Chapter: 681

Enjoy The Air Conditioner In Her Room

It was already eleven o'clock in the evening when Leon came back. Before that, he had sent a message to Michelle, telling her that he would come back late for his social engagement and that she didn't have to wait for him.

However, when Bryant drove him downstairs, he looked up and saw that the light in the room was still on. When he went upstairs and opened the door, he saw Michelle huddled and sat on the sofa, holding a carrot pillow in her hand and falling asleep.

The air conditioner in the room was broken. Michelle turned on the air conditioner in her room. This apartment had two bedrooms and one living room at least, which was not large, but absolutely not small. The small air conditioner in the bedroom could not make the whole room cool, and it was still a little hot.

Leon had already drunk some wine and felt a little hot. When he entered the room, he felt hotter. He loosened his tie, took off his coat and walked towards the little girl on the sofa.

He casually threw his coat on the sofa and bent down to pick up the sleeping girl. As soon as he stretched out his arm, the little girl woke up in a daze.

"Leon, you are back." Michelle rubbed her eyes and said. Then she raised her head and grinned, revealing her g room, there's no refrigerant left. " Michelle was under the shadow, which just covered the subtle expression on her face because she was lying.

"Is there no refrigerant left in the air conditioner in the living room?" Leon was thinking about how to lie to her that he had something to do and had to go out, so he didn't observe the expression on her face. He turned his head and look at the air conditioner in the room and said, "My air conditioner is broken once and for all. It must have been out of repair for a long time."

"Maybe. I don't know." With her eyelashes fluttering for twice, Michelle raised her head cautiously and asked, "Leon, would you like to come to my room enjoy the air conditioner first ? I'll call if anyone can fix the air-conditioner. "

Leon was a little stunned. Seeing her clear and bright eyes, he suddenly smiled and said, "Really?"

"Yes, yes." When Michelle saw him smile, she also raised her eyebrows. "When we were in the dormitory, there were often other students coming to enjoy our air conditioner, because the air conditioner in their dormitory couldn't work."

"Okay." Leon was convinced. "Then let's go to your room to enjoy the air conditioner."

"Okay." Michelle turned around happily.

Seniority

When Leon walked into Michelle's room, he felt comfortable and cool.

"Leon, please sit down for a while. I'll go to the balcony to make a phone call." Michelle closed the door, picked up her phone on the bed and was about to go to the balcony.

"Wait," Leon stopped her. "It's hot on the balcony, too. Make it in the room."

"It is windy on the balcony. It's not hot." Since Michelle insisted on going to the balcony, Leon didn't say anything but replied, "Okay."

When he caught a glimpse of her bare feet, he couldn't help stopping her, "Wait, put on your shoes."

Michelle lowered her head and found that she really forgot to put on her shoes. She smiled sheepishly and then went to look for her shoes.

Her slippers were all over the place, although she found one, she couldn't find the other one. She looked around and asked, "Eh, where is another shoe? Why is it missing? I remember it was, it was..."

She hesitated for a long time but didn't know where exactly it was.

Leon put his hand on his forehead and caught a glimpse of the slipper under the bed. There was a pair of black and red sandals with a cartoon image of a white rabbit on them.

"Here." He bent down to take the shoe out of the bed, and he walked to Michelle, squatted down and said natu directly according to Nini. If I call him by his name, I will raise my seniority!"

Speaking of seniority, her eyes lit up and her voice was raised. It seemed that it was a happy thing to raise her seniority.

Her eyebrows and eyes were like the crescent moon in the sky.

How could she be happy so easily?

She could be so happy for any trifle.

Michelle's smile was clean and pure, which had always been infectious. Leon also smiled, "Do you want to raise your seniority?"

"Of course!" Michelle tilted her head and said, "But I can't."

"Why not? If you choose someone who is older than them to marry, your seniority will be promoted. " Leon sized her up leisurely. He didn't know why he just wanted to tease this little girl. "For example, marry..."

"No way!" All of a sudden, Michelle jumped up from the bed and stared at him angrily.

How could Leon let her marry an old man of sixty or seventy years old? It was old enough to be her grandfather!

She could call him grandpa!

Even if she wanted to promote her seniority, she didn't want to be a grandma!

Leon had gone too far!

Leon was confused by her stare. Why did she refuse him even before he finished his words?

Why it couldn't be him?

Didn't marrying him mean promoting seniority?

You Are My Bird Of Good News

Leon felt that he was disliked by the little girl and felt embarrassed. He was a little angry and didn't realize that his idea of letting Michelle marry him was more serious than just kidding.

"Why not?" Leon asked, "Do you know who I'm talking about?"

"I know."

"You know. But why do you say no?"

"I just know I can't do that!" Michelle turned her head angrily and didn't want to talk to him.

Leon was even angrier than her, but he didn't show it on his face. His anger rose in his heart. If it weren't for his little girl, he would have bullied her to death.

What's so wrong with him, which made her dislike him like this?

Didn't she always praise him as "Leon is so handsome"? Didn't she always praise him?

So it was just holiday word?

If that was real, the little girl was so sweet.

Leon took a deep breath and sniffed as if nothing had happened. "Don't you want to talk about seniority?"

"Well, I won't mention it anymore." Still turning her head away from him, Michelle lay on the bed, buried her face in the quilt, and said unhappily, "I treated you as my brother, I thought you would be good to me, but I didn't expect that you would actually..."

e neighbors, Leon made a gesture of silence.

"Shh!"

"Oh, oh, shh!" Michelle stopped screaming and jumping. She put her index finger to her lips with a smile, and her eyes were full of bright stars.

She stood on the bed, while Leon stood by the side of the bed, which increased the height of Michelle a lot. They were almost the same in height.

She couldn't help but jump into his arms, just like Nina did before.

"Leon, you are really my bird of good news. Nini is fine. Uncle John is fine. They have little babies. Two, two little babies. I am so happy!"

Her soft body bumped into his arms. For a moment, Leon's brain was in a daze. When he recovered slowly, he smelled the faint milk fragrance of the girl, and felt the strength of alcohol he had drunk before.

The summer's clothes were thin, and they could feel the temperature of each other's skin through the thin clothes. Michelle held him and jumped slightly, obviously feeling a pair of lively rabbits rubbing against his chest.

It was soft, which made him thirsty.

He was a vigorous man, and there was still intoxicating wine in his body. If she continued to touch him like this, it was difficult for him to guarantee that he could be a person, not a beast.

Sharing A Bed

Leon pull her away slightly, and said huskily, "Well, don't jump. The bed will be broken."

"Okay." Michelle had been immersed in great joy. She had already forgotten the love between men and women, or she wouldn't have directly thrown herself into the arms of the person she liked. At the moment she threw herself into the arms, she must have blushed and her heart beat faster.

However, she didn't. All she thought about was the words brother said just now. She stood on the bed, giggling, and picked up the photo of Nina and her, and kissed it.

"That's great. Both you and Uncle John are fine. You have two babies. Your babies must be very beautiful. Hey, Leon, is it the boy or the girl?" Michelle stood in front of Leon again.

They looked straight at each other's eyes.

One was clean and bright, and the other was flowing.

Leon got away from her sight, "Boy babies."

"Are the two boys? Or opposite sex twins?"

"They are all boys."

"Wow, everything is fine. Both the boy and the girl are fine. They must be very beautiful. They are must be as beautiful and smart as Nini." All of a sudden, Michelle began to look forward to seeing them.

"When will Nini and Uncle John come back? I miss them so much."

"Soon." Then Leon turned around and left.

Michelle stopped him, "Leon, where are you going?"

and got an idea.

"Leon, I have an idea!" Michelle's face lit up. Under the suspicious gaze of Leon, she climbed on the bed, folded the quilt into a strip and placed it in the middle of the bed.

"That's okay. Leon, you can sleep on this side of the bed, and I can sleep on the other side of the bed,"

"Are you kidding me?" What could the quilt, which was only 1/4 of the height in the middle, block? If he didn't be a person, he could climb over a height of one meter.

Leon suspected that the little girl was deliberately provoking a crime, so he quickly refused, "No, you sleep by yourself."

"Leon, I'm not kidding. I'm serious." Michelle said, "Although the separation is a little small, it must be more comfortable to sleep on the bed than sitting."

It was true, but

Leon stared at her calmly. "Michelle, do you know what it's called if you let me sleep in the same bed with you now?"

This is called seduction!

Can you be more careful!

Michelle touched her head, looked at the two pillows at the head of the bed and said, "What about sleeping on the same bed but different pillows?"

Leon was speechless

After thinking for a while, Michelle continued, "Do you think we should share a bed with each other?"

The corners of Leon's mouth twitched

Sure enough, he thought too much.

He was really not a person.

She Kissed Leon In Secret

play\_arrow

In the end, Leon lay on the side of the bed. If he didn't do this, it would seem that he was too guilty. He just shared the bed with her, not to mention that there was a quilt between them.

He didn't know what kind of mood he was in and slowly closed his eyes. Maybe it was because out of sight, out of mind.

After he couldn't see, his hearing became sensitive. He heard the sound of Michelle walking, and deliberately slowed down her steps, as if afraid of disturbing him. Then she opened the wardrobe, as if she had taken something out.

"Leon, this is..."

"Ah, what?" Leon almost jumped up and interrupted her before Michelle finished her words, like a frightened deer.

Michelle was startled when Leon sat up. She blinked her eyes and didn't know what to do. Her mouth was still open slightly, and she held a creamy white blanket in her hand.

Leon was too embarrassed to speak anything else. Leon was embarrassed by himself. When he saw the blanket in her hand, he immediately understood what she meant. He explained as if he was trying to hide something, "I'm a little drunk and not sober enough at night. Do you want to give me the blanket? Thank you."

ssed him, and then quickly separated.

It was really fast and light. Even a dragonfly touching the water was better than her, and she didn't taste the sweetness at all.

After the kiss, Michelle's ears turned red, and her face was as red as if she was drunk.

Michelle turned over and ran to the balcony. Her chest was constantly undulating. She gasped for breath, and her heart was beating fast until dawn.

It kept beating fast as if it was not tired. Michelle was afraid that she would suffer shock.

At dawn, Leon suddenly opened his eyes, as if he had woken up from a nightmare.

He stared at the ceiling blankly, breathing heavily. Recalling the scene in his dream, he couldn't help licking his lips.

He couldn't believe that he would have such a dream.

He dreamed that Michelle kissed him secretly.

Just a kiss, his ears turned red.

Leon cursed himself, 'Leon, you are such a bastard.

Bastard.'

He immediately stood up and went to the bathroom. He turned on the cold water and wiped his face. Looking at himself in the mirror, he found that his ears were still red.

He felt ashamed.

He could no longer simply treat Michelle as his ordinary friend.

Secret

When Leon came out of the bathroom, he found that there was no one at home and didn't see Michelle. There was breakfast, handmade noodles, soy milk and fried eggs on the table.

What happened last night was too ridiculous. No matter it was Michelle who kissed Leon secretly, or Leon who dreamed Michelle kissed him secretly, they dared not to see each other.

So Michelle found an excuse, saying that she would go shopping with Huan in the daytime, stay in the dormitory with Lydia in the evening, so she couldn't go back.

Leon, who was worrying about finding an excuse, was overjoyed. He replied that he would have a business appointment and wouldn't go back at night.

The two of them didn't doubt or ask any more questions. They said "Okay" at the same time and then stopped chatting.

Leon breathed a sigh of relief.

"What are you thinking about? I found that you have been in a daze since you came back." Wynn was about to leave for C City, but before he left, he teased Leon, "What happened to you last night? You two shared the air-conditioner and then..."

"Fuck off!" Somehow, it was just a dream, but Leon clearly remembered the touch of her lips, even if it was just a touch, he could feel it.

The scene was so strong that he cursed "fuck off" because he was ashamed and angry.

His ears turned red again.

be silly. It's just a high-end open-air garden, and the environment is like a paradise. My father said the dishes are novel and delicious, so he asked me to invite you to eat. I found that my father only remembered you, and he didn't remember the other roommates. Well, maybe you are cute. My father always wants a cute daughter. It's not my fault. Whether a daughter is cute not, isn't it depending on how her parents raise her?" Huan said as she walked.

Huan complained, "It should blame them. Do you think so?"

"Yes. You are also cute. If I have a daughter like you in the future, I will praise her every day." Michelle said with a smile.

"Exactly!" Huan complacently raised her chin, pondered for a while and felt something was wrong.

"Michelle, you took advantage of me. I treat you as a friend, but you treat me as a daughter!"

"What?" Michelle didn't think so at first, but after Huan's reminder, she realized that it was true. Then she laughed.

Huan's face darkened all the way. It took Michelle a long time to cheer her up after she praised and apologized.

When they arrived at the restaurant in high spirits, they met James, Emma, Huan's father, and a group of people they didn't know, all dressed like professional elites.

Seeing this scene, Michelle knew that it was not an ordinary meal, but a business talk at the table.

In a purple suit, James was an elegant and roguish young man, but he looked much calmer than before. It was all because his Uncle John was missing and James had to manage Time Group so that he looked much calmer. But two months ago, he ran away and focused on his own entertainment company.

Although James said that he didn't need the support of his family, and he managed to run J Entertainment Company by himself, there were countless people who came to him for cooperation, mostly to curry favor with him, and only a few people thought highly of him because of his identity as the child of Shi family.

For Time Group, Zheng family's company was just a small one, but for J Entertainment Company, which had just opened for less than a year, Miles Zheng was also a senior. Now, Miles Zheng came to ask for cooperation in person, but it was unknown if Miles Zheng wanted to curry favor with James or he really thought highly of James.

Zheng family mainly engaged in food processing and had nothing to do with the entertainment circle. However, James not only planned to open an entertainment company, but also planned to invest in his own movie shooting, mainly to support his wife, Emma, a new director.

J Entertainment Company had only been running for less than a year, and there was not so much money. So he had to find someone else to invest in it. No one knew who leaked the news. Now many companies wanted to cooperate with James and Emma.

Miles Zheng was one of them.

Emma was standing next to James. When the two of them saw Michelle, they immediately stopped, and so did the others.

"Mimi?" Emma had been very busy recentl

t she had a cousin. She said that her cousin was a top student and a goddess." Huan added, "She praises her cousin everyday and she is very proud of her cousin. She just talked about her cousin but I don't know her cousin's name or I have never seen her cousin."

"Really?" Emma complained, "Have you forgotten my name?"

"I forgot." Michelle pursed her lips shyly and smiled. "I've been calling you cousin since I was a child. I'm not used to calling your name."

"Not only that I don't know your cousin's name, but also I don't know that your brother-in-law is James. I only knew you knew James before." Huan didn't know it before, but she was really shocked when she knew it just now.

She couldn't believe it now.

What was more incredible was that she seemed to have been used by her father. Her father must have known the relationship between Michelle and Shi family from a long time ago.

In fact, Huan had the best relationship with Rainy, but her father never mentioned Rainy. He only mentioned Michelle. Huan naively thought that her father wanted a lovely daughter, but it turned out that her father had such a purpose.

If Huan could have a contact with James, she would have a contact with Shi family.

Emma sat elegantly and looked away from Huan's calm face. Michelle nodded and said to Huan, "Because there's nothing to talk about. Marriage is between Emma and James. I'll tell you when I get married."

"Get married? You can find a boyfriend first." Huan rolled her eyes at Michelle.

'Boyfriend?'

Michelle was stunned and lowered her head without saying anything. She thought Leon wouldn't be her boyfriend.

Emma left after a while. At night, Miles went home with a big smile. When he was about to praise his daughter, his daughter asked him coldly.

"Dad, did you set me up when I went to the meal with Michelle today? Have you investigated Michelle? You know that Michelle's cousin is James' wife. You want to get in touch with Shi family, so you asked me to invite Michelle to that restaurant for the meal yesterday, didn't you? "

Miles had known that he couldn't hide it from his daughter since he met her in the restaurant. His daughter was so smart that she would know everything as long as she used her brain.

It was fine that she was naughty and disobedient in usual, but now she dared to question him loudly.

The smile on his face disappeared at once. Miles said coldly, "I have investigated the family relationship of Michelle, not only her. I have investigated all the people in your dormitory, and I have also investigated all your friends. You are the precious daughter of me and your mother. If we don't find out who are around you, how can we rest assured as your parents?"

"Ha ha." Huan gasped in disbelief. She had never known about it. "Dad, you've gone too far. How could you investigate my friends so casually?"

With her eyes wide open, Michelle kept nodding with joy, "Okay. I don't need you to buy it for me. I'll buy it myself."

'That's great! I can buy the flowers that Leon likes.'

"Thank you, Huan. You are so kind. I like you so much!" Michelle reached out and held Huan tightly and Huan couldn't move at all.

Feeling uncomfortable in her arms, Huan didn't get rid of her, but gave a bitter smile in a place where no one saw.

If Michelle had known that she had colluded with her father to take advantage of Michelle's relationship with Shi family today, would Michelle still said these words?

She patted on Michelle's back and said sorry in her heart.

"Michelle, let me buy it for you. Your birthday is coming next month, isn't it? I'll buy you two of them as the birthday gifts to you. "

'Let me make amends to you with one of them, and the other as a birthday gift for you.'

Lydia had already climbed onto her bed and did plank as usual. After listening to the two people talking for a long time, she interrupted, "Huan, you may need to send another birthday gift."

"Why?" "You like orchids. Why can't I give Michelle the Cymbidium lianpan as a birthday gift?" Asked Huan, who had already been let go of by Michelle and regained her freedom

"Michelle doesn't like the Cymbidium lianpan. Leon likes it. She did something wrong to Leon and was going to use the Cymbidium lianpan to apologize." Lydia turned her head to take a look at Michelle, who had already told Lydia what happened last night on the way back to their dormitory.

Huan doubted, "Don't you want it?"

Michelle nodded.

Huan was speechless... 'Why is always Leon?'

All of a sudden, Huan didn't know what to say. Since the appearance of the brother of the campus belle, Nina, Michelle's like for him had reached an appalling degree.

Nina and Leon were not that close, not to mention Leon and Michelle were not brother and sister.

A bold idea flashed through Huan's mind, and she blurted out, "Michelle, do you fall in love with your brother, Leon?"

Huan almost hit the nail on the head.

Michelle held her breath and dared not speak. Panic flashed through her eyes and she lowered her head to cover it.

Lydia smiled but said nothing.

I, the chicken soup for soul is finished. Teacher Huan is off-line." Huan cleared her throat.

Lydia smiled, "It's not poisonous chicken soup for soul. It's useful." 'At least it's useful to me.'

Huan smiled meaningfully. She knew who Lydia had a crush on, and Lydia also knew that she couldn't hide if from Huan, who had a lot of love experience. The two of them tacitly kept silent.

But Lydia still shyly turned around and continued to do the plank.

Michelle was still digesting the chicken soup for soul tonight, looking very serious and a little confused.

"Michelle, aren't you going to buy Cymbidium lianpan for him? What are you going to say when you give it to him?" Huan stood up and went to the balcony to get a bowl of succulent. She put it in the hand of Michelle and said, "If this is the Cymbidium lianpan you bought, I'm Leon. Now you're going to give me this plate of succulent. Now you demonstrate how you're going to give it to me."

"Okay." Michelle took the potted plant and handed it to Huan, grinning, "Here you are, Leon."

Huan waited for a while but Michelle didn't say anything anymore. Huan said, "That's it?"

"Well, what else should I say?" Michelle answered seriously.

Huan rubbed her forehead and she was speechless.

Michelle drank up the chicken soup for soul in vain.

Lydia laughed out, "Teacher Huan, Michelle is the biggest obstacle in your career."

Huan failed and waved her hand, "I won't teach you tonight. I'll tell you after you buy the orchids."

"What if she really can't follow your instructions?" Lydia finished the plank and was stretching.

Huan raised her head and said, "You're right. Michelle, call me when you send flowers to Leon. I'll play it by ear."

"I agree." Lydia praised.

In a daze, Michelle nodded, "Okay."

"Do you understand what we are talking about? Just say okay?" Huan felt guilty for what happened in the restaurant, so she was more worried about Michelle. "Don't agree with everything so quickly. Are you going to count the money if you were sold?"

After a long while, Michelle finally came to her senses. She suddenly stood up and said, "I won't be sold. If I am sold to count the money, I will definitely take the money into my own pocket."

"I think you are very obedient to Leon. I'm worried that you will be sold by him." Huan poked her forehead with much strength, which made Michelle stumble back. Fortunately, there was a table behind her.

Colby would leave the country at ten o'clock by plane tomorrow morning. And it would take him half a month to come back. So they made an appointment to have breakfast together tomorrow morning, and they could make the deal at the same time.

After deciding to buy orchids, Michelle was so happy that she forgot the embarrassment last night. Before going to bed, she even sent a voice message to Leon.

"Good night, Leon. I wish you have a good dream tonight."

The girl's voice was sweet and soft, which floated to Leon slightly. He lay on the bed sideways, holding his phone against the pillow in his hand, and the voice came close, as if the little girl was lying in his arms at the moment and whispering softly.

That good night seemed to be stuck in his heart.

His heart skipped a beat.

A shiver ran down Leon's spine as he threw his phone away.

He was afraid that what he had tonight was not a good dream, but that little dream.

He was stunned.

He doubted that he was really out of his mind.
