

Concubine 461

Chapter 461: Old Zhou...

The next morning, before dawn, the guests could smell the strong fragrance of milk tea.

They woke up and saw Lu Shang brewing milk tea.

...

They knew that Lu Shang was good at cooking, but since coming to the island, he was doing hard labor. If he were in charge of cooking, they would have one less worker. So this was the first time Lu Shang cooked.

"It smells so good. Why are you suddenly in the mood to make milk tea for us today?"

When the guests woke up, each of them had a cup of thick milk tea. It was comforting and their moods improved.

After everyone finished drinking, Lu Shang finally voiced his request.

He woke up before five in the morning, of course, for Nan Miaomiao,

It was about last night. Nan Miaomiao said that she didn't do it and there might be a misunderstanding. So, he hoped that everyone would not mention this matter for the time being during the livestream. Give them some time. It wouldn't be too late to talk about it when the truth was revealed.

Nan Miaomiao's milk tea had sugar in it. She sipped the milk tea and blinked.

She hadn't thought about that.

That's right, what happened last night was just a prelude. When the livestream started, things might not be as simple.

If the netizens knew about it, it didn't matter if Nan Miaomiao did it or not. There was no way she could clear her name, and her career would be finished.

Sonya pursed her lips and smiled. "Miaomiao, Lu Shang is so nice to you. He's so thoughtful."

Nan Miaomiao glanced at her and didn't say anything.

The guests themselves had no objections to Lu Shang's suggestion. Xiao Ken said, "if CEO Pei has no objections, we don't mind."

Lu Shang poured a cup of milk tea and sent it to the tent.

A few minutes later, Pei Huai came out with his hands buttoning up his shirt. It was only when he buttoned the last button that he noticed Lu Shang holding the milk tea.

Pei Huai asked warily, "how long have you been eavesdropping?"

"Eaves..." Lu Shang froze. When Su Ji came out again, he said, "I didn't hear anything. Do you want some milk tea? I just made it." Pei Huai glanced at him.

Lu Shang knew it. "Su Ji, do you want to drink some?"

Su Ji happily took it and took a sip.

Lu Shang waited for her to finish drinking before telling her the same thing he told the others.

She looked at Nan Miaomiao, her mind spinning quickly. "Sure, but...I have a condition."

"Tell me."

Let's not talk about this incident for now. Nan Miaomiao had caused trouble for her in the past. It was also true that she had caused trouble for the crew of "The Billion Stars". Although she had improved a lot after coming to the deserted island, it was well known that Nan Miaomiao loved to slack off.

"Every day, I will give her tasks. If she can complete the day's tasks, I won't mention what happened last night. If she doesn't complete them, then don't blame me..."

To be honest, this request was simpler than Lu Shang had imagined. Su Ji was easy on her.

But Sonya felt indignant for Nan Miaomiao.

Su Ji was too despicable!

"Miaomiao," she advised, "don't be angry. A wise man doesn't fight when the odds are against him. If you can't finish it, I'll help you..."

Unexpectedly, Nan Miaomiao was not angry at all. She lowered her head and was rather shy. "No problem. What do you want me to do? I'll do anything..."

Pei Huai: ‘

The guests: ‘

With her current infatuation with Su Ji, it did not seem like she would harm her.

From that morning onwards, Nan Miaomiao seemed to have changed into a different person. She did not dawdle at work anymore.

She had to earn work points to maintain her reputation!

Although the other guests kept their promise and kept their mouths shut about what happened last night, they still distanced themselves from Nan Miaomiao. ["What happened last night? Why did the atmosphere feel weird?"]

["Why is everyone sitting so far away from Ms. Nan? It makes her look so lonely!"]

For the next few days, the guests on the island performed their duties.

Small Bear had meat soup and vegetables to eat every day. He also got an apple each day, which was full of nutrients. He was gaining weight rapidly. Pei Huai was worried that the meat on his body would be too fatty and his girlfriend would not be willing to eat it.

Therefore, Pei Huai even made a bicycle for the bear. The other end of the bicycle was connected to their solar charger, which provided another source of power, greatly increasing their efficiency.

From that day on, Small Bear would ride his bicycle for two hours every day.

Ji Xi made a small straw hat for him. It was a little small, but it looked delicate on his head.

Imagine seeing a wild bear wearing a small straw hat pedaling a bicycle to generate electricity for the guests. The scene was too cute!

Pei Huai's arm injury was recovering very well. No matter how busy Su Ji was, she applied medicine for him every day. Pei Huai didn't want her to do anything except apply medicine for himself.

During her time on the island, Cao Zhuzhu received two videos on WeChat. They were both sent to her by Pei Xingxing. The camera did not capture his entire face. She could see Pei Xingxing's mouth with one of his front teeth missing.

He told Zhuzhu and Su Ji to be careful. If they encountered danger, they could leave his uncle behind, but the two of them had to come back safely.

Sonya was very depressed the two days after she saw Zhuzhu watching the video.

The structure of the boat became more defined. When the base was completed, everyone moved it to the beach and anchored it, then attached the upper part. Otherwise, when it was all completed, it would be too heavy to move even with Pei Huai and Su Ji around.

They had been on the island for only two weeks.

This was probably the most efficient survival program.

Duan Shengquan sent a few of Old Zhou's capable subordinates from A City to assist him in case he was too busy.

One of them was Dong Xiyou, the newcomer with the most potential.

Dong Xiyou entered work mode as soon as she arrived. Old Zhou admired her no-nonsense attitude. He even praised her several times in meetings.

Dong Xiyou was very motivated.

She followed the guests' progress. That day, the crew's meeting had ended early. Dong Xiyou was holding a thick pile of materials and knocking on her boss' door.

He tended to immerse himself in his work and usually hated it when people entered his office. Therefore, when his subordinates wanted to talk to him, they would usually knock and speak through the door.

"Sir, the guests are moving faster and faster. It's almost time for us to prepare for the night of victory."

Half a minute later, a low voice came from inside. "There's no hurry, let's focus on the island first."

Dong Xiyou said, "but sir..."

"I'm busy right now," Old Zhou interrupted, "let's talk about it later."

Dong Xiyou wanted to say something but hesitated. She stood at the door for a while and finally left.

The man in his forties who was in the office had a devilish look on his face.

He was wearing a small decorative Bagua mirror on his chest.

Victory night?

Let's see if they manage to escape first...

Chapter 462: Kill Her Again...

Old Zhou's phone lit up silently.

["Zicheng, I'm your second aunt. I sent you several messages but you didn't reply. Do you not remember me? When we were in Zhoujia Village, we lived diagonally behind your house. My daughter's name is Xuefang. You used to praise her for being a celebrity, remember? She's also in the entertainment industry. She's been in a bit of trouble recently. I heard that you're working on a big project now. We're relatives, and relatives should help each other out. Don't worry, Xuefang has a lot of potential. When she makes a comeback, she won't forget you..."]

...

The new message was only displayed for a second before it filtered out as junk.

Lychee TV's famous Old Zhou, whose full name was Zhou Zicheng, was Lychee

TV's top planner. Zhou Zicheng would receive a lot of messages like these every day.

Before the car accident, the people from his village would contact him from time to time, but after the car accident, they stopped.

He turned his head to look out the window. His dark eyes were turbid. Upon closer inspection, they looked like two whirlpools.

His dry lips parted slightly, and he exhaled hot breaths. He muttered in a low voice, "kill her again. Maybe we can go back..."

Outside the office, the staff were busy with the contents of the morning meeting.

Zhou Zicheng's work motto was always "creating miracles in the entertainment industry."

Someone saw Dong Xiyu leave Old Zhou's office and asked her, "is he still busy?"

Dong Xiyu nodded. "If it's not an emergency, you'd better wait for a while."

The person smiled kindly. "Alright, I just want to inform him that the cameras are ready. It's not an urgent matter."

"Cameras?"

"Yes, they are dust-proof and heat-resistant, best for geological exploration."

Dong Xiyu nodded calmly, wondering what her boss wanted to film with such professional equipment.

He saw her confusion and laughed. "You'll be able to experience a lot in the future as long as you are under Old Zhou. Director Duan has allocated a lot of funds for us, so we can buy a lot of equipment."

"Right," Dong Xiyou scratched the back of her head.

"Old Zhou has the same name as our national hero, Zhou Zicheng. Anyway, I feel that anyone with this name is not an ordinary person!"

Dong Xiyou smiled.

On the island, the escape boat was almost ready.

It looked spectacular.

Looking at the ship, they felt that the civilized society outside the island was getting closer and closer to them.

The guests began to plan what to do after leaving the island.

Li Shuguo looked at the tunes he had recorded on his phone during this period of time. They were all inspired by his life on a deserted island.

This kind of experience was not something that ordinary people could have. It was priceless.

"When we leave this island, I'm going to use these materials to write a ballad."

He looked at Xiao Ken, who was hammering wooden stakes on the boat, "Xiao Ken, I want to add some new elements to this song. How about you write a rap segment for me?"

Xiao Ken almost hit his hand with the hammer. The corner of his mouth twitched. "You want to rap?"

Li Shuguo was calm. "Yeah, do you think I can do it?"

The sunset behind him was brilliant, but cold sweat was dripping down the back of Xiao Ken's head. "I think...sure..."

If Tong Le were there, he would definitely laugh at him!

Casar looked at Pei Huai, who was supervising the work. "Pei Huai, I've told you everything about my proposal. After we leave this lousy place, can we..."

"Send me the contract later," Pei Huai said casually. He turned around and held Lu Shang's hand. "It's too long."

"Ah?" Lu Shang felt that the length was right. At first, he did not believe it, but later, he compared the sawed length with the one in the example, it was 1 cm longer!

Was his eyes a ruler?

Casar felt like a stone had been lifted from his heart.

It was not in vain that he, the dignified crown prince, had worked hard on the deserted island for half a month!

“What’s the first thing you do when you get back?”

Pei Huai looked at Casar when he heard that. “I am going to...”

He stopped when he saw the drone above him. “Forget it, I can’t say it on camera.”

[“No, CEO Pei, tell us!”]

[‘We want to listen to premium content!’]

The women were chatting on the beach not far away. Now, the rest of the work was basically done by the men. The women just enjoyed the sun and the beach.

Jiang Cuiqin held the parasol. “Zhuzhu, I hope I can still hear you play the lute with Su Ji again when we get back.”

Cao Zhuzhu nodded.

Sonya said, “Zhuzhu is the luckiest among us. She stayed on the island for the shortest time.”

Cao Zhuzhu said, “I feel that it’s a pity. I quite like it here.”

Sonya did not comment on her statement.

When the sky was completely dark, Jiang Cuiqin put away the parasol. “Su Ji’s sunblock is really good. The sun on the island is so strong, but I didn’t get tanned at all. When I go back, I’ll have a full-body spa to relax.”

Nan Miaomiao said, “Ms. Jiang, you’re thinking the same thing as me. Shall we go together?”

Jiang Cuiqin looked at her, “Miaomiao...I think the first thing you should do after you go back is to take responsibility for what you have done...” Nan Miaomiao froze. She almost forgot that she was still the scapegoat.

Wang Yi and Su Ji came back from the shrubland.

Wang Yi said, “the volcano doesn’t show any signs of erupting in the near future. We can leave before it does.”

“I hope so.”

Wang Yi pushed his glasses up. “I asked my friend who does geological surveying. He’s very good at predicting volcanic eruptions.”

Su Ji smiled and suddenly became serious. “Dr. Wang, why don’t you come to my house for dinner after we leave? My mom said she wanted to invite you and Madam Du.”

The calm Dr. Wang suddenly lost the ability to think calmly. “Oh...”

[“I feel like my vacation is about to end. I’ll miss it!”]

[“I’m already used to the timezone in deserted island for the past half a month.

I didn’t expect to have to change it back so soon!”]

There was a happy atmosphere on the beach, but what they didn’t know was that a drone without a camera was flying toward the volcano...

Chapter 463: Volcano Eruption!

The guests stayed up all night, wanting to finish all the finishing touches on the ship.

...

Unfortunately, they still needed more wood. After dark, it would not be safe to collect more, so they had to wait.

Wang Yi planned to leave the island tomorrow morning.

The others agreed.

“Then let’s get up early tomorrow and get the remaining wood when there’s light.”

“No problem.”

“Agreed!”

The next day, before dawn, there was movement in the bear’s cage.

The small bear was sleeping in the soft haystack. A huge figure moved in the grass outside the cage. A moment later, a big furry paw stepped on the ground domineeringly, splitting the grass in the middle.

The small bear twitched its nose as if it had smelled a familiar scent. It opened its eyes in a daze...its big brother was there!

When the big bear stood up, it was taller than the cage!

Small Bear stood close to the cage. It hadn’t seen its big brother for a long time. It missed it so much!!

Big bear’s expression was very fierce, and it let out a low roar.

It had only been a few days since they last met, and this good-for-nothing was already captured. If it weren’t for their relationship, he wouldn’t have bothered to save it!

After being scolded, the small bear stood with its head lowered, feeling wronged. It scratched its belly with its big claws, and it still had its favorite straw hat on its head.

The big bear was angry seeing the small bear in that state. It immediately grabbed the cage and pulled it upwards.

The surrounding soil loosened, and sturdy wooden stakes rose from the ground bit by bit.

“Whoosh!”

The two wooden stakes were thrown behind it.

Small Bear:

The big bear gave it a wicked smile, then turned around and left.

However, after running for a distance, the big bear felt that something was wrong. He turned around and saw that the small bear was still in the same place, scratching its belly with a troubled expression.

Big Bear:

It would never have thought that after a few days with the humans...it couldn't bear to leave!

There was food, water and a gentle woman who made straw hats for it.

It even had a bicycle!

Not only did the small bear not want to leave, but it also wanted its big brother to stay. At this moment, it stood beside the broken cage and waved at its big brother to come back.

This fool, it still didn't know that they were fattening it up!

The small bear didn't believe it. It was so cute that humans wouldn't eat it!

At this moment, the sky was just beginning to brighten, and those who planned to get up early to cut down the trees had already woken up.

The big bear did not want to waste any more time, so it left the small bear behind.

Small Bear took off its straw hat and placed it in front of him. For some reason, it felt a little sad as if it was seeing the big bear for the last time. Casar yawned. After washing up, he walked past the cage and looked inside.

The small bear had already obediently returned to its cage and lay down, so Casar did not even notice that the cage had been torn apart.

Pei Huai was with them, but he did not wake Su Ji.

It was too early for her to get up. Moreover, she had been busy recently and urgently needed to catch up on sleep.

In the shrubland, the men were chopping wood while the women were preparing breakfast.

They had slept for four hours last night and woke up two hours earlier than usual this morning. Logically speaking, they should be tired. However, they were finally about to leave this damn place, so everyone was surprisingly motivated.

However, just as they arrived at the designated location, a muffled bang suddenly sounded in the sky.

It was ear-piercing in the quiet morning, making one's heart skip a beat.

Ji Xi asked, "is it going to rain? "

She looked up. The sky was indeed foggy and gloomy. At first, everyone thought it was thunder.

"It's not thunder," Pei Huai suddenly looked at the volcano.

Everyone followed suit and looked over. The next second, some of their faces turned pale, and some of them covered their mouths. Nan Miaomiao's legs went soft, but fortunately, Lu Shang caught her in time.

The scene in front of her was something that Nan Miaomiao had only seen in sci-fi movies!

And seeing it with her own eyes, the shock was far beyond imagination.

The fear of death rose.

Thick black smoke spewed from the volcano in the distance. Yellow lava flames could be vaguely seen in the smoke. It was like a pot of boiling water shooting down from the sky.

The beasts in the shrubland fled, and the birds that were resting flew out of the forest. The quiet morning was instantly disturbed.

Nan Miaomiao thought that the crew made a holographic image just to scare the netizens, but they had already smelled sulfur... "What? Is the volcano really going to erupt?"

"This is too much!"

"I don't want to die yet!"

"What a coincidence. We could have left the island today!"

"Damned Director Duan, are you really not going to care about our lives for the sake of the show?"

Wang Yi frowned suspiciously. How could this be? They had just checked the volcano yesterday.

It was impossible for it to suddenly erupt...

Then, before anyone could think further, they saw the huge volcanic rock flying towards them due to the impact of the volcanic eruption, shattering in all directions.

In the distance, there were the howls of wild beasts.

Some gravel hit the trunk beside Sonya. It was a small gravel that was cracked in the middle, but it broke a decade-old tree in half.

Immediately after, more rocks flew over their heads towards the camp.

In an instant, the earth and the mountains shook.

The volcano looked very far away, but the danger was very close to them!

Sonya swallowed hard, and her body was instantly covered in cold sweat. "Dr.

Wang, where's the cave you mentioned earlier? We can hide there, right?"

Fortunately, he had made preparations in advance. Wang Yi calmly commanded everyone, "everyone, follow me. The cave is this way!"

Large waves of lava rushed towards them with scorching heat, fiercer than the waves. Wherever it passed, it devoured everything.

The power of the volcano's eruption was much greater than he had imagined!

Ji Xi supported Jiang Cuiqin, Lu Shang hugged Nan Miaomiao tightly, and Li Shuguo, whose legs were not listening to him, was dragged away by Casar and Xiao Ken.

Nan Miaomiao looked behind Sonya. 'Where's Zhuzhu? She seemed to be picking wild fruits over there just now!'

Sonya's lips trembled. "I didn't see her. Did she go somewhere to hide? Why don't we ..."

"Zhuzhu!"

At that moment, Nan Miaomiao saw Cao Zhuzhu's figure in the grass behind her and quickly called for her to come over.

Cao Zhuzhu, who had almost gotten separated from her team, ran over.

Sonya pursed her lips tightly.

Wang Yi turned around to look at the guests as he led the way, afraid that someone would fall behind. However, he noticed something and suddenly stopped.

Pei Huai was not there!