Chapter: 591

The Uncle And His Nephew Took Action Secretly In The Midnight

John looked at them and signaled them to speak out. Van opened his small mouth and said seriously, "At anytime and anywhere, I must protect myself and put my safety as the first priority."

John said, "Repeat it, Don."

Don repeated word by word, "At anytime and anywhere, I must protect myself and put my safety as the first priority."

"Good. Do you remember? Take your own safety as the first priority and protect yourself well. You haven't been able to protect each other yet, just protect yourself now." John rubbed the heads of the two children and sighed.

"Remember what I said. Protecting yourself is protecting your mommy. Your mommy is our princess, and we are men in our family. We should protect your mommy. The most important thing to protect your mommy is to protect ourselves."

Then John got down from the chair, squatted in front of the bathtub, gently patted the children's face, and warned them with his deep eyes, "Remember? Young men."

"Remember, Daddy" Van rubbed his face against his father's palm and blinked obediently.

Don grinned, "I know, Daddy."

'I hope you will really remember it, not only in your heart, but also in your actions.

lips and walked away in a good mood.

'Compared with Uncle John, I am not miserable at all.'

With a darkened face, John looked in the direction of the guest room. After more than 10 minutes, he almost saw through the house.

'No matter how dissatisfied I am, I couldn't directly break in with the spare key. After all, there is another woman in it. If I ran into something....'

John returned to the master bedroom with a sad look in his eyes.

'Do you think I can compromise so easily?'

At one o'clock in the evening, the whole villa was so quiet that even a needle dropping on the ground could be heard.

Two figures came in from upstairs and outside the window. They happened to see each other at the door of the guest room.

John was speechless.

James was speechless.

The uncle and nephew could see each other's outline. They looked at each other in the darkness and knew each other what to do.

"Have you got the key? If you don't have a spare key, I can..." James said in low voice.

Then James took out a thin iron wire and shook it in front of the two. The silver white iron wire could be seen in the darkness.

John was stunned. John was speechless for a moment.

Group Up To Hold Their Own Wife Back Secretly

The darkness was a cover, so that the embarrassment on John's face would not be discovered.

'I didn't expect that James would come in through the window at midnight. When I ran into him just now, I almost wanted to find a place to hide.

As an elder, I couldn't lose face in front of the younger generation. Although I had stolen my wife in the past at midnight, I couldn't show it in front of the younger generation confidently.'

However, James didn't think so much. He was not only thick skinned, but also had a clear mind about his Uncle John's character.

James had guessed that his Uncle John would do this, but he didn't expect that he would run into him by chance. 'But it doesn't matter. Anyway, we would take our won wife back to our own room.'

"I'm opening." James lowered his voice. There was only a sound accompanied by breath coming out of his throat. He picked up the iron wire and was about to open the door.

John stopped James, stretched out his hand and opened it. The spare key was in his hand.

"There is a key. Open it quickly." With a happy look on James's face, he threw the iron wire in his hand away ill know what happened exactly."

"I don't know where my brother went. He just said that he would come on my wedding day. I'm sleepy. Good night." Nina yawned tiredly.

"Good night." Emma turned off the light.

The light in the crack of the door finally disappeared, and the signal of action had already sounded. At this time, James stood up again and was about to break in.

John put his hand on James's shoulder, indicating that they had to wait until the two women fell asleep.

The two women chatted until midnight. As long as they were sleepy, they would fall asleep soon.

At about three o'clock in the morning, the two of men finally opened the door and tiptoed to the bed.

They had been in the darkness for a long time and had adapted to it. They could almost see the person's face.

James walked out of the door with his wife in his arms, his waist was so straight and upright. There was no sneaky expression now when he turned the window just now.

After they left, John carried his wife upstairs gently and put her into bed, hugging her tightly.

'Sure enough, only by holding my wife could I sleep well.'

Children Coax Their Father

At six o'clock in the morning, when Nina was still in her dream, John had already got up and carried his sons to run five kilometers.

Although running with a bag which was full of small stone on his back was a punishment for Don, as his brother, Van didn't choose to stand by. He also ran five kilometers with a heavy weight.

Five kilometers was difficult for ordinary adults, not to mention two four years old children.

After three kilometers, the two brothers couldn't run anymore. They were sweating heavily and their little faces flushed like a morning glow.

John didn't let them stop. They had walked the last two kilometers hand in hand for almost two hours.

During the whole process, John stayed by their side. He felt sorry for the children when he saw them gasping for breath. However, he was more gratified that even if they kept going, the two children didn't say give up.

After finishing running, Don threw himself into his father's arms and burst into tears. Van was busy panting and resting that he didn't even have time to cry.

Sam was old and woke up early, he saw his grandsons running and crying from a distance. He wa

I went to have a look and found that Uncle John opened the door with a spare key and took Aunt Nina away. I worried that you might sleep cold, so I took you back."

At first, both Nina and Emma believed them, but they accidentally spilled the beans when they met this morning.

They compared the two men's answers and thought that someone must be lying. When they were about to go back and question, the servant who was cleaning found a thin iron wire at the door of the guest room.

Then they knew the truth.

Emma blushed.

Because of her first movie, James starred in a thief who only appeared for five seconds. For the five seconds, James found a professional teacher to learn how to unlock the iron wire for a month.

Emma was a stubborn woman. It would be better for the couple to know what happened between man and woman in their own room, but now her family knew it. It was late at night that James went to the window to steal her back.

For several days in a row, she deliberately avoided James.

When James took the blame alone, he was full of grief and indignation. 'Why am I the only unlucky one?

Why am I always unlucky?'

The Household Register Was Stolen

The castle of the North Yard had already been completed, but John hadn't moved there with his wife Nina and sons. He intended to decorate the North Yard as the wedding venue, and their wedding room was also there.

John wanted to give a surprise to Nina. Before the wedding day came, they lived on the house on Stone Road for the time being, which made Sam very happy. Every day, he was either playing with his precious grandsons, or picking them up from school.

Coincidentally, during this period of time, both Nina and John had been very busy. One was busy with the recruitment of the Serene Investigation Firm, and the other was busy with work and closing the scheme about Vivian.

His effort didn't in vain and Noah called.

"The deal will be made at the disco hall. I'll go there myself at eight o'clock tomorrow evening."

Hearing this, the tip of the pen hovered in the air. John's eyes moved slightly and his tightly pressed lips separated. "Be careful. After you succeed, I will go to Ye family to rescue him. The Ye Group has Henry, and strong evidence has been found."

Noah sighed heavily on the phone, "Anyway, Vivian is my..."

"The evils of God are forgivable, but the one of oneself cannot be lived once he asked for it." John wrote again and said in a low voice, "If you feel sorry for your sister, you don't have to. As long as you want, you now have a sister us eyes.

At this moment, John's eyes widened slightly. A gentle kiss brought back his thoughts, and all his attention was focused on the soft lips of Nina.

With a big hand holding her, John picked her up from the table and put her on his lap. "Don't make a fuss. There are too many people here."

With her arms around his neck, Nina leaned over and kissed him on the lips. She smiled and said, "John, don't you think the photos on our two marriage certificates are too ugly? I'm free this afternoon, so are you. Let's take beautiful wedding photos and get the marriage license."

Her amber eyes sparkled with clear light, just like the sunlight shining on the lake.

John was so indulged in them. 'I wanted to get the marriage certificate as soon as possible, but the household register was still in the hands of my parents in law in the C Island.'

"I don't want to get a fake marriage certificate anymore. I want to marry Nina who lives in the Scher Mountain, C Island."

With a sly smile, Nina said, "I stole it."

At this moment, half of John's body froze in bewilderment, and only his eyes looked askance at her as if a robot had received an order.

Nina was stunned.

Without understanding his stiff expression, Nina hesitated and said, "Doesn't it make work even if I stole the household register?"

"Why didn't you tell me earlier?" John took a deep breath.

Mr. Shi Was Anxious And Nervous

They didn't have to wait until the afternoon. After lunch, John took Nina back to the Stone Road and took out the household registers.

The two household registers were placed in the palm of his hand, like two heat sources, almost warming up his limbs and bones.

Fearing that it would be a fake household register again, John concentrated on checking all the contents of Nina's household register and made sure that it was not a fake one before his expression relaxed slightly.

"The household register is real."

Nina was at a loss whether to cry or to laugh. "It's real. It's more real than gold. My father stole it for me. It's real."

"My father-in-law is really a good man." John's eyes were full of gratitude.

'Well, my father is indeed devoted to me and good father.'

However, her father stole the household register very smoothly. At that time, Nina was busy coming back without thinking about it carefully. Now when she thought of it, she felt that there was something fishy.

'Is it possible to steal our household register?'

"But I think my mother let him steal it on purpose, just pretending not to know." Nina nodded, thinking that it must be the case. 'Otherwise, why hadn't my mother discovered it yet?'

With my mother's wisdom, I am afraid that my mother would know it the second day after my father stole it with me.'

John was even more moved and smiled, "Mr. Shi, are you nervous? You can look at the camera and smile."

'Nervous?'

I don't know, but my heart beat a little fast.

As the dignified Mr. Shi, I had seen all kinds of occasions and had never been nervous.

Now I am so excited that my hands are trembling and my heart beat faster because I am going to take photos of the marriage certificate with my little girl.'

John reached out the tip of his tongue and curled his lips, only to relieve his nervousness for a moment. A warm little hand covered the back of his hand, and his heart was not that fast.

With a smile, Nina held his face to her side and kissed him on the lips.

Caroline was speechless. 'Another round of affection.'

Caroline wanted to give up, but her professional sensitivity quickly captured this scene.

"Don't be nervous." Nina left his lips and gently patted his back, hugging him as a child as usual.

Feeling humiliated, John whispered in her ear, "I want to smoke to relieve my nervousness."

A low muffled laughter came out of Nina's throat. She looked into the deep and nervous eyes of John and said, "Go ahead."

John stood up and left quickly. He stumbled when he was blindfolded by the conductive thread on the ground.

Nina was speechless.

Caroline was speechless.

John felt embarrassed. John wished he could slap himself in the face and faint.

John closed the door of the washroom and took a deep breath. A flame sprang out of the lighter and lit the cigarette in his mouth.

John had been wondering why he was so nervous. He was so spineless that he couldn't figure it out after thinking for a while.

John took a big drag on the cigarette and stubbed it out on the wash basin. 'I don't want to think about it anymore and go to take photos first. Then I get the marriage certificate.'

It seemed that a cigarette could really relieve his nervousness. When John came out of the washroom, he looked indifferent and his eyes were deep and intimidating.

John sat back beside Nina and held her left hand with his right hand. Caroline took some photos of them. Their ten fingers interlocked with each other. One of the hands was delicate and white, and the other had distinct joints. It was very beautiful.

"Are you okay after taking just a cigarette?" Nina stared at John's eyebrows and eyes, and her eyes were like a pen, gently painting his side face.

John looked at the camera without looking sideways and said calmly, "Half, look at the camera, my little girl. If you keep staring at me like this, I'll kiss you here and have a sex with you."

"HMM." Nina pursed her lips and looked at the camera. She rolled her eyes, with an evil light in her eyes ourselves.'

All of a sudden, everyone was jittery. In order not to repeat it, they had to gather in the meeting room to write an application and hold a long conversation by the way.

They asked Amy what good news was going on between Mr. Shi and Mrs. Nina, and Amy told them that they got the marriage certificate today.

Some people sighed that if only Mr. Shi could get the marriage certificate a few more times. Once he got the marriage certificate, he would give himself a holiday, and even they could have a holiday.

After the examination and approval of the application for leave, Amy sent the screenshot as required. John showed it to Nina one by one.

"It's rare for me to have time to accompany you. Cherish it." John stroked Nina's head and smiled slyly.

Nina was speechless. Nina wanted to cry but also wanted to laugh. "Thank you so much. I don't think I can repay you. How about I post it on WeChat moments?"

Nina posted the photos of the two in her WeChat moments with the words she just said. Just now, when she was reading, she typed out the words in her phone.

As soon as the moments were posted, it seemed that James had installed a radar on them. As soon as there was any movement, James appeared.

"Shit! Does my grandpa have an illegitimate child?"

Nina had thought that if she posted the photos of her marriage certificate on her wechat moments, the comments would be "congratulations", "have a happy marriage", "forever love". Those kinds of blessing.

At least this was the case when she saw some celebrities' Weibo official announcements. But when it came to her, why did it become a mystery case scene here?

James: An illegitimate child as old as me?

James: Aunt Nina, you really disdain my Uncle John's old age. In fact, it make sense to disdain him.

James: But Aunt Nina, what about my Uncle John if you get the certificate with someone else? ? ?

Emma: Congratulations! The whole world is celebrating! Is the man next to you Uncle John?

Sister in law, Angela: James, don't talk nonsense. Where did she get an illegitimate child? It's your Uncle John.

Elder Brother, Daniel: John was edited too much in this photo!

Second elder brother, Nelson: Daniel, please show some understanding. Nina is ten years younger than John. I looked at the photo carefully and found that it was probably not edited. I think it might really be an illegitimate child.

James: Yes, Nelson is right.

mentioned two people.

Nina: @ Daniel. It's not shameful to admit that others are younger and more handsome than you. But it's shameful when you are old and say that others edit their photos.

Nina: @ James. Come home to have dinner tonight. I will bring you a computer.

There was a moment of dead silence in the family group. John knew that the two of them must have seen it. His brother probably pretended to know nothing, and James was probably thinking about how to escape the disaster.

As expected, as soon as this brat was nervous, he lost his intelligence. He sent a message privately to Nina, "Aunt Nina, did Uncle John use your phone just now? Help! Uncle John forced me to eat computer! "

John replied with a voice message, "I'm also using it now."

When James heard the voice reply, he almost died on the spot. His soul almost ran away desperately in danger.

Would Uncle John really force him to eat computer?

How to eat a computer?

Should he smash it into pieces and pour them with soup into his mouth?

James didn't believe that Uncle John could really let him eat computer. His soul returned to his body without fear.

Flatter Him Again

Nina was trying on the wedding dress in the fitting room. One set was the Starry River, and the other set was black Starry River. Except for the design point of the Star River, the other designs were different.

There were two sets of wedding dresses with different styles. The white Starry River set was pure and romantic, and the black Starry River set was elegant and mysterious. They added brilliance to Nina's present splendor.

Lisa couldn't take her eyes off Nina and sighed, "Mr. Shi will also be unable to take his eyes off you."

Nina looked at herself in the mirror and smiled. 'The Starry River, which was carefully designed by John, should be decorated with exquisite makeup. It should be me who wore them to walk in the grand wedding venue, step by step towards my John.

Not now.

My John deserved the best me.'

Nina took off the wedding dress. Lisa was a little scared. "Mrs. Nina, what's wrong? Is it uncomfortable or not fit? Why did you take it off?"

"It's so beautiful. I don't want him to see it for the time being. Give him a surprise on the wedding day." Nina said.

Lisa breathed a sigh of relief with a big smile on her face.

Nina didn't go out in her wedding dress, which made John aid of being treated as a joke by his family. 'I am afraid that if I really have to eat computer, how could I eat it after grinding it into powder? Is it eaten by human being?

I am afraid that I would go to the hell as soon as I took a sip of it.'

Everyone was happy about it for half a night, but James was out of sight and mind. He found a place to squat down and think about life.

'Why couldn't I defeat Uncle John?'

Since Emma didn't see James, she went to find him, and Nina accompanied her to find him who was under the street lamp.

Sitting on the concrete platform by the road, he looked like a lonely and homeless child in the pale yellow light.

"Irritated? Your Uncle John was just kidding. It's black sesame paste." Nina walked over and sat next to him.

When James thought about it again, he was still angry. "I'm going to be played to death."

"Drink some water to calm down." Emma sat on the other side of James with a white porcelain cup in her hand.

Taking a glance at the cup, James asked, "You haven't put anything in it, have you? Such as powder or something else."

Lowering her head, Nina tried to hold back her laughter. 'He is so scared that he almost has a mental problem.'

Emma considerately put the cup in James's hand and let him hold it steadily.

"As usual, there is a little sugar in the water."

James took a sip of the water, which was just sweet. "Why are you two here? I am fine. I just want to find a place to be calm down."

Nina said deliberately, "Care about left-behind children."

"I think you should be the left behind children." The calm expression on James's face was replaced by anger.

Emma held James's hand and explained, "Nina said we haven't played together for a long time, just like friends, so we came to chat."

They were family and also good friends.

"We haven't played together for a long time. Unfortunately, one more person is missing." Nina sighed.

Emma rested her chin on her hands and sighed, "When will Mimi come back?"

"Why are you sighing at such a young age?" As usual, James put his hand on Emma's shoulder and pinched her earlobe with his fingers. He continued, "Isn't she going to be the bridesmaid for Aunt Nina? It's almost time to come back."

Nina nodded, "Yes, it is almost time to come back. Someone has sent me a letter to C Island from her. She has chosen the dress to be the bridesmaid and said she would come back as soon as possible."

At the me

following this clue?"

"Yes, you are right. You are so smart." Michelle knew that she couldn't hide it from Nina's eyes, so she told the truth obediently.

Michelle pushed the poured scented tea in front of Nina and said happily, "Nini, drink tea and scented tea to nourish beauty."

"I am not the one you hide from. Why are you afraid that I'll tell others?" Taking a sip of the scented tea, Nina smelled the fragrance of it.

Michelle scooped up a spoonful of dessert and put it into her mouth. It was her favorite cream strawberry flavor.

"No, you don't know the one I hide from. How can you tell him?"

"You know it. Why are you still hiding it from me?" Nina rolled her eyes at Michelle. "Are you hiding from your boyfriend? Bad ex-boyfriend?"

This kind of story often appeared in the books that Lena found for Nina before. Her emotional life only met John. Nina didn't know what other possibilities were, so she could only say this possibility.

"Ahem..." Michelle choked on the dessert, "No."

'He is neither a boyfriend nor an ex-boyfriend.

Maybe he doesn't know I like him.'

Nina frowned. 'Didn't my brother had driven the bad admirers for her?

Which man was unbreakable and quietly rooted in Mimi's heart?'

Michelle lowered her head and took another bite of strawberry. Suddenly, she felt that it was not as delicious as the previous one, but she still chewed it bit by bit.

Michelle's absent-minded look made Nina unable to ask more. "Tell me when you want to tell me in the future."

Michelle nodded. Her dull expression made Nina a little uncomfortable, and she wanted to find a topic that Michelle was interested in.

"Mimi, how about you shoot me a blockbuster later? Am I qualified to be your model?" Nina blinked.

"Of course you are qualified. Nini, you're the most beautiful woman in the world. It'll look good no matter how I shoot you." As expected, Michelle smiled.

'As long as she smiled, she will be fine.

As long as the lively Mimi came back.'

"Then we'll go later." Nina also wanted to take photos in her heart. 'I want to keep my beauty as a memorial. Otherwise when I get old, it is too late to miss the beauty of my youth.'

"Not today." My camera was broken. Fortunately, I took my own camera today, not from the studio." Michelle picked up the camera bag and pointed at it with a sad face.

Looking at Michelle's sad face, Nina suddenly felt that she had found the wrong topic, so she quickly made up for Michelle. "I'll giv that day?" Victor felt it strange.

"Do I need you to tell me if I know?"

With a ferocious look on his face, Tim glared at him. Victor was not afraid at all. He grinned cheekily and said, "She is Mr. Shi's wife. Mr. Shi even sent people to protect that girl secretly. Don't you think it's strange? I inquired about it on purpose and finally got it.

Master Tim, the girl you like is called Michelle. She was a good friend of Mr. Shi's wife when they were in college and studied in the L University of the Lexingport City. Michelle said that she came to attend the wedding of her good friend that day, which is Mr. Shi's wedding. I heard that Mr. Shi was going to get married at the end of this month, but I don't know where to hold it."

As Tim read her name, Tim said, "Michelle, this name sounds good."

"Yes, it sounds good. The point is that it matches you very well, Master Tim." Victor grinned.

There was a smile in Tim's eyes, but his face was always fierce.

Tim kicked Victor's butt and said, "Fuck you. Don't laugh so obscenely. It is me who match her not you."

Victor rubbed his buttocks, "Ouch, ouch." Then Victor quickly stood aside. After a while, he asked, "Master Tim, is that girl really your savior? Is Vivian a fake?"
