

Come on Daddy!

Chapter 201 I Want to Have a Sister First

In this broad daylight, at first, Rose was a little nervous and kiss Bright cautiously. She could not completely relax and devoted herself to the kiss. However, Bright refused to let her go and conquered her with his superior kissing skills, letting her feel that they were the only ones left in the world.

"No wonder mommy snuck out to see daddy. So you just want to kiss daddy."

Just when they were kissing, Doris appeared from somewhere and looked at them with a naughty smile.

Rose pushed Bright away when she heard Doris' voice and was a little embarrassed. She reached out to lifted the hair on her cheeks behind her burning ears.

"Mom, you're blushing." Doris looked at Rose who blushed, "Dad, you guys go on. I will not look at you."

Doris immediately closed her eyes, covered her little face with her hands, and turned around.

"What nonsense are you talking about?" Rose scolded her daughter lightly.

Bright pulled her lightly, then walked towards Doris and pulled down her little hands, "Do you miss Daddy? "

"Yes." Doris nodded heavily.

"How do you miss me?" Bright lightly rubbed her nose with his finger.

"Here, here, and here all miss you..." Doris pointed at her head, her eyes, and her chest.

"Can you miss me with your eyes too?" Bright was confused.

"I haven't seen daddy for a long time. So, I want to see daddy." Doris was so cute and could say such amusing words.

"I see." Bright reached out and picked up Doris in his arms, "Daddy has good news for you. Daddy won't leave right now this time. I'll stay with you until Mommy's work here is done. Let's go back to Daddy's house together."

"Really?" Doris was overjoyed and wrapped her thin arms around Bright's neck.

Bright winked at Rose, "See what you have to pack. Then we'll take Doris home."

"Okay." Rose went back to the Linder family's villa to get her bag, took some clothes for Doris, and left.

Rose and Doris got into Bright's car and they went to the Asgard Lake Community together.

As soon as Doris entered the door, she ran through the foyer to the living room and looked at her mommy and daddy, thinking this was the home she wanted.

"Daddy, is this your house?" Doris looked around and familiarized herself with this new house.

"This is our house in City H." Bright corrected, "We will stay here for a while before we move to Dad's house in City J. This is also your house from now on."

Doris understood as Bright took her hand, "Come on. Daddy will show you your room."

"Great!" Doris followed Bright in the direction of the stairs while turning back to Rose, "Mommy, come along."

Seeing Doris was so happy, Rose was also happy.

They went upstairs and walked to the second room. Bright encouraged Doris, "Baby, go open your room yourself."

Doris glanced at Rose behind her, who gave her an encouraging smile.

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More
Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves
Doris carefully twisted the door handle and opened the door slowly. A world of pink and white appeared in front of her.

"Wow, it's so beautiful." Doris pushed the door open and walked in.

She began to look at the room with her big beautiful eyes. The white floor tiles were shining. The walls were painted pink. The floor was covered with a large pink carpet, with pink stools on it.

What amazed Doris most was that her bed was a castle style bunk bed against the wall. On the right, there was a staircase to climb up. On the left, there was a slide where she could slide down. She was the princess who would live in the castle.

Besides, her desk, bookcase, and closet were also castle style, which were very beautiful and shocked her.

The bay window was designed as tatami with pink and white pillows on it. Doris could sit on it and read or lie on it. The pink and white window screens rose and fell gently with the wind.

A corner of the room was designed as a home for her toys, with pink dolls and her favorite panda doll. The black and white panda was eye-catching in these pink dolls.

This room was really big and beautiful.

"Do you like it? Let me know if you don't like anything, and I'll let someone transform it." Bright asked her.

"Yes, I like it. It's several times bigger than my room in City Y. It's so beautiful, I feel like a princess." Doris especially liked the bed which was like a castle.

She could wake up in this bed every day. It was like a dream.

"You're our little princess." Bright squatted down.

Doris hugged him and kissed him on the face, her eyes shining brightly, "It feels so good to have a daddy!"

"It also feels good to have a daughter to call me daddy." Bright felt that Doris was like his own daughter. There was no barrier between them.

Doris ran towards the castle bed and then sat on it and felt it.

Bright slowly stood up. Rose stepped forward and naturally took his arm, "Thank you for loving her so much."

"She is my daughter. Who else can I love besides her?" Bright looked down at her, "Are you being over polite to me?"

"No." Rose smiled and shook her head, "Doris is so happy because of you. I used to think that if I could give her all my love, then she wouldn't want a father. But I was proven wrong. I could give her just what I could give her. But what she wanted wasn't necessarily what I could give her. Now that you've given her what she wanted, I just want to say it's nice to meet you."

"It's all in the past. I'll be your haven from now on." Bright took her hand and said.

Doris started to climb the stairs on the right and slide down the left again.

"Daddy, this is a bunk bed. Should I sleep on the upper berth or lower berth?" Doris ran to Bright.

"Do as you please." Bright stroked her head.

"Now that I am the only baby in this house, then I will sleep on the lower berth now. When I have a brother or sister later, I will sleep on the upper berth and let my brother or sister sleep on the lower berth." Doris made the decision.

"How will you have younger brother or sister?" Rose frowned.

"Since Daddy and Mommy are married, you of course will have babies." Doris hugged Rose's waist and pressed her face to her belly, "Don't worry. I agree that you have a little baby. But I want a sister first. It's up to you two whether you want to have a son or not." _____

Chapter 202 Can We Have a Child If We Are Serious?

Rose looked at the cute little girl who was pampered in her arms. Doris was serious. Although she was young, she was clever.

Rose stretched out her right index finger and lightly pushed on Doris' forehead, "What does a little kid know?"

"Mommy, I'm not young. I'm five years old and going to be in elementary school next year. I know a lot." Doris raised her eyebrows, looking like she knew everything.

"Yes, you know a lot. But this thing..." Rose was interrupted by Bright. He reached out and took Rose's hand, "We'll listen to our daughter in this matter."

Rose elbowed Bright's waist, "What are you talking about? She's just a child."

"I'm a child. But you also have to respect child. Because I'm a member of this family." Doris felt neglected, "I have rights too."

"I want a sister anyway. Why don't we have a family meeting and vote by a show of hands?" Doris reached out to tug at Bright's coat, "Daddy, you have to be fair. You can't listen to Mom just because you like her. It's not fair to me."

"Silly girl. What nonsense are you talking about?" Bright looked at the displeased Doris, "I love mommy the most. But mommy loves Doris the most. So, I love you the most too."

"Can you tell Daddy why you only like sisters?"

"Because my sister will be as cute and smart as me. She will also be a girl. But younger brothers are mostly disobedient and very naughty. I don't want to worry about him." Doris said her thought.

"Then we'll vote now. I want a sister." Doris was the first to raise her hand and cast a vote.

"I vote for Doris." Bright took Doris' side.

Rose looked at the two people who were going to get into trouble and spoke to Doris, "Doris, listen, this is not something that can be decided so hastily. A boy or a girl is all a life. It's not as simple as buying cabbage at the market."

"We have to be responsible for this life. So, we have to think carefully before we decide it. I will discuss this matter with your daddy later."

Doris did not fully understand, but nodded obediently.

"Well, then you play here. I'll go talk to Daddy about something." Rose then gave a wink to Bright and told him to follow her out.

Bright then left the children's room with Rose and went to their bedroom.

Rose took a deep breath, "You want a baby?"

"You don't?" Bright asked in reply.

"I just don't think this is the best time to have another baby. I have a lot of things to do." Rose made an excuse, "And I have no intention of having another child right now."

"For me, Doris is enough."

She didn't want to lie to him. So, she spoke frankly. She was selfish and couldn't tell Bright that Doris was his child too and that it was enough for them to have her.

"If you can't accept that, you can reconsider our relationship. After all, there is still some time before our marriage is over. The contract is still valid now." Rose endured the tinge of pain inside and said such words.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

"Why would you say something like this?" Bright felt Rose had misunderstood him, "I am not one to say one thing and do another. I do love Doris as my own daughter. Otherwise, I would not have admitted last time at the Lee family's villa that Doris was my child."

"To be honest, I do want a child. Because I have promised my dad that I would give him a grandchild, so that he wouldn't let me have a paternity test with Doris. You know about it too." Bright's Adam's apple moved, "And the time limit was six months."

"And I know you have a lot of things to do. I'm all for it. If you don't want a child now, we cannot make plans for it now. I can figure out another way to talk to my dad. If you never want a child, then we can do it. But I hope you can understand me and not say such harsh words."

"Not only will it hurt you, it will hurt me too."

Rose just looked down, not daring to look at Bright.

Bright reached out to support her shoulders, "Rose, unless you die, I will never let you go."

Rose's eyelashes trembled lightly a few times, "Bright, I am not worthy of you."

She cheated on him and hid something from him... But he was so protective and considerate of her. How could she face him?

She felt that her liking for Bright was far less than his liking for her, and that she had not given him nearly as much as he had done for her.

"I'll decide if you are worthy. If I think you are worthy, then you do."

Bright took her into his arms, resting his chin lightly on the top of her head, "Just remember that whatever you do, you have me, your husband, behind you. So, go forward bravely. Do what you have to do and don't be soft-hearted. Give them back tit for tat."

"OK." Rose reached out and hugged him tightly, "Bright, if ... I mean if you find out one day that I have lied to you, what will you do?"

"Lie to me?" Bright touched her delicate eyebrows, "Rose, you'd better not lie to me. I don't know what I will do. If you do lie to me, then I'll give you a chance to tell me now and I can let it go."

"So, you have lied to me? You look guilty now."

"I am not guilty." Rose tried to calm herself down, "It is you who lied to me. We have agreed to divorce and be strangers after three years. Unexpectedly, we're going to live a lifetime now. Who do you think is the liar?"

"Alright, I lied to you." Bright nodded in agreement, "So, how does Mrs. Lee want to punish me? It is better to be corporal punishment. I'll accept it willingly."

His eyes, however, fell on the large bed not far away. What he meant was very obvious.

Rose pretended to know nothing and lifted her wrist to check the time, "It's almost six o'clock. I'll go make dinner."

"I've asked the part-time maid to make dinner. So, you don't have to worry about it." Bright pulled Rose back who was hastening to leave.

"Then I'll go and see if it's ready, and give a hand." Rose pulled his hand down, "It is time for Doris to have dinner too. Please tell her to have dinner."

"Yes, honey." Bright pulled her into his arms and kissed her before releasing her as she wished.

Rose, who was shy, glared at Bright who had been up to mischief, "You are not serious."

"Can we have a baby if I am serious?" Bright replied and was poker-faced.

"Talk to the hand." Rose then ran away._

Chapter 203 Comfort Your Own Husband

It was the day when the Kindergarten held parent-child activity. Doris was very excited. She got up at 6:00 in the morning. Bright also got up early because he needed to do exercise in the morning. However, Rose got up at 7:00 in the morning because she was still drowsy. Doris and Rose found out the clothes used for parent-child activities and put them on. Bright went downstairs after taking a shower. He wore a white T-shirt with a black casual jacket. Although he didn't wear a suit, he looked relaxed and fashionable. However, when he went to the kitchen and saw that Doris and Rose, who were having breakfast, were wearing the same parent-child clothes, he felt that he was different from them. "Daddy, you look so handsome. But why don't you wear the same clothes as ours?" Doris looked at him and asked, with disappointment in her eyes, "I don't think we look like a real family if we don't wear the same clothes." Bright sat down and said to Rose, "You should tell me to wear parent-child clothes. Do you want to make me a fool in front of my daughter?" "No, I don't." Rose felt sorry and said, "It was because..." "Give me the same parent-child clothes." Bright asked her. Rose stopped eating porridge. She felt sorry and didn't dare to see him. She said, "These are the parent-child clothes we bought before. I only bought them for Doris and me at the time, so there is none for you..." Rose didn't dare to see him, because she felt he was angry. Bright didn't say anything again. He took a bowl of porridge and started having breakfast.

She knew that he was angry, but she didn't know how to comfort him. If she encountered this situation, she would also be angry. It wasn't the weekend today, and he just started his work in City H. For the further development of HY Group, he had a lot of pressure and a lot of work. However, he handled all the important tasks first, put other tasks aside, and changed the schedule for the parent-child activity today. He was glad because he could join the parent-child activity for Doris and made her feel happier. However, he didn't think that she wouldn't prepare the parent-child clothes for him. So he felt bad.

Rose had been busy with the design of the Beach Hotel during this period. She also forgot to buy him parent-child clothes. This was indeed her fault.

"Doris, why didn't you remind me to buy parent-child clothes for your dad?" Rose asked Doris.

Doris said, "Dad never joined the parent-child activity with me before, so I also forgot it."

She used to join the parent-child activity with her mom before, so she didn't realize that they needed to buy new parent-child clothes for her dad this time.

"Besides, don't you always prepare the clothes? How can you blame me for this?" Doris said and bit her spoon.

Dad never joined the parent-child activity with her, so she certainly couldn't think that they should buy him new parent-child clothes.

Rose didn't know what to say, so she looked at Bright secretly.

Bright was having breakfast, and he obviously looked angry.

Rose whispered to Doris, "Your daddy is angry."

Doris said, "I know."

"Then you should comfort him. You are his baby, and he loves you so much. I think he will listen to you." Rose asked Doris to comfort Bright. She really felt that Bright was angry, which made her feel a bit scared. So she didn't dare to talk with him, and she had to ask Doris to comfort him.

Because Bright wouldn't be mad at Doris even though he was angry.

"Why me? Mom, he is your husband, you should comfort him as his wife." Doris looked at Bright secretly and said, "You are his wife, so I think you should comfort him."

Doris finished breakfast and said, "Dad, mom, I am full. I will wait for you in the living room."

And she slid off the chair flexibly and ran away.

Rose looked at her and couldn't say anything.

She didn't dare to leave, so she had to stay here and pretend to keep having breakfast.

"How about peeling an egg for you?" Rose took up an egg and then peeled it.

Bright didn't answer her and kept having breakfast.

When Rose wanted to put the egg onto his plate, he stood up and said, "I am full."

"Don't you want to eat an egg?" Rose also stood up and stopped him from getting away.

"No, thanks." Bright looked at Rose and said, "You are so thin, so you should eat more."

"I know you are angry." Rose didn't let him go. She put down the egg and then held the corner of his clothes with her hands and said, "It's my fault. I should remember to buy you the same parent-child clothes. But I have been busy these days, so I forgot. Please forgive me."

"No way. It's serious." Bright held her hands and looked at her seriously, "We need to join the parent-child activity today, and the kindergarten requires us to wear parent-child clothes. Doris and you wear the same. However, as her dad, I don't have the same clothes. I don't think it is right."

"If they know who I am, they will think that I do it on purpose, and I don't want to join the activity at all. Certainly, I don't care about it. However, it is important to Doris. If she hears something bad from others, she might be sad."

"Rose, you should know it is serious."

Rose didn't know what to say again.

"Yes, I know it's serious. But what should we do now? It is still early that the clothing stores have not opened yet. We all have white shirts and black pants. I think we can wear white shirts and black pants uniformly. What do you think?" This was the only way she could figure out.

His cell phone rang at that moment, and when he heard the words from the other end of the call, he knitted his brows slightly and said, "Okay, I'll be right there."

He hung up and was ready to leave. Rose followed him and asked, "Where are you going?"

Chapter 204 Your Dad Will Keep His Promise

Bright didn't turn back. He was in a hurry and answered, "I have to deal with something urgent now."

"Bright, what about the activity? You have promised Doris and said that you will join the activity with her. This is the first time you join the parent-child activity with her. You can't go back on your words because you are angry with me." Rose didn't want to disappoint Doris.

Doris was so happy because her dad could join the activity together with her. She hoped that she could also have a dad like any other kids; she hoped that she could have a dad who loved her so much. So Rose didn't want to make her sad because her dad couldn't join the activity because of work.

"It's my fault. Please don't be mad at Doris." She said to him.

Bright signed when he saw that her eyes turned red. He touched her eyes and said, "I certainly will join the activity with Doris. I just need to do something urgent now. And I will join the activity as soon as I finish it. OK?"

"Don't cry. Doris would think that I am bullying you. Do you want to make her get me wrong?"

Rose said quickly, "I don't mean that."

"Then show me a smile." Bright said to her with a smile.

And Rose also smiled.

"That's good. Don't cry in front of Doris." Bright held her hands and said, "You should go to find Doris now."

"How long will it take to handle your work?" Rose was worried that he couldn't join the activity on time.

Bright checked the time on his watch and said, "Up to two hours. I will come as soon as possible. Don't worry."

"What happened on earth? Why do you need to handle it right now?"

Rose kept asking him.

"It's really urgent, so I have to handle it right now." Bright had no choice, "I must go now..."

"Well, I got it. Please remember to join the activity as soon as possible."

Rose took more into consideration the child's feelings, "Or she will be sad."

"I know." Bright nodded and then went to the living room together with Rose.

Doris stood up from the sofa when she saw them and said, "Dad, mom, shall we go now?"

"Yes." Rose said.

"Let's go, sweetheart." Bright held her in his arms and went out of the house.

After getting in the car, Bright drove them to the kindergarten by himself.

They needed to gather at the kindergarten at 8 o'clock, and then took a bus to the suburban farm for the parent-child activity. For children, this was a process of learning and growth. It also allowed parents to have the opportunity to accompany their children to enjoy time and learn knowledge, and made their parent-child relationship closer.

Rose got off the car with Doris, but Bright didn't get off the car. Doris looked at Bright in puzzlement and asked, "Dad, why don't you go with us?"

"Dear, please go to the suburban farm with your mom by taking the bus first. I will go to buy parent-child clothes for us now. And I will go to the suburban farm to join the activity with you as soon as I buy the clothes. OK?" Bright had to lie to her so that she wouldn't feel disappointed or sad.

"Well, we will wait for you on the suburban farm." Doris didn't doubt him, "Dad, you must pay attention to safety when driving."

"OK. And you also need to follow your mom's order." Bright gave them a wave and then drove away.

After he left, Rose went into the Kindergarten with Doris.

When they went into Kindergarten, a teacher said to the parents, "Please take your children to the playground to line up according to your class. We are about to set off."

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

"Our class is there." Doris rushed to the class with Rose and said, "I see Wyatt."

They joined the class and then lined up. Wyatt and his dad stood in front of them.

When Wyatt saw Doris, he immediately let go of Matthew's hand and went towards Doris and said to her, "Doris, Aunt Rose. We have been waiting for you for a long time. I was really afraid you wouldn't join the activity."

"You are such a fool. It is so funny in the parent-child activity, so I certainly will join it." Doris lightly tapped his forehead.

And Wyatt touched his forehead and smiled, "That's good."

"I certainly will join it." Doris said again.

"Don't you dad join the activity together with you? Why doesn't he come here?" Wyatt noticed that Doris came to the Kindergarten with his mom when they arrived at the playground.

"It's none of your business." Doris said, "My dad will join the activity later."

"Well." Wyatt nodded and then said to Matthew, "Dad, could you come with me? I want to line up behind Doris, so that I can talk with her."

Matthew had to follow him and lined up behind Doris and Rose.

"Hi, Matthew." Rose greeted first. Although she was Bright's wife, she had to respect him because he was her higher-up.

Matthew nodded and said, "Why doesn't Mr. Bright join the activity with you?"

"He has something urgent, so he needs to handle it first. And he will join the activity in the suburban farm later." Rose told him the truth.

"Well." Matthew and Wyatt wore a white shirt with green sleeves and green pants, with a green dinosaur on the shirt and pants.

Wyatt liked dinosaurs, so he had many clothes with dinosaurs.

Then, under the leadership of the teachers, the parents and children of each class got on the bus one after another.

The car was driven smoothly all the way to a farm in the suburbs.

It lasted fifty minutes on the way. When they arrived at the farm, they had a rest. The parent-child activity would start at 9:30.

As the activity was about to begin, Doris felt a little nervous. She held Rose's hand and said, "Mom, will Dad come?"

"Yes, he will. He will keep his promise. He will do it because he has promised you. We should trust him." Rose was also a bit anxious, but she had to calm down and comfort Doris.

Doris trusted her and said, "OK, we should trust dad."

At 9:20, the teachers wanted to select two group leaders among the children. One was a girl and the other one was a boy.

Doris raised her hand first and wanted to be a group leader.

And then the teachers asked her to be the group leader. Wyatt didn't dare to raise his hand, but he felt very happy because Doris had been chosen as one of the group leaders.

Doris was the group leader for the girls. After lining up, the parent-child activity started at 9:30.

The first game was the tug of war. The children were put into two groups with an average number of children. After the teachers counted to three, they would start to pull the rope with all of their strength.

Initially, the strength of these two groups is similar...

Chapter 205 No Father Makes You Ill-bred

Finally, the Doris group lost in the first round.

But there were three rounds in total, so they had two chances later.

Rose comforted Doris, "It's fine, dear. We can do better later."

"Well."

Finally, the group of Doris only won one round, so they lost. The other group won, and every child in the group got a little red flag.

Doris was a bit disappointed. Rose, Wyatt and Matthew comforted her.

It was normal to win or lose in games, and they had chances to get the red flag later in other games.

Doris forgot about it soon.

At this time, the teachers took them to visit the vegetable base of the farm, and let the children learn about all kinds of food and vegetables in life.

The teachers gave them a book and asked them to find out the vegetables according to the book, and then took pictures and sent the pictures to the WeChat group. If they finished the task, they could get two little red flags; otherwise, they could only get one little red flag.

And then Doris and Wyatt went to find out the vegetables, and Rose and Matthew followed them.

The first one was wax gourd. They could recognize it easily. And then they needed to find eggplant, tomato and so on.

"Mom, I learned so many vegetables. And I like all of them." Doris felt hungry when she saw tomatoes.

"Mom, I finally distinguish between leeks and wheat." Doris felt fulfilled.

"I also learned what green Chinese onion and garlic bolt are." Wyatt also said.

"Look, these vegetables are planted by farmers with hard work, so we shouldn't waste any grains and vegetables in the future."

"OK. I won't waste them in the future."

They took 40 minutes to finish the task of finding out the vegetables according to the book and taking pictures.

Doris was very happy when she got two little red flags.

The teachers asked them to play freely for ten minutes and then gather to prepare for the next game. It was a three-person leggings game.

Both Doris and Wyatt felt bored, because Doris had no dad and Wyatt had no mom when playing this game.

When they lived in City Y before, Aunt Jane would help them to play this game. Now, Aunt Jane was not here, so Wyatt didn't know how to play this game.

Rose poured the water from the kettle into the lid, and then handed it to Doris, "Drink some water."

Doris took over the lid with water and said, "Mom, I need to go."

"Me too." Wyatt always followed Doris no matter what she wanted to do.

Matthew and Rose sat there.

Matthew took a bottle of water and gave it to Rose, "Drink some water."

"No, thanks. I have water." Rose took out a bottle of purified water from her backpack and said, "You can keep it for Wyatt and yourself." Matthew took back the water and drank it by himself, and then he looked at Rose again.

Rose knew that he had something to talk about with her, so she said, "Matthew, what's wrong?"

"Will Mr. Bright come here later?" Matthew asked her about it again and looked at her, "It will be good if he can come to join the activity. If he can't join the activity on time, I think we can play the three-person leggings game together. Because every family needs three people for this game, we can help each other to play this game. Certainly, we just do it to make our children happy. I don't want to make them disappointed."

"I understand." Rose checked the time and she didn't make sure whether Bright would come to join the activity or not, so she answered, "Well, I also think we can help each other to play this game late, so that our children won't be disappointed."

When Doris came out of the toilet, she was surrounded by several children. The children said, "Doris, didn't you say that your dad would come to join this activity with you? Why doesn't he come here today?"

"My dad has something to do for now, and he will come here later."

"It's almost noon. I don't think he will come later."

"I heard that you don't have a dad at all."

"Nonsense! I have a dad. Wyatt knows him."

Wyatt nodded with agreement and said, "I saw her dad before, and he looked very handsome."

"Wyatt, she must lie to you. She has no dad at all."

"Yes. Doris, you told a lie. How can you have Wyatt lie, too?"

"We don't lie to you. We just tell you the truth."

"You are a liar!"

"No, we aren't."

"Doris, you have no dad, and Wyatt has no mom. How about asking your mom and his dad to play the three-person leggings game together?"

"You are so bad."

Doris was so angry and she walked towards to push the child who was the most arrogant.

And then the child fell down on the ground and started to cry, "Doris hit me! Doris hit me!"

She yelled while crying, and soon attracted many people's attention.

Some children went to tell Rose about it.

"What?" Rose quickly stood up and followed the child to see what was happening.

Matthew also hurriedly followed them. When he reached the toilet, he saw a bit chubby girl sitting on the ground and cried loudly.

"Oh, my sweetheart. Have you been hurt??"

One of the teachers got there and learned what had happened. And then she said to Doris, "Doris, it's impolite to push your classmate over. You should say sorry to Erica Read."

"I admit that I did push her, but I don't think I could push her over with my strength just now. She fell down on the ground on purpose. So I won't apologize to her." Doris said firmly.

"Ms., look, she is so impolite! She pushed Erica over and even argued with you. How can she do that?" Erica's mother was very angry, so she blamed Doris.

The teacher was also unsatisfied when Doris said so. She said to Doris again, "Doris, it's your fault because you push her first. So you must apologize to her."

"She said that I had no father, and that I was a liar. But I have father." Doris kept arguing with her.

"As expected, no father makes you ill-bred. Ms., as we all know, our family have donated so much money to the Kindergarten. I think you should dismiss a child like her, or she will have a bad impact on other children." Erica's mother said proudly.

"Well, I don't think you should talk so much like that." Erica's father held Erica in his arms.

Erica's mother dressed up with jewelry, and she even wore a ring with a big ruby on one of her fingers. It seemed that she showed off on purpose.

After hearing that, Rose walked forwards to protect Doris and said, "I am her mother. Please be polite to us."

"Why? Your daughter pushed Erica over first. Why should we be polite to you?" Erica's mother argued with her.

"I have dad. My dad will come here later because he has promised me." Doris said that again.

"Yes, I will come here because I have promised you." Among the crowds, Rose heard a familiar voice. And then she saw Bright walking under the sun when she looked back. ____

Chapter 206 No One Can Bully Them

Everyone, including Doris, Rose, Wyatt and Matthew, looked at Bright. At that time, most people were shocked because he looked so powerful.

"Dad." Doris broke free of Rose's hand and ran towards Bright happily, and then went into his arms, "You are finally here."

Bright held her in his arms and said to her kindly, "My sweetheart, I am so sorry, I am late and make you misunderstood by your classmates. It's my fault. Since I am here, I won't allow anyone to bully you for no reason."

"Dad, I know you are busy. I can understand you. But don't underestimate me. I won't allow anyone to bully me." Doris said strongly because she didn't want her parents to worry about her.

"My sweetheart, you are so tough." Bright held her hand and walked towards the crowds with her.

He wore white parent-child clothes with a panda pattern and black sleeves and black pants. It was the face of a panda on the front of the clothes and the back of the panda on the back of the clothes. It looked so cute. However, Bright still looked handsome and powerful by wearing it.

Since he looked so powerful, no one dared to look at him directly.

"Mr. Bright." Matthew greeted him with respect.

Some people weren't calm anymore when they saw Matthew respected him so much. As it was a private kindergarten for nobility, most people knew Matthew. So they had to think about who Bright was.

"Who said that my daughter had no father just now?" Bright looked around and then looked at the Read family.

It made Erica's mother tremble.

"Your daughter pushed my daughter over." Erica's mother said.

"Why did she push your daughter? I don't think she would push your daughter for any reason. So I want to know the reason why she pushed her." Bright said in a low voice, but it really sounded serious.

"Uncle, Doris pushed her because Erica said that Doris had no dad, and she even said that Doris and I were liars. She said we should ask my father and Doris' mother to play the three-person leggings game together because I have no mother and Doris has no father..." Wyatt explained it to Bright simply.

After Wyatt explained it, many people were surprised. Matthew was also angry, he said, "Mr. Read and Mrs. Read, how can you discipline your child in this way? I don't think she is better than my daughter, though she has a mother and father."

"Mr. Matthew, it was a mistake." Mr. Read said and then asked his daughter, who was crying in his arms, "Erica, did you say so?"

Erica frowned and then cried loudly again.

"Nonsense! I don't think my daughter would say that." Mrs. Read felt sad when she saw her daughter crying, "How can you bully a child like this?"

"What are you talking about?" Bright was more angry when he heard that, "They are my wife and my daughter, I, Bright Lee, won't allow anyone to bully them."

Bright Lee? Was it the Lee family in City J?

After hearing the name of Bright, Mr. Read was shocked.

Bright Lee was famous in the business circle, so everyone knew him, unless he or she was an ignorant person.

And Mrs. Read was such a person who was ignorant. She said, "I don't allow anyone to bully my daughter, either."

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

"Shut up." Mr. Read blamed her and then played up to Bright with a smile, "Mr. Bright, my daughter was impolite just now. I will discipline her later. Please forgive her."

"Why? Why should my daughter be bullied like that?" Bright looked at Doris kindly.

"I am so sorry for that. I will ask Erica to apologize to your daughter right now." Mr. Read said hurriedly.

And then he put his daughter down and said, "Dear, you shouldn't have talked to her like that. So you should apologize to her."

Erica shook her head and hid at the back of Mrs. Read, "No, I won't apologize to her... Mom, I don't want to apologize to her."

"His daughter pushed her first. Why should we need to apologize to them?" Mrs. Read argued with them for her daughter.

"It was because our daughter cursed them like that. So she must apologize." Mr. Read was so anxious.

"So what? At least my daughter didn't beat them. It's more serious because she pushed my daughter." Mrs. Read didn't agree with her husband, so she argued with him.

"Doris didn't beat her. She just pushed her shoulder lightly, and then Erica fell down on the ground by herself." Wyatt explained it again.

"You are just a child, I don't think what you say is credible." Mrs. Read snorted lightly.

"Your daughter is also a kid. I don't think what she says is credible, either." Matthew sneered and said, "Mrs. Read, you can't go too far."

"I think you guys go too far." Mrs. Read argued with them again while looking at Matthew and Bright.

"Since you think so, I may push harder." Bright looked cold, "It's your responsibility to educate your own kid as parents. I won't blame a kid. However, as her parents, you should take this responsibility."

"Mr. Read, I also think that you should pay some price, otherwise, you won't know how to educate your own kid well." Matthew couldn't stand her anymore, because she was so arrogant. So he needed to give her a lesson.

"What do you want to do?" Mrs. Read was a bit afraid now.

"Let's listen to the kids first." Rose wanted to know the truth first, "Ms., could you ask the kids whether Wyatt lied just now?"

"OK." The teacher was scared because of Bright and Matthew, she didn't dare to annoy them.

"Kids, listen to me. Can you tell whether Wyatt told us the truth just now? Please be brave and tell me the truth. I'll protect you." The teacher asked the children.

"Yes, Wyatt just told the truth. It's true that Erica curse Doris first." One kid raised his hand and said. And then some children agreed with him.

"Since Doris came to our Kindergarten, most of us liked playing with her. Erica thought that we didn't like playing with her because of Doris, so we didn't like her."

"When Doris came to our Kindergarten, she gave us signed photographs of Burningboys. However, Erica said that those photographs were fake, and she even threw them away." _____

Chapter 207 Send Her to a Better Kindergarten

"Erica fell down on the ground on purpose just now. Doris never bullied anyone in our Kindergarten."

"Erica didn't allow us to play with Doris, otherwise, she would be angry and curse us."

"Erica often bullies our classmates. And she said her father called Kairo and he was really wealthy."

"So most of us didn't like playing with her."

"..."

Most children started to tell the truth.

After the children complained, Mr. Read and Mrs. Read felt bad and embarrassed. However, Mrs. Read didn't think it was her daughter's fault.

"You guys... You guys all talked nonsense! Did Doris and Wyatt ask you to say that?" Mrs. Read was very angry and blamed the children.

"Mrs. Read, please calm down. You will scare the children." The teacher was dissatisfied.

"Mrs. Read, how can you accuse my child?"

"Most children said that it was your daughter's fault. Do you think all of them lied? I don't think so."

"You... You..." Mrs. Read was too angry to say anything, "You guys are too bad!"

"Shut up!" Mr. Read was angry and shook his head with resignation.

"They bully our daughter now!" Mrs. Read wanted to protect her own daughter.

"Shut up!" Mr. Read interrupted her with anger.

"If..." Mr. Read warned her, "If you dare to say anything again, I will divorce you!"

Mrs. Read was shocked for a while and then she said, "How can you say that? Why don't you try your best to protect our daughter? How can you divorce me? You bastard!"

"Yes, I am a bastard! But I don't want to be so poor like Timothy Fan!" Kairo didn't want to offend Bright, because he didn't want to get abject failure like Timothy.

Mrs. Read stopped crying at once and she was very shocked, "What... What are you talking about?"

Mr. Read didn't answer her. He walked closer to Bright and stood in front of Bright. However, he didn't dare to look at Bright and he felt scared because Bright really looked cold.

"Mr. Bright, I'm... I'm so sorry. It's our fault. Please forgive us." Mr. Read said with respect, "My daughter doesn't know anything, she's innocent. As a father, I think you can understand me. Please don't blame her."

"I think it's your responsibility because you didn't educate your child well." Bright was still angry and said, "She is a little kid, but she has been so snobbish. I think it will have a bad impact on other children. Since you love your daughter so much, I think you'd better send her to another better kindergarten."

However, this was the best Kindergarten in this city. If their daughter left this kindergarten because of this matter, they were afraid that she would be admitted to any other kindergartens.

But if they didn't do so, Bright wouldn't let them go.

Therefore, Mr. Read had to agree, "Fine, we'll leave here."

"I don't want to go to another kindergarten." Erica refused in whispers. Mrs. Read realized that Bright was probably a big shot, so she had to say to Erica, "Dear, if you don't want to go, you should apologize to Doris and ask for forgiveness. And then you can ask her to persuade her father."

Erica glanced at Doris. She said that she would never ask Doris for help. If she apologized to her in front of their classmates, she would be embarrassed, and no one would listen to her in the future.

"Only by doing this can you stay here."

Erica bit her lip and then walked towards Doris. Finally, she pinched her fingers with her head down and said, "Doris, I'm sorry. Please forgive me. Can you ask your father to let me stay here?"

Doris got down from her father's arms and looked at Erica who was standing in front of her and said, "Erica, I can forgive you for what you did. But you should ask our classmates whether they can forgive you."

"I can't forgive her. Because she bullied me and Doris." Wyatt said first.

"I can't forgive her, either. She bullied me before."

"We don't want to forgive her."

"Mr. Bright, please drive her away."

...

"Yes, she should go to another kindergarten, or she will bully our children."

Finally, all of the parents agreed with Bright and asked her to transfer to another kindergarten.

Obviously, Erica was indeed unwelcome in the class. And most children were unwilling to forgive her or accept her.

And then Erica started crying again...

"Mr. Read, as you can see, the children and their parents are unwilling to forgive her. I don't think your daughter should stay here anymore. So you'd better send her to another kindergarten, and it will be good for her. If she stays, she won't be happy."

"I think you will know what to do." They knew that no matter what they said, Bright wouldn't allow them to stay here. Bright continued, "Mr. Read, please think twice."

Mr. Read lowered his head, and Mrs. Read held Erica in her arms and felt upset like a loser.

Everyone was very satisfied with this result.

"Ms., it's time to play games."

"Yes, let's gather together."

Bright took off the backpack from his back and handed it to Rose and said, "There are clothes for you and Doris inside. Change it."

Rose took over the backpack and held Doris' hand, "Dear, let's go to change our clothes."

"Is it the same as that of my dad?" Doris asked while blinking at her beautiful eyes.

"Of course. We are family, right?" Bright touched her head gently, and he looked nice now.

In a word, no one dared to offend Bright because he was kind to his family while being merciless to his enemies.

"Dad, I love you." Doris held his hand and asked him to squat down, and then she kissed his face.

Bright smiled kindly, as if being bathed in warm sunshine.

The other parents and the Read family finally knew that Doris had dad and her dad was really powerful, and her dad could do everything for her and wouldn't allow anyone to bully her.

Those who had looked down on Doris or bullied her all felt ashamed.

"Doris, I am sorry. Because of Erica, I often bullied you before. But I won't do that again. Are you willing to make friends with me?"

A child apologized to Doris sincerely.

"Doris, I also want to apologize to you."

...

"Doris is my best friend. You guys can just be her ordinary friends."

Wyatt stood in front of them and said.

"Yes, you are my best friend." Doris laughed.

And then Doris and Rose went to change clothes. After they changed clothes, they stood together with Bright. And Doris liked the clothes with panda patterns most.

They looked so pretty. _____

Chapter 209 Is a Lifetime Enough?

After the parents-child party, Rose and Bright devoted themselves to their own jobs again.

The bid date of Beach Hotel invested by the Linder family and the Tanner family was approaching.

However, Rose not only needed to implement her own job, but also needed to pay attention to Sophie who colluded with Timothy to murder her. Of course, she would not let them off.

Sky was the one who Sophie cared most. The best way to take revenge on her was to let Sky see her shabby side and make her painful as Rose used to be.

No matter how busy she was, she would keep driving her daughter to and from school by herself, and without special circumstances, Bright would go with her.

As for household duties, they had employed an hourly employee to help them cook and do cleaning, which also reduced their burdens.

After dinner, they went for a walk with Doris.

Not until they put the kid to sleep, did they take a bath and lie on the bed comfortably.

Lit up by a lamp dimly glowing yellow, Bright held Rose in his arms and asked, "A penny for your thoughts."

"Nothing." Rose shook her head, not tending to let him know her plan.

"About Timothy and Sophie?" Bright had known her very well.

Rose froze when hearing that. She was so transparent in front of him.

"Hey! How could you know everything?" Rose was dissatisfied and turned her face towards Bright, "Can you leave me some places for privacy?"

"Your body has already been mine. What privacy do you need?" Bright snickered, with his eyes shining like a star in the dark.

"Damn!" Rose was ready to turn her back, "I am so tired. Good night."

However, Bright stopped her from turning and said, "As you said before, Sophie and Timothy would meet again. And if we tail after her during this time, we must gather evidence of her infidelity. Right?"

"It seems to be the best way by now." Rose had to admit.

"Let me do it! You just focus on your work." Bright held her tighter.

"You?" Rose's eyebrows twitched.

"What? Do not trust me? Or afraid that I have other purposes?" Bright looked at her face seriously.

"No. Aren't you busy either?" said Rose.

"No matter how busy I am, your business is just my business." Bright changed to lie on the bed and said, "I have had someone follow Sophie these days. Once she has any further action, I will be able to show you the evidence. As for how you are going to deal with it, it depends on you."

"I know you care about me, but this is my own feud with Sophie. I want to solve it by myself without your help." Rose understood he did this out of the goodness of his heart, but she did not want to accept it.

"I don't want myself to be over-dependent on you because your protection will prevent me from being stronger. I used to be naïve so that Sophie was able to hurt me. During these five years, I have experienced so much that I have got growing up and stronger than ever..."

"I am afraid that with your protection I will be soft again and I will look down upon myself like that. The real strength comes from personal growth. Hope you'll understand me."

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

Her eyebrows gradually knitted in a frown. She was afraid that one day she would fall down without his help. Once meeting such misfortune again, she could never stand up again.

Therefore, she did not want herself to be fully dependent on Bright and only in such way could she truly protect herself.

"Alright." Bright could understand her.

He turned to stare at her eyes, caressing her hair with a sense of pain and mercy.

"I have not done enough so that you can't feel 100% safe and put down the pains in mind." He smiled, "It will make me feel incapable."

Bright could handle anything except the sense of security she needed. It really frustrated him that he was not allowed to enter her world.

"Come on." Rose held his hand and became anxious, "You are excellent enough. Don't blame yourself. It's I that do not want to depend on others so much."

"I am different from others and I have been proving you such a truth." Bright sighed with resignation.

"I know you are different and I have never thought that you didn't do well, but I need more time." Rose admitted that she was still weak and scrupulous.

"No hurry. We have enough time. Is a lifetime enough?" Bright patted her frowned brows with his fingertip, trying to get her rid of trouble. He continued to say, "If not, we also have next lifetime and still the next."

"Great!" Rose took the initiative to hold his waist and nodded feelingly and thankfully.

Bright smiled and kissed her on her forehead, "Good night, honey."

Rose closed her eyes in his arms and Bright turned off the lamp.

Eventually, the bedroom plunged into darkness.

Bright handed over all about the private detective to Rose the next day she went to work and let her arrange and make decision by herself.

"If you need my help. Just feel free to tell me." Bright also reminded, "Safety is the priority. If you face any danger, don't do it yourself, or I won't forgive you."

"Okay. Got it." Rose behaved gently.

Until 2am, Rose got the text from the detective that 'Hi Mrs. Lee, Sophie has already gone out.'

'Follow her and don't lose her or be discovered, or it will be tougher in the future. This is just my personal concern and I truly trust your capability.' Rose replied immediately.

She had been waiting for such a long time, hoping that Sophie's further action could give her more powerful evidences.

'I will do it well.'

'Thanks for your hard work.'

A black limousine slowly drove out from the Tanner family's villa and the detective followed it in his car. The limousine stopped until it reached the famous maternity hospital.

Sophie got off from the limousine, wearing a pair of sunglasses, a hat and a pair of flat shoes. It would be awfully hard to recognize her if one was not familiar with her. _____

Chapter 210 Fight like Kilkenny Cats at the Worst

The limousine left after Sophie said something to the driver.

She was seen to walk straight to the VIP obstetrics clinic and entered for a check.

In the hospital she spent an hour finishing the production inspection, and then she left the hospital and took a taxi on her own.

The detective was still following her and later Sophie chose to get off at the side of the road.

She pulled down her hat and hurried over with her head down. Through several corners, she entered a remote alley, where existed a lot of cheap hotels.

She walked into a hotel called Luck Hotel. The hotel-keeper stopped her and looked her up and down who was wrapped up and asked, "Who are you looking for?"

She directly took out a pile of cash which was at least one thousand and placed it on the front desk and said, "I'll just go upstairs and talk with a friend for a while."

"O...Okay." The hotel-keeper was fully attracted by that pile of cash, which was equal to his income for half a month. "But please hurry up." Because her ID card was not recorded, the hotel-keeper was afraid that police would come to take a check. However, actually the police seldom came here.

"Okay," said Sophie. "If anyone asks you about me, just tell him nothing."

"Understand. 'I have never seen such person.'" The hotel-keeper was so smart.

"Thanks." She then went upstairs.

The hotel-keeper looked at the cash in hand, spread it out like a fan and flicked it with the back of his hand. Closed again, the cash was stuffed into his pocket.

Another man came in the moment the hotel-keeper hid the money. He threw an envelope on the desk and said, "Don't ask and speak."

Then the man closely followed Sophie's track. The hotel-keeper immediately opened the envelope as soon as the man disappeared in his sight. He was surprised and excited that there was money even more than the amount he got from Sophie.

He thought he had met the God of Wealth and tended to enjoy for a while.

He quickly prayed and thanked the god.

Sophie found the room 303 and knocked on the door twice each time, three in total. It seemed that she was inputting the password.

Subsequently, someone inside asked in a low voice, "Who is there?"

"It's me," said Sophie, with her voice changed on purpose.

Then the door was opened slightly. The person in the other side was so cautious that only an eye and a little part of the face could be seen. It could hardly be possible to recognize who he was. The door was then half-opened when Sophie was recognized. As soon as she got into the room, the door was closed. After taking several steps, Sophie hated this small place to death because it was even not as large as her bathroom. However, Timothy stepped forward and held her in his arms. He sniffed deeply at her neck and said, "I miss you so much."

Sophie was not only disgusted with his smell, but also hated to have physical contact with him, but she had no choice but to endure. "Let go of me. I have something to tell you," Sophie tried to catch his hand in order to avoid his touch. "No matter what you are going to say, let's have sex first." Timothy had missed her so much that he was not willing to let her go. "Wow! No one smells better than you." In no time he kissed her on her neck. Sophie struggled with her face twisting, "Don't mess around." "What?" Timothy was dissatisfied with her dodge and said, "You have already had sex with me. And now you are pretending to be an innocent woman here? Fuck!" "No." Sophie was aggrieved but she didn't dare to perform to be angry. "You are pushing too hard. I can't explain to him when I get back. It would be just like showing him those photos and videos. So are you trying to kill me or kill yourself? If my infidelity is discovered, you will suffer as well. Just listen to me if you want to get things from me." Timothy agreed with her. He was so abject that now he could only get money from her. Without her, he could hardly make a living. He released her, "See. I am just missing you so much." "I have to make it clear that this is our last meeting. Because the Tanner family is supervising me strictly, it is really hard for me to go outside." Sophie was not willing to see him anymore, so she made such an excuse. "Really? Don't lie to me." Timothy didn't believe, staring at her with doubt. "I have no reason to lie to you. Actually this is good for us, as we are in the same boat. Last time I have transferred one million to your account and it will be enough to spend for a while. If you have anything to tell, just call me and I will do whatever I can to help you," said Sophie. Timothy approached again, "I need woman now. Let's have sex! I promise not to push so hard."

"I am not capable today," said Sophie, sitting down on the bed.

Timothy sat down and pinned down Sophie when she was defenseless.

He blocked out the light above her, with shadow on her face.

"Let me take a try and I will know if you are capable." Timothy naturally thought she was making excuse and he was not that easy to cheat.

When Sophie saw his hand going downwards, her face turned pale and shouted, "Don't touch me!"

Sophie did not tend to tell him that her incapability was due to pregnancy but not menstruation.

"Bitch! Aren't you just unwilling to be fucked by me? Fine. If you don't accept, I can just reveal our secret. We 'll see." Timothy could feel her apparent unwillingness and became angry.

"You just need woman, right? I will get anyone as you like. As for our relationship, it has come to an end." Sophie took a deep breath, trying to calm down.

"Great!" Timothy let go of her hands and stood up, "Then don't blame me for sending these photos to Sky so he can enjoy your dirty look."

"Go ahead." Sophie slowly sat up and rubbed her wrists, "If Sky knows our scandal, at the worst I won't be his wife anymore, but I am still the daughter of the Linder family which can make sure I am fed and clothed for the rest of my life."

"What about you? You were just left with nothing by Bright and then you will be fixed by Sky and my parents, which will be much more miserable than now. Just go ahead if you want to taste such a consequence," said Sophie.

Sophie said with ease, with the corner of her lip raising, which showed that she was not afraid to be threatened by Timothy. _____

Chapter 211 Caught in the Act

Although Sophie pretended to be indifferent, she was actually terrified at the bottom of her heart because she was still handled by Timothy. Doing so was just to bet if Timothy would drag her down with him or he would be afraid of death.

If he was still greedy for life and money, she would have a little chance of winning because she was the only dependence of him.

Hearing that, Timothy was displeased inwardly, but he was trying to calm down to measure the benefits and harms he would get.

He had to admit that Sophie had got something right. Even though she was no longer the wife of Sky, she was still the daughter of the Linder family. As for himself, he would lose Sophie as his cash cow and become more wretched.

By that time, he would have nothing, and even lose his life.

Though he was fallen now, he could still get money from Sophie and enjoyed his life.

He was so young that he was unwilling to go to hell without enjoying enough, but he had to accept Sophie's offer.

"Are you threatening me?" Timothy knew that he had no way back, but he still wanted to struggle for a while.

"I am not threatening you. I am just telling the truth, which will be the worst result for us." Sophie said sincerely, "I mean, we can be partners now but not enemies planning to destroy each other. Rose is our common enemy. If it were not because of her, would you be like this and would I be grounded? She made us both like this."

Timothy gripped his fist, "It was you that let me do that, otherwise I won't be like this. I was destroyed by you, so you have to compensate me, or I will never let you off!"

Now he would not be silly as before and attribute all the bad things to Rose according to what Sophie said.

Exactly Rose couldn't get away with it, but now how could he be able to fight against her or even take revenge on her?

He was lucky enough to have his life left.

"I was also tricked by her." Sophie was so angry once thinking about this, but at this moment she had to pacify Timothy for fear that he would mess her up, "I am so sorry for your situation, but I have done my best to help you. You said you needed one million and I scraped up such amount of money by all means at once. For you, I have done whatever I can. If you really loved me as you said, you shouldn't have treated me like that."

Sophie appeared to be weak and poor, with her eyes turning red and tears streaming down, which could easily arise male's protectiveness. As expected, Timothy was moved and left his anger and hostility behind. "I have told you that I just missed you so much. Although I love you, you are still always staying with Sky and sleeping in his arms, but I can't even touch you. How could I calm down?"

He was not convinced, "If you were not acting like this, I wouldn't have asked for that one million. Anyway, you owe me that, you have to pay back with your body."

"So you disagree on our partnership and want to die together, right?"

Sophie could do anything to comfort him except by her own body, "If you are merely eager for woman, I can find one and let her serve you." Timothy didn't make any concession, thinking that she could not be let off easily, "Let's make a bargain. Today I just want you and I promise this will be the last time."

Sophie clenched her fist and then unclenched it. She was so conflicted, "How do I know if you are lying to me?"

Timothy swore, "I promise and you can only trust me."

Sophie had no choices and she knew that trading with a monster would pull her into the darkness and she would see no sunshine anymore.

Seeing that Sophie was silent, Timothy hugged her again, "Don't worry. I won't act as last time."

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

Timothy kissed on her soft face, while she could only grip her fist and close her eyes, bearing the pain again.

Timothy was satisfied with her compliance and pressed on her on the bed.

Sophie told herself on the sly that after today she would be free and didn't need to be threatened by him and conform to him.

At that moment, Sophie was just like a flower being attacked by storm.

The atmosphere in the room became cheerful and carnal.

After several pleasing sexes were over, Timothy was still insatiable and savoring the wonderful moment.

On the contrary, Sophie had begun to pick up and put on her clothes.

Suddenly, someone was knocking on the door, "Open the door! We are police. You are reported to be whoring."

"Who is there?" Timothy was frozen.

Sophie was more alert and was about to hide into the bathroom immediately without getting fully dressed. However, the police were not that patient and broke in the door. Unfortunately, Sophie and Timothy were caught red-handed.

Timothy was lying on the bed with his upper body bare and the lower covered by a quilt. Sophie was wearing her underclothes with her messy hair. On the floor there were tissues already used and the air was filled with the smell of semen after sex which was quite goatish.

Facing the police, their facial expression completely changed. They hastily covered themselves with an overcoat and the quilt.

Seeing such a scene, the police became serious, "Put on your clothes and come with us."

Sophie rushed into the bathroom and put on her clothes and the hat in a hurry.

Likewise, Timothy put on his clothes in a flash. At that moment, it could not be more embarrassing.

"Okay. Let's go," said the policeman.

Because of the arrest, Sophie almost broke down in panic.

She knew that she couldn't allow to be arrested. If so, her life would be completely destroyed without Timothy exposing those photos.

"Sir..." Sophie didn't know where to place her fingers.

The policeman looked at her coldly, "Go. If you have anything to say, keep it until you reach the police station."

She was trying to bribe the policeman, "Sir, could you please let us go this time? If you have any demand, I will do my best to satisfy."

The policeman became more serious, "Demand? Just be honest and don't play tricks. Hurry up."

Under the circumstances, Sophie had to take risks, "How much do you want to let us go? I promise I won't tell anybody." _____

Chapter 212 Let Me Go or I will Die Now

"Do you know what you are doing right now?" the policeman continued to say, "If you give money to state functionaries for illegitimate interests, you can be sentenced for bribery. Do you think charging you only for whoring is not enough? You want one more charge?"

The words of the policeman hit her mind heavily. He was so righteous that Sophie turned pale with fright.

Sophie pretended to be poor in the hope that she could be sympathized by the policeman, "I didn't mean that. I just beg you to let me go and I promise there won't be next time. Please..."

The policeman was indifferent, "Everyone is equal before the law and you won't be an exception. If you don't go, I will call someone to bring you there."

"No..." Sophie drew back instinctively, shook her head and refused to be arrested, "Let me go please. Please..."

Sophie was afraid to let Sky know, so she could only beg for mercy here.

"No way." The policeman spoke to colleagues behind him, "Take her away."

They came up to her. Sophie was still begging and she was close to tears.

However, no matter how she resisted, she would be arrested in the end. The unexpected thing was that she went down on her knees and kowtowed to the police. She said, "I beg you. I was forced to do so and I didn't want to. If I am arrested, my husband will know that and he won't forgive me and divorce me. Without him I would rather die... So please let me go for the sake of my family and I will appreciate that."

"You bitch!" shouted Timothy.

The policeman insisted, "No matter if you are willing or forced, clarify it in the police station." He was still unwilling to give her one more chance, "Take her away."

Actually the police were sympathetic, but they had met enough of such situation. Some were real, while others were fake. But anyway, it should be understood that if you had known such result, why you would still do that.

Sophie broke down seeing that the policeman was decisive to arrest her.

She pushed the police away and picked up a cup on the table. Dropped on the floor, the cup was smashed. The police found something wrong and picked up the fragments as soon as possible. However, Sophie got a piece and stuck it against an artery in her neck.

She glared at the police angrily, "If you don't let me go, I will just die here. Anyway, I will have no choices but to die once my husband knows that. Why not end here?"

All people were stunned. The chief policeman said, "Calm down. Don't hurt yourself. Put down the fragment and let us talk it over! Even though whoring is illegal, you will only be detained for a few months and charged for hundreds. We don't want to see tragedy happen."

"Unless you let me go, or I won't put it down." This was her only condition.

The chief policeman was frustrated and conflicted, "Okay. Please put it down first."

"Get out of the way. Let me out!" Sophie always grasped the fragment and kept it against her neck. She knew that her life was the only chance for her to escape.

"Sir. This woman is so cunning. If she wants to die, just let her die. Her existence will only pollute the air!" shouted Timothy. He couldn't imagine he was arrested alone, while Sophie was released.

"Shut up!" The policeman warned Timothy by his stern eyes.

Scared by the warning, Timothy lowered his head.

"Calm down. Think it over. If you lose your life, you will lose everything." The policeman was still trying to persuade Sophie.

"Cut the crap. Just get out of the way." The only thing that Sophie was thinking was how to escape away. As for what the policeman said, it was totally bullshit for her. She shouted, "If you don't do as told, just watch me die!"
All of a sudden, Sophie pierced the fragment into her skin and the blood was coming out.

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves
There was no way in the circumstances, only moving away. The policeman said, "Fine. We let you go."
Sophie looked at them in defense. Then she stepped forward slowly and carefully. Turning around several steps, she walked out the door backwards.

As soon as she went out, she rushed downstairs.
"Sir. Shall we catch her up?" asked a subordinate.
"It doesn't matter." The chief policeman glanced at Timothy, "We have got him. She couldn't escape as well. Take him away."
At present, Timothy had nothing to care about. Without face and money, he knew that the more obedient he was, the lighter the punishment would be.

He followed the police to the station with no protest and was ready to record a confession.
The policeman took out a notebook prepared, "Introduce yourself first."
"My name is Timothy Fan, and I am 35 years old..." Timothy confessed everything at the hotel, except that Sophie was forced by him but not willing to.

The policeman glanced at him with head up and asked, "Her name is Sophie Linder, right? Where is she from and where is she living?"
"She is from City H, lives in Lido Manor, 66 Lido Road. She is the daughter of the Linder family and the wife of Sky Tanner." Timothy confessed everything about Sophie, "I have told you everything I know."
The policeman asked again, "Were you both voluntary?"
"Of... Of course." Timothy smiled unnaturally, "Sir. There was no pecuniary exchange between us, so it should not be whoring, right?"
The policeman took a glance at him and continued to record, "We can't judge only according to your confession. Only when the lady's confession is the same as yours, will you be innocent."
"One more question, sir. Won't I get in the shit if she tells a lie that she was forced?" Timothy was afraid that Sophie would go against him. By that time, he would be convicted of rape rather than whoring. If he was convicted of rape, he would have to be in prison for the rest of his life, which would be many times worse than it was now.

His brow furrowed, resisting to be prisoned.

"You lost? More often than not, in such case the female will be the victim." The policeman shook his head reluctantly, thinking about what kind of man he was.

The policeman handed Timothy the completed statement, "Done. Please check it. If there is no problem, sign here."

Timothy took the paper and looked through the contents. He had found no problem, but he hesitated for a while when he saw that they were voluntary to have sex.

However, he firmly signed the statement, thinking that it didn't do him good to admit the charge of rape.

"You can leave until someone goes bail for you," said the policeman.

"Thanks." Timothy had already asked someone for help, but he was not sure that if that person would come. _____

Chapter 213 How Dares He!

Timothy looked at the time and waited anxiously.

Ten minutes later, a man with an upright figure stepped into the police station and asked the staff, who gave him the direction. The man looked over at Timothy, who was waving at him.

"Mark, here." Timothy was relieved to see Mark coming.

Mark also saw Timothy and strode to him, "What did you do? Why were you arrested in the police station?"

"I ... I'm fine. I just was framed." Timothy curled his lip, "Mark, thanks for coming here, or I would have had to spend the night in the police station."

Timothy pleaded with Mark on the phone. Apart from Mark, he really could not find anyone else to help him at the moment. Since his accident, his friends and women who usually played with him had kept him away like a virus. He could not rely on them at all.

But Mark was his cousin anyway. They were brothers. For the sake of their grandfather, Mark would come.

"You are framed?" Mark's gentle face was cold, "You don't know how many bad things you've done?"

"Mark, I really didn't do anything bad." Timothy was pitiful, afraid that Mark would not bail him out and leave him here, "Please hurry up and go through the formalities."

Mark sighed and then went through the formalities with the police. He also asked what happened by the way, only to learn that Timothy and Sophie were caught cheating in the hotel on the spot.

Mark was speechless. But he had come here and finally bailed Timothy out.

Although Timothy had nothing, he was a member of the Fan family. Mark had to help him for the sake of the Fan family's ancestors. But he didn't expect Timothy to do such a stupid thing again.

After leaving the police station, Mark said to Timothy, "What happened between you and Sophie?"

"She has slept with me because she was lonely. You know her husband almost died when he was sick back then. Even if he's healthy now, he's too weak to satisfy her." Timothy talked nonsense.

"You're not telling the truth, are you?" Mark was not someone who could be fooled easily, "Let me tell you, I came here today for the sake of grandfather, but only once. If you have anything later, do not call me. I will also pull you into the blacklist!"

"Mark, we're brothers. Are you really going to be so cruel to me?" Timothy got upset.

"I don't need to remind you of what your family did to me and Grandma once, do I?" Mark didn't want to bring up the past. But since Timothy said he was cruel, he would speak with truth.

Timothy's face changed unnaturally, "Mark, I know I'm wrong. Let's not bring up the past again."

Mark was exasperated at Timothy's failure to make good when he looked at Timothy who was no longer as proud as before.

"Timothy, it has only been a short time. Are you forgetting pain after recovery?" Mark could still remember Bright's cruel means. When he thought of it now, he came out in cold sweat.

In fact, as long as Timothy no longer caused trouble and lived a sober life, Mark would not completely ignore his family. At least, he could guarantee that they could have enough food, clothing and a place to live. However, Mark did not expect that Timothy had ended up in such a situation, but still did not learn a lesson and became a worse bastard.

"You have no other skills but to dally with women. Now, you even have an affair with Sophie, Sky's wife. How dare you!"

"Don't think that the Tanner family is to be trifled with. The Tanner family is one of the top six families in City H. Have you ever thought about the consequences of having an affair with Sophie? Will Sky let you go when he knows? Will the Linder family let you go when they know? You're just courting death!"

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!
Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves
Listening to Mark's analysis, Timothy was so scared that his face turned pale. He stammered, "Mark, you ... you have to help me..."

"You have done such a stupid thing. How can I help you? Do you want me to help you at the expense of the whole Fan family? I'm telling you, it's not worth it for you!" Mark was completely disappointed in Timothy, "So I can't help you!"

Timothy felt his legs weaken and knelt down in front of Mark, grabbing his pant, "Mark, please help me. I'm your brother. If grandfather were still alive, he wouldn't have allowed you to stand by like this. If you help me this time, I will never do anything wrong again. I will do everything you say. Please! Otherwise, I will be dead!"

Now, Timothy realized what situation he was in and what he would face. He was really scared. He still wanted to keep his life and be happy till he grew old.

"I said I can't help you. I can't let the Fan family be in danger again because of you." Mark indifferently looked at Timothy who was crying bitterly, "Now there is only one way. You should take the initiative to admit your mistake to let the Tanner family let you go, or you will have to resign yourself to your fate. That's what I can say. You conduct yourself well."

Mark drew back his legs, got in his car, and drove away without looking back.

Timothy looked at the car and slowly stood up, his eyes filled with hatred.

Wasn't he courting death if he took the initiative to admit his mistake? Could he survive? Now, The only thing he should do was hide so that no one could find him.

Timothy pulled on his jacket, looked down, and left the police station. In the evening, the police followed the information Timothy had given them and found the Tanner family's villa at Number 66 in Lido Manor. When the police walked in, the Tanner family was confused and stood still.

"May I ask what you want?" Sam said.

"Excuse me, does Sophie live here?" the police asked.

"Yes, she is my wife." Sky stepped forward, "May I ask what happened?"

"Today, someone reported that there was an illegal sex trade between a man and a woman in the Luck Hotel on Sapphire Road. When we went there, we found a man and a woman who had just had sex. The woman was Sophie, Mr. Sky's wife," the police gave a brief explanation.

When the Tanner family heard this news, they were all shocked and could not say any words for a long time.

"Sir, are you mistaken?" Sky recovered from the shock first, "My wife is gentle and virtuous. She has been staying at home all this time. There must be some misunderstanding."

"We are also afraid that we make a mistake. That's why we came here to inquire." The police handed a photo, "This is the photo we took on the spot. Please see if this is Sophie, your wife."

Sky took the photo and could clearly see the woman's face. It was Sophie, his wife, undoubtedly.

Sam, May, and Alaya also stepped forward to look at the photo and agreed that it was Sophie.

They really could not believe that such a scandal happened to the Tanner family and to Sophie. _____

Chapter 214 Is This Woman Mrs. Tanner?

In their eyes, Sophie was a gentle and nice girl. Otherwise, how would they agree to her marriage with Sky?

But now... why did she become so shameless?

Besides, she was caught on the spot, which brought disgrace on the Tanner family.

Sam closed his eyes, feeling that Sophie let him down. But May looked away and sat down on the sofa again.

She was not particularly sad, because she had seen Sophie's real face before. She thought that this should be Sophie's most real face. Her good nature was disguised.

Alaya also felt that she had supported the wrong person. She supported Sophie and Sky. However, she just got such a result.

Sky was the one who felt most hurt. Sophie had been with him for many years and they had married a few years. He trusted her with all his heart.

He believed that Sophie would not be someone like Rose, and that Sophie understood his pain and would not hurt him and betray him again. But in the end, she stabbed him deeply, which even caught him off guard.

Sky secretly took a deep breath to calm down. Compared with the injury Rose brought him, he felt that this time he was surprisingly able to adapt quickly.

"Mr. Sky, may I ask if the woman in the photo is your wife?" although the police felt the family's sadness, he had to go on.

"No, she's not." Sam denied it.

He couldn't admit that the woman was Sophie. If he admitted it, the reputation of the Tanner family would be ruined and it would also make others laugh at them.

May, Alaya and Sky all looked at Sam with surprise, not expecting him to answer this.

But Sky overruled his father's words and admitted, "Yes, she is my wife."

"Who's telling the truth? We're on business. So, please think carefully before you answer." The police was slightly displeased.

Sam was about to say something when Sky grabbed his hand and stopped him, "Sir, she is my wife. My father is old and has poor eyesight. Please forgive him."

Sky admitted once again. So, Sam could not say anything else and sat down on the sofa.

The police nodded and put away the photo, "Then please let your wife out, Mr. Sky. We want to ask her to make a statement."

"She's not at home right now." Sky had gone upstairs after work to look for Sophie. But Sophie was not at home.

"Then do you know where she is?" the police added.

"She should be at the Linder family's villa." In general, if Sophie was not at the Tanner family, she would be at the Linder family. So, Sky did not ask about her whereabouts.

"Then please take us to her."

"Okay. But I have some questions." Sky had too many questions. After the police nodded, he asked, "You said she was arrested on the spot. Then why wasn't she taken to the police station to make a statement? Instead, you even had to come to our house to find her. Besides, who was the man with her? I think I have a right to know as Sophie's husband."

"We had intended to take her to the police station to make a statement. But she threatened us with death to let her go. There is nothing more important than life. So, we had to compromise and let her go for now." The police officer said the situation was a million times more critical, "We have taken the man to the police station to make a statement. His name was Timothy."

"What? Who is he?" Sam, who had just sat down, stood up again.

"It's Timothy. He comes from City H and is thirty-five years old. He is unemployed now..."

This Timothy naturally was the one in the Tanner family's impression. So, it was that bastard!

"Since it's Timothy, then there must be something wrong with this thing! I don't believe Sophie would do such a thing." Sam thought it was all Timothy's fault, "Timothy must be trying to harm our family!"

Sky did not say a word and frowned.

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

The police said again, "Mr. Sky, when can we leave for the Linder family's villa to find your wife?"

"Sir, please wait for me outside for a moment. I have something to talk to my parents." Sky did not want outsiders to be here.

The police also understood and went out.

"Why did you admit that it was Sophie? Have you spared the reputation of the Tanner family?" Sam scolded Sky.

"Dad, we can't lie in front of the police. The truth is the truth. Even if you can hide it now, you can't hide it forever. And it's illegal to lie to the police. We can't know the law and break it!" Sky kept a clear head.

"Sky, this Timothy is a jerk. We all can see Sophie's feelings for you. We don't believe that she would do this. She must have been forced by Timothy!" Sam still defended Sophie until now.

"Dad, I know. I also want things to go for the better. But you have to be prepared for the bad." Sky then turned around and left the Tanner family's villa.

Sky drove ahead and led the way to the Linder family's villa.

When Sky and the police appeared at the Linder family's villa, the Linder family was having dinner. But Sophie was not there.

"Sky, what's going on?" Chandler looked at the police and was confused.

"Dad, Mom, is Sophie home?" Sky asked them.

"Sophie is not feeling well. She's upstairs." Joy replied, "What happened?"

"Nothing. I'll go upstairs and get her." Sky then went upstairs and came to Sophie's bedroom.

He stood in the doorway and restrained himself from mixed emotions before he knocked on the door, "Sophie, are you there? It's Sky."

The moment Sophie heard Sky's voice, she was so aggrieved. Her nose twitched and she began to weep.

Seeing that she did not respond, Sky said again, "Then I'm coming in." He then pushed the door in and saw Sophie sitting against the bed. She bent her legs, crossed her hands around her knees, and looked a little haggard.

When she saw Sky, the tears coursed down her cheeks and her face got wet quickly.

"Sky... " she sobbed, her voice filled with grievance and sadness.

"I'll take you home. Come with me." Sky walked to her, but did not sit down.

He looked at Sophie, whose tears were flowing down, and did not comfort her. There was no warmth in his eyes anymore, but only coldness.

"Go home?" Sophie, however, did not notice Sky's change.

"Yes." Sky said, reaching out to take her by the hand, "Let's go."

Sophie held his hand tightly, like a drowning man grasping the last straw and eager to live.

When Sky brought Sophie downstairs, she saw the police. She instinctively hid behind Sky and her face changed greatly.

She had just thought that she would be fine if she ran away. But she didn't expect the police to be so capable to find her house.

How could she forget that Timothy had been taken to the police station? Timothy must have said something.

Chapter 215 Why Should I Believe You?

Sophie felt sick when she thought of Timothy, the stupid man.

She had escaped. But Timothy would definitely betray her for himself and would even say some unrealistic words.

She was now worried about what Timothy had said, and was panicking.

The police and Sky were here. She was afraid that the scandal between her and Timothy could no longer be concealed. She was trembling badly as she was in a breakdown once again.

"Mrs. Tanner, we're here to see you for a statement." The police came straight to the point.

"Go away! You guys go away!" Sophie was very excited.

She was afraid to look at the police in uniform and hid behind Sky, running away from reality.

"Sophie, what's wrong with you?" Chandler felt sad while looking at his daughter who was scared.

"Sophie, don't be afraid. They are police officers, not bad people." Joy also pacified her daughter.

"Dad, Mom, let them go and leave our house. I don't want to see them!" Sophie kept shaking her head and clutching Sky's sleeve, "Sky, didn't you say you were going to take me home? Hurry up and take me away, right now!"

Sky looked at her calmly and pulled her hand down, "Sophie, what are you afraid of?"

"I'm not afraid. I'm not afraid!" Sophie widened her eyes and spoke loudly, as if she was hiding something.

"Really? Then why are you so afraid of the police!" Sky frowned slightly.

"I ... I'm not afraid. I just don't want to see the police." Sophie denied it.

"Mrs. Tanner, please cooperate with us to make a statement!" the police also became aggressive.

"I didn't do anything. Why do I need to make a statement? I said I was forced to! Why can't you guys let me go? If you need to make a statement, you can go to find others. Don't come to me!" Sophie was so agitated that she couldn't calm down at all.

She was too scared to look at the police, just kept her head down, and panicked.

"Timothy has made a statement, and so will you. We're going to check whether your statements are consistent and see if any of you are lying." The police said to her.

"Timothy? What the hell is going on?" Chandler and Joy were confused to hear this name. And the statement... They couldn't make it out at all.

"I don't know this person!" Sophie flatly denied.

"Mrs. Tanner, please do not make a meaningless struggle. Today, you and Timothy were caught on the spot at the Luck Hotel on Sapphire Rode. If it were not for you threatening the police, you would have made a statement and gone home by now." The police frowned at the resistant Sophie, "No matter how you deny it, you cannot change what has happened. So, you should cooperate with us to finish it early, so that we can leave earlier."

"Sir, can you tell us what's going on?" Chandler was confused while listening to this and just wanted to know the truth.

"Yes. What has my daughter done? And what does it have to do with Timothy?" Joy looked at Sophie with distress. What happened to Sophie and made her look like this?

"Well..." Sophie interrupted the police before they could finish his words, "You can't talk about it! Stop!"

Sophie pounced on them, waving both hands like a wounded lioness, trying to hit the police.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

Seeing this, Chandler and Joy pulled her, "Sophie, you can't hit the police. It's against the law to assault police!"

"Dad, Mom, it's them... They want to ruin everything for me..." Sophie was in great pain. Tears filled her eyes and she looked pitiful.

"Mrs. Tanner, please don't be unreasonable!" the police said sternly, "How can you blame us for what you have done? We are only enforcing the law impartially!"

"Bullshit! You guys are deliberately targeting me!" Sophie could not help but cry out as if she had been greatly wronged.

Sky kept looking at Sophie coldly, feeling as if this woman was no longer the Sophie he knew, but a strange and scary woman.

"Sir, let me say it." Sky looked at the police and pleaded.

"Okay." The police nodded.

Sky looked at Mr. and Mrs. Linder who were holding the crying Sophie, "Mom and Dad, today, Sophie and Timothy were caught on the spot for illegal trading between men and women in the Luck Hotel on Sapphire Road ... So, you should understand now."

He truthfully explained the story to the elder according to the information provided by the police.

Sophie did not dare to look up and face Sky. She just kept crying, but could not move Sky at all.

"What!" Chandler was angry after listening to it and looked at Sophie next to him, "Sophie, you have done such a shameless thing!"

Joy also felt that the news was like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky.

Although she knew that Sophie had slept with Timothy once, it was just an accident, because Sophie was drugged.

But this time, she couldn't make any excuse for Sophie. Because in the face of conclusive evidence, any reason would be powerless.

"Sophie, how can you be so stupid!" Joy felt sad, "How can I say about you!"

Chandler let go of his hand and Joy also let go. Sophie felt her legs weaken and fell to the ground. Her long hair covered her face, and no one could see her expression clearly.

"Mrs. Tanner, we'll give you one more chance to make a statement." The police asked her, "Mr. Timothy said that you did it willingly. If so, it's not a prostitution charge."

"I was forced to do it. I didn't do it willingly!" Sophie reacted with excitement when she heard "willingly".

"If you were forced, then he committed rape and you have the right to sue him." The police reminded her.

"I'll sue him!" Sophie bit her lip, her eyes full of hatred, "I'm going to make him pay!"

With that, Sophie cooperated with the police to make a statement in the study, while the others waited outside.

When the police left after the statement was made, Sophie slowly came to Sky and her eyes were filled with tears, "Honey, please forgive me. I was really forced to do it. Please believe me...."

She pursed her lips and almost cried out. But she tried to hold back her tears and just looked at Sky pitifully. Her eyes were full of begging.

Sky just stared at her sweet and lovely face quietly, as if he was trying to see through her clearly, but only to find that he had never seen through her.

"Sophie, I would love to believe you. But matters have reached this stage. Why should I believe you?" Sky smiled, but his eyes were cold. _____

Chapter 216 You Don't Deserve to Go Home with Me

Sky smiled coldly. He was no longer as gentle and tender to Sophie. Their world seemed to be snowing heavily at this moment, freezing their hearts.

"No, Sky, I was really forced. I am your wife. Would you rather believe others than me?" sitting on the ground, Sophie looked up at Sky who was strange.

"Sophie, you seem to have forgotten that Mr. Sky once said that what you hear about may be false and what you see is true. He only believes in the facts he sees with his eyes. There is nothing wrong with that."

Rose walked into the living room from outside.

Rose was wearing a white background black polka dot shirt with black collar and vertical striped bow tie, black nine-point pencil pants, and a pair of nude high heels. The clothes were simple and beautiful. With delicate light makeup, she looked elegant, confident and mature. In these five years, Rose had indeed grown a lot. She now had a happy family and a successful career. Seeing that Sophie's true face would be exposed, she was extremely brightened.

"Sky, don't listen to her!" Sophie naturally remembered that Sky had said this.

Five years ago, when Rose came out of the hospital with the baby in her arms, Sky saw her. Without giving Rose a chance to explain, he said that he only believed what he saw with his eyes.

Now, it was Sophie's turn to have an accident. Rose mentioned this to remind Sky not to eat his words!

"Sky, she still has a long memory for what happened five years ago. So, she hates us loving each other as a couple and is deliberately trying to sow discord." Sophie was afraid that Sky would believe Rose's words.

"I said that. What does it have to do with her?" Sky frowned, "Sophie, you make your bed, let you lie in it."

Sophie pursed her lips, not daring to vent her anger on Sky, and could only turn to Rose, "Rose, are you here to laugh at me?"

Sophie was furious when she looked at Rose, who was smiling, and thought of her present embarrassed situation.

"I'm back to see Grandma and Mom and Dad." Rose put the fruit and gift box in her hand on the coffee table, "How did I know you were here?"

"Bullshit!" Sophie didn't believe what Rose said at all.

"Believe it or not." Rose gave a shrug of her shoulders.

"Rose, why do you bring gifts your own home?" Chandler's expression softened into a grin.

Joy also flattered her, "Rose, have you had dinner?"

Now, Rose was in the ascendant. After being Mrs. Lee, even her parents had to respect her.

Even if Sophie had married Sky, she would not have been treated in this way. Because the Tanner family was not as powerful as the Lee family. Rose said to Chandler and Joy, "Dad, this is what Bright's parents had someone bring back. The nourishment is for Grandma. The tea and wine is for you, and the jewelry is for Mom."

When Chandler and Joy heard that it was from Bright's parents, they were joyful. After all, they were so lucky to be relatives with the Lee family by marriage.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!
Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves
"Give my regards to Bright's parents and thank them." What Chandler cared about was not the gift, but the Lee family's recognition and attention.

"Didn't Bright come back with you?" Joy was concerned about Bright.
"He's busier than me." Rose sat down on the sofa and had no intention to leave, "Mom, I haven't had dinner yet. I'd like to eat boiled beef, glutinous rice duck, and seaweed soup."

"OK. I'll let the chef make it." Listening to Rose call her Mom, Joy kept smiling and forgot that she had another daughter, Sophie.

Seeing that Chandler and Joy's attitude to Rose had changed from disgust to flattery, Sophie was resentful and angry. Now, Rose had replaced her and became important in her parents' heart.

In the eyes of her parents, she seemed to be just a man of no importance. They simply did not care about her and Sky anymore.

"Mom and Dad, Sophie will stay in the Linder family's villa for the time being. Please take care of her. I'll leave now." Sky didn't want to eat his words in front of Rose. So, he was going to leave first.

"Sky, don't go!" Sophie hugged Sky's leg and pulled him, "Even if you want to leave, take me home with you. You said you were coming to take me home. How can you leave me here alone?"

"Sophie, how dare you go back to the Tanner family now?" Sky stood up straight and turned his back on Sophie, "You don't deserve it!"

"Sky, you can't do this to me... I'm your wife. I'm still pregnant with your child. He is also the Tanner family's eldest grandson. In these five years, I've been with you. I should be given credit for hard work, if not for merit..." Sophie grabbed him, afraid that if she let go, Sky would disappear.

"The child? Are you sure the baby in your belly is mine?" Sky sneered, beginning to doubt it.

"Of course it's yours. It's the Tanner family's grandson. I swear." Sophie raised three fingers of her right hand.

Sky took the opportunity to draw back his leg, then took two steps back to distance himself from Sophie, "Sophie, I can't trust you anymore. Did you really only sleep with Timothy once?"

"Do you remember? At that time, we made an appointment to have a physical examination together, but you disappeared for a long time. I found you in the hotel and Timothy was also there... If you didn't have contact with him, why were you in the hotel with him? In retrospect, I think you were guilty rather than uncomfortable at that time. I'm afraid you've slept with him more than once! So, he can force you because he has the goods on you, right?"

"No, no..." Sophie shook her head and tried to go forward to explain. But Sky avoided her, "Sophie, it's okay if you don't admit it. I'll find the evidence to convince you."

"No, Sky. I'm wrong..." Sophie was so anxious that she even knelt down in front of him, "I was threatened by him. I didn't lie."

"Dad, Mom, please help me. Help me talk to Sky and make him believe me." Sophie finally placed her hopes on her parents.

"The facts are in front of us. Even the police came to the house and showed the evidence. What do you want us to say?" Chandler's face was grim, "You've disgraced our family, you sinner!"

"No, Dad. It's all because of Rose. It's all because of her that I was threatened by Timothy!"

A crisp slap sounded. _

Chapter 217 Congratulations on Suffering the Pain I Once Felt

Sophie only felt dizzy and a burning sensation in her face. Even her teeth hurt. It could be seen how hard Chandler slapped her.

"It is you who are so shameless to do such a thing to disgrace the Tanner family and our family. But you still try to blame your sister? Rose is your own sister. How can you say such words to slander her? Do you want to anger me and kill me?" Chandler accused Sophie and almost wanted to strangle her to death.

"Sophie, do you think who Rose is now? She doesn't have to be against you, does she? Besides, you should take responsibility for your own mistakes. How can you blame it on Rose? We are so disappointed in you!" Joy was also on the same front as Chandler, criticizing Sophie.

"Dad, Mom, don't be angry." Rose was calm. She did not take Sophie's slander seriously, "The wise man knows he knows nothing, the fool thinks he knows all. No matter how I explain it, people who don't believe me won't believe it. So, as long as you two believe me, I will be very happy."

What Rose said not only pacified Mr. and Mrs. Linder, but also put them in an important position, deeply pleasing them.

Besides, she also embarrassed Sky. She had tried to explain back then. But Sky did not listen to her at all and just stubbornly believed what he saw with his eyes.

Sky naturally understood what Rose meant. His face changed slightly and he looked at Rose sitting on the sofa, pursing his thin lips tightly. "Look, how generous and elegant Rose is! You are not only shameful, but also vicious to set up your sister. You are really a bad girl!" Chandler snorted. He was so angry that he felt a tremendous pressure on his chest.

Rose looked down, smiled, and listened to their scolding.

"Dad, Sophie has set me up many times. Although I don't know what she's doing it for, I'm not going to make a fuss about it with her. After all, I am her older sister and have to get soft on her." Rose imitated the way Sophie had spoken five years ago, which could anger her parents more.

Rose wanted Sophie to suffer the pain she had experienced.

"Compared with Rose, you're worse than a pig and a dog!" Chandler said heartless words, a terrible blow to Sophie's self-esteem.

"Dad, I'm your and Mom's child. If I'm worse than a pig or a dog, then what about you guys and my dear sister?" Sophie smiled more brightly. She looked at her parents who had given up on her as a useless daughter, and was very sad.

"You!" Chandler was silenced by Sophie's stinging words.

"Hey girl, how dare you say us like this? We raise you and your sister also loves you. Do you have conscience?" Joy took the words over and hit Sophie twice more.

"Dad, Mom, Sophie really didn't mean it. She is just mad and talking nonsense. Don't blame her. Besides, she's pregnant." Rose picked up the kettle and poured a glass of water for herself, leisurely holding the glass.

Sky, who had been calm, turned pale when he heard what Rose said. He widened his eyes and looked at Rose, who kept smiling lightly, as if she was just a bystander.

He felt that this scene was very similar to when Rose betrayed him five years ago.

The difference was that Rose had given birth to a child, while Sophie was still pregnant.

He, Sky, was so "loved" by God that both his ex-fiancée and his wife had betrayed him and neither of their children were his.

Five years ago, Sophie was considerate. But now, she was so hateful.

Five years ago, Rose was hateful. But now, she was so considerate.

Islamabad Janitor Became A Millionaire Almost Overnight!

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

History was always so strikingly similar. Sky put on a self-mocking smile.

It seemed he really did not deserve to get happiness.

He turned around with a sad face and went clumping out of the Linder family's living room.

Sophie looked at Sky who was leaving and tried to catch up with him.

But she tripped and fell to the ground. Her knees hurt so much that she couldn't stand up. So, she just lay on the ground and screamed bitterly at Sky's back, "Sky, don't go! Don't leave me and our baby! Sky...."

Sky ignored her words and left without looking back, disappearing.

Sophie just reached out, trying to catch Sky's figure. But she failed and got nothing.

Sophie clenched her hands and cried on the ground....

At this moment, she also tasted the feeling of falling into despair.

Rose looked at Sophie, who was crying in pain, and smiled coldly.

"Shame on you! What a shame!" Chandler was furious, "the Tanner family won't leave her!"

"What can we do?" Joy was worried, "Will they come to our house to make trouble?"

"Mom, are the dishes ready? I'm so hungry." Rose asked Joy.

"Oh, I'll make it now." Joy recovered from worry.

"Dad, why don't you go with Mom? I have something to talk to my sister." Rose sent them away with an excuse.

"Alright. I will leave you guys alone." Mr. and Mrs. Linder then went to the kitchen together, not caring about Sophie at all.

After they left for a while, Sophie's grief was almost released and her crying slowly stilled.

Only then did Rose say, "Sophie, the wheel of fortune will swing round again. How do you feel now?"

"Rose, it is you who are playing tricks, right? You made me come to such an end in front of Sky and Mom and Dad no longer pay attention to me! It's all because of you!" Sophie propped herself up, her eyes filled with hatred for Rose.

"Sophie, you deserve it! You should have known that you would get your comeuppance today when you trapped me five years ago!" Rose slowly stood up and looked down at Sophie, as if she was looking at a humble mole under her feet, "If you have never intended to do harm to others, you wouldn't be like this now!"

"You hurt me again and again for your own sake. If I don't fight back, you will think I am a punchbag, right?"

Rose smiled gently and was graceful, "You drugged me to make me lose my chastity to Timothy, but you lost your own. You wanted to make me abandoned by Bright, but you were grounded in the Tanner family. You tried to show your innocence in front of Sky, but you are even not sure who the father of your child is, are you? You wanted to be with Sky, and now, you just lose him...."

"You guessed one thing right. I was the one who asked someone to tell on you and Timothy. I just want you to also taste the feeling of losing your reputation and being abandoned by the one you love. Do you feel extremely sad and hurt? Then congratulations on suffering the pain I once felt." _____

Chapter 218 She Is Not a Good Person

Rose's eyes were clear and stern, no longer the same simple and innocent as before.

In these five years, she had had her fill of hardships and grew up.

She would no longer be trapped by Sophie and lose everything. Instead, she would let Sophie be hoisted by her own petard.

Now, seeing that Sophie broke down in pain and was abandoned by Sky, who left without looking back, and tried to fight back but could do nothing, Rose felt very happy.

She knew she had changed. But such a change was only to make her better.

"Rose, I'm going to kill you! I'm going to kill you!" Sophie was even more furious and looked fierce when she heard Rose admit that she was the one who made the report, "I'm going to kill you!"

Sophie endured the pain in her knees, gritted her teeth and got up. She was like a runaway cow and pounced on Rose.

Rose instinctively tried to dodge, but failed. She fell to the ground by Sophie.

Sophie stretched out her arms, opened her ten fingers, and fiercely pinched Rose's neck.

Rose was strangled by her and could not breathe. Her face turned red.

She reached out to wrench herself free. But she didn't know why Sophie, who was usually gentle and weak, was so strong now. She couldn't wrench herself free at all.

"Rose, you have done this to me. I can't live, and you can't live either!"

"We will die together!" Sophie seemed to have lost her mind and her eyes were red.

Rose was still struggling, trying to break free from Sophie. The instinct of longing to live made her not give up until the end.

What's more, she had survived those days when life was worse than death. Now, she had not only a lovely child, but also a husband who loved her, a flourishing career, and a happy family. All these were the motivation for her to live.

Rose glanced at the cup on the tea table. Sophie, who was almost mad, didn't notice it at all, just kept tightening her fingers.

Rose reached out to the cup. She held her breath and slammed it down on Sophie's head with all her strength. The cup broke into pieces.

Sophie's head was hit hard. It hurt so much that the strength in her hands weakened. Rose took the opportunity to push her away.

Sophie was pushed to the floor. Rose, who broke free from Sophie, took a deep breath and propped herself up against the tea table.

"Rose, you bitch!" Sophie stroked her head which was broken and felt the blood.

She hated Rose even more. She picked the pieces of the cup on the floor, trying to get back at Rose once again.

Rose stared at her face and said, "Sophie, you have a bloody cut on your face!"

Sophie instinctively reached out to touch her face. There was indeed some blood on her fingertips.

She was not as pretty as Rose. But she was sweet and lovely. Now, her face was destroyed, and she lost her only advantage.

Sophie felt desperate. She grabbed the pieces of the cup in her right hand, pointing straight at Rose, "Since you destroy my face, then I will destroy your face too! After you become ugly, let me see if Bright will still want you!"

Sophie rushed to Rose again. Rose dodged. But finally, Rose was caught.

Sophie pressed the pieces in her hand towards Rose's face, while Rose held Sophie's wrist and resisted hard. They could not move each other....

At this time, Chandler and Joy walked out of the kitchen and saw such a thrilling scene.

"Sophie, you sinner! Stop it!" Chandler was shocked.

"Sophie, stop it!" Joy anxiously advised her, "It's not good for you to do that!"

If Bright found out about this, or if Sophie hurt Rose, how could they tell Bright?

"Anyway, I have nothing left. I'm not afraid of anything! What can Bright do, even if he knows about it?" Sophie didn't care about the consequences, and just did as she pleased at the moment.

However, Bright happened to appear in the Linder family's living room. Seeing this shocking scene, he frowned, stepped forward, and grabbed Sophie's arm, threw her out.

Sophie had pain in her knee. She was thrown so hard that she stumbled and fell to the ground.

Bright held Rose's shoulder, his eyes filled with concern, "Are you okay?"

"I'm fine." Rose shook her head.

But Bright noticed a ring of red marks on her snow-white neck, "What's this?"

Rose looked to Sophie, "I'm not that weak."

Bright knew that it was caused by Sophie. His eyes were cold and filled with anger, "Sophie, let me tell you what the consequence is if you want to know."

Sophie, however, laughed out loud with carelessness. She was laughing so wildly and seemed not to be afraid at all.

She stared at Bright's murderous ink eyes and said leisurely, "It's just that I will have nothing. What can I lose now? You can take them all away!"

"Or you kill me! Anyway, it's worse than dying if I live like this. So, you can kill me and let me go!"

"Kill you? It's too good for you. I will make your life worse than death! But in the legal society, I will punish you with the law. Sophie, you just wait."

Sophie was still laughing, not taking Bright's words seriously at all, "Yeah, I'll wait."

Chandler and Joy all felt nervous when they saw Sophie so irreverently talking to Bright and provoking him.

Sophie was courting death! It was okay if she wanted to die. But she shouldn't implicate them.

Chandler and Joy looked at Bright's cold face, and broke out in a sweat on their backs.

"Let's go." Rose had achieved her goal and didn't want to stay here any longer.

"Okay." Bright complied with her, his eyes filled with affection.

The injury on her neck also needed to be treated. Anyway, dealing with Sophie was not in a hurry.

"Rose, the meal is ready. You haven't had a bite..." Joy said as she watched that Bright helped Rose leave.

"Just leave it to your favorite little daughter." Rose said indifferently.

Sophie still laughed and said, "Bright, you are powerful and others all respect you. But in my eyes, you are a fool! You protect Rose so much and treat her like a treasure. But Rose is not a good person!"

Chapter 219 She Is Going to Tell the Whole Truth

Sophie's words made Bright, who was leaving, stop. Rose looked at Bright beside her while Bright turned his eyes to Sophie.

"I know what kind of person my wife is. I don't need you to remind me! Do you think I'll believe what you say?" Bright naturally wouldn't believe Sophie's words so easily, "You're just trying to drive a wedge between us. How can I get you what you want?"

Sophie laughed, as if she had just heard a joke, "Bright, I know that I am not capable of driving a wedge between you guys. But I still have something to say. You can just treat what you will hear next as a story." Rose froze and grabbed Bright's clothes, "Bright, let's go home. Don't listen to her nonsense."

"Bright, your good wife is scared and guilty." Sophie looked at Rose who wanted to leave.

"Don't you have something to say? I'll give you a chance to say it today. Don't think I'll let you go just because you say so. What you need to be clear about is that nothing you say is going to help." But Bright wrapped his hand around Rose's shoulder, giving her strength, telling her not to be afraid and that he would be with her.

Rose tried to calm herself down, not being affected by Sophie's words.

"I didn't expect you to let me go easily at all. I just want to know your attitude. I will tell you properly about the other Rose you don't know. After you listen to it, I don't think you will be in the mood to deal with me first." Sophie was satisfied with Bright's attitude.

But her eyes were resentful and vicious when she looked at Rose, "Rose has never been married to anyone. So, where did Doris come from? Don't you want to know?"

Chandler shuddered with fear when he heard that, and Joy was also sweating.

Rose seemed to be calm on the surface. But her face turned a little pale.

Her breathing also unconsciously became heavy, and her fingers crossed together.

"Sophie, that's enough! Rose and Bright love each other very much. You don't cherish your marriage and just talk nonsense here." Chandler wanted Sophie to stop. They must never let Bright know about Doris' birth.

"Sophie, please. You're the lady of the Linder family. Stop acting like this, okay?" Joy was also anxious.

Now, Sophie couldn't go back to the Tanner family. There would definitely be a rift or even hatred between them and the Tanner family. After all, the two daughters of the Linder family had wronged Sky. They would definitely start a feud.

Sophie had fallen into disgrace. They couldn't let Rose, who married into the Lee family, suffer the same thing. They had to protect Rose. Otherwise, the Linder family would be faced with imminent disaster.

"Dad, Mom, you only care about the interests of the Linder family and your glory. Do you really love me and Rose? We are just pawns for you to get benefits for the Linder family. You have never been sincere to me! Why should I listen to you? "

"You are protecting Rose now because she married into the Lee family and married Bright. If she is also abandoned by Bright, you will not love anyone. It is fair, isn't it?"

"I just want to do a good thing now. Rose does not deserve to marry a good man like Bright!" Sophie said, as if she was defending Bright against an injustice.

"Bright... Sophie has lost her mind and is talking nonsense. So, don't bother with her." Chandler tried to persuade Bright to leave, "Take Rose away now. We will teach Sophie well."

"Yes, yes, yes. You guys go first." Joy echoed, trying to let them leave.

"I'm not losing my mind and talking nonsense. I'm more awake now than ever and know what I'm going to do and speak." Sophie glared at her parents, "Instead, you are trying to stop me from telling the truth about Doris. Do you want to hide the scandal for Rose five years ago? Do you want Bright to be a fool who knows nothing?"

"Mr. Bright, please let them go, so that I can tell you a whole story. I don't think you want to be treated as a fool by Rose, right?"

Bright glanced coldly at Mr. and Mrs. Linder. They could only purse their lips and dared not speak.

Seeing that Sophie was about to say what had happened five years ago, Rose came near to a breakdown. The worst she had expected came at last.

She didn't want Bright to know that she had slept with him once and gave birth to Doris for Sky's life. Bright was so proud. How could he be willing to be used as a pawn to save Sky?

Besides, Doris was his real daughter. She had been hiding it. Bright had given her his full trust. But she lied to him.

She couldn't let Bright know all this. She didn't want to lose him and this family.

"Bright, you cannot believe in her words and listen to her." Rose held his wrist with both hands, "Let's go home. Doris is still waiting for us at home."

Bright felt the coldness from her fingertips. Even her face was white. He stared at her eyes, as if he was trying to tell what she was feeling now.

"What are you afraid of?" Bright felt that Rose was now very abnormal and anxious.

"I'll tell you what you want to know, not her." Rose could only compromise. She would tell Bright about this thing herself, so that she could say half the truth and half the lie to avoid leaking some important information.

"Mr. Bright, you cannot believe her. What Rose says can't be the whole truth." Sophie was standing just two meters away from them, and felt comfortable watching Rose's panicked expression.

"I know who the child's father is. You don't need to say more." Bright thought that Doris was Sky's daughter.

"You can't possibly know." Sophie was certain.

"I don't want to know either." Bright looked at Rose, who was so anxious that her eyes were red, and intended to give her a chance.

With that, Bright led Rose out of the Linder family's living room. Rose was slightly relaxed. Just now, she was really anxious and her tears were almost falling down. Fortunately, Bright chose to respect her and give her the chance to say it herself.

Before they went to the entrance, Sophie chased out and spoke, as if to herself, "Mr. Bright, five years ago, Rose and Sky had a marriage contract. But Rose gave birth to an illegitimate child behind Sky's back. Why?"

"Because Sky was very sick and could not find a bone marrow match. He could hardly survive. Rose found a man who could match Sky's bone marrow and slept with him. Then, she was pregnant. The child was Doris. Fortunately, Doris could match Sky's bone marrow and saved him." _____

Chapter 220 She Married You Just to Use You

Bright stopped after hearing these words, having been seized by curiosity.

Rose, who was holding him, had no choice but to stop. No matter what she did, she could not stop Sophie from telling what had happened back then.

People couldn't wrap fire in paper anyway. The fire would burn everything.

Rose closed her eyes in despair and could only listen to Sophie quietly as Sophie continued.

But fortunately, Sophie did not know that the man was Bright. Rose could still keep this secret.

"That man is a pawn. Doris is also a tool to save Sky and was born by accident. As for the Doris' father, Rose never told me. So, I have no idea. But with Mr. Bright's ability, it's easy to find out who that man is."

"Mr. Bright, Rose is not as simple and beautiful as you see. She is also selfish. To save her beloved man, she sacrificed and cheated another man. She gave birth to Doris, but could not give her a father and a family."

"Mr. Bright, did she tell you all these things? Does she really love you? I can tell you for sure that the person she loves is Sky. I did steal Sky from her back then. So, when she came back to see me and Sky in love, she did all this to take revenge. But does she have no selfishness?"

"If she didn't love Sky, why would she be so hard on me? She married you just to use your identity to take revenge. But is it just my fault that Sky abandoned her?"

"It was because Sky did not trust her. Sky was the one who hurt her the most. Why didn't she take revenge on Sky? Mr. Bright is so smart. I think I don't need to say more and you should also know. Mr. Bright, I say this to let you recognize that Rose is not as good as you think. I don't want her to deceive you and use you relying on her harmless face!"

"Mr. Bright, don't thank me. I just want to do a good thing..."

"Shut up!" Bright approached and grabbed Sophie by the neck with his right hand.

Sophie was almost strangled on the spot and tasted the feeling Rose suffered just now.

"These words can only be kept in your mind from now on. If you dare to reveal a word, don't blame me for cutting your tongue!" Bright threatened her fiercely, "Understand?"

Bright was cold and like Satan, freezing Sophie.

Sophie dared not to hesitate and could only nod obediently.

Seeing her nod, Bright then let go of her, his eyes filled with disgust.

Sophie touched her neck, bent over and coughed several times. She felt very uncomfortable. Just now, she really thought that she was going to die.

Although she felt that she had nothing and was not afraid of death, she was flustered when she really experienced this moment. She struggled desperately to survive.

Bright turned around and pulled Rose to get into the car, drove the car out of the Linder family's villa.

Only after hearing the car drive away did Chandler and Joy rush out of the villa, only to see Sophie standing alone in the darkness.

"Did you talk to Bright about what happened five years ago?" Chandler asked anxiously.

They stayed in the house and did not dare to come out. So, they didn't hear the truth.

"Yes. Since Rose makes me have a hard time, I give her back tit for tat. Even if Bright won't abandon her now, there will be a rift in his mind, which will sting him every moment. One day, he won't be able to stand it and pull out! At that time, Rose will lose everything like me today."

This was Sophie's purpose.

"Sophie, are you crazy? What nonsense are you talking about?" Joy scolded Sophie, "I told you not to provoke her. But you just did as you pleased. Now, you got yourself into it. What's good for you to lose Sky?"

"Mom, I can't live without Sky. Since I can't live, then Rose can't live either." Sophie was injuring others and ruining herself now.

"You don't think Rose will come to a good end, so you will? You are the one who will be dealt with when Bright calms down!" Joy still loved her young daughter, "I have an idea. You go to apologize to them sincerely.

Even if they ask you to kneel down, you also should do! After all, we are still a family. As long as you have a good attitude, it can be solved. Do you have to put yourself in such a situation?"

"Apologize?" Sophie sneered, "If an apology works, there won't be so many people afraid of Bright!"

"Even if you don't think about yourself, you should think about the baby in your belly. Don't you want to make up with Sky? As long as you have his child, he will do something out of consideration for the child." Joy sighed and persuaded Sophie.

"Mom, can Sky and I make up?" Sophie's gloomy eyes lit.

"If you keep the baby, there will be hope. Sky is the only son of the Tanner family. With his health, it is so lucky for him to have this child. Doesn't the Tanner family want this baby?" Joy continued to pacify Sophie. She also wanted to make up with the Tanner family. It was better to be friends than enemies. Besides, the Tanner family was powerful.

There were projects they were working on, especially the Beach Hotel. They definitely couldn't go wrong at this time.

"You have done such a thing. A man will definitely feel ashamed and annoyed. Sky is angry, which means that he cares about you. He is in a fit of anger. When he cools down, he will forgive you. We will accompany you to the Tanner family to apologize and admit mistakes. This child is the key for you and Sky to be together, and is also the bargaining chip for us to make up with the Tanner family. All you have to do now is to keep yourself in the right frame of mind and take care of the baby." Little by little, Joy instilled hope in Sophie.

"Mom, I'll do whatever you say." Sophie cheered up when she thought of that she had hoped to be with Sky.

Chandler interjected, "Sophie, tell me honestly if this baby is Sky's or Timothy's!"

"Sky's." Sophie was certain.

"You can't lie to us." Chandler frowned, "Only if it's Sky's, can there be a slight chance of a turnaround. Otherwise, not only will there be no chance, you'll be kicked out of the Tanner family and Sky won't give you another chance."

"I know. It's mine and Sky's baby. It's ours." Sophie reached out to touch her belly, her eyes brimming with tears. She looked down and said to the baby, "Baby, let's go to Daddy together and make him forgive Mommy. We can do it. Come on."

"You'd better think that way." Joy said, "Go inside and clean yourself up."

Have some rest, and let's go to the Tanner family to apologize tomorrow." _____