

Deep affection honey come back to me

Chapter: 451

Didn't Find Him

The people of Shi family searched him for a whole day, and searched each inch of the rivers in Lexington City. They even asked the people nearby one by one, but they found nothing.

It was New Year's Eve now. It was supposed to be a family reunion day, but Stone Road was shrouded in the cold winter wind and snow, without a trace of celebrating the New Year.

Even so, Sam still asked them to have the New Year Eve dinner together and sit out the year.

James came back home tiredly, everyone looked at him expectantly.

"Brother, have you found him?" Dora asked in a hoarse voice. It seemed that she had cried quietly.

"No." James shook his head, threw his coat away and lay down on the sofa.

The family looked even more sorrowful.

They had looked for him for such a long time, but there was no news at all. There was little hope.

Emma was also invited by Sam to have the New Year's Eve dinner. When she heard the sound of James who returned home, she thoughtfully poured him a glass of warm water.

Taking a sip of hot water, James pulled Emma to sit on the sofa with his head resting on her legs.

He kept se

s the best news that we can't find him now."

"Yes, it's the best news that there is no news." Dora was melancholy, "I hope Uncle John is safe."

"Everything will be fine." Dora suddenly changed to a firm tone, and her eyes seemed to be filled with hope.

Her Uncle John was a hero, the most powerful person in the world. He could get rid of any danger.

She had to trust Uncle John and firmly believe him.

"I also think that Uncle John will be fine. Although I'm worried about him, I don't seem to be in a panic all the time. I have an indescribable feeling." James reached out to pull back his hair, his untidy hair suddenly became a mess, like a chicken nest.

Emma lowered her eyes and smiled, "maybe Uncle John was just like Nina. It was just a false alarm. Nothing happened."

"If only that's the case." James held her hand tightly and crossed their ten fingers, which seemed to make him more relieved.

In fact, it was not as bad as the news reported, but it was not as good as Emma and the others thought.

According to his original plan, John went ashore to meet Leon. But John fainted and didn't wake up.

Noah Arrived At C Island

play_arrow

On the afternoon of New Year's Eve, the wind was strong in C Island, mixed with cold rain.

It was still cold in winter.

People on the road opened the umbrella for less than a second, and it was deformed by the wind. They had no choice but to tight their clothes and hurry back home or find a place to shelter from the rain.

A man in a black windbreaker walked slowly in the wind and rain, with his hands in his pockets.

He was tall and thin, and it was supposed to be difficult to walk because of the strong wind, but he walked steadily into the most expensive hotel on C Island with his back up.

As soon as the man entered, Vicente also entered the hotel. This was the only place Vicente stayed when he was not in his castle.

Two steps later, his phone rang.

Vicente took it out and saw the caller ID was "Princess Nina".

"Oh, it's so rare for our little princess to call me. Do you expect me to go home and celebrate the New Year's Eve with you and the children?" Vicente walked inside with a smile and patted the water drops on his body with his empty hands from time to time. He was still wet just now.

Nina said, "Yes, you have been out for a month. When will you come back? I feel a little bored. "

"You want me to go back because you a ess Nina, you should be able to contact her."

Noah frowned slightly. "I can't get in touch with her."

"Sir, you should go to see Count Nangong."

"Who?"

When the receptionist was about to answer, she saw Vicente walking over. She bowed respectfully and said, "Count Nangong."

Noah turned his head and saw a man with a feminine face walking towards him. The man was not as tall as him, but a little pretentious.

When Vicente saw Noah's firm and handsome face, he was a little surprised and a little anthomaniac. This kind of man was completely based on Vicente's aesthetic taste.

But Noah looked a little embarrassed and pitiful after getting wet in the rain.

"Are you looking for Nina?" Vicente asked again before Noah could answer, "Are you from Lexingport City? A friend of Nina? "

Noah's eyes became deep. He looked at the man in front of him and said, "It seems that you have a good relationship with Nini."

"Yes, you are right." "I'm Nina's husband," said Vicente with a smile.

"Husband?" Noah exclaimed in surprise.

Faced with such a surprise, Vicente seemed to know who he was. "He is from Lexingport City. His surname is Ye. He is a friend of Nina. Are you Noah?"

If he was really Noah, Vicente would have a gift for Nina.

Take Off The Clothes In Front Of Him

A hint of joy flashed through Vicente's eyes. Noah frowned and asked, "Count Nangong, Nini's... Husband? "

To be honest, Noah still felt that the woman at the front desk and the man in front of him were joking. 'Nini's husband should be John. Why does the man in front of me become Nina's husband?'

"Yes, Don't I look like?" Vicente raised his head to look at Noah.

'Why is he so tall?

It made me lose face.'

Vicente moved backward a little bit so that the difference in height between them was not obvious, and it looked like they looked at each other.

"No, Nini's husband is 1.9 meter." Noah said that on purpose because he noticed what Vicente was doing.

Vicente was speechless...

"Are you Noah or not? Why are you different from what Nina said? " In Vicente's impression, Noah was a mature, steady and gentleman man. How could Noah say something hurt him?

Vicente doubted the man in front of him deeply.

Demi whispered in his ear, "Count Nangong, you are different from the rumors."

"What?" Vicente turned his head with a murderous look.

Demi said fearlessly, "Before the interview, I thought you were a po lothes and shoes you want have been packed."

"Put them in the back seat."

"Okay. You two put the things in it. " The woman asked the shop assistants to open the door and put something in it. After closing the door, she watched Vicente's car leave.

"Follow the navigation now. Find a place with few people to park and change into clean clothes." Vicente said, "I'm sure you can't go to see Nina like this."

Noah didn't refuse and pulled over and took the clothes off the back seat and then took off his windbreaker and he was going to take off more his clothes.

"Wait!" Seeing this, Vicente immediately stopped Noah. Vicente said in horror, "Are you going to take off your clothes here? Go back and change it. "

"It's a little troublesome. I will change it here. I don't like men." Noah said as he took off his shirt and stripped himself naked!

Vicente's eyes widened! ! !

'I am a woman and he is a man. How could he take off his clothes in front of me? !'

Vicente inadvertently caught a glimpse of Noah's strong abdomen. Vicente felt his head hit and a hot stream flowed out of his nose.

Vicente had a nosebleed.

Chapter: 454

Of Course I Like Men

play_arrow

stop

This was the first time Vicente had seen a man's body - only the upper part of his body, which made Vicente had nosebleed.

Although Vicente was a man in other people's eyes, she had a private space on the second floor in the castle, and she would make room for herself outside. Even Demi, her personal assistant, couldn't get close to her.

In the castle, only Mrs. Nangong and Nina were allowed to enter the second floor freely. Only the two of them in C Island knew that Vicente was a woman pretending to be a man.

She used to deal with men, but she had never been with any man naked.

Vicente quickly grabbed a tissue from the car and covered his mouth and nose. He turned around with his back to Noah.

Noah was a real man. When he was in the police school, he lived with his roommates. When they entered the dormitory, they took off their shirts and walked around with upper part of their bodies naked. It was not rare.

What surprised Noah was that Count Nangong didn't dare to look at him. What's more, Vicente even had nosebleed.

After a short pause, Noah put on the sweater and asked, "So you like men?"

"No!" Vicente re

oment he turned his head and looked straight ahead, his heart was filled with sadness.

He didn't know if the sad feeling was for himself or for Mr. Shi.

Since Nini had remarried and had children, the wedding of Mr. Shi and Vivian should have been held smoothly yesterday.

He didn't want to get involved in the matter of Mr. Shi and Vivian, but he had to get involved in the matter of Nini.

"Is Nini willing to marry you?" Noah tightened his grip on the steering wheel and stepped on the gas unconsciously.

Feeling that the car was speeding up, Vicente sat straight in silence and said, "of course. I know what you are worried about. I'm very kind to her and our children. We are a loving couple and we are on good terms. Just now she called me for a gift, and I happened to meet you.

You are her good friend in Lexingport City. This gift will certainly make her happy for a long time, so that the babies in her belly will also be happy and grow up smoothly. After the babies are born, I will give them the best things in the world."

Noah was a little annoyed by Vicente's words. "Do you really like her or just like babies?"

Chapter: 455

The Man Who Came Here For You

play_arrow

"I like both." In fact, Vicente was more eager to hear that Nina could say the children, because Vicente didn't like women, and every night, Nina would catch Vicente to listen to her story with John with the children in her belly.

The name John was getting on Vicente's nerves.

When John came, Nina would definitely go with her husband. There must be nothing for her to miss. Perhaps only the children could made Nina miss.

Thinking of this, Vicente suddenly felt a little disappointed.

In order not to let the disappointment continue, Vicente took out his phone and called Nina. Vicente smiled and said, "My little princess, I'll tell you something. The gift for you is very special, especially from a very far place to travel through mountains and rivers for you."

Nina was stunned when she received the phone call. "A very far place?"

She seemed to think of something and her heart trembled slightly. "Is the gift here for me?"

"Yes." Vicente turned his head to look at Noah. He saw Noah at the entrance of the hotel. Noah was indeed worn out with water all over his body. "I'm hanging up. If y belly the most. It must be a naughty kid in the future."

"I heard that Count Nangong was the most naughty when he was three or four years old." Cali said with a smile. Coincidentally, she saw a figure at the door. "Mrs. Nina, your husband is here."

Nina looked at the direction of Cali's finger pointing nervously and excitedly.

"Be careful. This is the gift I prepared for our little princess. Don't damage it." Vicente ordered his men to bring up a round box.

The box was put in the middle of the hall.

"Well, you can leave now." Vicente waved his hand and asked the servants to leave. Then he turned around and walked towards Nina with a smile. "Here is your gift."

Nina stared at the box and asked, "Is it in the box?"

"Yes." Vicente held her hand and whispered in her ear, "I asked someone to buy it for you from Lexingport City. Go and have a look."

"You bought it... Is it a thing? " Nina was dubious, "Not a human?"

"It's illegal to buy people. I'm not a human trafficker." Vicente immediately shook his head and said seriously.

Nina began to doubt. Did she guessing wrong?

Chapter: 456

This Woman Betrayed Her Teammates

play_arrow

Vicente stood in front of the one meter high box with Nina in her hand and ordered the others, "All of you can go out now. Cali, help Mrs. Shi go out for a while and come back at dinner time."

"Yes, sir." All the servants in the castle left.

Nina looked at him in confusion, "Is it so mysterious?"

"Very mysterious." Vicente raised her eyebrows slightly. "You have to open the mysterious gift by yourself. Open it quickly."

"Okay." Nina stared at the bowknot on the box. As long as she gently tore it, she could open the box.

She wondered what was in the box and if it was John who came here for her.

These questions were wandering in her mind. When her fingers touched the ribbon, she suddenly didn't dare to open it.

For half a year, she had no contact with the people in Lexingport City. She lived the same life as before. The only change was that the baby in her belly grew up day by day.

In the past eighteen years, she felt that time had passed quickly. But now, half a and stared at Nina.

"Okay." In fact, Nina didn't realize that she was angry.

Vicente had never been angry with Nina. Even if she glared at her, it was not true.

But Vicente was really on the alert against Noah.

But Nina didn't seem to be a person who didn't care about the overall situation. She dared to confess to Noah because she believed in his moral quality.

So Vicente's vigilance dropped a little, but she still glared at Nina and said sourly, "I can trust him. During his time in C Island, he must be under my watch all the time. Otherwise, if anything goes wrong, our efforts will be in vain."

Nina glanced at Noah, and Noah gave her a hint to make a decision.

"Okay." Holding Vicente's arm, Nina turned around and said in a low voice, "No problem in the daytime. Are you going to watch him in the evening? Don't forget that you are..."

Nina gave her a look.

Vicente looked at her body and was stunned.

"....." How could she forget that she was still a woman.

Being Jealous Because Of The Babies

play_arrow

But for safety, she had to make sure that Noah was within the scope of her control.

"It's no big deal. He must be in my sight all the time, and even at night there is no exception." Vicente didn't lower his voice on purpose to let Noah hear him.

"But," Vicente suddenly felt embarrassed. "In that case, you can only sleep by yourself."

For the two women, it was a normal thing, but for Noah, who knew they were not a real couple, it was a dangerous thing.

"I agree to sleep in the same room with him." Noah said in a hurry. Thinking that Vicente liked men, he added, "two beds."

"Or do you think we sleep on the same bed?" Vicente got angry. She didn't dislike him, but he disliked her.

She sneered, "You are not my type."

"I know." Noah said calmly.

"Humph," Vicente didn't take it seriously. "What do you know? You know nothing."

You don't know I'm a woman at all.

The two of them had a good relationship at the beginning. Since Noah knew the secret between Vicente and Nina, Vicente had deliberately or unintentionally given Noah a hard time.

The two of them talked as if they were going to fight.

The reason why they couldn't fight was that Noah was calm and olded him while kicking, scolding him for not protecting you well and calling him by his name, Mr. Shi was not angry at all. Instead, he stood there and let her kick him. I heard from Henry that his legs were bruised."

Nina's heart twitched and her eyes turned red.

Hearing of Mimi's actions, she really felt warm in her heart. She was moved, but at the same time, she felt sorry for John. She felt sorry for the fact that he had been willing to give up his dignity for her, and that he had even been kicked and reproached by Mimi.

He must feel guilty and sad.

"It has nothing to do with John. I was brought back by force. The death certificate was issued by my mother's people." Nina moved her head and held the tears in her eyes.

"Noah, I miss him so much. I miss him so much now." Nina cried.

Even if she raised her head, she couldn't stop her tears from falling.

Two lines of tears fell from the corner of her eyes, along her cheeks to her fair neck, and stayed at the position of her collarbone for a moment.

The light of the tears was weak, but it hurt Noah's eyes.

John also saw Nina's tears.

John felt sorry for her and reached out to hug her, but failed.

Chapter: 458

She Can Only Be My Little Girl

play_arrow

Nina, who John had been missing, disappeared from his arms.

"Little girl!" John looked around nervously, but didn't see Nina at all. There was only heavy mist. "Little girl, where are you?"

He called Nina and ran back and forth in the mist.

"Little girl..." With his eyebrows knitted, he murmured, sweating profusely.

Hearing the voice, Wynn opened the door and entered the room. Finding that John was in a nightmare, Wynn reached out his hand and shook John's shoulder. "Mr. Shi, wake up."

Hearing someone call him, John suddenly opened his eyes and grabbed Wynn's wrist. "Who are you?"

John said with cold and sharp eyes. He was like a wolf whose territory had been occupied.

Wynn was taken aback.

"Fuck..." Wynn cursed in a low voice and reminded John, "It's me, Wynn."

"Wynn." John murmured. He loosened his grip and sat up.

Wynn withdrew his hand. Seeing that his wrist was red, he complained in a low voice, "You are stronger than the little princess."

John reached out his hand and wiped the sweat off his forehead. Thinking of the dream in which he couldn't find Nina, he fe to waste time on talking to Wynn.

He thought, 'My little girl is mine and she only belongs to me.

No one can take her away from me.

I'll fight with anyone who takes her away.'

However, what was more important for John now was to make Leon help him go to C Island.

A hint of slyness flashed through John's eyes. "What can I do to prevent being stopped?"

"I don't know either. I haven't been back for half a year and know little about the latest information of C Island." Leon touched his nose.

John was speechless.

"Don't look at me like that. I must have a better solution than you. After all, that's my home." Leon said confidently.

John could only trust Leon for the time being.

"Apart from hiding my identity, what else do I need to do?"

"Impulsive." Leon said word by word, "Don't be impulsive. Don't be impulsive when you see that Vicente is with my sister."

Hearing the name of Vicente, John's eyes were already filled with anger. He clenched his fists and the room was filled with the sound of finger joints cracking.

Whoever was punched by him would be badly hurt.

Chapter: 459

Use Violence To Solve Problems

play_arrow

Seeing him rubbing his hands, Leon couldn't help asking, "Who is more powerful, you or my sister? To hit someone."

"It's me." John lied without any blush on his face.

Leon asked, "My sister can't defeat you?"

"Yes." John said, "She won't hit me."

As for what happened just now... John hoped that it was blocked automatically.

Leon still had a skeptical look on his face. He looked at him up and down with inquiring eyes and thought that this man was obviously much stronger than half a year ago. It was a little credible that Nini couldn't beat him now... It was impossible.

His bright eyes were like a radar, which made John feel guilty for a moment. Then he looked at him with sharp and defiant eyes.

"I heard that my wife hit you when she was drunk, but she never hit me. You saw it with your own eyes."

A hint of surprise flashed through Leon's eyes, but it suddenly calmed down. "So you know we did it on purpose."

The corners of John's mouth rose slightly.

It was important to save face.

Leon sighed, "Well, I believe my si

she even said suspiciously that you might not like her and dump her one day."

"What?" John was stunned.

Leon thought he didn't believe him, so he gave an example, "It took my sister two or three years to make progress in hacking, and you caught up with her in two or three months.

And your legend in the business world. My sister always flaunted and admired you very much."

Hearing the last sentence, John gave him a meaningful look.

It was undeniable that he was a fast learner and business legend. But he didn't believe that she admired him... So he thought that Leon was just making up a story.

He knew that his little girl had their ambitions elsewhere and she worshiped Professor Gu and his disciples, including Noah.

This had troubled him a lot.

In order to keep her love, he often took off his clothes and made good use of his face.

The main reason was that she really liked his figure. The key point was that it didn't work for others, but he was useful.

Thinking of this, John suddenly became more confident. "I see."

Chapter: 460

Punish Vivian Part one

Noticing that John was confident, Leon was comforted like an old father.

"Okay, let's continue the topic." Leon said seriously, "It's a fact that Nini and Vicente are a couple. Moreover, it has something to do with the political and economic development of C Island.

It's not all my parents' fault. You are also a ruler, so you should understand the principle of being a ruler. My parents are also thinking about the development of C Island. As a princess, Nini must help C Island and can't do anything at will.

No one in the world can do whatever he wants. We will always be shackled by something. "

John understood how hard Leon had tried to convince him. It was the same for John to marry Vivian and not to hurt Ye family.

John had to sacrifice something.

But John also believed that everything could be broken through by his own efforts, creating another path.

"There will be a solution." John's low voice was like the sound of a cello, somewhat depressing.

There would be a way, but John didn't know what kind of way to achieve both ends.

Leon knew the helpless in the matter. "Nini and Vicente have been married for half a year, and the curren nd walked up to Vivian, looking down at her.

The woman standing on the ground was dressed in luxurious clothes, and the other woman was lying on the ground as embarrassed as a beggar. There was a huge difference between them.

There was also a stench from Vivian's body. With a disgusted look, Jessica raised her hand against her nose and kicked Vivian's arm.

"Yvonne, take her to wash and change her clothes, or someone will say that we mistreated her."

Aren't you abusing me?

Vivian raised her head resentfully and tightened her grip on the ground. Her nails, which hadn't been cut for a long time, scratched the ground and made a harsh sound.

Jessica frowned unhappily. "Hurry up and wash her body. Cut her nails too."

Yvonne walked over and dragged Vivian away.

Vivian was thrown into the bathtub. The hot water warmed her stiff body and made her feel better.

The hot water poured into her wound and her face twisted in pain.

"Ouch..." Taking a deep breath, Vivian was about to stand up from the bathtub, but she was pressed into the water by Yvonne.

"HMM..." Vivian struggled with her hands patting the water.

The water was surging.
