Chapter: 841

Who Let You Ask Me

Thinking of the man lying in the BL Alley three years ago, the pungent smell of blood all over his body, the solidified blood covered half of his face, and the scene of drawing a group of fierce people away, Michelle still had a lingering fear.

In the past more than 20 years, she had saved a lot of small animals and then been bitten. She had helped the old women who fell down to the ground, but she was blackmailed. She had helped her classmates cheat and was punished after it was found by the teachers. All of these were not as dangerous as the time when she saved Tim at that night.

It took her a long time to calm down.

She didn't know if the person she had saved was a good guy or a bad buy, and she had been nervous for a long time.

Although saving a life was a good thing, she thought if she saved an unpardonable villain, she would be doomed.

She thought worriedly, 'What if the bad guy want to kill me to keep my mouth shut forever?' Just like the little animal she had saved, it would give her a bite first when it woke up, and like the old woman who blackmailed her. What she feared most was to be punished.

She thought worriedly if she would be killed and even her parents would be implicated.

Therefore, during that period of time, she was in a dilemma.

y were not face to face, she could lie.

Austin replied, "Oh."

"Why did he feel a little disappointed?" Murmured Michelle in a low voice. Thinking of the long message she prepared to send to Lydia yesterday, she breathed a sigh of relief. "Oh, it's his cousin. Fortunately, I didn't tell Lydia."

Michelle texted, "Oh, I see. Can I ask you one more question? Do you like someone, Austin?"

Austin asked again, "Who let you ask me?"

Michelle typed the word "No one", and the next message popped up.

Austin replied, "Don't tell me again that no one asked you to do that and it's you who wanted to ask me about it. I don't believe it."

"How does Austin know it's someone else who wants to ask about it, not me? I can't say it's Lydia, or it will be embarrassing." Michelle whispered curiously.

Michelle texted, "Well. I have a friend who likes you, so she wants to ask if you have someone you like."

Austin replied, "Please tell your friend that I already have a girlfriend."

Michelle texted, "Then the person you like is your girlfriend?"

After sending this message, Michelle suddenly became a little nervous. She sat up straight, as if waiting for the result of a trial.

The next second, a new dialog box appeared.

There were only three words and a dot.

Austin replied, "I like her."

"Ah!" Michelle was so happy that she screamed. She suddenly stood up and awakened her father.

Adams squinted at his daughter who was a little crazy but smiled happily. He thought it would be okay as long as it was not a bad thing.

He fell asleep again.

Elaine and Tim looked at her curiously.

"Good news. I'll call Lydia." Michelle ran out to make a phone call happily.

Elaine shook her head and smiled, "So happy she is. Are you sleepy, Tim? If you are sleepy, you can go upstairs to sleep in the guest room and the bed has been ready. You don't have to follow us to stay up late on New Year's Eve."

"I like to stay up late on New Year's Eve with you." Perhaps because of the wine, Tim's face was a little red and there was a smile on his face. He looked much gentler and his tone seemed to become gentle.

"I neither celebrated the New Year nor had habit of staying up late on New Year's Eve before. Thank you."

Elaine felt sorry for him. A tinge of pity flashed through her eyes. She smiled kindly and said, "Come to my house often for meal from now on."

"Is that okay?" Tim looked forward to it.

"Of course it's okay. Welcome to come here often." Said Elaine.

The corner of Tim's mouth tightened. After held Michelle's shoulder with both hands and pushed her against the wall.

For a moment, he couldn't control his strength. Michelle frowned in pain, and her back hit the cold wall, causing another burst of pain.

"What are you doing, Tim?" She looked up angrily and saw a pair of angrier eyes.

There was no blazing anger, but like the darkness in the abyss, trying to devour Michelle.

Tim loosened his strength a little, and asked in a cold voice, "Why did you return me the money of the red envelope?"

She was confused, 'Did he break into my room just for this?'

He even pinched her!

Michelle was so angry that her chest heaved. "No. The red envelope you gave me is in my pocket. That's the New Year's red envelope I gave you."

"Don't quibble. I gave you a red envelope of twenty thousand dollars, and then you gave me an electronic red envelope of twenty thousand. In a word, you are not willing to accept my red envelope." Tim said coldly and stared at her with his eyes were as sharp as an eagle.

He called her name with clenched teeth and snapped, "Michelle, you can take the red envelope from Leon, but why can't you take mine! Do you think I didn't give you as much as that from Leon's? I can give you all my money, and my life, okay?"

Crazy Thoughts

His warm breath sprayed over, with a strong smell of alcohol. Michelle subconsciously wanted to escape, but there was a wall behind her, and she could not stepped back. There was also a man wall in front of her, and she was unwilling to approach him.

She stiffened and said firmly in a low voice, "You are different from my Leon. I don't want your life or money."

"What's the difference? Leon likes you and I like you too. I can give you whatever he can. What's the difference?" Tim squeezed her chin with one hand and said coldly.

Michelle's pupils contracted slightly. She just heard from Leon that Tim liked her, but she didn't expect it to be true.

It was a totally different feeling from that when she heard it from others. She was a little shocked.

"Do...do you like me?"

Staring at her eyes for a while, Tim admitted, "Yes, I like you. I have liked you for a long time."

"Why do you like me?" Michelle shrank back and leaned against the wall. She asked as if she had thought of something. "Is it because I saved you?"

Tim kept silence for a moment. Of course, part of the reason was as same as what she said. But most of it was that she gave him feelings of pureness and warmth.

He had been living in a world of complication and ind ackground and his. Leon's parents won't let him marry you, and your parents won't agree either." These words almost squeezed out of Tim's teeth. Grief and cruelty flashed through his eyes.

Michelle was silent.

"Both of your parents are stopping you two from being together. Can't you see that?" Tim continued to tell her the cruel truth.

She knew it

Michelle had already known that their parents were stopping them from being together.

Her parents had already known that she was in love with Leon, so they didn't ask her if she was in a relationship. They didn't acquiesce in it, but pretended that it didn't happen.

Knowing that she was in love with Leon, her father asked Tim if he liked her tonight, as if he was going to make a matchmaker.

But Leon asked Nina to train her all of a sudden, which meant that Leon had encountered some obstacles. It was his parents who prevented them from being together.

As Nina's friends, she would be liked by Leon's parents. But if she was going to be their daughter-in-law, she was not qualified at all.

Michelle raised her eyes and said firmly, "So Leon and I are working hard."

With a sneer, Tim couldn't restrain his lust any more. He held her head in both hands and quickly kissed her.

The sudden kiss made Michelle unable to push him away in time, and his cold lips touched hers'.

She had kissed Leon for many times, and every time she kissed him, her lips would feel limp and numb, and her body would be hot. After a deep kiss, a trace of sweetness would melt in her mouth.

But at this time, she only felt that the coldness spread from her lips to her whole body, and even made her feel a little disgusted.

Her eyes widened open.

Michelle kicked Tim mercilessly and hit him right in the crotch, which was the most vulnerable part of a man.

Tim was stunned. !! Tim's face darkened. Regardless of the pain in his crotch, Tim bit on Michelle's lower lip heavily.

The smell of blood spread in her mouth.

Michelle wanted to give him another kick. Tim, who had been kicked two times in a row, would never be kicked a third time. He grabbed her leg with one hand and left her lips.

"Madman!" Michelle shouted and pushed him hard.

Tim took two steps back and stared at Michelle's lips with his black eyes. Her mouth was broken and bleeding.

It looked like a natural lipstick, which was much moisturizing than those dry lipsticks.

It was really attractive.

hat she could only take the money to make a phone call. There were many people in a long line at the public telephone booth.

They had to wait in line for half an hour, but they could only talk on the phone for two or three minutes, and no one was willing to hang up.

She talked on the phone for several times that if only they could keep calling with each other. If only they didn't hang up or say anything during the call, they could do their own things, and they could respond as long as the other party shouted.

Her husband had promised her at that time, but it hadn't come true.

Because when they had the phone, her husband had married her and they had not been separated for a long time.

Seeing the phone that her daughter and Leon hadn't hung up, Elaine sighed and put Michelle's phone back.

Elaine told this to her husband, and Adams also let out a heavy sigh.

At noon, when Michelle woke up and went downstairs, Elaine asked why she didn't see Tim. She prepared a red envelope for Tim.

Michelle pretended not to hear anything.

She hadn't seen Tim since then. The house next door became quiet. No one came out and went inside during the day and no light was on at night.

Pay A New Year's Visit The Story Of Grandparents

play_arrow

On the first and second days of the New Year, Michelle's family was very busy. Either someone came to visit them, or they were busy to pay a New Year's visit.

Last year, Michelle's grandparents on her mother's side celebrated the New Year at Michelle's home, and this year, they went to Michelle's aunt's house. Therefore, on the second day of the New Year, Michelle went to her aunt's house to pay a New Year's visit, and also paid a New Year's visit to her grandparents.

Coincidentally, Emma went back to her mother's house to celebrate the New Year with her husband, James. It was especially lively when they met.

There were also many pictures hanging on the wall of her aunt's house, in which there was a photo that Michelle's home also had, and it was the one that her grandma's name was cut off.

Holding her grandma's arm, Michelle asked curiously, "Grandma, why is your name cut off in this photo?"

"It's all your grandpa's fault. He said my name wrong." Her grandma patted the back of Michelle's hand and took her to the sofa. It seemed that she didn't want Michelle to see this photo again.

Michelle felt strange. 'How could Grandpa remember my grandma's name wrong?'

Michelle's grandma was a stra age. After almost replying, he finally breathed a sigh of relief. He habitually clicked on the WeChat moments, and the first update startled him.

"Why did Austin go to such a remote place?"

"What?" Hearing Austin's name, Michelle immediately tilted her head and asked, "What's wrong with Austin? When did you add his WeChat account? I've never seen you interact with each other."

"Austin is the heir of the Xu Group. When I met him, I thought he was a good man, so I added his account. What's more, he is your good friend." Then James leaned back leisurely and continued, "As for interaction, Austin seldom updated his moments once a year. Do you expect him to interact with me?"

Michelle thought about it carefully and said, "That's right. What did you say just now? Where did he go?"

"Look for yourself. He seems to be going to his girlfriend's home. Do you know who his girlfriend is?"
Then James turned the phone screen to her and said.

Michelle took a closer look and saw the words "My girlfriend's home is beautiful with picturesque scenery." and there was a GPS below.

She was stunned.

"Oh, I see. Austin told me that he wanted to send her the gift. It turned out that he sent himself there."

On A Business Trip To C Island

play_arrow

After dinner, Michelle's aunt asked them to stay for two more days.

Emma was also there. Emma and Michelle had been busy with their own career, and rarely had the chance to talk with each other. If they stayed, they could lie in the same bed at night and talk freely as long as they like.

Michelle also wanted to stay, but she had to go home to pack her things because she had to go on a business trip tomorrow.

"It's the third day of the new year tomorrow. You are going on a business trip?" James clicked his tongue, "Why is your company so inhumane? Where are you going on a business trip? Stay with my wife. I'll drive you there tomorrow. "

Emma held her hand and asked her to stay, "Yes, we'll drive you there tomorrow."

It suddenly occurred to Michelle that she didn't know where she would go on a business trip.

"..... Cara will pick me up at my home tomorrow morning. I forgot to ask about the destination of the business trip. "

"....."

The others were speechless.

Michelle was also speechless. She smiled awkwardly and said, "It was supposed to be my colleague to go on the business trip with Cara, but he had something emergent to deal with, so I had to go."

"Are you forced to do it?" Asked James.

age to Leon, but she wanted to give him a surprise, so she had to tell him that it was not convenient to talk with him on phone.

After all, it was a long journey. No matter how excited Michelle was, she would feel sleepy. In the end, she fell asleep in a daze.

When she opened her eyes again, she saw the morning of C Island. Wisps of sunshine sprinkled into the bedroom. It was another sunny day.

The original shooting schedule was postponed, because Selena was going to attend a banquet held by the royal family of C Island, which was very grand.

The exclusive stylist of Selena was selecting suitable dresses for her, while Selena was on the phone, hoping to get two more invitations.

Michelle stood there nervously and expectantly. She looked at Selena's mouth, but couldn't hear what she was saying. She only knew that she had been talking on the phone for nearly ten minutes.

She wanted to go to the banquet because she could only see Leon there.

She didn't know that it was extremely difficult for ordinary people to see Leon until she arrived at C Island. For example, even the famous Selena had only seen Leon for two times.

She looked at him from a distance for two times and couldn't even greet him.

In less than half an hour, Selena got another two invitations.

"Well, I'll take you two to see the prince of our C Island." Selena gave the invitations to Caroline and paused for a moment in her palm. "You can't take photos. You can't let others know that you are photographers. The banquet is guarded by a lot of soldiers."

"Got it. Thank you, Selena." Caroline took the invitation with a smile and handed it to Michelle.

Taking a glance at Michelle, Selena asked Caroline, "Have you and your assistant brought any evening dresses? You don't, right? I've just been the brand ambassador of a fashion brand. They've brought me a few new dresses. You can go and pick out the dress, take it as the New Year's gifts for you. "

Caroline and Selena were old friends, and they were very close to each other. Michelle said politely as she was happy, "Thank you! Thank you! "

Girls' eyes were always bright and sincere.

When she smiled, her eyes curved, revealing her cute canine teeth.

"Oh, what a lovely child." Selena couldn't help pinching Michelle's face. Her soft face m ine sighed, "Only young and hot-blooded people like you can make such a sudden appearance in your lover's city to surprise him. But I hope the surprise won't frighten him."

Michelle hesitated and asked, "Why do you say so?"

"Oh, nothing. It's good that you don't understand. " Caroline turned to look at Selena and asked, "Selena, is there many people whose surname is Lu in C Island?"

Michelle was stunned.

"Which Lu? How to spell it? If it is L-U," said Selena with a cautiously and respectfully. " Not many people's surname is Lu. "

In C Island, people whose surname was Lu were all related to the royal family.

Michelle wanted to stop Caroline, but Caroline immediately answered, "It's L-U, Leon Lu."

Hearing the answer, Selena was shocked.

Then Caroline continued, "He has a sister named Nina Lu."

Selena wasn't sure about it at first, but now she was sure.

Selena was too shocked to say a word.

Her red lips were slightly open, and her eyes were dull for a moment.

'Leon Lu and Nina Lu? Aren't they the princes and princesses of our C Island?'

In the end, Michelle failed to stop her. She secretly felt that things might not be good, but in her heart, she hoped that others would know that she was Leon's girlfriend, and that they could approve of their relationship.

In fact, she also had a desire to be possessive, but she restrained herself before she won Leon's love. After being loved, she wanted to gain more.

But when she saw the shock and disbelief on Selena's face, she was afraid that it would bring trouble to Leon, so she explained, "No, you misunderstood..."

"Selena," Caroline interrupted Michelle. Looking at Selena, Caroline continued, "Your expression tells me that you know her brother."

Selena slowly closed her mouth and said, "Not only I know him, but also all the people in our C Island know him."

Caroline was confused, "What do you mean?"

"There are not many families with the surname of Lu in our C Island, but all of them are of prominent background. We regard it as an auspicious sign, and our king's surname is Lu, and our prince's name is..." Selena looked at Michelle and said two noble words, "Leon Lu."

"!!!" Caroline was shocked and her eyes widened.

Caroline's reaction was the same as Selena expected, Selena had been shocked before. She said calmly, "Our princess is named Nina Lu."

Caroline's legs went

Her white and tender skin, heavy eyebrows and bright eyes were so charming.

Many people were attracted by them.

C Island was like a big city. In this city, only people from big families and people who were famous in C Island were able to attend the banquet.

For example, Selena was an international movie queen with a good reputation and a good family background, so she could be invited.

As for Michelle and Caroline, they had never seen them before.

Most of the onlookers were guessing the identities of the two of them.

When they showed the invitation, it showed that they were the first and the second daughter of the Xuan family. Michelle was surprised to see that. Caroline pulled her hand, reminding her to keep elegant and calm.

After the security check, they entered the magnificent hall like walking the red carpet.

It was really magnificent. The golden color made Michelle's eyes a little uncomfortable. She was not used to wearing high heels, so she accidentally bumped into the person behind her when she stepped back.

When she turned around nervously and was about to apologize, she sprained her ankle again.

Misfortunes never come singly.

Michelle thought she was about to fall down, but at this critical moment, the man who was hit by her reached out and held her waist.

You Look Like Berry

It was still early, and the people who came to the banquet were one after another on the way. The Yin Family hadn't shown up yet, and there were very few people in the banquet hall.

Except for a few guests, there were just well-standing security guards. Although they were dressed in plain clothes, they were obviously not ordinary security guards.

There were also well-dressed servants, and each of them raised their heads and smiled politely.

The scene that Michelle fell and was hugged attracted everyone's attention. Caroline turned around in surprise and hurried back.

With her beautiful eyes slightly open, Selena was not surprised, but frightened when she saw the man holding Michelle.

"Holy crap, it's Count Nangong."

Then she hurried to follow them.

As soon as Michelle came to her senses, she stood up and saw the leather shoes on Vicente's feet wrinkled a dot. It was messed up by her high-heeled shoes. She didn't know if she had stepped on Vicente's feet.

With such a thin heel, he must be very painful if she stepped on the back of Vicente's feet.

"I'm sorry." Michelle hurriedly bowed her head and apologized.

When Vicente saw the face of Michelle, he was stunned for a moment and stared straight at the person who bowed her head in front of him.

Vicente was confused, 'Why is Mimi on the C Island?

Did I make a mistake?'

"It doesn't matter. Raise your head." Vicente had always been gentle and elegant eacefully and took the babies with her.

Count Nangong had fell in love with Princess Nina for many years. He thought he could live with the one he loved forever, but he finally divorced. Since then, Count Nangong had never paid attention to any woman again. I don't know where Princess Nina has gone with her children." Selena's eyes were full of pity.

If John's wife, Nina, was really the princess of the C Island, of course she married the famous John in the Lexingport City with her children.

Caroline was confused, 'Who is the father of Nina's children? John or Count Nangong?'

With a straight face and without blinking, Caroline was still shocked.

She seemed to know a big secret.

She thought in shock, 'Will I be killed to shut up forever?'

Selena still wanted to say something, but Caroline covered Selena's mouth with her hand and said in horror, "I don't want to know so much. I didn't hear what you said just now. Stop it."

"What? Okay." Selena didn't understand, so she nodded.

When Caroline loosened her grip, she breathed a sigh of relief.

The people in the C Island only knew about half of the truth, and she knew the other half, so it pieced together to be a complete story.

But she didn't want to know.

Sometimes people didn't have to live in a smart state and try to find out everything. Some people were easy to die because of curiosity.

She wanted to live longer, not die because of curiosity.

Chapter: 850

I Wanted To Do It Secretly

Michelle suddenly stopped when she was following Vicente.

"Ah, why should I go with you? I can't go with strangers. "

It took her a while to think of it. Vicente was at a loss whether to cry or to laugh. He told her, "No, I'm not a stranger. I'm Berry's cousin, a good friend of Nina and Leon. So, you can also regard me as your friend."

Michelle looked at him in surprise, "You know me?"

"Yes, Michelle." Vicente held her arm and said, "let's go to change a pair of shoes. Your heels must be worn."

Michelle tried to move her feet, and then a pain came to her heels. She obediently followed Vicente into a quiet reception room.

Vicente asked her to sit on the sofa, and then asked the servant to serve her tea. After the servant left, he looked at her feet and said, "Take off your shoes and have a good rest. I'll go out and make a phone call."

"Okay." Michelle looked at Vicente going out with his phone. Through the big French window, she saw him making a telephone call to someone.

After the call, he opened the door and said to her, "Stay here. Someone will bring you the shoes. I have something urgent to deal. "

"Okay." Michelle replied obediently.

Vicente was still worried about her, so he reminded her, "Don't go out and wander around. J found it was Vicente, indicating him to come in with his eyes.

Hearing the footsteps, Michelle stretched out her hand and smoothed her hair.

With a shoe box in his hand, Vicente put it on the table and said, "Shoes for Mimi. Her heels were worn out by high heels."

Hearing him call her "Mimi", Michelle was surprised. "Eh, how do you know my nickname?"

Vicente was stunned for a moment and calmly lied, "Oh, Nina told me."

Hearing that he knew it from Nina, she didn't feel strange about it. She answered, "Okay" and looked at Leon, who was looking at her sullenly.

Leon looked at her and then looked down at her feet.

Michelle seemed to have done something wrong and was found. She stepped back and tried to hide.

The next second, her ankle was grabbed by Leon who was squatting in front of her.

She still wanted to pull it out, but Leon said to her coldly, "Don't move. If you move again, I'll break your legs."

Noticing her bleeding heels, Leon raised his eyes angrily and wanted to scold her, but when he saw her innocent eyes, he couldn't bear it.

He sighed helplessly.

As Leon put on her shoes, he said, "Don't wear high heels anymore."

Outside the glass window, Barbie, holding his aged grandfather, happened to see this scene.
