

The Billionaire Alpha's Contract Lover by Caesar Erickson

Chapter 861

Chapter 861

The words "Let's go home" brought Taya back from her bewilderment.

She raised her chin slightly and looked at the tall and straight man in front of her.

She opened her lips to say something, but in the end she gave it up, and just nodded to him.

After leading her into the car, Griffon took a seat beside her and reached out to fasten her seat belt.

Taya looked at the man who was buckling her seat belt, rubbed her fingers holding the business card a few times, then suddenly let go.

"Griffon..."

"Um?"

Coming softly from his throat, the man's pleasant voice was deep and magnetic.

"Mrs. Yardley knows who my mother is, but she wants to trade it for Grace."

"She also said..."

2/4

Seeing her pause, Griffon turned his head slightly and opened his mouth.

"She wants you to stay away from me?"

Taya froze for a moment, seemingly not expecting him to have guessed it. After a few seconds of hesitation with her head down, she chose to tell him the truth.

"She said I wouldn't mate you as long as I know who my mother is."

"From what she said, it seems there was some resentment between my mother and you."

Griffon paused for a moment. In fact, he was rather afraid that someone would come and mess up before the mating ceremony, but he did not expect it to come in this way.

3/4

Staring at Taya's fair face for a moment, he helped her pin the wind-blown hair behind her ear with his fingers.

“What do you think?” He asked.

Taya clutched the business card in her hand and shook her head without any words.

Seeing that she was silent, Griffon thought she was shaken and felt a little annoyed and frustrated.

After sitting quietly for a while, he suddenly reached out and pulled off the black tie above his shirt.

He was slightly relieved to be free of the tie, but still restless.

He felt his pocket, there were no cigarettes.

Apparently he had quit smoking a long time ago, but he suddenly felt like smoking.

He couldn't find any cigarettes, so he had to open the windows and let the cold wind outside pour in violently.

Chapter 862

After blowing the cold air to clear his head, he looked back at the woman who had her head down in thought.

“Taya.”

When he called her name, although his expression was normal, his hand on his lap clenched unnaturally.

“I have many enemies, and I don't even remember who they are.”

“But according to your mother's age, it would be a feud from the previous generation of the Knight pack.”

“If...”

As Griffon said this, his eyes, which were as cold as snow, gradually turned sad.

“If you don't want to mate me because of these, then I...”

He knew that Taya had never felt very secure with him, but he really loved her and wanted to mate her.

2/4

He did not know what to do to make her trust him

100 percent, so he could only stare at her blankly, hoping she would take pity on him.

If he couldn't mate her, he would die. Without her, he would die too. He hoped she would see that he loved her so much and not give up on him.

Taya had been thinking about the implications of Jocelyn's words, so she had not noticed the sudden change in Griffon's mood.

Seeing his red eyes staring at her now, she realized how much damage her distraction had caused him.

Taya collected her thoughts, reached out, hooked her arms around his neck and kissed his thin lips.

“Griffon, I promised to mate you. Even though there is a bitter feud between us, I’ll still mate you.”

3/4

She grew up as an orphan and knew nothing. How could she bear all the grievances of the previous generation?

After hearing her affirmative answer, Griffon’ aching heart gradually calmed down, but his uneasiness did not diminish, but increased.

He clasped the back of Taya’s head, kissed her lips that were close at hand, and sucked them back and forth, but his flustered heart was still hard to calm down.

His thick eyelashes trembled slightly, and even his kiss was a little cautious, as if he was afraid she would leave him for those grievances.

Despite her promise to him, he was still so uneasy.

4/4

In fact... The person who had been feeling insecure in this relationship was Griffon.

It was the love she gave not so obvious and so deep that made him feel insecure.

Once Taya understood his thoughts, she placed her hands between his hair and took the initiative to deepen the kiss.

Chapter 863

Taya was rarely so enthusiastic, and this was the first time.

Griffon was startled, then put his arm around her waist and sat her on his lap.

It was probably her passionate and active kiss that calmed his heart and made him less restless.

Feeling his movements from soft to hard, Taya knew that his desire was driving him, so she quickly pushed him away.

“We are in the car...”

Griffon’ finger that had slipped onto her back paused, his beautiful and mesmerizing eyes fixated on her with a wet gleam.

“Shall we continue kissing?”

If they continued kissing, definitely she was going to be unable to get out of the car.

Fortunately, the driver in front of them lowered the fender before they got in the car. And Grace and the others were sitting in another car, otherwise she would have been embarrassed to death.

After Taya blocked the approaching man with her hand, she said to him, "Griffon, let's register our mating when we get back."

After registering their mating, he would not be so uneasy.

The desire in Griffon's eyes faded and was replaced by surprise, "Register for our mating?"

Taya, still sitting on his lap, looked down at him slightly, "Do you not want to?"

Griffon was stunned for a few seconds and quickly reacted, "Of course I want..."

How could he not want to?

He couldn't wait to mate her right away!

He was just amazed that the person who first mentioned registering for their mating would be her.

He had planned to give her a big mating ceremony first and then take her to get their mating certificate.

But he did not expect that she would mention it first, which gradually calmed Griffon's restless heart.

To avoid any unnecessary worries, getting registered first was the right thing to do.

Once their mating certificate was issued and sealed, nothing can stop them even if the heavens and the earth turn upside down.

Thinking of this, Griffon put one arm around her waist, cupped her chin with one hand, and his dark, deep eyes contained power and dominance.

"After getting the mating certificate, don't go back on it!"

Taya obediently nodded, "Sure, I won't."

Chapter 864

It was only then that Griffon let go of her chin and dotingly touched her nose.

"I'll find out your pack background for you. You don't have to give Grace to that woman."

Taya nodded obediently again, "Okay, I'll listen to you..."

Griffon lowered his eyes and looked at the red lips he had kissed, his sexy Adam's apple rolling up and down.

“Let me kiss again?”

In the limousine immediately behind, Grace, clutching her doll, lay on the front seat of the car and stared at the car in front of her with big, round eyes.

“Uncle Griffon and Auntie seem to be kissing...”

Still immersed in a sad atmosphere, Neil heard these words and immediately sat up straight and looked at the car with the film in front of him.

“Ha, I can’t see anything clearly, where is the kissing...”

He thought he could watch it live, but he was actually tricked by a pup.

Disinterested, he fell back in his chair and continued to recall the kindness with which Amon and his boss treated him.

2/6

Grace looked back at him, and gave him a glance, then curled her lips and said, “You’re blind, so it’s normal that you can’t see.”

Neil took a deep breath, pointed at Grace and said, “D*mn kid, I’m in a bad mood, don’t force me to beat you!”

3/6

Grace twisted her body and whacked Neil with the doll in her hand, “Heck, I’m not d*mn kid, I have a name!”

At the mention of the name, George thought of Amon’s last words and sighed regretfully.

“Grace, you do have a name. it’s the name of your Strange Uncle... No, it’s the name your father gave you before he died.”

Grace, who originally wanted to fight Neil, immediately settled down after hearing what Grandpa George said.

“What name did Dad give me?”

“Grace Rosalie Yardley, that doesn’t sound very nice.”

Neil grabbed the conversation and complained as Grace unbuckled her seat belt and tried to climb into the back seat to hit him, but she was pulled back by George.

“Don’t move around in the car, it’s dangerous.”

“But, this ugly monster is so annoying!”

“Ugly monster?!!!”

Neil was furious, picked up a pillow from the back seat and hammered Grace’s head, but not hard enough that it appeared he was just playing with her.

After Rosalie’s death, Neil would take the place of his boss and visit Grace in Aronland several times a year, and they kept getting along this way.

However, today’s Neil deliberately stirred up strife, as if he wanted to use this method to dissolve the trauma in Grace’s mind.

After all, Grace was just a pup, so she quickly fell for Neil’s trick, holding the doll and playfully fighting with him.

“You’re the ugly monster!”

Neil reached out, hooked his hand around Grace’s collar, picked her up out of her seat, and tickled her.

5/6

“Tell me again, who is the ugly monster!”

“Nelly!”

Neil stopped moving, and looked at Grace in surprise.

“How do you know I’m Nelly?”

Grace grunted and turned her head to look out the car window, not wanting to tell Neil that Harper had told her about it!

“It must be Harper!”

Neil pounded his thighs and gritted his teeth, “When I’m done here and get back, I’ll settle the score with her!”

“I didn’t say that, he guessed it himself!” Grace apologized to Harper in her heart.

Chapter 865

Neil had to stay in Aronland to manage Amon’s company, so he did not go back with them, but he would be back in time for their mating ceremony.

George’s pack and his medical business were in Aronland, naturally he would not go with them, so he had to reluctantly say goodbye to Grace.

“Grace, I won’t be around anymore, so listen to your aunt and Uncle Griffon, and study hard.”

Grace was so understanding that she reached out her little arms and wrapped them around George’s legs.

“Grandpa George, I’ll do as I’m told, don’t worry.”

George gave a gentle smile and looked at Grace, then looked at Taya and Griffon.

“Thank you for taking care of her.”

2/4

Taya shook her head, “I’m Grace’s aunt, that’s what I’m supposed to do.”

George was naturally not afraid to trouble Taya, but women would still have to rely on men to a certain extent when they get mated.

The man Taya mated was the Alpha of the Knight pack, and he was already unattainable, so if she brought a pup to mate him...

George glanced at Griffon and saw him with one hand in his pocket, looking at him coldly, so he slowly put back what he was going to say.

This man had even helped with Amon’s revenge, which showed his magnanimity. So what was there for him to worry about?

With that in mind, George abandoned his concern, gave a slight nod to Griffon, then bent down and hugged Grace again.

3/4

“I’ll call you every week and you remember to answer, I’ll also visit you on your every birthday.”

“Okay...”

Grace hooked George’s neck and kissed his cheek, “Grandpa George, you have to take care all the time too...”

George let her go, rubbed her little head, got up and sat in the car, lowered the window again, and waved to them.

Grace waved her hands while following the car for a while, and did not stop until the car completely disappeared.

In fact, she did not really like this parting scene. She always felt that those who left would disappear as soon as they left, just like her Strange

Uncle.

4/4

Taya knelt down in front of Grace and whispered, "Grace, from now on, if you want to find George, me and Uncle Griffon will take you to see him at Aronland, okay?"

Hearing this, Grace glanced at Griffon and shook her head knowingly, "It's better to wait for Grandpa George to come and see me."

Chapter 866

The last time, after Griffon rescued her, he was taken away by a group of men dressed in black and wearing masks.

When he returned, his body was covered in blood as if he had been in a life-and-death fight and almost died.

Grace felt that Griffon had many enemies in Aronland, so it was best not to let Uncle Griffon come back to Aronland.

Taya couldn't figure out what was on Grace's mind, and Griffon, beside her, glanced at Grace calmly...

His eyes seemed to say, "Kid, you're smart."

Grace understood clearly, and she used her little hand to pull down the area under her eyes, sticking out her tongue and making a funny face at him.

"La la la..."

Griffon was rendered speechless.

During this trip, Andre and Zack had been very nervous, afraid of anything going wrong.

It was not until they were safe aboard the special jet and landed safely that the two breathed a sigh of relief.

Griffon was thinking about getting their mating certificates, so when he got off the plane, he ordered his chauffeur to drive to Harper's villa.

He urged Taya to hurry inside to get her credentials, but after seeing Stella and Henry, Taya talked to them for a while.

Waiting in the car, Griffon then impatiently pushed the car door open and walked to the villa with his long legs.

Taya was talking to Henry, "Grace has been willing to talk now, except that when she goes to sleep at night, she will still wake up with nightmares."

3/3

Henry rubbed Grace's hair, "It's okay, I happen to be on vacation these days, leave her to me and let me heal her."

Taya was grateful, and smiled at him, "Thank you, Henry..."

Henry was about to smile back and say 'You're welcome' when he felt a piercing chill come from behind him.

Chapter 867

Henry subconsciously shivered and turned his head to see a 6.2 feet tall man standing straight in the doorway, staring at him with a slightly crooked head.

The man's appearance was as cold as snow, extremely handsome, exuding a noble and elegant aura, giving off an imposing presence that strangers could not approach.

Seeing his big boss staring at him with that defensive, wary, even 'want to kill him' look, Henry couldn't help but shudder in his heart.

He remembered that he had never offended

Alpha, why did he stare at him like this?

It's scary...

Henry couldn't figure it out, but Taya knew. Feeling annoyed and amused, she glanced at Griffon, Wait for me, I'll go upstairs to get my credentials."

When she went upstairs, only Harper, Stella, Grace and Henry were left in the living room.

The first three had been used to Griffon's icy aura.

Only Henry sat awkwardly on the couch, neither smiling nor speaking.

But Griffon standing straight in the doorway, like an ice sculpture, swept toward him from time to time.

If it weren't for Taya coming downstairs soon, Henry wouldn't have been able to shoulder it for more than three seconds and would have just gotten up and left.

Taya walked up to Griffon, naturally and affectionately took his arm, and pulled him quickly out of the living room.

Seeing them leave, Henry's tense body relaxed, but he looked sympathetically at Taya.

What an indifferent man! It was brave of Ms.

Palmer to even dare to hold his arm.

Henry, who was severely overwhelmed by the sense of oppression, did forget the fact that the two of them were about to get mated.

When the car stopped at the gate of the town hall, Griffon was gradually reas*ured.

He helped Taya out of the car, held her hand tightly, and led her into the building.

The procedure for obtaining their mating certificates was not complicated. After a while, they got it.

Chapter 868

Having been waiting for years, Griffon stared at the mating certificate in his hands, a faint smile appearing on his face.

With this, Taya would be his for the rest of his life and no one would have the right to take her away from him, they were a legal couple now.

Seeing the man lower his eyebrows and smile slightly, Taya smiled as well, "Alpha, are you at ease now?"

Griffon took her hand, bent slightly, leaned close to her ear and said softly, "Mrs. Knight, please get ready for the mating ceremony day after tomorrow."

Only when their mating ceremony was successfully completed could he truly feel at ease.

Taya answered 'yes' sweetly, whispered something into his ear, and then turned to go into the restroom.

2/4

As soon as she entered, she heard a few sounds of discussion coming from several cubicles...

"Hey, did you see? That Alpha Knight just got his mating certificate looks really handsome."

"Besides being handsome, he was rich. He's got limited editions of luxury brands all over him.

That watch alone is worth tens of millions."

"My God, that's too rich. Such a handsome and wealthy man would actually mate an unmated wolf. What does he think?"

"I also think it's very unbelievable. It's rare in the world for someone like him to be mated to an unmated wolf. It's the first time I've seen it."

"Have you seen the picture of Ms. Palmer's ex-husband from her first mating? He is good-looking too, but they are still unmated. What a pity..."

"What's the pity? Her second mated wolf now is much better looking than her first mated wolf, and if it were me, I would choose the second mated wolf!"

Taya's hand that pushed the cubicle door open was slightly stiff, and her face turned pale.

She was indeed unmated. But Griffon's marital history was clean.

Standing at the door, she was stunned for a few seconds and then put aside her guilt towards the two gentlemen of her first and second mating, pushed the door and walked in.

She felt sorry for Silas Johnson, but she loved Griffon. Since she had firmly chosen the latter, no one could change her decision through gossip.

4/4

She came out of the restroom and saw Griffon carefully putting the mating certificates into a safe.

Taya was very surprised that this man had brought a safe here?

Then, she walked over and held out her hand to Griffon, "Let me keep it."

Griffon lifted his thin, thick eyelashes and shook his head, "I'll keep it."

In the future, if they had conflicts, she would not be able to find the mating certificate if she wants to get an unmate.

Chapter 869

Griffon closed the safe, turned his back to her, and changed the password.

Taya was rendered speechless.

This man gave her all his personal assets and the Knight pack fortune, but he only kept their mating certificate under strict guard.

She found it funny and helpless, "Griffon, we got mated, then we won't get unmated, don't worry."

This promise was reassuring, but in Griffon's opinion, having a backup plan was more reliable. After changing the password, he waved his hand for the bodyguards to quickly move the safe, then he turned sideways and hugged her.

"Mrs. Knight, how would you like to spend your mating night?"

His voice was clear and cold, but when he uttered the words "mating night", there was a compelling charm.

2/4

Taya did not say anything, just smiled at him, indicating, "You're still injured and haven't fully recovered yet. Don't even think about the mating night."

Seeing her silence, Griffon assumed she went along with his arrangement, and the corners of his mouth slowly quirked up into a bright, clean smile.

"Our new house has been renovated, shall we go there?"

When he smiled, there was a gleam in his eyes as the starlight flickered, and his eyebrows were arched into a crescent moon shape, which was extremely handsome.

Taya was so absorbed in his smile that she did not

3/4

Know when she was picked up, she just subconsciously put her arms around his neck.

Griffon held her across his arms and lowered his deep eyes to stare at her fondly, "Mrs. Knight, let's go home."

Snuggling in his arms, Taya was concerned about his back injury, but the man easily carried her into the car without even a frown.

The car started, and a series of luxury cars behind it also started in an instant, one after another, the scene was extremely spectacular.

The few people who were just in the restroom saw this scene and their mouths opened wide in surprise.

"Look at her, she's been pampered like this even though she's in her second mating, she's too lucky..."

4/4

Alpha keeps their mating certificate in a safe, is he afraid the woman will unmate him?"

"Definitely, otherwise who would bother holding onto their mating certificate when they have nothing to worry about? It must be because he's afraid that his she-wolf will unmate him!"

"My God, when will I meet such a peerless person?"

"You need to get a facelift first..."

Chapter 870

The car was parked at the Blue Bay Island, which was a private residence bought by Griffon a few years ago, and their new house was in a seaside location, surrounded by scenic areas.

In the vicinity of their house, there were no other residences but the single-family home resembling a French castle with spectacular carvings and decorations.

Night fell and the castle lit up, shining brightly like evening stars. It was splendid and magnificent, with high walls and deep pools as far as people could see.

The exterior of the castle was designed by a famous international architect and the interior was designed by Taya who came to investigate once before.

However, when she came last time, the castle was concrete. This time, the interior had been perfectly materialized according to her design drawings.

Even the details were exactly the same, but under the warm and simple decoration, the man added a sense of technology to the house.

"From now on, this will be our home."

While Taya was looking around, Griffon wrapped his arm around her waist from behind and rested his chin on her shoulder.

“Our home...”

Taya pondered these words, her heart warmed, but the tip of her nose turned sour. Now she had a home too.

This home was not just a house, but a place where there was someone to accompany her through her entire life.

She turned around and raised her eyes, brimming with tears, to look at the man’s flawless and handsome face.

3/5

“Griffon, thank you.”

He gave her a home, a home that she had been looking forward to for years.

Griffon’s eyes as he looked down were not innocent, but had a few reserved feelings that gradually turned into lust when they came in contact with her lips.

He turned his head slightly, came close to her ear and asked in a low voice, “How would you like to thank me?”

His scorching breath, moist thin lips, faintly brushing her ear brought a shivering tingling sensation.

4/5

Taya knew he was teasing her, but she pretended not to respond, “Why don’t I sing you a song later to show my gratitude.”

Griffon raised his thick eyebrows calmly, “It’s okay, but...”

He lifted her chin with his long fingers and kissed her, “It has to be in bed.”

After he spoke each word, he turned around with her in his arms, then pushed the petite woman against the wall and fondled her passionately.

Since he was injured, he had abstained from S** for a long time, and even kissing was forbidden by her. After finally getting the mating certificate, he naturally would not let her go easily.

Griffon thought he had to do it no matter what tonight, and his actions became much more impatient, afraid of being pushed away by the woman in his arms.

5/5

Unexpectedly, just as he was taking off her clothes, the villa’s doorbell suddenly rang.

Chapter 871

Griffon paused his actions, lifted his thick eyelashes, and looked towards the door. The next second, he withdrew his gaze and continued to kiss the woman’s luscious lips without any regard for the person outside the door.

Taya thought he would go to open the door, but he didn’t even consider the person outside. She could only push him while he was passionately kissing her neck.

“Go open the door!”

“Do it first.”

Even if Jesus came, he would finish what he was doing first!

The man held her waist with one hand and lifted her up, pressing her onto the soft sofa. His eyes were hazy as he grabbed her hand and placed it on his metal belt.

“Help me take it off.”

Taya shook her head while lying under him. “You have a wound on your back. Don’t do any strenuous exercise.”

2/4

The man, controlled by desire, was stimulated by the words “strenuous exercise.” He impatiently grabbed Taya’s hand and pressed down on her body, looking at her with eyes full of desire.

“Appropriate exercise is beneficial for recovery... Honey, are you sure you won’t help me?”

He enunciated his words clearly, with a voice that was like a voice-over artist, possessing a bewitching power.

Taya turned her head away from his warm breath and shook her head firmly.

“No.”

3/4

She wasn’t being difficult, but every time he did this, he would become crazy. When she couldn’t control herself, she would grab his back, and if she accidentally touched his wound... just the thought of it made her feel pain. Taya didn’t want to do it, but she was afraid that rejecting him would disappoint him.

After all, it was their first day as a legally mated couple, but he had a wound on his body, and she, as his she-wolf, had to think for him.

Taya thought for a moment and came up with a win-win solution. “How about this? You go open the door first, and we’ll continue later tonight...”

Andre and the bodyguards were outside, and the fact that the person outside could ring the doorbell meant that he was an important person. Otherwise, he wouldn’t be able to approach the villa.

This important person came to find Griffon, so there must be something urgent. When he went to deal with it, she could quietly slip back to Harper’s house. Then she could sleep with Grace for the night, avoiding the hungry man who hadn’t eaten for days...

Taya’s plan was good, but the man didn’t follow her plan. He grabbed her fingers and forcefully undid the belt.

4/4

Her thin lips were kissed until they turned red. He kissed down her chin, and the tingling sensation of his touch made her shiver...

Chapter 872

The man who had decided to have her was very good at teasing. In just a moment, her tense body became limp.

Feeling the change in her body, Griffon hooked his lips and lightly laughed, his smile mixed with a hint of mischief...

He bit her earlobe and asked her, “Do you still want to wait until tonight?”

She felt like she was being bitten by ants. His warm breath sprayed on her ear, causing the woman in his arms to tremble slightly.

Taya grabbed the half-open shirt on his body, revealing his deep collarbone, and squeezed it hard.

“Yes!”

listened obediently and continued, “You said you wanted it.”

Taya: ...

She wanted to trick him, but fell for his trick!

The man outside the door rang the doorbell for two hours, and his face was frozen. The person inside didn't open the door.

Sitting in the extended luxury car, the woman wrapped in white fur raised her almond-shaped eyes and looked at the man standing on the steps.

“Brother, there's air conditioning in the car. Why don't we go back and sit in the car first?”

Her brother was also a person who didn't understand the situation. Greyson had just received his mating certificate today, and on their mating night, they must have other things to do.

Who would come to find them at this time?

Emelyn thought that if it wasn't for her brother who was guarding outside, she would have gone over and said, “Are you crazy?”

Chapter 873

Emelyn sighed helplessly at the man who looked like an ice sculpture, without even turning his head.

“Brother, please come again tomorrow.”

He has just gotten mated and was currently experiencing the beauty of mating with his she-wolf. As a grown man, he stood at their doorstep, staring intently at the tightly closed door. If any pa*sersby were to witness this scene, they might a*ssume that Holden had a secret crush on Greyson.

However, the more she looked at it, the more it seemed real...

Mr. Davies, having trained and grown up together with Greyson since pup period, developed feelings over time. However, due to their shared gender, this unrequited love had to be kept hidden deep within.

he saw Greyson and another woman getting their mating certificate at the Civil Affairs Bureau, Mr. Davies completely broke down. He followed Greyson's luxury car and arrived at the entrance of the mating venue.

The unattainable Mr. Davies, crazily ringing the doorbell, only wished to reclaim Greyson. Alas, Greyson's heart was solely devoted to his beloved she-wolf, paying no attention to Mr. Davies.

The anguished Mr. Davies, unable to bear the pain, could only wait outside the door, hoping that Greyson would cast a glance at him after he had finished being intimate with his she-wolf...

Bored Emelyn, having imagined a grand scene in her mind, saw Holden turn around and give her a cold glance.

“Bring me an umbrella.”

Emelyn peered out of the car window, looked up at the night sky, and exclaimed, “Oh, it's raining! God certainly knows how to create an atmosphere.”

Mr. Davies' appearance, as he waited in vain for Greyson, was perfectly suited for such a rainy day. Together, they exemplified a bad ending.

She withdrew her thoughts and extended her delicate, fair hand to retrieve a transparent umbrella, which she then handed to the a*sistant.

“Hurry and deliver it to him, don’t let my foolish older brother fall ill.”

Originally, his cognitive abilities were not very efficient, and when he fell ill, they became even more impaired.

Holden took the umbrella, opened it, and with a dark expression, he took a step forward and continued to frantically press the doorbell.

Chapter 874

Having just concluded a battle and desiring to continue, the man’s countenance darkened abruptly upon hearing the incessant and vexatious voice.

“Looking for death!”

He lifted Taya’s chin and kissed her lips, which were swollen from his kisses. “Wait for me, I’ll go deal with him first!”

Taya was too tired to speak so she just waved her hand, letting him go and argue with the person outside for a while so she could catch her breath.

After Griffon covered her with a blanket and changed into a suit from the closet, he grabbed a gun and went to open the door.

Outside the door, a man in a handmade suit was holding a transparent umbrella and standing on.

2/4

the steps. When he saw Griffon come out with a gun, his face turned even darker.

“Greyson, you made me wait for over two hours and you still have the nerve to come out with a gun to see me?”

Griffon saw that it was Holden and slowly lowered his hand holding the gun, his handsome face showing a hint of caution.

“How did you know I was here?”

He had just arrived at the bridal chamber when S’s people came to the door. Was Master Davies monitoring him in real time?

“It has nothing to do with my foster father. I saw you coming out of the Civil Affairs Bureau and followed you here.”

Holden seemed to know what Griffon was thinking and put away his umbrella, walking up the steps to him.

3/4

He wasn’t as good-looking as Griffon, but he had a towering figure and deeper facial features, giving off a feeling of Greek sculpture.

His eyes were inscrutable as he looked at the rows of castles, with a hint of coldness in his eyes.

“Greyson, won’t you invite me in for a sit?”

Griffon tightened his grip on the gun and gave him a cold glance.

“You better have a reason for coming here.”

The implication was that it was best to have a reason for coming to his door, otherwise, he could solve him with a single bullet...

Holden’s just-softened expression turned cold again. If he didn’t have a reason, would he have come to find him?!

Chapter 875

Griffon opened the door with annoyance, while Holden walked in with anger... To prevent them from really fighting, Taya put on her clothes and went downstairs after Griffon left the bedroom.

Her shirt collar was torn by Griffon, revealing some scattered kiss marks and collarbones. The man who just came in saw Taya coming down the stairs at a glance...

His gaze fell on those kiss marks, and his expression froze. They... could it be that they just...? Holden, who just reacted, finally understood what Emelyn meant by asking him to come back tomorrow. But he couldn't be blamed for this. He only knew training since he was a pup and had never touched a woman. He didn't understand these things.

Holden stared at Taya in surprise, but what he got

Holden came back to his senses and looked at Griffon in astonishment. Was it necessary to do this just because he glanced at his woman?

Griffon raised the gun in his hand and pressed it against Holden's forehead. "Mr. Davies, don't look at what you shouldn't..."

The man finished speaking and looked at Taya's exposed skin. "Cover it up."

Taya looked down and saw that only a little bit of her collarbone was exposed. But she still obediently pulled up her clothes.

The rebellious Holden didn't believe Griffon' warning. "Ms. Palmer, right?"

He raised his hand and beckoned to Taya, "Come here and let me take a look for a few minutes. I don't believe he dares to shoot."

Taya, who was forced to join the battle:...

Holden seemed to be challenging Griffon's bottom line, pushing away his gun and walking forward to Taya, staring at her.

Taya was not a stunningly beautiful woman, but as long as you looked into her eyes, there was an inexplicable charm.

As clear as a lake, as dazzling as stars, it was like a black hole. It could make people fall into it in an instant.

Holden, who was attracted by those clean and clear eyes, subconsciously looked at her a few more times.

It was these few glances that earned him a slap on the back of his neck!

Holden, who almost fainted, grabbed the handrail and turned his head back.

"I knew you wouldn't shoot..."

"He won't shoot, but he will beat you to death."

A flat female voice came from outside the door, and the three of them looked in the direction of the door.

Chapter 876

Emelyn was wearing a dress, with a fox fur coat wrapped around her upper body. The white fluffy fur made her look more like an angel.

She tilted her chin slightly, hiding half of her face under the fur, revealing only her high nose bridge and a pair of captivating almond-shaped eyes.

Her elusive appearance exuded charm, but her noble and elegant demeanor in her eyes made people dare not easily profane her.

She walked to Griffon' side, raised her clear and fair hand, and pushed away the gun that was pressed against Holden's forehead.

Taya's heart tightened.

Although Emelyn only pushed away the gun, she was afraid that Emelyn would touch Griffon' hand.

becoming more and more concerned about Griffon, and was afraid that women who were better looking and more outstanding than her would approach him.

Therefore, her guard would increase, and she would be more prone to jealousy, fearing that the person she loved would be taken away by someone better...

Fortunately, Griffon gave her a sense of security. Before Emelyn could touch his hand, he withdrew the gun. Seeing Griffon put down the gun, Emelyn also withdrew her hand and turned to look at Holden, who was holding the back of his neck.

"Brother, don't you have important things to discuss with Greyson? Why are you interested in his she-wolf?" Emelyn's words were difficult to tell whether she was trying to reconcile them or encourage them to fight.

Holden and Griffon were actually the same types of person, with a cold and indifferent appearance, but with a fierce intention in their bones. If Taya could easily deal with Griffon, then Holden, who had a similar temperament to Griffon, would probably also...

3/4

Emelyn's almond-shaped eyes swept over Taya. Although she was not as good-looking as her, she looked very pure. Without any coquettish move, just standing there could easily arouse the desire deep in a man's heart. No wonder her clueless brother would stare at Taya, if it were her, she would do the same.

The more Emelyn thought about it, the more uncomfortable she felt. She glared at Holden angrily and deliberately leaned toward Griffon.

"Greyson, let's go to the study to talk about business?"

Taya held the handrail of the stairs tighter. It was just talking, did she have to get so close?

4/4

'Don't worry about this matter, I'll handle it.' However, before Griffon could speak, Holden pushed Emelyn aside and stood straight in front of Griffon.

"Where is the study?" Griffon didn't even look at the siblings, he walked to Taya and took her hand.

"You go upstairs first and rest well. I'll come to find you after I finish dealing with things."

The man's fingers were placed on her head, rubbing her hair, and his eyes were full of indulgence. Taya obediently nodded, "Okay..."

Chapter 877

Emelyn, who witnessed this scene, felt that she could never be so gentle and obedient in her entire life. She turned her head and saw Holden still staring at Taya. She gritted her teeth and asked, "Do you like this kind of woman?"

Holden mechanically nodded his head, wanting to ask Emelyn what liking meant, but he received a look of contempt from Emelyn.

And...

Another palm hit the back of his neck!

Holden: ...

In the end, he followed Griffon into the study dizzily.

As soon as the study door closed, Taya and Emelyn looked at each other awkwardly. atmosphere here was a bit subtle and awkward...

"Ms. Palmer, do you have coffee?"

Emelyn was the first to speak after a moment of silence.

Taya responded with a "yes" and turned to the kitchen to look for coffee.

Not familiar with the bridal chamber, Taya couldn't find it after searching for a long time, and the atmosphere became awkward again.

She touched her waist, which was bumped by Griffon, and turned to look at Emelyn, who was looking for coffee behind her.

"Is boiled water okay?"

Emelyn raised her eyebrows and said, "Whatever..."

She just wanted to ease the awkwardness, not really drink coffee.

So, Taya brought two cups of boiled water and placed them on the table in the living room, sitting face to face with Emelyn.

Griffon asked her to go upstairs to rest, but there were "guests" here, and she couldn't ignore them.

The two of them held their cups of boiled water and pretended to take a few sips before Emelyn put down her cup and looked at Taya.

"Ms. Palmer, may I ask how you made Griffon fall in love with you?"

Uh... she was direct.

"Why does Ms. Davies ask this?"

Emelyn raised her chin towards the study, "I want

3/4

Before saying this, Emelyn added a prerequisite condition – Griffon.

Taya nervously tightened her grip on the cup. She was about to say that Griffon and I are mated, and if you pursue him, you will become the third one in their relationship.

Before she could say her domineering words, Emelyn interrupted her, "How about you teach me?"

She wanted to pursue her husband, and she wanted her to teach her?!

Did this make sense?!

Chapter 878

Taya put down her cup and said angrily, "Ms. Davies, he is mine, it's better not to covet him."

Upon hearing this, Emelyn became even angrier than her, "Ms. Palmer, you look pretty decent on the surface, but I didn't expect you to be such a greedy woman."

Emelyn had strong momentum, and Taya couldn't match it, but she still had the courage to grit her teeth and ask, "How am I being greedy?!"

Emelyn tightened her fur coat, sat up straight, and stared at Taya coldly, "Having Griffon is not enough, you still want to have my brother, are you eating your cake and wanting another one too?!"

Taya: ...

So... Emelyn's crush is her brother, not Griffon?!

Taya almost blurted out her thoughts but

She breathed a sigh of relief in her heart but kept a calm expression on her face as she smiled.

"You misunderstand. I'm not interested in your brother."

Not interested, yet she still claimed he was hers?! Emelyn snorted, "Don't use these tricks in front of me. It's useless."

Taya glanced at her and explained with a smile, "Ms. Davies, I thought you liked Griffon, that's why you were so excited earlier."

Emelyn was stunned for a moment before realizing, "Griffon is even more heartless than my brother. If I like him, am I looking for death?" Holden was already difficult to deal with, and now she wants to like Griffon? Is she never going to get mated in this lifetime?

Emelyn, who was very self-aware, raised her proud chin and impatiently asked, "Are you going to teach me or not?" People in the S circle exuded a sense of dominance, even women were like this, free-spirited and oppressive at the same time.

Taya admired the aura that Emelyn exuded, but how could she teach her how to pursue a man when she had never done it herself?

3/4

She was thinking about how to politely refuse when Emelyn handed her an invitation card. "Ms. Palmer, tomorrow night, I'm having a party at the upscale club, and my brother will be there. You come and teach me how to pursue him." Taya looked at the invitation card and shook her head. "No, I have my mating ceremony the day after tomorrow, and I have to wait at home the night before. It's a custom."

Besides, if Griffon found out she went to a party late at night, he would kill her, right?

Emelyn rubbed her manicured nails and seduced her with her captivating almond-shaped eyes.

"How about I change the party to a bachelor party, and Ms. Palmer can experience the last moments of being single?" No way! Griffon wouldn't agree!

Emelyn seemed to see through her thoughts and leaned in, continuing to entice her. "Don't worry, I'll secretly come to pick you up tomorrow night, and no one will know..."

Chapter 879

Taya firmly shook her head, "I'm not going."

As a mated woman, she had a certificate and it wasn't suitable for her to attend a bachelor party.

Emelyn didn't wait for her to refuse, "It's settled then, I'll come to pick you up tomorrow."

Taya sighed, "Ms. Davies, even if you come to pick me up, I still won't go."

The woman in the dress didn't answer, only smiled and left, wrapped in a fox fur coat. Her slender and graceful figure looked carefree and natural. Even the most beautiful things in the world couldn't compare to Emelyn's casual and natural demeanor.

Taya watched her leave and breathed a sigh of relief. Fortunately, Emelyn's love interest wasn't Griffon, otherwise, she would have been her biggest competitor.

She picked up her water and took a sip, looking toward the direction of the study. It was quiet inside, and she didn't know what the two of them were talking about.

In the soundproof study, Griffon leaned back on the leather sofa, his long legs lazily crossed together. Under his beautifully arched eyebrows were a pair of deep and dark eyes, staring at Holden, who had the same cold temperament, across from him.

"Mr. Davies, what do you mean?" Holden sat up straight from the sofa, his elbows resting on his knees as he looked up at Griffon.

"This is the last mission. As long as you complete it, my foster father will agree to let you leave the S organization."

"My back injury hasn't healed yet, and you want me to go. Do you want me to die there?" Griffon sneered coldly.

Holden didn't answer, he shook his head. "Greyson, our people who have entered Erebus, none of them have come out alive, except for you."

"Although you are injured, only you can do it in S. My foster father hopes that you can help S one more time."

Griffon shook his expensive handmade leather shoes, seeming indifferent to the matter. "I said years ago that I wouldn't get involved in anything that happens overseas."

"But you are the Alpha of S, aren't you?" Holden asked.

After a few seconds of silence, Griffon opened his thin lips and spoke calmly. "Holden, do you know how I got out of Erebus?"

"I don't know..."

4/5

Griffon turned his head and looked at the mating photo of Taya and him on the desk. "I promised her that I would return to the country within two days, otherwise I wouldn't survive the life and death game in Erebus."

He stared at the photo for a while before slowly retracting his gaze, scanning Holden with a clear and cold look. "If it were before, even if I had to sacrifice myself for S, it wouldn't matter. But now, I have a family."

He had a family now, and because of that, he couldn't disregard his own life. It was precisely because he had a family that he wanted to leave S.

But Master Davies was right. When he was young, he borrowed the power of S to strengthen himself. When he was asked for help, he wanted to leave. Where in the world does such a good thing exist?

But Erebus...

Chapter 880

S cannot even find out who organized Erebus or who is behind it.

Asking him to go alone, again and again, wasn't that just sending him to his death? He cannot die! He had to accompany Taya, take care of her, and fulfill their lifelong promise until death did them part.

Otherwise, what was the point of their promise?

Holden followed his gaze and looked at the photo of the two of them embracing each other sweetly. Greyson, who never smiled, showed a happy expression he had never had before.

Holden seemed to understand something and sighed slightly, "Greyson, if we don't find out who is behind Erebus, more people will die."

Griffon asked him emotionlessly, "What does other people's death have to do with me?"

Holden also thought the same. What does the death of those people have to do with him? But... "Isn't the original intention of S to help people in need?"

Their organization, formed by the pups of wealthy packs, not only removes commercial tumors but also extends a helping hand to others.

Although they used the power of S privately to avenge their own grievances, it was also a legitimate counterattack after being persecuted.

Holden thought. Since his foster father had given the order to find the person behind the scenes as soon as possible, they must complete the task no matter what.

Hearing Holden's naive words, Griffon sneered, "Master Davies founded S to help a woman take revenge..."

Before Master Davies adopted Holden and Emelyn, he already knew that the seemingly elegant man was not as kind as he appeared.

He was playing a big game of revenge, and the game had not yet reached an important step, indicating that it was not yet over.

He didn't know what Master Davies was going to do or why he trained him to be the Alpha of S.

But he knew that Master Davies was insidious, and no one could see what kind of darkness was hidden beneath his hypocritical appearance.

He was waiting for the day when the game was revealed. Perhaps Master Davies would bring him surprises or scares that he couldn't even guess. Anyway, he just had to wait slowly...
