the crockpot and said to Amy.

"Wow, I miss your cooking. Dad, I love you. You always remember what I love to eat, but I haven't done much for you." Amy felt like crying as she spoke. Ever since her mother left, Stephen had been both a father and a mother to her. And the years had wrinkled his face.

"Silly, don't be sad. I'm only fifty, not very old. I haven't even been a grandfather. You two can start working on it." Stephen patted Amy on the shoulder.

"Okay, sure." Amy nodded. She turned around and wiped away her tears while Stephen wasn't looking.

"Let's go, Dad. We're going shopping for a long time. You have to be prepared." Amy turned to Stephen, looking lively again.

Stephen looked at his daughter, feeling sorrowful. Though she was born a business talent, Stephen wanted for her a simpler and more peaceful life.

The father and daughter arrived at the mall. Amy wanted to buy some clothes for her father. His clothes were all a bit old, but he didn't want to throw away any of them. Amy knew that Stephen didn't want her to spend too much on him. But how could she not? It had cost Stephen too much to raise her up, she was just repaying him, now that she was capable.

"This is so expensive." Stephen looked at the five-figure price and didn't really want it.

"Dad, you're already fifty. Carpe diem! This T-shirt looks nice on you, so does this pair of trousers, I'll take them both." Amy had the salesman cut off the tags.

"Alright, but I'd better take them off. I have to cook later." Stephen's heart ached in such expensive clothes.

"Plenty of time till then. Keep them on. You can change at home."

Stephen was a handsome man, and now even more handsome in his new clothes.

"Dad, let's go buy you a pair of shoes. Those on your feet look worn-out." Amy looked at his shoes which were out of shape.

"Alright, let's go buy shoes." Stephen wanted Amy happy and no longer said no. In any case, she wouldn't give up on the shoes now with all the clothes.

Except for the clothes on Stephen, Amy bought some more. Stephen couldn't bear to see her pay the bill.

Although he knew that the Carter family was rich, Stephen didn't want Amy to live on them. They might use it against her.

"Dad, it's alright. These are my money, my salary. Not theirs." Amy read his mind and explained.

After they finished shopping, they walked out together. Remembering two seasonings that they hadn't bought, Stephen wanted to go to the supermarket not far away to have a look.

Arm in arm, they walked towards the supermarket while talking and laughing.

All the while, a black car that had been waiting at the door drove out and followed Amy and Stephen.

Suddenly, Amy seemed to see a man and a woman walking ahead. The man was very caring to the woman. His arms were around her waist and she was leaning on his shoulder. The man was in the same outfit that Richard wore this morning.

Just as Amy was staring blankly, the woman spoke.

"Richard, I want to buy something in the supermarket." With that, she inadvertently took a glance back.

It was Allison.

The man did not look back but touched Allison's belly, looking very concerned.

Allison laughed happily.

The car behind them had accelerated towards Amy. But Amy was numbed by what she saw. How could he ask for her trust and do such things behind her back?

Amy's eyes were wet. Stephen noticed it but didn't have the time to find out why. He saw the black car was at a high speed and was about to hit Amy.

There was no time to think. Stephen pushed Amy away before he was knocked over and flew meters away. The car was almost red with all the blood.

"Dad, Dad." Amy finally came to her senses and rushed over.

Stephen was lying in blood, which kept flowing out. He struggled to open his eyes and raise his hand to touch Amy's face, as if ready to say something.

However, the car had no intention of leaving. Although the windshield of the car was covered in Stephen's blood, the car accelerated again towards Amy. _____
