CRAZY PLEASURE

Chapter 1111 In Her Eyes:>10

My bachelor party consisted of Maggie and me taking in a Celtic's game at the Garden and a short night at the pub relishing the victory. Maggie wouldn't tell me much about her day with Susan. She said she had explained our financial situation, and the pre-nuptial agreement, which was a surprise to me. I guess I had told her to take care of everythi

"Dave, please forgive her and let her come home."

I'll admit I wasn't surprised to be getting the full court press from all of Susan's family and friends.

"You're a good sister, Shannon. Susan would be so thankful if she knew you were here defending her."

"What will it take, Dave? She'll do anything you ask. I know she will."

"I am sure she would,

Not surprisingly, they had a very similar change in their eyes. They were sisters after all. But Shannon wasn't Susan, so I wasn't 100% certain.

"Wh...what are you asking?"

"What I am asking is if I told you I would take you upstairs to the bedroom as long as you did anything and everything I wanted. Would you let me fuck you?"

OK, now I was certai

When Susan brought his name up to me almost a decade later, saying he was one of my employees and a new volunteer for one the charities she was involved with, I didn't recognize his name. Miss Davis had to look him up for me in the company directory. I stopped by his office later that week to say thanks for volunteering his time to the charity and

Susan didn't exactly dress conservatively, but she wasn't out to show off her goodies either. I would describe her attire as classy. Form fitting, but never tight. Maybe a hint of cleavage for a night on the town. Just enough to leave no doubt that she was all woman.

The Susan that I escorted the pool was ready to give me my own private show, so wh

Overall, a thorough exploration of all our fantasies led us to a mildly surprising conclusion: I was somewhat dominate, and Susan was a little submissive. Nothing over the top. Every once in a while Susan would let her submissive side come out and play. To an outsider it would have seemed that I was the overbearing master and Susan was submitting t

"Guys I know this is hard for you to understand. But sometimes Mom's and Dad's find out they can't live together anymore. But it doesn't mean your mother loves you any less. It doesn't mean I love you any less. And it doesn't mean that we won't always be a family. It just means we are going to have to work very hard to work out a different set of l

"The day of the parent-teacher conference. I wrecked my car. It was a gift from you and I was embarrassed. I didn't want to tell you that I wrecked the car. I wanted us to take your car so that I could have more time. I had been practicing my excuses for 30 minutes, but before even I started to explain you were giggling. You knew, and didn't care,

"She is not really a lesbian. You know that, right?"

"What are you talking about now, Susan?"

"I am talking about Maggie, David"

"OK, Susan. I agreed to keep meeting with you because Dr. Skinner said it would be helpful but if you insist on pricking me with needles during every conversation I am going to have to stop coming to see you."

"I know I d

"No, not today David. You are not ready."

So once again I was in Dr. Skinner's office talking about reconciliation and forgiveness.

"Jesus Christ, Susan! Give me something to work with! Why did you do it? WHY? For the love of God, give me a reason."

I was on the verge of breaking down. It was almost too much.

"It was too perfect, David. I couldn't
