

The Billionaire Alpha's Contract Lover by Caesar Erickson

Chapter 1121

Chapter 1121

Jayden suspected that Griffon was helping Preston, but he couldn't quite tell.

Without much thought, he quickly picked up a bottle of wine and walked over to Griffon.

He poured a bit of red wine into Griffon's gla*s, then poured himself a gla*s.

"I'll pour myself a gla*s, you can have whatever you want."

He had just poured a full gla*s for his younger brother, breaking from tradition, so naturally he poured Griffon's gla*s full as well.

Jayden quickly drank his wine, but Griffon only took a small sip, seemingly giving Griffon face but also making him feel a bit embarra*sed.

Jayden, who had better emotional intelligence, didn't say anything, just glanced at the wine gla*s and then looked away, smiling gently at Griffon

"Take your time."

Jayden wanted to leave after finishing his drink, but how could Griffon let him go?

"Andre also wants to have a few drinks with Dr. Sherwood, is that okay?"

Andre, who was eating voraciously with his head down, heard Griffon mention him and quickly put down his utensils, picked up his wine gla*s, and walked over to Jayden.

"Come on, Dr. Sherwood, it's a good day today, let's go drink to our heart's content over there..."

Andre was big and strong, and when he grabbed Jayden's shoulder, Jayden had no resistance and could only be dragged to a corner to drink

Taya looked at Jayden who was being forced to play rock-paper-scissors by Andre, pursed her lips, wanting to say something, but Griffon grabbed her hand that was resting on her leg

"Don't worry, Andre knows his limits."

"I know."

Taya shifted his gaze to Harper, who kept her head down.

"I'm afraid Harper might feel awkward. After all, her current boyfriend is Jayden."

Griffon, who felt that Taya was being blunt, raised his handsome eyebrows slightly.

"If Harper thinks I'm out of line, she'll stop me."

Griffon just wanted to see how much Preston occupied in Harper's heart.

If, in this situation, Harper still pitied Jayden, then Preston would have no chance...

Taya, who didn't know Griffon's intentions, stood up and walked over to Harper, comforting her in a low voice

"Don't worry, Andre won't let him drink too much"

"Um."

Harper awkwardly nodded her head, not knowing what else to say.

Knowing that Griffon was helping, Preston, but also trying not to offend her friend's husband by stopping Andre from forcing Jayden to drink, Harper was caught in a dilemma.

Chapter 1122

For Griffon, Harper's indecisiveness showed that Jayden hadn't made a deep impression in her heart yet, and Preston still had a chance.

Griffon, who realized this, raised his cold eyes and raised his eyebrows at Andre.

"Drink less."

Only then did Andre pat Jayden's back with a smile.

"Dr. Sherwood, you have quite a good alcohol tolerance. I'll treat you again next time. Let's stop here for today."

"Okay, okay..."

Jayden, who was forcibly given several glasses of red wine, was drunk and kept repeating "Okay" for three times.

Andre sneered in his heart. He dared to provoke his younger brother right in front of Griffon even though he couldn't handle his alcohol.

With a bang, Andre put down the wine bottle, turned around, and went back to his own seat. He picked up his knife and fork and continued to eat...

Eat quickly and go back to sleep!

Grace, sitting opposite him, raised his pinky finger at Andre.

"Uncle Big Guy, you're amazing!"

"Huh? What's amazing?"

Andre raised his eyebrows and asked Grace while eating his food.

Grace tilted his thumb in Jayden's direction.

"You got Harper's fiancé drunk. That's amazing!"

Andre stopped his frenzy of cutting his steak and looked up at Grace

"Don't you feel sorry for Harper's fiancé?"

"Why should I feel sorry for him?"

Compared to Uncle Jayden, Grace likes Henry more, so she didn't feel sorry for him.

"I thought you lose your mind when you see someone good-looking"

"I'm not a lovesick girl"

Wow, this kid even knew what being lovesick meant, impressive!

"Alright, stop talking to me. I want to eat!"

"Foodie..."

Grace grumbled, then rolled her eyes and looked at Harper, who was pouring sobering tea for

Jayden

"I still think Uncle Preston and Auntie Harper are a better match..

"What makes you say that?

say it with both my eyes...

This time Andre rolled his eyes

"How boring."

When the two whispered to each other, Henry glanced at Griffon, who was left out.

"Griffon, are you not used to the food? Do you want me to invite a chef to cook for you again?"

Chapter 1123

Although Henry was as polite as Jayden, he did not show any humility when facing Griffon and completely respects him as his boss.

"No, thanks."

After Griffon coldly uttered these two words, he added another sentence to avoid making Henry feel embarrassed.

"I have a bad stomach, so I eat less."

"I see."

Henry, who was very warm-hearted, quickly got up to make some warm stomach soup for him upon hearing about Griffon's stomach problems.

Griffon wanted to stop him, but Henry had already gone to the kitchen

Taya, who had just returned to his seat, saw this and asked him with a smile:

"How about Stella's husband?"

Taya was not aware that Stella and Henry had not succeeded in getting their mating certificate, and mistakenly thought they were already mated.

Griffon had previously learned about Henry's character and knew that he was a very good doctor, so he nodded in agreement.

"He's pretty good."

"What about Dr. Sherwood?"

Since it was rare to see him affirm someone, she couldn't help but ask another question.

He glanced at Jayden, who was dozing off on the table, and did not answer her question, but raised his eyebrows and asked back:

"What do you think?"

This rhetorical question already showed the Griffon' opinion Harper felt a bit embarrassed.

"I'm sorry."

Griffon noticed that Harper heard it, so he responded indifferently by shaking his head.

"It's because of Preston's arrival that caused your embarrassment. I will scold him when we go back."

Griffon may not have the demeanor of a gentleman. He made Andre force Jayden to drink a few more glasses of wine as punishment, but that does not mean he will tolerate Preston's behavior.

Harper did not expect Griffon, who seemed cold on the surface, to be impartial and fair in his actions, not favoring any side. Harper even admired him a bit.

Taya did not mate the wrong person. Having such a composed, rational, emotionally stable husband to rely on for a lifetime is worth

After Harper reaffirmed her brother-in-law in her heart, she thanked him and went to support Jayden

"Senior, let me take you home."

Jayden was not a big drinker, after a few glasses, he was already too drunk to stand steadily.

"Tin a man. I should be the one to take you home."

After Harper supported his unstable body, she persuaded him bellessly. "You're dl
You can't take me home. Let me do it "

Was drink and did not listen to reason. Henry came out of the kitchen with soup and, after seeing the situation, quickly handed the bowl to Griffon and went to help Harper.

"I'll do it, I'll do it..."

Chapter 1124

"Could you help me lift him into the car?"

"Are you leaving now?"

After stabilizing Jayden, Henry asked Harper.

"He's drunk like this, so I should take him home first."

Henry thought about Jayden's surgery tomorrow night, so he didn't dare to persuade them to stay.

"Okay, I'll help him into the car."

With Henry's help, Jayden got into the car. Harper breathed a sigh of relief and quickly thanked him.

"Thank you so much."

"We're friends, no need to be polite."

After waving his hand, Henry frowned and asked her:

"How are you going to help him upstairs when you get back?"

"I'll ask a security guard to help."

Henry didn't say anything more.

Stella and Taya followed them out when they were leaving

"Harper, drive slowly."

"Don't worry."

After waving to everyone, Harper got into the car, fastened her seat belt, and drove towards Jayden's apartment.

Jayden, lying on his side, opened his eyes groggily and looked at Harper who was driving...

"I'm sorry, I messed up tonight..."

She paused for a moment, holding the steering wheel with her fingers, but didn't say anything.

He continued to talk to himself.

"I shouldn't have forced him to drink, and I shouldn't have mocked him..."

"But for some reason, whenever I see him come to find you, I can't control myself *

"I don't like him following you, and I don't like the way he looks at you I always feel like he still wants you."

"You know..."

"Do you think he still hasn't forgotten about you?"

As Jayden spoke, his words became internuttent, and eventually he fell silent.

Harper koked thu sugh the rearview nurror at han who was already filling asleep

It was as if she was being at tam, but it was ebo as if he thoughts were so jumbled that she couldn't distingish her own feehugs

She withdrew fur gaze and keused un driving

She wanted to get out and find the security guard, but then a sports car parked in front of her.

Preston, who was tall and imposing, got out of the car and walked directly to the driver's side window, his face cold.

"Open the door!"

Harper didn't dare to open the car door, she only lowered the window a little and looked at Preston outside.

"Why are you here?"

"Why do you care? Just open the door!"

"I won't open the door unless you tell me what you want to do..."

Who knew if he's here to take revenge on Jayden? She didn't dare to open the door for him.

Preston suppressed his anger and lowered his proud body, looking through the gap and staring at her.

"Help me carry that drunkard upstairs!"

What else could he do?

He couldn't vent his anger by killing someone, and he couldn't use violence either. He could only act like a big idiot and follow along to see if he could help her out.

"You... want help me to carry Jayden?"

Chapter 1125

Harper was surprised by Preston's kindness.

"Do you not understand what I am saying?"

Seeing that he was about to get angry again, she hesitated for a few seconds before unlocking the door.

He then went around to the back seat, opened the car door, and pulled Jayden's hand, dragging him out of the car.

"Hey, don't be so rough, you bumped his head!"

"He deserves it!"

Harper didn't even park the car properly before rushing over.

"Be careful, he's hit his head several times!!!"

"Hey, can you stop dragging him through the emergency exit? He might hit his head on the stairs..."

"Ah-"

Jayden was awakened by the steps, but only groaned once before passing out from the pain.

Harper, who was chasing after them, was extremely scared and quickly rushed over to stop Preston from taking advantage of the situation

"How old are you? Why are you still so childish?!"

Preston, who was indeed childish, had wanted to drag Jayden up, but Harper gave him a cold look and he immediately switched to carrying him.

Preston carried Jayden to the door, pressed his fingerprint, the door opened, and he threw him inside.

There was a loud bang!

Harper was frightened and hurriedly checked Jayden's breathing.

Fortunately, he was still breathing steadily.

After she breathed a sigh of relief, she struggled to help Jayden, who was lying on the ground, onto the sofa.

Then, she got up and went to the bathroom to get a basin of water and a towel, intending to wipe Jayden's face.

Before she could touch his forehead, Preston snatched the towel from her hand.

"I'll do it!"

He wiped Jayden's face vigorously, as if venting his anger, going left and right in circles, like wiping a table, before throwing the towel away

"Done"

"Let's go!"

Preston told Harper to leave.

She was worried about Jayden being alone and unsafe, hesitating

"A man who has been drinking is capable of anything. Do you want to sleep with him?"

So Fiston followed them all the way, afraid that she and Jayden might have S?

How childish Jayden was so drunk

"Don't overestimate Jayden's character too much"

When Dr. Sherwood was in school, he was outstanding in both character and learning.

As he grew older, he became an upright doctor Harper believed in his character

"Are you suggesting that you must stay to take care of him?"

"That's not what I mean"

"Then schot do you mem?"

Preston took a step closer to her, with his tall and straight figure, and the familiar fragrance lingering in her nose

She turned her head, avoiding his toisch, but caught a glimpse of Jayden's handsome face, sleeping deeply, felt a little guilty inside

Chapter 1126

Knowing that Jayden didn't like Preston coming to see her, yet she let Preston carry him upstairs. If Jayden found out...

Just by putting herself in Jayden's shoes, Harper felt like she's being unreasonable. She quickly pushed Preston away and created some distance between them.

"It's chilly at night, I'll find him a blanket and then leave."

Preston walked over to the couch and casually grabbed a blanket to cover Jayden with. He did it so carelessly that the blanket even covered his entire face.

Harper glared at Preston, walked up to Jayden, removed the blanket, and opened two windows to keep the room ventilated before leaving.

Preston saw that she's not planning on staying and slowly regains some color back in his face.

The two of them walked side by side in the dimly lit residential area, their backs gradually disappearing into the distance.

Preston, who was continuing walking in front, slowed down every time they turned a corner, waiting for the figure behind him to catch up before

After walking out of the residential area, they were supposed to go their separate ways and drive their own cars, but when Harper got into her car, Preston knocked on her window.

"I've been drinking and can't drive. Can you give me a ride?"

Harper rolled her eyes at him.

"Then how did you get here just now?"

"There were no police officers on the road just now,"

"It's the same now if you go back."

She ignored him, fastened her seat belt, and started the car

But his hand reached into the car window and quickly pressed the unlock button.

Before she could lift her head, the back door was opened and Preston's tall figure quickly squeezed into the cramped car.

Harper's car was a BMW Mini, quite small, and the bulky man sitting inside looked particularly ridiculous.

"I bought you a car, why are you still driving this junk? It's so crowded."

Preston hunched his back, looking disdainful.

"If you feel it's crowded, then go drive your own car."

His sports car wasn't any more spacious than her small BMW.

When she told him to go drive his own car, he obediently shut his mouth.

As they drove, Preston, who was sitting uncomfortably, couldn't help but grumble:

"Next time, drive the car I bought you. This car is too old "

Harper looked at him through the rearview mirror.

"The car you bought me, and the things you gave me, I packed them all up and sent them back to your house"

After Preston had a disagreement with Harper in the capital city, he went directly abroad and did not know that she had returned everything he had given her.

anger

ped a beat, and the expression that had finally relaxed gradually became overshadowed by

"Do you think my house is a garbage dump?!"

Chapter 1127

“Just throw them away, what are you thinking about? Your ex-boyfriend is petty? Or do you think I can’t afford these things?”

“I just want a clean break.”

“A clean break?”

Preston sneered.

“How do you want to break it off? Make Taya unmate Griffon, or cut ties with Taya?”

Harper felt that Preston was being unreasonable and gave him a glare.

“What does Taya have to do with this?”

“What do you mean what does she have to do with this? As long as they’re around, we can’t avoid running into each other. And if we run into each other, we can’t break it off!”

What kind of twisted logic is this?!

Harper ignored him, turned her head, and focused on driving.

Preston, sitting in the back, was so angry that he tugged at his tie.

“If you want a clean break with me, then give me back the skills you learned in bed.”

“How is that even possible?!”

This physiological reaction, how can it be returned? Is he crazy?

“I don’t care, you give it back to me!”

Preston, acting like a pup, became stubborn and didn’t care whether his request was reasonable or not.

“Don’t make me hit you!”

The first time they met, he bumped into her and forced her to pay two thousand dollars. At that time, he was very childish. She didn't expect that after few years, he would still be so childish!

Seeing her angry face, Preston forced himself to calm down, but his eyes were still staring at her.

Harper ignored him and stepped on the gas pedal with anger.

After a while of being angry, he lifted his foot and kicked her seat.

"I never take back things I give to women. Tomorrow, go to my house and take your things back."

What a coincidence.

While steering, Harper replied,

"I never ask for things back that I give either."

"Do you have to be mad at me?"

She fell silent and didn't argue back, but felt heavy-hearted.

"I returned the things you gave me because I didn't love you for your money. After we broke up, it was natural to return them. Don't overthink it. Also..."

After a pause, she took a deep breath and continued, "Jayden doesn't like it when you come to see me."

Preston got angry again and asked, "Is it him who doesn't like it, or is it you who doesn't like it?"

Chapter 1128

Harper didn't answer Preston's question, but continued:

“As you heard, I will be meeting his parents soon, and after that, we will discuss mating.”

“Jayden and I are getting mated. It’s not appropriate for us to keep meeting like this. So, in the future, please avoid me when you see me.”

He curled his fingers on his knees, and when his fingertips rubbed against the skin of his palms, even the flesh hurt.

“You know that tonight Jayden provoked me first. He mocked me first. He did it just because I beat him up last time, and he still held a grudge. Can’t you see what kind of person he is, doing this in front of so many people?”

She could say that Jayden was an honest doctor, but the premise was that he was also a flawed man. How could she judge a person based on just one side?

“You can’t deny a person completely based on just one dinner party.”

Harper admitted that she also saw that Jayden was provoking Preston.

But he also explained that it was because Preston kept bothering her that he couldn’t control his emotions.

She thought that if she kept some distance from Preston, Jayden might not act like this.

“You’re so stubborn!”

“Yes, I am stubborn. When I decide on something, I will stick to it. So please stay away from me.”

She was already fall in love with Jayden, and they were even at the point of meeting each other’s parents. She couldn’t just break up with him because of some minor flaws, could she?

“Fine!”

Preston was so angry that he poked his cheek with his tongue and then slapped the car window with his hand.

“Stop the car.”

Harper pulled over and stopped the car. He got out of the car.

Before closing the car door, he lowered his eyes and glanced at her, who was sitting in the car and didn't dare to look up.

“I keep coming to find you because I like you and want to win you back. Otherwise, do you think I would come to find you?”

His words were very straightforward and bold.

After he was sure that he liked her, he never wavered,

But every time she pushed him away, it made him tired and heartbroken.

“I will try to find a way to control myself and not come to find you again.”

After saying that, he closed the car door, turned around, paused for a moment, and glanced back at her.

“By the way, the sentence I said, ‘I wish you happiness,’ was a lie. I don't really want you to be happy.”

Preston put his suit jacket on his shoulder, put his hand in his pocket, and walked away from the road in a carefree manner.

Looking at his rebellious back, Harper helplessly hooked her lips. Whether she was happy or not was not up to him to decide.

Chapter 1129

After Harper left, Henry took the courage to “force” Griffon to finish a bowl of soup before the dinner ended.

Due to Preston and Jayden's competition, Taya didn't pay much attention to Stella until now, and only then did she notice that Stella's face was pale.

"Stella, what's wrong with you? Are you sick? Why is your face so pale?"

Stella, who was holding Grace and planning to send everyone out of the villa, stopped and looked at Taya, who was frowning and examining her.

"It's nothing, probably just a slight cold."

"No, it's because a strange uncle took Stella away some time ago..."

As soon as Grace spoke, Taya knew who it was and quickly grabbed Stella to check her body up and down.

"Did Eric come to find you? Did he bully or hurt you?"

Stella didn't answer Taya's question in a hurry, but pretended to be lightly angry and glared at Grace.

"Didn't we make a promise not to tell Taya?"

Grace held a dirty doll and curled her lips.

"I don't like it when you adults always hide things from each other."

The world of pups was very simple, and Stella couldn't blame her. She could only say to Taya:

"He did come to find me, but it's okay now, don't worry."

Grace didn't know about Eric's violation of Stella, and Stella couldn't bring herself to say it, so she just casually mentioned it.

"Are you sure you're okay?"

Stella's face looked as if she had just recovered from a serious illness.

“If I had a problem, could I have prepared so many dishes to entertain you?”

The thing that Eric forced himself on her, Stella would find a way to fight back and didn't tell Taya because she didn't want her to get involved with Griffon.

After all, Stella always followed Griffon's lead and never caused him any trouble. She always relied on herself to solve any problems, and this was her principle.

Besides, she and Eric couldn't just resolve their grievances with Griffon's help. Their relationship went from love to hate, and they were destined to be enemies for life.

Stella also had her own faults. Her mistake was falling in love with the boy who pulled her out of the swimming pool when she was young. She had to face the consequences of her actions.

Taya wouldn't believe Stella's words, so she crouched down and asked Grace.

“Grace, what happened to Stella while I was away?”

Grace, who didn't know much, shrugged helplessly.

“All I know is that someone took her away. I haven't heard any other gossip.”

Stella smiled and rubbed Grace's nose.

“You little imp, you even want to hear my gossip? Are you asking for trouble?”

“I've heard all of Harper's gossip, so it's only fair that I hear yours too.”

She covered her nose and secretly laughed.

Stella indulgently patted her little head again.

“You're so clever, you can't escape any gossip.”

“Of course!”

Chapter 1130

Taya looked at Stella with suspicion.

She had a pair of eyes as clear as spring water, the kind of eyes that not only Griffon, but even Stella found hard to resist.

Stella dared not look at Taya, only pulling her up, supporting her shoulders, and pushing her towards the villa.

“Okay, don’t think too much about it. I’m really fine. Please go back quickly...”

Taya was dragged and pushed to the car door.

Griffon had already sat in the car, and Henry was talking to him.

Seeing that the car had not started yet, Taya held Stella’s hand again and asked with concern:

“If you have anything, just tell me. If I can help, I will definitely help!”

The warmth between friends always warms Stella’s heart.

She raised her hand and covered Taya’s hand back, gently patting it.

“My things are a mess, and I haven’t sorted them out yet. I’ll tell you when I figure it out.”

Hearing Stella say this, Taya finally felt relieved.

“Okay.”

Stella saw that Taya was no longer worried about her, so she looked at her belly.

“Have you taken the medicine I prescribed for you on time?”

Before Taya’s honeymoon, Stella had boiled a whole box of medicine, enough for a month. She thought that after the honeymoon, Taya should be pregnant.

But when she just took Taya's pulse, there was no response.

Following Stella's gaze, Taya lowered her head and looked at her own belly.

"I've taken it, but..."

Taya sighed with disappointment.

"I might not be able to have a pup."

She had taken so much medication, but there was no response. She feared that she would never have a pup in this lifetime.

"Taya... have you considered IVP?"

Taya turned to look at the man sitting in the car.

"He doesn't agree."

Griffon knew that IVP was painful, and giving birth was also painful. He didn't want Taya to suffer and chose not to have a pup.

After understanding Griffon's thoughts, Stella didn't suggest IVP again. "Let me adjust the medication for you to try again."

Taya wanted to decline, but Stella was determined and pushed her into the car. "I'll prepare the medication tomorrow and send it to you."

After Stella finished speaking, she closed the car door, took a step back, and waved to Taya.

"Send me a message when you get home."

"You should rest early too."

After Taya finished speaking, the driver started the car and drove towards the Blue Bay Island.

After a row of luxury cars left the villa, Stella turned to Henry.

“You... should go back too.”

Since being raped by Eric, Stella felt guilty every time she saw Henry and never let him stay overnight here.

“Let me take you back to your room, help you dishes, and then I’ll go back. Is that okay?”

clean up the

Chapter 1131

Henry knew that Stella had been feeling down lately, so he had been very careful not to upset her.

“Hmm.”

She nodded, turned around, lowered her head, and walked into the house.

He followed behind her, staring at her back, and after hesitating several times, he still didn’t ask the question he wanted to.

It wasn’t until he silently finished washing the dishes, cleaned up the table and kitchen, that he put down his rolled-up sleeves and walked up to her.

“Stella, everything is cleaned up. Should I...go back now?”

He asked in a questioning tone, and she, who was constantly changing channels with the remote control, heard it but pretended not to and nodded.

“Okay, be safe on the way...”

As Henry picked up his suit jacket and walked out of the villa, he paused and turned back to look at her.

“We agreed that you would give me an answer after half a month. The time is up now. Can you give me an answer?”

She leaned against the sofa and was silent for a few seconds before speaking without any hesitation.

“It’s still the same. I’m not good enough for you. Please give up on me...”

If Eric hadn’t rape her, Stella might have had the courage to open her heart again and accept Henry.

But now, Stella felt that she didn’t deserve such a good person like Henry.

“Can’t I just stay with you until we grow old without getting mated?”

She put down the remote control, raised her calm eyes, and looked at Henry standing at the door.

“Your parents wouldn’t want you to live like this for the rest of your life.”

He walked over and crouched in front of her.

“You’ve never met my parents, how do you know they won’t accept you?”

Stella helplessly pursed her lips. She felt guilty just for seeing him, let alone meeting his parents.

“I’m too ashamed to meet your parents.”

“Stella...”

She lifted her fair fingers and put on his lips.

“You said you fell in love with me when you saw me at the lecture, but maybe you only liked my glamorous appearance.”

“Once you see the dirt inside me, you’ll slowly start to hate me. So before that happens, you should give up on me.”

“I still hope that someone in this world can remember my best side...”

After speaking, Stella walked past Henry and went upstairs.

But he rushed over and hugged her from behind.

The man’s hoarse voice transmitted from his ear through his neck.

“You’ve always been the best in my eyes. Please don’t make me give up on you because of this.”

What he saw first was her standing on the podium, calmly and confidently lecturing a group of medical students...

But that didn’t mean he only cares about appearances.

“After I learned about your experience, I felt more sympathy than anything. I’ve never looked down on you.”

myself.”

As Stella responded to Henry in her heart, tears fell from her eyes.

The hot tears slid down his hand and into his heart.

“If you’re still not sure, then I’ll give you another month, okay?”

B

Chapter 1132

“No need, I’ve already made my decision

Stella wiped the tears from the corner of her eyes and gently pushed Henry’s hand away.

“I’m sorry

After she got her revenge on Eric, she did plan to be with Henry, only to find out that smooth, and loved, days were not for her.

“Stella, no matter how much you refuse, I will still wait for you.”

He would also take revenge on Eric for raping Stella!

“Henry, don’t be silly.”

For Stella, pushing away Henry, on the contrary, was protecting him, Eric, that madman, was capable of doing anything.

“You know I’m stupid, then don’t do this to me.”

Henry dropped these words, turned around and left the villa, the stubbornness that came out of his back made Stella collapse helplessly on the steps.

On the car driving to Blue Bay Island.

“Griffon.....”

Grace, who was holding a doll, called out to Griffon who was covering Taya with a blanket.

Griffon lifted his thick vertical eyelashes and glanced at Grace lightly, “Keep it down, don’t wake her up.”

Grace:.....

She was obviously already very quiet, okay?

The little girl puffed out her cheeks, lifted the doll in her hand and handed it to Griffon: "This doll, do you want it or not?"

The doll was so dirty that he did not even want to look at it: "No." It was too dirty that he was afraid to take it.

Grace was about to be pissed off by Griffon, "Hum, if my mommy hadn't told me to give it to the most trusted person, I wouldn't have given it to you!"

Griffon then moved away from staring at Taya and turned to the doll in Grace's hand, "The doll was left to you by Rosalie?"

Grace nodded proudly, "Yeah, my mommy made it for me when I was very young, how's that for cool?"

Griffon thoughtfully, after staring at the doll for a few seconds, stretched out his fingers and tapped Andre on the back, "Gloves."

Andre, who was sitting on the passenger side, was about to fall asleep. When he heard Griffon's voice, he immediately pulled himself together, opened the locker, took out a pair of gloves, and handed them to him.

After the man put on the gloves, he took the doll in Grace's hand, carefully touched the doll's stomach, there was nothing unusual, and asked her, "Mind if I take it apart?"

Grace heard to dismantle their dolls, quickly reached out to snatch back, "Do not dismantle the only toy that mommy left me....."

Griffon knew the toy was important to the pup and didn't force Grace, "I suspect your mother hid something in the doll, otherwise she wouldn't have let you give it to the most trusted person, if you trust me, let me take it apart, if not, forget it."

He put the choice in Grace's hands, which in turn made it difficult for her, "Then after dismantling it, can you still sew it on?"

Chapter 1133

Griffon glanced at Andre, and Andre immediately used his skill of coaxing pups, "Sure, sure. After it's taken apart, I'll sew it back up for you..."

After tricking the pup, Andre shed two tears, "Why did we have to trick the pup like that? We might offend someone!"

Grace, who was tricked, trusted them and returned the doll to Griffon, "You can take it apart now..."

Griffon gestured with his finger, and Andre immediately handed him a knife.

The man who took the knife dismantled the doll into pieces in less than two minutes.

He rummaged through the cotton stuffing and finally found a chip.

Griffon took out the chip and examined it under the car light.

Meanwhile, Grace was holding a pile of cotton stuffing and crying loudly.

Andre anxiously asked, "Griffon, what should we do if the pup is crying?"

Griffon casually uttered a word, "Coax her."

Andre was at a loss and scratched the back of his head, "How do we coax her?"

The man moved his gaze away from the chip and gave Andre a cold glance. "If I knew, why would I need you to do anything?"

Andre silently picked up the scattered cotton and stuffed it back into the doll's belly. "Don't cry, Grace. The doll's skin isn't completely torn, I can sew it up and it'll still be usable."

Grace wiped away her tears as she sobbed and asked, "How many stitches do you need to sew?"

Andre replied, "Probably around dozens of stitches?"

After a pause, she added a questioning tone, "Or... hundreds of stitches?"

Grace:...

Andre suggested, "Should we ask a doctor?"

Taya was awakened by the crying. She opened her eyes and saw Andre frantically stuffing cotton into the doll, while Grace was crying loudly, pulling the doll's head.

"What's going on?"

She reached out for a tissue and went to wipe Grace's tears.

"Big guy uncle... big liar..."

Grace cried uncontrollably, holding Taya's arm and ignoring the doll's head, and accusing Andrew.

"He dismantled the doll my mommy left me, and couldn't even sew it back properly, wuwuwu..."

Andre: ...

He glanced at Griffon sitting next to him, and Griffon happened to be looking at him, with a look trouble, man."

seemed to say, "You're in

Andre sighed heavily. Well, he did accept a mansion from Griffon, so he might as well take the blame for this!

"Madam, there's a chip inside the doll..."

Chapter 1134

Andre pointed to the chip in Griffon's hand and gave Taya a signal, hoping she could understand who the real culprit was.

Taya was completely attracted by the chip and didn't even think about who dismantled the doll. "Why is there a chip inside?"

Griffon rubbed the chip in his hand and thought, "It could be something your sister left for her pup, or it could be something left for you."

She took the chip from him and stared at it for a while before looking up at him. "Do we need to process it to open it?"

He nodded slightly, feeling a bit of a headache, and looked at Grace who was still crying. "Your mother left something in the doll. To get it, we have to dismantle the doll first. Do you understand?"

Grace wiped her tears and snot with her sleeve while nodding her head. "I understand. It's just really sad. This is a souvenir my mommy left for me. Without it, I won't have my mommy anymore..."

Taya's heart ached and she quickly picked up Grace. "Don't worry, I'll help you sew the doll back together. It will still be with you."

Grace then rested her head on Taya's chest and said, "Thank you, Auntie..."

Taya gently stroked Grace's hair and comforted her. Before long, Grace, who had cried herself out, fell asleep.

Taya took a wet wipe and cleaned the tear-stained face of Grace before glancing at Griffon sitting next to them.

Although his wife didn't blame him, a fleeting glance from her made him feel uneasy.

"I didn't think too much when I dismantled it."

She suddenly looked at him again.

“I’ll sleep with Grace tonight.”

Griffon panicked and reached for her hand.

“Darling.”

“Even if you pray to God, it won’t change anything.”

Andre beside them couldn’t help but snicker.

Griffon’s handsome face visibly darkened.

Andre immediately stopped laughing and sat up straight, looking serious.

After staring at Andre, Griffon reached out his long arm and pulled Taya’s sleeve.

“My wife, I’m used to sleeping with you. I can’t sleep without you by my side.”

Taya deliberately ignored him. Griffon, who was getting anxious, glanced at Grace, who was crying and dirty, and reluctantly compromised.

“Forget it, I’ll sleep with you guys.”

Taya was surprised and raised her eyebrows. “Occasionally sleeping separately can help maintain a harmonious relationship between mated wolf and she-wolf.”

ylabbed her hand, placed it in his palm, and pressed it. “The word ‘separate’ is disharmonious to me.”

She couldn’t argue with his twisted logic. “I didn’t blame you for dismantling the doll. It’s just that you haven’t spent time with Grace for over a month. I want to spend some quality time with her. You should sleep alone tonight.”

He fell silent, shifted his gaze to the chip, and thought to himself...processing the chip should take quite some time, right? How long, overnight?

Chapter 1135

After parking the car at Blue Bay Island, Taya carried Grace and placed her in the living room on the first floor. The little girl was already asleep and couldn't be woken up, so they decided to let her sleep.

Taya helped Grace cover herself with a blanket before heading to the study. Griffon was working on processing chips, looking focused and emitting a charming glow.

She leaned against the doorway, gazing at the man under the desk lamp for a while before asking the nanny to heat up some milk. Once it was ready; she carried it over and placed it gently on the desk.

"So, how much longer until the chip can be opened?"

The man, who had just finished integrating the circuit, lowered his thick eyebrows and eyelashes.

"Probably overnight."

Overnight?

Isn't he supposed to be really good at everything he does?

How could it take an entire night to process a chip?

"Sit next to me while I work."

As Taya was still wondering, Griffon's beautiful eyes, like a starry sky, swept over to the sofa next to her, indicating that she should sit down.

Her husband helped her decrypt the chip, and if she didn't accompany him for a while, it would be a bit unreasonable. So she bypassed the desk and sat down next to him.

Griffon's well-defined fingers quickly tapped on the keyboard, and a bunch of code that she couldn't understand quickly appeared on the computer screen.

At first, Griffon thought it was simple, but as she operated further, she found that there was a pa*sword. Her beautiful eyebrows gradually furrowed.

“Isn’t your sister studying architectural design? How does she know about computers?”

“Huh? What do you mean?”

It means that it’s difficult to open. He has tried to decrypt it countless times, but without success.

Seeing the red X warning popping up on the screen from time to time, Taya also understood.

Her omnipotent husband has met his match.

“How about finding a hacker to crack it?”

“Let me try again...”

him.

“Honey, please, find a hacker...”

Griffon’s fingers finally left the keyboard and reached for the phone beside him. He called Preston.

Preston, who had just fallen asleep, saw Griffon’s call and, impatiently, grabbed the phone.

“Gri.....‘

“Come to Blue Bay Island.”

Before Griffon’s name was shouted out, the caller, with a ‘bang’, hung up the phone.

Preston:

Chapter 1136

Can I just not have this brother since there are already four others?

Poor Preston, after some mental preparation, gritted his teeth and drove to Blue Bay Island.

When Taya saw him, she briefly explained why they had invited him.

Little did she know, Preston burst out laughing and pounded Griffon's desk.

"Hahaha, you can't even crack a password, you're so bad at this..."

"Shut up!"

"Haha..."

Preston's smile suddenly disappeared.

He cupped his palm and leaned in to

Taya's ear, whispering, "Do you find Griffon's begging for help annoying?"

Griffon pulled Taya away and stood tall, blocking the two of them. "Preston, there's more than one programmer in this company."

Preston smirked, knowing that was true, but when it came to

But seeing how pitiful Griffon looked, he reluctantly agreed to help him out.

"Alright, step aside and let this computer expert take a look."

Griffon, who wasn't very knowledgeable in this field, had no choice but to step back with a cold face.

After sitting down, Preston glanced at the code and began typing frantically on the keyboard.

His focus was even greater than Griffon's.

Indeed, men are most serious when doing what they're good at.

After staying up all night and feeling tired, Griffon told Taya to rest first and he would call her when they cracked the code.

Taya asked the nanny to prepare breakfast for both of them and went to Grace's room to hold the pup and take a short nap.

Although Preston was a computer expert, it still took him a lot of time to work on this chip. It took him about two hours before he stopped.

"Taya's sister is not simple. This chip is like a maze. After solving one part, there is still another part. I wonder what secrets are hidden inside?"

The man standing behind Preston with his arms crossed, staring at the code scrolling up on the screen, said coldly:

"Have you finished decoding it?"

"Of course, when I take action, there is no code that I cannot crack."

Preston was only confident in his computer skills and wanted to show off in front of his brothers.

He was quite proud, leaning back in his chair with his legs crossed, waiting for the code to convert...

Chapter 1137

"Once you're done, go out."

Does that mean you don't want him to see what's inside?

"Griffon, what's left inside is a video that I need to piece together step by step. I can't even bear to watch it."

Griffon frowned slightly. If it involved A's background, he really didn't want outsiders to know, but...

"Whatever you see later, pretend you didn't see it."

Preston looked up and glanced at the man standing against the morning light.

"You're so serious. Is there some earth-shattering secret inside?"

"You talk too much."

Seeing the impulse in Griffon's eyes to "silence him," Preston immediately shut up obediently.

He was really unlucky. If some earth-shattering secret was leaked in the future, would he be the first one sacrificed?

Thinking of this, Preston couldn't help but shudder. "Why don't you learn programming yourself in the future? Don't come to me for this kind of thing "

He didn't want to deal with anything and just wanted to be a carefree playboy. If it was something dangerous, don't come to him. It's scary.

Griffon glanced at the "timid and fearful" Preston. "If you keep babbling, go to Africa and take over William's position."

Preston said, "Okay, okay, I'll shut up. I'll keep my mouth shut..."

After speaking, Preston's fingers once again rested on the keyboard, beginning to code and edit the video.

"It'll only take ten minutes, you go ahead and call Taya," Preston said.

Griffon picked up their pace and turned to find Taya.

Taya, who had been sleeping for two or three hours, felt someone come in and groggily opened their eyes.

The first thing they saw was Griffon's deep and affectionate gaze.

Every time she looked into his eyes, she felt a sense of comfort.

Unable to resist, she smiled brightly and looked at him.

"Did you figure it out?"

Griffon made a soft sound from their throat, his voice low and slightly cold with a hint of hoarseness.

Taya stretched and yawned, lifted the covers and planned to get up, but fell into a warm embrace.

"I'll hold you."

Amy hooked her arms around his neck and let him hold her.

Seeing Griffon carrying Taya into the study, Preston raised her hands and covered her eyes....

This was just too much!

After placing Taya on the sofa chair, Preston picked up a butterfly-shaped hair tie from the side and gently tied up her waist-length curly hair.

Preston, who witnessed the whole process...

Chapter 1138

After piecing together the complete video and converting the format, Preston pressed the space bar.

The black screen slowly revealed a bright color as the space bar was pressed...

The background in the video was by the seaside, surrounded by fishing villages, with a beautiful and peaceful environment.

After scanning the surrounding environment, the camera focused on the beach and slowly zoomed in on a small figure who was picking up small seashells.

“Rosalie, be careful not to get too close to the sea...”

Suddenly, a gentle and elegant voice came from inside, followed by Rosalie turning his head, revealing a face that resembled Grace’s.

“Don’t worry, Mommy...”

Mommy?

Taya was shocked to realize that the person filming was actually the mother of both her and Rosalie.

Her fingers, resting on her lap, curled slightly with anticipation and nervousness as she stared at the screen.

The camera only shifted to the baby lying in a cradle nearby after Rosalie had finished picking up the seashells.

“Mommy, when little sister turns one, I’ll string these seashells into a bracelet and give it to her as a birthday present.”

“Okay...”

After a gentle voice spoke, a delicate jade hand reached out to touch the baby’s cheek.

“My Elizabeth, mommy will take you to see your grandparents tomorrow. They’ll give mommy money to take you to see a wolf spirit doctor. You have to hold on, okay?”

pon

ing this, Preston raised an eyebrow slightly. Was this the video that Sumasa had filmed before going to the Carmine pack for help?

“Little sister, you have to hold on, okay...”

Rosalie also stepped forward and kissed the baby’s rosy cheek.

Then, the camera shook a few times, and a slender figure appeared on the screen.

When Taya saw a face that was unfamiliar yet exuded a gentle and kind aura, she paused for a moment.

Was this... her mother who had undergone plastic surgery?

“Rosalie, Elizabeth, Mommy doesn’t know how much longer I have to live, so I’m recording this video to tell you the truth.”

“Mommy’s real name is Sumasa, and I’m the daughter of one of the four major British packs, Adam Carmine...”

Upon hearing this, Preston pressed the pause button with a snap.

“Adam is the murderer who killed the third grandfather!”

“Taya, your mother is Adam’s daughter?!”

Chapter 1139

Taya, who was startled by Preston’s words, raised her innocent eyes and looked at him, then turned to Griffon who was sitting next to her.

Griffon raised his cold and penetrating eyes and scanned him coldly, “Why are you excited?

What does it have to do with Taya?”

Preston: ...

What do you mean it has nothing to do with her? It has everything to do with her! If Grandpa finds out that Taya is Adam’s granddaughter, it will cause a huge uproar!

Third Grandpa, Aunt, Fourth Uncle, and many people from the Knight pack were all killed by the Carmine pack. The Knight pack hated the Carmine pack to the bone. But Griffon...

Wait a minute, judging from Griffon's expression, he seemed to have known Taya's identity for a long time. He actually mated Taya as if nothing had happened. Is he preparing to confront the Knight pack?

Preston felt a headache coming on and raised his hand to cover his head. When he was editing the video just now, he didn't listen to the sound, he only saw the picture, so he didn't think much about it.

He didn't expect that this video would involve Taya's identity. Oh my god, it's a blood feud! What was Griffon doing...

As he was anxiously pulling his hair, Griffon's voice, as cold as snow, slowly drifted into his ears, "If you dare to tell anyone, I'll have Andre assassinate you."

Preston regretted not leaving right after finishing the video. Now he was 'voluntarily' involved in this secret, and his future days would definitely not be easy. Oh no, how miserable.

After scaring Preston, Griffon softly held Taya's hand and placed it in her own palm. "The matter concerning the Carmine pack has nothing to do with you. You don't have to worry about it."

Taya, who already knew about her own background, didn't have much of a reaction to this. She just felt a little embarrassed and looked at Preston. "You..."

Before she could finish, he immediately expressed his loyalty. "Don't worry, even if you kill me, I won't say anything. I still want to live for a few more years."

Taya smiled. "That's not what I meant. I just think..."

Preston interrupted again. "I don't care what you think. I care about what I think. Let's just keep watching the video."

If Taya said anything more to him, the jealous person next to them would probably glare at him until he had a hole in his head....

Before he got a hole in his head, the "extremely curious" Preston decided to finish watching the video first.

After all, he couldn't die without seeing the end, right? again...

He moved his fingers and clicked on the video

Chapter 1140

In the video, Sumasa continued to speak:

"When I was young, my parents didn't like me very much. My grandfather took pity on me and took me in to raise me himself."

"Maybe it was because I was the only one by his side when he passed away, my grandfather left his inheritance to me."

"Actually, I didn't necessarily want this inheritance, but my parents were too greedy and did a lot of things that hurt me for it."

"I have a stubborn personality, the more they wanted something, the less I wanted to give it to them, and our relationship became more and more strained."

"At that time, my fiancé Samuel and I were in love and our relationship was good. I thought I would mate him."

"But..."

Sumasa touched her face, and her soft and watery eyes were filled with loneliness and despair.

“Jocelyn is my best friend. I didn’t know she also had feelings for Samuel.”

“Maybe she was too jealous. When we were doing a science experiment together, she took some chemical solution and ruined my face.”

“After my face was ruined, I realized that so-called true feelings are false.”

“Samuel left me and chose to mate my elder sister because of the mating alliance with the Carmine pack.”

“When I was writhing in pain on the sickbed, he and my elder sister were having their mating night...”

“At that time, my parents forced me to hand over my grandfather’s inheritance. I refused, so they kicked me out of the Carmine pack.”

“I walked on the street with a bloody face, and everyone was afraid of me. Only one person reached out to help me.”

“He didn’t mind that I was disfigured, gave me food, and even provided me with a place to stay...”

“I lived with him for a while, didn’t tell him my identity, and didn’t tell him what I used to look like...”

“He never asked me, only encouraged me and helped me regain hope.”

“He stayed in Aronland for a while and then left, while I returned to Wolverly Capital, visited famous doctors, cured my face, changed my identity, and started anew.”

“I originally wanted to travel around the world with my grandfather’s inheritance, but I met the person who helped me at the airport. He didn’t recognize me, but I recognized him.”

“During our conversation, I learned that his group was on the verge of bankruptcy. To show my gratitude for his past help, I invested some money in his group.

“As we interacted more, he said that I could help him in his career and that we were also compatible in life, so he asked me to mate him.”

“I didn’t agree at first, but under his persistent proposal, my mind slowly changed. Little did I know that this would be the beginning of another nightmare for me...”

In the video, Sumasa’s eyes turned red when she mentioned this, as if she had suffered a lot of grievances but didn’t know where to start.

“Perhaps your father helped me at the beginning out of kindness.”

“It was me who showed him the money and let him know that I had a lot of assets, which made him want to plot to take all my assets.”

“He mated me only for money. The person he truly loved was his pup-period sweetheart, Eliza.”

“After I gave birth to Rosalie, I found out that he had set up a small home with Eliza outside, and soon their pup was born too.”

“After I found out, I wanted to unmate him. He begged for my forgiveness, asking me not to leave for the sake of the pups, and promised to cut off all ties with Eliza...”

“At that time, I was indeed afraid that the pup would not have a father, and he did cut off ties with Eliza, so I didn’t have the heart to leave.”

“We lived a peaceful life for four years, and I helped him behind the scenes, making his company become the giant of Arcadia in a short period of time.”

“He said that to show his gratitude towards me, he bought a huge yacht and took me and the pups on a trip to relax...”

“Who would have thought that when I was penniless and had given everything, he would have murderous intentions towards me and my pups.”

“In fact, he told me that he didn’t want to be with me anymore and that I would leave with the pups,

“When I least expected it, he pushed me, Rosalie, and the newborn Elizabeth into the sea...”

“Before I fell into the sea, I saw Eliza standing on the deck with her pup, showing me a provocative and triumphant smile.”

“I only found out that they had never stopped their plan, they just kept it hidden from me. After deceiving me of all my assets, they planned to get rid of me together...”

“If I wasn’t a good swimmer and if there wasn’t a reef for me to hold onto and swim to safety with my pups, we would have all died in the sea.”
