Chapter: 641

Heart Thumping

Lexingport City was a prosperous city with five areas. The roads were crisscrossed and couldn't be seen all over in a day or two.

Michelle's plan was to take Leon to the University City first, and then expand it to other places slowly. Anyway, she had plenty of time.

Every time they walked through every symbolic place, Michelle would tell stories related to this place, just like a guide, but no guide was as good as her. She kept telling.

Leon replied seriously.

It had been more than two hours since they set out in the morning, and Michelle had been talking about it for more than two hours. Leon was afraid that she would be hoarse if she continued, but he couldn't put out her enthusiasm directly.

When he caught a glimpse of an ice cream shop, Leon had an idea.

"Sister, do you want strawberry ice cream?"

When Michelle got up in the morning, she told herself not to damage her brother's trip experience about getting familiar with Lexingport City because of eating.

Although the sun was not high above their heads and they walked in a cool place, when it came to strawberry ice cream, Michelle felt hot and urgently needed to taste the coolness of ice cream.

In an instant, she was taken away from her original plan and vering your mouth?" Leon suspected that he had smelled something and asked her to cover her mouth. If he did, he would be ashamed to see others.

He raised his arm and smelled by himself. There was only the incense he used to smoke clothes all year round, which was very light and there was nothing else.

"My heart is beating so fast. I'm afraid it will jump out." Michelle's heart was slowly recovering, and her face was not red anymore.

It was the first time that Leon had heard such an explanation, and he felt very novel. Looking at her serious face, he sighed slightly.

"It seems that you really scared. I should have called you in advance." Leon touched her head to comfort her and apologized, "I'm sorry, Michelle."

Michelle's heart had already calmed down. She let go of her hand and gasped, "No, no. I didn't walk well and bumped into my brother. Brother, did I hurt you? "

"No, I didn't. But you, does your forehead hurt?" Leon gently stretched out his hand and gently rubbed her reddish skin with its fingers.

The warmth and softness of her finger pulps really dispelled the pain on her forehead, but her heart, which had just calmed down, began to beat wildly again.

She must be sick.

She must have a heart attack.

As the wind blew, the leaves on both sides of the road made a sound of rustle. The branches and leaves were like corks, unable to block all the sunlight, some of which could even leak down, illuminating the somewhat pale face of Michelle.

She turned around and hailed a taxi. "Brother, I'm going to the hospital. I'm sick."

Michelle turned around and took two steps. Seeing that she sprained her ankle, Leon frowned slightly.

A taxi stopped in front of them.

The two of them squeezed into the back seats of the car. Leon said, "go to the nearest hospital."

The window was wide open, and the whistling wind blew in, messing up Michelle's hair, almost blocking her sight. It was not until she tucked her hair behind her ears that she was able to see.

As the wind blew in, Michelle's heart gradually calmed down and stopped bumping randomly.

Michelle touched her heart and said in surprise, "brother, I'm fine. I don't need to go to the hospital."

"Your sprain won't recover in one or two minutes." Leon didn't believe her.

"Sprain? Did I sprain my ankle? " Michelle moved her foot. The pain from her right ankle made her frown.

Just now, she paid all her attention to the beating of

, "who are they? Why do they come to you for an ordinary sprain? "

"I don't know. The Dean only said that the future investor would call to take care of him. That investor is very rich, but he doesn't intend to invest in other industries. He only focuses on medical treatment."

"Is it because something wrong with his family?"

"Don't make blind and disorderly conjectures. All we need to do is just to keep our duty."

After the nurse left, the doctor went into the office and called the Dean back.

Leon went back to the apartment with Michelle on her back. He put Michelle on the sofa and said, "You should pay more attention to yourself these two days. If you don't take good care of yourself, you will get a sprain again."

"I see." Michelle lowered her head, feeling depressed in her mind.

Leon poured her a glass of water and asked, "Does your foot still hurt?"

"No." Michelle took the water and held it in her hand. She raised her head and said, "I'm sorry. I promised to take you around, but my feet didn't work."

Leon replied warmly, "We have a long way to go. Don't be in a hurry."

"Okay." Michelle was in a better mood. "Brother, can I stay here for the next two days?"

Sister s Peach Blossom

The beginning of summer was beautiful, different from the flowers in spring. It was covered with layers of green, and the leaves on the street were dancing in the wind under the sun, as green as the mountain.

The light and shadow flowing on the ground were like a pair of clear and clean eyes of Michelle, making people feel comfortable.

Leon didn't refuse. "Okay. I've taken care of my sister and I can take care of you."

"Thank you, brother." Michelle grinned. In fact, she really wanted to say that she didn't need to be taken care of. It was not a big deal as long as she had a rest and didn't run around.

But she couldn't get up early to buy breakfast if she didn't walk around casually. That place was a little far away. If she could stay here, she could make breakfast for her brother. It was less than a hundred meters from the bedroom to the kitchen.

Leon was sitting on the sofa with a computer to deal with business. He and Bryant needed to inspect the investment project. Sitting on the other side of the sofa, Michelle played games for a while. When she raised her head, she saw the man working seriously. His profile seemed to be coated with a thin layer of soft light.

Her brother was so handsome when he was serious!

He was a mature brother without beard!

held the paper bag and smiled, "I'm fine. I just sprained my ankle by accident."

"Have you gone to the hospital?" Austin glanced at her ankle. There was a little red in her snow-white skin, and it seemed that it hadn't been swollen, so he was more worried. But his voice was cold, "it doesn't look fine."

"Brother took me to the hospital earlier." Michelle patted the sofa and said, "Why are you two standing here? Just take a sit here. Are you watching the gorilla?"

Austin furrowed his brows and said, "Who would compare someone to a gorilla. What did the doctor prescribe? Where is the medicine? "

"I sprayed the white herbs in Yunnan." Michelle raised her head to look at Austin who hadn't sat down yet. "Monitor, when did you become so talkative? Please sit down."

Lydia took a look at Austin and then turned to Michelle, "the monitor is just talking too much to you. He cares about you. Why do you still complain?"

Hearing this, Leon raised his eyebrows slightly and looked Austin up and down involuntarily. He found that the way he looked at Michelle was indeed different, but they all hid it. He showed a little when he was worried about Michelle.

It seemed to be his sister's peach blossom.

It was not a rotten peach blossom, at least from her sister's description, from the moment they met, it did not look like a rotten peach blossom.

Lydia and Austin left after sitting for a while. They had to go to the library to continue their study. Before leaving, Leon specially asked Austin to help Michelle more with her study.

Austin agreed gladly.

After he left, Leon began to inquire Michelle about Austin. "Sister, your monitor is a good person. Who is he? How does his family make a living? "

"Eh," Michelle asked in surprise, "brother, why do you ask the same question as my parents? When Lydia and the monitor went to my home, my parents also asked me these questions. "

"Did Austin go to your house?" This time, Leon was a little surprised. After seeing her nod, her eyes became more intriguing. It seemed that her parents had a good first impression of Austin and wanted to be a son-in-law in the future.

This thought was somewhat similar to his, but he still had to observe for a while and figure out the details first.

"Sister, since Austin has a good grade, you should ask him for more advice. Isn't the end of the semester approaching? Tell him not to only talk about the key points, but to tell you more. "

"It doesn't have to be too detailed. Talking about the key points is enough for me. And I've been listening. Read Now MoboReader, bring tons of novels with you.

ow morning. "

"Brother, the restaurant doesn't open on weekends." Michelle also stood up and said, "that's why I want to stay here on weekend and make breakfast for you."

Leon reminded her again, "I've told you that you're not a cook."

Not to be outdone, Michelle said, "I've said that I only cook for my own people. I'm not a cook. I just want to make breakfast for my brother. Fried eggs for you."

Facing such a considerate sister, Leon didn't know whether he should laugh or not. Once a person developed a certain habit, it was difficult to change it.

"Can you make an egg for me for the rest of my life?"

"Why not? Will my brother abandon me? " Michelle asked back quickly and shocked him.

"Of course not." Leon was sure about this. Michelle was so adorable and interesting that he couldn't refuse her.

Michelle smiled and spread out her hands, "then you can do it. Good night, brother. I'm going to bed. "

Seeing her lovely figure disappear in the living room, only a thin light came out from the crack of the door of her room. Leon shook his head and chuckled.

"You really don't know anything. How can you cook breakfast for me when you get married in the future?"

Michelle fell asleep as soon as she closed her eyes on the bed. She opened her mouth and seemed to dream of eating again. But soon her dream was broken. She had no choice but to open her eyes and touch the switch with her sleepy eyes.

She woke up in the middle of the night by the desire of going to the bathroom.

She stood up and went to the bathroom. When she came back, she saw a glimmer of light coming out from the crack of the door of the next room.

"Why hasn't brother gone to bed yet?" Michelle rubbed her eyes, staggered to the door of the room and knocked.

The knock on the door awakened Leon from his dream. He suddenly opened his eyes, and his long eyelashes trembled slightly, hiding the fear in his eyes.

"Brother, are you still awake?" Michelle's sleepy voice came from outside and she yawned after saying that.

Leon looked sideways at the door and closed his eyes slightly. He pinched his nose with his fair and thin fingers. After a while, he opened his eyes and replied, "No."

There was no trace of sleepiness in his tone. He had already been frightened back by the sudden knock on the door.

gs. You still have me and Nini. We will always be with you."

"What?" Hearing this, Leon was confused. His blank eyes fell into the eyes of Michelle, as if he didn't want her to know too much about her disguise. Michelle took a deep breath and said, "brother, it's illegal to hold a gun."

Leon was even more confused. "A gun? What gun? "

"Brother, stop pretending. You don't go to bed at night, and you have a gun with you. You must planning something bad." Michelle said worriedly, "you must not do anything against the law."

Facing the girl's clear eyes, Leon really didn't know how to understand what she meant. He just asked, "How do you know that I have a gun with me?"

All of a sudden, Michelle opened her eyes wide, as if she knew it was true. She said angrily, "I can feel it! It's still hot. "

All of a sudden, she sensed something and raised her voice, "the gun won't be hot until it is used. Have you fired?"

Leon's face immediately changed. Embarrassed, that was too embarrassed What a splendid scene.

What made him more embarrassed was that it raised its head again just because of Michelle's words.

The New Michelle

play_arrow

In the middle of June.

Dark clouds blotted out the sun in the sky of Lexington City. It was the first rain in summer that came.

A flash of lightning, like a white blade, cut through the thick dark clouds, accompanied by a rumbling thunder. The rain was pouring down, and the students in the campus immediately scattered like birds and beasts. They raised their hands to cover the rain and hurried to a place where they could escape from the rain.

It rained heavily.

Michelle also ran to a red tent in the campus, which was the Lost and Found Office set up by the student union.

The pamphlet and lost items were placed on the long table, and the wind and rain blew in. The members of the student union sitting on the chair hurriedly stood up and hid the pamphlet in their arms, putting the lost items into the boxes in order to keep them from rain.

All the students nearby squeezed in at the same time. For a time, the tent was crowded with people. Michelle's little body was squeezed in the middle, and most of the people standing on the edge were wet because of the wind and rain hitting them.

The bustling crowd were complaining that the rain came without any sign, but some people were overjoyed.

The heavy rain pressed down the heat and dust in the air, and then a heat rose from the ground. After ten minutes of rain, the heat on the ground disappeared, and itting on the chair suddenly stood up, and their eyes were almost unmoved. They were mumbling: "What a handsome men."

Michelle didn't take it seriously. She hadn't seen many handsome men before, but later she had seen a lot of handsome men, especially her brother. There was absolutely no one more handsome than him in the school.

Without even raising her eyelids, she continued to play with the hat rope. Like the belt of a bamboo hat, she tied the rope under her chin in the style of a bowknot.

Standing in front of the Lost and Found Office, everyone pursed their lips and dared not laugh when they saw his face clearly. They were afraid of being frivolous.

Someone couldn't help but turn around and whispered to each other. They were almost driven crazy with joy. Someone even took out mobile phone secretly.

The student union members forced themselves to calm down and said to ruby, "nice to meet you, classmate. Did you come here to get something because it was picked up?"

"Okay." Leon tilted his head to take a look at Michelle who was squatting at his feet. She looked like a small pillow at home.

"What do you want? Please explain it and sign your name on the pamphlet. "

"Don't bother." Leon smiled gently, like the warm sun after the rain. "I want to bring a girl back. Thank you for letting her stay here to avoid the rain. I'll take her away now."

I'll Take Her Away

The rain did not stop, and the sound of the rain was still pretty loud. Michelle seemed to be immersed in her own world and did not pay attention to the people beside her.

Until a pair of leather shoes suddenly appeared in front of her, and her eyes moved up along his long and straight legs. Suddenly, a handsome face appeared in her eyes, and a gentle smile appeared at the corners of his mouth.

"Brother!" All of a sudden, Michelle stood up. Her originally calm eyes, like the dead water, instantly lit up with starlight and looked up at him happily.

Michelle's smile had a magic that could make Leon feel happy from the bottom of its heart. The smile on her face might be a little more, but the smile in her eyes was deep.

"Brother, why are you here?"

"To come and pick you up." Leon raised his chin and looked at the sign "Lost and Found". Following his gaze, Michelle giggled and got under his umbrella.

As soon as she stood over, she saw two umbrellas in the other hand. She immediately understood, "brother, did master ask you to pick me up?"

"Yes. We've got you. Let's go." Leon smiled and thanked her classmates.

A few steps away, some girls went crazy. He was so handsome, and his smiling was so gentle. What's more, the student didn't do anything but got a thank you for no reason. He was really gentlemen, wasn't he?

"Perfect man? Why can't I have the perfect man?"

eliberately reduced contact with him.

For a long time, only he himself was still angry with the gun incident. Now hearing her words, he was suddenly enlightened.

He was too sensitive that night. After all, he was suddenly awakened and his brain was not completely awake before he responded.

Let it go.

Having thought it through, Leon felt much more relaxed. He smiled and said, "Why are you so considerate. You don't have to think so much in the future. If you want to say anything, just send it to me. I did make my boss squeezed a lot recently. When I saw your message, I thought I had replied. But eventually, I found that I didn't. I'm really sorry. "

With Leon's explanation, no matter it was true or not, the knot that had been hidden in her heart for more than half a month was finally solved. She was so happy.

"It doesn't matter. It's just a spiritual sense reply. Many people do this. But if you are busy in the future, just tell me. I'm good. I won't disturb you."

"Why are you so obedient?" Leon smiled happily.

With a "hee hee" sound, Michelle's warm breath sprayed on the deer's neck, itching, but in a flash, it did not cause any unnecessary daydreaming.

The rain accumulated on the road and formed a small puddle. The two of them were reflected on the surface of the water. Although the rain dripped on the surface, the image on the water just shook, but didn't get messed.

It was raining heavily. Even if Leon carried Michelle back, she was inevitably got wet in the rain. They went to the bathroom to take a hot shower one after another.

When Leon came out of the bathroom, he heard the humming sound of the hair dryer. At this time, his phone also rang.

It was Wynn.

"Have you arrived at the hotel?" With the phone in his hand, Leon went to the balcony. It was raining like a curtain, and drops of water occasionally dripped from his black hair.

"Here we are. Have you received Michelle?" Wynn's cheerful voice came from the other end of the line. "Bryant has booked a table and I'll send you the address later. You two can take a taxi. If Bryant drives to pick you up, you'll be exposed."

"Well, don't book a restaurant too good." Leon squinted his eyes and took a deep breath before asking, "Is there any news about her?"

There was a moment of silence on the other end of the phone. Leon clenched the edge of the phone with his hidden fingers. While waiting, he heard Wynn say, "No."

Leon had predicted that it wouldn't be easy to find her, but listening to his answer in person was different from guessing in his heart. Looking at the gloomy sky, the loss in his eyes disappeared in an instant.

"Got it." Leon said calmly handsome as real people in the future.

"Leon, you're so popular. It's a pity that you're not a student of our school, or you'll be as famous as Nini. Nini is the campus Belle, and you're the most handsome school hunk in history. Take off the title of school hunk from my cousin in law." Michelle continued to read it with great interest.

However, Leon looked away and asked, "My brother-in-law? It's James. "

"It's him. Who else can it be?" Michelle nodded and was still watching her phone.

"Well, let's get dressed and go to the airport to welcome Wynn." Leon reached out and touched her head. Her newly washed hair was soft and smooth, with the fragrance of shampoo floating in the air, and there was a faint milk fragrance on her body.

The smell of Leon was the same. They used the same bottle of milk bath gel, and all the things in the house were bought by Michelle, because he was the one who was raised.

No matter it was because they had the same smell or because Leon was raised, they were a couple in other people's eyes.

Even the taxi driver who took the taxi turned his head and saw a girl paying the fare. He stared at their backs and sighed, "A man's life is miserable, and his money is under his wife's control. We have nothing, alas..."

Bryant had booked a high-end restaurant before. After Leon reminded him, he chose another restaurant. The decoration of the restaurant was quite elegant, but all the boxes had been booked, so they could only sit in the hall.

There were only a few tables were occupied in the hall, which were far away from the table they had booked. It was not noisy. Generally speaking, the environment was good, especially they sat by the window, which reflected the city lights.

Before they arrived, Wynn took the chance to talk to Bryant. "My little disciple will also come later. Control your mouth and don't call him young master. If you really can't bear to call him Leon, then don't. Besides, let's find a way to get him drunk tonight."

"It's a little difficult to get him drunk. We can't even drink as much as him." Dressed in fine clothes, Bryant sat opposite Wynn, who looked more delicate and gentle against Wynn's aggressive face.

Wynn found a comfortable position and sat casually. "The two of us in total can compare with him. I will find various reasons to make him drink later. If he gets drunk, he will have Michelle to take care of him. "

"I see your plan." Bryant smiled and said, "Okay. They should be here soon. I'm very curious about your disciple."

"Don't, don't be curious. You should be curious about other women." Wynn said warily.

ood at drinking, so I don't have to worry about you getting drunk if you have social engagements in the future." Michelle had no idea that she was used as a spear.

However, Leon had noticed it. He smiled faintly when he looked at the two people opposite him. His eyes were as cunning as a fox. Revenge would happen sooner or later.

Wynn's back turned cold. He didn't have time to dodge, but was stared at. He had no choice but to give a wry smile and reached out to grab the wine in Bryant's hand which was used to suppress the shock. The wine was already in front of Bryant's mouth.

Bryant felt his hand empty. Wynn drank most of the wine in the glass in one gulp. He drank before he could get Leon drink.

After a gulp of wine, his throat seemed to be burning.

"Master, you are also good at drinking." Michelle couldn't help but praise, "Then my brother's must be better. Brother, can you also drink more than half a glass of wine in one gulp?"

All of a sudden, Wynn felt the heat in his throat was fading away. He pounded the table and answered for Leon, "Yes! He can drink one glass at a time! "

"Brother, you are awesome!" Michelle looked at Leon and then looked at the full glass of wine in front of him.

Leon knew that he couldn't get out of the pit, because he couldn't refuse her watery eyes which were blinking and could talk.

I Want To Bite My Brother s Mouth

Leon knew he was in a trap, but half of his mind was willing to take it, and the other half was not willing. He had the determination to drag the two opposites into the water.

In the first round, the four people raised their glasses, and Michelle replaced the wine with drinks. It seemed to be a harmonious scene.

In the second round, Wynn toasted the two in the name of Leon welcoming him.

Until the third round, the atmosphere began to change.

Wynn toasted Leon for their brotherhood, and then Bryant raised his glass to Leon with a similar reason.

It was Wynn who this feast was prepared for. But these two men acted as if they were greeting Leon.

How could Leon let them drink obediently? He pulled the two of them to play Tai Chi and pulled cups of wine they delivered back to them, saving a lot of wine to drink.

However, after drinking a lot of wine, he came to feel dizzy. It was difficult for Leon to defeat four hands with two fists with a pair of bright eyes watching aside. He was finally drunk.

He wasn't drunk much, but his brain was a little slow. It was giving Wynn and Bryant a chance. The two were so drunk that they wanted to get Leon comple t he didn't want to let her go.

"Leon, I'm going to make some hangover soup for you. And I'll take a towel to wipe your face, so that you can sleep well." Sitting on the edge of the bed, Michelle explained patiently, like coaxing a child.

However, Leon didn't buy it. He kept frowning and didn't loosen her grip until Michelle couldn't say anything.

The light in the room was warm, and was softly sprinkled on Leon's handsome face. Even if he didn't smile as usual, people could feel his tenderness, which was something in his bones.

Michelle hadn't seen him closely, so she could only look at him carefully when he was drunk and asleep.

Her brother's skin was really good, white and tender like fresh milk, and he was like a sleeping handsome man when he fell asleep.

Her brother had a straight nose, like a hybrid.

Her brother's eyelashes were so long and upturned.

Her brother's mouth was also good-looking, pink, like strawberry jelly. She didn't know if it was strawberry flavor.
