

Deep affection honey come back to me

Chapter: 501

Heaven Never Seals Off All The Exits

Nina's lips were still moving slightly. John put his ear close and heard her calling his name again.

Even though Nina's eyes were still closed, the corners of John's mouth, which had been drooping for several days, finally curled up.

"Little girl, wake up quickly." John gently kissed her eyes. A crystal tear slid from his left eye to the tip of his nose, and dropped on Nina's pale face.

The hot tears seemed to be able to merge into the dream, and Nina's fingers moved.

"She moved." Surprised and overjoyed, Vicente went out and said, "I'll call the doctor."

As soon as she turned around, Leon and a nurse came in.

"Leon, Nina's finger moved just now! And she called J...his name." Vicente glanced at the nurse and immediately corrected himself.

When John heard the sound of pushing the door, he had already stood up and retreated to the side.

"Her finger moved? And she called out his name?" Leon asked in surprise.

Vicente nodded, "Yes, it's true."

The nurse next to them said at the right time, "The doctor said that the princess was not in a vegetative ing. "Demi, how about you go to the castle to pick up Cali and the children together and drive my car. You can ask my driver to drive. Bring more bodyguards. Don't make any more mistakes."

"Okay, I'll do it right away." Demi stood up and left. She left her bag on the table on the sofa in a hurry.

Demi got in the car and drove to Vicente castle. On the way, Demi kept silent and played with her phone with her head down.

The car stopped outside the castle. Before Demi got out of the car, she said to the driver, "Kody, Count Nangong said that in order to ensure the safety of the children, we will divide into two groups. You drive an empty car back, and the bodyguards' cars will follow you. Cali and I will take the children to another car."

"There are a lot of people who want to plot against Count Nangong. We must be careful," Demi said seriously and unfastened the seat belt to get out of the car.

The driver, Kody Xu, nodded and said, "Okay."

"Just do it." Demi turned around. The sunshine at noon just shone on her left corner of her mouth, wantonly smiling.

You Are Not Him

The warm sunshine covered the ground with a layer of golden light, and the sky was very clean. Occasionally, a goose passed by and left traces.

Nina walked forward in a daze, but there was silence. She didn't know how long she had walked. When she really couldn't walk, she sat on the ground.

At this time, the surrounding environment was changing little by little, and the sound beside her ears gradually became lively. The traffic was heavy and the voice was intertwined. She sat on the steps of a building.

Nina slowly stood up and turned around to look at the building. She saw the words "Time Group".

A blurry figure walked out. It was not until the figure approached that Nina saw his face clearly.

"Nini, have you been waiting for a long time? Let's go shopping now." Noah smiled and touched her head.

When he lowered his hand, Nina grabbed his hand and put it on her face. Her eyes were blurred and she asked, "Isn't my face easy to pinch?"

"I don't know." Noah smiled like the sun in March. The temperature was just right, and his fingers pinched her face with warmth. But finally, he turned right end up worse than the cup.

"I..."

"I'll break your glass and you pour water on my wife." John's tone was as calm as before a storm.

He approached Vicente step by step.

Vicente, who didn't have the advantage in height, was much shorter under the domineering momentum of John. She felt guilty for pouring a glass of water on Nina by accident. So now Vicente felt as if she was crawling on the ground.

"I'm wronged." Vicente bit her lips tightly and finally took out a tissue to wipe the water off Nina's neck.

John grabbed the tissue from her hand and snapped, "Don't touch her."

"Then you do it." Vicente handed the whole pack of tissue to John.

As soon as John's hand touched Nina's neck, he saw her muttering something that the two of them couldn't hear clearly.

Her long and curly eyelashes trembled like butterfly wings. Nina slowly opened her amber eyes and weakly asked, "Is it raining?"

Vicente stood still and asked, "Did I wake her up?"

John didn't say anything.

Because he didn't know what happened.

He only knew that she had woken up, opened her eyes and spoke.

John Hug Me

play_arrow

When Nina woke up, John's first reaction was not to hug her with joy, but to turn around immediately so that she wouldn't see his face.

He couldn't let her suffer any more.

She had been in a coma for a day and a night for the first time, and for the second time, she had been in a coma for four days and three nights. If she was stimulated again, how long would she be in a coma next time?

John was really afraid of that.

He would rather put on the mask and continue to stay with her, even if she really couldn't remember him

As long as she fell into a coma, his heart would always be perturbed and never be stable for a moment.

"Where is my mask?" John's voice became hoarse for no reason.

"Mask?" Vicente came to her senses, looked around and pointed to the sofa. "Over there."

When John was about to walk over, a soft hand grabbed him.

"John." Even though Nina's voice was weak and feeble, she had made every word clear.

His name came out of her mouth clearly.

It wasn't Noah, it wasn't Sean, it was John.

Vicente was flabbergasted. "What, what did you call him?"

At this moment, John's eyes flickered, and the back of rself.

"When I watered her, she waked up soon and her memories will return to their original position."

Vicente still found it inconceivable. "We won't know what's going on until Noah brings those materials to the experts for analysis."

Leon asked, "What information? You mean Noah has got the relevant information? He was on his way here? When exactly will he arrive? As long as we don't understand, we won't feel at ease."

"Spring City is not far from here. He's already on the plane. He'll be there in three or four hours." After saying that, Vicente praised him, "It's quite forward-looking for you to tell the truth to stimulate Nina. Sometimes, we have to use poison to attack."

Leon was speechless.

"As you said, sometimes it's a blessing in disguise. You don't have to fight a battle with uncertainty," Leon reminded her.

Vicente sighed, "I have no choice. Nina has woken up. I'll call them to stop sending Van and Don here."

She took out her phone and was about to make a phone call. At this time, Leon said, "Take them over. They haven't seen their mom for three or four days."

"You are right." Vicente took back her phone.

Get On The Wrong Car

After a series of security checks, Demi entered the castle with her hands empty. Cali was changing diapers for Van. Don was sleeping soundly on the small bed.

"Cali, Count Nangong asked me to pick up the children to the hospital."

"Good afternoon, Miss Demi. Please wait for me for a moment." Cali changed into clean diapers for Van and held Van in her arms. She looked at Demi and said, "Miss Demi, can you call Count Nangong? My hands are full. "

"Okay." Demi didn't find her phone until she realized that she had left her bag in the hospital. "I'm sorry, Cali. I didn't bring my phone with me."

"Use mine, on the table." Cali looked at her phone and said, "It's face unlock."

Demi took the phone and unlocked it in front of Cali. Demi dialed Vicente's number and turned on the speaker.

"Cali."

"Count Nangong, this is Demi."

"Demi, have you arrived at the castle?"

"Yes, Count Nangong. Cali wants to know if you sent me to pick up the children to the hospital." Demi said respectfully.

"Yes, Cali. Come here with the babies and Demi. Remember to put the small bracelets on Don and Van."

Cali said to the phone, "I know."

Then Demi h

suspect that there is something wrong with Tasha. What should we do?" Demi looked at her anxiously.

Cali became vigilant at once. She touched her body and asked, "Where is my phone?"

"I forgot to bring it to you on the table." Demi looked at her apologetically, "I didn't bring my phone with me. What should we do?"

Cali bit her lips and came up with an idea. "You should do whatever I do later."

Demi nodded worriedly, with a sinister look in her eyes.

"What are you two whispering about? Tell me what's so interesting about?" Tasha said happily.

"Nothing. I just feel a little stomachache. Is there a bathroom nearby?" Cali rubbed her belly naturally and looked a little pale.

She tugged at Demi's sleeve and said, "There's a bathroom ahead. Go with me. I want to put on the clean diaper for Van. Van was smell over his body."

"Okay, there is a bathroom on the roadside. Tasha, stop there." Demi ordered.

"Okay." Tasha parked the car on the side of the road, patted the bodyguard on the passenger seat and deliberately raised her voice, "Follow them and protect them well. Keep close to them. understand? Just wait outside the bathroom. "

Cali Found Out That Demi Was A Spy

play_arrow

After getting out of the car, Cali looked around and slowly walked to the bathroom. She wanted to discuss with Demi about the way to escape, but she dared not act rashly because of the bodyguard behind them.

The two entered the bathroom together. Sure enough, the bodyguard guarded the only exit outside.

Cali finally frowned, "Tasha must be Mr. Jett's man, so is this bodyguard. We can't always stay in the bathroom. What should we do? We two don't have mobile phones to contact Count Nangong. What should we do? If we go out too late, it will cause suspicion. How can we, two women and two children, defeat them? "

"And there must be more than two of them. Since they have planned this, there must be all their men all the way." Demi pretended to be lost in thought.

Cali didn't find anything wrong with Demi. She said, "What you said makes sense. We have to find a way as soon as possible. It would be great if there is someone in the bathroom. We can ask someone to send a message or borrow a cell phone. "

Demi stood behind her with a sinister smile. There were their people all the way. How could they let Cali escape so easily?

ax them not to cry then she could escape, or else she would be found everywhere she hid.

"How about getting in the car first?" Demi looked at the strange gazes from the passers-by time to time. Afraid that something might go wrong, she reached out again and said, "Let me hold Van."

"Wait a minute. I'll give the baby to you when I coax them well. It's difficult to coax these two kids when they cry. If I don't coax them well, they will cry all the time. Usually, only I can coax them." Cali turned around and didn't let Demi take the baby back.

Demi thought it was really troublesome for her to coax a child when he cried. At that time, there would be children's crying in the car, which would definitely cause trouble.

"Okay, you coax them well first."

"Okay." Cali coaxed anxiously, "Little masters, don't cry. Only when you don't cry can we go to find Mommy, Okay? If you keep crying, we won't go to look for Mommy. "

Maybe it was because the mention of "looking for Mommy" that Van finally stopped crying. His red and swollen eyes no longer rolled the tears out, and Don behind them also stopped crying.

'Now!

Run!'

Chapter: 506

Avoiding The Pursuit

play_arrow

Cali rushed to the entrance of the farmer's market.

"Don't run!" The bodyguard came to his senses and ran after Cali.

For a moment, Demi didn't care whether she would expose her identity or not. She shouted with a cold face, "Go and get her back! Don't let her run away!"

Demi wanted to catch up with them, but she could only stamp her feet for her wore the high heels today. Not far away, Tasha also saw Cali run away, so she called others immediately, and she wanted to drive to block Cali.

The whistling wind blew into her mouth, and Cali's throat was painful. She took out the speed of participating in the relay race at school and ran forward desperately.

Maybe it was because Demi and the others looked down upon Cali too much that the bodyguard in suits and shoes were flung away by Cali for ten meters.

The entrance of the farmer's market was right across the road. Cali rushed over desperately, remembering to protect the child in her arms all the time. A driver shouted at her. Cali didn't care, and neither did Don and Van crying.

Cali did run far. This place is not big."

"What if she ran out of this place? Then it will be more difficult for us to catch her. "

"Let me think." Demi thought for a moment and said, "Cali should go to the hospital as soon as possible. There are our people in the hospital, so you don't need to worry about that. I'm afraid she's smart enough that she won't go to the hospital, but to find a place to hide and contact Vicente. "

"In that case, why don't you contact Vicente first and tell him that Cali ran away with the child and ask Vicente to send people to look for her.

Anyway, Vicente also has our men. As long as they find Cali, we will deal with Cali, get the children's blood and send the children back. Not only will you not expose yourself, but Vicente will trust you more. " Tasha smiled.

Demi's eyes lit up. "You're right. I'll call him right away. Give me your phone."

"You can't use my phone. You can find someone's phone randomly so that you won't be suspected."

"You are so considerate."

The two looked at each other and smiled slyly.

Search For Cali

play_arrow

Something buzzed.

Vicente's phone rang.

"Count Nangong, this is Demi."

"Well, have you arrived at the hospital?" Vicente and Leon were waiting for the blood test report. They didn't wait in the ward because they didn't want to disturb John and Nina, who were chatting happily inside.

"Have Van and Don arrived?" Leon said, "I'll go downstairs to pick them up. I haven't held them for days. I miss them so much."

Vicente was about to nod when he heard Demi's self reproach.

"I'm sorry, Count Nangong. Please punish me. Cali ran away with the young masters and we didn't know where they were. Please send some people to search for Cali and the young masters immediately."

"Pardon?" With a long face, Vicente snapped, "Who took the babies away? Where are the babies?"

"Cali, it was Cali who ran away with them. On the way to the hospital, she said she had a stomachache and went to the bathroom with Don. She said that Van's diapers needed to be changed and asked me to carry him to go with her. But as soon as she got out of the car, she took Van away. We chased after her. Someone helped her and we couldn't catch up." Demi finished her words in one breath and said seriously, "I'm sorry."

Count Nangong, Demi."

As soon as Cali heard the name of Demi, she felt alarmed. It seemed that what she had thought about did not work. Everyone who saw her or caught her would contact Demi. Then she and the babies would probably never come back to see Vicente.

Under the current situation, she thought that she couldn't go to the hospital.

"Excuse me, I won't go to the hospital. You can stop here."

"What? Okay."

The driver stopped the car and Cali paid the money while keeping her head down, fearing that she would be recognized and sent to Demi.

As soon as she got out of the car, she saw a group of bodyguards looking for her. They grabbed every woman and every person who was with children and asked them for their information.

Cali didn't know whether these people were enemies or friends, so she had to continue to hide. She went to the dock, got in a boat and rowed towards the small island in front of her.

Forest Island was the safest place at present.

However, she couldn't avoid some people's eyes. A boatman nearby found her and made a call.

"Is that Demi? I see the person you are looking for. She's carrying two babies and is about to escape. Come here quickly."

Survive On The Forest Island

After receiving the phone call, Demi and Tasha took their men to the wharf quietly. When they looked up, they could see a small island not far away, with a large forest and mountains. The sun was high, and the wind was blowing.

Tasha took out a bank card and threw it to the reported sailor. "Hey, this is your bonus. If you send us to the island, we add more money to you."

"No, I can't go to this island." The boatman put the card into his pocket and shook his head to refuse them.

Tasha saw a mysterious expression on the boatman's face and asked curiously, "Why?"

"Once we enter this island, it will be difficult to go out. It is guarded by the magical treasure of C Island. I heard that the little princess entered it several years ago, but she couldn't walk out. At last, an elk sent the little princess Nina out, and the prince and others finally found her.

Someone went in curiously and didn't come out afterwards, so we didn't dare to go. I advise you not to go. If you want to go, you should call the little princess to be with you, or you can't go out."

Demi didn't believe what the boatman said, "It's all the superstition. That is just a deserted island. Cowards will be scared out of their wits if th Cali's tense nerves finally relaxed. The little elk ran over happily.

Seeing this, Cali suddenly burst into laughter, so did Van and Don.

"I have an idea, young masters. I'll take you to see your grandparents right away." Holding the children in her arms, Cali walked by the lake. "Princess Nina said that there is a way out from the big tree opposite and we can get to the Scher Mountain."

As she spoke, Cali came to the intersection. There was a long staircase, and at the end of the stairs was a small dock. On the dock, there was a cruise ship with the logo of the royal family of C Island, and a straight soldier stood on the deck.

Through the cruise ship, Cali could still see the Scher Mountain.

At this time, the soldier saw her and came up to take her down.

Not only was Cali not nervous, but she also felt relieved. Because she knew that they were the soldiers guarding Scher Mountain. No matter how powerful Jett was, he couldn't put his men in it.

After relaxing, Cali felt exhausted. Before she was exhausted, she handed the children to them and said, "This is Princess Nina's children. Please send them to the Scher Mountain, not to the Nangong castle."

After saying that, Cali fainted.

Act Together

On the Forest Island, Demi, Tasha and the others were still searching for Cali, but they didn't find any trace of her, as if they were wandering in the same place.

"It's really weird, Demi. Do you think it's really like what that person said?" Tasha stopped and looked around, feeling that she had just passed this place. "We seem to be still here, like a maze."

Demi also stopped to observe the surrounding situation. She was much quieter than Tasha. "You are right. There is indeed something wrong with this island."

"Yes, it's so weird." Tasha suddenly became a little timid. She knew that there were many things in the world that were difficult to explain in a scientific way.

Demi said impatiently, "No. It's a maze. The reason why you think we are in the same place is that the trees on the island are almost the same. Look at the trail behind us and the grass in front of us. We are moving forward all the time."

Tasha looked around and found that there were indeed traces of them walking behind her, because the grass was falling to two s

Looking at the two men who were lying on the ground and whining, Tasha was stunned and then sneered, "Don't think that I really can't do anything to you. Beat him up, as long as he don't die."

"Yes, sir." The group of people attacked Noah directly.

Demi watched the play with a timid face. As soon as the fight started, she saw another black figure jump out of the forest, as agile as a cheetah.

"Watch out!" She shouted to remind Tasha. Others thought she was reminding Noah.

There was a touch of coldness on Tasha's neck. Because John put a sharp dagger on her snow-white neck, leaving a blood line.

"Tell them to stop," John threatened.

Tasha held her breath and ordered her men to stop. "Stop, all of you."

Everyone stopped fighting and looked over there.

"Here you are," Noah said with a smile. However, John didn't want to talk with him.

"Miss. Tasha!"

The others wanted to save Tasha, but John stabbed the dagger more deeply. Tasha was so scared that her face turned pale.

"No! Don't come over. Don't come over."

Chapter: 510

Noah Blocked The Knife For Him

play_arrow

The dagger on her neck was Tasha's death warrant. It was normal for her to work for Jett. At the critical moment, she still couldn't really take her life out to play.

"Sir, let's have a talk. Take off the dagger and I'll let you go." Tasha grinned helplessly.

John said, "You don't deserve to bargain with me."

Hearing this, Tasha opened her eyes slightly, "The voice is so familiar. Sean? Are you Sean?"

John didn't say anything, it meant that he acquiesced in it.

Tasha's eyes were full of surprise. She knew that Sean might not be that simple at that time, but she did not expect that he was a member of Vicente, and they were in two different camps, but they worked part-time in the same cinema on the same day.

She really didn't know if she should say that it was fate.

Demi didn't know whether it was fate or not. She only knew that Tasha was going to kill her.

First she met Noah, and then Sean. She showed up in front of the people Vicente trusted.

Demi thought that Tasha was so stupid!

Demi clenched her t

worry in his eyes.

John thought, 'What's wrong with Noah? In fact, we aren't so close.'

'We are rivals in love.'

"Has the ambulance arrived?" John was burning with anxiety. If it had been late, Noah would have died.

Demi looked at the dock and answered, "No. Oh. I heard the sound."

Vicente had always been fast. The nearest hospital had sent an ambulance. As soon as they got off the ship, the doctors and nurses carried Noah away. When he was sent to the ambulance, some emergency measures had been started.

Worried about Noah, John hailed a taxi and followed him.

Demi stood by the road. The sea breeze blew her messy hair. In fact, she had gotten something.

When Cali entered the bathroom, Demi had pulled a small part of Van's hair and stuffed it into her chest.

Demi took a look at it and found that the black part was still on her skin.

"Yes, I've got my hair. I just hope that Tasha can kill Cali. Then I won't have any risk of exposure." Demi looked at the island and said, "Tasha, don't hold me back."
