

Concubine 121

Chapter 121: Set Off a Storm

Su Ji was now the most popular young female celebrity. If he had known earlier, he would not have broken up with her!

So what if she was a bore? As long as it could help his career as a director, it was more important than anything else!

Song Heng was hesitating when he saw Pei Xi's sharp gaze on him.

...

Only then did he remember that he had promised Pei Xi that he had to draw a clear line between him and Su Ji.

Song Heng didn't dare to offend the higher-ups, but he didn't want to miss this opportunity to raise his popularity.

As long as he gave an ambiguous answer, his name would be tied to Su Ji's.

Song Heng gritted his teeth and took a deep breath.

"No."

???

Who said that?

He hadn't said anything yet?

He looked around and realized that it was Pei Huai.

He looked relaxed, and with one sentence, he cut off Song Heng's thoughts.

"CEO Pei, why do you say that?" the reporters passed their microphones over.

Peu Huai glanced at Su Ji and started to spout nonsense in a serious manner, "Blue Whale has a rule that actors and actresses under them are not allowed to date the director. It's unfair to the others."

Su Qianrou patted her chest. It was a good thing she was not under Blue Whale. They would not care if she was with Song Heng.

Ren Guanghua, who had memorized all the policies of the company, "is there such a rule?"

"If they are not working together, are they then allowed to date?" a reporter asked Ren Guanghua.

"I think it's better for the president to answer it," Ren Guanghua said.

"Yes," Pei Huai replied.

“Then, if one of your artists is in a relationship, would you make an official announcement or would you keep it low-profile?”

“That is up to them.”

“Many of them prefer to elope nowadays. What do you think about this?”

“I respect their wishes,” Pei Huai said in one breath.

Su Ji looked at him silently.

Blue Whale had such an open policy!

The other artists who were listening were in awe.

However, they never thought that Pei Huai’s answers were all tailored for Su Ji!

1

**

After the interview, it was time for dinner.

There were all kinds of delicacies and expensive alcohols.

Only relevant people were allowed to attend the banquet. The reporters could not even think about sneaking in.

As for Zhou Xuefang, she had finally found a chance to change out of that humiliating gown!

The lychee wine from Pei Huai’s lychee manor was a big hit.

“Su Ji, let’s have another drink!” Pei Xi said.

“Cheers,” Su Ji said.

The two women were already at the third bottle.

Su Ji really liked the smell of lychees.

Using lychees to make wine was simply too wonderful.

Su Ji had drunk some wine, and the corners of her eyes were a beautiful red. Naturally, her pace of speech slowed down, and she was very seductive.

Pei Xi was so mesmerized by her that she quickly found an excuse to leave, “there are many sponsors there. I’ll help you win them over.”

Su Ji lifted her chin and said, “hurry up!”

Pei Xi patted her face to wake herself up. “You have a husband!”

When Su Ji was left alone, a greasy middle-aged man in his forties walked up to her.

Su Ji was familiar with this person. He was none other than the CEO of Sky Entertainment, Feng Meng.

When Pei Huai helped Su Ji terminate her contract, Feng Meng did not dare to refuse, but he was still reluctant.

Especially now that he saw Su Ji's popularity rising, wearing an SK evening gown, she was like a completely different person from the country bumpkin she was before.

He raised his glass at Su Ji, his eyes like a wolf locking on to its prey.

"Su Ji, you're amazing. It's not easy for newbies to stand out in Blue Whale," Feng Meng narrowed his eyes, "it seems that I'm not as charming as CEO Pei. The company has been helping you clean up your mess all these years. How come you've become so smart when you went to Blue Whale? it can't be a Feng Shui problem, right?"

Su Ji already knew that there would be infighting and passive-aggressiveness like this.

However, compared to the politics between ministers, this was child's play.

She glanced at the wine glass in Feng Meng's hand, "Mr. Feng, is your wine spoiled?"

Feng Meng was stunned. He raised it up and sniffed it, "no?"

"No? Then why does it smell sour to me?" Su Ji's lips curved up.

Feng Meng only realized now that she was being sarcastic!

A low laugh came from behind him.

Pei Huai walked to Su Ji's side, his tall figure casting a shadow on Feng Meng's head.

This was clearly an attempt to protect her.

Feng Meng suppressed his anger and gritted his teeth, "it seems like CEO Pei is really protective of her."

As a man himself, it was impossible for him not to know why.

"I'm sorry, but she has nothing to do with you anymore."

Feng Meng's face turned green with anger!

He snorted and left.

Pei Huai turned around and faced Su Ji. His gaze swept across her flushed face, "did you drink too much?"

Su Ji leaned against the bar counter, her body so soft that it seemed boneless. She tugged on his tie and pulled him down a little, "I'm not like this when I'm drunk."

Her current appearance really confirmed what the fortune-teller told her mother when she was young.

"With her looks, she'll definitely set off a storm in the great Shang Dynasty in the future."

Not just in the great Shang Dynasty.

However, Pei Huai remembered what Su Ji said to him, that she was slow to open up.

Therefore, ever since they had established their relationship, he had been restraining himself and remained gentlemanly.

This was the first time he heard Su Ji speak like that. He could not help but raise one of his eyebrows, “what happens when you drink too much?”

“You will never know,” Su Ji smiled.

If she drank too much, she would be a little...

In fact, she had also accidentally entered the bathhouse many times, but fortunately, she always bumped into her bestie.

That was why she didn’t do anything.

Su Ji felt a little warm and used her hand to fan herself, but she did not feel better.

She looked at the bar counter behind her. There were a few glasses of water on it, and she picked one up.

She drank half a cup in one gulp.

In the next second, a strong smell of white wine filled the air between the two of them.

Pei Huai’s expression froze. He took the cup from her hand and sniffed it.

It was white wine...

Not only did she drink three bottles of lychee wine, but she also drank half a glass of white wine!

“Su Ji, you...”

Before he could finish, her head pressed against his chest.

Chapter 122: What Su Ji Does When She’s Drunk

Pei Huai recalled what she just said, “I’m not like this when I’m drunk.”

“...”

This time, she really had too much to drink.

...

Pei Huai reached out to help her up, and Su Ji wrapped her arms around his neck.

Her slender and fair arm brushed against his ear. She slightly squinted her drunken eyes that were glistening.

Under her delicate and light makeup, her eyes were full of affection.

Pei Huai looked at her face, which was very close to him, and gulped, “Su Ji, you’ve had too much.”

However, Su Ji acted as if she did not hear him. She reached out and touched the side of his face, "Pei Huai, I think you look like someone..."

For a moment, Pei Huai thought of the dreams he had.

Like who?

"Who do I look like?" Pei Huai asked.

The next moment, Su Ji stood on her tiptoes and whispered in his ear, "like my...boyfriend..."

Su Ji liked to tease people when she was drunk!

Who would believe this?

Pei Huai steadied his breath and said in a low voice, "and you say you're slow to open up?"

"It's true..." Su Ji said in a serious tone.

There were fewer people at the bar counter, but it was a dinner party after all.

And Su Ji was the focus of everyone tonight.

She was the one who said that she didn't want anyone to know that they were together, but now she was openly teasing him in such a situation.

Pei Huai glanced behind Su Ji. Between the wine cabinet and the window, there was a space that could barely fit two people.

It was facing the back of the room.

He held her waist and brought her into the secret corner.

The space seemed to be smaller than expected.

They were basically up against each other.

The material of her dress rubbed against his shirt.

F*ck.

The string in Pei Huai's head...had snapped...

It was just like in his dreams.

Pei Huai said with a hoarse voice, "then, take a closer look...do I still look like your boyfriend?"

Su Ji cupped his face and obediently moved closer to him, "it's even more..."

Before she could finish her sentence, his eyes darkened. He exerted some force and brought her lips to his...

Su Ji could not finish her sentence...

Pei Huai kissed her, closed his eyes, and let the sensation fill his body.

The noise of the banquet came from behind them, and the lights from the street occasionally flashed outside the window. They were in this hidden but dangerous space...

He only had such an experience in his dreams, but this kind of thing seemed to come naturally to men, and Pei Huai quickly became familiar with it.

The space was too small, so he carried Su Ji to the window and sat her down. He lowered her head and kissed her in this position.

And Su Ji, who was drunk, also was enjoying herself...

She buried her fingers in his hair...

She was so drunk that she almost lost consciousness. She might forget about it when she woke up the next day, which made Pei Huai feel guilty.

But at the same time, it also evoked the beast in him.

He could kiss her even more, just like what he did to her in his dream...

...

Pei Qingshen's underhanded trick finally made Si Ke drunk.

At this moment, he returned to the bar without a sound. He had just exchanged his white wine with water, and Si Ke was completely drunk. He even asked him, "old man, how can you still hold your liquor so well?"

At this moment, he wanted to retrieve the white wine, in case other people accidentally drank it.

One, two, three...

Where did the last one go?

Pei Xi had just come back from her drunken stupor. She looked around and asked, "where's Su Ji? She was here just a moment ago? Have you seen her?"

"I didn't notice," Pei Qingshen said, "Pei Huai disappeared as well, could they have..."

Pei Xi waved her hand dismissively, "don't let your imagination run wild. Have you forgotten about the blunder that happened last time? I think it'll be good enough if he can hold hands with Su Ji on the first anniversary of their relationship."

"I think so too," Pei Qingshen sighed.

1

As the two of them sighed, they did not know how "vile" Pei Huai was...

**

The next morning, at the Su family's dining table, Su Ji was holding a meat bun and her eyes were a little dazed.

"Dad, how did I get back last night?" she asked after a while.

"Ah, a car arranged by your company sent you back," Su Cunyi smiled, "Manager Ren drove you back himself. You have to thank him when you see him..."

When the car drove in last night, Su Cunyi saw that his daughter had drunk too much and was so focused on her that he didn't notice that Pei Huai was also in the car.

"Ouch..." Su Ji took a bite of the bun.

Her mouth hurt...

1

"I think I drank too much yesterday." Su Ji pressed the corner of her mouth.

Su Cunyi looked at her worriedly and said, "you think? Next time, no matter what event it is, you're not allowed to drink so much. Luckily Manager Ren brought you back. What if you met a bad person?"

Su Qianrou tore a small piece of bread and asked, "where did you go in the second half of the banquet? Old Master Pei and Pei Xi are looking for you. You just entered the company, so you can't be too arrogant and cause trouble for them."

Su Junye, who was playing with his phone, also chipped in, "don't let someone take a picture of you doing something inappropriate again. It took a lot of effort to suppress the negative news about you in the past..."

Ning Lihua didn't say anything and just glanced at Su Ji.

Su Ji did not look like she only drank too much.

She must be seducing men.

Su Ji was not in the mood to deal with them at the moment. Her mouth was hurting so much that she had no appetite. She tried her best to recall the last scene before her blackout. She seemed to be with Pei Huai...

Pei Huai received a message.

["Do you know what happened to me last night?"]

A few seconds later, she saw that he was typing.

However, she only saw the reply half an hour later.

Su Ji thought that he had already written a 2000-word essay that recorded last night's events in detail, but in the end, he only typed "yes".

Okay?

["Can you tell me what happened?"]

Another half an hour passed. Su Ji had already changed her clothes and was ready to go out when she received another reply.

[“Let’s meet and I’ll tell you about it.”]

Chapter 123: Tell Me the Truth About Last Night

**

In the morning, when Pei Xi saw Su Ji, the first thing she asked her was why her mouth was swollen.

She was fair to begin with, so her swollen lips were very noticeable.

...

“I drank too much. I can’t remember,” Su Ji replied.

“It’s all my fault. I shouldn’t have drunk so much with you yesterday.”

Su Ji said that it was fine. She then saw Pei Xi holding a few contracts in her hands, “is there something you need from me?”

Pei Xi almost forgot about the important matter. As she spoke, she hurriedly brought Su Ji into the lounge. Meng Na and Pan Lian were already waiting inside.

Pei Xi sounded particularly excited, “yesterday’s press conference was a success. During the meeting this morning, the theme song for ‘The Billions Stars’ has been decided. We’ll leave it to the three of you! They know that you can also compose songs and lyrics, so we’ll give you the freedom to do so. You can use the company’s recording studio as you wish, but you have to finish the song before the first episode’s filming is completed!”

Yesterday’s press conference was more than a success.

The gown that Su Ji wore was selling like hotcakes.

Photos of Su Ji at the press conference were displayed everywhere in the shop.

“The Billions Stars” had not even been aired, but Su Ji had already made a name for herself with her looks.

Hearing what Pei Xi said, Meng Na was excited.

In the past, when she was still at Sky Entertainment, Chen Jing only asked to compose songs in order to save money, but there were a lot of requirements and she couldn’t unleash her creativity.

Blue Whale Entertainment did not impose any requirements except for the deadline!

Only by giving the creator full freedom could the creator bring the greatest wealth to the company!

“Don’t worry, we will not let you down!”

Su Ji also said that it was no problem.

Pan Lian could neither write lyrics nor compose music. At this moment, she knew how it felt to enjoy the reward without lifting a finger.

**

After meeting with Pei Xi, the three of them signed the contract and went straight to the recording studio.

“The Billion Stars” was a modern romantic drama, which was based on a novel.

To summarize the entire plot in one sentence, after the male lead fell for the female lead, his first love returned.

What an exciting plot!

Zhou Xuefang played the role of the female lead who was a substitute for the male lead’s first love.

Su Ji played the role of the male lead’s first love. She was the daughter of a wealthy family. When she was in high school, she rejected the male lead and went abroad to study. Later, when the male lead met the female lead and developed feelings for her, she returned to the country.

Based on the plot, the theme song had to be a mellow love song.

In every emotional scene, their song would be played!

The three of them sat facing each other, deep in thought.

Su Ji had a few ancient tunes at her fingertips, but none of them were suitable for a modern drama like this.

Meng Na also hummed a few tunes, but without waiting for the others to comment on it, she decided that they were bad.

After an hour of silence, someone started humming the tune of a pop song and it got stuck in their heads for the rest of the morning. They had failed their task.

Luckily, there was still plenty of time...

**

In the afternoon, Pei Xi looked for Su Ji, “Pei Huai is waiting for you in the car.”

“Okay,” Su Ji nodded.

Right, her appointment with Pei Huai was this afternoon.

She had to find out what had happened last night and why the corner of her mouth hurt so much.

In fact, not only did her mouth hurt, but she also dreamed of something nibbling at her neck yesterday.

Su Ji had never been injured for no reason.

She had a hypothesis, but she needed Pei Huai to confirm it.

Pei Huai’s car was parked at the same place.

After Su Ji got into the car, she saw him take out a bottle of ointment from the storage compartment.

She took a look at the label and it said “reduces swelling and relieves pain”.

She narrowed her eyes. Pei Huai indeed knew what had happened yesterday.

Otherwise, he wouldn’t have known that her mouth hurt.

He unbuckled his seat belt and turned around to face her.

He opened the bottle and stared at the corner of Su Ji’s mouth for two seconds. Then, he lifted her chin and started to apply the ointment on her mouth.

He took the ointment from Huichun Hall before he came. Pei Song asked him why and he told him to mind his own business.

It was not surprising that he was too rough the first time. Moreover, Su Ji was provoking him.

Pei Huai applied the ointment patiently.

He spread it over and over again. When the coldness touched the red and swollen part of her mouth, Su Ji felt the pain subsided a little.

Her lips were soft and bouncy.

Su Ji froze when Pei Huai suddenly moved closer.

However, his expression was serious and did not seem to have any evil thoughts, so Su Ji did not move away.

With nowhere to look, her gaze fell on Pei Huai’s hand for a while.

His fingers were long and beautiful. Even when he was just applying the ointment, the blue veins on the back of his hand twitched.

Su Ji’s mouth was slightly open. She did not dare to breathe too hard as the two of them were too close.

Pei Huai saw that she was so reserved at the moment, and he smiled.

She was clearly very open last night...

He almost lost control.

Su Ji looked at him and asked, “do you know how I got hurt?”

Pei Huai, who was calm and collected, paused.

“Tell me the truth and I won’t be angry with you. Last night, did I...” Su Ji continued to ask.

Pei Huai pursed his lips.

That’s true, he had indeed gone a little overboard last night.

Even if her memory was hazy, she would definitely remember some parts of it. It was impossible for her to not feel anything at all.

Since she said she wouldn’t be angry...

Pei Huai was about to confess to her, but he heard Su Ji say in the next second, “did I fall down and hit my mouth on a rock?”

3

It must be a very hard rock, otherwise, it wouldn’t hurt so much!

Chapter 124: She is Mine

Pei Huai’s face darkened.

He initially felt guilty, but now...

She remembered nothing at all from last night?

...

A rock??

He recalled what Su Ji said, “tell me the truth, and I won’t be angry with you.”

Pei Huai retracted his hand and closed the bottle. He was so angry that he laughed., “since you think you fell on a rock, why would you be angry with me?”

“Angry that you didn’t hold me?” Su Ji said matter-of-factly.

Once again, Pei Huai was speechless.

However, Su Ji could hear the hidden meaning in his words, “what do you mean? Did I not fall?”

“No,” Pei Huai replied.

“Then?”

“You hit a wall.”

This time, it was Su Ji’s turn to be speechless.

She did not know why Pei Huai seemed angry.

It was indeed difficult to understand the heart of an old man.

1

The atmosphere was awkward when Pei Huai received a call from Pei Song, asking him to help pick up Xingxing from the kindergarten.

He only had half a day of classes on Friday, and school had just ended.

“Thanks. I’ll treat you to a meal next time!” Without waiting for Pei Huai’s response, Pei Song hung up the phone.

This was not the first time Pei Song had asked him to help pick up XIngxing.

Pei Huai knew very well how busy he was and he was not as busy as him.

Pei Huai had reason to suspect that it was part of his grandfather's schemes.

He had guessed it right!

If it wasn't for Pei Qingshen's request, Pei Song would never have dared to trouble his brother to pick up his son.

He was afraid that his son would be thrown on the street by his brother.

With his brother's powerful position in the Pei family, if he really threw him away, he might not dare to pick him up!

Pei Qingshen's actions were definitely well-thought out. He had long discovered that this grandson of his was not very popular with children.

It was time for him to get in touch with children!

Out of his three grandchildren, Pei Huai was the one with the worst relationships with children. Pei Xingxing would rather play with the dog next door than Pei Huai.

And Pei Huai didn't care.

To him, a child's hands were the best place for germs to cultivate...

Pei Qingshen was really worried that he wouldn't want children with Su Ji in the future.

As the head of the family, he must have a well thought-out plan!

How could he not make good use of the child at home? Thus, Pei Qingshen wanted Pei Huai to interact more with Pei Xingxing. It would be even better if he could bring Su Ji along.

Pei Huai put his phone away and put his hands on the steering wheel. He asked Su Ji, "do you have time? Come with me to pick Xingxing up from school?"

Su Ji had just lost all her inspiration to compose the new song for "The Billion Stars", so she thought it was a good idea to go out, "sure~"

Pei Huai smiled and started the car.

**

When they arrived at the kindergarten, Su Ji witnessed the real power of the press conference.

Although the series was a romance drama targeted at adults, when they came to the kindergarten, half of the young children who usually liked to wear colorful dresses had changed into different styles of black chiffon dresses to mimic Su Ji at the press conference.

In the past, when Pei Huai came to pick up Pei Xingxing, he would be surrounded by the children before he could even reach Pei Xingxing's classroom.

He even had fans that young

However, today it was Su Ji's turn to be surrounded.

"It's Miss Black Swan!"

"She is so beautiful!"

"Miss Black Swan! Pei Xingxing said you're his girlfriend! Is it true?"

"No, no! Miss Black Swan is Si Jingbin's girlfriend!"

The children in the classroom next door were singing, but when they heard the noise, they all stuck their heads out of the window.

Pei Huai' saw Pei Xingxing, who ran out with Si Jingbin like bullets!

"No way, the pretty lady is here?"

"Did my youngest uncle come to pick me up?"

"It's really her! I miss her!"

Before Su Ji could react, she felt something stuck to her left and right foot.

Pei Xingxing hugged Su Ji's left leg tightly, "can you come pick me up every day from now on?"

Si Jingbin was a little shy and was sticking to Su Ji's right leg, "she's mine!"

The two children, who were equally adorable, had sparks flying in their big eyes.

The two of them showed a strong desire to possess Su Ji, and neither of them was going to back down,

In the end, they had no choice but to turn their eyes to Pei Huai.

"Uncle! You be the judge!"

"Xingxing is trying to take her from me!"

No one could resist their innocent eyes...

Except for Pei Huai!

In the next second, Pei Xingxing and Si Jingbin were lifted up by their collars by Pei Huai.

"Su Ji doesn't belong to any of you. She is mine," he said in a low voice.

Pei Xingxing was so angry that his cheeks puffed up.

Si Jingbin looked so aggrieved that he looked like he was about to cry.

Su Ji was speechless.

Her boyfriend was so childish.

By the time the kindergarten teachers heard the commotion and rushed over, Pei Huai had made the two children cry.

Su Ji was coaxing the boys who were sniffing and was about to run out of patience.

The kindergarten teacher quickly took over.

She quickly noticed Su Ji, and her face turned red in the next second.

As a teacher in this kindergarten, she often had the opportunity to meet all kinds of celebrities and big shots. However, Su Ji was too beautiful.

However, she still remembered her duty to coax the two children.

“Xingxing and Bingbing, don’t cry. Our kindergarten’s anniversary is this weekend, and there will be many of your favorite activities...”

Unfortunately, Pei Xingxing did not buy it, “there’s nothing we like at all!”

One was already hard enough to coax, but now there were two of them crying in symphony.

“Why did you provoke them?” Su Ji glanced at Pei Huai.

“That’s the truth,” Pei Huai said with the same icy expression.

Su Ji massaged the space between her brows. Seeing that the two little ones were crying louder and louder, the teacher was also at her wits’ end. Su Ji bent down to face the two boys.

“Why don’t I bring my friends to perform for you during your school anniversary this weekend? What about that? Will you be happy then?”

Chapter 125: Her Real Daughter

The moment she said that, Pei Xingxing and Si Jingbin both stopped crying at the same time!

It was as if someone had pressed the pause button, and the whole world fell silent!

“Really? You can’t lie to us!”

...

“I want to see a your performance!”

Not only were the children excited, but even the kindergarten teachers were surprised, “Ms. Su, are you really going to perform at our school’s anniversary celebration? You must be very busy with work recently, right? Besides, we will be playing children’s songs, so...”

She really hoped that her idol would come to perform, but she couldn’t be sure. She felt that she might just be saying this to coax the children.

However, Su Ji confirmed the statement, “yes, it won’t take long. As for the songs...” she shrugged, “it’s good to change it up occasionally.”

Perhaps they might get some inspiration after performing here.

The kindergarten teacher was smiling on the surface, but her heart was actually thumping in excitement!

She had never seen a girl group perform live!

“But...” the kindergarten teacher said thoughtfully, “you are so famous. You should get permission from your manager to perform, right? Why don’t you leave your manager’s phone number and I’ll ask the school to contact them?”

Su Ji glanced at Pei Huai, who was behind her, “oh, no need to go through all that trouble. The boss of the company is right here.”

She could just ask him on the spot.

The kindergarten teacher had been so excited to see Su Ji that she only just noticed Pei Huai!

In her heart, she was screaming!

“Can I come and perform here this weekend?”

“Up to you,” Pei Huai was actually looking forward to it.

“Since it’s a performance for children, there’s no need for them to pay, okay?” Su Ji asked.

“Sure,” Pei Huai nodded.

“Can I bring two more friends with me?” Su Ji asked.

“Anything is fine,” Pei Huai said happily.

The kindergarten teachers were all dumbfounded!

This boss is too easy to talk to!

1

**

The nanny who came to pick Si Jingbin up happened to be stuck in a traffic jam, so Su Ji asked Pei Huai to drop him as well.

Pei Huai was a person who didn’t like extra work, but since Su Ji had given the order, he agreed obediently.

Su Ji called Si Jingchuan to inform him about this. Si Ke happened to be beside him and insisted on chatting with her. He was very warm, completely different from when he talked to the Pei family.

In the car, Pei Huai glanced at the rearview mirror. The two little boys were playing a boxing game in the back seat while Su Ji was telling her friends about the kindergarten performance this weekend.

This scene gave him a strange feeling.

It was very lively, but he didn’t hate it.

He even wanted to do this every day for the rest of his life, picking her up from work and then picking them up...

Something was wrong.

Pei Huai didn't think it should be these two boys..

They should be two girls...

Su Ji looked at her phone.

Her group chat's name had changed from "The Fallen Note" to "The Besties".

The number of people in the group also decreased to 3.

["We have work babes."]

The other two immediately responded.

[Meng Na: "Where? I'm ready!"]

[Pan Lian: "You found us a job! Amazing!"]

["Performing at The Little Genius Kindergarten the day after tomorrow, 10 a.m."]

The group instantly fell silent.

["Are you joking?"]

["I do like children~"]

["I'm serious. Don't underestimate the children. They were singing the most popular pop song just now."]

[Meng Na: [seppuku.jpg]].

Pan Lian had a different opinion.

[Pan Lian: "Nana, you and Su Ji are so cold. That's why you don't have any inspiration for writing romantic songs. I think it's good to go to a kindergarten to feel some pure innocent joy."]

Meng Na was silent for a moment.

In the past, she would have said, "what do you know about composing?" but after being "slapped" in the face by Su Ji, she did not dare to do so anymore.

So they all agreed to the performance.

By the time Su Ji put away her phone, the phone in the driver's seat had been ringing for a long time.

Pei Huai turned a deaf ear and looked straight ahead.

"Pei Huai?" He only came back to his senses when Su Ji called out to him.

"What's wrong?" He asked.

“What are you thinking about?” Su Ji smiled.

“You have a call.”

Pei Huai paused for a moment, then connected the Bluetooth and answered the call.

He was so distracted just now, his mind was filled with Su Ji, and that night...

It was Ren Guanghua, “boss, a big overseas sponsor contacted us today. He saw the press conference and wants to invest in ‘The Billion Stars’.”

“Which one?”

Ren Guanghua replied, “they are from Continent M... I’ve told Ms. Pei about it. She said that she heard of that company when she was traveling in Continent M. It has a good reputation. I heard that the CEO is a woman surnamed Xu. She’s very capable. However, we already have enough funds for this movie. Although it’s good to have one more investor...”

“Reject it.”

In the past, Ren Guanghua wouldn’t dare to trouble the CEO for such things, but now he had to ask.

During the dinner, many people were looking for Ms. Su and then the CEO carried her into the car...

He had more or less guessed it.

He might be the only person who knew about that night. He had to perform well at work so that he would not be killed!

“Alright, I’ll get it done now...”

After hanging up the phone, Pei Huai realized that Su Ji was listening attentively at the side. “Are you interested?”

“Female CEO, so cool,” Su Ji smiled evilly.

She thought of her fan “.”.

“...”

**

Meanwhile, in the CEO’s office of the Xu Group in Continent M.

The secretary knocked on the door twice, and a cold and pleasant female voice said, “come in.”

After opening the door and entering the room, the secretary reported the reply she had received from Blue Whale.

The woman was dressed in a suit. She looked cold and attractive, and one could not tell her age at all. She also had a very elegant temperament.

She was the CEO of the Xu Group, Xu Mingzhi.

She was very capable, and handled things cleanly and assertively.

She was also Su Cunyi's ex-wife.

The woman raised her hand slightly and motioned for the secretary to leave.

The laptop in front of the table was on, and it was playing the press conference of "The Billions Stars".

Xu Mingzhi had watched Su Ji's five-minute interview dozens of times.

The woman's beautiful fingers gently touched the screen, and her cold features softened, but at the same time, she showed mixed emotions.

"She looked exactly the same..."

Every time she returned to the country to see her, Xu Mingzhi would feel extremely conflicted.

Su Ji was her daughter, but also not her daughter.

Xu Mingzhi knew that her real daughter was in the Shang Dynasty...

Chapter 126: Amazing!

It was a sunny autumn afternoon.

Wang Zhicheng was tending to the herbs in the garden when he received a call from overseas.

Seeing the phone number of the caller, the rake in Wang Zhicheng's hand fell to the ground.

...

It's been years since he'd received a call from the madam!

The woman's voice was the same as before, but it hid a strong emotion. "Don't worry, madam. Everything's been going well for miss recently...yes, Blue Whale is treating her well, she has even made a few friends. Sir has been more attentive to her too..."

Xu Mingzhi did not want to hear about her ex-husband, "alright."

Wang Zhicheng pursed his lips and hesitated for a long time. In an almost pleading tone, he tried again, "have you been busy recently? Will you come back to see miss? She must have missed you!"

Xu Mingzhi hesitated, "no... I'm relieved to know that she's doing well..."

"Madam!" Wang Zhicheng still wanted to convince her, but she already hung up.

"Old Wang, don't be silly," Aunt Zou said, "Madam Xu is doing so well overseas. Why would she come back to see miss? If she really misses her, she would have brought her along!"

Wang Zhicheng turned to look at her and said coldly, "get lost."

Aunt Zou froze.

Did he really think that he was Madam Xu and Su Ji's loyal dog?

Wang Zhicheng clutched his phone. He felt terrible when he thought about how Ning Lihua and the others had been ridiculing Su Ji every day.

He knew that the truth wasn't what Aunt Zou had said!

Madam was definitely still thinking about her daughter!

Every time she came back to China to see her, Wang Zhicheng would see her crying secretly in the car when she was leaving.

Even when she quarreled with her ex-husband, she would not cry. The only time he saw her cry was when she was leaving Su Ji.

But Wang Zhicheng really couldn't understand. If she cared so much about her...

Why didn't she come to see her?

Why didn't she bring her along?

**

In the blink of an eye, it was already Sunday, and the Little Genius Kindergarten was welcoming its annual school anniversary performance!

As expected of an elite kindergarten in A City, it was held in a luxurious stadium.

The children sat neatly below the stage, wearing the yellow school uniform. From a distance, they looked like tiny beans.

The children who attended this kindergarten were all from rich and powerful families, so usually there were many children who were absent during the school's events. Most of them would go overseas with their parents for the holidays.

However, everyone was present today!

Not only were all the children present, even their parents were here!

Because Su Ji and the others were performing!

At this moment, the host, who was dressed like a sunflower, was standing on the stage. Su Ji and the other two were already backstage, ready to go on stage.

As the principal was going to give a speech, they still had some time.

Su Ji still remembered the original dance that she was going to perform at Old Master Pei's birthday party.

It was not suitable for the event at that time, but it was for the current occasion.

Pei Xi had prepared their dance costumes and the three of them wore similar outfits. The styles were slightly different, but they matched each other very well.

The outfits were white and looked very pure.

Two of them would wear short skirts, and one would wear long pants.

Su Ji wanted to pick the pair of pants, because the skirts were too short.

If she wore the skirt, it would be the same as not wearing anything.

But before she could get it, Meng Na snatched it from her.

“Su Ji! I’m allergic to dresses! I’d rather die than wear dresses!”

Su Ji looked at the short-haired Meng Na. She had never seen her in a dress before.

Pan Lian advised, “Nana really can’t wear a dress. You should leave the pants for her.”

She didn’t say that for Meng Na. She just wanted to see Su Ji in a mini-skirt!

Hence, at this moment, there was commotion backstage.

Su Ji was wearing a white mini-skirt, and her pink eye makeup outlined her beautiful eyes. Her soft lips looked like jelly, and the swelling at the corner of her mouth was almost gone.

She looked completely different from her usual cold and elegant appearance. At this moment, she looked like a pure innocent girl.

Her legs were long and slender, and her waist was so small.

“Baby!” Pan Lian drooled, “you look so good in this outfit! Is my nose bleeding?”

Su Ji flicked her hair back, “if you like it, I’ll wear it for you every day in the future~”

When Pan Lian heard the teasing tone in her voice, Su Ji’s innocent look crumbled.

“The moment you open your mouth, you’re no longer innocent.”

Meng Na put her hand under her chin and looked confused, “this dress and today’s makeup are all very soft and innocent, but why do I feel like something is off when Su Ji is wearing it...”

The two of them walked around Su Ji for a long time before Pan Lian suddenly screamed, “I know! It’s the hairstyle!”

Su Ji’s hair was usually very casual. Basically, she looked the same as she did in the morning.

However, her face was too beautiful. Not only did she not look messy, she also had a kind of effortless and charming beauty.

However, at an event like today, they should change it!

“Then, what hairstyle do you think I should change to?” Su Ji furrowed her eyebrows.

Meng Na glanced at Pan Lian, who said darkly, “based on today’s theme, it must be...double ponytails!”

“...”

But before she could refuse, Meng Na and Pan Lian pressed her down on the chair.

Pan Lian loved to study all kinds of hairstyles, and within a few minutes, they tied up two ponytails.

And looked at Su Ji in the mirror.

Amazing!

Meng Na's eyes were wide open. She was a straight woman, but she couldn't hold it in!

Su Ji was silent for two seconds and made a retching gesture.

She wanted to take them off, but Meng Na and Pan Lian stopped her.

"No! It's really pretty!"

"Just pretend like you're acting in a movie."

"Aren't we looking for inspiration for the theme song? You should try to immerse yourself in another role!"

"Why don't you tie your hair into two ponytails just once? Besides, there are only children below the stage, and there are no outsiders..."

Meanwhile, Pei Huai, who knew that Su Ji would be performing today, was accompanied by Shen Mu as the Pei Xingxing's family, walked into the venue...

Chapter 127: I'll Help You Remember What Happened That Night

After they found their seats, the host announced that the ex-members of The Fallen Note were about to perform.

Pei Huai had been looking forward to it.

He had seen Su Ji's beauty on many occasions, and he wondered how she would look when performing for kindergarten children.

...

He sat beside Pei Xingxing. Like everyone else, he cast his gaze towards the stage.

A group music started playing, and then his expression froze.

His attention was firmly on the energetic girl on stage who had two ponytails and was wearing a white short skirt. The age gap between them was even more obvious at the moment.

1

Su Ji had been convinced.

Meng Na said that there was no one else except the children in the audience today.

So she decided to have some fun with her friends.

The children in the audience shrieked in excitement!

During the break between the singing, the children would clap to the beat.

“Hey hey hey hey!”

This was the best school event and the scene was very lively.

The children loved Su Ji’s look.

Surely half of the girls would wear ponytails and mini-skirts tomorrow.

Even the principal, who had been suffering from gout for many years, also stood up shakily and sang along, “Hey! Hey! Hey! Hey!”

This kind of repetitive and strong dance moves were easy for Su Ji.

Her dance was casual and relaxed.

She didn’t expect Meng Na’s idea to be so good.

Pei Xingxing stood on the chair and shouted, “Ms. Su Ji is so good!!!”

Su Ji smiled and glanced at him. But suddenly, she was shocked.

Beside Pei Xingxing, she saw a tall man sitting among the children. He was very eye-catching.

The children around him were all cheering crazily, but he did not. He just sat leisurely below the stage with a relaxed expression. His deep eyes were fixed on her, and there was a faint smile on his lips.

As she moved, his smile deepened.

Su Ji skipped a beat, but fortunately, she was skilled and saved it in time.

Her mind exploded.

Meng Na!

She thought it was okay to dance like this in front of children and strangers. However, in front of Pei Huai...it was embarrassing. She was so ashamed that she wished she could die on the spot!

She was supposed to be his badass girlfriend!

How could she dance like this with two ponytails?

How was she going to ask him for the relics of the tomb of the devil concubine in the future?

Shen Mu had come with the boss today because of work, “Wow, Ms. Su is singing such a childish song. She even tied her hair up in two ponytails. It’s so entertaining! Most importantly, these children love it...”

Before he could finish, he noticed that the boss was listening more intently than the children.

Shen Mu took a photo of the boss watching Ms. Su’s performance.

He was really good at secretly taking photos, and he managed to include both of them in the shot.

As he was enjoying the show, the CEO, who was still looking at the stage, said to him, “are you done?”

Shen Mu’s body stiffened.

Oh no, he was exposed...

“I’m sorry. I really couldn’t hold back. I’ll delete it now!”

“Don’t delete it,” Pei Huai said lightly.

“???”

“Send it to me,” Pei Huai replied.

“...”

After receiving the photo on his phone, Pei Huai enlarged it and studied it carefully for a while.

In the picture, Su Ji could be seen very clearly.

She danced happily, her twin ponytails flying in the wind.

Pei Huai nodded in satisfaction and set the photo as his wallpaper.

The performance ended very quickly, but Su Ji felt as if a century had passed.

Why would Pei Huai be here...

Was he so free?

After the performance, Pan Lian and Meng Na went to their seats.

Su Ji decided to go back to the backstage alone to calm down.

In the lounge, Su Ji sat cross-legged on the chair and closed her eyes.

Shen Mu knocked on the door and stuck his head in.

He smiled, “Ms. Su, the children loved the performance!”

Su Ji glanced at him and tried to save her dignity, “I don’t usually sing such songs. I usually sing songs that are not suitable for children.”

Shen Mu was particularly curious, “what kind of songs?”

However, as soon as he asked that, he felt a pressure on the side. He almost forgot that he was knocking on the door on behalf of his boss.

“Boss, Ms. Su is inside. I’ll guard the door for you!”

As expected, when Su Ji heard that Pei Huai was outside, she stood up to close the door.

Unfortunately, it was too late. Before she could react, Pei Huai quickly opened the door and entered the room. He closed the door and locked it immediately.

Su Ji snorted coldly. Since he was already here, there was nothing for her to be afraid of.

She flicked her twin ponytails (she had already given up), "CEO Pei, please knock before you enter next time."

Pei Huai looked at her with light in his eyes and walked to her, "I did."

"Mr. Shen knocked. I let him in, but I might not let you in," Su Ji said.

"So you're closer to the assistant than your boyfriend?" Pei Huai asked.

Su Ji sized him up, "we've only been together for a few days. I can dump you at any time."

Thinking of that day in the study, when she was pressed down on the recliner by him, Su Ji suddenly wanted to settle the old scores.

She narrowed her eyes and grabbed Pei Huai's hand. She exerted force on her wrist and was about to give him a back throw.

However, just as she tried to turn, Pei Huai pulled her wrist back.

She was once again captured!

"My arm, my arm, my arm!"

It was the exact same move as last time, and it was even the same arm!

However, this time, she was not pressed down on the recliner, but on the dressing table!

Pei Huai quickly released her and turned her over.

He put his hand on the dressing table and half-bent over.

Su Ji's back was pressed against the dressing table, and she couldn't get up.

Fortunately, she was flexible. Otherwise, it would have been difficult for her to stay in this position...

The first time could have been a coincidence, but not the second time. Su Ji couldn't help but wonder, "you've practiced before?"

"No," Pei Huai replied firmly.

"That's impossible," Su Ji replied.

"Why?" PEI Huai asked.

"Because I've practiced before," Su Ji replied.

Pei Huai raised his eyebrows.

Su Ji replied, "so if you haven't practiced, you can't beat me."

Pei Huai smiled, but the smile did not reach his eyes.

Su Ji didn't notice that his expression had changed ever since she casually said "I can dump you at any time."

At first, Pei Huai was frustrated by what had happened at dinner after the press conference.

A few days had passed, but Su Ji still could not remember anything from that night.

She kept a distance from him and even said that she could dump him at any time...

Pei Huai grabbed Su Ji's wrist. Under her stunned gaze, he wrapped her hand around the back of his neck, "I think I need to help you recall what happened that night..."

Chapter 128: Su Ji Cried

Su Ji wanted to kick him, but when she heard that he was going to help her recall what happened that night, she had a bad feeling.

"..."

Fine, but why must her hand be around his neck...

...

Pei Huai lowered his body, his voice deep and hoarse, "that day, you drank too much. You put your arms around my neck and said that I...look like your boyfriend..."

"..."

Su Ji did not think he was lying, because that did sound like something she would say when she was drunk...

She swallowed and looked into Pei Huai's eyes, "and?"

Her twin ponytails were scattered on the dressing table, and her beautiful face almost melted in the soft and dense hair.

"and..." Pei Huai's brows raised slightly, and he curled his lips, "it's easier if I show you..."

As he lowered his head, Su Ji's mind went blank for a moment.

In the west-facing lounge, the room was hot even though it was an afternoon in autumn.

His kiss came so abruptly. Su Ji, who was still waiting for an answer a second ago, was caught off guard.

When she came back to her senses, her back was already pressed tightly against the dressing table.

The white fabric of her top was crumpled.

The familiar touch brought back Su Ji's memories.

The dizzy scene from that night gradually overlapped with the scene in front of her.

She could even see the car lights that occasionally flashed outside the window that night.

She remembered it all at this point.

She didn't know if it was her outfit today that had triggered Pei Huai or because she said she could dump him at any time.

Or, that she sang songs that were not suitable for children.

Pei Huai didn't seem to be as patient as he was at the dinner party.

He pinched her chin and said in a not-so-gentle manner, "open your mouth,"

"You mother—"

In the next second, she was shut up.

Only his deep breathing was heard.

Her lips also became moist.

Su Ji tried to push his chin away, but her fingertips touched his lower jaw that was tightened from the kiss.

It was strong and sharp.

Hao Gou had taught her well. Su Ji now had the instincts of an actress. She quickly imagined that if a camera were to shoot from this angle, his jawline would look so sexy.

The viewers would definitely scream like crazy when they saw this.

The sun shone on them.

The kiss that was exposed to the sun was also getting hotter.

From outside, the sound of children's laughter and applause could be faintly heard following the host's voice.

It was unclear how many performances had finished.

There was a sharp pain at the corner of his lips. Pei Huai slowly let go of her and suppressed his desire to continue. He asked fiercely, "do you remember how the corner of your mouth got injured now?"

Su Ji punched him in the face.

She answered him perfectly with one move.

Pei Huai dodged and didn't get the full blow, but his face was still a little red.

She really used all her strength.

However, not only was Pei Huai not angry, he even smiled, "with this strength, you could have pushed me away just now."

Su Ji stood up from the dressing table and snorted, "I didn't push you away just now because I wanted to take advantage of you."

"It's my honor," Pei Huai chuckled.

“Is Su Ji inside?”

The voices of Meng Na and Pan Lian came from outside the door.

It was Shen Mu’s time to shine. “Yes, she’s inside, but the boss is talking to her. Please wait for her somewhere else.”

“Oh, what took so long?” Meng Na asked, confused, “I feel like she’s been in there for a long time.”

“Did Su Ji do something wrong?” Pan Lian was worried.

Only then did Su Ji remember that Shen Mu was still outside the door. She did not know if he had heard them just now...

But thinking back, they probably didn’t make any sound, right?

He definitely did not.

However, Shen Mu’s face was so red that it was almost the color of a pig’s liver. He was just pretending to be calm, “Ms. Su didn’t do anything wrong, don’t worry. I think they still have a lot to talk about. Please don’t wait here...”

He heard it!

He had heard everything!

There was even the sound of the legs of the dressing table rubbing against the ground.

The boss was so fierce!

As the noise outside faded away, the temperature in the lounge gradually returned to normal.

Pei Huai opened something on his phone.

In fact, he had come not only to see Su Ji’s performance, but also for another matter.

After receiving Ren Guanghua’s call in the car last time, he had asked people to investigate the company.

No matter how exciting the press conference was, normal sponsors would not want to invest at this point.

Pei Huai was a very sharp person. It turned out that the Xu Group had a special connection to Su Ji.

Pei Huai didn’t want to pry into Su Ji’s private affairs, but all the rich and powerful families in A City knew that Su Cunyi was remarried, and the current Mrs. Su was Su Ji’s stepmother.

If Su Ji did not want to talk about her family, he would not ask.

Unless she was being bullied.

However, Pei Huai felt that Su Ji still had the right to know about Xu Mingzhi’s intention to invest in “The Billion Stars”.

After all, it’s not a bad thing that Xu Mingming wanted to invest in a project that involved Su Ji.

At the very least, Su Ji wouldn't be sad when he mentioned it.

With one hand in his pocket, Pei Huai showed Su Ji his phone, "the CEO that you mentioned the other day is your mother."

"My mother?" At first, Su Ji did not show much emotion. After all, she was just the mother of the original owner.

However, when she took the phone and saw Xu Mingzhi's photo, she was stunned.

Although she looked like a modern person.

2

But...

In just a few seconds, her eyes reddened.

Pei Huai's body froze. He had not expected her to react like this. If he had known, he would not have shown it to her.

He had never seen Su Ji like this, and his heart ached for her. "What's wrong? If you don't like it, I won't mention her anymore."

At the thought of making her cry, the insufferably arrogant Pei Huai was at a loss.

He coaxed her gently, but Su Ji pursed her lips and tightened her jaw. She did not cry or speak.

Su Ji didn't know what was wrong with her, but her emotions were in turmoil.

Not only did the original owner look the same as her, but even her mother looked like hers...

Chapter 129: Close Your Eyes!

When the dutiful Shen Mu saw the door open, he immediately stood up straight and said with great respect and enthusiasm, "Boss, Ms. Su..."

Pei Huai walked past him with Su Ji.

Shen Mu scratched his head in puzzlement.

...

After leaving the lounge, Pei Huai had forgotten that he had a nephew. He had even forgotten that he was actually here to watch his performance. He drove Su Ji back to the company.

In the general manager's office, Su Ji lowered her head and searched for information related to Xu Mingzhi on her phone.

It was already noon, but she had no intention of going for lunch.

Pei Huai accompanied her quietly. He didn't try to pry.

He was very protective and considerate.

Ren Guanghua peeked through the gap in his office door and saw the boss inside. He immediately opened the door to greet him, but Pei Huai stopped him, "go and buy her something to eat."

He told Ren Guanghua to get a few dishes from Godear.

"Yes, boss."

After Ren Guanghua left, the office fell into silence again.

Then, Pei Xi pushed the door open cheerfully, "Su Ji! You guys are back? Did the performance go smoothly? Your hairstyle is so cute!"

As soon as she arrived, the quietness of the office was broken.

"Can you lower your voice?" PEI Huai glanced at her indifferently.

Su Ji had also calmed down by now. She put away her phone and said, "yes, it went quite smoothly."

She was very close to her mother, and her mother was her only family member. She was also the only person she could talk to about anything, apart from her bestie.

Now that she was in a different world, and saw someone who looked the same as her dead mother, it was not surprising that she was so shaken.

But fortunately, she recovered quickly.

However, Pei Xi could still tell that she was not in a good mood. She walked over to her and sat down beside her, "Su Ji, have you had lunch?"

"Manager Ren went to buy it for me," Su Ji replied.

Pei Huai chuckled. He thought that she had been immersed in her own world and had no awareness of her surroundings.

He didn't expect her to pay attention to their conversation.

Hearing his laughter, Su Ji turned her head and glanced at him. She recalled what had happened in the kindergarten lounge and said coldly, "you, leave."

"Alright, I'll go," Pei Huai laughed again.

He said that, but he didn't move at all.

He just sat opposite Su Ji and looked at her.

It was as if the empty space in his heart could only be filled if he had her in his eyes.

Five minutes later, Pei Xi reminded him, "she asked you to go."

Pei Huai's gaze slowly fell on her, and after a few minutes, he stood up and left.

"Remember to eat."

When Shen Mu received the boss' call, he and Pei Xingxing were at the entrance of the kindergarten.

The autumn wind had messed up both of their hair.

“...”

The boss had left with the car...

Shen Mu didn't dare to call the boss. After all, when they came out of the lounge, something seemed off

Now that he finally received a call from the boss, Shen Mu looked as if he had finally been saved, “boss, are you...”

“Tell the others that we are having a meeting.”

Before he could finish, Pei Huai had already given him an order.

Shen Mu immediately knew that it was over.

The boss must have suffered in Ms. Su's hands!

Whenever the CEO was frustrated with Ms. Su, he would ask for a meeting!

It was extremely terrifying!

Didn't he sound happy in the lounge?

**

Indeed, an hour later, the meeting officially began.

The curtains in the conference room were closed, and the screen was flashing.

Pei Huai projected the screen on his phone while searching for information for the meeting.

His slender fingers swiped left and right on the screen. Suddenly, he realized something and looked up. As expected, everyone's eyes were on the big screen.

The screen showed his new wallpaper.

The app icons blocked some of the view, but they could clearly see Su Ji's dancing ponytails on the screen!

This was not the first time they had seen Su Ji on his phone. The higher-ups were tactful. At this moment, they were very calm and admired her from an artistic point of view!

The veins on Pei Huai's forehead throbbed. A second later, he rebuked in a low voice, “close your eyes.”

They quivered and obediently closed their eyes!

**

Su Ji's mood had completely recovered after lunch.

She followed Pan Lian and Meng Na to the recording studio.

Because of the performance at the kindergarten today, everyone was quite inspired.

Meng Na wrote a theme song that was full of love.

Pan Lian and Su Ji both thought it was not bad, but...it was just lacking a little something.

The chorus must be more catchy.

It should make the listeners long for love!

Pan Lian asked, "you're going to start shooting next Monday, right? We have to speed up our progress."

Su Ji nodded, and a tune appeared in her mind.

Pan Lian wanted to say something but was stopped by Meng Na.

"Shush, she's thought of something."

Pan Lian quickly covered her mouth with one hand.

The two of them waited quietly for ten minutes. Su Ji curled her lips and used her leg to pull a chair toward them. She sat down and hummed the tune in her mind.

The recording studio fell silent.

Su Ji had only hummed a tune without adding any lyrics, but Pan Lian's heart was beating so fast that it was about to jump out.

As for Meng Na, she stared at Su Ji with a burning gaze. She was afraid that she would not be able to control herself...and fall in love with her!

"How did you think of this? It was filled with both bittersweet love and strong desire! I was both nervous and excited when I heard it!"

"Yeah, where did you get the inspiration? It's so good!"

"From the performance today," Su Ji squinted.

1

"Just like that? That's impossible!"

"Nothing is impossible," Su Ji coughed awkwardly.

She stood up and slung her backpack over her shoulder, "I'll leave the rest to you. I'm going home first."

Based on the tune she came up with, Meng Na could come up with a demo.

"Ah, sure," Meng Na said.

"Rest early!"

She would never let them know that her inspiration came from the lounge when she and Pei Huai...

Chapter 130: A New Experience

Su Ji didn't return home to prepare for tomorrow's filming, unlike what Pan Lian thought.

Today's incident made her suddenly recall the past.

Then, she remembered that she still had an unofficial history book that she had not finished reading.

...

She bought this book out of curiosity and wanted to know who the second male lead was.

However, there were more than 23,000 chapters in total, and it was impossible to finish reading all of them. Su Ji planned to jump straight to the main chapters to find out what was going on.

When she got home, Su Ji greeted Su Cunyi and went back to her room.

She took out the book, spread it out on the table, and opened the table of contents.

From the 200th chapter onwards, a name appeared frequently in the table of contents.

"King Huai."

Because there were too many male leads in the book, Su Ji was not in a hurry to come to a conclusion. She continued to read the title of more than 100 chapters.

Then, she saw it.

"The devil concubine has learned an ultimate move. King Huai persevered for 49 days and finally broke!"

"..."

The story in the book went like this, "in the 72nd year of the Shang Dynasty, King Huai led the army to war."

"Concubine Su had heard that a divine-looking, and powerful general had arrived at the great Shang army camp."

"He was twenty-nine years old, but he was not married."

"Legends said that he had a beautiful voice and face."

"He was the most beautiful man recorded in history, which was why he wore a mask every time he went to the battlefield."

"The devil concubine who wanted to see the general disguised as a man and sneaked into the military camp, but she was exposed on the same day."

"However, King Huai was the vassal king of great Shang, and the devil concubine was the king's favorite concubine."

"Prince Huai couldn't do anything to her, so she could only let her mess around in the camp."

"The concubine hid in his tent every night, but King Huai's mental strength was unparalleled. How could he commit such a crime?"

“Later on, the concubine met an expert in the military camp and learned an ultimate technique. In the end, she made Prince Huai...”

The author wrote a hundred chapters just to whet the readers’ appetites, and he was going to go all out in this chapter!

One could only imagine the effect in the end!

It was like a rocket taking off!

Bombs exploded!

And this chapter was also the most wonderful chapter in the entire book.

From this chapter onwards, the devil concubine and King Huai began a new life in the military camp!

Su Ji’s hand trembled, and she almost tore the book to pieces...

She had indeed disguised herself as a man to sneak into the military camp...

But she was going to war!

The actual war!

With this, she could confirm that King Huai was the second male lead.

Su Ji touched her chin.

King Huai...

She did not recognize this name...

She remembered the royal relatives who were always causing problems.

However, King Huai’s character seemed familiar.

He always wore a mask, and he was close to 30 years old, but he had yet to be married.

When she went to war with the army, it seemed like she met her friend for the first time at King Huai’s camp.

When she flipped to Chapter 419, there was a short note by the author.

The author explained why he made King Huai the second male lead in the book.

According to historical records, King Huai had a lot of military power. After the death of the king, he could have easily ascended to the top, but he preferred to be an idle vassal king and help Concubine Su manage the government.

And less than a year after the death of Concubine Su, Prince Huai also passed away.

Su Ji looked at it for a long time and gave a one-word evaluation, “nonsense.”

Su Cunyi suddenly appeared behind her, “Su Ji, are you reading history books?”

Su Ji's hand, which was about to flip the pages, suddenly stopped.

She had forgotten to close the door when she entered the room.

This was the only page in the entire book that was related to history. Every other page had a picture that depicted some body parts.

1

But she couldn't close the book, because the cover was even more explicit.

Su Ji could only push the page back and calmly turn around, "yes, dad?"

It seemed that this was the first time Su Cunyi had heard her call him dad.

Feeling flattered, he said, "nothing." He put a card on the page, "you're going to start filming tomorrow, this is a little gift from me. Buy some decent clothes for yourself and some food for the crew to build a good relationship with them..."

Su Ji didn't lack money now, so she didn't want to accept Su Cunyi's money.

Especially after she saw that the original owner's mother looked exactly like her own mother.

However, just as she picked up the card and was about to return it, Su Cunyi put the card back and closed the book with his other hand. He wanted to clip the card inside, in case Su Ji didn't want to...

Su Ji was speechless.

Fortunately, she was strong, and she put her finger on the edge of the book, so Su Cunyi couldn't close it.

He thought that the book was stuck on the table. Before he could check, Su Ji said helplessly, "alright, then I'll accept it."

Su Cunyi smiled, "great. Take your time to read. I'll get someone to call you when dinner is ready."

After he left, Su Ji closed the book with a dark face.

To avoid such an awkward situation at home in the future, she stuffed the book directly into her backpack.

If there was a chance, she would find a place without a camera and throw it away.

**

Since "The Billion Stars" was filmed and aired at the same time, the filming was done in chronological order.

The first day of filming was a scene between Si Jingchuan and Su Ji.

It was a scene in high school where the male lead confessed to the second female lead and was rejected.

Before Si Jingchuan arrived, Su Ji was already there.

Today's filming location was a school, and the production team had informed the school in advance.

The staff dispersed to set up the place. It was time for students to go to class, so the campus was relatively quiet. However, there were still students who slipped away from class to peek at them.

It could be seen from the window seats in almost every classroom.

After all, it wasn't common for celebrities to come to their school for filming.

This was produced by Blue Whale and other big companies.

Only part of the crew were from Blue Whale while the director, assistant director and many actors and actresses were from other companies.

At the previous press conference, the higher-ups of Blue Whale were all present. These people were very restrained and looked very polite.

However, it was different today. One or two of them had revealed their true colors.

Seeing that Su Ji was reading the script, they started to whisper and discuss enthusiastically.

"That's her. I don't know which of the Blue Whale's higher-ups has hooked up with her, but they've specially arranged a role for her at the last minute!"

"Zhou Xuefang is so pitiful. She has to share such a good scene with others."

"On the night of the press conference, I saw that Manager Ren sent her home. Is it him?"

"But I heard that it was CEO Pei who..."

"That's impossible. CEO PEI is famous for being cold. It must be Manager Ren. Did you see the corner of her lips? I don't think it's an allergy!"

"Don't talk nonsense!" Song Heng interrupted the gossip.

Since he was the director, they immediately dispersed.

Song Heng was rather proud of himself for helping Su Ji.

He walked in front of Su Ji and said, "Su Ji, let's talk..."