

Deep affection honey come back to me

Chapter: 711

A Gentle Man

When Michelle received the phone call from her parents, she was so excited that she cried out "I love you". However, these three words did not really mean true meaning at this time.

Leon was still stunned by the three words. He only turned half of his body and caught a glimpse of half of Michelle's body.

She was looking at her phone with her back to him.

If he was right, it should be Michelle's parents who called, but it was not his contribution.

He hadn't had time to do it yet.

"Hello, Mom, Dad, I miss you so much." Michelle answered the phone. As soon as she finished shouting, her nose ached.

Leon sensed the difference in her voice and stood still at the door.

"Mom, what are you doing with dad? Why don't you go to bed? It's so late." Michelle walked into the bedroom and gently closed the door.

Michelle's father Adams said, "Your mom and I have just finished our work. Happy birthday, Michelle."

[何妈妈]: "happy birthday, Michelle. You are 22 years old. You are a big girl."

The couple hadn't contacted their daughter for a long time. They couldn't bear to hear their daughter's voice. Adams's eyes were just a little red, and Elaine's voice was a little crying.

Elaine said, "I'm sorry, Michelle. Your dad and I can't celebrate your birthday with you this year. Don't be sad. We'

when lying on the bed.

At night, Adams and Elaine sneaked into their daughter's room, put down a letter, and left reluctantly.

There were two cars parked at the roadside of the community. Adams and Elaine got on the first one, and behind the car sat Leon.

It was late at night and all was quiet.

"Mr. Leon, are we going back now?" The driver, Charles, looked at the car in front of them and wondered if they should leave now.

"No." Leon sat in the back seat and closed his eyes for rest. "Lie on the steering and sleep for a while. Drive back in the morning and have a good sleep. I'll give you a morning leave."

"Mr. Leon, I'm fine. But Mr. Leon, do you really want to stay in the car for one night?"

"Yes." Leon pinched his nose, looking tired. He said in a low voice with tenderness, "She had a good time at night. If she wakes up and found that there is no one at home, she will feel sad."

Everything needed a gradual process. If the clamor suddenly returned to silence, everyone would feel a moment of pain.

Charles suggested, "Mr. Leon, you can go back to have a rest and come back at dawn."

"No, I can't get up if I go back to sleep now." He didn't want Michelle to wake up in the morning without seeing anyone.

Charles felt ashamed. They were all men, but Mr. Leon was so gentle.

I Will Never Dislike You

The next morning, the alarm clock rang twice. Michelle opened her eyes, half asleep and half awake. She reached out to turn off the alarm clock and fell asleep again.

She rubbed against the pillow with her head and pouted her mouth two times.

Three WeChat messages came from the phone between the two pillows.

An account called Lu texted, "Good morning, Michelle. It's time for breakfast. Go downstairs.

Lu texted, "I'm at your door.

Lu texted, "My dear white rabbit, open the door, please. Open the door quickly. I want to come inside. Michelle, get up and open the door.

The beep on the pillow made Michelle impatiently frown and feel something under the pillow. ...

When she reached for the phone, the screen had already lit up, and her eyes were squinting uncomfortably. She vaguely saw the WeChat message from Leon, but she thought it was a dream.

'How could Leon be good at singing My Dear White Rabbit?'

She stopped singing this song after grade three.

But sometimes her mother would knock on her door and sing.

'How could Leon say My Dear White Rabbit?'

It must be in my dream.

Later, I will ask Leon to sing My Dear White Rabbit for me.'

Michelle turned over and continued to sleep, resting her head on her arm. Her face was uncomfortable with the emerald diamond bracelet on her wrist, so she had to take her hand out and change her

Leon said slowly, as if it had nothing to do with him.

Michelle's voice was a little trembling, because of the astonishing number, and also because of the car accident. She began to worry. "Oh! My God! Then, are Colby and that man okay? Is it serious? I'll call Colby and ask him about it.

As his friend, we didn't know that he had suffered such a big thing yesterday. We were still playing happily and didn't care about him." Michelle reached for her phone, only to find that it was in the bedroom upstairs.

As soon as she stood up, a strong hand on her shoulder pressed her down and sat down.

"I've inquired about it. There's something wrong with his car and he's fine. He's very busy now. Don't cause him any trouble. When he finishes his work, he'll contact you by himself." Noticing that she was worried about others, Leon said calmly.

"Okay. I hope he can solve this matter smoothly." Michelle was still worried.

"Don't worry about him. Just worry about yourself. Don't take Colby's car anymore. He's not good at driving," Leon reminded her.

If he had a good driving skill, he wouldn't have let Charles hit his car successfully. However, Charles's driving skill was really good. He didn't make anyone suspect that he hit the car himself. He didn't look like a driver who only knew how to drive a truck.

Leon didn't know where Bryant hired this talent.

Michelle remembered that Colby once drove her and Huan for a ride. He not only drove with one hand, but also stepped on the accelerator as if it didn't cost him any money. She nodded and said, "It seems that it's not safe. Colby drives too fast."

"So don't take his car again. Listen to me." A beautiful smile appeared on Leon's face.

"Okay, it's up to you." Michelle nodded obediently. Then she asked, "Leon, how do you know that Colby hit the car?"

"I saw it." Because at that time, he was watching in the car behind the Bugatti. He found that Charles's acting skill was not bad. Charles was more domineering than any other rich generations, and pressed Colby's momentum.

Perhaps it was because the Bugatti was really too expensive, Colby was stunned at that moment. While he was anxious to go to the birthday party, he was busy dealing with Charles's harassment.

'The roses in Colby's car were probably withered.

He even wanted to express his love to her on her birthday without considering his own ability.' Leon snorted in his heart.

"Leon, what kind of car is Bugatti? Tens of millions! It seems to be more expensive than my cousin's car. Isn't it a lot of money for compensation that Colby need to pay?" Michelle asked, tilting her head.

"The car wasn't badly hit. Colby's family can afford the compensation. But the main reason is that the owner of the car d

"I mean you can ask me to dry your hair."

"No, I want to dry it with air. Don't dry it with a hair dryer. My hair will be roasted, like cookies. It will turn yellow and hard, and it won't be soft when touching it. I'm going to the balcony to the yard to dry it." Michelle refused seriously.

Leon chuckled, "It's a good metaphor. Don't move. I'll dry you a little more and then go out to dry it with the wind."

The towel sucked the water from her hair, and it became soft and moist. Leon had to pick up the bath towel on the edge of the bed, with his hands around the side of Michelle's face, and put the dry side of the bath towel on her hair from behind.

The wide bath towel covered Michelle's eyes and half of her face like a veil.

"Leon, I can't see." While speaking, Michelle raised her head, and Leon's palm was placed on both sides of her head. The bath towel didn't fall down.

When she raised her head, the bath towel was pressed against the tip of her nose. Her lips were slightly red against the white bath towel. When she opened her mouth slightly, a trace of teeth white could be seen in her red lips, which was attractive and tempting.

His amber like eyes were shining. Leon was staring at her, and his lips were a little dry.

He slowly bent over and got close to Michelle, and Michelle's lips were very close to his'.

Michelle's eyes were blocked and she couldn't see anything. She waited for a long time and couldn't help but ask, "What's wrong, brother?"

Her soft voice brought back Leon's hidden reason. His body suddenly froze. The distance between their faces was less than a centimeter. If Michelle asked him half a second later, he would have kissed her.

"Nothing, nothing." The sparkling eyes of Leon returned normal. Realizing what he was about to do just now, he loosened his hand in a hurry and the bath towel fell behind Michelle.

Without the shield, the darkness in front of Michelle gradually disappeared. Michelle saw the faint red ears of Leon. Because he stood beside her, she could see it clearly.

"Brother, your ears are red." Michelle gently flapped her eyelashes, but she didn't know that the truth had stirred up waves in Leon's heart.

"Well, I..." Leon wanted to say something to refute, but they were too close to each other just now, and the heat in his body had not dissipated. His throat was a little dry and hoarse, and only four words came out of his mouth after a long time. "I will go out."

"Uh-huh? Okay." Michelle answered in confusion. It was not until she saw the figure disappear at the door that she remembered that she w a boyfriend who is as handsome as me, right?"

"Yes." Michelle nodded and added in her heart, 'I want to have boyfriend like you.'

Leon continued asking, "Do you think there will be another person in the world who is as handsome as me?"

"No." Michelle answered affirmatively. 'How can there be someone as beautiful as my brother in the world? Even if there is, no matter how beautiful he is, he is not my favorite brother.'

Leon chuckled, "Do you like my face?"

Michelle pursed her lips and stared at the handsome face in front of her.

'He asks whether I like his face or not, not whether I like him. In this case, I can say yes, right?'

She hesitated for a moment and answered carefully, "Yes."

"How about my legs? Do you like them? "

"Yes, I like them." Michelle was a little confused.

Leon raised his eyebrows and smiled. "If you like them, I'll give them to you."

"Ah!" Michelle screamed, her face pale. "Peel...peel off your skin?"

The smile on Leon's face disappeared.

"Saw legs?" Michelle was so frightened that she stepped back. "No, no, no. I don't want them. I don't like them anymore."

Leon was speechless.

He meant to give himself to her.

Why did Michelle think of peeling skin?

And saw legs?

Leon felt that since he had said so, the little girl still couldn't understand. Either she was confused, or she had never thought of falling in love with him.

'After all, she still has someone she likes in her heart.

I can stop them from confirming their romantic relationship, but I can't stop her from loving this person.

I don't even know who it is.

Who can it be? Austin?

It can't be Colby. Is it Aron?

The little girl has just had a crush on someone recently. It's very likely that... Forget it. I don't want to know.'

Leon frowned. He looked at Michelle's frightened eyes and smiled gently. "Even if you want them, I don't want to peel and cut my legs. Michelle, why do you, a girl, want to peel my skin? It's so frightening."

"Huh?" Michelle herself was also stunned. "I don't know. Why do I think of such a terrible thing? Oh, I remember that Nini once encountered a case of dismembering corpse. I heard from Nini that the corpse had been chopped into pieces..."

"..... Well, stop it." Leon touched his forehead slightly. He knew it must have something to do with his sister.

Other girls were all cute. They would say it was painful when they were hurt, and then throw themselves into their brother's arms when they encountered something frightening. However, his sister was totally different. She never did like other girls. Moreover, when something

There were a lot of female electronic sports player, but few of them could be so professional.

After a competition, Michelle became famous.

Leon kept watching the live broadcast until Michelle left the playing field.

He turned off the live page. When he was about to stand up, he heard Valerie say, "It's not over yet. She has an interview."

Valerie sat on the sofa with an iPad in her hand.

"When did you come back?" Leon looked at her in confusion.

The two people's eyes met. They were no longer affectionate as they used to be. They were as calm as old friends chatting. Valerie smiled and said, "I just came back and saw you watching the competition of Michelle, so I didn't disturb you. The interview has begun. Do you want to watch it together? "

Valerie turned the screen to him, and saw Michelle's smiling face and a microphone in front of her.

"Look!" Leon went straight to sit down.

The two sat on the sofa, less than a fist apart.

Valerie glanced at the handsome side face of Leon and smelled a faint fragrance. An imperceptible complacency appeared at the corners of his mouth.

Michelle had been taken photos by her parents since she was a child. She was very natural and smiled happily in front of the camera, and anyone who saw her would be softened by her.

Leon's eyes were soft, as if Michelle was smiling at him.

As long as Michelle smiled, he could not help raising his lips into a beautiful arc.

From the corner of Valerie's eye, she couldn't move her eyes away from Leon's face at the beginning. Now she saw the gentle smile on his face, and the same affectionate expression as when he looked at her before. She was finally sure of one thing.

It was not as simple as regarded Michelle as his friend. Obviously, Leon liked her.

Valerie just had a little doubt before, but now she was sure, which made her feel very uneasy.

He had been looking for her, but now he fell in love with another woman, a young girl.

Looking at Michelle who was receiving the interview, Valerie felt disgusted.

The host said, "We have finished talking about the competition. Let's have something else."

Michelle said, "Okay, but hurry up. I'm going to call Leon to tell him the good news."

The host asked, "Doesn't Leon watch the live broadcast of the competition?"

Michelle answered, "Don't let him watch. I'm afraid he will scold me of being rude."

The host smiled and said, "Okay, we have a question that we are very curious about. No one has known that you are a girl all the time because you

"Isn't there something important between you and my cousin? It took some time to watch the live broadcast of the competition just now. Go ahead with your work. I'll keep an eye on it for you."

She shook the tablet in her hand and spoke unhurriedly, which indeed gave people a sense of security and reliability.

Leon nodded and smiled, "Okay, thank you."

"You're welcome. We are friends. I should thank you for letting my cousin come to me. I thought I would be alone for the rest of my life, with no family around me." Valerie smiled.

Leon felt guilty again.

If it weren't for him, Valerie wouldn't have been left alone and helpless.

"Sorry, I will try my best to make it up to you. You can go back to the C Island. I can give you better compensation there." Leon looked at her and said.

"I want to stay in the Lexingport City with my cousin. I will consider going back when he got married." Valerie smiled and continued, "And you don't have to say sorry all the time. Things have passed. Go ahead with your work. I'll send you the video as soon as it's out."

"Okay." Leon was grateful to her kindness.

After he left, the smile on Valerie's face faded away.

She quickly found the interview video of Michelle, and sent it to a professional editor, asking him to redo it according to her wishes.

She would only let Leon see what she wanted him to see.

Love Should Be Fought For By Oneself

Leon's birthday was coming.

When Wynn and Bryant were discussing about the birthday party, Leon happened to see them. Leon said casually, "No need to prepare. I won't celebrate with you. It's boring."

"No need to prepare?" Bryant hesitated, "Are you afraid that we will run it simple and shabby? That's right. It's not in the C Island. It's simple and shabby."

Wynn rolled his eyes at him. "Are you listening carefully? He said he didn't want to celebrate it with us, but he didn't say he won't celebrate it. He meant he wanted to celebrate alone with Michelle."

"Do you want to do something on your birthday?" Looking at Leon, Wynn giggled, which sounded like a bit annoying. But Leon had to admit that Wynn had read his mind.

"I just want her to help me realize a birthday wish." In the sunlight, the amber like eyes became bright. With one hand in his trouser pocket, Leon leisurely looked at the white clouds in the sky. He thought that Michelle must be softer than the clouds in the sky.

Wynn clicked his tongue and cursed, "You're as cunning as an old fox. Do you want to lie to her to do something with you?"

"Ahe

ou back after the birthday of Leon the day after tomorrow."

Hearing this, Valerie's back froze. Tears welled up in her eyes again. "Bryant, I won't go back. I want to stay with you in the Lexingport City. I can't let you have no relatives in the Lexingport City. You don't know how much I miss my family and how much I want to have a family in the past few years when I left the C Island."

Her words were full of sincerity. "I won't let you stay in the Lexingport City alone. Although you have two good friends, Leon and Wynn, and you will make other friends in the future, it is different. No one can compare with family. Even if I have to go back, at least I have to wait for the day you got married and have your own home."

Her words touched Bryant's heart.

He was not valued or cared by his family. As his cousin, Valerie had always treated him well.

Even if he knew the real purpose of Valerie's unwillingness to return to the C Island, he would still be moved by her words.

He decided to turn a blind eye to it and let her fight for it.

Everything needed to be fought for by oneself, and love was no exception.

At Leon's request, his birthday party was cancelled.

But Valerie didn't want them to celebrate their birthday alone. According to Wynn, something would happen on their birthday. If she didn't take any action, it would be too late.

She went to her cousin's company to look for someone.

Bryant had set up a venture capital company in the Lexington City, which was called the Feng Group. The office building was located around the HD Square, which was the property of the Time Group and not far from the headquarters of the Time Group.

Sometimes, John would come to visit Leon and have a chat with him. Moreover, Leon's birthday was approaching. Nina, who was far away here and was in the C Island, had been talking about her brother's birthday. She asked John to celebrate her brother's birthday with him.

Leon meant that he wouldn't celebrate it with them and they didn't have to take so much effort.

Before he could say who he was going to celebrate it with, John had already guessed it.

"The feeling for Michelle..." John paused at the right time. The two of them were smart. He would understand what John meant.

Leon smiled faintly. "She and I..."

A knock on the door interrupted him.

John cast a glance

ht, 'No, I couldn't let it happen.'

After Leon hang up the phone, Valerie stood up gracefully and said, "I have something else to do. I'm leaving now."

After walking out of the office building, Valerie headed for the HD Square. After entering a men's clothing store, she began to consider it in the tie area.

The saleslady warmly introduced the new autumn and winter clothes. While listening, Valerie looked at another tie and naturally stretched out her slender hand.

Before she touched the corner of the tie, a small white hand grabbed it first.

Someone also took a fancy to this tie.

Valerie turned her head and saw a girl shorter than her. The girl looked like an immature high school student, and beside her stood two tall girls. One was dressed simply, and the other was dressed in famous brands.

The girl with a tie was asking for their opinions. "What do you think of this one? Will he like it?"

Valerie thought that since the girl was going to give it to someone, she wouldn't snatch her love.

When she was about to turn around and leave, she heard one of the girls say, "You have a good taste, Michelle. This one is good."

Valerie stopped and turned to look at the girl.

'Is she Michelle?'

Looking at the tie in Michelle's hand, Lydia also thought it was suitable for Leon. "If you pick it up again, you will be dazzled. It's the one you liked at first sight. That's it."

"That's right. You seem to like Leon at first sight, don't you?" Huan teased her with a smile, "All right, all right. Go to pay the bill. After buying, we have to buy other things. The venue has not been decorated yet."

"Yes." Lydia said, "It takes time to buy things and decorate the site. We can't wander around. If we meet with Leon now, our plan will be ruined."

Michelle quickly nodded, "Yes, yes, Leon's office seems to be nearby."

With her eyes wide open, Huan held Michelle's hand and said, "Hurry up. Pay the bill and leave."

The three of them went to the counter.

"Sorry to bother you." Valerie stopped them.

Michelle and the other two stopped and looked back at her.

'Tie, Leon...' Valerie was sure that the girl in front of her was Michelle she heard from others. Michelle had bangs on her head and a baby face. She wasn't pretty, but was a little good-looking or cute when she smiled.

She had thought that Michelle was a beautiful woman

r.

Michelle, who were putting vases on the table, saw Lydia came over with the things and ran over excitedly. "I'm coming. I'll carry them."

Michelle grabbed the bag from Lydia's hand. She lifted it up with both hands, turned around and left.

Huan was speechless.

Because of Michelle's short stature, the big bag in front of her blocked her sight. Walking like a chubby little penguin, she seemed to walk with a little difficulty from the back. Huan sat down a little relaxed.

'I am not a delicate woman.'

Michelle put down the things in the bag, and as soon as she opened the bag, she walked out one by one, pulling out small bags of balloon with her little hands. "Let's blow the balloon and tie them up."

"Blow it with our mouth? Our mouth will be swollen." Huan asked and touched her mouth.

"Puff!" Lydia smiled ruthlessly, "Then you can blow it with your mouth. We have tools."

"It's good to have a tool." Huan stood up and walked over. When she saw the emerald diamond bracelet on Michelle's wrist, she grabbed Michelle's hand in surprise. "When did you make a fortune secretly, Michelle? It's not an ordinary fortune."

Chapter: 720

A Bracelet Worth Eight Figures

Michelle answered in confusion. "I didn't make a fortune."

"It's a bracelet. What's wrong?" Lydia took a look at the bracelet and said to Michelle, "Is this the one that Leon gave you?"

"Well, it's my birthday gift from Leon. Is it beautiful?" Michelle turned her wrist and asked them with a smile.

"It looks good." Lydia didn't know much about jewelry and only knew that it looked very designed.

Huan's eyes widened. "Are you sure it's from Leon? Didn't you say that Leon didn't have money? It must be from your cousin in law. Do you remember it wrong?"

Although she didn't know much about jewelry, she could tell whether it was true or not with more experience.

The emerald and white diamond were worth at least ten million.

She swallowed and was sure that even her mother couldn't afford such a bracelet.

Lydia saw the word "expensive" from Huan's expression. Huan was a lady from a rich family, so she wouldn't misjudge it. So she asked weakly, "How expensive is it?"

"This price" Huan stretched out her hand and signed "eight."

Michelle looked at her "eight" and said, "Wow, Huan, you are so awesome. Only more than 800 dollars."

"Eight hundred dollars? What? Eight figures!" Huan retorted loudly.

Michelle was stunned by her roar.

Lydia's legs became weak and her voice trembled for two times. "How, how much? Eight figures? Oh my God!"

"Wait, we don't know what's on the first floor of your house." Huan raised her head and shouted at her.

"The study. The valuable ones on the first floor are in the study." Michelle's voice came from upstairs and was not clear.

Lydia pricked up her ears to catch the key words, "Study, go to the study to have a look."

The three of them checked everything at home and found nothing lost before sitting down to have dinner.

When Valerie returned to the hotel, she happened to meet Bryant who just came out of the hotel. He asked anxiously, "Why didn't you answer my phone? I'm going out to look for you."

"I'm fine. The phone screen was broken, so I couldn't answer it," said Valerie with a smile.

Bryant breathed a sigh of relief. "That's good. Your phone was broken, we can buy it again. Go upstairs and we are waiting for you to eat."

When the two entered the elevator, Bryant seemed to smell the fragrance of the soup.

He thought he had smelled it wrong. When he walked out of the elevator, he stood behind Valerie and smelled the soup, which was thicker than before.

"Valerie, did you just have dinner with your friend?"

"No. I wandered around alone for a while." Valerie said, while walking.

Bryant glanced at her and didn't debunk her lie.

When Valerie went back to change her clothes, she found a stain on the back of her dress.
