

Deep affection honey come back to me

Chapter: 741

Uncle Leon And Aunt Michelle Seem To Be Kissing

The parents who picked up the children left one after another. The gate of the kindergarten was no longer crowded, and Michelle could finally move over.

A woman in her fifties was standing next to Leon. When she heard Don's words, she smiled and looked at Michelle, who was walking to Leon's side. "Little boy, isn't your aunt here? I just saw them standing together and talking. They are all here to pick you up."

Hearing this, Michelle suddenly raised her head and looked at the old woman. She pointed at herself in a daze and asked, "Me, me?"

She chuckled to herself and quickly denied, "No, no. Madam, you misunderstood. He is my friend."

Don turned around and saw Michelle. He gave up his uncle's legs and hugged her instead. He said in a sweet voice, "Aunt Michelle, are you here to pick up my brother and me from school?"

"Yes, Don, you like to hold people's legs." Michelle rubbed Don's head and Don stretched out his hands to ask for a hug.

Michelle bent down to hug him, but Leon held him in his arms first. "Let me hug you. Michelle's too young to hold you."

"Okay." Don pouted.

At this time, Van and Strong also went out of the kindergarten. Strong happily called his grandma and ran to the woman who had just spoken.

Michelle held Van's hand.

argue with his brother. The more they argued, the less result they would get. So Van simply obeyed him.

Don was suddenly enlightened. He opened his mouth and said softly, "Oh, I see."

The two brothers' voices were neither loud nor low, and the people in front of them heard it clearly. Michelle was so shy that she lowered her head more and more, wishing to bury it in her knees.

With a smile at the corners of his mouth, Leon said, "Van and Don are not ordinary children. Sometimes they know more than their peers."

Not only did he not scold the children for talking nonsense, but Michelle even sensed his hint of agreement.

Soon, Michelle got rid of this unrealistic fantasy in her mind. 'I thought wrong.

Leon should have thought that children said what they liked, so he didn't care about it at all. That is why he is so calm.'

On the contrary, she was still blushing at night. Lying in bed, she rolled over and thought about the scene of fastening the seat belt in the car, so close.

On the second day, Michelle went to pick up Van and Don from school again. She looked around for the figure of Leon, but she couldn't find him anywhere. She lowered her head in disappointment.

"Michelle, are you looking for me?" A clear and pleasant voice came from above.

Michelle raised her head and a handsome face appeared in her eyes. His smile was like a warm breeze, blowing away the disappointment on her face.

"Leon." Michelle called him with a smile.

When the kindergarten was over again, the children came out one after another. From afar, Michelle heard Strong shouting, "Boss, your uncle and aunt!"

Don said, "Aunt Michelle and Uncle Leon are not married yet. They are just in a relationship."

"When will they get married?" The voice of the Little Tail was soft and sweet, and her speed was slow. She held the schoolbag belt with her two little hands.

"I don't know. I'll ask." Don walked forward happily.

"Strong, Little Tail, we're leaving now. Bye." Van immediately followed and said to his younger brother, "Are you really going to ask Uncle Leon?"

"Yes, you said that if we didn't understand, we could ask. Don't you want aunt?" Don put his arm around his brother's shoulder and walked cool and arrogant.

"The book says let nature take its course." Van always looked like little adult.

Don didn't read much and asked in confusion, "What do you mean?"

"Nothing. I want aunt too." Van chuckled and said.

promised Caroline that she would arrive at half past five on time and work overtime.

It was already half an hour late, and Caroline personally called her. It seemed that she was going to be scolded.

Taking a deep breath, Michelle answered the phone with a flattering smile, "Hello, Caroline, I..."

"Michelle, where are you?" Caroline's voice sounded calm, but Michelle didn't know if it was the calm before Caroline lost her temper.

'No matter what, admit my mistake first.' Michelle said, "Caroline, I'm sorry. I'm still in the car. I might arrive at the studio a little late."

"You don't have to go back to the studio. I have sent you the location on WeChat. There is a work task here. Can you come here in twenty minutes? Call me back on WeChat." Caroline was always straightforward, so she hung up after finishing her words.

Michelle opened the location information and could drive there in ten minutes.

She sent a message to Caroline and looked into the iron gate of Shi family's house, but didn't see Leon came out. She was late today, so she had to get off the car and hail a taxi at the intersection.

Michelle left in a hurry and forgot to tell Leon.

Endless Fate

As soon as Michelle got to the destination, she saw Caroline's assistant, Gray Pei, waving at her at the roadside. She quickly trotted over and shouted, "Assistant Gray."

Gray took a look at his watch and said, "The time is just right. Let's go there quickly and finish the shooting early."

"Okay." Michelle quickly followed him and asked, "What are we shooting for? Oh, I forget that Caroline is shooting tonight to shoot the cover of a magazine for a popular female star recently."

"Yes, but it's almost finished. After shooting for the popular star, we need to shoot a female model, who is Caroline's friend. She promised you to take a set of photos for her." Gray said in an envious tone, "Caroline is helping you. You should seize the opportunity."

Michelle had been working in Caroline's studio for half a month since she came back from abroad. Even if she had the experience of cooperating with popular stars abroad, she was only a newcomer at home. She hadn't established any connections, let alone fame.

For the past half a month, she had been doing some basic work. Every tim g the phone call, Victor ran out in a hurry. He leaned over the window and looked inside. There were only two sets of vest and shirt on Tim.

"Master Tim, you really don't have a coat with you." He opened the door and got in.

Tim snorted.

"No, I'm not afraid of you being cold. I'm teaching you how to get close to women. It's very cold in the evening wind. Put your coat on Michelle when you see her. Then you will have an excuse for the next meeting." Victor seemed to be good at it.

"Go on," said Tim.

"That's why I asked you to take your coat with you. You borrow it to her this time, and the next time she gives it back to you. And you try to forget something in her place and then continue to meet her. This is called endless fate. It won't be long before you can be in love."

Victor raised his hand and let the two thumbs touch, like a couple kissing, raising his eyebrows and smiling.

Tim nodded in agreement, "Get off the car."

"What... What do you want to do?" Victor was confused.

"Go and buy a coat. Hurry up," said Tim, throwing his wallet on Victor's laps.

The shooting was finished at nine o'clock in the evening. After the model left, only the staff of their studio were tidying up the equipment in the studio.

Sitting on the wooden box nearby as a prop, Michelle took a deep breath. Finally, she noticed her belly that had been protesting for a long time. She could only drink water to fill her hunger.

"Haven't you had dinner yet?" Caroline walked over and sat down with her together. The square wooden box couldn't accommodate two people, so she only sat with half of her buttock. "Thank you. I think you are in a good state, and the shoot you produced is also okay."

Hearing the praise, Michelle immediately came back to life. She opened her bright eyes and said, "Thank you, Caroline!"

"I find that you are good at figure photographing. But as for the scenery," Caroline cast a sidelong glance at her, and Michelle lowered her head shyly and said in a low voice, "I have learnt it systematically. I will take a set of scenery every weekend."

Caroline touched Michelle's head and said with a smile, "Well, if you are hungry, go home for dinner. What's more, your phone kept ringing when you were shooting just now. I thought it was a strange number, so I didn't care. It rung several times, but stopped later."

ight! Because the camera was broken last time, I didn't take many photos. Only one was good. You really like my photos." Michelle turned to look at him excitedly.

"I'm your fan."

"Thank you." Michelle said with a smile.

The faint light shone on Michelle's face, and her eyes were like the thin light of the moon at night, flawless, making Tim want to own her.

Tim became her fan. The two of them seemed to have a common topic, so Michelle was not so afraid of him anymore.

After dinner, Tim drove her to the gate of the community, got out of the car and handed her the new coat. He ordered, "Put it on. It's cold at night."

Michelle looked at him and said honestly, "I'm not cold."

"Put it on."

"But I'm really not cold. Besides, I'm already at the door of my home. Thank you." Michelle pressed her lips and smiled at him.

Seeing that she didn't listen to him, Tim had to scold her in a cold voice, "Just wear it if I ask you to. Don't talk so much nonsense." Then he put the coat on her.

During the meal, Michelle had changed her attitude towards him, who looked fierce before. But now, she shrank her neck again in fear.

She had never seen such a fierce person before.

Her parents had never scolded her.

Leon would not scold her.

With grievance in her heart, Michelle didn't dare to say anything. She quickly put on the coat, and then heard Tim say, "Remember to wash it after you wear it. You can wash it with your hands, and then give it back to me in person."

"What?" Michelle didn't put one hand into the sleeve, but only a small part of it. When she heard that she needed to wash the coat by herself, she quickly took out the other hand.

She hated washing clothes the most.

'It is better not to wear it.'

Seeing that she was about to take off the coat, Tim immediately reached out and pressed her shoulders with a little strength. "Don't take it off! If you want to take it off, just take them all off, or you can put it on."

Her weak shoulder seemed to bear a thousand pounds. Michelle gritted her teeth and dared not to breathe heavily. She silently reached out her hand and said with grievance, "I have put it on."

Hearing her aggrieved voice, Tim became irritable. 'I didn't bully her, but why was it so troublesome to let her wear the coat?'

"Okay, go home."

Michelle was relieved. As soon as he removed his hand from her shoulder, she ran away quickly.

"Master Tim, you scared her away." Victor wanted to laugh, helpless.

"Why is this little girl so timid?" asked Tim impatiently.

lips and interrupted Michelle with a "hush" sound. Her mother pointed at the chessboard, indicating not to disturb them.

Ten minutes later, Adams had almost win and praised Leon excitedly, "You are really good at playing chess. Who taught you? You must be taught by a teacher at home, right?"

"My father taught me." Leon put away his chess pieces with a smile.

Adams was a little surprised. It was rare for Leon's father to spare time to teach his son to play chess with such strong background.

"Leon, it's too late. It's not safe to drive home. You can stay at our house for one night. I've cleaned up the guest room and changed a new bed sheet and quilt set. I wonder if you can get used to it." Elaine said.

They all knew Leon's identity, so Elaine was worried about whether he could get used to sleeping here.

"Thank you, Mrs. Elaine. I'm not that fragile. You can treat me as a child from an ordinary family." Leon behaved modestly and politely, but still concentrated on putting away the chess pieces.

Michelle also went to help him put away the chess pieces and said happily, "Yes, Leon is very good."

Adams and Elaine nodded, but they still kept it in mind to take care of him well.

When Leon walked out of the study, he saw a brand new men's coat on the sofa. The tag hadn't been taken off yet, which was not in line with Adams's age.

Leon took a few more looks.

Elaine walked over and picked up her coat, "Michelle, don't throw others' things about. Put it on a hanger. Will you return it to them some other day?"

Others? Leon's eyes darkened and then she took a close look at the coat.

"Yes, I will, but I have to wash it clean and dry it before I return it." Michelle yawned since she was quite sleepy. "Put it on the sofa. I will wash it tomorrow, mom."

"I'll hang it up, or it will wrinkle." Elaine looked through the clothes and saw the tag on it. "It's new. You can only wear it after washing it, but you can't machine wash it. I'll take it to the dry cleaning shop tomorrow."

Michelle was about to nod, but the angry look of Tim suddenly flashed in her mind. She shivered all over and was not sleepy at all. She walked over and held the coat in her arms.

"You don't have to dry clean it. I'll wash it by hand."

"Hand washing?" Elaine was shocked. "Don't you hate washing clothes the most?"

"Yes." Michelle pouted. But she had no choice. She didn't dare to disobey Tim.

Unfortunately, others didn't know about it, so Elaine got the wrong idea in an instant. "Okay, okay."

lean against the wall and put her hands on the wall, as if he was holding her in his arms.

'Why is he so close to me?'

She was almost unable to breathe, and her heart was beating violently.

Michelle bit her lips and asked him what his question was with her eyes.

"I just want to know why you have to work overtime in the past week?" Leon sized her up indifferently.

If he hadn't come to her house today, he wouldn't have known that she didn't go home but went to work every time he sent him home.

Because she asked for leave every afternoon to pick up Van and Don from school.

Michelle was too nervous to speak.

"Dear, answer me honestly." Leon stretched out a hand to gently touch her hair at her temples. Then he pushed it behind her ears, revealing her white and red face.

When her fingers touched her ears and temples, she felt like being electrified. Her mouth seemed to be numb, so she could only nod slightly.

"You ask for leave to pick up Van and Don from school every afternoon. Are you doing so to see me?" Leon asked tenderly.

His tone rose a little with a bit of the nasal voice, which made Michelle let her guard down.

In fact, Leon wasn't sure that Michelle wanted to see him. He was sure that he wanted to see Michelle. Just like what he had inadvertently heard someone saying that they were like a family of four, he had dreamed of such a scene being realized.

The Shi family would send someone to pick up their children from school, but he took the responsibility.

The corridor was so quiet that they could hear each other's heartbeat. However, there was still a distance between them, and their hearts were not so clear through their thick clothes. They could cover it up with gasp.

Only they could feel their own feelings.

Michelle's heart was beating fast and she was nervous.

If she went on like this, she would be found. She turned around and wanted to slip into the room. But Leon didn't give her a chance to escape. He put his hands on her shoulders and his forehead against hers.

Michelle's heart finally jumped to her throat. With her eyes wide open, she raised her hand to cover her mouth.

Oh my god!

Her heart was about to jump out. Her heart did not belong to her anymore.

She couldn't control herself.

She was fascinated by Leon head over heels.

Leon knew why Michelle was covering her mouth with her hand. He couldn't help smiling, and he breathed on her flushed face.

"Michelle, your heart is beating fast. You like romantic relationship lasts seven years."

"Seven years?" Huan was shocked. She thought Michelle was talking about friend at the same age.

"That's to say, they have been together since college. They broke up, got back together, and then broke up again."

"Yes." said Michelle depressingly.

She felt so depressed.

"And now he is the same as Colby?" Huan asked.

"No, he is not that serious." Michelle pursed her lips and said in a depressed voice, "I found that he has changed his attitude towards me recently. He is not simple at all. He even flirted with me tonight and asked me if I like him."

"Well, be careful." Huan's voice became serious, "I can't imagine how deep their relationship has been in the past seven years. I guess your friend is in the same situation as Colby. He flirts with other girls but can't show his true feelings. What's more, he even flirts you now. "

"Michelle, why do you always meet a bad man? You met Leon, but now your friend." Huan began to worry, "No, I have to look for some good boys for you and introduce them to you."

Life always went up and down like this, and Michelle's mood fell to the bottom. In the face of Huan's concern, she only answered weakly, "Okay."

Then she hung up the phone.

Michelle fell on the bed again. She moved so fast that the two petals in her pocket fell out.

Get Sick

In the middle of the night, it began to rain heavily in the Lexington City, rustling the leaves of the trees.

It rained in late autumn, and the temperature dropped sharply. When Michelle got up and lifted the quilt, she sneezed all of a sudden. Her nose was still a little stuffy, and she couldn't breathe smoothly.

Last night, she forgot to close the window. The wind and rain came in one after another. The floor beside the window was wet, affecting the champagne roses in the vase. Two petals of the roses were wet with water drops, and a few petals were left on the table.

Michelle felt sorry for the flowers. She hurried to close the window, moved the flowers to a clean place, and went to the bathroom to get a mop to mop the floor.

Elaine had prepared breakfast and knocked on the door of the guest room. The door opened in less than a second. Leon had already tidied up and said with a smile, "Good morning, Mrs. Elaine."

"Good morning. Let's go downstairs to have breakfast."

Elaine turned around and knocked on her daughter's door again. Leon stopped and looked sideways at the wooden board hanging on the door. It was still a crooked words-Michelle's room.

After knocking a few times, no one came to open the door. Elaine had he had taken a photo of him.

When she was about to think about it, Leon interrupted her.

"Thank you for taking Michelle to the hospital."

"Oh, you're welcome. Michelle is my junior sister and also a member of my studio. It's my duty."
Caroline came to her senses and looked at the man standing by the bed.

Leon smiled at her and thanked her again.

Since someone came to take care of Michelle, Caroline left and told him what the doctor had told her before she left.

The door of the ward was gently closed, leaving only the two of them.

Michelle was still in a coma. The infusion tube reached into the bed, and the ward was filled with the smell of disinfectant. It was raining outside the window.

Leon came here in a hurry. Without an umbrella, he got off the car and ran to the inpatient building. He got wet in the rain and his hair was stained with it.

He wanted to touch Michelle's forehead, but when he was about to touch it, he withdrew his hand. His hand was cold since it was wet in the rain.

He dragged a chair to sit on the edge of the bed. As soon as he sat down, he saw the screen of her mobile phone lit up and a message popped out from the top of her mobile phone screen.

"Tim requests to friend you online!"

He Is So Important To Michelle

Leon took the phone. On the wallpaper, there was a glass cup on the white table, and several strawberries were scattered slowly. The light streamed on it through a few leaves, which made the table checker in shade.

The hairy pink rabbit pendant on the phone was quite cute. Just like three years ago, he input eight for four times, but it was wrong.

He entered Michelle's birthday and it was wrong again.

Leon frowned slightly and looked at Michelle who was still sleeping. Her lips were dry and pale. He said, "How can you abandon your lucky number? What else is more important than good luck?"

He narcissistically thought about maybe it was his birthday, so he input it. When he input the fourth number, he paused.

He thought he was too narcissistic.

Swiftly he put the useless thought from him and input the last number.

The phone was unlocked.

Leon's eyes were filled with surprise. Not only did he unlock Michelle's phone with his birthday, but also because of the desktop wallpaper. There was him holding a big black umbrella next to a smiling girl.

It was a photo taken secret a completely white room, and she noticed the smell of disinfectant. She felt hurt on the back of her hand, so she moved uncomfortably.

"Don't move, or you'll bleed. Be good."

Leon's gentle voice was like the sun rising from the clouds, and Michelle's heart were filled with warmth. She turned her head and felt sweet when she saw Leon. She wanted to call him dear, but she noticed Valerie.

After the fever, her throat was dry. She tried but could not make a sound.

When Michelle and Valerie looked at each other, they were both stunned for a moment. Later, Valerie smiled at her.

Valerie couldn't figure out what Leon was doing, but she could see through Michelle. When they looked at each other, she noticed Michelle was kind of cowardly.

She was pleased with that, so she asked considerately, "Do you want water? I'll get you a cup of hot water."

Valerie turned around to get some water. She pricked up her ears and kept glimpsing at them.

She saw that Michelle withdrew her hand and pressed it by herself. The white stick on the back of her hand was stained with a little blood.

Chapter: 750

Cover Her Eyes And Don t Let Her See Any Bloody Scene

Michelle took the water from Valerie. The temperature was just right. She moistened her lips and throat and sincerely thanked Valerie.

Michelle lifted the quilt and was about to get out of bed, but she was pressed by a pair of powerful hands. When she raised her eyes, she saw a gentle and powerful eyes. His amber like pupils reflected her little figure.

"Leon? I'm fine. I have to go back to work." In fact, she was still a little dizzy. But when she saw Leon was considerate and gentle to her, she would think of Colby. Thinking of what Huan had said, she felt a little suffocated.

She felt sorry for Leon, but she also wanted to protect her pure love.

Leon pressed her against the bed and gently tucked her hair behind her ear. "Caroline sent you to the hospital. She knew you were sick, so don't worry. You can go to work when you get better."

"Caroline sent me here." 'Then I couldn't find an excuse to go back to work.

If I didn't go to work, I would be poor.'

Thinking of these, Michelle curled her lips and looked discontented.

"Well, go to work when you get better." Leon touched her forehead to comfort her. "Does your head hurt? Are you hungry?"

Michelle shook her head, "No, I'm not hungry. I want to go home and sleep. I have to go to Caroline's studio to get my bag. The key is in my bag."

sed off by her. She doesn't answer the challenge every time." Victor said with righteous indignation.

Tim glanced at him coldly, "What a loser!" Victor had challenged her for three years later.

Pretending not to hear what he said, Victor turned around and picked up the phone which was still playing the movie. He pointed at the screen and asked, "Master Tim, do you want to watch it?"

Tim didn't respond. 'Damn it. I don't want to watch a movie with a man.'

"I'm watching half of the movie. Do you want me to tell you about the movie, Master Tim?" Without waiting for Tim's answer, he continued, "There is a man who lives the same life every day, but he doesn't know it is fake..."

"Fake?" Tim glanced at him, still not interested.

Victor answered, "Yes, it's all fake. His neighbors, friends and wives are all fake. They are all actors and actresses, hidden cameras and directors, but he doesn't know it."

Victor shrugged his shoulders and said, "I feel bored. It's not interesting, but I haven't finished watching it. Do you want me to tell you from the beginning after watching it?"

"Okay," said Tim, which confused Victor.

'Why does Master Tim suddenly become interested? Is it because that I am a good storyteller?

It must be.' With a proud look on his face, Victor watched the movie more intently.
