Chapter 2611 The Bed Of Roses:>>10

A ghost from Rose's past throws a wrench in the works.

Counting Flowers on the Wall

Rose McGuire was still somewhat amazed by the simple things that captivated her those days. She had been staring at a series of green vines and assorted flowers that had been painted on the wall of her

The next day, Charlotte came by and told Rose that her father would look into finding Rose an attorney, but it might take a while. Things started to return to normal. Rose went to work, Charlotte went to school, and then they came home to each other. It was a few days before Rose was in the right frame of mind for intimacy, but Charlotte's saturati

"But I don't want half! This is my house! She abandoned it. She left . . ." Rose's nerve was cracking. Charlotte went to wrap her arm around her lover, but Rose wouldn't have any of it. For the first time since she had seen the beautiful young woman, Rose didn't want to be touched by her. She didn't want to be touched at all. And Charlotte looked a

Just as Mrs. Webb had predicted, Rose received a call from her mother's attorney early the next morning, insisting on meeting immediately. Charlotte got her mother on her cell phone and helped negotiate on behalf of Rose. Then the strange three-way call was over.

"So, did your folks figure anything out?"

"My mom was being strangely coy, so I think

I would have like to have left you more, but this property is all I really have. I would have left it directly to you, but I'm sure my son would have found of way of ruining everything by the time you were old enough to collect on it. So I've put a provision in my will that leaves it to my nearest blood relative, and I've instructed my attorney not

Chapter 2616 The Smart Naughty Sheriff:>>1

A small town sheriff rescues a minister's daughter.

Beverly was terrified. It was her first day at her new job and she already felt overwhelmed. It had started when she had first arrived. She felt lucky enough when she first landed this job at Sav-O-Mart, which was a type of discount store for towns not big enough to have WalMarts.

Beverly forced herself to pay attention to stuff the college had sent her. She opened the first one, which was from UCLA. They accepted her! And there was information regarding scholarship opportunities! The next envelope told much the same story, as did the one after that. All in all, there were eight envelopes and eight letters of acceptance. She

"It's not much. If you'd rather stay in the house . . ."

"No!" Beverly saw a look of alarm briefly appearing on Tammy's face. Beverly realized the conclusions that the woman might be arriving at as a result of her response, and she moved to cut off that line of thought. "I really just need to be alone right now. I REALLY appreciate this." With that

The next day, Beverly spent some of her free time wandering through their limited selection of women's clothing. They didn't carry anything as daring as what Tammy had, but certainly more risqué than what she was used to. She picked out a number of pairs of panties, all silk and satin. She didn't like the feel of

Her friend and mentor leaned back and threw one leg over one of Beverly's, then maneuvered back toward Beverly. Finally, their legs were crossed and their panty-clad pussies were touching. Tammy started rubbing against the younger girl again, and this time Beverly rubbed back. Beverly saw Tammy's hands reach down and rubbing her own mound through t
