

Come On Daddy!

Chapter 361 Protect Her Child by Killing Her

Sky didn't turn back but went back home directly. Sophie stood there for a while and then she felt sad with tears in her eyes. She kept taking a deep breath to make herself calm, so that she wouldn't be mad at Sky. She kept telling herself that she could bear everything as long as Sky didn't leave her. However, she felt more and more panicked and anxious, so she felt that she was hard to breathe. Sophie didn't want to enter the house, because she didn't know how to face Sky. So she just stood in the courtyard. When Sky walked out with a black sport bag in his hand, he saw Sophie still standing there. "Why are you standing here? It is cold at night. Come into the house quickly." Sky said to her calmly. However, Sophie felt that he cared about her in her mind. She said to him with a smile, "Sky, I would like to visit your mom together with you and help you to take care of her." "Well, you don't need to do that." Sky shook his head and said, "As you can see, my mom doesn't want to see you. She can't understand what happened between us, so she will be angrier if she sees you. You'd better stay at home and take good care of yourself and our baby. I will take good care of my mom. Don't worry." Sophie felt sad by his words. It wasn't cold at night, but she couldn't help trembling. "Don't you really feel cold? You tremble now. Come on, go back to the house now." Sky asked her again when he saw that she trembled, "I have to go now." Sophie saw that he walked towards the car and then opened the door and put the bag into the car. When he was going to get in the car, she suddenly rushed to hug her and begged him, "Sky, please don't leave me. Please don't leave me and our baby alone." "I just go back to take care of mom. What are you thinking about?" Sky pulled down her hands from his waist and turned to her, "I will try to have a talk with her. Don't worry." "I..." Sophie bit her lower lip and said, "Well, I got it. I will stay here and wait for you. Come back soon, promise me."

"OK." Sky nodded and let go of her wrist, and then he got into the car and started the car. Sophie stood beside the car and kept looking at him. Sky saw that she didn't move at all, he had to open the window and said to her, "Stand away from the car." Sophie had to step back, and then Sky drove away. Sophie wanted to catch the car, but she stopped after running a few steps. She stood there with tears down and a forced smile, which made her look a bit strange at night. She gritted her teeth and held her fists tightly.

'May, you are the biggest obstacle for me in pursuing my happiness.' She wouldn't let it go if there was anyone trying to prevent her from pursuing her happiness. So... She looked a bit malicious at that time. However, Timothy, who observed in the dark secretly, was calm. During this period, he could always see that Sophie was obedient to Sky. It could be seen that the one she really loved was Sky. And Sky was the biological father of the unborn baby. Timothy sneered at himself. He turned back and left secretly, and then he returned to his residence not far away. After he came back home, his phone rang when he was taking a bottle of ice water from the refrigerator. He saw that it was Sophie from the phone which was put on the bar counter, and he didn't answer the call or hang up the phone. He just drank the ice water. He didn't answer the call, and then the phone rang up automatically. Next, the phone rang again.

Timothy didn't answer the call at all. He knew that Sophie was very anxious, but he wouldn't allow himself to be tricked by her again. So he wouldn't answer the call, and he wanted to make her more anxious. After drinking water, he went upstairs to take a bath and then went to sleep. The next day, he went to the kitchen and saw that there were more than a dozen missed calls on his mobile phone, all of which were from Sophie. He didn't call her back. He just cooked breakfast for himself. When he went to the dining room with his breakfast and sat down to enjoy it, his phone rang again. It was Sophie again. He answered the phone slowly. Since Sophie had stayed up overnight, it was the best time for him to talk with her. "Sophie..."

"Timothy, I called you overnight. Why didn't you answer my call? "

Sophie asked him with anger. "I went to sleep early last night. And my phone was put in the kitchen, so I didn't know you called me last night. What's wrong? " Timothy explained to her slowly. "I.. I have an urgent problem." Sophie felt better after he explained. "What's the matter? I will try my best to help you." Timothy said. "Do you know Sky's mother?" Sophie asked him carefully and waited for his answer. "Yes. I saw her at a wine party. She was very elegant." Timothy answered her. "She is not as good as you see. Since she has known our relationship, she started to hate me. " Sophie complained to him. "Really?" "I didn't want to make you worried, so I didn't tell you before." Sophie said to him while crying, "However, she has been trying to hurt me. She even asked someone to hit me. If my baby and I weren't lucky enough, I couldn't see you anymore..." Sophie cried out with sadness, but she just pretended to be sad to get his sympathy. "Why did she want to hit you?" "She thought that I made Tanner embarrassed because of the relationship between you and me. And she also said that she wouldn't let you go." Sophie told a lie to him so that she could achieve her own goal. "Really? Well..." Timothy sneered. "So you must be careful." "I got it." Timothy nodded, "You really care about me." "Timothy, if she hit me again after you leave City H, I don't know if I can survive. I am afraid that my baby and I will be killed by her at last..." "I won't let her hurt you. Tell me what you want to do." Timothy asked her. "I heard that May has been in the hospital. It is impossible for the family members of the Tanner family to take care of her at any time. So it is the best choice to do it in the hospital." Sophie instructed him to kill her. "What do you want to do?" Timothy pretended that he didn't understand her words. "As long as she's not here, no one can hurt my baby and me in the future." Sophie said to him. "Do you want me to kill her?" "Timothy, I have no choice. If she doesn't die, my baby and I can't live at all." "Well, I know what to do." "Sorry, Timothy. I shouldn't ask you to do that."

"It's OK. I can do everything for you." _____ Chapter 362 This May Be Your Last Words

Sophie said something to show her poor and make him confused and then she hung up. She held her phone and sat on the soft sofa in the living room alone. She smiled triumphantly, with a vicious and fierce light in her eyes. "May, she will die soon." Sophie said to herself with a smile, "And I will live together with Sky happily. Don't worry. I will help you take good care of him, so you can go to hell with peace of mind..." She said to herself, as if she could control everything. Moreover, Timothy could be fooled by her at will in her mind. "Timothy, please don't be mad at me. If you are arrested, I won't be happy even though I can be with Sky. Both you and May are the biggest obstacles for me to pursuing my happiness. So I must kill you and her. I can't allow anyone to stop me from being together with Sky." She said to herself, "You shouldn't have stopped me from being together with Sky." However, Timothy wasn't as silly as she thought. During this period, he had known what kind of person she was, so he wouldn't be deceived by her again. He didn't want to make her realize that he had been changed, so he had to deceive her like that. He pretended to be obedient to her, so that she could continue to believe her. In this way, he could hurt her. "Sophie, do you think I am as silly as before? I have to take revenge on you!" Timothy held his phone tightly and said to himself firmly. Timothy had been changed. He could no longer trust Sophie conditionally. His eyes were filled with hatred, as if his anger was about to burst out. He was holding a water glass in his hand, and the water glass was crushed into pieces due to the tightening force of his palm. The palm of his hand was also scratched by glass shards, but he didn't care about it at all, as if he didn't feel the pain because the pain in his mind had far surpassed the pain of being scratched. After a while, he managed to deal with the wound on his palm, and then he began to think about his next plan to fight against Sophie. And Sophie was happily expecting Timothy to bring her good news. However, she didn't expect that she would encounter something worse before he could bring her good news. Sophie went to the hospital to visit May again. Certainly, May wasn't kind to her again. "Get out! Never allow her to enter this room!" May said to the nursing worker, who entered the room with water. "I got it." The nursing worker promised and then said to Sophie, "Please get out!" Sophie wasn't angry at all. She said to May with a smile, "Because of Sky, I won't be mad at you no matter how you treat me. Although you don't want to see me, I have to visit you because I am your daughter-in-law." Sophie was very happy when she saw that May was very angry. She hoped she could upset her to death. After leaving the ward, she went to the underground parking lot by taking the elevator. As soon as she walked out of the elevator, she was pulled into a hidden corner of the safety staircase. "What are you trying to do?" Sophie looked at those two men who were getting close to her. Both of them wore hats and masks, so she couldn't see their faces at all. What was more, there was no CCTV here. It seemed that they had planned it well already. "Don't you know what we are trying to do?" One man said to her, and he even disguised his voices deliberately. "Do you want money? I can give you money." Sophie thought that she could persuade them not to hurt her by giving them money, "How much do you want?" "How much do you think your life is worth?" They asked her.

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves
"My... My life is..." Sophie shrank in the corner, and she didn't know how to answer them. Her life was priceless in her own mind. Did she have to give them all the property she finally got from Sky? No, she couldn't give all the property to them. Otherwise, she couldn't enjoy her own life in the future. "I only have one million. And I would like to give all of it to you. OK?" Sophie lied to them. "One million? Do you think we are beggars?" The man said to her coldly. "It seems that you don't cherish your own life at all." The other man said with sarcasm. "I swear I only have one million." Sophie pitifully said, "I am pregnant, so I have no way to earn too much money... This million is really all my property."

"It seems that you have to get some pain and then you can tell the truth."

"I don't lie to you." Sophie shook her head. And then they approached her and picked her up like a little chick. She really hoped that someone could help her now. "Don't think that there is someone who can save you now. We have prepared it well already. Otherwise, we won't do it in this way. " They had locked the safety door, so no one could save her. Sophie felt hopeless and more scared.

In front of these two men who were murderous, she felt more and more scared. She swallowed hard and then tried to yell out without hesitation because of her desire for survival. However, her mouth was stuffed with cloth before she yelled out, and then she was pushed to the ground. "Do you want to escape? Don't be silly!" The man gave her a slap on her face.

"Don't talk nonsense with her. Let's just get things done." The other man said, "We will be in trouble if we stay here for a long time." She wanted to say something, but she couldn't speak at all because her mouth was stuffed with cloth. She had to keep shaking her head and crying. The other man squatted down and sat on the ground to face her. He sneered and then said, "Do you want to have a talk with us?" Sophie nodded in a hurry because she didn't want to miss the chance to talk with them. The man pulled out the cloth stuffed in her mouth and said, "Go ahead.

It may be your last words."

"However, if you dare to yell out, I will scratch your neck with my knife. Do you think you shout faster or do I scratch your neck faster with a knife?" The man warned her viciously. Sophie shook her head to show them that she dared not to yell out. The cloth was pulled out of her mouth, and then Sophie said while taking a deep breath, "You just work for someone to earn money. I can give you much more money. I can give you all of my property, including cash and houses. Please let me go. I won't tell anyone about it. Please..." Sophie begged them pitifully, because she was really frightened now. She also knew that money was not as important as her life. As long as she was still alive, she was not afraid that she would not be able to get money in the future. So she couldn't die! _____ Chapter 363

Are You Begging Me to Save You?

As long as she stayed together with Sky, she wouldn't be poor even though he had no property. Because he was the son of the Tanner family, he could sue the Tanner family if they took away his legal assets. Therefore, it was important for him to save herself. Moreover, she was pregnant, she couldn't lose her baby because this baby was her bargaining chip to coerce Timothy and keep Sky to stay with her. She couldn't lose her baby because she thought that this baby was still valuable. "Do you know that you are insulting us?" The man sneered and pinched her chin with his hand, "We also have good professional ethics. So it doesn't work no matter how much money you can give us."

"Then... What can I do?" Sophie felt hopeless, and she didn't know what she could do to persuade them. "You just need to cooperate with us obediently to help us complete our task." The man answered. "What's your task? Do you want to kill me?"

Her voice trembled and her face was pale. "We indeed have to kill you..."

"Please let me go. As long as you don't kill me, you can tell me no matter what you want, and I will try my best to give you what you want." Sophie quickly knelt down on the ground and bowed to them with tears, "Besides, my life is not worth money. I'm afraid it will dirty your hands if you kill me. It is not worth it."

"It doesn't work no matter what you say. Once we have been entrusted by others, we will be loyal to our bosses. This is our working style and will never change." Although Sophie was crying with tears and begging them, they didn't sympathize with her. "Don't talk nonsense with her anymore. Let's get things done and then leave." The other man was impatient. "We are in the hospital now.

Won't you be afraid of being arrested by the police if you kill me? Now we live in a society under the rule of law, you can't kill anyone casually. Even if you don't think about yourself, you should think about your family. Right?" The man caught Sophie impatiently with one hand and pinched her chin to stop her from talking with the other hand. And then he took out a small bottle that had been prepared from his bag. He used his thumb to pull the cork down firmly and then opened it. Sophie looked at the bottle with clear liquid, and her eyes were full of horror. She was resisting the bottle all over. "Please... No..." She couldn't yell out at all, and the man quickly poured down the transparent potion into her mouth. When the potion was poured into her mouth, the man loosened her chin and stood up. Sophie pinched her own neck, fell on the ground, and started coughing. "It's done. Let's go!" The man was very satisfied with his work, and then they turned back and left. "Ms. Linder, take good care of yourself." The other man said to her. Sophie caught one of his corners of his pants before he turned back with all of her strength that her fingers turned white. "Please... Don't leave me alone." Sophie coughed again, and she caught his pant tightly because she was afraid that he would leave, "Please... Please give me an antidote... I don't want to die..." She opened her eyes and looked at the man. The man laughed when he saw that she was afraid of death. "Are you afraid of death?" The man asked her. "Yes, I don't want to die. I can do everything for you as long as you spare me..." Sophie tightly grasped the only light of hope in front of her. "If you want to survive, you must exchange it with the other life." The man looked at her from her face to her underbelly. Sophie also looked at her bulging belly. Suddenly, the man kicked her off and then left.

Sophie sat there in a daze, and then she felt pain in her underbelly. She touched her under belly with her trembling hands. It hurt so much, as if there were thousands of silver needles which were piercing her pores, and it also felt like a knife which was scraping back and forth in her underbelly. She was so painful that her face was pale, and there was sweat falling down from her forehead. She was too painful because she couldn't straighten her fingers and toes, and her lip was also bitten by herself and bleeding. "It hurts..." Sophie gritted her teeth tightly to bear the pain, "Ahhh..." Sophie saw that there was blood falling from her legs to the ground, which looked like rouge blooming on rice paper. Quickly, it looked like a painting of blood. Sophie touched the blood with her hands, and her palms quickly became red. Since her belly hurt so much, she realized that they wanted to kill her baby. They wanted to exchange her child's life for her life! Were they trying to warn her?

However, she didn't know who would be so cruel to kill her baby and her. Except Bright, she didn't know who would dare to hurt her in this way. Therefore, she thought it must be Bright. And Bright wanted to hurt her because of Rose. So she hated Rose even more. Sophie was furious, and she thought that she had to take revenge on Rose.

As long as she could survive this time, she would try her best to kill Rose. She would rather die with her than let her go. It was the biggest revenge against Bright by harming Rose. She would never give up like this. Even if she lost the bargaining chip to threaten them because of the loss of her children, she must survive because she wanted revenge. Sophie was lying on the ground. She touched the ground with both hands, and struggled with her feet on the ground, and then she crawled from the corner to the emergency exit gradually. Although it hurt so much, she tried her best to crawl forwards because of her desire to live. When she crawled to the side of the emergency exit, she tried her best to push off the door with her palms which were stained with blood. After trying many times, the door was finally pushed off a little bit, and she was just able to crawl out through the crack of the door. And she left her red handprint by the door. After crawling out, she was dirty. She thought that there must be someone in the underground parking lot. As long as there was someone here, she could be saved. So she yelled out with all of her strength, "Help... Please help..." A passing car stopped and someone got out of the car. With the sound of high heels, someone came to her. Sophie was already exhausted in pain, and her vision began to blur. But she opened her eyes hard and tried to see the person clearly. "Please help... Please help my baby... Please..." The person looked at her and stood still there. There was no light, so Sophie couldn't see the person's face clearly. "Sophie, are you asking me for help?" The person said to her slowly, "Do you know who I am?"

"Who are you?" Sophie tried her best to open her eyes. Finally, she saw the person clearly, and she was scared to death, "It's you! Why are you here?" _____ Chapter 364 She Had to Survive

Sophie couldn't believe that it was Rose. When she was in trouble and needed some help, it was Rose who was standing in front of her. Why? As Rose appeared here, Sophie believed her inference even more that the reason why she was harmed must have something to do with Rose. Otherwise, how could she appear here by coincidence?

In her opinion, they didn't like each other at all, and they even wanted to kill each other. Therefore, she didn't expect that Rose would save her. And she was unwilling to ask her for help because she really hated her the most.

If she asked Rose for help, it would be a humiliation for her. Because from then on, as long as she was alive, she would always owe Rose.

Sophie gritted her teeth tightly and held her fist tightly. Although it hurt so much in her underbelly, she was unwilling to ask her for help.

"Sophie, why are you so surprised when you see me?" Rose asked her, and she saw that Sophie was lying on the ground and she looked very bad. "... " Sophie didn't answer her, and she lowered her head to avoid her eyes. Rose saw that her face and lips were pale, she was sweaty and her clothes were stained with blood. Especially her blood flowed from her legs to the safety gate, and the red blood stains on the ground were horrifying. Rose couldn't help but frown when she saw Sophie's situation. It seemed that something had happened to her just now. "What happened?" She didn't care about her, and she was just curious. "It's none of your business." Sophie didn't want to tell her what had happened just now. "You really look bad right now. Do you need some help? " Rose bent down to see her face and asked her with a smile. Sophie thought that Rose was laughing at her when she saw her smile, which really made her feel sad and she was even difficult to breath. Every time she breathed, she felt pain, as if she was going to die. Sophie didn't know how she could be able to endure this kind of pain like tearing her body. She was once not able to endure any pain, and she was effeminate. Every time she was injured, she would cry and asked Sky to comfort her. Now she could even endure such a pain... So she wouldn't ask Rose for help, because she wouldn't allow Rose to laugh at her. What was more, she believed that the reason why she was harmed must have something to do with Rose. Therefore, she refused Rose, "Rose, you don't need to pretend to care about me. You must be very happy because I have been harmed like this. Right? I knew that it was all because of you."

"Because of me? Why?" Rose asked. "Although you can take advantage of your pretty face to trick Bright, Sky and May, I know you just pretend to be kind and you are really vicious."

"I think they are so silly that they can be tricked by you, and they even think that you are nice and kind. What you have done insidiously will be exposed to the public one day! Rose, since you hurt me like this, I will never let you go!"

"Sophie, are you a dog? Do you always bite others? I think you are going to be crazy." Rose stood still and said to her calmly, "I am not a goddess. I won't allow you to hurt me again."

"Since you don't need my help, you should take good care of yourself. And I don't want to help you either, because you deserve it." After she finished speaking, she turned back and left without any hesitation. She walked towards his car, and then got into the car and drove away. And Sophie was lying on the ground, and it hurt so much that she almost went faint.

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves She was too tired to crawl. She felt that she was losing her strength gradually, and she began to lose consciousness... She said in a low voice, "Help... Help me... I don't want to die. Sophie was lying on the ground without moving. She didn't know whether she could survive. Even if she survived, it was impossible to save her baby. Sophie lowered her head, and she tried not to fall asleep under the help of her desire to survive. She must be sober because she had to fight against Rose. Since she didn't die, she wouldn't give up easily. She suddenly tried to crawl forwards with all of her strength. Although she crawled slowly, she knew that she had to save herself. Otherwise, she would die... After a long time, she moved to the track for cars. A car just came out, and the lights hit her." Although she couldn't see the person carefully, she knew that there was someone who got out of the car and then walked toward her. She was surprised. However, she almost couldn't keep herself sober before the person approached her. She passed out into a coma and plunged into the boundless darkness.

Time passed by. And it went round and round from day to night...

In the dark, there was a light shining from her head. There was a person who was approaching her slowly. When the person approached her, she finally saw that it was Sky. He looked indifferent, and he said to her without any concern, "Sophie, you should leave now."

"Sky, what are you talking about?" Her voice trembled because she could believe that he would ask her to leave. "I allowed you to stay in the Tanner family just because of the baby. Now that the baby has passed away, I don't need to ask you to stay in the Tanner family. It will be the best choice for you by leaving here."

Sky's words sounded unfeeling and made her feel sad. Sophie bit her lip and tried not to cry with tears. She looked up at him and said, "Sky, please give me one more chance. We are young so we can have a baby again in the future..."

"Don't be silly." Sky wanted to leave. Sophie rushed to him and hugged his legs to stop him from leaving, "Sky, I love you. You can't treat me in this way."

"Get away from me!" Sky kicked her off without any mercy. Sky kicked her chest heavily and then she vomited a mouthful of blood. When she got better, Sky had already left and disappeared into the darkness. She thought that it was unfair, so she hated her, "Ahh..." After she screamed, she finally realized the facts. She had already burst into tears when she opened her eyes. All she could see was a piece of white and strangers. "Ms. Linder, are you OK? I'll call the doctor." A fat middle-aged woman looked at her with a smile when she saw Rose wake up. Sophie caught the woman quickly and asked, "Who are you?"

"I am a nursing worker who will take care of you. You can call me Jemima." Jemima felt hurt as she held her tightly, "Ms. Linder, can you let me go?"

___ Chapter 365 She Killed Our Baby
Sophie had to let her go. Jemima said to her as soon as she let her go, "I'll take some clean water for you to freshen up."

"No, thanks." Sophie said. "Okay. I'll call the doctor." Jemima thought for a while and said again, "Ms. Linder, do you want some water or what else do you need?"

"Where's my baby?" When Sophie asked her about it, she was so frightened to get the answer that she trembled. "Baby?" Jemima blinked and she didn't understand. "How's my baby? Where is my baby?" Sophie touched her belly and she felt more and more frightened. When she woke up, she felt that her underbelly had been flat, and she knew that her baby had gone. Actually, when she bled a lot and fainted, she knew that she would lose her baby. However, when she really lost her baby, she couldn't accept the fact and she even felt very painful. She knew that she'd better not to give birth to this baby to cover up her own lies because Sky wasn't the biological father of her baby, but this was a baby who was connected with her, and it had been in her womb for several months, so she loved it somehow. When she thought of her child's death, she couldn't wait to peel off

Rose's skin and drink her blood because she really hated her. "I don't know." Jemima shook her head. "Then what else do you know?" Sophie suddenly looked at Jemima with anger, "Who asked you to take care of me?"

"A handsome man asked me to take care of you." Jemima answered.

"What's his name? Sky Tanner?" Sophie thought of Sky, because she thought that he was the most handsome guy in her mind, and no one could bear comparison with him. "I heard his subordinate called him Mr. Tanner. But I don't know whether he is Sky Tanner..." Jemima felt that Sophie's gaze was a bit creepy. This woman looked beautiful, but she was full of hostility. It seemed that it would be hard to get along with her. "It's him. I want to see him right now." Sophie tried to suppress her grievance and fury. "I... I don't know where Mr. Tanner is. I am just employed by him to take good care of you. And that's all." Jemima also felt very sorry. She was just a nursing worker, and she didn't know anything. Sophie looked at the bedside table and didn't see her bag. So she asked again, "Where is my phone?"

"I have packed your items into the cabinet. I will take them to you. "

Jemima walked towards the cabinet and took out the bag.

Sophie started to find her phone as soon as she took over her bag, only to find that it was powered off. "Give me your phone." Sophie put her bag on her side and asked Jemima. Jemima gave her phone to Sophie, and Sophie took it over quickly and then she called Sky. However, Sky didn't answer her call. She kept calling him, but he didn't answer her call. Sophie felt bad and she thought that she was abandoned by Sky just like she was abandoned by him in her dream that night. She kept calling him until he answered her call. As soon as he answered the call, she said to him in a hurry, "Sky, it's me..." "Ms. Linder, I am Rex Cox, the assistant of Mr. Tanner. He is in a meeting now. What's wrong? I can send your word later if you need. " Rex looked at Sky who was sitting opposite. He was reading some documents and he didn't care about Sophie at all, as if it was none of his business. "I want to see Sky right now!" Sophie held the phone tightly and ordered him. "Ms. Linder, he is not available to see you now." Rex said to her calmly. "Where is he? Is he in the company now?" Sophie thought that Sky should be in the company according to what she had been told just now. "After the meeting, he has to go out to participate in a social engagement at once. Ms. Linder, Mr. Tanner is really busy. He will visit you once he is free." Rex answered. "Please tell him I want to see him as soon as possible." Sophie said to him with anger.

A Pakistani Man Has Accidentally Found A Way Of Earning More Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

"Well, I will." After hanging up, Rex felt relaxed. He put the phone on the large log desk and said, "Mr. Tanner, I have tried my best."

"Take this phone. If she calls again, help me figure out a way to send her away." Sky stopped reading the documents and said to him indifferently. "Mr. Tanner, can I say something?" Rex wanted to give him some suggestions. Sky gestured to him to go ahead. And then Rex said, "I don't think it will work in this way. I think you can go to see her and talk with her officially to show your attitude to her, so that she can understand what she should do later."

"I don't need you to teach me what to do." Sky glanced at Rex. And Rex didn't dare to say anything again. "I just don't want to see her." Sky continued, "I know I should. But I don't want to do it right now. I want to make her anxious, so that she can know that I don't care about her, and I have just tricked her these days."

"You are always thoughtful." Rex flattered, "If there's nothing else to do, I will leave first." When Rex intended to leave, Sky knocked on the desk with his right hand and reminded him, "You've forgotten the phone." Rex quickly took up the phone and then left. Sky remained unaffected by her. He continued to read the files piled up on his desk page by page, and it seemed that he didn't feel bored at all. After work, Sky stayed in the company for half an hour, then he drove home for dinner. His father Sam and sister Alaya were both at home. After dinner, Sam was going to have dinner in May. Sky said to him, "Dad, let me take it to the hospital for my mom."

"No, thanks." This was the first time Sam had spoken to his son during these days, "You don't need to go to the hospital, or your mom will be angry when she sees you."

"Dad, I won't make my mom angry again." Sky said to him gently. "Sky, I think you need to consider for us from now on." Sam frowned, "You should understand us."

"Dad, I got it. I will do better." Sky took up the insulation barrels in his hands and said, "I would like to go to the hospital to visit my mom now." And then he went to the hospital and had dinner with May. After dinner, he talked with May for a while, and then it was time for him to go to visit Sophie. As soon as Jemima walked out of the ward, she saw Sky. She said, "Hello, Mr. Tanner. Ms. Linder misses you so much."

"You can leave now. Don't come in if I don't ask." Sky closed the door and walked into the ward. Sophie smiled at once as soon as she saw Sky, and she got up from the bed quickly. "Stay on the bed." Sky said. "Do you worry about me?" Sophie felt warm in her mind. "Sophie, don't be silly." Sky shook his head, "I just come to make things clear with you."

"What... What do you mean?" Sophie was frightened, "Do you want to talk about our baby?" She continued because she didn't want to give Sky the chance to talk about it, "Sky, you must take revenge for our baby." And then she cried with tears. Sky was very calm, and he looked indifferently, "Why?"

"Rose killed our baby." Chapter 366 I Would Rather Die in Her Arms Sophie cried and also convicted Rose. Sky wasn't surprised when he heard that. It could be seen that there were some emotional fluctuations in his eyes. He didn't believe Sophie at all. And he didn't think that Rose would kill her baby. "Sky, this is our first baby. It should have been the eldest child of in the Tanner family. But Rose killed it. You must take revenge on her." Sophie continued to slander Rose. Even though he didn't trust her, she wouldn't let Rose off. Anyway, she was not afraid of anything. Even if she had to die, she would take Rose to go to hell together. "Sophie, I don't think Rose will kill your baby." Sky showed his trust in Rose. Sophie also knew that Sky wouldn't believe her. She became his wife by tricking and harming Rose before, so Sky wouldn't believe her again after he knew the truth. "Sky, I know you won't believe me. But it is true that she killed our baby." Sophie felt sad.

It was because I didn't trust Rose that I doubted her and hurt her. Now, I will no longer believe you. Even though she hates you, she would rather hurt you than your baby. Because she can distinguish right from wrong and she knows that the baby is innocent. I won't suspect her or even hurt him or take revenge on her again because of you." Sky had lost the one he loved most and his happiness, so he wouldn't believe Sophie again. He wouldn't be tricked by her again. "Sky, I was wrong before. But it was because I love you so much. This time, I swear I am not lying. It's true that she killed our baby. Please believe me..." Sophie tried to persuade Sky. "I will no longer trust you. Sophie, never try to deceive me again." Sky said to her firmly. Sophie cried with tears. She frowned and she looked as fragile as glass at that moment, so pitiful that one would want to hug her tightly. However, Sky had known what kind of person she was, so he wouldn't be deceived by her again. "Sophie, I came here to tell you that I won't love you anymore. And our relationship is over."

"Sky, what... What do you mean?" Sophie was distressed. Sky took out a piece of document from his pocket on his coat and threw it on the quilt, "This is a divorce agreement. Sign it." Sophie didn't read the agreement at all. She answered, "I won't sign it. Never."

"Sky, is it because our baby was killed? I... I think we can have a baby again as we are still young. Sky, if you don't want to take revenge for our baby, I won't push you. I won't complain about anything even though you want to protect Rose... I will be obedient. Please don't divorce me."

"Sophie, don't you understand? I should have divorced you already. If it's not because I want to protect her, I wouldn't have been with you again." Sky sneered, "You know what? I felt very sick every day being with you." Sophie was really shocked by his harsh words, and was rendered depressed.

Rose! It was Rose again! "Sky, you told me that you wanted to start a new life with me for our baby..."

"I did lie to you. How could I want to start a new life with you? What's more, I am not the biological father of this baby. Although the baby is innocent, I don't want to its dad."

"Yes, you are. Please believe me." Sophie lied like before. "Sophie, you always lie." Sky sneered, "Now, I might as well tell you that I have never loved you in the past five years! I had had gratitude and affection for you, but when I knew what you had done before, I stopped feeling guilty, and I only hated you and thought you were disgusting."

"No, that's not true."

"Believe it or not, I just tell you the truth. And you have to sign this agreement, or I will sue you."

"I won't sign it."

"Sophie, I am not as patient as before. This time, you can consider it in three days." Sky gave her a deadline, "Just call me after you sign it. I got to go." When he intended to leave, Sophie called him quickly, "Wait a minute." Sky didn't turn back, "There's no need to talk much about it.

And, I

won't see you again."

"No, Sky..." Sophie rushed towards him and stopped him from leaving. She said to him with sadness, "Sky, are you mad at me because I didn't protect our baby well? Then we can have more children..." Sophie rushed into his arms and struggled to kiss his face. However, Sky felt that she was disgusting. He held her hands and pushed her away hard, and then she fell down on the ground. "Sophie, stop! You will make me hate you more by doing so." Sophie sat on the ground and weeping, "Sky, I shouldn't have deceived and hurt Rose those years, but it was because I loved you and I wanted to save you. You know what? She hesitated for a long time, and she couldn't decide whether she should save you when you were sick. And I kept persuading her to save you by giving birth to a child. I have worked hard to help you."

"Without me, you couldn't have been cured, and you can't be so healthy now. Sky, I am the one who saved you. You can't treat me like this. Even though you have never loved me, I can try my best to love you. This is just my love alone."

"These are highfalutin explanations." Sky thought Sophie was simply shameless, "If you really loved me, you wouldn't have done these bad things, you wouldn't have deceived me, and you wouldn't have separated me and Rose to make me miserable."

"I would rather you never loved me so that we wouldn't suffer so much. You know what? I would rather die than be separated from her. Even if I die, I am willing to die in her arms, which will be better than regretting this every day." ___ Chapter 367 We Are Trying on Wedding Dresses

Today

The pain suppressed in Sky's heart eventually broke out. When he looked at Sophie, there was only hate and coldness in his eyes without any warmth. Sophie was covered by such coldness, as if she was trapped in an icehouse so that she was too numb to move. "Sky, you are just blinded by anger." She was never willing to accept the truth. "Sophie, I hate you!" Finishing these words, Sky turned around and left in order not to stay with her. She stared at the closed door until her eyes got sore and she was near to tears. She started to bawl when she felt the pain was piercing through her body. Today it was as if she had fallen from heaven to hell. She could feel Sky's determination that he would never get back to her. Jemima opened the door and stood there, looking at her sympathetically, "Ms. Linder, please don't cry. You have just miscarried. Crying is bad for your eyes." Sophie didn't respond but kept crying, which distressed Jemima. "I understand that you are sad losing the child, but your health is more important." Jemima came up trying to hold her. "Don't touch me!" She shook Jemima's hands off with tears on her face. She stood up slowly with a trace of malice in her eyes and rushed out of the ward. She ran towards an elevator and saw Sky enter it. She walked to the elevator and found that it stopped on the sixth floor, where May's ward was. She took the elevator to the sixth floor and eased towards the door of May's ward when it was in the dead of night. She opened the door and entered the ward. There she saw Sky through the lounge door. He sat by May's bed. His face was not as cold and gloomy as before but mild. "Have a Drink, mom." He handed a cup of water to May, "I have asked the doctor. He said you are all right now and you can leave here tomorrow."

"My body is all right and the wound can heal as well. But, I am still felling nervous..." She sighed before finishing her words, "I had a dream yesterday. I dreamed that the baby Sophie is carrying is not yours, not a Tanner. Sky, Sophie is wily. Recalling how badly she had treated Rose in those days and let you and Rose end in regret, I am afraid that you will fall for her trick."

"Mom, don't worry." Sky held her hands and smiled, "I have made it clear to her that our relationship is over."

"Really?" May was surprised, "Have you given it careful thought? What about the baby? What if the baby is yours?"

"Mom, the baby can't be mine." Sky wiped away her concern, "I am done with her, so please don't hurt yourself anymore. Mom, I do things by measure and by reason. What you need to do is trust me."

"So did you stay with her before so as to make sure if the baby is yours?" She figured out the reason that only when he was with Sophie could he verify whether Sophie had lied. "Yes." He didn't tell her the truth, "Now everything is clear, there is no need to keep her. I gave her a divorce agreement. If she doesn't sign within three days, I will take legal action. Mom, I am always your good son." May stretched out her hand to fondle his head and her eyes were moist, "Now I am relieved. Sky, Sophie doesn't deserve you. Even if the baby is yours, I won't let her be with you and get in the Tanner family." "Mom, don't mention her anymore." Sky even felt disgusted when hearing her name. Therefore, the time he spent with her when he pretended to love her really got to him. Now he was eventually relieved.

"Okay, I won't mention her anymore." May smiled with delight and this was her most sincere smile these days. Hearing that, Sophie was totally upset. She returned to her own ward absent-mindedly. With the talk between May and Sky in her mind, she was rendered extremely painful by their harsh words. Her chest was sore as if blocked by dark clouds. Sophie kicked out Jemima and took out her phone,

"Timothy..." Timothy heard her crying and asked, "What happened?"

After crying for a while, she sniffled, "Timothy, I am fine. We need to fix May right away."

"Right away? Like... now?" He asked. "The sooner the better. I can't wait another second." She acted like a spoiled child, which worked for Timothy every time. She said, "May will be discharged tomorrow."

"Okay. I get it. Wait for my good news." He promised. Throwing the phone on the bed, she sat on the bed with her knees bent, held her legs in arms, put her chin on legs and stared straight with evil thoughts in her mind.

In her mind, May was the biggest barricade that kept her away from Sky and stirred things up. And it was also because May liked Rose so that Sky broke up with her. Therefore, May had to be killed.

In fact, she was just cheating herself as if been bewitched by a demon.

Rose would follow May. Only one of them could survive and that would be Sophie herself. Rose brought grandpa home recently and her work was going well. Because of work, she had more contact with Sky than before, but she had talked only about work with him and kept him at a distance. This afternoon she would have a negotiation with Sky in terms of work in Beach Hotel. "Rose, thanks for your efforts these days. I would like to treat you to dinner." Sky extended an invitation to Rose. "Mr. Tanner, I..." Her phone rang and it was Bright, "Honey, I have been here and you can come down now." Rose glanced at Sky and said, "Mr. Tanner, I am sorry that my husband has come to pick me up."

"Okay. I'll bring you there." Sky was a little bit upset. "No, thanks." Rose was afraid that Bright and Sky would get angry when meeting each other. "But I also need to go downstairs. Let's go." Sky walked towards an elevator. Getting out of the hotel, Rose saw Bright standing in front of the car. He was tall and attractively handsome. Seeing them come out together, Bright walked up to them and held Rose's shoulder, "Thank you, Mr. Tanner."

"Mr. Lee, are you available today? I would like to treat you and Rose to dinner."

"What a pity! We are trying on wedding dresses today." Bright showed it off to Sky. _____ Chapter 368 It Depends on Mrs. Lee Hearing that, Sky tried hard to keep calm on the surface, but there was a storm in his heart and disappointments in his eyes. "Well.

Congratulations." Sky smiled bitterly and sent them his sincere wishes. Although he was reluctant and upset, he clearly knew that he was not qualified to give her happiness. Why not bless them generously?

Perhaps she would still have feelings for him. "Thanks." Rose appreciated that and gave her wishes, "I hope one day you can find your happiness." Maybe she had complained of God's injustice to her and of Sky's distrust, but now the misunderstanding between her and Sky had been cleared up. The reason why they would be like this was mostly because of Sophie's tricks, so she didn't hate Sky and now she regarded him as her friend and brother. "Let's go." Bright opened the door and helped her get on the car considerately. Then he got on the car and left. He held to the wheel and glanced at Rose next to him, "Let's have dinner first."

"Try on the dresses first, or I am afraid that I will be too full to wear them." Rose asked, "Has Nora arrived?" She had made an appointment with Nora that they needed to get married on the same day or be the other's bridesmaid. However, when Nora got married, she was not in City H. Now she was going to have a wedding, but Nora was married.

It was said that once getting married, one could not be groomsman or bridesmaid. So it was a pity for them. However, Rose didn't care about it.

She just wanted her best confidante to be her bridesmaid even though Nora had been married. "Just ask her." His voice was filled with pleasure because their wedding was approaching. He was so expectant and excited that he was just like an immature youth. After Rose texted to ask Nora, she looked up at his handsome face, "Do you mind if I insist on her being my bridesmaid? Would your family..."

"As long as you are happy." His face was filled with affection for her and his voice was so mild, "As my wife, you don't need to care about how others view or think of you. I will always be with you." Rose was overwhelmed by such warm words, her heart bursting with happiness. "Thanks for your consideration. I appreciate it." She laid her hand on his knee. "Polite again? How can I make my wife remember to stop thanking me

for this and that?" He stopped the car when the traffic light turned red.

He held her hand and unfastened his seat belt. He leaned forward and kissed her lips, then there was a tenderness between their lips and teeth. She was made obsessed, but she still kept a glimmer of sanity, dangerous." He let go of her lips reluctantly, fondled her ruddy lips and her, "If you distance yourself again with me, this will be the punishment." Rose's face turned red, "How can it be punishment? You are clearly looking out for your own good."

"It's

"Don't expose me, Mrs. Lee." He smiled with his deep eyes. Before the traffic light turned green, he had already fastened his seat belt and started the car. Soon they reached the best wedding dress store in City H. Nora was there waiting for them and drinking coffee elegantly. "Here you are!"

Nora put down the platinum coffee mug and stood up.

She was wearing a soft V-neck dress and tassel earrings with her slender waist and figure, which was really appealing and brilliant. "Have you selected the dress?" Rose asked. "Rose, come and see who this is." Nora brought her to the zone for wedding dresses. Then the silk drapery of the circular dressing room was pulled back by the staff and a woman in purple came out. The purple was noble and bright. The chiffon was light and soft with delicate embroidery, which looked beautiful and elegant. "Jane?" Rose was surprised to see her. She hadn't taken time off to tell Jane about the wedding. Because she wanted to go to City Y to send Jane an invitation in person once the date was fixed so as to surprise her. However, Rose was one who was surprised. "Rose, congratulations!" Jane stepped forward and her smile revealed her blessing for Rose. "Thanks." Rose received her wishes and said to Nora, "Do you want Jane to be my bridesmaid with you? It's a great idea." That her best girl friends could be her bridesmaid really made her happy. "Rose, I know Jane is your best friend in City Y and it was she that helped you get through the toughest years. Therefore, she is more suitable to be your bridesmaid." Nora made efforts to persuade Jane to cooperate with her, "Compared with the bridesmaid, I have a preferred role in your wedding." "What's that?" Rose asked. "The wedding MC." Nora said, "Though we cannot be each other's bridesmaid, our sincerity is enough. Moreover, Jane is single, and I am married. So she needs more chances to meet some single men." Though she said so, she knew that if she was going to be the bridesmaid as a married woman, it might dissatisfy the Lee family. "Have you considered it carefully?" Rose didn't continue to persuade her, because no one could change what she decided. "Sure." Nora nodded and looked at Bright behind Rose, "However, to be the wedding MC needs Mr. Lee's agreement." "It will be okay if I agree. Don't mind about him." Rose held Nora's and Jane's hands, "I will be happy as long as you are here." "... " Nora glanced at Bright who was not able to join their conversation. Bright mildly held Rose's shoulders in his arms and said, "It depends on Mrs. Lee." "Mr. Lee, are you scared of your wife?" Nora wanted to laugh, but she dared not. "No. I respect her no matter what she does." Bright explained. "Okay, I understand." Nora nodded, "Then it's a deal."

"Sure, no one can make it except you." Rose thought that would be a good arrangement. "Okay, now try on your wedding dresses with Mr. Lee. Jane and I haven't had dinner. We are looking forward to your treat." Nora pushed her towards the three models in wedding dresses in the middle. _____ Chapter 369 No One Is More Beautiful than Mrs. Lee Bright had been taken to the men's dressing room by other staff. "These three wedding dresses were just shipped back from Europe. They are not only man-made and are the latest styles, but also the most beautiful. Pick one and we are going to take the fabulous wedding photos. The most fascinated ones!" Nora introduced the dresses to Rose. Looking at the three white and holy wedding dresses, Rose couldn't help admiring the designers who made the wedding dresses. They were so beautiful that she dared not touch them. "Jane, which one do you think is the best? I have difficulty in choosing one. I think they are all wonderful." Rose looked at the delicate lace and the shiny pearl diamond, and found it was hard to pick one that she loved. "I have no idea either," replied Jane. The bridesmaid dress was custom-made for Jane, which was suitable for her both in color and in style. "If you like them all, take them away to take photos. Anyway, Mr. Lee won't mind spending money on it." Nora put her arm around Rose's shoulder. "Then you don't have to choose." Rose looked at Nora with a look that seemed to say that money was not to be wasted in such way. "Silly girl, a woman only gets married once in her life, so she has to be very beautiful." Nora pointed to one of the dresses and said, "Try all three before you decide." Nora beckoned the staff to help and led Rose into the wedding dressing room. Putting on a wedding dress was a tedious and difficult task, so before his harsh and oppressive aura, making him look tender and gentle. This man was a synonym for unsurpassed elegance. Nora and Jane were both fascinated by the noble and elegant Bright and couldn't help gazing at him. Nora had seen many excellent men, but a man like Bright who had superior temperament, was as bright as the sun, much more excellent than many other people. She admitted that Bright was the most handsome man she had ever seen, but she still had Oscar in her heart. If he were still around, how handsome he would be in a wedding suit. Thinking of this, Nora's eyes got misty. At that moment, the staff pulled back the silk curtain and Rose went out of the dressing room. Her wedding dress was designed with off-shoulder style, with pearls embedded around the edge of the collar, which tailored for her shape, and showed her beautiful white neck, sexy collarbone and smooth and fair shoulder. The layers of transparent hemlines of the wedding dress, like soft cloud, like smoke, were beautiful and fragile, which astonished everyone who saw the dress. Rose came out of the dressing room slowly, like a noble goddess. Her beauty was beyond words. Rose noticed something was wrong with Nora, "Nora, what's wrong with you?" Nora's eyes were red. "I'm fine. I just think of him." Rose naturally knew who Nora referred to. It was her piano teacher, her first love, Oscar. Nora wanted nothing more than to spend the rest of her life with him, but Oscar's death made it impossible for them to spend the rest life together. There properly never came the day when Oscar would marry her. This was Nora's second regret. "Don't think too much." Rose didn't know what to do to make Nora get over the man. "He misses you in the other world and wants you to be happy." Nora took a deep breath and raised a bright smile, "Well, it's your happy day today. Don't focus on me. You are the protagonists."

Rose had changed her wedding dress, Bright had got changed. He was wearing a pure white shirt, a milky white vest and coat, and a tie of the same color. The white color softened his cold look and lightened

Nora pushed Rose to Bright and let them stand straight. Then she turned to Jane and said, "Jane, do you think they are a perfect match?" "Of course." Jane gave a thumb up at Rose. Rose knew that these two friends would make her happy by saying nice things. She tilted her head and looked up at Bright. "Do I look good in this dress?"

"No one is more beautiful than you, Mrs. Lee," Bright said seriously. "Oh, how sweet they are." Nora pretended to look jealous. "Ms. Cooper, you're jealous." Bright reached out to hold Rose by the waist. "For the sake that you are Rose's good friend, I won't quarrel with you." Nora's eyes widened. "Well, I am jealous," Nora admitted. "Darling, change another suit and I will change other dresses. Let's see which one is more beautiful." Rose sent Bright away.

In this way, Rose changed the three wedding dresses, and Bright, like Nora, ordered all wedding dresses. What's more, there were Chinese-styled dress and skirts. So, it added up to almost ten sets of dresses. Since Bright didn't feel it bothered, Rose just accepted it. It was dark after they tried on the wedding clothes, and they were all hungry and tired. And then, the four of them went to Nora's restaurant and had a feast. "I have a room for Miss Smith at the Four Seasons Hotel, and I will have someone drive you there," Bright said.

"I took Jane to City H, so she should live in my house." Nora pulled Jane to her. "Living in the hotel is not as warm as in home."

"I thought Miss Smith will be more comfortable in the hotel." Bright had his reason to arrange a room for Miss Smith. After all, he and Rose were married, so were Nora and Alan. Jane was not familiar with them, except for Rose. Bright was afraid that Jane would feel restrained at staying with them. Living in the hotel was certainly more comfortable. "Jane, it's up to you. Do you want to stay at my house or in a hotel?" Nora asked her. "Ms. Cooper, thank you for your kindness. I'd like to stay at the hotel. I don't want to see you and Rose showing affection in front of me." Jane didn't want to disturb them. So, Jane was sent to the Four Seasons Hotel by Bill. Nora and Rose bade goodbyes and went home respectively. Back at home, Rose went to see her daughter first. Doris was lying in bed. When Rose came back, Doris asked Rose to tell her a bedtime story. Bright, on the other hand, went to the study after he received a phone call. "Mr. Lee, I will act tomorrow. I will do what I promised you and I will give you the evidence." the man said. "But there are some things I need your help."

"Yes?" Bright answered him quickly. Then the man explained the plan briefly and highlighted what Bright was going to do. "That's what you have to do. I'm sure she can't escape this time." The man was full of confidence. "Let her have a good taste of what I have had." _____ Chapter 370 The Poorer Person Is You

After staying in the hospital for three days, Sophie was discharged. The doctor told her to have a good rest at home. When she left, Sophie asked, "Doctor, am I all right? How long will it take me to have a baby if I get well and have a good rest as you said?"

The doctor frowned slightly as he met Sophie's expectant eyes. "Ms. Linder, generally it will take half a year of recovery before you want to have a baby again after an abortion, but your abortion was not a spontaneous one, but a forced termination by a medicine, which is very bad for your health..."

Sophie's eyes fluttered. "Doctor, what do you mean? Could you make that clearer?"

"The medicine is very strong and it has caused damage to your uterus, so you need more time to recover and try not to get pregnant for the moment," the doctor told the truth. "You should know that your chances of getting pregnant again are very low..." Sophie felt as if she had been struck by lightning and looked pale. She staggered back and managed to hold on to the back of the chair to prevent her from falling down. "Do you mean that I'll never get pregnant again?" Sophie's voice sounded sad. "I can't have children anymore?"

"I didn't mean that, but the chances are low." The doctor put his hands into the pockets of his white gown and continued, "Even if you are pregnant again now, your health might not allow you to have the baby, and even if you do, it will affect your delivery or your life, so I advise you not to have a child." The doctor spoke out the cruel truth, which made Sophie, who had been disappointed and uncomfortable, could not bear it. She shook her head in disbelief. "No... it's not true. I want my baby, and I want to be a mother!"

"Ms. Linder, your health is more important than other things, so take good care of yourself." The doctor had a trace of sympathy for her. "If you really like children, you can go to the orphanage to adopt a kid, so that you can be a mother."

"Adoption? I can have a baby. Why should I adopt one? Besides, an adopted kid will never equal to the kid you give birth to. I just want to give my husband a child, a child that belongs to us, you know?" Sophie felt that sadness and despair had surrounded her tightly, making her feel suffocated. "When you bring it up as your own child, it will feel like your child." The doctor just gave her some advice out of kindness. "What's the use of it if we don't have blood relation?!" Sophie could not control her emotions and bellowed. "It's not our baby after all!" Doctor frowned, "Ms. Linder, this is the best way out. Of course, it's up to you whether to adopt a child. I'm just making a suggestion. Well, I have work to do, so I have to go now." Sophie felt her legs weak and soft and squatted down leaning against the chair. In her eyes, there was nothing but desolate to despair. "Ms. Linder, the medical technology is advanced now. As long as you follow the doctor's advice to take good care of yourself and recover, there will be chance to get pregnant again," Jemima advised Sophie. "You need to get over it." Sophie's eyes blurred with tears. "Is there any hope?" "Of course there is hope if you don't give up." Jemima encouraged her. Sophie didn't believe it. She just thought the world was hopeless and she couldn't see where she was going. It took her a long time to collect her mind. She left the hospital alone, not knowing where to go. Sky had never appeared since he gave her the divorce agreement that night and said those cruel words to her.

It was the third day, and instead of signing the divorce documents, she tore them up again. What she did was to escape from the broken love and miserable marriage. She still harbored the hope that as long as she did not agree to divorce, she could be with Sky again. She was not willing to let go of Sky, even if Sky had shattered her heart into pieces, she was still deeply in love with him. The more Sophie thought about it, the sadder she felt. Tears welled up her eyes and fell like pearls. It was not until the driver asked her where she was going that she replied, "Sir, to the SpringHill Villa." The only place she could think of was SpringHill Villa, where she and Sky lived together. Sophie returned to SpringHill Villa again and walked to the front door. She gently pushed open the courtyard door and walked to the gate, slowly reached for the lock and tried to unlock it with her fingerprint, but the door didn't open. She tried a few more times, but failed. She smiled a wry smile and looked up at the familiar environment.

sweet and heartbroken memories welled up in her heart. She felt so painful that she almost collapsed. "Open the door, Sky!" Sophie knocked at the door. "I'm back... Sky, open the door..." Sophie stood there alone, with no one responding to her but wind. After a while, she walked out frustratingly, and just as she reached the gate of the courtyard, Nora happened to walk by. Nora had already walked past, but suddenly stopped and stepped back to look at Sophie. Nora wore a pair of pink sunglasses on her delicate face, which added the chic glamour to her already-glamorous look. "Oh, it's you." Nora wore a black undershirt with shorts, with a khaki windbreaker and black boots, which made her legs look straight and slim and white. Sophie glanced gloomily at Nora. "Sky hasn't been back in many days." Nora glanced up at the deserted villa, "And I heard that this villa has been put up for sale, so you are abandoned by Sky and have no place to go? Well, it's pathetic to be dumped by the same person twice..."

"But Sophie, you deserve it! How could you be so insidious and mean! Do you think that if Rose and Sky were set apart, you would be really happy and in love? Sky is not a fool. He's woken up to the reality. You should wake up to the reality as well! A person like you doesn't deserve to be in love!"

"Nora, it's none of your business!" Sophie retorted. "I don't deserve to be in love? The one I love is alive at least. How about yours? He can't come alive anymore! And you will never have the chance to be with him in your whole life. You are the one who is poorer!" Nora slapped Sophie in anger. "How do you know that so well?" _____ Chapter 371 Use Whichever Way That Is the Most Painful

Nora wondered why Oscar was trapped in the villa. Why the villa would be caught in fire, and why the police figured out that the cause of the fire was an accident?

Only Rose knew what was going on between her and Oscar, and why Sophie knew she loved him?

"Why do I know so well? Ask your good friend Rose." Sophie stroked her hot face with a smirk. "She told me everything, otherwise I wouldn't have known anything about you."

"Oh, Mr. Stevens was such a handsome man. He came over to teach Rose the piano at that time so often. He was so elegant and gentle, as nice as the bright and clear moon in the sky. Not only you, but Rose and I were very fond of Mr. Stevens."

"But you fell in love with Mr. Stevens at the first sight, so you confessed to him first, and Rose could hide her love in the heart. It's a pity that such an excellent and wonderful person was loved by you. He not only failed to get the true love, but even lost his life. I really felt sorry about that."

"Nora, what if you're cocky? See what happened to the man you fell in love with? You are the one who doesn't deserve to be loved!" Sophie's words cut into Nora's heart, causing her scabby wounds to bleed, and making her body and soul ache. Nora's face was as white as a sheet. She clenched her hands and managed to calm down herself. "Don't talk nonsense. I won't let what you said to sow discord between Rose and me."

"I'm not sowing discord. I'm just telling the truth. Why Mr. Stevens was trapped in a deserted villa and burned to death?" Sophie smiled at Nora as if she were looking at a fool. "That's because your love is so beautiful that someone is jealous of you so that person wants to break it! And Mr. Stevens died a miserable death!"

"Sophie, you're crazy. I won't believe a word you said." Nora firmly believed that Sophie was just trying to sabotage her relationship with Rose. "I'm not Sky who could be set up by you."

"Then take my words as talking bullshit, because I know how desperate the cruel truth is. It's understandable that you want to escape from it." Sophie looked sincere. "I wish you could escape it your whole life and never know the cruel truth."

"Don't talking nonsense again." Nora looked at Sophie haughtily, as if she were pitiful for her, "I pity you today so I will let you go for once. If you show up in front of me next time, I will take back what you owe Rose!" As Nora turned to leave, Sophie looked at her tall figure and smiled, "What a good friend you are," she said. "I wish your friendship could last forever." Sophie also turned around and left in the opposite direction. She went out of the villa and sat down in a coffee shop opposite the villa. She ordered coffee and agree some food to stuff herself, wanting to see if Sky would come back. Nora said the house was up for sale, but she still didn't believe it because everything in the villa was complete and arranged neatly. It was not like Sky's temporary residence, so she still believed that Sky would return to the villa.

Sophie sat with her eyes fixed on the villa, reading the license plate number. However, she waited from dawn to dusk, but Sky didn't come back.

Instead, she received a phone call from Timothy. "What's up?" Sophie did not look away from the villa when she answered the phone, for fear that she would miss Sky's car. "Didn't you ask me to get rid of May? I have tied her up," Timothy sounded happily, "Are you satisfied with that?" Sophie was happy to hear that May had been under control. "Of course."

"Then how do you want her to die?" Timothy gave her a choice. "It's up to you."

Sophie felt a bit excited, and her depression was relaxed a bit. "Which is the most painful way to die?"

"To dismember her, cut off her flesh bit by bit, just like in the ancient time? She would be painful to the extreme but she couldn't die at once. That should be the most terrible way to kill someone." Timothy suggested. Sophie got excited when she heard that. "That sounds pretty good. I've never seen it before."

"If so, will you come and see such a horrible scene?" Timothy blurted out, but then added, "Well, don't come over. I'm afraid you will be freaked out."

"I'm not that weak as you think!" Sophie retorted. "I had planned to see May all along, and I have to give her the first stab. Even if she dies, I have to let her know why she deserves to die!"

"Are you really coming?" Timothy asked uncertainly. Sophie affirmed, "Of course. Tell me how to find you." Timothy said someone would pick her up, but she had to cooperate with him. So, Sophie waited for someone to pick her up. When the car came, she got into the car and someone put a blindfold on her. She could only feel the car moving on and on and went to a silent place where she could hear no sound at all, as if she had come into the abyss of the world. "Sir, are we almost there?" She could hear her heart beating very clearly in the quiet car.

"Yes, we will be there right away," replied the man. As a result, it didn't take long for them to arrive at the destination. Someone opened the door and Sophie was taken out of the car. The blindfold was removed and she saw Timothy. "Where is May?" Sophie asked quickly. "Don't worry. She can't run away..." Timothy's eyes fell on her flat stomach." Your belly... Did you give birth to the child? But the time hasn't come. Where is my kid?"

"Timothy..." Sophie put her hands on her flat stomach, her eyes red. It was true that she couldn't let go of her baby. "Our child... was killed by Rose. You must avenge our child!"

"What?" Timothy was shocked. "How could it be her?"

"You know how much she hates me. She hates me that I have you and the baby, and she couldn't stand to see me living a happy life, so she smashed my dream and killed my baby."

"She's going to get rid of all the people around me that I care about. This is our first child... He's over six months old. How cruel Rose is!" __

Chapter 372 What You Do Will Come Back to You

Sophie cried as she said, half for the baby, half for stirring up Timothy's sympathy for her. The only person she could rely on now was Timothy. Only he would wholeheartedly help her against the person she hated!

If Rose didn't die, she would never feel at ease. "All right, don't cry."

Timothy wiped the tears off her face. Sophie leaned into his arms and said coquettishly, "Timothy, our son couldn't die for nothing. We have to let Rose pay the price! Timothy, will you promise me let her pay for what she did?"

"Or are you too scared to say yes because of Bright? That is your kid. Because Bright will stand with her, Rose has nothing to fear and even killed my child. Can you stand that?"

"Of course I can't. But do you have proof?" Timothy wrapped around her tiny waist. "What do you mean?" Sophie asked in a displeased way.

"You don't believe what I'm saying? Proof? I am the proof!"

"Sophie, don't be mad. What I mean is that if we have sound proof, we can give it to the police, and send her to justice." Timothy soothed Sophie, "Mrs. Lee killed a child! That would have a negative impact to the Lee family, who will not accept her."

"You are too naive. What if we have proof? A child that is not born is not a life, and she will not be punished at all. And with Bright's protection of her, do you think we'll get a fair trial?" Sophie said with hatred. "We can only use our own way to get her punished!"

"Fine, I will listen to you." Timothy was obedient. "She killed out child, and I won't let her go! But we have to deal with May first." Sophie's face softened when she got the answer she wanted. "Fine. Remember that you will get Rose punished. You know how much I trust you."

"After we deal with Rose, we'll go abroad and spend the rest of our life together. By then I'll give you more babies. What do you thin, Timothy?" She raised her hand and caressed Timothy's face. "That's great." Timothy smiled contentedly. "Come on, let's see May." Sophie smirked and she raised her head proudly, like a triumphant peacock. Timothy led Sophie to an old shack in the woods. The room was not very big, and the walls were mottled. Shimmering orange light went through the cracks. Timothy reached for the door, but Sophie took his hand. "Wait for me outside. She used to be my mother-in-law, and I want to say something to her alone. It won't take long."

"Well, if you need anything, let me know. I'll just talk to the driver over there." Timothy pointed to where the van was parked. The driver was still in the can. "Be safe," he said. "Yes." Sophie patted him on the shoulder. Timothy turned away, leaving room for Sophie, who opened the door. The iron door let out a squeak. Sophie entered the room. The center of the room was empty and a few unused objects were stacked in the corners. May was strapped into a chair in the center.

Her head bent down, and the hair in elegant style was now messy. The strands of hair obscured her face, and the dim light above her head cast shadows over her, obscuring her shape and expression. Sophie stepped on the high-heeled shoes, and walked elegantly to May. Looking at May, who was once so dignified, but now so poor and pathetic, she felt unprecedentedly satisfied. As if given a stimulant, she was excited and was in a good mood. Sophie snorted and said sarcastically, "Mrs. Tanner, you didn't think you'd be here, did you?" But May didn't respond to her. Her indifference made Sophie feel frustrated and uncomfortable. Sophie stepped forward and grabbed May by the chin, forcing her to look up at her eyes. "Don't you have anything to say, May?" "Sophie, you'll regret it," said May lightly. May was not flustered in the face of Sophie, but extremely calm. The calmer May was, the angrier Sophie grew. "Regret it? I regret that I didn't let you suffer earlier. Aren't you the noble Mrs. Tanner? Aren't you always elegant and dignified? Look at you now. You are no difference from the beggars!" "So?" May asked her. Sophie got rid of May's hand disgustingly, and said arrogantly, "You will suffer more later." "Sophie, what you have done would come back to you, and that's why you lost your baby..." May stared at her flat stomach. She knew Sophie had lost her child. "I don't want this child at all. As long as I'm alive, there will be hopes." Sophie was not sad at all when she mentioned the baby, totally different from the one who cried her eyes out in front of Timothy. "That's not Sky's kid." May was sure. "Yes, I'm not afraid to tell you that this child is not Sky's." Sophie smiled a soft smile, "If it is not Sky's child, I don't care whether it dies or not, so it doesn't matter if I lost it because I just want to give Sky a baby, and I'm going to do that soon." Sophie's eyes were calm, so was her voice, as if she was a heartless person. "Never!" Only hearing that was May be irritated. She frowned at Sophie's triumphant smile and shouted, "As long as I am here, I will never allow you to hurt Sky!" "May, since you are taken here today, you are not going to get back alive!" Sophie's eyes became fierce. "If you haven't prevented Sky and me from getting back together, he wouldn't have been in a dilemma." "If it wasn't for you, I would have gone back to the Tanner family. If it wasn't for you, I would have been happier than I am now... You are the reason why you are in trouble. No one else is to blame!" "When you die, Sky will have nothing to worry about, and he can be with me wholeheartedly. We will be happier than before and we will have more babies. It's a pity that you will never see such a warm scene, nor will you enjoy a happy family." Chapter 373 I Won't Let You Go With a happy smile on her face, Sophie was lost in her daydream for a better future, as if she would live happily with Sky all her life. "Sophie, dream on!" May broke Sophie's beautiful fantasy, "I know my son well. He will not be with you. Even if I am dead, he will not choose a woman like you! You should stop daydreaming!"

"You're talking nonsense! Sky has feelings for me and loves children. As long as I try to be pregnant with his baby, we'll be together." Sophie said smugly, refusing to face the harsh reality. "You don't deserve to give birth to a baby for Sky and the Tanner family." May, however, broke her beautiful fantasy again, "He would never be with someone who killed his mother!"

"He wouldn't know that I kill you." Sophie raised an eyebrow in triumph.

"The net of Heaven has large meshes, but it lets nothing through. You can't escape. Sky is so smart. He will know that you are the murderer of his mother one day!" May was also confident in Sky. "There are people dying every day in this world. Some people have been dead for more than ten years, but nothing can be found out.

Moreover, there are many cases every year that can't be solved. You won't be so lucky." Sophie tried to scupper May's naive thoughts. "Since I've chosen to do this, I'm definitely prepared for anything. So, don't expect things to turn for the better. I came to see you today just to let you die in peace. You don't have to worry about Sky and me in the future."

"If you dare to hurt Sky, I will not spare you even if I die!" May said hatefully, "Sophie, I am not bluffed. As Mrs. Tanner, I am famous and have a status in City H. If I die, my husband and children will never let the murderer go! Don't be too proud!"

"How can an evil woman like you dare to say you love Sky! You even want to kill his dearest mother. You love him? How ridiculous! It's only your own wishful thinking that you love him. Sky doesn't love you at all...." Sophie was angered by May's words and raised her hand and slapped

May. May's face was deflected. The red mark on her white face was very obvious. The corners of her lips were broken and bleeding.

It could be seen how hard Sophie slapped May. Because what May said that Sky did not love Sophie stung Sophie's heart and made her embarrassed and painful. "Sky loves me!" Sophie widened her red eyes, "It is you! You stop him from loving me!" May endured the pain from the corners of her lips and sneered with heavy irony, "You know very well in your heart whether he loves you or not! You really like deceiving oneself."

"May, you are courting death!" Sophie was extremely angry. She saw a knife on the ground not far away, ran over to pick it up, and pointed it at May. May was not afraid at all and kept a smile on her face, as if she was ready to die. "Even if you kill me, it won't change the fact that Sky doesn't love you!"

"Since you are courting death, then I'll help you!" Sophie lost her reason now. Provoked by May's words, she raised the knife in her hand and stabbed May in the left shoulder. The pain spread from her shoulder.

May gritted her teeth and endured the pain. She broke out in a sweat on her forehead and her face was pale. Seeing May's painful expression, Sophie was satisfied inside. "Is it painful? Can you compare it with the pain I have suffered?" Sophie smiled grimly and pulled the knife out of May's shoulder. The knife moved the flesh and blood, which caused a sharp pain. The red blood flowed from the wound, stained the dress, and dripped down to the ground. But May did not scream. She was very strong. Sophie was not satisfied with May's reaction, "I did not get the right position just now. This time, I will not miss again." Sophie raised the knife in her hand once again and aimed at May's heart. Just as she was about to stab it, a harsh voice came.

"Hands up!" Then a gunshot rang out in her ears, deafening. Sophie, who had never seen such a scene, was so frightened that she released her hand and the knife fell to the ground. "Don't ... shoot me.

I'm doing what you said." Sophie raised her hands up. "Crouch down with your hands over your head." Sophie did as she was told, held her head, and squatted on the ground, shaking with fear.

Two police quickly stepped forward to subdue her. At the same time, she saw Sky rushing towards May. When Sky saw his badly injured mother, he looked shocked and sad. He became extremely cold, as if he could freeze everything. At that moment, Sophie felt heartbroken once again, which tormented her so much that she could hardly breathe. Sky did not look at Sophie, but quickly untied and picked up May, who was in so much pain that she almost passed out. The blood on May's clothes stained Sky's light-colored suit red. The blood was horrifying. The leader of the police put away the gun while taking out the handcuffs and handcuffed Sophie. Sophie then reacted with a blank face, "I ... I ... not me. Sir, it is not me."

"There's only you here." The police looked around, "You can say it after we arrive at the police station."

"Sir, it's really not me. You have the wrong person." Sophie defended herself. She looked at Sky, "Sky, it's really not me. All this is done by Timothy. It has nothing to do with me! Please trust me!"

"Sophie, you hurt my mother. I will not let you go." Sky said coldly, held May, and left quickly. Sophie looked at Sky's back and froze, her eyes full of tears. "Sky, listen to me!" Sophie instinctively tried to chase after him, but was held by the police on both shoulders. She cried heavily, "Let go of me. I have to find my husband. I have to explain to him."

"Ms. Linder, you are now a major suspect. Please cooperate and don't struggle unnecessarily." The leader said to the other two police, "Take her back to the police station."

"I can't go to the police station. I have to go to Sky. Please give me some time to talk to him." Sophie pleaded. The leader ignored her and walked ahead, with two police marching her behind. When they got to the door, the ambulance arrived and Sky carried May to the ambulance. Sophie watched the ambulance close the door and could not see Sky anymore.

"Sky! Sky!" Sophie called Sky's name desperately. Her voice resonated in the forest for a long time. __ Chapter 374 I'll Listen to You After That Sky was only concerned about his mother now. When he saw his mother's injury and blood, he just wanted to tear Sophie apart. May raised her hand weakly and called out to Sky in a faint voice, "Sky..."

"Mom, I'm here. I'm here." Sky took May's hand and held it tightly, afraid that if he released, he couldn't hold it. "Sky, promise me that you will never contact with Sophie again, and never be soft on her. She can hurt me today. Then, she will hurt you one day.... I am worried." May's voice was low, but Sky could hear it clearly, "Mom only wants you to be well. It doesn't matter what happens to me. Do you understand?"

"Mom, I know. I'll listen to you." Sky's eyes were wet and red. If it wasn't for the fact that men couldn't easily shed tears and there were others, he would have shed tears. "Then I can set my mind at rest. If something happens to me, don't be too upset..." May coughed and spat out a mouthful of blood. Sky was so shocked to see blood that he wiped the corners of May's blood-stained lips with his hand, "Mom, stop talking. The doctors and nurses are here. You'll be fine. I won't let anything happen to you. Mom, hold on! As long as you are well, I will listen to you in the future."

"Good boy... Sky, mom is tired. I want to sleep for a while..." May smiled with satisfaction and gradually closed her eyes. Seeing this, Sky loudly shouted, "Mom... Mom...." Sky could not hold back his tears and a tear rolled down his pale face. He was so sad and painful. "Mr. Sky, excuse me..." The doctors rushed forward. Sky was pushed aside. He stood there in confusion. He was tortured by anxiety and frowned. Surrounded by the busy doctors and nurses, Sky seemed to be isolated in another world and was unable to move. He could only watch this, but could not do anything. When they arrived at the hospital, May was sent to the resuscitation room. When Sky rushed up in desperation but was stopped outside by the metal door, he came to his senses and realized how impulsive he was. There were footsteps in the corridor again. They were Sam and Alaya. Sky stood there disoriented. He looked confused. Sam hurried there with a cold face. Before he could reprimand Sky, Sky was already on his knees in front of him. "Dad, it's my fault. It's all my fault. I harmed Mom. You can beat me or scold me if you want." Sky lowered his head, his hands hanging at his side. He clenched his fists and his knuckles were white. Sam, who was raising his hand, froze with mixed feelings, not knowing what to say. Alaya stepped forward and reached out to pull Sam's hand down and said softly, "Dad, Sky already knows he's wrong. Mom and Sky are mother and son. Now, Sky should be the saddest. Stop blaming him. Let's wait here for the good news."

"If he didn't insist on being with Sophie, how could he have caused so much trouble?" Sam shook off Alaya's hand and was still unable to completely cool down, "Now that your mom is lying in the emergency room, you happy now?"

"Dad, can't you see how upset Sky is? You're hurting him by saying that." Looking at Sky, who was kneeling on the ground and was upset, no longer as spirited as before, Alaya felt distressed. "Alaya, he is stabbing the knife into my heart!" Sam painfully raised his fist and smashed it twice in his left heart and was overwhelmed with sorrow. Sam was so angry. A strong sense of dizziness overcame him, blurring his vision. He shook twice and almost fell down. Alaya and Sky held him and helped him sit down on the bench. Sam glanced at Sky coldly and shook off his hand, "Don't touch me!"

"Dad, don't get angry. It's not good for your health. Please keep calm before mom comes out. Then she'll be more worried." Alaya glanced at Sky who was being scolded by Sam and defended him. "You don't have to speak for him. He makes big mistakes again and again. I don't have such a son!" Sam was so angry that he said such cruel words.

It was well-known that Sam loved his wife. May was the woman he cared about. So it was reasonable that he was so angry.

"Dad, we are in hospital. Keep quiet." Alaya sat next to Sam, "Dad, I know you're worried about mom. Mom will be fine." Then, they waited until the doors to the resuscitation room opened and May was wheeled out by the doctors. Her face was pale and her eyes were tightly closed, as if she was asleep. "Doctor, is my wife (mom) all right?" they asked at the same time. "Mrs. Tanner is out of danger."

"When will she wake up?"

"Tomorrow morning, if there's no accident." Sam, Sky and Alaya then went to May's ward. She was lying on a hospital bed with snow-white sheets. Her pale face was as white as the sheets. Sam felt sad as he looked at May. He walked forward to grab May's hand, "May, can you hear me?" May did not respond, but frowned, as if she was still uneasy and upset even if she was in a coma. Looking at May like this, Sam also frowned.

He kept holding May's hand, not taking his eyes off her. Alaya and Sky just stayed quietly by the side. After a long time, Alaya reached out and shook Sam's shoulder. "Dad, the doctors said that mom is fine. Why don't you go home and rest? We will stay here."

"No, I want her to see me at first sight when she wakes up." Sam's voice was a little hoarse. He seemed older a bit, "She is my wife. I should take care of her. You all go back."

"Dad..." Alaya wanted to say something else but was interrupted by Sam, "Stop saying anything more." Alaya knew she couldn't persuade Sam to leave. So, she and Sky looked at each other and sat down in the sofa in the lounge. They all stayed with May. When the sky was grey, May began to murmur. "May, what are you speaking?" Sam was not asleep and woke up as soon as he heard May speak. ____ Chapter 375 Who Is She Calling May's face was pale. She broke out in a sweat on her forehead and kept murmuring. Alaya and Sky rushed over when they heard Sam's voice, asking May, "Mom, what do you want?" Sky looked down, moved close to May's mouth and listened intently.

There was a flicker of disbelief in his eyes. "What is May speaking?" Sam asked Sky. "Mom is calling someone's name..." Sky frowned, wondering if he had heard wrong or if his mother had called him wrong. "Whose name is she calling? Mine?" Sam asked again. "No... Not you." Sky shook his head.

"Then who is she calling, you or Alaya?"

"Neither."

"Then who is it? Can you make it clear all at once?" Sam was a little anxious too. "It seems to be Bright," Sky said and couldn't believe it himself. "Bright?" Sam and Alaya looked at each other skeptical, "Is it... Bright Lee?" How could it be him?

But he was the only Bright they knew. Sky asked, "Dad, why does Mom call Bright? Do they know each other well?"

"Well... I don't know." Sam shook his head, frowned. "Why don't we ask the doctor?"

Just as a nurse came by, they asked the nurse. The nurse said, "Maybe this person is someone close to Mrs. Tanner. So, it's normal that Mrs. Tanner calls his name all the time."

"Someone close to her..." Sky looked up. He, Sam, and Alaya were even more puzzled. Shouldn't they be the closest people to May? How could it be Bright?

"Can you guys reach him?" the nurse added, "If you can, you can ask him to come and visit Mrs. Tanner. Maybe it can get Mrs. Tanner to wake up soon." After the nurse left, Sam sat down and discussed with his two children, "Do you think we should ask Mr. Bright to come?"

"Dad, this is our family's business. It seems not to be a good idea to ask Mr. Bright to come here." Sky was reluctant inside. He didn't understand why his mother was not calling him, her son, but an outsider. Suddenly, he was jealous. Why his favorite mother and the woman all cared about Bright! "But May keeps calling Bright. Maybe she has something to say to him." Sam was also hesitant.

"I don't think he has time for this little thing." Sky made an excuse. "We can ask Rose to intercede for us. Mr. Bright will come for Rose's sake." Alaya wanted to ask for Rose's help, "It doesn't matter even if Mr. Bright can't come. But if he can, it will be great. Dad, Sky, what do you think?"

"Then let's try."

"No!" Sam and Sky spoke at the same time. "Sky, what's wrong with you?" Alaya saw that Sky was a bit emotional. "We can't trouble Rose anymore and embarrass her." Sky also felt that he was too aggressive. "It's just a small favor. If you don't know how to say to ask for her help, I'll do it." Alaya said and took out her cell phone to call Rose. "Alaya, no!" Sky grabbed Alaya's hand. "Sky, there must be a reason for Mom to call Mr. Bright's name." Alaya understood Sky's mood, "I know you guys are not on good terms. You don't want to beg people, especially Bright. But we have no choice now." Alaya put away Sky's hand, "I call her to beg her. It's none of your business."

Sky put on a long face, clenched his fists tightly, but could do nothing. Alaya went to the corner and dialed Rose's number. The phone rang three times before someone picked it up, "Rose..."

"It's Bright. Rose has not got up yet." The voice that came through the receiver was Bright's magnetic voice. "Mr. Bright..." Alaya was a little surprised that the person who answered the phone was Bright. Although Bright was the person she was looking for, Alaya was still caught off guard when Bright answered the phone. "What is the matter?" Bright then asked. Alaya then came back to her senses and said, "I... I want to ask you a favor."

"Please go on." Bright was frank. "My mother is injured and hospitalized. She wants to see you. Is it convenient for you to come to the hospital to see my mother, Mr. Bright?" Alaya plucked up the courage to finish her words in one breath. Once she finished her words, silence filled the space between them. Alaya pursed her lips and was a little embarrassed. "If it's not convenient for you... then excuse me." Alaya added and was about to hang up. "My pleasure." Bright answered in time, lifting his wrist to look at his watch, "I'll be at the hospital in an hour."

"OK... Thank you, Mr. Bright," Alaya was overjoyed, "I'll wait for you at the gate of the hospital."

"No need. Just tell me the number of her ward." Bright said. "Okay." Alaya told him the number.

It was said that Bright was cold and heartless, and was very hard to live with. Alaya didn't expect Bright to be so nice and things would go so smoothly. Alaya happily said to Sam and Sky, "Mr. Bright promised me. He will be here in an hour." On the other hand, Bright was just about to go out for a run when he got the call. After the call, he went out. Just as he got dressed after exercising and taking a shower, Rose hugged her from behind. "Go wash up. We'll go to the hospital today." Bright looked in the mirror and straightened his blue pinstripe tie. "What do we go to the hospital for?" Rose tilted her head and asked him. "You'll know when we get there." Bright turned to her, lightly rubbing the tip of her nose dotingly with his crooked fingertips. "So mysterious?" Rose pulled his hand down, "Is there something you're hiding from me?"

"I wouldn't have told you if I wanted to hide it from you." Bright took the opportunity to kiss her. "I haven't brushed my teeth yet." Rose was too late when she covered her mouth with her hand. "I don't mind." Bright pushed her toward the bathroom. Rose smiled, "But I mind." Next, she closed the door. Bright waited for Rose to finish cleaning up and then went downstairs for breakfast with her. Then, they went out to the hospital. Rose couldn't help but ask him on the way, "What do we go to the hospital for?"

"For a checkup." Bright reached out and grabbed her hand. "A checkup?" Rose sat up straight. "To have a son." The smile on Bright's handsome face deepened.

"Stop talking nonsense." Rose reached out and pinched him lightly, and blushed. "Did you forget you have promised my dad to have a son in half a year?" Bright looked at her white and red skin, "Did you forget about this?" Chapter 376 There Must Be Something He Doesn't Know

Rose pursed her lips for a moment, "No. But we still have time, right?"

"Three months have passed. If we don't prepare for it, it will be too late." Bright remained serious. "I'm in good health, and you too. Why should we do a checkup?" Rose made excuses to refuse to go to the hospital, "And I'm busy at work today. I have a meeting that I can't be late for." Bright didn't say anything, but just stared at her. Seeing that she was incoherent, Bright felt that she was very cute. Rose knew Bright was staring at her. She didn't dare to look at him, "What are you looking at me for? I am serious."

"Are you so reluctant to give Doris a brother or sister?" Bright raised his left eyebrow lightly. "No. But we should let nature take its course." Rose explained. Bright held her hand and just nodded lightly, not saying anything more. Rose, however, felt that the atmosphere was a little awkward, making her uneasy.

In the end, their car stopped at the gate of the hospital. They just got off the car and met Alaya. "Mr. Bright, Rose, good morning." Alaya came out and wait for them when it was time. After all, she was asking for help, and the other party was Bright. So, Alaya didn't dare to neglect them. "Alaya, why are you at the hospital? You guys..." Rose looked at Bright and at Alaya, feeling that something was wrong. "I have invited Mr. Bright to the hospital. My mom wants to see him," Alaya said with a smile, "Rose, didn't Mr. Bright tell you?" Rose looked at Bright blankly, "Why didn't you tell me this but said something like that? You're so bad."

"I am bad?" Bright smiled ambiguously. Rose couldn't help but blush at the way he looked at her, and the way he said it. She didn't answer, but just glared at him.

Seeing them flash amorous glances, Alaya smiled lightly, "Mr. Bright, Rose, please follow me."

"Alaya, why does May want to see Bright?" Rose wondered when May and Bright became so familiar with each other. Even she didn't know about it. "I don't know." Alaya shook her head, "Mom kept calling Mr. Bright's name. We guessed that she wanted to see him. So I bothered Mr. Bright and made this request." Rose took Bright's hand and tugged on his sleeve. Bright turned to meet her confusing gaze. Bright winked at her, meaning that he wasn't sure either and that they would know after coming there, which made Rose frown. "Why is May in the hospital again?" Rose had to change the subject. Hearing Rose mention this subject, Alaya sighed lightly, "This time, Sophie, the bitch, kidnapped her and almost killed her. Luckily, mom was strong. Otherwise, she would have been... Sky witnessed it. We know more how vicious this woman is now. She dared to hurt my mother. We will not easily let her go. It's our fault that we didn't see her true colors earlier. Otherwise, there wouldn't have been so much happening."

It could be told from Alaya's words how much she hated Sophie and regretted. Rose also did not expect that it was Sophie who did this. But it was not unusual. Soon, they reached May's ward. Alaya pushed the door and entered. Bright and Rose followed her in. Across the lounge, they could see May's ward. Sam and Sky were all there. "Mr. Bright, thank you for coming to see my wife. We are very sorry to have incomed you." Sam thanked Bright upon seeing him. Bright was frank, "Mrs. Tanner has always cared for Rose and loved her, as if she is her own daughter. Don't mention it, Mr. Sam." Rose looked at May who had a pale face on the ward. May seemed to be uneasy even in a coma, as if she was haunted by nightmares and could not wake up.

"Is May okay?" Sam looked at May, heartbroken and helpless, "She keeps calling Mr.

Bright's name. So..."

"Why does May call Bright's name?" Rose was curious. "We are not sure.

The doctor said she might be calling someone close to her." Sam looked at Bright again and couldn't really understand why his wife kept calling Bright. "The doctor suggested that the person she called could be the one to wake her up." Rose gently shook Bright's hand, "You go ahead and try."

Bright nodded nicely and walked toward May's bed, while Sam and Sky retreated a few steps so that Bright could come forward. Bright stood by the bed and leaned over, saying, "Mrs. Tanner, this is Bright. Are you calling me? I am here. Do you have something to say to me?" May seemed to be a little excited to hear this. She murmured loudly a little, "...Bright."

"Mrs. Tanner, it's me, Bright. Please wake up." Bright also called her, trying to wake her up. But May didn't wake up and just kept calling his name. Bright tried for a long time and was extremely patient. Suddenly,

May shouted and opened her eyes, her face covered with sweat. Her eyes opened wide. She stared at the ceiling blankly. "Mrs.

Tanner," Bright called out to May again in a soft voice, fearing to scare her. May's pupils began to slowly focus at the sound of the voice.

Then, she turned to look at Bright's face. "...Bright." May looked at Bright in front of her and thought she was in a dream, "Are you real?"

"It's me." Bright smiled, "Are you feeling better now?" May was amazed and surprised. She raised her trembling hand to his handsome face, but then stopped when she almost touched his face, and withdrew it. May smiled lightly. Her eyes were wet and a tear rolled down her face. "I... I feel much better." May replied, "Why are you here?"

"I heard you were in the hospital. So, Rose and I came to see you." Bright turned to gaze at Rose. "May," Rose stepped forward and stood beside Bright, "Get some rest. Your health is more important."

"Thank you for coming to see me." May raised her hand to wipe away her tear, "It's good to see you guys."

"May, you just woke up and shouldn't talk much." Rose held her hand, "Rest well, and we can visit you every day if we are free." May looked at Bright's handsome face. No one could tell from her eyes what she was feeling. Bright was close to her and could see her clearly. He thought it must be no coincidence that May kept calling his name while in a coma. There must be something he didn't know.

Chapter 377 Stop Pretending to Be Innocent
After visiting May, Bright and Rose were about to leave. Sam and Alaya thanked them warmly, while Sky was silent. "Mr. Bright, I'll see you out." Alaya made a gesture, "Sky, come with me." Sky had just agreed when his phone rang, "Excuse me, I have to take a call."

It was an unfamiliar number. Sky then took his phone and went to the balcony, and answered, "Hello, this is Sky."

"Mr. Sky, can you come to the police station for your mother's injury?" It was a call from the police station. "Okay, I'll be right there." Sky hung up and frowned. He sighed slightly and then turned to come out. When he walked out of the ward, he saw Alaya waiting for the elevator with Bright and Rose. He stepped to Alaya and said, "Alaya, I have to go out. Please see Mr. Bright and Rose off."

"OK." Alaya smiled and nodded. The elevator opened. The three of them entered the elevator together. Sky reached out and pressed the closing button. "Mr. Bright, Rose, thank you for coming to see my mom."

"Sky, I heard from Alaya that it was Sophie who did this." Rose asked.

"Yes." Sky looked at the metal panel of the elevator horizontally, "I won't let Sophie off."

"If you had known it would come to this, maybe you would have acted differently." Bright interjected. Sky pursed his lips, "My reconciliation with Sophie is not the way you saw it. I had my thoughts, but I couldn't tell you."

"But you didn't expect it would hurt May so badly." Rose finished her words, "Sky, you must be more careful when you are doing anything in the future. Learn a lesson from this."

"I know." They were separated in the parking lot. Sky headed for the police station while Bright and Rose went to the office. When Sky arrived at the police station, he parked his car and hurried to the station. After making inquiries, he found Leader Wood, who was in charge of this case. "Mr. Sky, Ms. Linder didn't say anything. She said she would only tell the whole story when she saw you." Leader Wood told Sky. "Leader Wood, I don't want to see her." Sky loathed Sophie so much that he even did not want to see her, "Is this the only way?" "Mr. Sky, as long as you can see her, we will know all about the case. This is the best way." Leader Wood took a sip of tea, reasoned and moved, "You also want this case about your mother to be investigated as soon as possible, right?" Sky hesitated for a moment and stood up from his chair, "Take me to her. I'll hear what she will say." Leader Wood also got up and led Sky to the interrogation room. The two officers guarding Sophie looked at Leader Wood. Leader Wood said to them, "Take a break. I'll take over." Sky walked over and sat behind the table. Sophie kept looking down, not noticing this at all.

She had been nervous since she was caught in the bureau last night until now. So, she looked effete. "Sophie, Mr. Sky is here." Leader Wood coughed lightly twice, "Now you can tell." As soon as Sophie heard Sky's name, she looked up violently. She stared at Sky's face, her eyes moist and full of affection. "Sky, you're here." Sophie said, her voice a little hoarse. "Sophie, just say what you want to say." Sky was cold. His voice was detached and he even was not willing to look at her. Sophie felt sad once again, "Sky..."

"If you have nothing to say, don't waste my time." Sky hated the sad look on her face. He felt more painful than her. His lover, his family, and his happiness were all destroyed completely by her. Sky was about to get up. Sophie hurried to stop him, "I'll say." Sophie sobbed, "Sky, I didn't kidnap Mom. I didn't want to hurt her. I was forced to do it. Please believe me."

"Forced?" Sky raised an eyebrow and sneered with irony, not believing her at all. "Timothy forced me." Sophie looked at him affectionately, "He wanted me to be with him. But you were the only one I loved. How could I be with him? So, I refused him. He then wanted to get back at me. I didn't expect that he would kidnap Mom. He asked me to go see him, or he would hurt Mom. I then went to see him. He said as long as I hurt Mom, he would let me go. If I didn't do that, then the next person he would deal with was you...

I didn't want to lose you. I also didn't want him to hurt you. I was in a disturbed state of mind at the time. So, I did something irrational and hurt Mom... But please believe that I didn't mean it. You also know that I didn't stab Mom's heart, but her shoulder. I was also protecting her. Sky, I love you. How could I do something that would make you sad? I had no choice but to do so!" Sophie choked as she spoke, tears streaming down her face. She said sincerely, as if she really had no choice. Looking at Sophie crying out of breath, Sky remained calm and watched without a trace of pity. He did not believe any of Sophie's words. "Sophie, I don't believe any words you say." Sophie froze. Her eyes were still filled with tears. She clenched her hands on the table, "Sky, what I said is true. I know it's hard for you to accept it. But I'm a victim too!"

"You only saw me there. Didn't you see Timothy and a driver outside?"

"Ms. Linder, there was no one outside when we arrived. You were the only one there and were hurting Mrs. Tanner!" Leader Wood said, "We also investigated Timothy. He had an alibi." Sophie's pupils were dilated, "No... Impossible! It was him who kidnapped Mom to threaten me!" Her mind raced. She felt as if she had fallen into a black hole and could not get out, which made her panic and fear inside. She wanted to see Timothy right now and asked him why this was happening! "Sophie, stop pretending to be innocent. It's not the first time you've done something like this. Don't let others take the blame for what you have done." Sky sneered with heavy irony. __ Chapter 378 We Will Never See Each Other Forever "Sir, Sky, don't be fooled by Timothy. He is the mastermind, not me!" Sophie said excitedly, "You guys get him here and I'll confront him!

Please trust me and don't let the real bad guy go!"

"Sophie, you were the one who was hurting my mom when we came in.

You were caught on the spot. The evidence is conclusive. The real bad guy is you!" Sky coldly pointed at her now, "Sophie, you dared to hurt my mom. I will make you regret and miserable!" Sophie saw the hatred in Sky's cold eyes, which seemed to burn her to ashes. "Sky, do you hate me that much?" Sky glanced at her coldly,

"Shouldn't I hate you?"

"Sky, seeing is not always believing." Sophie continued to defend herself, "Do you remember that you have seen Rose having a baby five years ago? At that time, you thought seeing is believing. You believed your own eyes. But several years later, you finally realized that seeing is not always believing. Have you forgotten all that? And I'm in the same situation as Rose was back then. I was framed by Timothy! Even if you don't believe me, I have to speak up for myself and clear my name." Sky heard Sophie mention the incident back then, which was the stupidest thing he had done. This incident had been like a thorn in his heart, stabbed him with pain, and made him regret. "Yes, I did say seeing is not always believing. But that's Rose. How dare you compare yourself with her? It's a good thing you don't set people up. Is there anyone who can set you up? Even if Timothy set you up, so what? You two are both vicious!" Sky thought Sophie was really shameless. How could she defend herself by saying the thing that she framed Rose five years ago? It really shocked him. But did people like Rose have a conscience? "So Sophie, don't say any more. I don't want to hear a word! Because I only feel disgusted!" Sky showed all his disgust for Sophie on his face without hiding it. "Sophie, you just wait for the law to punish you and pay for the crime you committed!" Sky slid out of his chair and stood up, lightly buttoned his suit jacket, and turned to leave without saying a word. Seeing that he was leaving, Sophie spoke up, "Sky, where are you going?" "It is none of your business." Sky turned back. His gaze was like a knife, tearing her into pieces. Sophie bit her lips, holding back her displeasure. At that moment, Leader Wood's cell phone rang. He gestured to Sky to take a call. "Sky, I know I'm responsible for Mom's injury. I will not deny it. But you can't do this to me." Sophie spoke in a hurry, "I've been married to you for five years. It's said that a day together as husband and wife means endless devotion the rest of your life. As long as you don't sue me, I'll give you back all the contracts you signed at the time, okay?" Under the circumstances, if Sophie did not plan for herself, then she would die. Although she would not be sentenced to death, once she was in jail, she thought that Sky or Bright would not let her go. They had countless ways to make her never come out after going in jail. She couldn't die. She had to live. She had to go to Timothy and ask him why he did this to her!

If Timothy really did this on purpose, she would not let him go and would make him redouble the payment!

This was the only chip she could trade with Sky now. She could only use this and hoped that Sky could shake. Sky sneered with heavier irony, "Do you think I really care about what I can easily give you? Rose, let me tell you, even if I give you all the wealth under my name, I will not die of hunger!

I am healthy and capable. I can get it again! But what can you do to make up for the happiness you have destroyed between me and Rose! What I want is only Rose. As long as she is safe and sound, I am willing to lose everything!

Sophie was going crazy with jealousy. She choked and almost couldn't breathe.

"You love her that much? She's someone else's wife! What's the point of loving her!"

"Sophie, you don't know what real love is! Real love is that even if I can't be with her, I will keep her safe and happy. I am not like you. You will do anything to destroy others for your own desires!" Sky laughed at her selfishness and viciousness. "Now you have repeatedly touched my bottom line and even hurt my mother, I will not let you go anyway!" Sky didn't care about her deal.

"This is the last time I'll see you in private. We won't see each other forever after the case finished." Sky said harshly and left the interrogation room, not willing to stay here for a minute. "Sky..." Sophie instinctively wanted to go after him, but was restrained by the chair, "Sky, listen to me...." Sophie was stimulated by Sky's words and could not accept that he was so ruthless. Besides, she had been exhausted. So, she could not hold on anymore and collapsed.... After Sky left the police station, Leader Wood also came out, "Mr. Sky, Ms. Linder fainted."

"Leader Wood, I hope this case can be filed for trial as soon as possible. I want to make Sophie pay in the fastest time possible!" Sky paused for only a second and then left. Sky went to the Tanner Group with intense aura all the way. Rex instructed all the people not to provoke Sky. Sky almost didn't say anything all day. After he left work, he went to the hospital to be with his mother. "Mom, are you feeling better?" Sky felt deeply remorseful, "Mom, I'm sorry."

"Silly boy. I'm fine. Don't blame yourself." May took his hand and smiled gently, not blaming him at all. "Mom. I kept Sophie around because I didn't want her to get into trouble with Rose again. I could watch her. Besides, I also wanted to find some evidence that she had harmed Rose. But I didn't expect her to be so heartless that she didn't even let you go." Sky sighed, "I am too thoughtless."

"Sky, as I have said, you'd better forget about Rose." May bit her lips and said such cruel words to her son, "She will never come back to you again. You can see how good Bright is to her."

"Mom, I know. I just want to make it up to her. I will feel at ease and watch her from afar as long as she is safe and happy." Sky assured and questioned, "Mom, why did you call Mr. Bright's name when you were in a coma instead of mine or Dad's or Alaya's?" _____ Chapter 379 I Care About Him and His Money

Sky stared into May's eyes. His gaze was complicated, eager, and painful. He had always thought that he was May's most beloved son, and that the person she cared about should be him. So, when he heard that the person his mother called was Bright, he was not only disappointed, but also painful inside. He desperately wanted to know why. Was he not the closest person to his mother?

May was a little guilty by Sky's gaze. She replied, "I... I don't know."

"The doctor said the person you called should be the closest person to you." Sky asked, "Mom, are you and Bright very familiar? What exactly is your relationship? Is there something you're hiding from me?" May pursed her lips as Sky added, "Mom, you can tell me anything you want to say. I won't tell Dad."

"Sky, you are thinking too much. How can I hide anything from you?"

May smiled kindly, "Are you mad just because I didn't call your name?"

"Mom, I'm your son. I'm naturally upset that you called others' name."

Sky looked displeased. At this moment, he was like a childish child who didn't want his mother to be shared by others. "Hey, are you still jealous of this at such an age?" May sighed helplessly and dotingly, "I was in a coma. I didn't know I would call Bright's name. I couldn't control myself without consciousness.

If I was awake, I would have been calling your name. Please forgive me. I really did not mean it. Don't get angry anymore, okay? I love you." May was patient and spoke to Sky in a gentle tone, trying to pacify his uneasiness. "Mom, don't blame me for being so mean. I love you too."

Sky felt a little better. May smiled more brightly, then reached out and patted his shoulder. "I know. Never mind."

"Mom, I don't know why I'm particularly disturbed right now." Sky frowned tightly, as if something was on his mind, "Mom, Rose has chosen Bright. If I lose you... Mom, I don't know what I should do."

One was his beloved and the other was his family. Both of them were closer to Bright. "Sky, you won't lose me. I will be always with you until I can no longer be with you." May reached out to smooth his brow. "Mom, thank you."

Sky rested his head on his mother's palm and closed his eyes, as intimate as he had been when he was a child. May gently stroked his dark hair with the other hand, her eyes full of affection. But there was also a hint of guilt inside. The ward was very quiet until the ringing of the phone broke the ice. Sky took a deep breath and slowly opened his eyes. There was no sadness in his eyes, but calmness. "Mom, I'm going to take a call." Sky straightened up and took out his cell phone from his pocket. He stepped to the floor-to-ceiling window and stood straight, "Hello, this is Sky."

"Mr. Sky, this is Wilson," the other party introduced himself. Wilson was the eldest son of the head of the Way family. "Mr. Wilson, what can I do for you?" Sky was a little surprised. They were all from the famous families in City H. Although they had been in touch at work, they had almost no personal relationship. "This week is my grandfather's 80th birthday. I invite Mr. Sam and Mr. Sky and your family to the birthday party." Wilson explained, "Mr. Sam's phone is unanswered. So, I had to notify Mr. Sky first. The invitation will be delivered to you tomorrow."

Photoshopped Shots That Were Hated Even By The Celebs Themselves

Top Female Celebrities Share Their Biggest Body Insecurities "Okay." Sky agreed. The people who Wilson called personally must be someone the Way family valued. The Way family was very famous in City H, while the Tanner family was not bad either. But the difference was that the Tanner family did not have a flourishing population as the Way family. At the same time, the Lee family of Asgard Lake Community also received an invitation from the Way family. Although the Lee family was only the top of the famous family in City J, it was famous in the entire South of the country. And Bright had kept a foothold in City H. He built City H into the second most important center city of HY Group. So, it was normal that he was also invited. Hearing this, Sophie said, "Patriarch Way is highly respected in City H.

What are you going to give him for his birthday?"

"Hit on what he likes." Bright smiled. "Then do you know what Patriarch Way likes?" Rose raised her eyebrows slightly with curiosity. "I don't know, but you do." Bright kept smiling, "So, I'll leave it to Mrs. Lee."

"What do you want me to do? I don't know either." Rose said with her thin fingers interlocked. "Isn't Nora Patriarch Way's granddaughter-in-law? And Alan, Nora's husband, is Patriarch Way's favorite grandson. So, he should know."

Bright's words were so reasonable that Rose could not refute. "Then I'll ask Nora," Rose said, picking up her phone to call Nora. "I am going to take a shower first. Let me know if you have any news." Bright then walked to the bathroom. Rose sat on the edge of the bed and waited for Nora to answer the phone. "Rose, what's wrong?" Nora picked up the phone after it rang three rings. "Patriarch Way invited Bright for his birthday," Rose heard the sound of water coming from the bathroom, "I want to ask what Patriarch Way likes, so that we can prepare a gift that pleases him."

"Grandpa likes playing chess." Nora knew this, "A gift of chess or a chessboard will please him. He will like it. But the gift with good quality is expensive. I'm afraid Mr. Bright will spend much money. But it's a piece of cake for your husband."

"..." Words failed Rose for a moment, "He also works hard to make money. Don't think it is very easy."

"Come on. Rose, you attach more importance to sensation than friendship. You even refute me for your husband." Nora laughed over there, "Rose, how much do you care about your husband now?" "He is my husband. I care about him and his money." Rose was very protective of her husband. "Hey, it's really killing me." Nora felt like she was jealous, "But Rose, I'm glad that you can face up to your feelings and live happily." "Nora, you will too." Rose was blessed by Nora, but also felt the sense of loss of Nora. "I'm not looking forward to it anymore. It is not bad to live like this." Nora comforted herself. "Nora, don't be so upset. As long as you still look forward to it, God will bless you." Rose advised, "Look, I'm an example, right? Back then, I also thought I wouldn't believe in love. But then Bright appeared." "We're not the same." They all fell into silence and had a tacit understanding. ____

Chapter 380 Nora's Star-Crossed Love

Rose told Bright about Patriarch Way's preference. Although it was not difficult for Bright to know about it, they only had a week and might be unable to prepare the gift in time. After she ended the call with Nora, Rose's emotions were affected. Bright also noticed it. "What's wrong? You put on a long face. Did something happen between you and Nora?" Bright was attentive. "Is it that obvious?" Rose instinctively reached out and touched her face. "Tell me about it." Bright took her gently into his arms. They leaned against the bed. Rose rested her head on his shoulder. They were covered in the same quilt. Rose felt safe and happy in his arms. "When I was a sophomore in high school, my parents hired a new private piano teacher for me. His name was Oscar. He was young, gentle and modest, well-spoken, and perfect. One day, Nora came to see me and met Oscar. She fell in love with him at first sight. You know, Nora was always outgoing and bold. She took the initiative to pursue Oscar. Oscar, however, decisively rejected her. Nora was sad. Although she felt hurt, she did not give up and persisted for two years. At that time, Nora was nineteen years old. One day, Oscar was knocked unconscious by someone in retaliation and taken away. Nora happened to see it and followed them all the way regardless of the danger. However, she was already found by these people and was also kidnapped by them. When Oscar woke up, he saw that Nora was tied up there. He calmly said to the man who kidnapped him that he could do anything as long as they let Nora go. But Nora was adamant that she would not leave. The man said that Oscar had cuckolded him and that he would not let anyone go. But the fact was that his wife carried a torch for Oscar and even seduced him. Oscar was not moved by her at all. But he was misunderstood. The man let go of Oscar to have a fight with him. He said that as long as Oscar hit back, he would hit Nora. So, for Nora, Oscar naturally did not fight back. Nora cried, desperately begging the man not to hit Oscar. Oscar was beaten down. But the man still did not let him go. Nora tried her best to break away from the people guarding her and ran forward to protect Oscar, blocking the hit from the man with her body for Oscar. Nora stared at the man with a murderous look. At that time, she looked awesome. The man was shocked by her eyes. Anyway, he had vented his anger and did not want to kill people. So, he let them go. Nora then informed me. They were taken to the hospital. As Oscar was injured badly and almost died, Nora looked after him for three days. Fortunately, Oscar woke up. After this incident, they naturally got together. But the Cooper family was wealthy and Nora was the only daughter of it. So, they naturally loved her very much. Oscar was just an ordinary people. There was a big gap in their identities. Nora could not control her marriage. So, when their love was found by Nora's parents, they had a hard time... But they had pulled through. Until... that fire. Oscar was trapped in it and burned to ashes. Then, they were finally separated. Nora and I watched the fire burning and even reddening the sky. It was a bad day. The wind fueled the fire. Nora collapsed and fainted. She could not accept such a reality. She tried to commit suicide, but was saved. After a long period of isolation, she finally accepted the cruel reality. Then, she was forced to marry a man for her family. When this news came out, there were many famous men who wanted to marry her. She finally chose Alan, who was also young and fun-loving. They hit it off. They agreed to be a couple in public, but did not interfere with each other in private, and lived peacefully for five years. Nora hadn't changed in the past five years. She will still dream about Oscar. Last time we went back to the restaurant by the school together, she mistook someone else for Oscar." Rose came back to reality from her memory and looked up to meet Bright's eyes. Her eyes were already red. "Do you know? I am afraid she'd stay like this. I want her to be happy. But she said the one who could give her happiness was dead and she could never be happy again. Back then, I had thought I would live out my life alone with Doris. But Gods favored me and let you appear in my life... Now that I am happy, I want Nora to find her own happiness as I did." Bright raised his hand and cupped her face, "Now you know how lucky you are to have me."

"In fact, I've always thought I am so lucky to have you." Rose's eyes were full of affection, "Thank you for not giving up on me. I'm really lucky to have met you."

"Then share your good fortune with Nora. She'll be happy too." Bright lowered his head and kissed her on the brow with affection. Rose wrapped her arms around Bright's waist and took her happiness into her hands. A week passed quickly in the busy work. Today was Patriarch Way's eightieth birthday. All of the Way family's business partners, friends, and relatives came to the party. This time, the Way family spent a lot on the birthday banquet, showing the status and power of the family. The Way family held the banquet in the idyllic new villa in Babyblue Bay. The huge lawn was beautiful and solemn, simple but exquisite. At the banquet, everyone was well dressed and jeweled. The handsome Bright was wearing a white shirt and dark blue suit with a dark sparkle like starlight. He looked mature and stable, and was in high and vigorous spirits. He came with Rose. Rose was wearing a dark blue gradual change skirt, which outlined her perfect figure, dreamy, beautiful, elegant... She was so stunning like the goddess of the starry night. Bright and Rose were wearing couple dress and were a perfect match. When they appeared, they instantly became the focus, attracting countless admiring eyes. Many people were guessing and whispering about the relationship between Bright and Rose. And Palmer Way, Patriarch Way's eldest son, went to greet them personally, showing great respect. They walked to Patriarch Way calmly under the gaze of thousands of people. Patriarch Way was surrounded by many people, including Nora and Alan. Nora and Rose exchanged a glance. Bright brought a gift to Patriarch Way, "Patriarch Way, this is for you. My wife and I wish you a long and prosperous life." "Thank you, Mr. Bright." Patriarch Way took the gift. "Why don't you open it to see if you like it, Patriarch Way?" The gift was packed in a rectangular top-quality brocade box, which was lightly fragrant. Patriarch Way opened the box. There was a scroll inside. He took it out, Palmer and Annette Way, his sister, unfolded the scroll. It was the real handwriting of the famous calligrapher of the Tang Dynasty. Patriarch Way was amazed when he saw it. It was exactly the masterpiece he had been looking for before. He didn't expect Bright to give him such a good birthday gift that made him burst with joy. "Mr. Bright, thank you. Then I will accept it." "I am glad that Patriarch Way likes it." Just as Patriarch Way accepted the gift, there was a hubbub. _____
