

Master Pei's Wife is a Devil Concubine

Chapter 11: Sisters for Life

She has an ex-boyfriend?

Pei Huai didn't know why he didn't leave. He just looked at the woman's back, which was too thin but strangely strong.

He turned around and for some unknown reason, his gaze swept across the guests.

Chen Jing sneered and said sarcastically, "that's good. I know that you want to be popular, but there's a reason why the company doesn't let you take on commercial performances without permission. The company wants to build an elegant image for the Fallen Note. They won't let you take on any commercial performances that cost less than 100,000 yuan. If word gets out that you're performing for a low fee, you'll be embarrassing your team. "

Su Ji's lute-playing was already circulating on the Internet, but because of the Pei family's status, very few people knew that she was performing at Old Master Pei's birthday party.

Chen Jing thought that those who hired Su Ji must be the staff from some old folks' home.

"Ms. Jing, you're quite bold." Su Ji was not interested in wasting her breath on her. "Don't take all the money. Remember to include it in my notice fee."

Hearing this, Pei Huai's screen lit up and he remembered the account number that was sent to him.

His grandfather had only told him to transfer the money to Su Ji, but he had not told him how much.

Then, he tapped on the screen a few times.

This lady wasn't famous, so it shouldn't be expensive.

He made a rough estimation.

"You're afraid I'll take all your money? Please..." Chen Jing put the phone on speaker and said harshly, "oh my, the money is here. Let me see if it's five hundred or a thousand... Oh, it's eight hundred... eight hundred thousand??"

That unpleasant and hoarse voice suddenly rose, as if her tongue had been scalded by boiling water.

After a long silence, Chen Jing finally asked, "what kind of performance is this? You got eight hundred thousand with just the lute performance?"

2

"There's no point in telling you. They have a high bar." Su Ji hung up the phone nonchalantly and immediately turned to look at Pei Huai.

Pei Huai met her gaze and asked emotionlessly, "too little?"

Su Ji was afraid that he would be too proud, so she replied, "it's alright."

The original wonder only had a total of 43,000 yuan as her life savings.

1

She didn't expect to meet such a generous person the moment she transmigrated!

"I've been looking for you for a long time. Why are you here..."

Several familiar figures came from the distance. When Su Cunyi, who was walking in the front, saw who the man standing next to Su Ji was, he called out, "CEO Pei?"

This was also Su Qianrou's first time meeting the famous CEO Pei. The man was tall with strong features. His skin was incredibly fair. It was as if the words 'blessed by the heavens' were written all over his body.

1

Even though Song Heng was right beside her, she could not help but blush.

Su Junye gasped as if he had seen a ghost. "Dad, I heard that CEO Pei hates it when women pester him!"

Upon hearing this, Su Cunyi became visibly nervous. He was afraid that his daughter would get into trouble, so he hastened his pace. "Su Ji, CEO Pei is very busy. Don't disturb him ..."

Peo Huai slid his phone into his pocket. He looked around and finally fixed his eyes on someone.

Before more trouble came, Pei Huai took his leave. When he passed by Su Ji, he leaned over and slowly said in her ear, “your taste is mediocre.”