

:::::Explanations:::::

(This part is maybe irrelevant since I'm already writing a sequel.)

So, I've come to know that a few people were disappointed with how this story ended. Some people wanted to see the relationship develop between Alarick and Chriselda. Trust me, I tried working on that but then whatever I wrote didn't feel as if it would do justice to the tremendous relationship Alarick and Chris went through.

I think that people expected Chris and Alarick to get married in a proper wedding style. I had given this idea a thought but then I quickly rejected it because that seemed too cliché. (It happens in almost all the werewolf stories!)

I think people were disappointed too because they didn't wanted this story to end. But as you all know, all good things come to an end and this story also had to come to an end.
