Chapter 1018: Dragon Goddess of the Apocalypse.

With Nero.

Chapter 1018: Dragon Goddess of the Apocalypse.

Nero asked herself a question, a question she had been repeating over and over again. How many times did she repeat this loop?

How many times has she tried different alternatives?

Threaten her caregivers. Leave the gallows. Manipulate them in some way. Activating the base's self-destruction system when Victor's incident occurred. She has completely exhausted her alternatives to leaving this place.

'How long have I been here?'

She does not know. She has no way of knowing. The only thing she knows is that she needs to get out somehow. Honestly, if it weren't for her unconditional trust in her father's constant presence in her memories, and in her heart, she would have already gone crazy in this place. The world shatters again after Nero's attempt to casually walk out the front door, and soon she is back in the family room.

Nero visibly sighs when he sees these two beings.

The door opens and her caregivers appear again.

The two caretakers visibly stopped in shock when they heard Nero's words.

A predictable reaction, a reaction that Nero has seen several times, in different forms. Beings tend to get creative when faced with an irrational situation like a time loop.

"This is unexpected..." "And to think she had the strength to-."

"Yeah yeah. How can this weak and depressed child have so much strength to speak? Blah, Blah. Honestly, this conversation is old." Nero, who was previously a very quiet and kind woman, became a cynical woman who likes to provoke others.

The caregiver visibly shivered when he heard those words.

But in her defense, the old Nero didn't have to go through this constant time loop.

"I know many things." Nero nodded, in the various loops, she learned more about her caregivers, what they like, what they dislike, and even a little about their personal lives.

"By the way, how is Mary?"

"For example, you, your codename in this shitty organization is 069, your partner's codename is 096, I also know that the wife named Mary from number 069 is selling her body to a noble vampire in exchange for bene ts."

just for a minor bene t. Umu, such an attitude would never happen to my beloved Daddy, he is a lot of terrible things that would make lesser beings shit themselves with fear, but he is not a cuckold."

"...Hmm, I think that's because your taste in women is quite peculiar. A yandere, huh. A psychotic woman who is only beautiful and beautiful when you are stronger than her. I feel a little sorry for Adonis, being weak is a crime in this world."

The two caregivers went through waves of emotions, they were surprised, shocked, cautious, and then in disbelief, some things that came out of Nero's mouth were completely incomprehensible, other things were something that no one should

They didn't bother reporting this to the higher ups after all, they should already know this considering this whole place is full of cameras and forms of surveillance, the hybrid was very important to Niklaus' plans after all.

"Yes..." 096 spoke.

While Nero chattered.

"... I can't pierce the subject's skin." "The subject has a name, you know? My name is Nero." Nero's eyes narrowed slightly as blood-red draconic slits took over the pupils of her eyes. "Nero Elder-... Nevermind, you vermin aren't worthy of hearing my grand surname." She scoffed as 'I guess that's one of the advantages of being in an eternal loop, after that incident with my dragon side awakening, with each new loop, I could subtly feel much stronger, with my current strength, I could easily walk out the front door without any dif culty.' Despite knowing this, Nero still hadn't done anything, after all, she had tried everything, the answer wasn't to

She had already understood that, because of that, in some of the loops, she in Itrated the organization even further, but Fortunately, Nero was kind to them and told them what they should do. "Continue your work... Not that it will work

Taking the syringe, 096 tried again to pierce Nero's skin, but the syringe wouldn't go through. "Try the syringe we use for the stronger werewolves." 069 spoke.

'Honestly, I'm so tired...' Her exhaustion was more mental than physical, at this point, she didn't even care about this

These thoughts were a greater source of concern than being in this damn room!

While the two continued with their futile attempts, Nero was lost in thought.

She was mentally exhausted. Would she be able to get out of here? Would she be able to see her father again? Not just her

"Hiiii!" The two caretakers fell backwards in fear. Immediately, alarm sounds started blaring, the caretakers wet themselves in fear when they saw Nero, her short white hair

The dragon's mouth opened, and a powerful dark divine sphere formed in its mouth.

A smile full of sharp teeth appeared on her face. "And my decree is... DEATH."

The vampires were on high alert; beings only died when they approached the dragon; everyone was dying; they didn't know what was happening.

3 seconds passed... And it was at this moment that everything was turned upside down.

All of this happened in less than 30 seconds, events that shouldn't happen so easily. They began to happen on a large scale and in a very uncontrolled manner.

"... Just because of that..."

"Okay."

The two caretakers glanced at each other for a few seconds, and nodded, they just decided to continue their work quickly.

This place, which was a terrifying room for her, had become a familiar room, and at the same time, it disgusted her internally, but she no longer felt fear.

'... I just want to go back to my father and feel his embrace...' Small tears threatened to fall from her eyes when this thought

She didn't care about this place anymore, she didn't care about these two caretakers, they could go to hell for all she cared,

"Haah..." Nero sighed again, and with a ick of her wrist, she freed herself from her restraints. "Staying in this position is annoying."

Such was the difference between the two beings; even in their weakest states, few beings could contend with dragons. Nero sits, crosses her legs, and rests her head in her hand with a rather bored posture. Her eyes, now completely draconic,

"I won't mind if you hate me, child." Reality shattered; instead of the white room, she was in a dark forest surrounded by werewolves, noble vampires, and vampire slaves. She was much younger than her current self, just a powerless little girl who found herself being hunted because of her unique birth.

Her parents were killed by both vampires and werewolves, her home was destroyed, her 'normal' life taken from her.

"... W-Why?" She asked, a simple question that she herself didn't know if it would be answered, but surprisingly, the old

"But in the end, you can only do this. You are weak, after all." A hybrid doesn't have much potential; they are crippled by their own existence. The prospect of Nero getting stronger in the future was an impossibility, which must be why Niklaus was talking to her. ... Or maybe, he just felt that way because this girl somehow reminded him of his daughter, the true appearance of his as if they were two very scary bogeymen, but now, she only felt indifference and disgust for being afraid of 'them.'

"Because they were weak, my mother and father were killed... Because I was weak, I was captured and used as a lab rat."

Because he was strong... No, because he was the strongest. In the supernatural world where gods, demons, dragons, and

The pure pressure emanating from her body pushed everything around her away; the two caretakers had long turned into

Victor, who was in his noble vampire form, was watching all of this in shock; suddenly, his eyes changed to crimson-violet, and then a small smile appeared on his face. Watching the white apocalypse dragon ying from the ground towards the sky, his smile never disappeared.

While all this was happening, Victor only watched with pride as the majestic white dragon in the air looked coldly at everyone; the twisted smile on its dragon form was visible even from here; she was loving seeing the world burn due to her in uence.

Suddenly, everything turns gray, and the world stops; in the next moment, reality shatters like a mirror.
