Chapter 901

Chapter 901

The dressmaker took off the mating ceremony dress and touched the material of the skirt and diamonds, pausing for a moment.

This mating ceremony dress was made of layers of light gauze, with roses and diamonds made of soft satin embellishing the skirt. The entire dress was crystal clear white, with intricate stitching of diamonds that shimmered and gave the dress an elegant and magnificent charm that was breathtaking.

If she wasn't mistaken, this was designed by a famous international mating ceremony dress designer, and there was only one in the world, making it unique. In earlier years, this mating ceremony dress was kept in a foreign exhibition hall, but it was later said to have been bought for a high price.

It was unexpected that the person who bought the dress was the CEO of the Knight pack. If he didn't really love his she-wolf, how could he bear to spend so much money?

There was also another expensive mating ceremony dress in the closet, which was clearly a limited edition and probably the only one in existence.

"Mrs. Knight, it seems that your husband loves you very much..." Taya heard what the dressmaker said and nodded gently without avoiding the topic.

That man loved her so much that he was willing to give her the best of everything, even willing to die with her. She thought that in the future, she must treat Alpha well and never let him down.

"Mrs. Knight is so beautiful, Alpha will naturally cherish her like a treasure."

"It's not just about being pretty, Mrs. Knight must have a kind heart and be gentle and generous."

"I think it's both, that's why Alpha fell in love with Mrs. Knight at first sight."

The makeup artist, stylist, and dressmaker were really good at sweet-talking.

They praised Taya's good skin, saying that she didn't need any concealer and just needed to apply some primer.

1/4

They praised her facial features, saying that a little bit of shading would make her face more exquisite.

They also praised her body proportions, saying that she would definitely stun everyone in the diamond-studded mating ceremony dress.

They even praised her hair, saying that it was like seaweed, long, thick, and smooth, and they had never seen such good hair before.

Taya knew that they wanted to experience the atmosphere of a mating ceremony, so she immediately called Harper. "Did you prepare a gift?"

"Yes, yes, yes." Harper, who was downstairs putting on bridesmaid makeup, nodded repeatedly. Last night, Harper prepared many gifts with Stella and Grace to distract Taya's attention. She thought that with Griffon there, Taya would definitely return safely, and the mating ceremony would be held as scheduled the next day.

She was afraid that it would be too late, so she prepared many gifts in advance just to give them to the makeup team.

Chapter 902

After finishing her conversation with Taya, she put down her phone and said to the makeup artist, "I'll go get the gifts first, wait for me."

Even the most famous international makeup artist had to be respectful at this moment and nodded to Harper, "No rush."

If it were someone else, the makeup artist would definitely be unhappy, but Alpha's she-wolf's friend was not someone they could easily neglect.

Stella, who was also doing bridesmaid makeup, raised her hand and touched Grace's head.

"Grace, when you're a flower girl later, remember to walk side by side with Phil Sherwood and don't fall behind."

Alpha had already arranged the people who would be flower girls, even the bridesmaids were appointed by him.

Harper initially refused, as she was a bridesmaid at Taya and Silas's mating ceremony last time and it didn't work out. She thought she definitely couldn't be a bridesmaid again this time, but Griffon said on the phone that he didn't mind Harper's unmate and didn't believe in such things. Harper saw his sincere invitation and didn't refuse again, but last night's incident made her wonder if she brought bad luck.

Fortunately, Taya returned safely and today's mating ceremony went smoothly, otherwise, Harper would definitely blame herself for being too unlucky.

Grace, who had already changed into a beautiful fairy dress, heard the name Phil Sherwood and tilted her little head, blinked her big eyes, and looked at Stella.

“Aunty Stella, but I don’t know Phil Sherwood.”

3/4

Stella reached out and fondly rubbed Grace’s nose. “Phil is the son of your aunt’s older sister and is the same age as you.” “Oh...” “When we get to the mating ceremony venue, I’ll take you to meet him.” “Okay...” Grace nodded her little head and picked up the lipstick on the table, applying it to her lips.

Stella saw her applying lipstick and chuckled, “Grace, do you want to put on makeup too?” After Grace applied lipstick to her lips, she turned to look at Stella, “Aunty Stella, how do I look with makeup?”

Seeing the little girl’s pink lips covered in bright lipstick, the makeup artist next to them couldn’t help but laugh. “Young lady, if you want to put on makeup, I can ask my colleague to help you redo it, okay?”

After the makeup artist finished speaking, he pointed to the man waiting next to him. “That uncle, he has helped many celebrities with their makeup.”

Hearing the words “celebrities,” Grace’s big eyes immediately lit up. “Then, after he helps me put on makeup, will I look as beautiful as a movie star?” Without waiting for the makeup artist to reply, the man smiled and nodded. The beauty-loving Grace quickly put down the lipstick and ran towards him. “Then thank you, uncle.”

Chapter 903

The little girl is very cute with a fair, oval-shaped face. Beneath her curved eyebrows, she has a pair of bright and lively eyes.

Anyone who saw her will like her and find her very cute.

Harper stepped out of the villa and looked up to see a car parked next door...

Her footsteps came to a halt as she stared in a daze at the man sitting in a wheelchair in front of the car door.

“Silas...”

Upon hearing Harper’s trembling voice, Silas slowly turned his head.

On his clean and fair face, a faint smile appeared.

2/4

“Harper, I heard she’s getting mated today. I came to see, do you mind?”

His polite but distant tone made Harper’s eyes gradually turn sad.

She wanted to reply with “Not at all,” but she was worried that Silas’s appearance would disrupt the mating ceremony.

After all, Taya hasn’t seen Silas since they parted ways at the hospital, and she hasn’t mentioned him since then.

She could tell that Taya had moved on from Silas, but her guilt towards Silas was forever buried deep within her heart.

She was afraid that if Taya saw Silas, her guilt will intensify. But if she didn’t let Silas see Taya, Harper felt like she was being too cruel to Silas.

Harper never imagined that she would be caught in the middle of two good friends, unable to choose...

3/4

Silas seemed to understand her thoughts and responded with a pure smile, lightly chuckling.

“Harper, don’t worry, the mating ceremony will go smoothly.”

Because Taya had already lost him in her heart.

The girl who used to follow him around since pup period when he was Silas had long moved on from him.

As Harper watched Silas sitting in his wheelchair, his face turning pale from the cold wind, her heart ached.

“Silas, let me take you to meet her.”

She walked forward and took the wheelchair that Camille was supporting, pushing Silas slowly into the villa.

4/4

Taya’s makeup was done and the wardrobe stylist helped her put on the expensive mating ceremony dress.

As she stood in front of the mirror, dragging the long train of her mating ceremony dress and looking at herself from side to side, she suddenly saw someone appear in the mirror.

She trembled slightly as she held the hem of her dress. She stared at the boy in the mirror for a long, long time before slowly turning around.

Chapter 904

“Silas...”

Silas felt very happy when he heard his name being called by her.

He was so happy that he didn’t even realize that the eyes that held a faint smile had turned red.

“Sorry, we agreed to never see each other again, but I couldn’t resist coming to see you.”

Silas sat in his wheelchair, with sad eyes, looking at Taya and politely said, “Please don’t mind me.”

The most qualified ex should be the one you never see again after breaking up, but he still attended her mating ceremony if she got mated.

Taya was standing still, feeling a bit unsure of what to do. Silas pushed his wheelchair and approached her.

He wo

ed slowly towards me, as if it had taken a century to cover the distance. It was so long that time seemed to stand still.

Taya looked at him in his white suit, struggling to push his wheelchair, and gradually, her eyes also turned sad.

“Silas...”

She called out his name again, but didn’t know what to say to him. The guilt that surged up inside her made her feel trapped and helpless.

Silas pushed the wheelchair and stopped in front of her. When he looked up, he saw the diamond-studded mating ceremony dress and his eyelashes trembled slightly.

“This mating ceremony dress is more expensive than the one I bought...”

Taya tightly grasped the silk fabric of her mating ceremony dress with her fingers.

“Silas...”

“It suits you well.”

Silas smiled and asked her, "Can I touch it?"

Taya nodded and saw the boy's thin fingers placed on the hem of the mating ceremony dress. As he touched the diamond on top, his fingertips suddenly trembled uncontrollably...

He only touched for a moment, then withdrew his hand. When he looked up at Taya again, a look of regret appeared in his eyes.

"Taya, why didn't I think of adding diamonds to my mating ceremony dress at the time?"

Unfortunately, their mating ceremony only once and cannot be repeated.

Otherwise, he would have given her a diamond-studded mating ceremony dress.

Taya's tears suddenly rolled down when she heard these words, "Silas, I'm sorry..."

When she was young, she promised to mate him, and after waiting for a long time for the mating ceremony, she disappointed him by breaking her promise on the day of the mating ceremony.

Silas shook his head. For him, that mating ceremony was a beautiful memory for the rest of his life, but it was just a bit of a shame.

But it was okay, he could witness her mating ceremony with someone else, which was a beautiful thing, even though the groom was not him.

Silas saw her crying and reached out his hand to help wipe away her tears.

He paused again before touching her cheek...

He no longer had the right to wipe away her tears...

Silas, who had self-awareness, slowly let go of his hand, raised the corners of his mouth, and smiled with relief.

"Today you will be the most beautiful bride, don't cry and ruin the makeup that you worked so hard on."

5/5

"Silas, I..."

"Be good, wipe away your tears."

Silas interrupted her and used a tone that he used to comfort her when they were kids, gently coaxing her...

Chapter 905

In the past, when Taya was bullied at school, she would curl up into a ball and cry uncontrollably.

At this moment, Silas would appear and squat in front of her, using a gentle tone to comfort her.

Taya remembered, she always remembered Silas's kindness towards her, and it was precisely because she remembered that she cried.

"Are you crying like this because I'm still in your heart?"

Silas extended his thin hand in front of Taya as if he were joking.

"If you still have me in your heart, would you like to come with me?"

Silas's smile had an element of humor in it.

But the expression in his eyes revealed seriousness.

He also considered letting go, peacefully wishing her happiness and moving on.

But during these days, he hasn't been able to let go of her even after taking sleeping pills.

He loved the girl for so many years, it was etched into his bones. He really couldn't be magnanimous.

Was Taya able to go with Griffon because he can't live without her and vice versa?

Taya, clutching her mating ceremony dress tightly, looked at Silas with tears streaming down her face.

"I'm sorry..."

She still had nothing else to say to him except for

"I'm sorry."

Silas suddenly felt like he had lost completely, his hand frozen in mid-air, feeling embarrassed.

Fortunately, he said it in a joking tone because he knew she wouldn't go with him.

He already knew the answer in his heart, but still wanted to take a gamble and test her.

Suddenly, he felt embarrassed and ashamed of himself.

"Taya, I wish you and Griffon a lifetime of happiness together."

Silas gazed at Taya's face with a pair of red, affectionate eyes. After this time, he would have no reason to see her again.

When he looked at her, there was suddenly a loud rumbling sound outside. Outside the floor-to-ceiling windows, one helicopter after another landed on the lawn.

Chapter 906

On top of those helicopters, there were colorful ribbons and balloons hanging, which looked very festive. It was obvious that they were the welcoming party for the bride and groom.

Silas gazed at the magnificent mating ceremony procession and slowly lowered his eyes...

"Taya, he's here to pick you up."

Like a young boy with a pure and innocent heart, he pushed his wheelchair back one step after saying those words.

"Goodbye, Mrs. Knight."

He pushed the wheelchair and as he turned around, tears uncontrollably rolled down his eyes.

He once thought she would be his Mrs. Johnson, but few years later, she became Mrs. Knight.

It's

"Silas."

how fate works.

Taya called out to him and started to walk toward him, but she saw him raise his hand.

"Taya, don't come over here. If you have something to say, just say it like this."

Taya had to stop walking and looked at his back, sending sincere blessings.

"Silas, I also wish you and Ms. Cooke a lifetime of happiness together."

The last time Silas texted her, he told her that he was about to get engaged to Ms. Cooke.

Taya thought that one day Silas would also find his own lover...

Now, the two of them have missed each other, and only accept that they have missed each other and cannot fight against fate.

"Thanks for Mrs. Knight's blessings."

The address "Mrs. Knight" has created a distance between the two individuals. From then on, even though they were physically close, it felt as if they were worlds apart.

Taya wiped away the tears from the corner of her eyes and didn't say anything. Instead, she turned around and looked out the floor-to-ceiling window with determination.

Chapter 907

On the lawn, numerous helicopters were parked, and the leading white helicopter was slowly opening its cabin door.

A white suit, tailored to fit him perfectly, made the man look cool and noble, like a nobleman stepping out of a painting.

The hair, which shone faintly like black jade, fell diagonally on both sides of the forehead, creating a distinct layered effect.

A face sculpted by God, exquisitely three-dimensional without any flaws. A tall and straight nose bridge, a strong jaw, and tightly pursed lips.

All of his facial features combined to create a perfect appearance, and his eyes, with their resolute and captivating gaze, were impossible to resist.

emanating from his entire body was one of aloofness and arrogance and of dominance and tyranny.

A man, who looked like an eagle in the dark, walked towards the villa with a big bunch of lychee roses in his hand. He had long legs and a smile on his face.

Behind him were his pack members.

Everyone was dressed in formal attire, holding bouquets of lychee-colored roses, and gracefully descending from a helicopter.

He came to welcome his bride with the sincerest of intentions. As his bride, how could she disappoint him on their mating ceremony day?

Taya looked away, turned around, and glanced behind her. The young man she had once loved had long gone.

He always knew when to come and when to leave. He never made her worry or uncomfortable.

Chapter 908

Taya smiled, her lips curling upwards, as she looked in the direction where no one was around.

"Thank you, Mr. Johnson..."

When he was young, he said to her, "If one day you mate someone else and I come to your mating ceremony, I hope you will call me Mr. Johnson."

At that time, Taya was leaning on her desk and innocently asked him, "Why?"

Silas, wearing his school uniform, tapped her nose with a pen and said, "Because if I can't mate you, at least let me be your Mr. Johnson for once."

Taya smiled and wiped away the tears on her face. She picked up the foundation on the table and covered the marks left by her emotions and guilt.

She gently covered it, as if covering their past, with trace.

on and hoping it would not leave any

Harper, who had already changed into her bridesmaid dress, stood at the door holding a stack of documents and stared blankly at Taya.

She just saw Silas and it reminded her of the time he left the hospital and gave her a document to deliver to Taya on her mating ceremony day...

Harper hesitated for a few seconds while caressing the documents, then walked over and handed them to Taya.

“Taya, this is the mating ceremony gift that Silas has given to you.”

Taya glanced down at the thick file folder and asked Harper.

“What is it?”

Harper gestured to indicate that she would open it herself, so Taya didn't ask any further questions. Harper then proceeded to open it and took out a stack of documents from inside.

“This gift was given to me a long time ago when Silas chose to let go and support you and Griffon. It's been in my possession since then.”

Taya held the documents and flipped through them, page by page...

Chapter 909

Jackson Sterling' Personal Working Capital Transfer Agreement – Taya Palmer.

Real estate transfer agreement for all properties under the name of Jackson Sterling – Taya Palmer.

The Sterling pack 70% equity transfer agreement Taya Palmer.

Jackson also saved the best things for him.

The man named Jackson was previously known as Silas.

Taya walked over to the other side of the windowsill and saw Silas sitting in his wheelchair, gazing in the direction of her bedroom.

The expression in the young boy's eyes was one of reluctance and helplessness.

Unto the documents, thought for a moment, lifted her skirt, put on the crystal shoes that Griffon had given her, and ran downstairs.

When Griffon crossed the lawn and reached the front door of the villa, he immediately spotted Silas. His steps came to a sudden halt.

Silas saw him too, but didn't say anything or nod in acknowledgment. He just glanced at him and then looked away.

Preston, who came to attend the mating ceremony, looked at Griffon with a complicated expression, and then glanced at Silas in the wheelchair.

Silas chose to come exactly during the mating ceremony, why did he do that? Is he trying to openly elope with someone?

He looked at Andre, who was guarding outside the villa, and questioned him with his eyes, “Didn't I ask you to do a good job of guarding? What's going

Andre looked in the direction where Harper was and raised his chin, saying, “It was her who brought Silas in, it has nothing to do with me.”

Preston followed Andre's gaze and glanced at Harper, who was walking down the stairs with Taya. He hesitated for a moment...

Harper also saw him, but just glanced at him and then casually looked away as if nothing had happened.

When he saw that she didn't value herself, Preston felt a pang of jealousy. He squeezed the fingers holding the bouquet tightly and suddenly exerted force.

Did Harper delete him and is still ignoring him? Does this mean she has completely moved on from him emotionally?

After coming down the stairs, Taya saw Griffon and paused briefly before walking past him and heading straight toward Silas.

As she brushed past him, Griffon reached out his hand, but abruptly stopped when he realized she was heading to see Silas.

He turned around and looked at the woman walking towards Silas with a determined stride, holding the train of her mating ceremony dress.

His already battered and bloodied heart suddenly hurt so much that he couldn't breathe.

Taya, so in the end, no matter what, you will still choose him without hesitation when he appears, right?

What am I then?

Griffon's hand holding the lychee rose drooped down weakly.

Originally, no matter how hard he tried, he couldn't beat Silas.

Even if he was willing to sacrifice his life for her, he could never compare to the young man in her heart.

Chapter 910

The people who came to attend the mating ceremony saw Griffon suddenly turn as pale as a ghost, as if his soul had been sucked out of him.

They looked at the woman who walked up to Silas with some resentment. Griffon loved her so much, why did she treat him like this?

If she can't let go of her first love, then she shouldn't accept Griffon's proposal! Why would she wait until the mating ceremony day to humiliate Griffon like this?

Taya had no idea what was going through the person's mind behind her. She walked up to Silas and handed him the document exactly as it was.

"Silas, I know you want to give me the best things. But the best things, you already gave me in the past."

"I cannot and will not accept these assets. I already owe you more than I can repay. Please don't let me owe you even more, okay?"

After Taya finished speaking, she turned around and looked at Griffon's back. For the first time, she gathered the courage to admit her love for him in front of Silas.

"Silas, I know what I'm about to say is cruel, but I'm truly sorry. I love Griffon, and I'm willing to give my life for him."

Giving up one's life...

Silas kept murmuring these words to himself in his mind.

She helped him block the sulfuric acid at their mating ceremony because she loved him so much that she was willing to sacrifice her life for him.

He used to be unable to distinguish whether Taya loved him more or loved Griffon more, but now he has figured it out.

Silas reached out to take the file bag, lifted his reddened eyes, looked at Taya, and smiled lightly.

"When I saw you walking towards me after crossing Griffon, I thought maybe you had changed your mind and wanted to come with me."

"But deep down in my heart, there's always a voice telling me that it's impossible, the person my Taya loves is no longer me."

As Silas spoke, his smile grew deeper, as if he were telling someone else's story.

“Mrs. Knight, I have long known that you love him very much. You don’t have to feel guilty for accepting the mating ceremony gift I gave you, as it was meant for Alpha Knight.”

Griffon even helped him regain control of the Sterling pack. Without him, this disabled man in a wheelchair would not have been able to reclaim these assets.

4/4

After Silas finished speaking, he handed the file folder to Camille who was standing next to him.

“Take this and give it to Alpha Knight to congratulate him on his happy mating ceremony.”

Chapter 911

After Camille took the documents, Silas lifted his gaze and looked at the man who had already turned around slowly. He smiled and said,

“Alpha Knight, please don’t misunderstand, this gift was prepared by me earlier.”

“Looking back now, I feel like I may have been a bit inappropriate just now. Since it’s a gift, I should have given it directly to you.”

“Also, you must have heard your she-wolf’s confession to you, right? So please rest assured.”

“When she falls in love with someone, as long as that person doesn’t betray or abandon her, she will inevitably not leave.”

Silas looked at Taya and added, “Mrs. Knight, I won’t attend your mating ceremony. You should go. Find him and stop bothering me.”

Taya looked at Silas and felt that he had never changed, still as stubborn as he was in his youth.

Once he made a decision, no one could shake it.

She knew that Griffon wouldn’t accept his gift, so she didn’t try to persuade Silas any further.

She simply said, “Silas, I’ll be going now. You...”

Taya couldn’t invite him to her mating ceremony, and Silas had already made it clear that he wouldn’t attend.

She finally fell silent, turned around, lifted her skirt and walked towards Griffon.

She walked up to the man and took hold of his arm. She noticed that his body was a bit stiff, so she looked up at him and asked, “What’s wrong?”

Griffon gave her an angry look, didn’t say anything, but tightly grabbed her hand and turned to face Camille beside him.

“Take it back, I don’t need any gifts.”

Camille shook her head and said, “Alpha Knight, Mr. Sterling sincerely congratulates you.

Please accept it, otherwise he won’t be willing to leave.”

Chapter 912

Harper saw that they were deadlocked over the gift, so she took a step forward, took the document bag, looked at them, and said,

“We appreciate this gift, but we do not want you to have any unnecessary disputes now because of it. It’s Taya’s big day. Come on, let’s enjoy!”

Her words relieved the tension among the group, and they all agreed. Harper smiled and handed the document bag to the company’s financial manager.

“I’ll help collect it first. As for whether to accept it or not, let’s discuss it after the mating ceremony so as not to delay the auspicious time.”

Harper’s reminder, combined with Taya’s firm decision, eased the previously darkened expression on the faces of the Knight pack.

Griffon glanced at Silas again and noticed that the man in the wheelchair was staring at Taya without any attempt to hide it.

He felt a bit uncomfortable and sympathetic at the same time. In short, these complex emotions made him very restless.

He simply grabbed Taya's hand and walked towards the backyard. Out of sight, out of mind...

Taya followed him and asked in a small voice, "Are you jealous again?"

Griffon snorted and his tone was full of arrogance, "Why would I be jealous?"

He wouldn't tell her that when she ignored him and walked towards Silas just now, he felt like dying inside.

Taya glanced at the hand that was tightly holding hers, a happy smile spreading across her lips.

He was clearly afraid that she would run away, but he still stubbornly denied it. He was like a proud and contradictory peacock.

Chapter 914

He and Ms. Cooke signed an agreement and do not love each other. Everything was just a matter of mutual benefit.

Ms. Cooke pretended to be engaged to Silas in order to avoid pressure from her pack to get mated. He was afraid that Taya would feel guilty and not be able to confidently choose Griffon. Now she has overcome the emotional barrier and told him directly and honestly that her life cannot be without Griffon.

So, this agreement was now meaningless. Everything has come to a complete and final end...

"Mr. Sterling, actually Ms. Cooke is not bad either, why don't you..."

Camille was interrupted by Silas before she finished speaking.

mating ceremony with Nora is approaching soon... Do you need any gifts? Let me know."

Camille looked at the pale-faced man and gently shook her head. "I don't need a gift, I just hope you can overcome the darkness in your heart."

Looking back over the past thirty years and into the future, there were still thirty more years of long and endless time waiting for him.

Why should the president of the Sterling pack stay stuck in one place, clinging to the past and imprisoning himself with his own limitations, all for a woman who no longer loves him?

Silas looked up again and gazed at the sky. The helicopters were still flying rapidly toward the blue sky and white clouds one after another...

"If you live your whole life for just one person, you'll find that you can never break free."

"And, you see..."

Camille followed his gaze and looked up at the sky. "What are you looking at?"

Silas smiled and said, "See, the weather wasn't as good on the day we got mated."

This was enough to prove that he was not a good match for Taya, only the man named Griffon was, because even the God was blessing them.

Chapter 913

She looked up at Griffon's handsome profile and asked, "Mr. Peacock, where should we hold our mating ceremony?"

Griffon lowered his long, curly eyelashes and frowned as he asked her, "What peacock?" Taya lowered her hand that was holding up the front of her dress and patted his arm, "I just gave you a nickname. How does it sound? Do you like it?"

On their mating ceremony day, Griffon, who had been angered by her twice, pinched her cheek and said, "You just wait, tonight I will make you beg for mercy and cry..."

Taya fearlessly lifted her chin and said, "If you don't like it, you can call me Zelus instead."

Taya shook his arm and asked, "Tell me quickly, where are we going to have the mating ceremony?"

The man seemed to be coaxed by her, and his previous fear dissipated a bit. "Ireland," he said. Ireland, a place where unmate is prohibited.

He chose this place to tell her –

In his mating, there was no unmate, only widowhood.

Wearing a pristine white mating ceremony dress and suit, the couple looked like a perfect match as they walked towards the lawn, chatting and laughing along the way.

Following behind are the people from the prestigious Knight pack, the bride's friends, and her niece.

Other than that, there was a makeup team of around forty people, as well as over a hundred essional bodyguards accompanying them...

They all boarded the helicopters one after another, while the man sitting in a wheelchair watched as the helicopters flew across the sky.

After a long while, he lowered his gaze and stared at his own legs for a while before saying in a calm tone,

"Camille, after returning to Imperial, go to the Cooke pack and call off the engagement."

Chapter 915

When Edith arrived late at the villa's entrance, she saw Jackson, who had once been rumored to be engaged to her.

Edith walked over and greeted him politely, "Mr. Sterling."

Silas's admiring gaze slowly fell from the sky.

The person in front of him was wearing a strapless silk haute couture dress in an elegant and noble off-white color.

Silas only glanced at her once, then withdrew his gaze, politely nodded his head, and didn't say much.

Edith also nodded at him and turned to walk towards the lawn where the last helicopter was parked.

T

On February 14th, Valentine's Day, over a hundred helicopters flew over Arcadia, circled around, and landed at the airport.

Half an hour later, fifty white planes rushed toward Ireland.

National News Report:

"On February 14th, the private jet of Griffon Knight, the CEO of the Knight pack, arrived in Ireland for a mating ceremony of the century. It is reported that the mating ceremony cost one billion dollars and was held in a luxurious and breathtaking venue."

The accompanying journalists were only able to take photos of the venue before the arrival of the newlyweds. Prior to their entrance, all journalists were asked to leave the venue.

The journalists were unaware of the identity of the bride, whom the CEO of the Knight pack had pursued for few years and spent a fortune to mate.

They disguised themselves and waited behind tree branches to catch a glimpse.

Soon, hundreds of luxury cars adorned with ribbons and balloons were parked at the castle entrance.

3/4

The lead mating ceremony car decorated with lychee roses had its door slowly pushed open from the inside.

A man in a white suit, with a cold and noble demeanor, stepped out of the car. His well-defined fingers reached toward the people inside the car.

The reporters clenched their teeth in excitement, held their breath, zoomed in on their cameras, and aimed at the CEO of the Knight pack –

Soon, a small, slender, and translucent white hand was placed into the broad hand.

The man's hand tightly held onto the small hand and carefully led the person inside out.

Chapter 916

The sparkling diamond was as clear as crystal, shining brilliantly like a star in the camera lens.

A mating ceremony dress made of lace roses and precious diamonds, intricately sewn together in layers.

The elegant mating ceremony dress accentuated the already perfect curves of the body, making it more graceful and charming, with a variety of postures and alluring beauty.

A pure and immaculate veil draped behind her, adding a touch of mystery to the bride's silhouette.

The bride was so beautiful that she didn't look back. In the camera lens, there were only the backs of the two people.

The bride held up her mating ceremony dress train. while the groom looked at her sideways, with a majestic castle in the background.

If this photo was edited to have a dark color scheme, it would resemble a mating ceremony from an ancient century.

The journalists wanted to take a few more photos, but then a group of bodyguards dressed in black appeared before them.

The bodyguard motioned with his finger towards the journalist without any expression on his face, causing the journalist to immediately hand over the camera in fear.

The imposing bodyguard opened the camera and checked it, but found that there was no frontal photo of Mrs. Knight. He then threw the camera back.

Alpha Knight had a special identity, and it was better not to let outsiders know what his family looked like or who they were. However, a picture of back was not important.

This one photo of a back view has caused a huge sensation. Countless people were guessing who the owner of this back view might be.

To be precise, they were very curious about who could capture the heart of the Alpha of the Knight pack and also make top financial magnates, who arrived with hundreds of helicopters, private planes, and luxury cars, wonder who this person could be.

As the person involved, Taya had no idea how much the situation had escalated. She simply held up her mating ceremony dress and followed closely behind her man as they walked towards the castle.

Chapter 917

The Gothic castle, surrounded by roses, looks like a house from a fairy tale, with pointed roofs reaching for the sky.

The surrounding lawn was shaded by green trees, stretching as far as the eye can see, so large that one needed to ride in a carriage to walk around it.

Inside the castle, sunlight poured in through the windows, shining on the luxurious altar like a palace.

The royal florists have covered the entire castle with thousands of lychee roses...

The crystal-clear roof, walls emitting red auroras, and elegant champagne-colored carpet turned the mating ceremony venue into a work of art.

The most famous international pastor and the royal orchestra, who have been waiting inside, à sense of holiness to this work of art.

Seeing the dreamlike scene before her, Taya's eyes became slightly moist...

In her ear, Rebecca whispered to her on the private plane:

"Griffon spent 41 days designing this mating ceremony venue, symbolizing that his love in this life is only for one person, and that is you."

Taya looked at the man beside her with red eyes and thought:

Fortunately, I came back alive and witnessed the process of this man loves me.

Griffon seemed to understand her gaze and let go of her hand, allowing her to hold his arm.

"Mrs. Knight, please follow me and walk down this carpet. You are about to pledge to be with me for a Are you ready?"

Taya looked at him affectionately and nodded gently.

"I'm ready, Alpha."

After Griffon smiled at her, he turned around and raised his finger, beckoning to the flower girl and boy.

However, the two kids didn't seem to get along well and were throwing flower petals at each other's faces.

Chapter 918

"Hmph, Phil, I hate you!"

"I hate you too. I never want to see you again!"

Grace was so angry that she put down the basket and was about to fight Phil, but Stella quickly stopped her.

"Grace, your task today is to be a flower girl and boy, not to fight."

"But Phil tore off my flower crown and bullied me. I hate him..."

To let the two kids get to know each other early, Stella let them sit on a private plane together.

At first, Phil and Grace were quite shy and polite when they met. But the six-year-old boy was a bit mischievous and اي kept pulling on Grace's flower crown.

Grace was afraid of damaging the flower crown and kept struggling. The flower crown that the stylist had woven for her was immediately torn apart.

Grace became angry and argued with Phil all the way. Even if the stylist made her a new flower crown, she was still unhappy.

Rebecca, who came in later, saw her son and Grace quarreling and quickly put down her bag and squatted in front of Grace.

"Grace, how about this? You finish today's task with Phil first, and then I let you pull ten of Phil's hair?"

Grace's eyes lit up when she heard this and, seeing Phil's pitiful face, she generously waved her hand.

"Auntie Rebecca, forget it. I'm older than Phil, and I'm his sister. I can be nice to him."

Rebecca was very satisfied with Grace's generosity and rubbed her little head with her hand. you

"If you are willing to let him go, it shows that are kind-hearted. But if he does something wrong, he must accept punishment. This is the rule of the Knight pack."

Chapter 919

Harper saw how strict Rebecca was with the pups' education and believed that Taya mating into such a pack would not be a mistake.

As the other party's relatives were so generous and friendly, as Taya's sister, she also needed to teach Grace well.

Harper approached and pinched Grace's cheeks.

"Grace, you also just scolded Phil. After he receives his punishment, you should apologize to him as well."

Phil took off Grace's flower crown, but it was actually Grace who started the argument by scolding him, which led to the conflict between the two pups.

Grace was quite obedient to Harper, she lowered her head and nodded obediently, saying "Auntie Harper, I will apologize."

The conflict between the two individuals has been resolved just like that. Rebecca stood up and gave a nod of approval while also looking thoughtfully at Harper.

After reading, Rebecca's gaze passed over Harper and landed on the woman standing next to Preston...

Rebecca preferred Harper over Preston's first love, but unfortunately, Preston was fickle and had a wandering eye.

Despite knowing that his parents disapprove of him being with his first love, he still brought her to the mating ceremony.

Preston kept his eyes fixed on Harper the whole time, while Harper never turned her head and pushed Grace and Phil to go inside.

Grace and Phil approached Taya and Griffon carrying a small flower basket. They bowed and apologized, "Sorry for being late."

Taya and Griffon exchanged a glance, with slight smiles on their faces. "It's not late yet, the bell hasn't rung, and the mating ceremony hasn't started."

As soon as the words were spoken, the staff inside the castle, standing high up, gently struck the big bell three times, symbolizing the official start of the mating ceremony.

Taya held onto Griffon's arm with one hand and carried a bouquet of flowers in the other as they walked towards the altar to the sound of soothing music.

The train of the mating ceremony dress dragged behind, with pink roses rolled up on the carpet, adding a bright color to the flawless white mating ceremony dress.

Behind the couple were the bridesmaids Harper and Stella, the groomsman Preston, and Leonard, the fifth son of the Knight pack who came all the way from Africa.

Chapter 920

The priest on the altar, holding a Bible, finished his mating ceremony speech and then asked the two newlyweds:

"Griffon Knight, do you take Taya Palmer for your lawful she-wolf, to have and to hold, from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, until death do you part?"

Griffon kept his eyes fixed on Taya the whole time, and when he heard those words, a determined expression appeared in his eyes.

"Yes, I do."

A voice full of magnetism, tinged with indulgence, echoed throughout the entire castle.

The pastor smiled and looked at Taya:

"Taya Palmer, do you take Griffon Knight for your lawful mated wolf, to have and to hold, from this day forward, for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, in sickness and in health, until death do you part?"

The woman who was gazing affectionately at Griffon also nodded firmly.

"I do."

"Since it is your intention to enter the covenant of Holy Matrimony, join your right hands, and sign the agreement before God."

Taya paused for a moment, shouldn't they be exchanging rings next? What does signing the agreement mean?

Griffon led her while helping her lift the heavy skirt, and they walked towards the stage.

On the square platform, there were two documents placed in frames. The thick paper material bore the inscriptions:

Today is February 14th, Valentine's Day.

Groom: Griffon Knight

Bride: Taya Palmer

Get mated.

The agreement is valid for 100 years.

Only death can separate us.

Without any hesitation, Griffon signed his name.

When the pen was handed to Taya, he gazed at her with deep affection and gave a slight wink, as if asking her if she dared to sign.

Taya smiled at him and took the pen from his hand.

She carefully wrote her name stroke by stroke, with great concentration.

Their acquaintance began with a lover's agreement, and their love is symbolized by a hundred-year life-and-death agreement.

In a country like Ireland where unmate is prohibited, signing this agreement and making a promise means that you must abide by it forever.
