Chapter: 701

Michelle s Too Young To Fall In Love

Michelle asked for a leave and went out temporarily. She had to go back to the club before two o'clock in the afternoon. She took a walk and chatted with them, forgetting the time. It was impossible to go back to the club by subway now. She gritted her teeth and decided to take a taxi.

When she was about to hail a taxi, a black car stopped in front of her. It seemed that the fare was not cheap.

"Michelle." Colby's joyful voice came from the car.

'It is this car, and it is him again.' Leon frowned.

Michelle was surprised. "Colby? What a coincidence!"

"No, I'm here to pick you up." Getting out of the car, Colby walked around the front of the car and greeted Leon Mr. Leon politely, then he smiled and said to Michelle, "You can go back to the club now. I'll drive you there."

"Are you going there too?" Michelle asked in confusion.

"Yes, I'll drive you there." Colby opened the passenger seat and tilted his head to indicate her to get in the car.

Michelle opened her mouth and was about to say something, but Leon pulled her behind him and smiled, "You don't have to go there on purpose. I'll accompa too early to fall in love now. Don't make such a joke in the future. Michelle is simple minded. She really doesn't want to hurt your heart and her spouse preference is me." Michelle's words were like a ray of hope, dispelling gloomy on Leon's hidden face. He raised the corners of his mouth and gently reminded Colby.

Michelle nodded and said softly, "Yes, I'm looking for a boyfriend like Leon."

She used to find a boyfriend as good-looking as Leon. But now she quietly dropped the two words "good-looking", as long as it was Leon

But there was no one in the world who looked the same. Everyone was unique.

With her mind wandering, Michelle looked out of the window and curled her lips with a little melancholy.

Colby was rendered speechless. 'I was a little anxious.'

He was too anxious to express his love in such an occasion.

"I was just kidding."

"Well, don't say the same words again." Leon directly stopped Colby's idea to express his love to Michelle in the future.

Colby opened his mouth but couldn't say anything.

He didn't understand why Leon always wanted to block Michelle's admirers.

It was almost two o'clock when they arrived at the foot of the slope of the club. As soon as Michelle got off the car, she ran up in a hurry, waving goodbye to them with her back to them.

"I have to go now. Bye, Leon. Bye, Colby!"

"Run slowly." Every time he saw the little girl running in a hurry, Leon was worried that she would fall down like a child who just started running.

Her petite figure was like a porcelain doll. If smashed into pieces, he had to feel sorry for her.

After Michelle ran to the door, she stopped, turned around and waved at them with a smile.

Leon looked at her with a smile. After she disappeared from his sight, the gentle smile like water gradually faded away, leaving only a polite and alienated smile.

"Do you like Michelle?"

Leon's sudden question stunned him. After a while, Colby came to his senses and said with certainty, "Yes. I like her very much. You are Michelle's brother... "

"It's not biological." Leon said.

"I know you are not my biological brother. You are Michelle's cousin..."

"Not really." Leon glanced at him and said indifferently, "I already have a boyfriend for her, not you."

It seemed that Colby didn't understand what Leon meant. Colby asked hesitantly, "You mean you have chosen a boyfriend for her? You are her brothe onist led him to the office.

An assistant's office was more comfortable and spacious than the general manager's. Austin sat on the sofa with an entertainment magazine in his hand.

"You read this page every time I came here. Austin, aren't you tired?" As long as Aron was free, Austin would call him to his office to have a chat.

Most of the time, Aron was talking to himself. While eating the melon seeds, he persuaded Austin, "Auzzie, if you really don't want to stay here, just don't stay. No matter how delicious the melon seeds in your office are, my skin will be broken if I keep eating them."

Austin casually ate the melon seeds one by one as if he didn't notice the impurities in his mouth. He saw Aron eating happily and said lightly, "Don't eat them if your skin is broken."

"Okay." Aron put the melon seeds on the plate, stood up and patted, "What are we going to do next? Let's play games as usual? Or VR racing? "

"Racing." Austin put down the magazine.

The two of them were immersed in the VR world and didn't hear the knock on the office door. When Colby opened the door and directly came in, he saw them wearing the VR mirror, staggering.

What a loser.

Austin was really good at acting a loser. It was a great loss for the entertainment industry if he didn't act.

After closing the door, the three of them were left in the office. Without hesitation, Colby took off Austin's virtual reality blindfold.

"Auzzie, I'm finally going to win you this time," said Aron cheerfully, who was still in the virtual reality world

Since Austin didn't play with him anymore, of course Aron would win. Colby thought Aron was an idiot.

Austin didn't expect that Colby would suddenly appear here. Austin was surprised.

"Why are you here?"

"I didn't know you are so good at acting before I came here." Colby sneered. Then Colby looked him up and down. When he stood beside him, Colby found that his legs were not as long as Austin's.

"Why are your legs longer than mine?"

"I'm taller than you." Austin was 1.82 meter tall, while Colby was only 1.78 meter tall. How could they compare?

And Austin's legs were really long.

Colby was really shorter than Austin.

"Auzzie, where are you?" After winning the game, Aron finally found something wrong. He took off his virtual reality blindfold and was shocked to find that there was other person in the office all of a sudden.

When he saw Colby's face clearly, he stood up in a hurry and said, "Colby, you are here too. Now that you are here, you can play with Auzzie for a while. "

Colby had seen all roommates of Austin. But Colby almost forgot the other two roommates of Austin except for Aron.

designer had chosen the best milky white diamond and the natural emerald.

The design was simple and low-key, and the small square diamonds with uniform spacing were arranged neatly. In the middle of the diamonds was embedded with emerald, and there was also a four-leaf clover cut by a white diamond between each square diamond.

The delicate structure of the bracelet made the bracelet as soft and flexible as a ribbon around the wrist. The whole bracelet looked white with a little green on it.

That alone was not enough. The most special part of the bracelet was that there was a small white diamond bell at the buckle, which made the originally elegant ancestral emerald bracelet a little niftier.

The gift was sent from a specially-assigned person from C Island. When Leon was not in the hotel, it was signed for by Bryant.

As soon as Valerie arrived in Lexingport City, she lived in the same presidential suite with her brother, Bryant. She accidentally saw a unique jewelry box with a unique logo on the table. It was a thing that only the royal family of C Island deserved. It was unique and valuable.

Looking around, no one was around. She opened the box unhurriedly and saw the emerald bracelet lying there elegantly. She couldn't take her eyes off it in an instant.

She didn't know Leon would give the bracelet to whom, and a desire of possession rose in her heart.

Mid Autumn Festival

play_arrow

There were three days off from the Mid-Autumn Festival. People in the club came home one after another. Michelle waved goodbye to Joanna, watching Joanna happily run to her father, and then took her father's taxi away.

Michelle also missed her parents.

If her parents were at home, they would definitely come to pick her up. In the evening, they could eat the dishes cooked by her mother, and also eat the moon cakes made by her father. Although the taste was very bad, her mother still said it was delicious every time, which made her father dizzy and have no self-knowledge at all.

And even coaxed Michelle to eat.

Michelle pursed her lips and sighed, with a sad expression that didn't match her baby face.

Suddenly, her phone buzzed. She received a WeChat message from Lydia, saying that she had arrived.

A smile finally appeared on her fair baby face. She took her phone and turned back to take her suitcase.

Lydia was standing under a tree by the side of the road at the bottom of the slope of the club. Suddenly, a car pulled over, followed by another car.

Two people got off the car, Austin and Colby.

Lydia's eyes were fixed on Austin from beginning to end. He was still dressed in simple casual clothes, showing a cold aura, which made people want to get close to him in the hot summer.

Iso laughed in a low voice.

Austin had already known it and remained silent with a poker face.

Colby was rendered speechless

He felt so humiliated.

Just as Colby was too embarrassed to know what to do, Lydia happily waved her hand and called, "Mimi!"

When Michelle saw a row of people standing on the roadside, her eyes lit up again and smiled like a flower.

"Lydia! Cousin! " She dragged a small sky blue suitcase and ran downstairs. "Ah, why are you all here?"

She ran down and plunged into her cousin's arms.

The inertia of the sudden rush was so great that Emma couldn't catch it steadily and staggered back. At that time, James quickly held her shoulder and said in a trembling voice, "Mimi, can you make allowance for my wife's strength? If she falls, I'll give you a suplex. "

"It's okay." Touching Michelle's soft hair, Emma smiled gently.

Michelle stuck out her tongue and turned her head away from him. She couldn't hear, and she didn't hear anything.

Under the shade of a tree not far away, a dark blue Lincoln was parked. The window was tightly closed, and couldn't see who was sitting inside.

However, when Leon saw through the car window that Michelle jumped into someone else's arms, he couldn't help frowning.

The little girl would not rush into his arms directly.

Leon I Miss You

"Mr. Leon, are you going there?" The driver who spoke was Charles Chen. Bryant didn't want to be a tool for driving, so he hired a full-time driver.

Charles was an ordinary young man in his twenties. He could only drive because he didn't receive any education. Now he could be a driver for Leon who was a rich man. God knew that he was not willing to be only a truck driver.

It was not easy for him to touch a luxury car. He must serve his employer well and speak respectfully.

After a long silence, Leon said, "No. let's go back to the hotel."

"Okay, Mr. Leon." Charles turned around.

Hearing the noise, Michelle looked sideways and felt that there was a familiar person in that car. It might be Leon.

Unfortunately, she could only see the car, and nothing could be seen inside. The car turned around, and she could not even see the driver.

They missed each other so much at festival.

"What are you looking at? What's wrong with that car?" Emma asked, following Michelle's sight.

"Good-looking." Thinking of Leon, Michelle blurted out these two words.

When the car was about to disappear, James only caught a corner of the back of the car. With his keen sense of the car, he knew what brand the car was.

"Lincoln car?"

comfort her, and whispered, "Can you make a phone call? I will call my dad when I missed him."

Michelle shook her head, like a rabbit with its ears down and listless, saying nothing.

Emma said for Michelle, "She can't call, so she can wait them to call over there. Mimi, I'm here with you."

"Um." Michelle nodded and felt better. .

"If you can't call them, you can send them a message. Text them what you want to say. You don't need to hide it in your heart. They can see it as long as they turn on their phones." Lydia suggested.

"That's a good idea. Mimi, have a try." said Emma.

Michelle raised her head, took out her phone and began to text her parents. She texted a long and illogical words, as if she was talking nonsense.

After sending it out, her eyes were filled with tears, and her eyes were misty.

She clicked on the WeChat again and couldn't resist the impulse to send a message.

She texted, "Leon, we haven't seen each other for a long time. I miss you."

She regretted as soon as she sent it. This sentence was affectionate and very ambiguous.

Michelle's eyes widened and withdrew it in a hurry. She quickly turned off the screen and didn't see the words "the other party is typing" in the dialog box.

Come On Girl

Michelle spent the Mid-Autumn Festival in the Shi family. It was the first time for Lydia to step into the rich area because of Michelle. The row villa on the Stone Road was magnificent, and the Mid-Autumn Festival was as luxurious as a dinner party of celebrities.

Lydia kept a low profile so quietly that she pretended to be invisible. At the same time, Michelle became much more low-key. She didn't keep talking and laughing. She would chat with them with a smile.

After the family reunion dinner, Dora took the two of them to appreciate the moon and set off the festive lanterns. There was a natural swimming pool behind the villa in the Shi family, and many beautiful lotus lanterns were floating on the water.

Michelle squatted by the pool, put on the festive lanterns, and closed her eyes to make wishes.

Her first wish was that her parents could go home as soon as possible.

Her second wish was that Nini would come back soon.

Her third wish was Leon.

"Lydia, do you think our wishes will really come true?" Michelle opened one eye and whispered to Lydia, who was also making wishes.

Lydia had made a pious wish. When she opened her eyes, she said, "It may be come true. Sincerity makes it true."

"Okay!" Michelle quickly closed her eyes and murmured, "Sincerity makes it true. Sincerity makes it true. Sincerity makes it true."

'Festive lantern, please let Leon fall in love with me as soon as possible.'

In order to show her sincerity, Michelle closed her eyes and prayed for more than half an hour with he pt her head down. Leon asked curiously, "What's wrong?"

"What? No, nothing." Michelle was startled. She hid her phone behind her back and took a big step back.

Leon was speechless.

'Am I a monster?' Leon couldn't understand why she was so scared by him.

"I was just asking. If you don't like it, I won't ask." Leon smiled helplessly.

"No, no." Michelle replied quickly. Her eyes flickered and she didn't dare to look at him. Her heart was still beating wildly and her breath was a little unstable. She whispered, "No, it is not that I don't liked to be asked by you."

"That's good." Leon smiled gently and reached out to touch Michelle's forehead, but was pushed away by Michelle again.

Leon was stunned. Leon's hand froze in midair, and a hint of complexity appeared in his amber like eyes.

'She was fine just now, but now she seemed to avoid me. What happened?

It seemed that something was wrong with her after reading the message on the phone.'

He really wanted to ask what the message was, but he didn't know how to ask her privacy. At last, he had to give up.

"Let's go inside." Leon moved sideways to let her go.

As soon as Michelle walked ahead, she took the phone hidden behind her to the front. Her left hand held the gift box and pressed it against her body. Her right hand lit up the phone screen again.

A new message popped up in the dormitory chat group.

Huan posted the link to the chat group, "The ultimate move is to pretend to inadvertently ask him how it feels to kiss! If he said...."

He Insisted On Staying Here Overnight

Michelle wanted to read all of them, but she was afraid of being seen by Leon, so she put away her phone in a hurry.

Leon, who was peeking at Michelle from the corner of his eyes, didn't see anything. Just because Michelle tried her best to hide it, he felt that she was hiding something from him, and it might have something to do with him.

Michelle opened the door of her house, which she had not come back for a long time. She hadn't turn on the lights. There was only a faint light outside. It should be because no one had come back to live for a long time, so it looked very cold.

Since Michelle's parents devoted themselves to scientific research, Michelle had either lived in her dormitory or lived with her cousin. She seldom lived alone at home.

Later Leon appeared, she lived in an apartment outside the school and now in a club. Therefore, she hadn't been home for more than half a year.

Michelle skillfully turned on the light, and the dark hall became bright. The decoration of the house was very warm, and the warmth smell belonged to home came to them.

"Leon, you can wear my dad's slippers." Michelle bent down and picked up a pair of men's slippers in front of Leon, and wined and thought, 'She guessed it right just now. Why did she guess wrong now?'

"It's not plum blossoms. I'm thinking..."

"It's plum blossom! The fragrance of your body is plum blossoms, very light. I just smelled it, but there seems to be another smell, or not." Michelle raised her head, her watery eyes fluttering like butterflies.

Leon was speechless. Leon couldn't help laughing and then realized that what the two of them had just said was not the same thing. "It is green plum, and the other one, which seems to have no smell, is the winter snow. Does it smell good?"

"It smells good." Michelle nodded repeatedly. It really smelled good, not as strong as other perfumes, but as light as a person's own fragrance.

She used to think it was Leon's natural body scent.

"Do you like it? If you like it, I'll give it to you." Leon straightened up and flicked her forehead with his finger. It was interesting to see her raise her hand to cover her forehead.

With her big watery eyes open, she looked a little innocent and confused, as if she didn't react. When she reacted, her little face immediately became a little sad, but she didn't blame him.

He liked her looked like this.

Michelle was not used to using perfume, but she also liked the good smell, especially the smell of Leon, which made her feel relaxed and happy.

"Yes, yes, I want it." Michelle lowered her hand that covered her forehead, raised her head and nodded. She rolled her eyes and asked, "Is it expensive? Is this perfume expensive?"

"What? I said I would give it to you. You don't need to buy it." Leon was hesitating whether to tell her that he was rich or not. Otherwise, she would always worry about money, but he liked to see her worry about him.

He was really conflicted.

"I mean if you give me a bottle, you have to buy it yourself. So I want to ask if it's expensive." 'No matter it is expensive or not, I could ask Leon to tell me what kind of perfume it is. I could buy it by myself, but that is different. What I liked is not perfume, but perfume from Leon.'

Michelle thought to herself.

Leon smiled faintly and said, "It's not expensive." It was worth hundreds of thousands dollars. The real value was the bottle.

"How much?"

"Eh, eighty-eight." Leon made up a random number.

"Eight, eighty-eight?" Michelle opened her eyes wide in disbelief.

Leon didn't understand why Michelle was so surprised. 'Is it too cheap or....' "E was an exception. She had lost for the first time to make a quilt.

The quilt was not spread out inside, but was stirred into a ball, and the corners of the quilt were nowhere to be found.

Michelle was stunned.

"Why?" She couldn't believe it.

Leon couldn't help laughing. "Yes, why is that?"

Michelle snorted softly, "It's all your fault."

"What? What did I do?" Leon was still smiling.

'Yes, Leon did nothing, but I was not good at it.'

Michelle bit her lips and felt ashamed, but since she had said so, she made up her mind and said, "Anyway, it's all your fault. If you hadn't stood here, I wouldn't have been nervous. When I was nervous, I would make a mistake."

There was a big bed 1.5 meter wide between the two of them, and a quilt bulged up in the middle like a hill. The dark gray bed sheet was wrinkled, like ripples on the sea. The two eyes met in midair.

From the C Island to the Lexingport City, Leon had go through a long journey. He came here for the future of his sister, Nina, but he didn't expect to meet another girl here and break into his life.

"Nervous? Why are you nervous?" Leon asked, looking at her with deep eyes.

"Because..."

'I am nervous because of love.' Michelle thought to herself.

"For what?" Leon asked.

"Because you are like an invigilator standing there." After saying that, Michelle turned her head to avoid his gaze. Suddenly, she muttered, "You really looks like a invigilator, especially Teacher Jule, who is very serious."

The room was quiet, and Leon had a good ability to hear clearly.

Leon had met Teacher Jule that Michelle had mentioned before. He was the head teacher who mistook him for her boyfriend at the beginning and looked very serious.

Leon couldn't help laughing.

"Really?"

"Yes." Michelle looked at him and said, "Yes, you looked alike. Teacher Jule likes to stand next to me and watch me answer questions. I can know whether I have answered the question correctly just by looking at his expression. Teacher Jule's eyes are like a scanning machine, and the expression on his face is like a score maker."

Hearing her description, Leon seemed to be on the scene. If someone kept staring at him to see if he was wrong, he would be more or less nervous.

"Then I'll go out first. I'll come in when you finish, okay?"

As Leon was about to go out, he deliberately slowed down his pace. When he almost walked to the door, he heard Michelle ask him to stay. "No, Leon, you don't have to go out."

"Anyway, you can't see me later, and I can't see you either." Murred Michelle. She threw off her slippers and climbed onto the bed.

People would always make mistakes when they were in a panic, not to mention in front of the person they liked.

As soon as Michelle finished speaking, she was stunned and anxious.

"I... I... I... I'm not..." Michelle was too anxious to speak.

She wanted to say that was not what she meant.

There was a faint smile on Leon's face, and when looked at it carefully, the smile was stiff.

"Did they ask you how it felt to kiss?" Leon touched her forehead and asked weakly, "Who kissed you and why did they ask you this question? I remember you don't have a boyfriend."

After a pause, he continued, "Of course, it's not that you can kiss only after you have established a relationship. There are many kinds of kissing cases. Michelle, do you have a boy you like? Why don't you tell me?"

Michelle pursed her lips and dared not speak. She nodded and shook her head, as if she was afraid of him.

She was afraid that he would make a clean break with her if she told him.

"I'm not questioning you. Don't be afraid. Do you fall in love with someone?" Leon sighed slightly, asked and his eyes became gentle.

Michelle bit her lips and nodded.

"Kissed?"

"Yes." Michelle lowered her eyes.

Leon's fingers curled up, slightly tightened, and gently asked, "Can you tell me who... Forget it."

Michelle breathed a sigh of relief.

Happy Birthday Sister

Lying on the bed, Michelle only turned on the bedside lamp. She replied to her roommates' messages with her phone in both hands and told them that she had said something wrong.

Her roommates soon responded her in the group chat.

Lydia texted, "Forget it? Leon said that?"

Michelle texted, "Yes."

Huan texted, "Leon has known that you have a crush on someone and that you have kissed him, but he doesn't know it is him?"

Michelle texted, "Yes."

Rainy texted, "Oh my God, just tell him."

Huan texted, "The point is that we don't know how Leon feels for Michelle. If he only take Michelle as his sister, will he be bothered?"

Lydia texted, "What I'm afraid of is not only that he may be bothered, but also he may distance himself from Michelle because of it."

Lydia texted, "Now the most important thing is to test Leon's feelings for Michelle. We must know whether he likes Michelle or not."

Rainy texted, "You are right. Michelle, how Leon reacted when he knew that you have someone you like?"

jewelry, so she was not used to it.

Leon flicked her forehead and said, "You won't realize your birthday until you say it out. Nini will say it out on her birthday. Simple wish will be realized soon, and difficult wish may take some time to realize."

"Really?" In the incandescent light, Michelle's eyes were shining. "Will it really come true if I say it out?"

"You can have a try." Leon nodded.

"I hope dad and mom can come back to celebrate my birthday with me." Michelle said without thinking, her eyes full of expectation.

Leon rubbed her head and said, "It will come true."

"Thank you, brother." Michelle knew that her wish to celebrate her birthday with her parents would never come true no matter she made it secretly or spoke it out loud. But she was still happy that her brother told her that her wish would come true.

It was a little late. The two said good night to each other.

As soon as Leon stepped into his room, a voice suddenly came from behind. Before he could react, a sentence hit his heart directly.

"Ah! Brother, I love you! "
