Chapter 271

Jackson left Arcadia. Before he left, he sent a message to Taya.

[I'm going back. I won't bother you anymore. Take care.]

When Taya read this message, her eyes turned red. He was still the same as before, never making things difficult for her.

She wanted to reply but felt she had hurt him so much. If she replied, it might give him hope.

Suppressing the sadness, she put down her phone, cleaned herself up, and went out with her bag.

She had cut ties with Griffon and Jackson.

They would not come to her again in the future, so she could leave with peace of mind.

But before she left, she had to go to the Midwest Packs Association offices and finish her resignation. Then, she would find a suitable opportunity to share everything with Harper.

Taya arrived at MPC and went straight to the Tara's office. Tara had just come back. She sat on the sofa and played with her mobile phone.

Seeing Taya come in, Tara raised her eyebrows. She crossed her legs and leaned back on the sofa, scrutinizing her.

"Taya, why aren't you entertaining Alpha Sterling? Why are you here?"

Tara's tone was hostile.

Taya ignored Tara's attitude. "Alpha Sterling has returned to Wolverly Capital. It's time for you to hold to your end of the deal."

Taya wanted to wrap everything up cleanly before she died.

Tara didn't expect that Jackson had already returned to Wolverly Capital. After a moment of shock, she looked Taya up and down again.

“Alpha Sterling didn’t take you...”

Tara thought that if Jackson took a fancy to Taya, he would take her with him.

When the time came, she would transfer Taya to the MPC branch office in Wolverly Capital and use her to get some benefits from Jackson and the Sterling pack.

But thanks to Taya fooling around with other men, it appeared Jackson had kicked her to the curb and didn’t want anything to do with her. Now, there was no point in any of it. Taya was useless to her.

Tara picked up her phone, clicked the approval button in the company’s system, and asked Taya to go through the handover procedure with Lila.

All of the awfulness Tara had put her through...and it was THIS simple.

Taya finished going through the handover process and left MPC. All she had to do now was square things away with Harper.

When she entered the subway station to head home, she received a call from Stella.

“Taya, I found some new medicine that I think will be a huge help to you.”

Stella wanted to take them to Taya but was too busy at the hospital to leave.

Taya refused politely. It wasn’t that she didn’t want it, but medicine like that would be too expensive and she wanted to save all of her money for Harper.

Stella seemed to have sensed her embarra*sment and said gently, “I don’t care about the cost of the medicine. Come here. I’ll wait for you at the hospital.”

With that, Stella hung up, not giving Taya a second chance to refuse.

Looking at her phone’s darkened screen, Taya was hesitant.

She knew Stella was not short of money for medicine, but she couldn’t take advantage of her.

She hadn’t paid for the medicine that Stella had given her already. Now she would get more...

She stood at the entrance of the subway station and sighed. Afraid that Stella would wait for her in the hospital indefinitely, she turned to get on the subway to her.

As soon as she entered the hospital, she saw Damian supporting a pregnant woman and walking toward the obstetrics and gynecology department. Her face suddenly changed.

She hurriedly followed him, her hands trembling. Fortunately, she was rational enough not to rush forward to question him. Instead, she took out her mobile phone and recorded it.

After recording the video, she planned to send it to Harper, but she hesitated.

If Harper saw this video, she might not be able to bear it...

She put down her phone hard and walked towards Damian.

Chapter 272

Male shifters were not allowed to enter the gynecology department.

It could be too much if their wolves were exposed to their mates in pain while delivering or going through contractions.

After sending the pregnant she-wolf in, Damian sat in a chair in the waiting area.

As soon as he turned around, he met Taya's sad gaze. He was shocked and took a few steps back to stabilize himself.

"Taya, why are you here?"

are you here?"

Damian looked visibly panicked. He probably didn't expect Taya to know about that.

Harper told Taya everything, which made him a little unhappy.

She was his mate, and she shouldn't be sharing all of their business with her best friend.

After a moment of fear, Damian quickly calmed down and explained to Taya without batting an eyelid.

"I already went back. My sister wasn't feeling well, so I brought her to the big pack hospital to get checked out."

On the surface, this made sense, but...

"Your sister?"

How come she had never heard that Damian had a sister?

"She's pregnant, so it was inconvenient for her to attend the mating ceremony. You may not have met her before. Harper knows her. I guess she forgot to tell you..."

There was a hint of sarcasm in Damian's last sentence.

Taya didn't ask any more questions. However, how she looked at Damian was no longer as gentle as before.

She walked in the direction of the elevator. After entering, she did not close the door immediately. Instead, she hid in the corner and looked toward the obstetrics and gynecology department.

Thinking that Taya had left, Damian waved to the pregnant woman. The woman immediately came over.

After saying something, the woman shook Damian's hand, acting like a spoiled child. Damian scratched her nose.

Their behavior was very intimate. They didn't look like siblings at all. Instead, they looked like a couple who had been in love for many years.

Taya also recorded this scene and then sent a message to Harper to ask her about Damian's sister.

[He does have a younger sister, but I haven't met her before. What's wrong?]

Taya typed quickly. [Nothing. I saw Damian at the hospital. He was taking her to the obstetrics and gynecology department.]

When Harper saw the message, her face darkened. [The obstetrics and gynecology department? Isn't he with his family on pack lands?]

Taya told Harper what Damian said.

But why didn't he tell Harper he was back and taking his sister to the hospital? He obviously didn't want Harper to know.
It was so strange.

Harper turned off her phone, took out her car key, and went straight to the hospital.

Taya still didn't send Harper the video. She'd let Harper see for herself.

If Damian really betrayed her, the video in her hand would be the evidence, and she would send it to Harper.

Harper didn't arrive very quickly. Taya feared they would leave after the woman saw the doctor, so she chose a place where they couldn't see her and sat down.

About half an hour later, the pregnant woman came out and was helped to the inpatient area by Damian.

Taya immediately got up and followed him. When she saw that Damian had completed the admission procedures, he helped the pregnant woman into the ward.

Chapter 273

Taya quickly rushed down to the gift shop to buy something, picking up the first thing she saw. It was a fruit basket.

Harper rushed into the hospital and Taya breathed a sigh of relief.

"Taya, why are you here? Is it your heart? Is something wrong?"

Harper had rushed over to "catch" Damian, but when she saw Taya, she had a moment of realization. Obviously, something was wrong with her if she had been at the hospital.

Taya felt warm in her heart and said, "I'm fine Stella asked me to get a few boxes of medicine. That's why I came to the hospital."

Hearing this, it was Harper's turn to breathe a sigh of relief. It was good that Taya was in good health.

Taya handed the fruit basket to Harper. "Since you're visiting your sister-in-law, you should bring some fruit."

Harper soon understood what Taya meant. Taya told her not to be too impulsive when she saw them.

Instead, she would visit her as sister-in-law and find out what was happening before thinking of a way to deal with them.

Harper took the fruit basket from Taya and said softly, "Taya, you're so thoughtful."

Taya held Harper's arm to give her strength and support. "Let's go. I'll keep you company."

Taya was not in a hurry to get the medicine. Instead, she stayed to wait for Harper to come and face whatever happened with Damian along with her friend.

No matter what Harper saw or found out, Taya would be there.

With Taya's company, Harper was no longer as flustered as before. She calmed herself down and followed Taya to the inpatient area.

Before entering the ward, Harper stopped and looked inside through the transparent gla*s...

The pregnant she-wolf looked very young.

Her figure was a little plump because of her pregnancy, and her face was tender and lovely.

There was a pitiful look on her face, and her eyes were full of innocence.

Even Taya felt pity for her.

At this time, Damian was sitting next to her, holding a water bottle with a straw in it, putting it to the pregnant woman's lips.

It looked...intimate.

Chapter 274

Harper looked uncomfortable, but she temporarily suppressed the feeling under Taya's reminder.

Harper smiled, picked up the fruit basket, and entered the ward.

“Damian...”

Hearing the sound of Harper’s, Damian stopped holding the water up, and the pregnant woman looked stunned.

The two seemed to have prepared in advance and quickly returned to normal. Damian took the lead in putting down the water bottle, getting up, and walking to

Harper

“Why are you here?”

Harper glanced at Damian indifferently. Usually, he would call her “honey” first, but not today.

Harper’s eyes dimmed, and she looked at the pregnant woman. It was as if she had seen her rival in love, which made her reluctant to reply.

Seeing her like this, Taya quickly stood up and explained, “I told Harper about seeing you here, and she was nearby. So she came to see you...”

Taya gently pushed Harper’s elbow, and Harper looked away only then. With a smile, she handed the fruit basket to Damian.

“Why didn’t you tell me that your sister is ill? I know a doctor at Arcadia University Hospital. If you had told me in advance, I could have arranged for them to see you. And a public hospital is much cheaper than a private pack hospital. Why spend so much money to take her here?”

The latter half of Harper's words were intentional. The implication was that they didn't want to go to the public hospital but secretly came to the private one. They had a guilty conscience.

Damian panicked for a moment, but he quickly covered it up. "My sister didn't pay for her pack medical insurance. It's the same for her to go to a public or private hospital."

Chapter 275

Damian had always complained about being poor before Harper. But he had the money to bring his sister to such an expensive private hospital?

Harper began to suspect that the $200,000 Damian had taken was for his sister's treatment.

If she was really his sister, it would be acceptable to spend the money on her. If she was not...

Harper glared at Damian. Damian's heart trembled, but he didn't show it.

He took the fruit basket from Harper's hand and explained, "My brother-in-law doesn't lack money, but he is abroad and can't come back to take care of his mate in time."

The woman also chimed in. "Harper, right? I'm sorry my mate is not by my side. It just so happens that Damian has just returned, and I felt the pup's movement. I had to trouble him to bring me to a bigger hospital in Arcadia as soon as possible..."

She glared at Damian and said, "It's all your fault. I asked you to inform my sister-in-law in advance, but you were so nervous that you forgot about it."

The first sentence made Harper feel very uncomfortable. The second sentence, "you were so nervous that you forgot about it," almost made Harper furious. What kind of game was she playing.

Harper said calmly, "It doesn't matter. Whether he informs me or not, as your 'sister-in-law,' I will come to visit you."

She emphasized the word "sister-in-law," and the pregnant woman's face darkened.

Taya didn't miss the woman's mood change at.

Seeing that the she-wolf seemed to mind Harper calling herself "sister-in-law" very much, Taya couldn't help but interrupt. "Harper, maybe Damian didn't want you to work too hard, so he didn't tell you. He didn't want you to be coming here to take care of your ill sister-in-law on top working late hours."

of

After saying that, Taya glanced at Damian. "Isn't that right, Damian...?"

Damian could only nod and smile. "Of course, I don't want Harper to be too tired."

Only then did Harper step forward and hold Damian's arm. "Hubby, you're the best to me. I've been with you for so long, but you've never asked me to do housework..."

Harper deliberately stretched out her slender fingers and waved them. "Look, how tender my hands are..."

The woman's face turned pale again. She wanted to say something, but she obediently shut her mouth when Damian shot her a look, his wolf flashing in his

Although Harper was pretending to show off, she saw their expressions. Instead of letting her face know how she was feeling, she was remarkably calm.

"Hubby, are you afraid I'll be tired from the journey and won't let me return to your pack lands? I don't even know your family. What's your sister's name? When did she get pregnant? Where did she have her mating ceremony? Why did she feel the pup's movement as soon as you went back? Is it serious enough to be at the pack hospital?"

Faced with Harper's interrogation, Damian's palms were sweaty, but he seemed to have been mentally prepared for it.

He said calmly, "My sister's mate is repairing the road in the village this year. I plan to take you home during the Spring Festival..."

Damian tried to appease Harper's doubts about not bringing her back to his pack lands.

"As for my sister, her name is Michelle. She mated into the neighboring pack. But before the elders could finalize everything, her mate went to South Africa I was worried that something would happen between them, so I didn't tell you. I only found out that she was pregnant when I returned to my pack lands today..."

The Billionaire Alpha's Contract Lover

Damian glared at Michelle with resentment. "Being pregnant is a big deal. If I hadn't seen her on the way home, I'm afraid she would have kept it a secret from us..."

He then looked at Harper and said, "After I took her home, the family was in a mess again. They were all in debt. Before I could pay it off, my sister took the initiative to help them with the money. Only then did I know my brother-in-law had made money in South Africa. After knowing that she was pregnant, he gave her living expenses on time every month, so I was relieved. But my parents felt she was pregnant before the mating ceremony. They scolded my sister a little.

She was unconvinced and quarreled with them. Maybe she was too emotional, so she was angry. But it's not serious. The doctor suggested that she see someone before I helped her get to the pack hospital here."

After explaining, Damian took a bank card from his pocket and handed it to Harper. "I wanted to transfer $200,000 to pay off the debt first. Since my sister helped them pay it back, you'll keep the money."

After listening to his explanation and seeing this bank card, Harper suddenly didn't know what to do.

She was a little confused. She looked at Damian and then at Taya as if she was asking what was going on.

Damian's words were said evenly, and everything he said made sense.

If it weren't for the fact that she had witnessed the intimacy between the two, she would have believed his words.

When Taya discovered that Damian had asked Harper to pay the mortgage and daily expenses, she doubted his character.

Now that Damian could still escape unscathed even though she had something on him, it made Taya think he was calculated.

However, Taya would not say these words in front of them and let them know what she was thinking.

Taya pretended to be stupid and smiled at Harper. "Harper, it seems that Damian feels sorry for you. It's difficult for you to make money, so he gave it to you for safekeeping." Taya hinted for Harper to take the money. Harper could tell and quickly took away

Damian's bank card.

To make it easier for Damian to withdraw cash, he transferred $200,000 to the bank card of his pack's bank.

Although this was very in line with the practice of paying off the debt, cash withdrawal could prevent people from finding the source of the money.

"Hubby, you're so nice..."

Harper pretended not to know anything. She hugged his arm and kissed him. "What's the pa*sword?"

Damian smiled and scratched Harper's nose as if he loved her. His eyes were full of affection. "Your birthday..."

Michelle's eyes darkened. It was as if she found them an eyesore. She clenched her teeth and said, "Harper, I don't feel well. I want to rest for a while. Would you mind..."

Michelle only told Harper to go out, but not her brother, which made Harper's hand holding the bank card stiffen.

Sensing the change in her mood, Damian immediately reprimanded Michelle. "Your sister-in-law came all the way here to see you. What's wrong with your attitude?"

Michelle was unconvinced. She curled her lips. "Didn't she just happen to be nearby, so she came to see me..."

"You're still talking back!"

After scolding her, Damian turned to Harper and said, "Don't mind her. She has been spoiled by our parents since childhood and has developed an arrogant and willful character."

Harper just smiled and said, "It doesn't matter. When I was her age, I was much more spoiled than her. The only thing that helped get me in line was a good slap across the face."

The Billionaire Alpha's Contract Lover

Chapter 277

As soon as Harper said this, Michelle, who still wanted to say a few more sarcastic words, immediately stopped talking.

Only then did Harper ease up. She look at Damian and said, "I still have to work tonight. Please take care of her."

Damian nodded, picked up the car key, and said, "I'll give you a ride."

"No need. I'll drive."

After Harper refused, she took Taya's arm and left the OB/GYN section of the hospital.

Michelle immediately sat up after they left and said to Damian, "Help me understand. Why do you have to return the money to her?"

Damian glanced outside. After ensuring they were far away, he replied, "I'm afraid she won't believe me if I don't return the money to her."

Michelle snorted indifferently, her charming face full of resentment. "Just how much longer do I have to wait?"

Damian stepped forward, touched her belly, and comforted her. "Michelle, be a good girl. After she pays off the mortgage, I'll take you to live in the city."

Hearing that Damian would take her to live in the city, Michelle's affronted expression gradually turned into one of determination.

After they left the ward, Taya sent the video to Harper and reminded her of what he said.

"Damian told me his sister was pregnant, so that's why she didn't attend your mating ceremony. But when he explained to you, he said he didn't know she was pregnant until today. What he said seems reasonable, but it's contradictory. You'd better pay more attention to it. He and his sister are a bit strange..."

When Harper saw Damian in the video scratching Michelle's nose with the same action he used on her, her face darkened and her wolf perked up a bit.

"It's not a little strange. There's obviously something going on!"

"If they are siblings, they aren't having an affair."

"Who knows if they are siblings!"

Harper put away her phone and gritted her teeth. "I know nothing about his family. Who knows if he's lying to me?"

Taya agreed. "It's because of his family. There's no reason not to let their new daughter-in-law come.'

Taya's words reminded Harper of something. She hurriedly said, "I'll go to his pack lands and ask his neighbors about it."

"Don't go alone. It's too dangerous." Taya quickly grabbed her hand.

No one knew what was going on in Damian's pack lands. If Harper went there alone, what if she entered the tiger's den?

Taya tried to calm her down. "Don't worry. I think Michelle is impatient. You can find an opportunity when Damian is not around to get more out of her. Maybe she'll slip up if something is amiss."

Harper thought about it and agreed. In the ward, Michelle almost couldn't control herself several times. Michelle would have jumped up and gone against Harper if it weren't for Damian stopping her. When Damian was not there, she would go to find Michelle again. It was much safer than visiting Damian's family on their lands by herself.

After Harper calmed down, she looked much more relaxed. "Taya, aren't you going to get the medicine from Stella?"

Taya was still worried about Harper. "Don't worry..."

Harper sighed deeply. "I thought that if I found an honest and down-to-earth wolf, he would not betray me, but now I feel..."

Before Harper could say anything, her heart was heavy, and Taya was even more worried. Her face scrunched up.

Harper smiled and rubbed Taya's little face. "Don't be sad. I have money, so I'm not afraid of anything."

At the mention of money, Taya became worried. "You also said you had put all the money in a joint account. If..."

Harper raised her hand and interrupted her. "I'll transfer my money from being we were mated out later. I'll only deposit my salary in the future, like him. As for the mortgage and expenses, I'll use my salary first. If it's not enough, let him pay..."

Chapter 278

When Taya saw that Harper's mind was clear and not immersed in the sweet words that Damian had tried to cajole her with, Taya felt much more relieved.

Taya was afraid that Damian would betray Harper again once Taya had passed away. What should Harper do?

Countless worries welled up, making Taya irritable and uneasy.

Seeing that Taya was still worried about her, Harper immediately replied, "Don't about it. I'm not some lovesick fool who will give everything up for my mate.

After saying this, Harper shook her wavy hair and said proudly, "I can take care of myself."

Then she opened the car door and waved at Taya. "I'm going to make a lot of money tonight!"

Taya was amused and waved at Harper. "Be careful!"

Harper nodded, put on her sunglasses, got into the car, turned around, and drove away from the hospital.

After watching Harper leave, Taya turned around and went back into the hospital. As soon as she exited the elevator, she heard a loud slap.

Taya looked in the direction of the voice and saw a well-dressed woman standing at the door of the director's office, slapping Stella hard.

Taya hurriedly walked over and pulled Stella over, who would rather be slapped than fight back.

"Stella, are you all right?"

Looking at Stella's swollen face, Taya felt sorry for her.

دو

"I'm fine."

Stella shook her head at her and looked at the woman indifferently.

"Ms. Leiner, you've slapped me ten times in a row. Isn't that enough?"

Ms. Leiner glanced at Taya, who had stood up to help her, with a hint of disdain.

She twisted her wrist with great force and approached Stella in high heels.

"You should know who asked me to teach you a lesson, right?"

Stella nodded quietly and did not dare to resist at all.

Ms. Leiner snorted and patted Stella's cheek.

"Ms. Cobb, remember, don't provoke Griffon. You can't afford to offend him."

After saying that, Ms. Leiner turned around and walked into the elevator.

"Stop right there!"

Looking at the arrogant woman's back, Taya said indifferently, "Either apologize or call the police. Choose one!"

The woman left after beating Stella up. She was too arrogant and overbearing!

Hearing this, Ms. Leiner stopped in her tracks and slowly turned around. Her gaze swept over Taya.

"Are you threatening me?"

Taya took out her phone without saying a word and called the pack police.

However, Stella stopped her. "No, she's Alpha Knight's cousin."

The implication was that they couldn't afford to offend the Knight pack.

Taya was stunned for a moment, and her eyes were confused. "Why did she hit you?"

Stella worked for Griffon. Logically speaking, as his cousin, Ms. Leiner shouldn't have hit anyone on Griffon's side.

"She's just following orders," said Stella.

The person who wanted to hit her was not Shelly Leiner but Griffon's mother, Shelly's aunt.

As for why Griffon's mother wanted to hit her, it could only be because of Tara's interference.

Stella touched her face and said to Taya, "It's not a big deal. Don't provoke her."

Taya wanted to help Stella into the director's office, but Shelly would not let them go.

"Hold on..."

Shelly walked up to Taya slowly.

Shelly looked up and down at Taya, and her eyes gradually became strange.

“She’s pretty good-looking. She’s suitable to work in my club...”

Chapter 279

Even though what Shelly said sounded like an insult to Taya, it sounded like fear to Stella.

Stella hurriedly stepped forward to stand in front of Taya and apologized on Taya’s behalf. “Ms. Leiner, this patient didn’t know your identity, so she dared to say that to you. I’m really sorry. Please be magnanimous and let her go.”

Stella’s humble pleading made Taya feel even more apologetic. “Stella...”

Taya wanted to say she didn’t lower herself, but Stella stopped her. “You’re just here to get the medicine. I’m not familiar with you. I won’t treat you anymore if you dare to say anything to make Ms. Leiner unhappy again!”

Stella was trying to distance herself from Taya. She seemed to want to protect her, so Taya knew better and stopped talking.

Although Taya felt the woman before she was too arrogant, Stella seemed very afraid of her. In order not to cause trouble for Stella, she could only endure it.

Shelly snorted. “You should hand her over to me.”

Surprised, Stella raised her head. “She can’t...”

Taya was Griffon’s woman. How could she be taken to the club by Shelly?

Seeing that Stella was so nervous, the smile in Shelly’s eyes became more meaningful.

“Didn’t you just say you were unfamiliar with her?”

Stella took a deep breath and explained, “She’s my patient. I run the hospital for Alpha Knight, so I must protect every patient. Ms. Leiner, please don’t make things difficult for my patient...”

Shelly smiled. She then walked up to Stella and hooked a finger under her chin with an extended claw.

“It’s a pity that Ms. Cobb is so ugly now. The madam in my club doesn’t like it...”

In other words, no matter how much

Stella pleaded with her, Shelly would take Taya away.

Stella's face darkened. She wanted to take out her phone and call Griffon. However, she didn't expect Taya to call the pack police first. After Taya hung up the phone, she looked indifferently at Shelly, who was in disbelief and said, "Ms. Leiner, I've recorded what you just said.

Please cooperate here. Pack police will be here soon."

It took Shelly a long time to realize what this bitch had just called her...

Taya didn't know where her courage came from, but she was no longer afraid of power.

Shelly was so angry that her whole body was trembling.

She wanted to slap Taya, but Stella caught her wrist in time.

Taya's body couldn't withstand a slap from Shelly.

Since Taya wasn't afraid of offending Shelly for her own sake, then she wasn't scared either. At worst, she would go

all out!

The two women looked at Shelly indifferently, which made Shelly laugh angrily.

"Good, very good. No one in the world has ever dared to resist me. You are the first. Just wait and see!"

After saying that, Shelly turned around and left. Her arrogant and domineering manner made Stella shiver.

Chapter 280

"If we offend her, I'm afraid we'll have a hard time in the future..."

Stella didn't care. She could ask Griffon for help, but Taya...

If Shelly discovered the relationship between Taya and Alpha Knight, Taya would probably...

Stella did not dare to continue thinking about it.

Seeing the lingering fear on Stella's face, Taya felt very guilty. "Stella, I'm sorry. I got you into trouble.”

Stella shook her head gently. “It’s not your fault. Shelly is too aggressive.”

Afraid that she would feel too guilty, Stella comforted Taya, “Don’t be afraid. I’ll tell Alpha Knight later. He’ll protect us.”

Taya smiled helplessly. She was so heartless to Griffon that he probably hated her. How could he possibly protect her?

Stella was about to say something else when a few pack police came over and asked what had happened.

Stella explained that it was a medical disturbance. Since it had been resolved, the pack officers had to make a statement and leave.

As soon as they left, Stella remembered that she needed to give Taya the new medicine. She quickly said to Taya, “Let’s go. I’ll get you the medicine.”

Seeing that her face was swollen and she was still thinking about getting medicine, Taya felt warm in her heart.

“Stella, I’ll go to the nurse first and ask for medicine to relieve your swelling and pain. Wait for me.

After saying that, she went straight to the clinic. Stella looked at her back and smiled. She turned around and wanted to return to the director’s office but bumped into someone.

After asking the nurse for some painkillers, Taya returned to the ward.

The Billionaire Alpha’s Contract Lover

When Taya pushed open the door and entered the director’s office, she saw Eric pushing Stella against the wall. She was stunned for a moment and quickly left.

After Taya sat in the chair outside, she rested her chin on her hand. She racked her brain, trying to figure out their relationship.

On the other hand, Stella returned to her senses when she saw Taya and forcefully pushed Eric away.

“Stay away from me...”

After being pushed away, Eric tidied up his messy clothes, but his eyes did not
