

Concubine 38

Chapter 38: Su Ji and Master Pei's First Appearance in a Variety Show

In an instant, all the cameras were focused on Su Ji.

The sign on Su Ji's hand.

Pei Huai glanced at the card in her hand. "Take it down a little."

...

Su Ji immediately lowered her hand obediently.

Pei Huai shifted his gaze.

No wonder she wasn't popular. She didn't even know that the sign was blocking her face.

After the two finished their appearance, they sat in the VIP seats prepared by the director for the title sponsors. There was a camera next to them recording the two.

After all the guests met each other, the host led them to get to know each other with a game.

Zhou Xuefang didn't look for the director in advance for nothing. When the host interviewed the girl group, both questions revolved around her.

When she answered, a strand of hair flew to her mouth, and Meng Na helped her take it away.

This action caused many staff members to jump in excitement.

Pan Lian didn't like to show off. Sometimes, when her mind wandered to outer space, she would even go off the camera.

There were some mineral water bottles and nuts by the VIP seats.

Pei Huai turned around.

A young lady looked boredly at the stage, maintaining a state where a shot from any angle would still look perfect. If it weren't for the fact that she occasionally moved her chin, Pei Huai would have been fooled by her.

On the side, Su Ji was already snacking on the nuts and drank half a bottle of mineral water.

Pei Huai reached out for a bottle of water. Just as he was about to open the cap, Su Ji spoke like she was the boss, without turning her head, "I've unscrewed it for you."

She opened it for him? Strange.

Pei Huai was silent. He suddenly thought that it's useful to be rich.

He took a sip of water and leaned back. He crossed his long legs and changed into a more comfortable sitting position.

The two of them sat side by side, both in a very relaxed state.

They were not even that comfortable at home.

Many typical Chinese variety shows would talk about ancient cultures.

And this week's theme was the tomb of the demon concubine that had received a lot of attention recently!

Under the host's introduction, a few men in black pushed a relic, which had been temporarily borrowed from the National Museum, onto the stage.

Since it was a variety show, of course, it had to be educational and fun.

A strange-shaped bronze vessel was brought to the scene.

It was shaped like a pot, with a pointy mouth that was curved into a semi-arc.

The host smiled mysteriously. "Now, I'd like our guests to have a guess. What was this bronze item used for during the Shang Dynasty?"

To be able to see authentic bronzeware from thousands of years ago with their own eyes, even the celebrity guests were very excited.

Some said it looked like a flower vase.

"Don't you think it looks like our decanter?" Meng Na suddenly realized.

"Now that you've mentioned it, I think so too!"

Su Ji sighed.

Wasn't that the decanter that she had custom-made back then?

At this moment, Zhou Xuefang received a look from Chen Jing. She suddenly smiled. "A decanter didn't exist thousands of years ago! They were not that technologically-advanced yet."

Meng Na laughed and immediately changed her words. "You're right. "

Su Ji was speechless.

Who are you looking down on?

The shape and curvature of the spout had been carefully designed by her!

"You're right!" However, the host immediately affirmed Zhou Xuefang's words, "if you want to know what this is for, let's ask..."

Su Ji looked at the two famous Chinese historians on stage with a dumbfounded expression.

There was someone who knew better than her what this thing was for?
