

The Billionaire Alpha's Contract Lover by Caesar Erickson

Chapter 881

Chapter 881

Holden had heard his foster father mention his first love from his youth, which was more like an unrequited love. However, he had never seen what she looked like, only knowing that his foster father had remained unmated for her.

His thoughts were diverted by Griffon, who was now talking about the organization's affairs. The original intention of "S" was not so important, as long as they followed the current purpose.

Holden put aside his thoughts and made a solemn promise to Griffon, "I'll go with you, whether it's life or death, I'll follow you."

He had never expressed his loyalty to Griffon before, this was the first time. He thought that Griffon would be moved when he heard it, but Griffon just glanced at him disdainfully and said, "You'll only hold me back."

Holden clenched his fists in anger, "Griffon, don't be so arrogant. I've helped you clean up so many operations. Do you think you could have completed the tasks smoothly without me?!"

Griffon raised his chin, "That's because you're only good at cleaning up."

Holden: ...

This man, why did he always make people want to fight him every time he speaks?!

"I have to go accompany my she-wolf. Goodbye."

Griffon left with a sweet remark, showing off his affection for his she-wolf.

"Are you going or not?"

Griffon didn't answer, striding towards the revolving escalator with his long legs.

"Greyson, do you think you can be left alone if you don't go?"

"Don't forget, you showed your face in Erebus once. Aren't you afraid they'll come looking for you?"

Greyson had already fallen into his foster father's trap when he agreed to go to Erebus with him to save the pup.

His foster father didn't want to drag Greyson down, but after losing so many S members, he had no choice but to let Greyson try.

Before letting him enter Erebus, his foster father made sure to prepare him for the rescue, but no one could have thought that he would come out unscathed.

His ability to come back meant that he had the capability, and as a Alpha with such capabilities, if he didn't lead by example, who else could?

Holden's words made Griffon hesitate for a moment, but he still didn't stop...

Looking at the tall figure walking away without turning back, Holden sighed helplessly. Did he even know that once the people from Erebus came, the first target would be his she-wolf?

He wanted to protect his family, but he was already deeply involved in this mess.

If he didn't clear out these tumors, how could he protect his family?

The soundproofing of the room was very good, and Taya, who was flipping through project drawings, didn't hear the noise downstairs.

Chapter 882

There were still many projects left by her sister that she hadn't finished designing.

After the mating ceremony, she had to speed up the process and complete these projects.

She sat on the sofa, lowered her head, and slid her slender fingertips across the screen of her phone.

In Griffon's eyes, it was a peaceful and beautiful scene...

He crossed his arms and leaned against the door frame, quietly watching her.

She was pure and beautiful, while he had been trapped in trouble since pup period, everything was bloody.

Would mating her harm her?

Taya saw him standing at the door and not coming in, just staring at her in a daze. She raised her lips and smiled peacefully.

"Alpha, we've known each other for so many years, haven't you seen enough?"

Griffon lowered his long eyelashes and walked up to her, bending down to kiss her hair affectionately.

"Can never get enough in a lifetime."

The light scent of pine resin entered her nose, it smelled good. Taya tightened her grip on his collar, pulled him down, and kissed his lips.

“You promised me many times for a lifetime, don’t break your promise...”
Griffon’s body stiffened, looking into Taya’s eyes, which were deep and unfathomable. Usually, he would have said something sweet to appease her, but this time he chose to remain silent. Taya loosened her grip on him, sensing that something was wrong with his expression. She took Griffon’s hand and made him sit down beside her, looking at him with a serious expression. “Griffon, did Holden ask you to deal with Johnny Brook again?” Griffon shook his head gently. This time, he was not going to confront Johnny, but an unknown organization. “Is it related to your injury last time?” Griffon saw that she already knew everything, and he smiled slightly. “I won’t break my promise. I will protect you.” He reached out his fingers and stroked her temple gently, as if he was touching the most precious treasure in the world. Taya grabbed his hand and held it in her palm, her movements just as gentle, as if she was holding a rare treasure. “Griffon, it’s not important whether you protect me or not. What’s important is that you protect yourself. If...” She paused for a moment, looking at Griffon and smiling. “If something really dangerous happens, don’t worry, I will follow you without complaint.” “Similarly, if someone threatens me to make you do something, please don’t worry, I won’t become a burden to you.” She was timid and weak, once she fell in love with someone, she would follow him to heaven or hell. Her world was so simple, without too many complicated things, simple things last the longest.

Chapter 883

Griffon, who had never felt her love before, often felt her love after being with her. He felt that he loved her more, but hearing what she said, he suddenly realized that their love for each other was actually the same. The man held her hand and pulled her into his arms. “I won’t let anyone hurt you.” When he said this, his eyes showed a chill and a strong killing intent. Holden was right, he had already become involved in this matter and couldn’t be left alone. But whether it was S or Erebus, no one could touch his woman. If anyone dared to hurt her, even if he died, he would make the other person pay! Because for him, nothing was more important than pursuing all his life, the person he had been seeking all his life. He would never let down the person he had waited for few years to come back... Taya and Griffon did not stay in the bridal chamber that night. The mating ceremony was about to take place, and the bridal chamber needed to be decorated. She also had to go back and decorate the villa she would be living in after getting mated, but she had hired someone to take care of it, so she didn't have to worry about it and just needed to supervise.

The day before the mating ceremony, Taya got up early.

After taking the staff responsible for the decoration to the villa, Andre came. He brought several caravans and delivered expensive items such as mating ceremony dresses, shoes, headpieces, jewelry, and bridesmaid dresses.

Griffon had already arranged everything about the mating ceremony. Even the makeup team for the bride was a team of internationally renowned stylists.

It was said that there were more than forty people just to do her makeup and hair.

Griffon didn't let her worry about anything, whether it was the mating ceremony process or the mating ceremony details.

The only thing is that he never revealed the specific address of the mating ceremony to her, and she didn't know where the mating ceremony was being held.

Taya thought that no matter where the mating ceremony was held, being able to mate him smoothly was enough.

Chapter 884

After Andre delivered the items needed for the mating ceremony day, he packed Taya's things and sent them to Blue Bay Island.

They would live together on Blue Bay Island after getting mated. If they were lucky, they would have a few pups and spend the rest of their lives with them.

Thinking of pups, Taya instinctively touched her belly that had no movement.

She had been taking the medicine prescribed by Stella, but two months had passed and there was still no reaction.

They could have done IVF, but Griffon didn't allow it. He was afraid that she would be in pain and would rather not have pups.

Griffon's grandpa, had set a deadline. If she got mating ceremony, he would recognize her as his daughter-in-law. If she didn't, he wouldn't.

Now that she hadn't gotten pregnant, then...

Taya thought for a moment and still picked up her phone to send a message to Dominic Knight, "Grandpa, I'm sorry that I haven't gotten pregnant yet, but Griffon and I still want to invite you to our mating ceremony."

He must have known about their mating registration, so she changed her address.

What is done is done. Even if he didn't agree, they still got mated and they were now legally mated wolf and she-wolf, and no one could change that.

However, as a junior who was about to enter the Knight pack, she still had to invite her elders to the mating ceremony.

Griffon wouldn't go to invite them, so only she could maintain the relationship between grandfather and grandson.

Dominic Knight, who was "confined" in Italy, sneered contemptuously when he received Taya's message.

He didn't reply to Taya's message or call her to scold her.

Instead, he was waiting for Griffon to speak up...

However, he waited for a day and the Griffon didn't respond to him, so Dominic was very angry...

Taya didn't know what was happening on Dominic Knight's side. She had just put away the things that Andre had delivered to the villa when Emelyn's car stopped at the villa's door.

The woman sitting in the extended luxury car held a cigar between her fingers and beckoned to her bring Griffon with me with a domineering gesture.

"Ms. Palmer, get in the car." Taya held the car door and asked her, bending over, "Do you mind if I bring Griffon with me?"

Chapter 885

Emelyn flicked the ash off her cigar with her fingers.

"Ms. Palmer, no one brings their mated wolf to a bachelor party!"

Her's rejection was expected, but why?

Emelyn invited her to the party to teach her how to pursue Holden, right?

So why couldn't she bring Griffon along? It wouldn't interfere with Emelyn teaching her how to pursue Holden.

She thought that Emelyn might be trying to take her away at the party, and the purpose might have something to do with Holden talking to Griffon.

After thinking it through, Taya looked at Emelyn sincerely and said:

Been through a lot over the years, and we finally got mated after waiting for so long. I don't want anything unexpected to happen before the mating ceremony."

"I just want to put on the mating ceremony dress he gave me tomorrow morning and mate him in the best condition possible. I hope you can help us with that."

She saw Emelyn's face change slightly as she spoke, and knew that Emelyn did have a purpose, and it probably had something to do with Holden and Griffon's conversation.

But she smiled.

"Ms. Davies, if you really want me to teach you how to pursue Holden, can you wait until after I get mated?"

Emelyn didn't expect Taya to understand everything, she wasn't a naive canary.

On the contrary, she seemed to love Griffon very much, so much so that she only wanted to ensure her safety before the mating ceremony.

Before this, Emelyn had no feelings toward Taya, and even looked down on her a bit.

Now, Emelyn raised her eyes and carefully looked at Taya.

The girl's face was clean and tidy, especially her eyes, which were so innocent that there were no complicated thoughts.

In contrast to those eyes, Emelyn, who had been trained to shoot targets with guns since she was a pup, seemed a bit complicated.

Chapter 886

Emelyn flicked the cigar with her fingers and pondered for a few seconds before looking at Taya again.

“Ms. Palmer, you misunderstood. I really just wanted to invite you to the party.”

“Do you really like Holden?”

Taya didn't expose Emelyn's intentions and just asked this question.

Emelyn was puzzled and looked at Taya, “Why do you ask?”

Taya said, “If you really like Holden, then you will understand my feelings.”

If Emelyn really liked Holden, then she would understand how difficult it was to mate the person she loved after going through so many hardships.

Emelyn paused her fingers holding the cigar for a moment.

Taya was very cautious about following men like Griffon, knowing the dangers that come with it. If she continued to persuade her, she might think she was not trustworthy.

But S's mission...

Emelyn was no longer soft-hearted and said to Taya, ‘I have invited your good friends to the club. Are you sure you don't want to come?’

No wonder Harper was called away by the club's people early this morning, and Stella and Henry didn't come to see Grace.

She thought it was a coincidence, but it turned out they were ‘invited’ to the party by Emelyn. It seemed she was determined to have her come.

pointed to the group of bodyguards guarding the villa. ‘They are all Griffon's people. If I go go with you,

they will inform Griffon of our location. Are you sure you want me to go?’

Emelyn smiled faintly and said, ‘They can't catch up with my car...’

After saying that, she raised her eyebrows at Taya and said, ‘Ms. Palmer, get in the car!’

This gentle kidnapping method was the first time

Taya had seen it. She looked at Emelyn helplessly and asked, ‘Ms. Davies, what do you want Griffon to do?’

Emelyn's words were light and casual, but Taya didn't think it was that simple.

She frowned and asked Emelyn, ‘If I go with you, will my friends be safe?’ Emelyn nodded,

‘Originally, it was just to negotiate with Greyson and wouldn't endanger anyone else's life, but if you don't go...’ She paused and her expression became serious. ‘I can't guarantee the safety of your friends...’

Her foster father was not a kind person. On the contrary, he would do whatever it takes to clear all obstacles.

But she could be sure that her foster father wouldn't harm Griffon, and he would do everything possible to protect his life during this trip to Erebus.

However, anyone around Griffon, whether they were subordinates or pack members, would not be in her foster father's eyes. He even hated his family.

Chapter 887

Taya, who understood Emelyn's intentions, asked her, "Can I go back and change my clothes first?"

Emelyn saw through her plan and implied said that she should consider her friend's situation more. In other words, she already had her friends controlled and should not try to signal the bodyguards or call out for help.

After thinking for a moment, Taya put her hand behind her back and made a gesture toward the bodyguards while she was still holding the car door.

Seeing Taya get in the car, Emelyn put out her cigar and started the engine. As she stepped on the gas pedal, she glanced at the rearview mirror and saw that the bodyguards were following them.

Emelyn easily shook off the bodyguards as she was the captain of the S team.

Taya held onto her seatbelt tightly to avoid being thrown out of the car. The nausea in her stomach made her want to vomit.

Emelyn glanced at Taya and said, "It seems that you don't really like Holden."

Taya realized that Emelyn had lied about inviting her to the party to lower her guard. Emelyn had received orders to take Taya away from Holden and use her as a bargaining chip to negotiate with Griffon.

Emelyn thought that taking Taya to the party and then having Holden negotiate with Griffon would be more effective.

Although this method was despicable, Emelyn had to follow the organization's orders. She felt sorry for using Taya in this way.

Taya understood the situation. Holden and Griffon had failed to reach an agreement the night before, which was why they had used her to threaten Griffon.

Taya checked her pockets and realized that she had left her phone behind. She knew that Emelyn wouldn't harm her, but she was worried that Griffon might agree to the demands made by the other side.

Griffon was the Alpha of the S team, and he always dealt with S's affairs first. If he had refused

Chapter 888

Taya couldn't let them threaten Griffon, no matter what.

As she thought about this, the car quickly arrived at the beach club.

Unlike other entertainment venues, this club was built by the sea and belonged to the beach club. Under the night sky and sea breeze, men and women dressed in suits and dresses walked on the beach, holding high glasses and listening to soothing melodies. If it weren't for their ulterior motives, this scene would seem like a seaside bachelor party.

After getting out of the car, Taya didn't see Harper and furrowed her brows. "Ms. Davies, where is my friend?"

Emelyn locked the car door and threw the keys to the valet. "Ms. Palmer, kidnappers wouldn't keep their hostages in the same place." Emelyn had lied to her again!

Taya clenched her fists and gritted her teeth. "Ms. Davies, you're a wealthy young lady. Your methods are too dishonorable."

Emelyn didn't argue and admitted, "It's true that my methods are dishonorable, but you know what? My foster father has saved me countless times.

Without him, I wouldn't be here. I can't betray his kindness and upbringing."

Taya wasn't in the mood to play emotional cards with her and asked coldly, "Since I'm here, can you please release my friends?"

Emelyn shook her head. "Ms. Palmer, don't think too much in front of me. I grew up in a certain place and have certain thoughts and methods that you don't understand."

Emelyn outsmarted Emelyn and should just follow her orders and not try to escape.

Taya did want Emelyn to release Harper and the others so she could escape alone.

Chapter 889

Emelyn's plan failed, and Taya tried to appeal to her emotions.

"Ms. Davies, you know that Griffon only cares about me."

"Keeping my friend hostage won't do you any good. Why make innocent people suffer?"

Emelyn stared at Taya's clear and innocent eyes for a while before waving her hand. "Fine, as long as you're here."

She made a phone call and nodded at Taya after hanging up. "Your friend doesn't know they have been kidnapped. I just caused some trouble for them. Don't mention this when you go back."

So, Harper left early in the morning, and Stella and Henry didn't come to the villa, not because they were kidnapped, but because Emelyn's people made things difficult for them.

But according to Emelyn, if Taya didn't come, those people would have harmed Harper and her friends...

However, regardless of who Emelyn was considering, or what she was thinking, it didn't matter.

What mattered was that Harper and her friends were safe, and she could find a way to escape...

Taya looked around at the club's surroundings, which were densely packed with people. It was almost impossible to cross the crowd and reach the road. Only the independent restroom next to the club was unguarded...

She glanced at the restroom and turned to face Emelyn. "I want to go to the restroom." Since everyone here was from the S Club, Emelyn wasn't worried about her running away and nodded. "Go ahead."

Taya quickly walked towards the restroom.

As she stepped onto the stairs, she collided with someone coming down.

A man reached out his fair hand and held her shoulder. "Miss, where are you going?"

His voice was magnetic, low and melodious, and full of charm. Taya looked up and met a pair of calm hybrid eyes.

Chapter 890

At the moment when those blue-black eyes met hers, Taya felt a slight familiarity, but she didn't have much of an emotional reaction to the man who looked extremely handsome in front of her, she had seen Griffon's beauty before.

She quickly averted her gaze and apologized to the man with her head down, "I'm sorry, I was thinking about something and didn't see you coming down."

She tried to walk past the man toward the women's restroom, but he grabbed her arm again.

Taya instinctively shook off his hand and said firmly, "Sir, I've already apologized to you. What else do you want?"

The man shrugged his shoulders, explaining that he was just in a hurry earlier and wanted to ask for her name. Was he trying to hit on her?

Wait, everyone here was Emelyn's people. How could this man not know who she was?

Seeing her confusion, the man explained, "Ms. Davies invited me to the party. I don't know everyone here."

Emelyn had said earlier that she really intended to have a bachelor party, but changed her mind after receiving orders. So this handsome man in front of her didn't know that S was on a mission and came to the party only to have fun.

After understanding this, Taya looked at the man with no emotion and said, "I'm mated, stop trying.”

She walked away, but the man’s laughter followed her, “Miss, I just thought you looked familiar.

I

didn’t have any other intentions. Besides, I’m not interested in someone with your figure and looks...”

Chapter 891

Taya paused her steps.

She wanted to turn around and retort to him, but she was afraid of wasting time, so she ignored him and quickly pushed open the door of the women’s restroom.

After entering, she looked around the restroom and saw a small window next to it. She quickly walked over and pushed it open.

Outside was a highway. As long as she climbed out from here, she could walk to the highway, and the probability of escape would also increase.

She was too lazy to think about how to leave after reaching the highway. She simply rolled up her sleeves and climbed up the high window sill.

A man sitting on the road with one foot bent and one hand propped on his knee was smoking and

What the hell!

Climb the window.

If she wanted to leave, she could just walk through the club and leave from the main entrance, or cross the beach. Why did she have to climb the window?

“Hey!”

He shouted loudly, scaring Taya to fall off the window sill...

Taya, who fell heavily on the ground, grimaced in pain. Fortunately, the ground was all sand, otherwise, she would have to break a bone.

She got up from the ground, and glared at the man sitting on the road smoking, “Are you crazy?”

The man raised the hand propped on his knee, took a deep breath of smoke, exhaled a smoke ring, and looked at her, “Why did you climb the wall?”

Taya didn't bother to talk to him anymore, propped up her sore waist, and wanted to climb over the thorns and climb onto the highway.

Emelyn's voice, however, came from behind at this moment, “Ms. Palmer, didn't I tell you not to run away...”

Taya, who had just found a way out, sighed in disappointment when she heard Emelyn's voice.

The man who was still sitting on the road, flicked the cigarette ash in his hand, and smiled wickedly, “So, Palmer, huh?”

Emelyn walked up to remind him, “Mr. Carmine, this is Alpha' she-wolf.”

She didn't say anything extra, just the two words “she-wolf” were enough to prevent him from Thoughts about Taya.

Mr. Carmine, who didn't have any thoughts before, suddenly became curious when he heard the name. Alpha Knight...

Chapter 892

He hooked his mouth and showed a smirk, “Tsk tsk, so it's Alpha Knight' she-wolf, then I'm even more interested.”

Emelyn crossed her arms and looked up at the man sitting on the road, “Herb Carmine, don't blame me for not reminding you, she's not someone you can mess with.”

Herb put the cigarette in his mouth, put his hands behind his back, propped on the cement floor, and looked at Taya with a raised chin and a smile.

The smile of the mixed race carries a bit of both good and evil, but the smile was kinda fake and his expression is hard to read. Taya was curious about Herb's last name, as it was also “Carmine”, but when she saw his impure gaze, she didn't dare ask. If she did, he might have been even ruder. She turned to Emelyn and said, “Let's go.”

She e d

Succeed in escaping this time, so she would have to think of another way.

At Knight Manor, after Griffon kicked Holden and pulled out his gun, he aimed it at Holden's heart. “Tell Master Davies that if he touches my woman, it's like declaring war on me. Let him think it over.” They needed him, but they kidnapped his she-wolf to threaten him. Had they lost their minds in Erebus?

Holden didn't expect that Greyson would rather fight against Master Davies than go to Erebus. This matter was becoming more and more difficult to handle. Griffon glared fiercely at Holden with his hawk-like red eyes, then put away his gun and walked towards the backyard. "Start the helicopter and go to the North Sea!"

"Yes, sir!" Andre replied respectfully and ran towards the backyard. A row of helicopters was parked on the lawn, which was meant for welcoming the bride tomorrow, but now they had to use them to rescue her.

A tall man in a black suit, wearing gloves, bent down and got into the helicopter. After putting on his gloves, he waved to Andre, "I'll fly!" Andre quickly gave up his seat and commanded the other helicopters to follow.

One after another, the helicopters flew over Arcadia and quickly headed towards the North Sea."

Chapter 893

Taya, who had been caught three times after trying to escape, occasionally looked back at Emelyn, who was following her calmly. She couldn't hear clearly what Emelyn was discussing on the phone, but she heard Griffon's name mentioned a few times.

She didn't know if Griffon had agreed to whatever Emelyn was proposing, but she knew that she couldn't become a burden to him. She stared at the turbulent sea for a few seconds before jumping in without hesitation.

She had promised that she wouldn't become a burden to Griffon if someone used her to threaten him. Emelyn, who was still trying to convince her adoptive father not to threaten Griffon, was terrified when she saw Taya jump into the sea.

"Taya!" she screamed, throwing her phone aside and trying to run into the water to save her.

But

Herb, who had rushed past her, jumped into the sea and swam towards the small figure being carried away by the waves.

At first, Emelyn could still see the two figures floating on the surface of the water, one in front of the other. But the waves were too strong, and a strong wind had picked up, making it difficult to see where they were.

Emelyn, who had never felt afraid before, felt her heart stop beating. It was over...

Suddenly, a row of helicopters appeared in the starry night sky, their bright lights illuminating the entire beach. One after another, they landed with a loud roar.

Griffon, wearing white gloves and holding a gun, stepped off one of the helicopters and strode towards the group. His cold and noble aura was suffocating, and Emelyn's members were too scared to move.

the sea, he would probably want them to join her in the afterlife.

Emelyn's members became more and more frightened as they thought about it, and cold sweat dripped down their foreheads. But they didn't dare to move a muscle in front of Greyson.

Griffon looked around but couldn't see Taya.

Instead, he saw Emelyn kneeling on the beach, looking down and avoiding his gaze.

Sensing that something was wrong, Griffon strode over to her in his heavy military boots.

Chapter 894

"Where is she?" he asked, his voice cold and tinged with suppressed anger.

Emelyn shuddered involuntarily, not out of fear of Griffon, but out of guilt for causing Taya's disappearance.

"She... jumped into the sea," she replied. Griffon, tall and imposing, froze as if he had misheard her.

He looked at Emelyn in disbelief. "What did you say?"

On the other side of the shore, Herb pulled Taya to the beach with all his might. Taya choked on seawater and coughed incessantly as soon as she reached the shore.

Herb, exhausted from the effort, collapsed on the sand and gasped for air. After they both recovered, for a while, Herb sat up and turned to look at Taya.

"If you can't run away. You should have asked me for help instead of jumping into the sea."

If he hadn't known how to swim, she would have drowned.

Taya covered her aching heart with her hand and didn't look up. "You're Emelyn's friend. You wouldn't help me..."

"Sister, if you don't ask me, how do you know I won't help?"

When she heard the word "sister," Taya's fingers twisted her clothes, and she suddenly stopped. She slowly raised her head and looked at Herb...

Under the moonlight, the man's features were deep and clear. Although he was soaked through, it didn't affect his elegant demeanor.

Taya stared at his face and asked him, "Why do you call me sister?"

Herb raised his eyebrows and leaned back on his hands. "It's just a title, and besides, I'm only twenty years old. You can't be younger than me."

Although it was just a title, Taya felt a strange sense of familiarity, as if the person sitting on the beach was really her younger brother.

Chapter 895

Rosalie Carmine?

Before she could finish the words, Herb interrupted her, "I'll take you back."

Taya frowned and looked at him, "It is not easy for me to escape, why do I have to go back?"

Herb was a little speechless and rolled his eyes at her. "What I mean is, I'll take you home."

Taya nodded and got up from the beach. She had to hurry back and tell Griffon that she had escaped, that she was okay, and that she hadn't become a burden to him, so he didn't have to be threatened.

After following Herb ashore, she saw several ambulances quickly driving towards the beach club. She paused, and she looked towards the distant beach, unable to see any figures, only boats of all sizes heading towards the sea one after another.

Taya pondered for a moment and felt that Emelyn wouldn't send so many people to search for her. Could it be Griffon who had come?

If Griffon had come and found out that she had jumped into the sea, he would probably be scared to death. Thinking of this, Taya changed her mind again. "Let's go over there and take a look."

If Griffon hadn't come, they could still retreat in time.

Herb, with his hands in his pockets, sneered, "Why should I listen to you?"

Taya turned around and looked at him, smiling.

"Aren't you my little brother?"

It was such a familiar smile, as if he had seen it in a photo when he was a pup. Where had he seen it before?

He couldn't remember.

Herb shook his head and walked towards the beach club.

The man who had jumped into the sea three times couldn't find Taya even after diving deep into the sea. He suddenly felt despair and his eyes turned red...

Taya...

If I can't find you, I'll sink to the bottom of the sea with you, okay?

Andre, who had jumped into the sea with him, was scared when he saw Griffon suddenly sinking to the bottom of the sea and quickly swam towards him.

He had trained in the sea since he was young, so this amount of water was nothing to him.

He quickly swam to Griffon's side.

Andre reached out to grab him, but the man in the water pushed his hand away, as if he wanted to sink deeper into the sea.

Andre was startled and sped up, following him...

Chapter 896

This time, he didn't grab Griffon, but instead went around behind him, wrapped his arms around him, and used brute force to lift him up.

The man who had been underwater for so long was exhausted, but still struggled to push Andre away...

If it weren't for the people who came down and pulled Griffon together, he might have broken free from Andre's grip and sunk to the bottom of the sea.

When Griffon was rescued and brought to shore, he had drunk a lot of seawater and his face was pale. The wound on his back, which had just healed, also reopened. However, he didn't care about his own body. He pushed aside the crowd surrounding him and wanted to jump back into the sea to find Taya...

"Griffon!"

Only she would call him that.

Griffon suddenly turned around, his eyes reddened from being soaked in seawater, when he saw the woman running towards him in the rain, the long-suppressed icy liquid suddenly rolled down with the rain falling from the night sky.

She's okay...

That's great.

Griffon stood up, swaying and stumbling, and walked towards her step by step...

After Taya ran up to him, she opened her arms and hugged the pale man.

"Did I scare you?" Griffon raised his trembling fingers and tightly wrapped them around her petite body, with such strength that it seemed like he wanted to merge her into his own body.

"I thought you..." He thought she had left him again, thought he had lost her again, and thought she had sunk to the bottom of the sea, and couldn't even find her body.

He was very afraid, afraid that he would be like few years ago, unable to see her for the last time and never see her again.

Then he... "I've made up my mind. If I can't find you again, I'll sink to the bottom of the sea with you." He wouldn't live as he did few years ago, he would definitely follow her.

Taya hugged his trembling body tightly, stroking his back lightly.

"Griffon, I'm sorry. I couldn't escape and I was afraid of being a burden to you, so I had to jump into the sea."

"I was too impulsive and didn't consider your feelings. I'm sorry, really sorry..."

Chapter 897

Griffon held her in his arms, feeling her warm body temperature, and his heart was numb with pain, and then slowly calmed down.

He let go of Taya and saw that she was soaked through and shivering from the cold, and he began to feel sorry for her.

"I'm the one who should apologize. If it weren't for me, you wouldn't have encountered these things."

"What are you talking about? We are mated wolf and she-wolf. No matter what happens, we have to bear it together."

After Taya finished speaking, she looked down at her hands and saw that they were covered in blood, and her face turned pale.

“The wound on your back is bleeding. Get on the ambulance quickly...”

She had thought it was seawater, but she didn’t expect it to be all blood. The wound on his back must have opened up!

Taya pulled his hand and headed towards the ambulance, but Griffon pulled her back.

After he finished speaking, he looked at Emelyn, who was standing not far away.

“Lock her up and notify Master Davies to come and redeem her personally, otherwise she will be shot!”

This was directed at Andre, who immediately understood. “Yes, I’ll take care of it right away!”

Having already anticipated that Greyson would not let go of his Emelyn, she didn’t react too much when Andre approached her.

Instead, when she saw Taya and Herb appear, she breathed a deep sigh of relief. It was good that they were rescued, otherwise, she deserved to die.

Andre was extremely kind and “invited” Emelyn into the helicopter. As soon as the cabin door closed,

Emelyn asked, “Where is my brother?”

Andre looked at Emelyn and smiled coldly, “Ms. Davies, kidnappers don’t keep hostages in the same place.”

Hearing these familiar words, Emelyn sighed. The person who had kidnapped others had now become a hostage herself.

Chapter 898

After Griffon dealt with Emelyn, he took Taya’s hand and was about to board the helicopter, but a lazy voice came from behind:

“Hey, I saved your she-wolf, and you don’t even say ‘thank you’ before leaving. That’s really ungrateful, isn’t it?”

Griffon turned around, his cold, snow-like eyes darkening when he saw the man with one hand in his pocket and a cigarette in his mouth.

“Herb Carmine!” Herb raised his chin, his elegant thin lips curling up slightly with a hint of sarcasm.

“You actually remember me, that’s quite impressive.”

Griffon grabbed Taya’s hand and instinctively used a bit of force.

“Did he save you?” Taya nodded. “Yes, he saved me. What’s wrong?”

Griffon pursed his lips, wanting to say something but ultimately shook his head. He moved his gaze away from Taya and looked at Herb.

“Consider me owing you a favor.”

Herb took the cigarette out of his mouth, threw it on the ground, and stamped it out with his foot before smiling at Griffon.

He didn’t say anything, his blue-black eyes flickering with a disdainful gaze that swept over Taya before he turned and left.

Watching Herb’s back, Taya couldn’t help but say, “Mr. Carmine, thank you for today...”

Herb didn’t even turn his head, just raised his hand and waved casually, as if he didn't need her thanks.

Griffon saw Taya's expression when she looked at Herb, she looked at him softly unconsciously, His eyelashes trembled slightly.

"He's the heir of the Carmine pack. If you see him in the future, stay away from him. As for the favor he did for you, I'll repay it."

Taya raised her head and frowned, asking the man beside her, "Why?"

Griffon seemed to be caught in some unpleasant memories, and his eyes also turned cold.

"The Knight pack and the Carmine pack have a deep-seated hatred."

It wasn't just a business competition, but a private vendetta that used all means to kill each other.

The Knight pack and the Carmine pack had a feud, an eternal feud.

Chapter 899

Taya understood and nodded, "Okay, I'll listen to you. Now you either get on the plane or the ambulance..."

If the bleeding didn't stop soon, he wouldn't be able to bear it. She looks worried so Griffon obediently took her onto the plane.

That night, Taya stayed by Griffon's side, waiting for the doctors to stop the bleeding, stitch up the wound, and change the bandages before she could finally breathe a sigh of relief.

As the sky began to lighten, Taya thought they might have to postpone the mating ceremony, so she suggested, "Why don't we delay it for a day?"

The man who was gently wiping her hair with a towel was resolute, "No, the mating ceremony must be held today!" and turned to look at him, "But your injury..."

Griffon didn't care at all and said, "No matter how serious the injury, the mating ceremony is more important."

Taya wanted to say something else, but Griffon picked up the hair dryer and helped her dry her hair.

Then, without giving her a chance to refuse, he drove her back to the Knight villa by himself.

"At eleven o'clock, I'll bring the Knight pack to pick up the bride."

The original time was ten o'clock, but he was afraid she was too tired, so he changed the time.

After rubbing Taya's hair, Griffon waved to Andre, "Send a hundred bodyguards to guard here and don't let anyone get close."

Andre respectfully replied and quickly notified the bodyguards with his phone.

Griffon led Taya and personally handed her over to Harper before leaving after repeatedly reminding her.

Harper and Stella were relieved to see Taya return safely.

"Taya, do you know that Stella and I were almost scared to death?"

"And me!"

Grace got off Mandy's lap, took short steps and ran to Taya, opening her chubby arms for a hug.

Chapter 900

Taya bent down to pick up Grace and apologized to Harper and Stella, "I'm sorry, I didn't expect something like this to happen.”

Harper and Stella had wanted to go find Taya, but Andre had told them to stay at home and wait for news so as not to be a hindrance.

The two of them thought about it and realized they didn't have much ability to help, and they didn't want to cause any trouble. They chatted in the living room for a while, and Harper urged Taya to go upstairs and take a nap until the makeup and styling team arrived.

After a night without sleeping, Taya was indeed tired. She put down Grace and went back to her room, falling asleep quickly on the bed.

At exactly nine o'clock, Harper woke Taya up and told her that the makeup and styling team had arrived and were waiting in the villa next door. Taya rubbed her bleary eyes and nodded, saying she would get up right away.

She threw on a coat and headed over to the neighboring villa, where she was greeted by over forty people carrying makeup cases. They all bowed respectfully to her and addressed her as “Mrs. Knight.”

Taya smiled warmly and greeted them back before leading them inside. She went to take a shower while the makeup and styling team set up.

When she came out, the stylists and makeup artists had her sit down at the vanity. The wardrobe stylist opened the closet and asked, “Mrs. Knight, which mating ceremony dress would you like to wear?”

There were two mating ceremony dresses in the closet, one that Griffon had previously bought at a sky-high price and another that he had recently purchased. Taya had told Griffon that he had bought a mating ceremony dress before, and to show her respect to him, she insisted to get a new one.

Looking through the mirror, Taya saw the two dresses and her gaze fell on the diamond-studded one. She suddenly remembered a fashion designer who had told her that the expensive dress was more suitable for her. At the time, she didn't understand the meaning behind the comment, but now she realized that everything was predetermined.

She pushed aside her thoughts and lifted her slender fingers, pointing to the diamond-studded dress. “That one, it's more suitable for me.”

She wanted to wear the first mating ceremony dress Griffon had ever bought for her, to look beautiful and happy, and to mate him.
