

The Billionaire Alpha's Contract Lover by Caesar Erickson

Chapter 1721

Chapter 1721

Taya sat on the windowsill, clutching the letter, waiting silently for Griffon. Suddenly, Frank burst through the door.

"Ma'am, Holden has returned."

Upon hearing these words, Taya was momentarily stunned. Then, a glimmer of hope suddenly appeared in her otherwise dull eyes.

She didn't even bother to put on her shoes, and ran barefoot past Frank, quickly stepping onto the revolving staircase and rushing into the living room.

Sitting straight on the couch, Holden heard the sound of someone coming downstairs behind him and slowly turned around...

As soon as Taya saw Holden's familiar face, tears welled up in her clear and pure eyes.

Holden returned safely, did that mean Griffon also returned unharmed?

Taya took a step forward and walked up to Holden.

Chapter 1721

"Where is he?"

2/6

Holden lowered his eyelashes, hiding the sadness in his eyes, and said softly, "He... hasn't come back yet."

Taya's heart sank as the hope that had just ignited was completely extinguished. "When will he be able to come back?"

Holden tightened his fingers on his knee. "Didn't he write to you and tell you to wait another two months? There's still 22 days left, just hold on a little longer."

Taya's eyes were fixed on Holden's pale face, "Holden, why did you come back, but he didn't?"

Holden's already pale face turned even whiter at the sound of this question, draining all color from his cheeks.

He gritted his teeth in pain and guilt, looking at Taya. "He still has a mission to complete, so he asked me to come back and let you know that he's safe."

Did he send Holden back to report his safety because he was afraid she would worry?

If that was the case, it meant he's okay, he was still alive.

Taya's heart clenched, but she managed to calm down a bit.

Chapter 1721

"So how is he? Is he injured?"

3/6

All she worried about was Griffon getting hurt, getting into trouble, or not coming back. As long as he was okay, she didn't mind waiting however long it took.

Holden's fingers trembled as he gripped his suit pants, but he forced himself to let go and put on a strained smile to reassure Taya, "He's fine, he didn't get hurt."

If anyone else had said this, Taya wouldn't believe it. But it's coming from Holden, who went with Griffon and came back unharmed. That proves that what he's saying is trustworthy.

Taya finally relaxed and took a step back, sitting down on the couch. "So, can you tell me where you've been during this time and what happened?"

Under Taya's eager gaze, Holden awkwardly lowered his eyelashes again. "I can't tell you where we're going. And even if I told you what happened, you probably wouldn't understand."

Taya looked at Holden, who seemed unwilling to reveal any information. She couldn't shake the feeling that he was hiding something from her. "Mr. Davies, if something bad has happened, please just tell me directly. I can handle it," she said.

4/6

She had also experienced life and death, so what couldn't she endure? If something really happened to Griffon, she would just go and be with him. It wasn't a big deal, just a regret that their time together was too short.

Holden couldn't bring himself to meet Taya's gaze, but he still kept the truth hidden. "Mrs. Knight, our mission is not something we can share with anyone. I hope you can understand and forgive us. And as for why I am here, it is at the request of Mr. Greyson. Please trust him, and trust me as well."

He spoke sincerely because Griffon had indeed entrusted him with this task, and Taya would never have guessed that Holden and the letter were all part of Griffon's calculated plan to keep her from worrying.

Taya looked at Holden, who was always too afraid to meet her gaze, with confusion in her eyes. "Why are you so afraid to look at me directly?"

Holden was taken aback by Taya's words, but he quickly composed himself and looked up at her. "Your clothes are disheveled. It's probably best if I stay away."

Taya followed his gaze and glanced at her clothes, which were indeed a bit messy. She quickly gathered her coat and wrapped it around herself. Despite feeling embarrassed, she forced a smile at Holden and said, "Sorry, I thought you were back, but then he came back, so I got a little excited..."

Chapter 1721

5/6

She didn't even bother to tidy up her clothes before running downstairs, but she still couldn't find her Griffon.

Holden tried to remain calm and waved his hand, "It's okay."

After saying that, Holden stood up and said, "Since I've let you know I'm safe, I'll be on my way now."

Taya also stood up and asked, "Mr. Davies, when will Zack be back?"

Holden's body stiffened suddenly, and he didn't even dare to turn his head. "He stayed there with Mr. Greyson."

Taya couldn't understand the hidden meaning behind this statement, "So after 22 days, will they come back together?"

Holden stood tall, his back showing a hint of exhaustion but he forced himself to stay steady, nodding lightly. "Yeah,"

Taya's anxious heart gradually calmed down. "If Gigi knew that Zack would be back soon, she would be able to relax and take care of herself."

Holden turned around abruptly, looking at Taya in disbelief. "Gigi is pregnant?"

Chapter 1721

Taya noticed his surprised expression and also became suspicious. "Yeah, it was discovered after Zack left. What's wrong?"

Holden stared at Taya, his mind blank for a moment before slowly coming back to reality. "That's great, Zack became a father."

Taya was about to ask him again when Holden suddenly pulled up the corners of his mouth and gave a bitter smile. "Congratulations for me," he said.

Chapter 1722

Taya couldn't shake off the bitter smile on Holden's face as he left. It kept echoing in her mind.

She always felt like Holden was hiding something from her, but as for what it was...

She actually had a suspicion, but she automatically avoided the thought that Griffon or Zack might have gotten into trouble. Holding onto her last hope, she endured all the uneasiness and stayed at home, obediently waiting for 22 days.

The hands on the watch pointed to 00:00 once again, but there was still no sign of Griffon's car or his presence at the entrance of Blue Bay Island...

In this moment, all the trust that Taya had built up crumbled. It was the first time she had smashed a million-dollar watch and also the first time she had flipped over a dining table.

She couldn't take it anymore. She stormed out of the villa like a madwoman, running all the way to the end of the road. If it wasn't for Peter stopping her, she would have been hit by a car.

Chapter 1722

Peter pulled the irrational Taya and pleaded with her,

2/7

"Madam, please wait a little longer. Mr. Greyson will definitely come back, he will definitely come back!"

Taya couldn't help but laugh, "Do you believe it?"

Peter was left speechless when he was asked.

He started off believing, but the moment Mr. Davies appeared, he no longer believed.

It's possible that Mr. Davies returned safely, but it may have been at the cost of another life.

Whose life was being exchanged, Peter didn't dare to think about it. One was the man who had raised him, and the other was the person he had relied on since pup period, Zack.

Even though he had already guessed the outcome, he couldn't tell Taya and had to pretend he knew nothing, silently accompanying her to prevent any trouble.

If the deceased person is really Mr. Greyson, then Peter will stay by Taya's side for the rest of his life, protecting her.

Even Peter couldn't provide an answer, Taya's fear grew bigger and bigger, until it completely consumed her.

She gritted her teeth in fear, broke free from Peter's grasp,

Chapter 1722

and hugged herself tightly, slowly crouching down.

"Peter, I'm starting to hate him..."

3/7

He promised her that he would come back in a month, but he broke his promise.

He wrote to her again, promising to come back in two months, but he broke his promise.

She didn't know if his promise of a lifetime commitment would also be broken.

If he couldn't even keep his word on this, she would never forgive Griffon.

Peter crouched on the ground, his body curled up into a ball, and his brow furrowed in concentration.

“Ma’am, don’t resent your husband. He loves you very, very much.”

Taya’s lips curled into a silent smile, but as she continued to smile, tears began to roll down her cheeks.

“I’ll wait for him a little longer...”

She waited for him a little longer, but if he still hadn’t returned before dawn, she would go and find him.

Chapter 1722

Anyway, whether she lived or dead, she had to see Griffon.

But before dawn, she didn’t wait for Griffon, instead she waited for Silas...

4/7

Taya froze when she saw him slowly approaching with a cane, one step at a time, until he stood in front of her.

“Silas...”

Dressed in a white shirt, Silas walked towards her with a determined stride, just like he did in his youth, facing the morning sun.

He stood in front of her, silent, his gaze fixed on her dry and swollen eyes, lost in thought.

Taya slowly stood up and gazed down at the pair of legs. standing in front of her...

“Are you able to walk normally now?”

Silas cleared his mind and nodded at Taya.

“But I still need to use a cane.”

Taya felt relieved in her heart.

Chapter 1722

“Just stand up and that’s all that matters.”

5/7

She finished her sentence and looked up at Silas, shifting her gaze away from his legs.

“How...how did you end up here?”

After hesitating for a long time, Silas took out a white envelope and handed it to Taya.

As she touched the envelope and saw Griffon’s handwriting, her heart sank once again.

She steadied her trembling body and reached out to take the envelope. With shaking hands, she slowly opened it.

There was only one line of text above:

“Mr. Sterling, I’m entrusting Taya to you.”

After reading this short letter, Taya’s lips curled up in a mocking smile.

He couldn’t come back, so he pushed her to someone else. Is that what it means to love her so much?

Taya tore the letter in half, her expression filled with a coldness she had never felt before.

Chapter 1722

6/7

She tore up the letter that Griffon had left behind in front of him, and the light in Silas's eyes dimmed.

Silas knew how much Taya loved Griffon, so when he received this letter, he immediately rushed to find her.

"I have no idea what happened to Griffon, but he must have been desperate to entrust you to me."

A possessive man with strong desires would never entrust his lover to another man, unless he was dead.

"Taya..."

"I know," she said.

Taya interrupted Silas, forcing a smile and lifting the corners of her lips.

"Silas, don't take what he says seriously. I... my life and death are in his hands."

Silas was shocked by these words. He couldn't help but wonder if she would have loved him the same way if he hadn't lost his memory back then.

After all, Taya's love had always been unconditional.

Griffon, please don't make the same mistake I did and lose

Chapter 1722

such a great girl.

Chapter 1723

Silas brought it as he was supposed to, gritting his teeth and taking a step back with his cane, despite the pain in his heart.

"If you need any help, remember to give me a call."

He restrained himself and never crossed the line because he was willing to be her family.

Taya was still the same as before, obediently nodding her head no matter what he said.

"Okay!"

Silas gazed deeply at Taya one last time before turning around and getting back into the car.

As the car door closed, Silas looked through the window at Taya standing on the side of the road.

Taya kept her head down, staring at the torn 'farewell letter' on the ground...

After Silas's car disappeared into the distance, Taya finally spoke up.

Chapter 1723

"Peter, call Holden and tell him to come see me."

Peter was afraid that Taya wouldn't be able to handle everything once she found out, but when he saw her determined expression, he nodded in agreement.

As soon as Holden received Peter's call, he knew that some things couldn't be kept hidden any longer. So instead of avoiding it, he held the urn and went to Blue Bay Island.

2/7

When he walked in, Taya was sitting on the living room couch, holding a photo between her fingers. It was a picture she had secretly taken while Griffon was sleeping.

Holden stood still, staring at Taya's pale face. After a moment, he took a step forward and stood in front of her without saying a word. He simply placed the urn in his hand on the table.

Taya's gaze, at the moment she saw the urn, all of her previous mental preparation suddenly collapsed.

"Whose is this?"

Her hoarse voice was trembling as her frail body shook, tears silently rolling down her cheeks.

As Holden laid eyes on Taya, he suddenly didn't know how to approach the situation.

Chapter 1723

3/7

Taya couldn't stand seeing him like this, so she quickly got up and pulled on his clothes.

“Mr. Davies, please speak up.”

She held onto her last shred of sanity, going from yelling to pleading, all in search of one answer.

Holden’s sorrowful gaze shifted away from her face and landed on the urn placed on the table...

Holden lifted his finger and touched the cold urn.

He repeated it twice before Taya could understand, and the fear in her heart loosened a bit. But the urn was Zack’s, which also made her feel a chill run down her spine.

Peter, who was standing next to him, heard that the urn contained Zack’s ashes and his usually upright posture suddenly shook.

Before either of them could react, a voice of disbelief came from outside the door.

Chapter 1723

“Whose ashes are in that urn?”

Taya looked up at the sound and saw Gigi standing at the door.

Behind her, Johnny was also following in a black suit.

Taya was surprised when Gigi showed up at her door after waiting for 22 days, only to find out that Zack still hadn’t arrived.

4/7

Taya couldn't help but think about the fact that Gigi was carrying Zack's pup, but he would never know. Tears welled up in her eyes and she couldn't stop them from falling...

Gigi saw Taya crying and had a faint idea of what was going on, but didn't want to believe it. She forced herself to walk towards Holden, her body trembling and on the verge of collapsing.

"Why aren't you answering my question?"

Faced with Gigi's questioning, Holden gritted his teeth and lowered his gaze, repeating himself for the third time.

"The urn belongs to Zack."

Gigi stood frozen in place, staring blankly at the square black urn in front of her.

Chapter 1723

"You're lying!"

5/7

Gigi suddenly bent down and grabbed Holden's collar, lifting him up from the couch with one hand.

"He was just on a business trip, how could he possibly be dead? It must be you, you lying scumbag!"

Holden could only hang his head, his eyes filled with sadness, as he stared at the furious Gigi.

“Miss Brook, please accept my condolences.”

Gigi clenched her fist and punched Holden in the face.

“My dear Zack is doing well, who are you asking to mourn for?”

She was unreasonable, punching Holden in the face over and over again, leaving him bruised and swollen, but refusing to let go.

If it wasn't for Peter stepping in and pulling her away, Holden might have been beaten to death by her on the couch.

Gigi, who was pulled away, let out a burst of anger with her fists, and then felt a surge of heat in her lower abdomen. She also felt a twisting pain and liquid flowing out from below. Gigi suddenly panicked.

Chapter 1723

“Taya, help me...”

6/7

Taya rushed forward and caught Gigi as she collapsed to the ground, her head spinning. Before Gigi lost consciousness, Taya grabbed her hand tightly and, like a madwoman, yelled at Johnny in anger.

“Johnny, she's pregnant, go call the doctor!”

Johnny seemed unaware that Gigi was pregnant. When he heard this, he paused for a moment and then rushed to Taya's side. He picked up the unconscious Gigi and ran outside with her.

Taya went to the hospital as well, and she didn't relax until the doctor assured her that the pup was fine. She mentioned the lump in her throat and finally let it go.

She saw that Gigi was still unconscious, so she said hello to Johnny and prepared to return to Blue Bay Island to continue questioning Holden.

Johnny stood in front of the hospital bed, but suddenly turned around and stared at Taya. "Griffon and Zack are both S's people, right?"

The Billionaire Alpha's Contract Lover

Chapter 1724

Taya's body stiffened, she didn't answer Johnny, but he continued, "Now that my sister's fiancé has passed away, how long are you going to keep hiding this from me?"

Taya looked up at Johnny and said, "I'm sorry!"

Johnny wanted to confront Taya, but when he saw her red and swollen eyes, he couldn't bring himself to say the words he wanted to.

He simply withdrew his gaze from her and said coldly, "Go back and ask clearly, I'll come find you for the answer later."

He knew Griffon had been missing for three months, and now Holden had returned with Zack's urn, but Griffon was still missing.

This meant that something big had happened, and Johnny couldn't even begin to guess what it was. Holden, on the other hand knew exactly what had happened.

Taya nodded at Johnny and quickened her pace, with Peter by her side for protection, as they hurried back to Blue Bay Island.

Chapter 1724

2/6

Holden didn't leave, he just sat in the couch, touching the urn, waiting for her to come back.

Taya, suppressing her feelings of sadness, approached

Holden with her trembling body and asked, "Can you please tell me what happened?"

The urn belonged to Zack, but that didn't mean Griffon doesn't have an accident. Otherwise, he wouldn't have left a suicide note for Silas.

Taya actually already realized this, but she was just liked Gigi, unwilling to believe it...

Holden withdrew his hand from the urn and looked up at Taya.

"There's a place called Erebus, it's an organization similar to S, but their original intention was to target S. I don't know if the mastermind behind Erebus has a grudge against my foster father or Mr. Greyson, but anyone associated with S who goes in, never comes out..."

"So, the place you went to was Erebus?"

Holden nodded slightly, his eyes filled with fear.

“Three months ago, Mr. Greyson and I went to Erebus. Zack joined us later, but he quickly caught up with us. It was only during the seventh round of the life and death game that Mr. Greyson encountered danger. Zack chose to sacrifice himself to protect him...”

Chapter 1724

3/6

As he spoke, Holden reached out and touched Zack’s urn.

“After the door opened, Zack fell into a pit of poisonous snakes.

and was bitten to death. The snakes devoured all of his flesh.

Inside this pit, were the bones that Mr. Greyson and I risked our lives to retrieve...”

As soon as Taya heard about Zack’s death, her blood froze in her veins.

In her mind, she pictured Zack and herself sitting together at the dinner table on a cruise ship, enjoying the ocean view. while making fun of Griffon’s terrible cooking.

Back then, Griffon, upon hearing them criticize him, had a cold expression on his face and forced Zack to eat everything he had made.

After reluctantly taking a few bites, Zack couldn’t take it anymore and jumped onto the railing, shouting at Griffon that his food was terrible. He would rather jump into the sea than eat anything made by Griffon.

Back then, Zack was still so lively and energetic. How could it be that in just a few short months of notseeing him, he left this world in such a tragic way?

Chapter 1724

Taya couldn't accept it. "Could it be fake? Is Zack not really dead?"

4/6

Taya couldn't believe it. "Is it possible that it's not true? Could Zack still be alive?"

How could there be such a twisted game in this world, and how could there be such a cruel place?

She didn't believe it, but Holden told her word for word, "I saw it with my own eyes, along with Mr. Greyson."

A few months ago, Zack called him and asked him to let him.

know before he left. Holden agreed.

"If I had known that Zack would secretly follow me and end up dying there, I would never havemessaged him."

Taya's heart skipped a beat, and then it tightened slowly, followed by a suffocating feeling thatgripped her throat, making it impossible to breathe.

After a moment, she moved her stiff and numb fingers and slowly looked at Holden across from her. "What about him?"

"Did Zack stay there forever? And what about Griffon, did he also...stay there?"

Chapter 1724

5/6

Holden withdrew his fingers from the urn, seemingly at a loss.

for words and remained silent.

Taya didn't rush him, she just quietly stared at the thin and tired Holden.

After a long time, Holden finally lifted his head and said, "He's even worse off than Zack."

Taya's heart stopped beating, her ears ringing and her vision instantly blurred. It was as if the whole world had frozen.

in place, taking away her soul and leaving her completely unconscious.

Holden was ready to be beaten by Taya, but she didn't react at all. She just stared at him with a hopeless look, which made Holden's heart ache in sympathy.

After sitting there in a daze for a while, Taya finally opened her mouth and tried a few times before she could make a sound. "How...did he die?"

Holden raised his hands and covered his face in agony. "Cranium opening, the final round of the life and death game. The loser will have their skull opened and their brain emptied.

of all its contents.”

Taya’s tears fell once again, without warning.

Chapter 1724

“Sorry, Mrs. Knight.”

Holden got up from the couch and plopped down on his knees in front of her.

“I was the one who lost, but Mr. Greyson chose to sacrifice himself in order to keep me alive.”

Holden bent his tall frame and pressed his forehead against the ground, apologizing over and over again.

“Sorry, sorry, sorry...”

Chapter 1725

The light in Taya’s eyes slowly faded away, as if she had been plunged into an endless darkness filled with nothing but despair.

Her mind was filled with images of Griffon having his skull opened. She didn’t know if those people had given him.

anesthesia, which could at least ease the pain, or if they had just cut him open without any numbing. She couldn’t imagine the feeling of having things taken out of his brain piece by piece...

Just the thought of Griffon dying in such agony made Taya's heart feel like it was being ripped in two.

She took big, gasping breaths, but still couldn't catch her breath. The suffocating feeling was unbearable, as if her mouth and nose were blocked and she couldn't even get any air.

Taya winced in pain, clutching her chest and slowly bending over, but the excruciating pain in her heart just wouldn't ease. Tears streamed down her face, drop by drop, hitting the floor...

Holden couldn't help but lift his head when he saw the tears on the ground. What he saw was Taya's lifeless appearance.

Chapter 1725

In that moment, feelings of guilt and self-blame rushed into his heart, making him unable to look directly at her.

"My sister asked him to protect me, so he did..."

Thinking about the way Griffon sacrificed himself for him, Holden buried his head even deeper into his knees.

"Sorry..."

Taya's ears slowly regained their ability to hear as she looked away from Holden, who had buried his head in his knees, with her eyes red and swollen.

"So you're saying he chose you, so he doesn't want me anymore."

She almost used all her strength to say these words from her throat.

He promised her that he would come back, but he ended up leaving her behind to save someone else.

Should she praise him for his righteousness, or should she hate him for his cruelty?

Taya's face turned pale, with a touch of endless mockery.

Chapter 1725

But could she blame him for this?

3/6

No, she couldn't.

Because of her husband risked everything to save others.

She released her hand from her chest and wiped away the tears on her face before looking down at Holden, who was still kneeling.

"Where are his ashes?"

"No one claimed his body."

Holden clenched his fists tightly.

"We're heading in two different directions, I can't go back..."

However, he knew that those who accepted punishment would be held down on the operating table by the black-clothed figures hiding behind masks, and have their heads cut in half with a knife from the back of their skulls.

Then, their insides would be scooped out and thrown into the trash bin, while the remaining body would be kicked into the incineration chute.

As he and Mr. Greyson entered the final round of the game, the videos playing on the walls all around them were filled with the fear of death.

This fear often led people to make the wrong choices. The gamblers who entered at the same time as them were no exception.

As soon as the door opened, they were dragged onto the operating table and had their skulls opened and their bodies burned in front of the next participant.

At the critical moment, he and Griffon were faced with a decision – one made the right choice, while the other made the wrong one.

He was prepared to sacrifice himself, but before the door could open, Griffon pushed him aside with lightning speed and was pulled away, not giving Holden any chance at all.

Taya's heart sank when she heard that no one was going to claim Griffon's body. Her eyes, hollow and empty, suddenly sparked with a glimmer of hope.

"Did you see him being decapitated with your own eyes?"

Holden knew that Taya was expecting something, but...

“Before he entered the gates of death, he gave me a deadline of 23 days. If he comes back within that time, it means he succeeded. But if not, it’s a sign of misfortune...”

Chapter 1725

5/6

So, whether he saw it with his own eyes or not, Griffon can’t come back anymore.

“But...”

Taya tried to struggle, but Holden cut off her hope.

“Mrs. Knight, your husband had everything planned out. The first letter he sent you was through Preston, a month after he left. He wanted to come back to you within that month after completing his mission, but he also knew that it wouldn’t be easy to leave Erebus. So he wrote in the letter, asking you to wait for two more months...”

“But he calculated that he couldn’t finish the task within a month, so he knew he wouldn’t be able to finish it within two months either. That’s why he wrote a second letter, asking Preston to deliver it to Silas after two months. He did this because he was afraid that if he couldn’t come back, there would be someone else to take care of you.”

As Holden spoke, his eyes uncontrollably filled with tears.

“You know, when I came back, I was just like you, hoping that Alpha would come back within 23 days. But he didn’t, he never did. That’s when I realized, he’s not coming back for real...”

Because he knew Alpha wouldn’t be coming back, he chose to be honest when he received Peter’s call, instead of following Alpha’s request to continue hiding the truth from Taya or helping him push Taya towards Silas.

Because Taya rejected Silas, it’s clear that she loved Alpha very much. A woman who loved a man like that had the right to know everything about him.

Chapter 1726

After hearing Taya’s words, her hands and feet turned icy cold, and even her blood seemed to chill. The light and hope that had just ignited were gone in an instant.

“It was all fake...”

The messenger who reported back, the one we waited for a month, the one we trusted for or two months, turned out to be

Silas, who was actually a pawn in Griffon’s plan...

She curled her lips into a bitter smile, a sharp and suppressed laugh that struck Holden's eyes and made him feel guilty.

"It's all my fault. I'm sorry for him and I'm sorry for you too."

Taya sat on the couch for a long, long time, until she was shivering from the cold and finally regained consciousness.

She hugged her arms tightly and slowly moved her numb eyes to look at Holden, who was still kneeling on the ground in repentance.

"Give me the address and I'll go find him."

No matter if he was dead or alive, she had to see him.

Chapter 1726

At this moment, Holden finally understood why Alpha had warned him not to tell Taya the truth – she would actually sacrifice herself for Alpha.

2/5

Holden had always been reserved when it came to emotions, but in that moment, Taya managed to touch him.

However, the place she wanted to go was not somewhere she could go, and he couldn't bear to let Alpha's beloved person go to such a place...

"Sorry, I have no idea."

He wasn't lying, he really didn't know the address because they were all drugged and taken in. Even when they woke up, all they saw were cold and heartless electronic devices, with no sign of any human presence.

“I’ll go find it myself then.”

After Taya firmly finished speaking, she steadied her trembling body and stood up, leaning on the sofa.

For her, as long as he was alive, she would go see him. If he died, she would go collect his body. They were always meant to be together.

“Mrs. Knight!”

Chapter 1726

Holden quickly got up and stopped Taya.

“Once you go in there, you can’t come out.”

Taya raised her tear-filled eyes and stared at Holden with intensity.

“How did you manage to get out?”

Π

Holden lowered his eyelashes, afraid to meet Taya’s gaze.

“Me and Mr. Greyson disguised ourselves as gamblers, pretending to be part of Erebus’ group. They have no idea.

that we are actually working for S. So in the final round, as long as we make the right choice, there’s still a chance for us to get out.”

But if they were discovered to be members of S, they would never be able to leave.

Those who disguised themselves as gamblers to investigate the masterminds behind Erebus, ended up staying there.

Not only did the members sent to be undercover agents perish in Erebus, but also the leaked list of members was directly taken in by Erebus and turned into test subjects...

Chapter 1726

4/5

Alpha agreed to help Master Davies expose the mastermind behind the scenes not only to break away from S and spend the rest of his life peacefully with Taya, but also for the thousands of members who were tortured and killed by Erebus...

“How can you expect to get out when even he can’t?”

Holden tried to persuade Taya, but she just looked at him with a determined and desperate expression in her eyes.

It was because of despair that she had no fear, but how could Alpha bear to let his wife go to such a place and be tortured by those perverts?

“He told me to make sure you live well, and if you’re willing, he wouldn’t mind if you remated.”

This made her both hurt and helpless.

“He’s truly generous, he doesn’t even mind if I remate.”

Taya pulled up the corners of her torn mouth, laughing bitterly, but tears couldn’t help but fall from her eyes.

Holden remained silent, blocking her path and preventing her from leaving or causing any trouble.

Taya knew that Holden wouldn’t let her go, so she slowly retreated back to the couch and sat down again...

“Can you tell me why you guys went there?”

The Billionaire Alpha’s Contract Lover

Chapter 1727

1/5

“We’re on a mission to find the mastermind behind it all. Only by uncovering their identity can we destroy Erebus.”

The only way for the members of S to be permanently safe was to destroy Erebus, because Erebus’s goal was to massacre every member of S, including Alpha. Therefore, they couldn’t stay out of it.

“So, did you guys find it?”

Holden shook his head, his eyes filled with endless self–blame.

If he hadn’t made the wrong choice, maybe they still had a chance.

“I had thought about staying there and taking on more. challenges until I found the person behind it all, but after Alpha let me go, I decided to leave.”

He knew that Alpha wanted him to come back, to bring a message to Taya and help her live on with faith. So, between sacrificing himself and delivering the message, Holden chose to deliver the message. It may seem weak, but it was Alpha’s last wish.

“He wanted me to keep you hidden all this time, but I couldn’t do it. I’m sorry.”

Chapter 1727

Taya nodded in understanding and slowly clenched the fingers resting on her lap.

Her inner sadness was taken over by anger, she didn't know when it happened, but she could feel the hatred spreading from her chest to her face, causing her once gentle face to be covered in a layer of frost...

Holden hadn't left yet, and Gigi, who had regained consciousness from her coma, forced herself to get up and returned to Blue Bay Island.

Without saying a word, she burst in and slapped Taya hard. Her strength was immense, and the slap sent Taya flying to the ground.

"It was your husband who killed Zack!"

Taya covered her burning face and raised her red eyes, tears blurring her vision, as she looked at Gigi.

As Taya saw tears streaming down her face and trembling all over, she slowly lowered her head...

Even though Zack didn't die because of her, he died because of Griffon.

Chapter 1727

3/5

No one would be generous enough to forgive someone who killed their loved one, even as a bystander. The fear of death would cause them to lose all rationality.

Taya didn't blame Gigi at all, she just felt sorry for her. After all, Zack's death was so tragic, and he didn't even know he was going to be a father before he died...

“Do you know, Zack said that after he finishes the last task with Alpha, he will come back and mate me.”

Gigi couldn't help but cry as she looked at Taya lying on the ground.

“He said he wanted to mate me, but because of your husband, he can never come back, never ever!”

Taya let out a heart-wrenching scream, causing her to slightly turn her head and bury her face in her arms.

Griffon had promised to come back, but he never did. Maybe he'll never come back.

She was lying on the ground, curled up in a ball, looking even more pitiful than Gigi's hysterical state.

Holden wanted to go forward and help her up, but Johnny beat him to it.

Chapter 1727

4/5

“Johnny grabbed Taya's arm and helped her up, then turned to Gigi.”

“Her husband didn't come back either.”

“I know very well that her husband hasn't come back either, I just...”

Gigi reached for her stomach.

“Zack still doesn't know that I'm pregnant with his pup, and I feel regretful about it. I don't know what to do.”

She stared at Taya's flushed cheeks, her eyes filled with pain and helplessness.

Both of them lost their loved ones, but she could take out her anger on Taya, while Taya couldn't.

She could only endure and bear it, because her husband was the one who caused the death of someone else's fiancé.

Maybe sensing that hitting Taya was wrong, Gigi quickly said sorry and ran out.

Johnny let go of Taya's arm and after giving her a deep look, he also quickened his pace to catch up with her.

The Billionaire Alpha's Contract Lover

Chapter 1728

After they left, Taya collapsed onto the couch, her eyes lifeless and filled with despair.

"Holden, I need some time alone," she said.

In the desolate living room, a faint voice drifted in, carrying both loneliness and a sense of coldness and despair.

Holden's gaze fell upon the slightly swollen face, his lips parting as if to say something, but in the end, he remained silent.

Holden's heavy footsteps gradually faded away, leaving Taya alone in the spacious house.

She was like a gust of wind, floating lightly as if she didn't exist, even her breath was barely there...

After leaning against the couch for a while, she lifted her blurry eyes and looked at the sunset outside the window...

No one could empathize with her current feelings, and Taya wouldn't use her own emotions to manipulate anyone.

She just sat there, feeling the pain of losing Griffon in silence.

Chapter 1728

2/6

She didn't know how long had passed when the door opened again, and the warm glow of the setting sun poured in from the horizon...

Preston held Harper's hand and stood at the doorway, looking at Taya who was crouched in a ball, lost in thought for a long time.

In the end, Harper let go of Preston's hand and stepped on the light on the ground, walking step by step towards Taya.

As Taya was embraced in warm arms, in that moment, it was as if her soul had been sucked out and she finally had a reaction.

She slowly lifted her head from his embrace and saw Harper's worried face and tear-stained eyes.

"I just found out that I thought Griffon was really just on a business trip. I... I'm sorry..."

If she had known earlier, she would have come to accompany Taya, but Preston only told her the truth now. If it weren't for worrying that Taya wouldn't understand, Preston would probably have kept it from her.

As

she made her way over, she couldn't help but blame Preston and Griffon for thinking they knew everything. She also blamed them for not communicating with their wives, leaving them with no solutions when something goes wrong.

Chapter 1728

3/6

Taya was overwhelmed with sadness, but when she saw

Harper crying uncontrollably, she still reached out her hand and awkwardly hugged Harper back.

She was too weak to speak, relying on her loved ones for a bit of comfort. Harper knew she needed strength, so she mustered all her energy and hugged her tightly.

"It's going to be okay. Griffon is so amazing, he will definitely find a way to save himself. You have to believe in him, your have to trust him..."

Despite struggling to hold back her tears, Harper managed to suppress her trembling voice and gently comforted Taya like an older sister, softly stroking her back.

Taya, who had already buried herself in darkness, held Harper tightly and buried her head in her neck, crying out loud like a pup, with a heart-wrenching pain...

Preston's eyes turned red as he looked away from Taya's face and towards the urn on the table. For some reason, just one glance was enough for him to know that it wasn't Griffon inside.

The sound of crying in the living room gradually turned into sobs in the silent stillness. Preston, who had been standing for a long time, lifted his heavy gaze and looked at Taya.

Chapter 1728

“Taya, since you didn’t choose Silas, I’ll be the one to protect you from now on.”

Taya slowly raised her tear-filled eyes and stared blankly at Preston.

“Do you believe he’s dead too?”

Preston shook his head.

“I don’t believe it.”

Griffon was a master strategist and had a knack for being in control of everything. He refused to believe that Griffon had simply died.

“If I don’t believe he’s dead, he just can’t be dead.”

Preston’s determination was so powerful in his eyes.

Taya’s hope deepened, but she didn’t respond. She just remained silent.

She defined Griffon as missing, rather than dead.

Because she will find him, no matter what, she will find him.

Chapter 1728

With this belief in mind, Taya slowly clenched her fingers.

Outside the villa, Peter was holding Grace and playing with Lego.

Peter didn't hear their conversation, but he could sense it.

He had long suspected that Alpha was in a precarious situation and seemed to have mentally prepared himself, but he was still very sad.

It's not the sudden sadness of finding out a friend has passed away, but the slow crumbling of the world that brings sorrow.

Grace was a smart and observant pup. When she saw the heavy expressions on the adults' faces, she knew something had happened.

As she quietly played with her Lego, she sneakily glanced up at Peter. "Uncle Peter, is my uncle Griffon, like the strange uncle, gone?"

Peter's tall figure stiffened for a moment, then he reached out and touched her head. "No, it's not possible. Your uncle is so powerful, why would he leave?"

Grace pretended to be nonchalant as she said, "Although the strange uncle is quite powerful, but my uncle Alpha is event stronger. He should be fine..."

Chapter 1728

Chapter 1729

Peter nodded and told her to stay at home and wait for Alpha to come back. Grace, being very understanding, said, "I will definitely be a good girl and wait for Uncle Alpha to come back. He promised to be there for me as I grow up."

Peter looked up and gazed at the sun setting over the mountains. He could only hope that Mr. Greyson would disappear like the setting sun, only to rise again at dawn.

He stayed with the pup, waiting for the people inside the house to come out.

Suddenly, a car pulled up outside and Frank, who was guarding the door, snapped out of his daze when he heard the honking.

He struggled to stand up with his old body and looked at the person sitting in the car. After recognizing who it was, Frank reached out his trembling hand and pressed the release button.

Even though he had already guessed that Alpha had passed away, just like Peter, Frank still held onto Griffon's last words and promised to take care of Taya no matter what, even if it meant dedicating his entire life to her and making sure she never faced any harm.

Chapter 1729

2/6

Even though his heart was filled with sorrow, Frank still stayed on Blue Bay Island, fulfilling his duties and silently accompanying the only remaining lady here.

The car that was let through sped past the garden and into the castle gates at a breakneck speed. Suddenly, it came to a halt and the passenger door opened.

Andrew, dressed in all black, quickly stepped out of the car.

“Peter!”

Andrew’s face turned pale as he stormed over to Peter and grabbed him by the collar, lifting him up from his chair.

Why didn’t you tell me about Alpha going to Erebus earlier?!”

During this period, Andrew stayed in Wolverly Capital to eliminate the Sinclair pack. He did not receive any news from Alpha about going to Erebus. He only knew that Alpha was going on a business trip to Europe, so he thought he had actually left.

After all, in the past, Alpha would go on short trips for three months or long trips for six months. Who would have thought that Alpha would actually go to Erebus!

Chapter 1729

3/6

“How could you keep this dangerous thing from me for three months when he went to do it?”

If Andrew had known earlier that Alpha was going to Erebus, he would have definitely gone with him!

Peter lifted his dark red eyes, glaring at Andrew with equal anger.

“What’s the point of you going? You’ll just end up like Zack, dead inside!”

“At least there will be one more person to protect Alpha!”

Peter’s lips curled into a smirk as he let out a cold laugh.

“Even Zack couldn’t escape, let alone you.”

Andrew wasn't even part of S, he was just Alpha's assistant. Did he really think he can make a difference by going there?

Andrew clenched his fists tightly and punched Peter in the face.

"I may not be as good as Zack, but I won't hide here and play with kids like you!"

Upon hearing this, Peter's anger surged within him and he clenched his fist, ready to strike back.

Andrew, who had also been punched, refused to back down and grabbed Peter by the collar, delivering another punch.

Peter immediately became furious and broke free from Andrew's grasp. The two of them started to unleash their anger on each other, throwing punches back and forth. Each blow was aimed at the other with intense force.

Grace, who was sitting on a chair next to them, watched the two of them wrestling on the lawn and somehow found the courage to yell at them.

"Stop hitting!"

The piercing screams of a pup echoed through the air, causing the two burly men to slowly cease their violence and weakly release each other.

Two bruised and swollen men sat on the lawn, their backs.

to the setting sun, their heavy heads hanging down as they stared blankly at their bruised hands.

After a moment of silence, Peter spoke in a calm tone.

“Your wife is pregnant, and Alpha doesn’t want to burden you. As for Zack, he secretly followed them on his own.”

Andrew’s body trembled as a wave of sorrow washed over him, causing his eyes to well up with tears.

Chapter 1729

5/6

Peter, who had calmed down, slowly turned his head to look at

Andrew, whose mouth was oozing with blood.

“Alpha is the leader of S, so he has to go.”

Andrew remained silent and didn’t respond. After a long time, he finally spoke up.

“I grew up with him since I was young, how could I not understand him?”

He just couldn’t accept that powerful Alpha died so tragically.

Andrew sat for a while longer, then quickly stood up from the lawn, pushing aside his feelings of sadness.

“I’m going to destroy Erebus!”

He turned around and pulled out a gun from his waist, removed the safety, and quickly walked out.

Peter stared at the stubborn figure for a few seconds before helplessly getting up.

He rushed over at lightning speed, raised his hand, and struck Andrew's back neck with a palm.

Chapter 1729

"Sorry, I promised Mr. Greyson that I wouldn't let anyone around him take risks."

After knocking Andrew down, Peter lifted the tall and muscular man and placed him in the car...

Chapter 1730

1/6

Harper decided to stay and keep Taya company, and Taya didn't refuse. She knew that in times likethese, the people around her would silently stay by her side and offer comfort.

She didn't cry or make a fuss, she was quiet and calm, letting Harper take care of her. Occasionally, she would also help Grace with her homework. Everything was peaceful, just like before, with no differences at all.

Even Frank and Peter believed that Taya would slowly recover from her grief, which was a relief for them. After all, they had lost their master, and now the only thing keeping them going was their remaining mistress.

And the lady, after making everyone lower their guard, picked up Zack's urn and went to the hospital.

Ever since Gigi found out about Zack's passing, she has been bedridden and surviving on IV nutrition.

As Taya appeared with the urn, Gigi, who had stopped crying, couldn't hold back her tears once again.

But this time, she didn't rush over to hit Taya like before, or blame Taya. She just cried silently.

Chapter 1730

Taya suppressed the pain in her heart and walked to Gigi's hospital bed, handing her the heavy urn in her hand.

"He is your fiancé."

2/6

Gigi reached out her trembling fingers and took the urn from Zack's hands, as if caressing her beloved. Her warm fingertips slowly glided over the cold box...

"He was so tall, but who would have thought he'd end up trapped in such a small box."

Gigi lifted her teary and misty eyes, looking at Taya.

"Do you think he'll be uncomfortable living there?"

Upon hearing this, Taya couldn't hold back her tears that she had been suppressing for almost a week, and they started rolling down her cheeks.

She bent down and hugged Gigi, her fair fingers gently stroking Gigi's hair.

Taya's warm gesture caused Gigi, who had been pretending to be strong for days, to suddenly breakdown.

She clutched the urn tightly and leaned into Taya's embrace, crying like a pup and trembling all over.

Chapter 1730

3/6

"Taya, he promised to come back and mate me, how could he just abandon me like this?"

Gigi cried and poured her heart out about Zack's cruelty, but after learning about Griffon's history of protecting Zack since pup period, she slowly began to understand Zack. However, she couldn't accept this departure.

"What am I supposed to do if he can't even give our pup a name when it's born?"

Gigi was not only devastated by Zack's departure, but also felt helpless for losing the father of her unborn pup.

Taya held back her crumbling emotions and gently patted Gigi's back.

"Don't worry, someone will give the pup a name."

"Really?"

Gigi retorted and then grabbed Taya to ask again.

"What name should we engrave on Zack's tombstone?"

"Zack is just a code name, he doesn't have a last name, you can't carve a code name, right?"

Chapter 1730

4/6

After finding out that they were members of S, Johnny looked into Zack, whose code name was S0883 and had no last name.

They didn't know whose pup he was, or how he got into S. All they knew was that Zack had spent his entire life serving S.

Gigi felt heartbroken for Zack, wishing she could spend the rest of her life with him and take care of him, but she never got the chance.

Taya felt a wave of pain in her heart, remaining silent the whole time, unable to find the right words to comfort Gigi.

After Gigi had calmed her emotions, she touched the urn again and a small smile appeared on her lips.

"Zane, even though it's a fake name. But the first time I met him, he introduced himself as Zane."

She wanted to make that Zack would always be her Zane,

As she thought about it, Gigi's smile quickly faded.

"I can't believe Zack is dead, I refuse to believe that he died.

like this...

She set down the urn and pushed Taya, who was hugging her, aside. Then she lifted the covers and got out of bed.

Chapter 1730

"I'm going to go find him."

5/6

Taya, who was pushed to the side, stared blankly at Gigi who was hastily putting on her shoes.

She hurriedly put on her shoes, but her whole body was trembling so she couldn't get them on...

She was so anxious that she didn't bother to put on any shoes. and ran outside barefoot . But she was stopped by Johnny, who had just entered the room.

"The doctor said that her emotions have been unstable lately, affecting her nerves and causing some strange behavior."

After explaining to Taya, Johnny grabbed Gigi and forcefully pushed her back onto the hospital bed, reminding her coldly.

"Zack is dead."

Gigi didn't believe it and struggled to push Johnny away.

As the two argued, they accidentally bumped into the urn. sitting on the side, causing it to fall to the ground with a loud thud.

When Gigi saw what rolled out from inside, she was stunned, staring blankly at the sections on the ground, even catching a faint smell of snake from the broken bones...

Chapter 1730

6/6

Those bones, as if they had a sense of awareness, pulled back the gradually crazed Gigi, causing her disordered nervous system to gradually return to normal.

Chapter 1731

Once a person returned to normal, they would be able to accept things that they couldn't before.

As soon as Gigi saw Zack's broken bones, she realized with absolute clarity that he was dead. Really dead.

She stared at the broken bones for a while, then slowly pushed away the stunned Johnny.

She put her foot on the cold floor and leaned against the edge of the bed, slowly squatting down.

1/6

Her slender fingers trembled as they touched the bones, and she could almost see the gruesome image of Zack being devoured by the snake. Even just a fleeting glimpse was enough to make Gigi shudder in fear...

She trembled as she picked up a bone and held it in her arms, like a statue suddenly losing the ability to speak.

Discovering that her lover had died in a tragic way was even more devastating than just finding out about his death. Gigi felt like her world was collapsing and powerless.

At this moment, Gigi was unable to even cry, just holding onto her broken bones, losing all ability to speak and feel, numbly crouching on the ground like a fragile porcelain doll...

Chapter 1731

2/6

As Taya watched Gigi go from pain to madness and then to silence, her heart couldn't help but ache.

After standing still for a while, she took a step forward and crouched down in front of Gigi. Once again, she reached out and gently touched her hair.

"Miss Brook, you're still carrying Zack's pup in your belly. You need to think about the pup and take good care of yourself."

As for Zack and Griffon, she went to find them herself.

Gigi was actually much more fragile than Taya. At least at this moment, Taya was like a dim light in the morning, burning herself to illuminate others.

Gigi, who was illuminated by the beam of light, slowly raised her numb eyes and stared blankly at Taya.

"What's the point of having a pup without Zack?"

"That's the witness of your love with him, only when you and the pup are alive, will Zack live forever!"

Without Griffon's protection, Taya grew into a towering tree within just a few days.

Chapter 1731

She helped Gigi up and gently guided her back onto the hospital bed, then looked at her with determined eyes.

3/6

"For Zack's sake, for the sake of your pup, you must take care of yourself no matter what."

Gigi looked at Taya, who was incredibly strong, with a dim and lifeless gaze, as if searching for a glimmer of comfort and courage.

“Will Zack live on forever as long as my pup and I are alive?”

Taya nodded lightly.

“Okay, I promise you, I will take good care of myself.”

Taya finally reached out and gently stroked Gigi’s hair once again.

After all, she was Griffon’s cousin, which was basically like being her own cousin, She should have loved and cherished her cousin, and also given her hope and strength .

After Gigi’s emotions calmed down, Taya gave a few more reminders before getting up and leaving.

Chapter 1731

“Taya.”

As she reached the doorway, Gigi called out to her again.

“I had no idea that Zack secretly followed Alpha, and I feel really sorry for that slap.”

Taya’s lips curled up as she turned around and gave Gigi a smile.

She left these words behind, picked up her heavy steps, and quickly left the ward.

She arrived at the lobby on the first floor and registered, hoping to get a prescription for sleeping pills from the doctor.

She had to leave, but first she needed to get rid of Frank and Peter. As for those bodyguards, they were easy to handle.

However, Frank and Peter were following her closely, so she had to give them some sleeping pills to let them get a good night's rest.

During this time, she couldn't fall asleep no matter what she did. The doctor would definitely prescribe some sleeping pills to help her sleep.

Chapter 1731

5/6

After the doctor asked about her symptoms, he told her to go and get a blood test done.

After finishing her examination, Taya waited for a while and received the news that her report was ready.

She then went back to the consultation room and asked the doctor to prescribe medication for her.

The doctor gave her a stern look after reading the blood test report.

"You're pregnant, why are you still taking sleeping pills?"

"I...am pregnant?"

The doctor nodded and then typed a bunch of medicine names on the computer.

"Your fetal condition is a bit unstable. I'll prescribe some medicine for you. Go home and rest well, don't overexert yourself.”

The doctor’s voice echoed in Taya’s ears, slowly bringing her back from her shocked thoughts.

She should have known it earlier, she hasn’t had her period for several months in a row, so she must be pregnant.

6/6

But during this time, her heart was completely tied to Griffon, and she didn’t pay any attention to her own health.

Suddenly being told that she was pregnant, she didn’t know how to react. It seemed like whether she was happy or not didn’t even matter any more.

She reached out and touched her stomach, finding it hard to accept that she was pregnant at a time like this.

But this was the pup she had been longing for for a very long time, she should be happy ...

But without Griffon, she didn’t have anyone to share her joy with. How could she be happy?

What should she do?

Should she follow her advice to Gigi and stay at home to take care of herself, or should she go against all odds and find the father of her pup?

Who could tell her the answer?

B

Chapter 1732

Taya took the report and left the hospital, looking out at the traffic coming and going, she suddenly not knowing where to

1. go.

After standing frozen for a long time, she leaned against the wall, on the steps, and slowly sat down, her numb mind filled with images of Griffon holding her, kissing her, and saying he loved her.

She wondered what the image would be like if Griffon was there and knew she was pregnant, would his face, like a 10,000 year old ice sculpture, melt with joy, or would he be so happy that he would pick her up in his arms, like all fathers do?

She couldn't imagine what kind of look Griffon would have, all she knew was that she missed him so much, and that missing wasn't sweet, it was painful, a pain that went deep into her bones after losing the love of her life.

She was alone, looking at the road weaving crowd, how she hoped Griffon can take a step to her..... but she looked through the eyes, that familiar figure did not appear, this was all just her delusion, she lost, dropped his eyes, looking at the report, the pup and Griffon. What should she choose?

When her mind was in turmoil Bul

Chapter 1732

2/6

Taya looked at the little girl, and then lowered her eyes to the small box in the little girl's hand.

Peter, who had been standing guard a short distance away, immediately stepped forward when he saw someone approaching her.

Taya shook her head at him, signaling him not to come over, before reaching out to take it.

She opened the box and a gold leaf, appeared in front of her.

She picked it up and twisted it in her hand, touching it and realizing it was real gold.

“Who gave you this?”

Taya, somewhat surprised, asked the little girl.

The little girl licked the lollipop in her hand and shook her head at her.

“Sister, I don’t know him either.”

Taya frowned.

“What about that uncle?”

“He gave me some lollipops and left.”

Chapter 1732

The little girl pointed down the hallway inside the hospital.

Taya looked in the direction of her finger and didn’t notice anyone suspicious.

She withdrew her eyes and looked again at the gold leaf in her hand.

3/6

The front side was pure gold, there was nothing special about it, turning it over and looking at it, the back side did have a letter engraved on it.

[E]

What did E mean?

Taya looked up in confusion, wanting to ask the little girl for more information, but the little girl had run away.

Squeezing the gold leaf in her hand, she looked down to continue poking around, just in time to see the inside of the box, with a note lying on it.

She quickly turned it over and opened it, with only two words written on it.

[Docks]

Taya remembered that before Griffon left, he also went to the docks.

Chapter 1732

It couldn't be that this was from Griffon to her, could it?

Taya's numb heart, suddenly skipped a beat.

She grabbed the item in her hand and quickly got up, running towards the hospital corridors.

She searched the long corridors, back and forth, but couldn't find Griffon's figure.

Somewhat drained, she held onto the wall at the end of the corridor and pressed against her panicked chest, exhaling loudly.

The doctor said that she had had a major surgery and her health was too poor, so she should not move much, and should take care of her rest, or she would easily miscarry.

She looked forward to the arrival of this pup for a long, long time and took many, many pills.

But.....

Taya took up the gold leaf in her hand.

E, didn't it stand for Erebus?

If so, then the person who gave her the gold leaf could never be Griffon, but someone from Erebus.

Chapter 1732

5/6

They gave her the gold leaf and told her to go to the pier, because they expected her to look for Griffon, so as to lure her into a trap.

Just why did they want her in, what could she do with her hands and nothing?

Taya could not understand, pinched the gold leaf and the report, pondered for a long time, raised her hand and touched her belly.....

In her heart, Griffon ranked first, the pup second.

Thinking of this, Taya put away the gold leaf, and then tore the report into two halves, and when she turned around decisively, she saw Peter, who was waiting at the far end, puzzled, looking at her.

When Taya entered the clinic and came out, Peter didn't follow her, and didn't know about her pregnancy, but only knew that she was holding a report with a heavy look on her face.

Taya was not going to tell him, but was wondering where to get the sleeping pills, otherwise she would not be able to get rid of Peter and the others even if she knew how to get to Erebus.

Although bringing Peter and the others with her was foolproof, but even characters like Zack and Griffon had folded in there, Peter and the others were bound to be in danger, Taya, who didn't want to drag them down, decided to

She knew that if she went by herself, she was afraid that there would be no return, but so what, her husband was there, she was bound to go to seek him, even if she would die, she would die in the place where he left.

As for the pup, she wanted to have it for Griffon, but with Griffon gone, the significance of the pup, for her, didn't seem so important.

However, she would try her best to find a way to protect the pup, thinking of this, Taya took out her cell phone, went to pay the bill and picked up the birth control medicine.

Seeing so many medicines, Peter still couldn't help but go up to Taya and ask,

Peter reached out to take the medicine from Taya's hand, but she avoided it, "I can do this little thing."

Peter did not ask more questions, just stared at the gold leaf in her hand, just too far away, he did not see the words and note engraved on the back of the gold leaf, only know that a man entrusted a little girl to send the gold leaf to her.

Taya couldn't say what she felt, she only hooked her lips towards him, "Fine."

Johnny was silent for a few seconds before opening his mouth again, "I told you to go back to Holden the other day and ask him about it before I came back to you for answers, can you tell me now?"

Taya asked in disbelief, "Why do you need to know that?"

Johnny said, "I'm the vice president of the Eurasian Union Chamber of Commerce, S borrowed the power of the World pack and frequently struck the Chamber of Commerce, damaging the interests of many chambers, I have the responsibility to track down S and give the members of the Union of Chambers an explanation."

Chapter 1733

But that's none of Taya's business:

“There’s no point in you knowing that now that they’re all gone, and since you’re well aware of it yourself, there’s nothing I can tell you.”

What she learned about S, wasn’t that comprehensive, maybe not as much as Johnny knew.

Johnny wasn’t annoyed, “All you have to do is tell me where they went, and if it was Erebus.”

Taya didn’t expect Johnny to know about Erebus, and her grip on the box tightened a few more points.

Faced with Taya’s barrage of questions, Johnny didn’t answer, just stared at her with a pair of deep blue eyes. “You want to go?”

Taya, who had been read through her mind with a glance, had her heart tightened, but without changing her face, she shook her head.

Johnny slightly turned his body sideways and looked Taya's delicate and thin body up and down.

"With a body like yours, it's better to stay home and be a canary."

opened her mouth. "Your sleeping pills, can I have some?"

Johnny followed her line of sight to the sleeping pills laying on the storage box.

He was bipolar and it was normal for him to take sleeping pills, but what was Taya doing here?

"What do you need sleeping pills for?"

"I can't sleep at night."

Johnny stared at Taya for a moment before reaching out with thin white fingers, picking up the box of pills and handing them to her. "You can only take one at a time."

Taya came home and couldn't help but get red in the eyes when she saw Harper busy in the kitchen with Grace. She could have gone to Griffon, but there were still two people here that she was most worried about, Harper and Grace.

Harper had mated Preston and had a husband to shelter her and a pup to hold on to, so she didn't have to worry too much, but Grace angled his chin at her, "Gigi doesn't believe Zack is dead and is clamoring to get to Zack, in order to kill her I'm going to make a trip to Erebus, it just so happens that you're going as well, so let's come along."

Taya stiffened, as if she hadn't realized that Johnny had sensed that she was going to Erebus and was planning to go with her.

After she recovered from her astonishment, she looked at Johnny: "Zack and their so good hands didn't escape, you're frail and sick to run there, I'm afraid you....."

Johnny coldly interrupted her: "I'm frail and sick, how good can you be?"

Taya hesitated for a moment before still shaking her head, "Miss Brook has already lost her fiancé, if she loses her loving brother again, she would definitely go crazy."

Johnny put away his rambling and asked her rhetorically, "You don't think she's crazy right now?"

Gigi's irritation affected her nerves, saying one minute that Zack was dead and the next that he wasn't, and she wouldn't accept

Taya lowered her eyes and fell into indecision, Johnny stared at her, fell silent, and then spoke meaningfully, "As her brother, it's only right to do something for her."

Taya said in a deep voice: "Zack followed my husband to Erebus, all that came back was broken bones, you followed me to Erebus, I'm afraid that even the bones can't come back, how should I explain to Miss Brook then?"

Johnny didn't care: "She won't know, I made a thorough plan and arranged hundreds of people to follow us quietly, when we wait for the specific place, my people would destroy the place immediately."

Taya frowned: "A plan that even you can think of, my husband can definitely think of it as well, and they must have made deployments in this regard as well, but not only did they not destroy Erebus, they still couldn't get out of there, which means that Erebus is very powerful....."

Johnny naturally knew that Erebus was powerful, but so what: "It's better than doing nothing and going straight to death, right?"

Johnny fastened his seat belt, facing the dim light, looked at Taya who was stunned: "On Preston's mating ceremony boat, we also played the game of two choices, only you and I won, remember?"

Taya was a bit bemused, "You and I just got lucky, and we played a game that doesn't kill people."

The Erebus side of the house was obviously a place where torturing people for fun, was it comparable to the tricks played by a couple of rich dudes fighting amongst themselves?

Johnny, however, hooked his lips and smiled disdainfully, "Who knows if we'll keep getting lucky?"

Taya said, "Mr. Brook, I'm not there to have fun, I'm there to see my husband."

Johnny glanced at her for a second, “What’s wrong with you looking for your husband and me looking for my brother-in-law?”

Taya was dumbfounded by the dislike and Johnny asked her again, “I know the specifics of what’s going on inside Erebus, do you?”

She was afraid Holden would sense she was going to Erebus and hadn’t approached him for specifics, she shook her head, “I’ll just know the address.”

Johnny’s goggle-eyed demeanor grew cold, “How did you know Erebus’s address?”

Taya hesitates for a moment before choosing to trust Johnny, removing the gold leaf and note and handing it to him, “I don’t know Erebus’s address, but there was a little girl, who gave me these two things.”

Johnny took it, glanced at the note, then picked up the gold leaf and examined it, “This gold leaf, is an invitation card for Erebus, and the letter E on the back, is the code name for Erebus.”

He tore his eyes away from the gold leaf and looked to Taya, “The people behind Erebus send invitation cards to people if they’re particularly interested in them, and the fact that you’ve Griffon isn’t dead and they want to use me as a threat as a way to control him?”

Johnny shook his head, “I’d like to think they’re using Griffon as a threat to lure you in, after all, Griffon is already deep in Erebus and they can just control him.”

Taya sniffed and breathed a deep sigh of relief, as long as her presence would not threaten Griffon, “And why would they want to lure me in?”

Johnny handed the gold leaf back to her, “Inevitably, there is value in keeping an eye on you.”

Taya wondered, “What value can I have?”

Johnny reached out with thin white fingers and tapped her steering wheel, “Go to the docks and I’ll tell you on the way.”

Taya stared at Johnny, hesitated for a moment, and then, without further ado, started the car and drove straight toward the docks.

Johnny doesn’t tell Taya on the way what value she has to Erebus, because he doesn’t know either.

But he did give a full account of what was going on in Erebus.

First of all, there was the origin of Erebus. Erebus was ostensibly a place for the rich and gamblers to have fun, but in actuality, it was set up initially to target the S.

However, after failing to find out for a long time which members— of the S were involved, no action had been launched.

3/3

Abuse, like Holden was talking about, was also recent, and it’s due to the fact that within S, a member named Mr. Ben defected, took a list of some of S’s members, and defected to Erebus, and that’s why S was brutally abused.

As for the hatred between S and Erebus, and why Mr. Ben didn’t expose Griffon and their identities, Johnny said that

Holden wasn’t sure either, and only knew that the manipulator behind the scenes of Erebus was even more powerful than S’s founder, Master Davies, or else Mas ter Davies wouldn't have been at his wits' end to the extent that, time and time again, he sent his members in to work as an undercover, and even sent Griffon in the end.

The fact that a leader liked Griffon had to go undercover personally to find the mastermind behind the scenes only meant that a manipulator like Erebus, who played with high tech and was mysterious and unpredictable, was bound to be either an even match with or above them, but it's hard to say who exactly.

After all, there were many others who were equal to them, or above them, all over the world, such as the invisible rich in Central Europe, the low-profile aristocrats in Southern Europe, and the Scandinavian royal families, as well as the momentum in North America, Australia, or the uncharted territories, there were just too many, and anyone could be a manipulator of Erebus.

Chapter 1737

Next was the internal situation of Erebus. Johnny said that Erebus was extremely secretive and not everyone could enter. You needed to receive an invitation card from Erebus and go to the designated location in order to qualify to go in.

Of course, just because Erebus sent an invitation didn't mean you have to go. Some rich people and gamblers were curious and choose to go because, as Johnny put it, when you were rich, life felt meaningless and only mental stimulation brought joy. When you were poor, only endless wealth could satisfy you.

As for how the members of S infiltrated, it's because Erebus knew that most of the members of S came from noble packs. They had sent out invitation cards to many of them a long time ago, just to randomly find members of S. Those who received the invitation card could go to the designated location at anytime.

Members like Griffon, Holden, and Zack were the targets Erebus was interested in, and they had received invitation cards a long time ago. However, they didn't pay much attention to it until the massacre happened. S, including Master Davies, didn't know the true purpose of Erebus until then. They only knew it was a place for the entertainment of the rich and gamblers.

After the rich, gamblers, or infiltrators accepted the invitation, Erebus would secretly observe them for a long time at the designated location. Once Erebus determined that the invitee was okay, they would secretly drug them.

Once inside, the invitees would usually be in an empty room.

the life and death games. However, Holden said that during the final round, the men in black would appear and take away the losers.

Before the game starts, a mechanical voice would explain the rules and winning mechanism of the game. After that, the invitees could choose to leave or stay. Those who chose to stay had to follow Erebus's requirements, but Erebus wouldn't randomly kill them. Only the losers would face cruel punishment.

The game was divided into different areas, and the invitees had the freedom to choose. But once they chose an area, they had to complete all the games inside. If the losers ma naged to survive in the game from the first round to the last, they could continue to complete the remaining games. Usually, very few people could make it to the final round.

The survivors would be forced to sign an agreement not to disclose any information, or they would be assassinated. This was why the members of S didn't know the true purpose of Erebus before the massacre. The winners who survived and were sent out were also drugged, so no one knew where Erebus was located.

Holden told Johnny all this because he was a member of S, and his mission was to expose the mastermind behind Erebus. When he failed, he pinned his hopes on Johnny, the vice president of the Eurasian Union, hoping that Johnny could do something after getting information from Erebus.

Finally, there was a difference in treatment between the members of S and the rich gamblers. When the rich gamblers lost the game, they received punishment according to the

Chapter 1738

Upon hearing this, Taya felt a chill run down her spine and her whole body went cold. Even though Mr. Ben hadn't exposed Griffon and their identities, there was still potential danger.

Taya steadied herself, pulled over, and turned to Johnny, "You just said Erebus is using Griffon as a threat to lure me in, right?"

Johnny nodded.

Taya tightened her grip, "Griffon told me before that Mr. Ben and Tara have a list of S members. Tara and I have some personal grievances. Could she be the one luring me in?"

Johnny knew about Tara's history with Griffon and said, "If she's the one luring you in, are you still going?"

Taya wasn't concerned about her own safety, only about Griffon. "If Griffon is alive, will Tara use me to control him?"

Johnny thought for a moment and said, "If Griffon is still alive, he hasn't returned, which means he's been controlled. Whether you go or not, Erebus can use you to control Griffon. I think Tara is luring you in to seek revenge. So, regardless of whether Griffon is alive or dead, she knows you'll go for him, which is why she sent you the golden leaf." Taya realized that Tara was targeting her. She couldn't make sense of how Tara got involved with Erebus after Mr. Ben joined them. The only thing she needed to be sure of was her decision.

Johnny, seeing her silent, said, "You stole her fiancé. If you go,

Chapter 1738

Taya, gripping the steering wheel, instinctively pushed back, "They were not engaged before, I didn't steal her fiancé. And didn't you say Erebus doesn't kill indiscriminately?"

2/3

Johnny calmly said, "It depends on what kind of level Tara has in Erebus with the list of S members. But according to Holden's description, Erebus is a place that strictly follows rules. If you don't make a wrong move during the game, she won't be able to touch you. But Griffon may already be dead. Are you really going to take the risk for the unknown?"

Taya asked him, "What about you? You saw Zack's broken bones and learned the truth of how Zack died from Holden, yet still want to go with me. Isn't that also taking a risk for the unknown?"

Johnny's eyes flickered, but he remained silent. Zack was already dead, he knew that, but he still wanted to go and tell Gigi himself. Of course, to a large extent, it was because ...

Johnny's gaze, almost imperceptibly, swept over Taya's face, his eyes inscrutable. When he remained silent, Taya's gentle voice came to his ear, "You know, Griffon and I have been through a lot to be together. We both cherish each other. Now, the person I love has disappeared, and I've even heard news of his death. I can't just sit at home and wait because I've been waiting for him for too long."

"I've been waiting for him since I fell in love with him. At first, I waited for him to say he loved me, then I waited for him to make me, and then I waited for him to come home. Now I have to wait to see if he will come back alive. Do you think I can keep waiting, especially since... I've already waited for over three months."

sadness. For Johnny, it sounded uncomfortable, but he didn't respond, just slightly tightened the fingers on his knee.

"So, whether Tara wants to harm me or not, I have to go. I believe Erebus follows rules, and I believe my luck will turn around. After all, I've been unlucky enough in the first half of my life. If fate wants me to continue being unlucky, then I want to die in a Then I'm going to die where he is, because this time, I don't want to wait."

B

Chapter 1739

The determination in her eyes shook Johnny to the core, as if at that moment, he realized that Taya's love for Griffon had reached a level of depth that could transcend life and death.

To her, Griffon was like the dawn, and if the dawn didn't come as promised the next day, she would forever be stuck in yesterday's dusk.

The bond between life and death was never just talk for them.

Johnny realized this and for the first time felt like he couldn't measure up to Griffon. But Taya was the first girl he liked, so he had to do something for her, otherwise, what's the point of liking her?

Taya didn't know what Johnny was thinking and simply said to him, "Mr. Brook, even though you said Erebus is very strict with its rules, losing means death. You shouldn't go. As for Gigi's obsession, leave it to me."

Johnny instantly got angry, "I arranged so many people to go destroy Erebus, do you think I'm playing house? You said the first half of your life was unlucky, do you think the first half of my life wasn't unlucky? How can you assume my luck won't turn around like yours?"

Taya, unable to persuade him, took out a gold leaf and explained, "I won't let you go. One, I'm afraid of putting you in danger, and two, you don't have a gold leaf. Erebus's people - probably won't let you in, right?" back, Erebus didn't send him an invitation. Did Erebus also look down on him? This made him even angrier, "I have my ways, you don't need to worry about it."

Taya wanted to continue persuading him, but Johnny got angry. Faced with a man who could erupt at any moment, she closed her mouth, restarted the car, and quickly drove to the dock.

The two remained silent on the way and when they arrived at the dock, Taya got out of the car, went to the trunk, and took out a suitcase. Just as she placed it on the ground, Johnny took out a pair of handcuffs and cuffed her left wrist to his right wrist.

Taya looked at the handcuffs and instinctively frowned, "Is this your idea?"

Johnny, with his hands in his pockets, looked away and didn't respond. Taya tried to say something but ultimately stayed silent.

Johnny then kicked her suitcase, "Don't bring these, Erebus won't allow you to bring anything."

Taya brought the suitcase because she had helped Griffon pack before, and he had taken a suitcase with him. She wanted to try and see if it would work, "I'll try first."

Johnny didn't stop her, he leaned against the trunk and waited for Erebus's people to show up.

After waiting for a long time, a five-year-old girl came running over and handed Taya a note, "A man asked me to give this to you."

“Are you the one who will drug us?” The little girl, who couldn’t understand anything, was scared and started crying when Johnny yelled at her.

“Waaah... Grandpa, there’s a weirdo here, come save me!”

On the dock, just finished unloading cargo, an old man sitting on the ground smoking with his companions, heard his granddaughter crying and quickly turned around to see her being held in their by someone. He immediately got up and rushed over.

“Let go of my granddaughter, or I’ll beat you to death!”

Seeing

the other person holding tools for unloading cargo and accompanied by several old men running over, Taya quickly reached out, took the pup from Johnny’s hands, and placed her safely on the ground, then took out a stack of cash to give to the old men.

After comforting

the ordinary people who had been used, Taya glared at Johnny in anger. “Instead of asking the little girl who her the note, you suspect her of drugging Erebus. Do you have a problem?”

Realizing his mistake in judgment, Johnny felt a little guilty. He took out his phone and called the person he had arranged to be in the dark, asking if they had seen anyone giving the little girl a note. The person said no, so he hung up the phone in frustration.

Chapter 1740

Because she was handcuffed, Johnny had to follow her. The two of them boarded the number 1 ship, which had very few passengers and was quite spacious.

They suspected that Erebus would make a move here. Just when they thought so, the number 1 ship suddenly started moving.

Johnny frowned slightly when he saw the ship move, but he should have arranged for someone to catch up quickly.

However, when the ship arrived at its destination and docked, they were both awake. Taya and Johnny didn't know what Erebus was up to, so they got up to find the captain.

Both Johnny and Taya suspected that the captain was arranged by Erebus, but the captain said he had been operating the ship for many years and had to make regular trips every day, regardless of how many passengers were on board. He even showed them his certificate.

Taya thought that Erebus would only give notes to naive little girls, so how could such a cautious person take the risk of arranging a captain who had been operating the ship for years, unless the captain was Erebus's person.

But if the captain was Erebus's person, Griffon and the others would definitely find out. They had to personally go to Erebus.

After thinking it through, Taya pulled Johnny out of the cabin. Just as they reached the deck, many passengers boarded the ship.

When a young fisherman girl walked up to them, she handed Taya another note, which read: [Ship number 2].

They thought they just had to change ships once, but ended up changing several times in a row.

Taya guessed that Johnny's people had been noticed by Erebus, so Erebus was deliberately messing with them.

Otherwise, they would have been drugged at the designated location on the dock, instead of boardingships number 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5. This was a warning to her.

After realizing this, Taya told Johnny's people to stay away. Just as Johnny finished giving orders, he immediately received new instructions to land on the island within two minutes.

They thought that after landing on the island, someone would come to drug them, but they ended up waiting on the deserted island until late at night, without seeing a single soul.

Johnny was so angry that he almost kicked all the wild grass on the island, while Taya looked him up and down. "They probably saw that there was an extra person with me, so they didn't come..."

Her implication was that she wanted Johnny to go back, but because of Erebus's actions, Johnny's fighting spirit was even more aroused.

"They dare not let me go, which means Erebus is nothing. If he has the guts, he should let me go. I will definitely destroy that organization!"
