

Deep affection honey come back to me

Chapter: 511

Order Him Well

Noah was sent to the nearby hospital's operating room. After the operation was successful, he was transferred to the hospital where Nina was, lying in the ward next to her.

After taking Cali, who was in a coma, to the hospital, Leon told Nina everything he knew.

"..... Van and Don are with our parents. You don't need to worry about them. Only after Cali wakes up can we figure out what's going on. Tasha was caught by the soldiers on the Forest Island. She was sent to prison for the charge of killing the elk, but she didn't tell us who was behind it."

"I know who he is. Jett fought against Vicente openly and secretly. He has arranged countless spies around Vicente. Vicente couldn't find out all the spies for so many years." Leaning against the headboard of the bed, Nina let out a sigh and said, "It's just that we don't have evidence. Without evidence, no one can find anything from Jett."

"During this period of time, we let Van and Don stay on the Scher Mountain. It's relatively safe there. If you miss them, you can go to see them. At the same time, you can see ou

Before he could finish his words, John went to pour a glass of warm water and handed it to Noah. "If you need anything else, just tell me."

Looking at the cup in front of him, Noah couldn't hold up his hand to take it for a while. He knew that Mr. Shi condescended to pay him back, but he had never thought of asking for anything.

Noticing what Noah was thinking, Leon said, "You'd better order him during this period of time. If you don't order him, he will feel sorry."

John cast a cold glance at Leon, as if saying that no one would treat you as a mute if you shut up.

Leon pursed his lips and knew that it seemed that it was not a good place to stay for a long time, so he took Wynn back to Nina's ward.

"Thank you." Noah took the water and drank it. The warm water slowly slid into his throat, like rain water moisturizing the dry field. When he spoke again, his throat was much better. "I want another glass."

"Okay." John poured him another glass and said, "She remembered everything."

Noah stopped drinking water for a while and his eyes darkened.

I m Afraid I Can t Help It

After Noah drank the second two glasses of water, his eyes were filled with tenderness, as if the thin ice in the bottom of his heart was melting.

Feeling couldn't be forced. Moreover, he didn't intend to force Nina from the beginning. But he really wanted to deceive himself and meet some expectations in his heart.

During this period of time when Nini mistook him, he did see that she had a different feeling for him, but in the final analysis, all these only belonged to Mr. Shi.

He had thought about taking Nini for himself, but he had never thought of becoming a substitute. A substitute was a substitute, and it would never be true.

If one day Nini found out that he was just a substitute and found out that he was scheming, with Nini's temperament, their relationship would be broken up forever.

Noah admitted that he was timid. He had lost the most important persons in his life one after another, including his mother who always called his name gently, his aunt who spread her wings to protect him, and Albert who had never hurt him...

He had lost all these people. He couldn't lose Nina who called him martial brother anymore.

He couldn't lose Nina who ran to him in the rainy night.

ere thinking about and why they suddenly relaxed their vigilance.

At night, when they went to bed, Nina finally explained for Vicente, "Are you thinking about it? In fact, they all think that you can't have a sex, so they are relieved.

When Vicente heard what Nina said, the corners of her mouth twitched. She said, "I can do that!"

"I don't know you well, so..." Nina held back her laughter.

"Enough!" Vicente lay on her back and looked at the ceiling. "I'm sure there's nothing wrong with me. I think there's something wrong with you."

Nina turned to look at the person on the ground and asked, "Why?"

"Why don't let John stay? Don't you always want to have a good sleep in his arms?" Vicente said.

"I do want to sleep with him, but I can't now."

"Why?"

Nina bit her lower lip and her face began to blush. "I'm afraid I can't help it."

It took Vicente a moment to react. With a snicker, she said, "What? He can't hold it for even one night?"

"It's not him." Nina raised her head and held her hot face, her lips were a little dry. "It's me. I'm afraid that I can't help it."

Hearing this, Vicente was speechless.

She tucked herself in, and pretended not to hear anything.

Change A Posture

When Vicente woke up in the morning, she heard someone knocking at the door. She looked at the door and guessed that it must be John. So she deliberately slowly packed up before opening the door.

"Why are you so early?"

"Breakfast." After saying that, John lifted the bag with breakfast in front of Vicente.

"You prepared it for me?" Vicente took the breakfast with doubt. She didn't believe it until John didn't take it back. "Thank you."

When John passed by Vicente, he said, "Go to the next room."

"....." Vicente stopped opening the bag and closed it helplessly. "I knew you aren't kind."

After saying that, Vicente went to the next room with breakfast. Noah had woken up and was about to get out of bed.

"What are you going to take? Let me help you." Vicente put the breakfast on the table and walked towards Noah.

"I want to go to bathroom." Noah held the injured part with one hand and got out of bed with his back bent slightly.

Hearing that, Vicente was stunned for a moment, but she still walked over to help him. "Let me help you to the door of the bathroom."

"Okay." Noah let Vicente hol

ed to stand up again. "No, I'm not feeling well."

"Sit down even if you feel uncomfortable." John didn't want her to get up.

Hearing this, Nina was so angry. But now she couldn't beat him because she was not stronger than him. She had to compromise and said angrily, "Then don't press against me."

"Did I?" John asked innocently.

"Don't you?" Nina said, gritting her teeth.

"Oh, I did." John smiled and looked at Nina. "Continue?"

Nina refused with a cold face, "No. It was you who wanted to stop just now. So today I don't want that."

At this moment, John truly understood what it meant to lift a stone and hit his own feet. But he wanted to move the stone away as if he knew nothing.

"Really? I didn't do it. Let's continue."

At this moment, John pinched Nina's chin to kiss her. She raised her hand and patted him on the face, pushing his head hard. "You wish. Go on with your breakfast."

"Okay." The light in John's eyes didn't fade away. While Nina was relaxed, he threw her onto the sofa.

"I'll have my breakfast first. You can eat after I finish it."

"John, you are shameless..."

Please Be Specific To The Second

The sudden rising temperature of the air made Nina stop hesitating and begin to respond to him.

For a moment, it was like a firecracker was ignited and an uncontrollable feeling was launched. Their hands began to become irregular, trying to explore each other's territory.

With a click, the cage was untied.

"John..." Nina murmured.

Every time she called his name, he would think that it was a little temptress who wanted to seduce his soul, so he would be willing to let her seduce him.

Thump! Thump! Thump

The emotional communication between the two was in full swing. Someone knocked on the door at this time.

Demi was not blind. But she did not see anyone inside.

"Princess Nina, Count Nangong, are you there?" Demi looked inside through the glass and found no one on the bed.

However, what she didn't know was that the person on the bed was right under her eyes, close to the door.

The action on the sofa suddenly stopped.

Nina held her breath nervously and whispered in his ear, "De

"Yes, I did say that yesterday, but I think I guessed wrong." Demi said calmly.

"Yes, they are here to pick up Tasha, not Cali. I said that yesterday because when I saw Cali run over, the group of people came straight to her. I was so anxious that I reported it to you. Now I think that Cali was really attacked from front to back, but I helped others to put her and young masters in danger. I deserve to die."

Her words were mixed up with truth and false, and there was no flaw, so Vicente didn't doubt it.

"They have been scheming for a long time. It's normal that you can't notice it. Don't blame yourself too much."

Demi kept her head down all the time. "Count Nangong, can I go to see Cali?"

"Okay, you go to see her. Call the doctor as soon as she wakes up and then inform me." Vicente nodded, "She's in ward 806. You can leave now."

"Yes, sir." Demi turned around and left.

Vicente glanced at the ward behind her and breathed a sigh of relief. But she didn't know that Cali was in danger.

A Lot Of Strawberries

Vicente turned around, knocked on the door and shouted, "I'll come in when you're ready."

"Come in."

Hearing Nina's answer, Vicente pushed the door open and walked in the room. Nina and John were sitting on the sofa and having breakfast. Nina was drinking soybean milk with a straw. Seeing Vicente come in, she picked up the other cup of soybean milk and said as if nothing had happened. "Would you like to have some soybean milk?"

At the same time, John sat half a meter away from Nina and was eating a bun slowly and elegantly.

"Well, I'm alone." Vicente closed the door and locked it so that they couldn't hear the sound outside.

He walked towards Nina and took the soybean milk that was supposed to be John's. After taking a big gulp, he sat beside Nina and said, "Move a little bit."

Nina moved towards John and sat next to him. She said guiltily, "We are just having breakfast. We didn't do anything else."

At the same time, John put his arm around Nina's waist, which he had been thinking about for a long time, without saying a word.

There was a fake smile on Vicente's face. He turned his head to look at he saw surprised him.

He finally understood why Nina said on the previous night that she was afraid that she couldn't control herself, not that John couldn't control himself.

It turned out that she was worried that John couldn't bear it!

Vicente felt that Nina was too wild.

He was so shocked that he stammered, "I... I'm back for something. Bag, Demi's bag. I'll go to see Cali and bring it to Demi.

I didn't see anything. Nina, go on." A hint of admiration appeared in Vicente's eyes. He really wanted to give Nina a thumbs up.

Nina didn't say anything. It seemed that she had understood what he meant.

Seeing the sudden gazes of the two people, Vicente quickly raised his hand to block them. He randomly reached out to touch the bag, but accidentally knocked it over, making it falling from the table to the ground.

Demi didn't close the bag on the previous day and so some things rolled out from it.

There was a lipstick, a mirror, a silk scarf, headphones and a pen...

There was also a dazzling sapphire necklace.

This necklace looked familiar to Nina. She seemed to have seen it somewhere.

John Go And Save Cali

Hearing the sound of the bag falling down, Vicente removed her hand from her eyes. Looking at the messy things on the ground, she quickly put them into the bag.

"Fortunately, it's not broken. Alas, it doesn't matter if it's broken. I'll compensate it to Demi."

When Nina saw that she was about to put the sapphire necklace in, she quickly shouted, "Wait."

"What's wrong?" Vicente stopped and looked up at Nina.

Nina came down from John, walked over and squatted down. "Let me see this necklace."

"Be careful. Girls value these things." Vicente took the necklace out of Demi's bag. The necklace was hooked by the perfume in the bag and the perfume was accidentally taken out.

Just as the perfume was about to fall from her bag, Nina quickly caught it. A rare fragrance floated out of the air, very good and a little sweet.

"It seems to be specially made. I've never seen this kind of perfume on the market." Nina smelled it on purpose.

"You like it?" John's voice came from behind.

"Not bad." Nina picked up the perfume and smelled it again. Seeing this, ted potassium chloride into the bottle with a smile.

As soon as she pushed the syringe, she heard rapid footsteps from outside. It was getting closer and closer, as if someone would push the door in the next second.

Demi frowned. As expected, someone opened the door.

When John pushed the door open, he saw a nurse beside the bed, with an infusion bottle hanging on it. Everything was fine.

At this time, Cali woke up. Demi was shocked. She quickly lowered her head, hung up the infusion bottle, picked up the treatment plate and turned around.

Cali opened her eyes in a daze and saw the white wall. When she saw the nurse and the infusion needle, she knew she was in the hospital.

In addition to the nurse, she also saw a tall figure walking towards her. She blinked her eyes several times before she could see the face clearly.

"Mr. Sean?" Cali's voice was as dry as a mosquito's.

John didn't hear it at all. He looked at the nurse and said suspiciously, "Someone suddenly broke into the ward. As a nurse, you are very calm and don't even look back."

Explode Her Eyes With One Needle

With one hand in her pocket and the other holding the treatment plate, Demi's fingers suddenly tightened and turned white.

She swallowed silently and didn't dare to look up. She said in a low voice, "The people who suddenly rushed into the ward are usually anxious family members. We are used to it."

The two of them were not far away. When John smelled the air, other than the smell of disinfectant, the faint fragrance was exactly the same as the perfume they found in Demi's bag just now.

"Oh?" Then John lengthened his voice and stared at her coldly. "Just now, Princess Nina praised that your lover perfume was well mixed, Demi."

Demi's eyes widened, "! !"

"Demi? !" Hearing the name, Cali sprang up from the bed.

Seeing that the matter was exposed, Demi had to bite the bullet and escape. "Sir, I don't understand what you are talking about. Since the patient has woken up, you are the patient's family member, so stay and take good care of her."

As Demi was about to leave, John immediately grabbed her wrist, took her hand out of her pocket, and questioned, "What is this?"

Because Demi held t

m her fingers and she kept screaming.

"My eyes! My eyes! Ah! ! My eyes! !"

Cali had never seen such a bloody scene, so she immediately fainted with fear.

Vicente pretended to be calm, but her legs couldn't help trembling. She said in disbelief, "This, this is too, too..."

'Horrible!' she finished her the last word in her heart.

She had heard that someone would say they could dig people's eyes, but she had never seen anyone who poked a needle directly into a person's eyes.

It was an eye opener today.

She didn't expect that John was such a ruthless man. So she thought that it was better not to provoke John in the future.

Nina had already seen John's ruthlessness, so she didn't have much reaction. His broad palm held her back and arms, and the warmth came continuously.

"Why are you gasping?" John asked with concern, mixed with gentleness and anxiety.

And then he helped Nina sit down next to him.

Nina smiled at him and said, "I don't know why I'm so tired. Nothing serious. Maybe I haven't exercised for a long time."

John took a deep look at her, but he didn't say anything.

Cali Wants To Marry John

play_arrow

Demi, who had her eyes hurt, was taken away by Vicente's men. Vicente was kind and asked the doctor to cure her eyes, but she was still blind.

Demi was not in a good condition for interrogation, so she was temporarily imprisoned in a dark basement of Nangong castle and Vicente specially sent guards.

This was a big blow to Vicente, because Demi was promoted by her in person. Even if she was not a confidant, to a certain extent, she was not her assistant, but also a qualified assistant.

Vicente sighed, "Alas... I really don't have good eyes. I should be cured."

They were still sitting in Cali's ward, waiting for her to wake up. Nina sat on the chair, and John stood beside her like a guardian God.

Vicente stood at the end of the bed and leaned against the wall. She was worried about Cali. "If we find it out a little later, Cali will never wake up again."

"In fact, you are good at judging people. For example, Cali is a loyal and brave girl." Nina looked gratefully at Cali's pale face, as well as the scratches on the back of her hand and arm, and was her savior.

She would definitely repay Mr. Sean.

If possible, she wanted to marry him.

Thinking of this, Cali snickered.

"Cali, what are you laughing at?" It seemed that Nina didn't sense the unusual aura and teased, "I've never seen someone so happy lying in a hospital."

Cali grinned, "I'm just happy. The two young masters are fine, and I'm fine. Everyone is fine, and I feel like a survivor of a disaster."

Nina promised her gently, "Silly girl, thank you for protecting Van and Don. Their father and I will repay you." If you need any help in the future, I will try my best to help you."

"Thank you, Princess Nina. In fact, I don't need any help," Cali said after a pause. She quickly glanced at John and changed, "Well, maybe I need your help in the future."

Nina said, "Okay. Take good care of yourself here. There are bodyguards outside. I'll go back first."

"Okay. Goodbye, Princess Nina. Goodbye, Mr. Sean. Take care on the road." Cali watched the two go out reluctantly.

She thought in her heart, 'If only Mr. Sean can stay.'

I Would Rather Be Bitten By A Dog Than Let You Kiss Me

Before returning to the castle, Nina had to go back to the ward to get something.

'Demi's bag.

There should be more important information in her bag.'

Nina took the bag and sat down. John locked the door and sat next to her. Naturally, he put his arms around her waist and took her to himself.

Nina also liked to sit close to him. She took the initiative to sit next to him, and wholeheartedly took out the things from Demi's bag and placed them on the table.

In addition to the lipstick, perfume, sapphire necklace Demi had seen before, Nina also found a two inch photo in the middle, which was a little old.

Under the red bottom, there was a man and a woman in a white shirt. They smiled brightly and were full of joy.

'There is a stamp of the Civil Affairs Bureau on it.

This is a photo taken from the marriage certificate. The man in the photo is Jett, who is smiling bitterly. He is about twenty-two years old.

It is strange.

Who is the woman in the photo? Why did Demi bring photos that had

" At that time, the fire in John's heart had been threatened away by her. He was really happy.

'As soon as she woke up and regained her memory, the child's matter came. The two of us did hug each other, but I still felt unreal.

It was not until now that she would really be jealous and threaten me with her fists that I felt real.

My little girl really came back.'

"Why did you bite me when you were happy?" Nina picked up the small mirror on the table and looked at it. The skin at the corner of her mouth was really broken.

First he kissed her all over her body and left his smell on her body, and now he bit her no matter how bored and happy he was. Nina's breath jumped out of her nose.

Then John turned his head to look at her red and white face, and saw through her mind with a smile.

Nina turned around and stared at him. "It's useless no matter how affectionate you look at me. I'd rather be bitten by a dog than let you kiss me."

With a smile on his face, John didn't say anything. He just leaned over and whispered in her ear, "Woof..."

"....." With her beautiful eyes wide open, Nina seemed to be shocked.

Chapter: 520

Can I Bite Now

Nina blinked her eyes several times. Before she could completely come back her sense, she heard a seductive voice again.

"Can I bite now?"

"What? No." Finally, Nina came to her senses and covered her mouth, her eyes wide open.

Then John smiled and said, "I'll bite somewhere else this time."

When he said this, his eyes began to move down from Nina's lips. His burning eyes made Nina's whole body burn.

"What do you want to do in the daytime?" Nina suddenly stood up and left.

Looking at her receding figure, John said, "That's right. Then stay until night."

Hearing this, Nina staggered and almost lost her feet. Then she heard a low laughter from behind, which really made her face burn.

When she walked out of the ward, she lowered her head and turned right. Just two steps later, she stopped at the door of a ward.

The door of the ward was half open, and she could clearly see a man in a hospital gown standing at the window bed and looking into the distance, only showing a little side face.

With this side face alone, Nina recognized Noah.

"Why is Noah in the hospital? What happened?" Nina murmured. She p nry is still there. Don't make him feel homeless, and don't make yourself feel homeless."

Noah was stunned.

What John said was like in a hot summer day, when you were sweating and working, a cool wind suddenly blew, which could wash away a person's tiredness and blow to the heart.

He stared blankly at John. His originally dark eyes gradually became clear, just like the past.

"Mr. Noah? Mr. Noah, what's wrong with you? Are you sick or injured? Who was talking to you just now? It sounds so familiar to me. It seems that..."

"No one. He is just one of my friends." The voice on the phone brought Noah's thoughts back. He interrupted Tom's guess.

'Mr. Shi came to the C Island by taking advantage of the water he was most afraid of. He certainly didn't want anyone to know his whereabouts.'

"Ask for a sick leave for me. I will send the hospital's certificate to your phone, but don't let others know about it." Noah warned.

Tom agreed.

After hanging up the phone, he turned around and stared at the indifferent face of John, feeling a little amused.

'Mr. Shi is really a cruel man. But he is also a good man.'
