

Unfortunately, Leng ruoxue would never allow them to leave. Since they had already called the police, they could not possibly let the hard work of the law enforcement officers go to waste, right? This was not the Code of Conduct for a good citizen!

After Leng ruoxue had done something, all the infatuated girls who had wanted to watch were taken away.

Without any obstacles, Leng ruoxue brought the children back to the car and continued driving.

After parking the car in the kindergarten's parking lot, Leng ruoxue swaggered into the kindergarten with the three of them.

After sending the three of them into the class, Leng ruoxue was prepared to leave with a peace of mind. At this moment, a middle-aged woman in her fifties suddenly blocked her path.

"Is there something?" Leng ruoxue raised her eyebrows and asked calmly.

"Are you the mothers of Ruisheng and the others? I'm the director of this kindergarten. " The middle-aged woman introduced herself very politely.

"Oh! It was the director! How are you doing?" Leng ruoxue was also very polite.

"Madam ye, may I have a word with you?" Seeing that Leng ruoxue was done being polite and didn't say anything else, the director could only take the initiative to speak.

"Sure." Leng ruoxue didn't reject him. She followed the director to her office.

When they arrived at the director's office, the director did not know how to speak to Leng ruoxue. However, Leng ruoxue was also rather calm. As the saying goes, if the enemy doesn't move, I won't move! Before she knew what the director wanted to talk about, she would not take the initiative to ask. She was not in a hurry anyway.

After a long time. The director couldn't take it anymore and finally said, "Madam ye, I heard that there was a traffic jam in front of the kindergarten. Were you the one who called the police?"

"Yup! Besides, there's still some distance to the front of the kindergarten. " Leng ruoxue explained.

"Um ... Can you cancel the police report?" The director was a little conflicted.

"You can cancel the police report?" Leng ruoxue's eyes widened in disbelief as she could not help asking.

"Uh!" The director didn't know what to say. Logically speaking, calling the police shouldn't be treated as a child's play, but the area that was blocked wasn't a first-class road. It was in front of the kindergarten. Moreover, someone had reported it. Therefore, as long as the person who reported it didn't pursue it, those people could just treat it as a formality and be released with a fine. Therefore, the key to this matter was completely on this Madam ye.

In addition, among the people who were taken away, there were many parents and some kindergarten teachers ... Even if it wasn't for the parents, just the teachers who were taken away were enough to give her a headache.

After some thought, the director said, "Madam ye, to be honest, there were many kindergarten teachers among the people who were arrested. If this matter were to be exposed, it would have a huge impact on our kindergarten's reputation. So, even if you don't think about those love-struck fools, it's best that you don't pursue this matter for the sake of your own children. Otherwise, it would have a bad impact on your three children."

"Oh, really? Would it not be good for my children? Director, are you threatening me?" Leng ruoxue asked with a smile.

"Absolutely not! Just think about it! It's not a glorious thing for a kindergarten teacher to break the law. If our kindergarten's reputation is affected because of this, how can the children studying in our kindergarten not be affected?" The director sighed.

"You're right. I didn't want to call the police either. I was forced to do so. Those women! In order to see my man, she blocked the road. If I didn't do this, I would definitely be late for school. I had no choice but to take legal action to solve the problem. " Leng ruoxue said with a hint of grievance. In other words, she was also reminding the headmaster that it was time to discipline those teachers.

When the director heard this, he immediately nodded."I understand. Don't worry. I will discipline them well in the future."

When she said this, the director felt a little guilty. When she first saw Mr. Ye, she couldn't help but take a few more glances at him, not to mention those young female teachers. It would be strange if they didn't go crazy when they saw a man who was more handsome than an idol! Therefore, she could understand the crazy behavior of those infatuated girls. However, at this time, in front of Leng ruoxue's wife, she could only go along with Leng ruoxue's words.

"Also, they can't look at my husband for free for three days. They have to pay 300000 Yuan for the visit fee. I've already told them about this. If I don't see the visit fee within a week, I'll still take them to court. Director, please pass on this message." Leng ruoxue nodded her head in satisfaction and continued.

"..." The director was dumbfounded by her words. Did she hear wrongly?

At this moment, the director could not help but admire Leng ruoxue. Ruthless! He was really ruthless! Having been in the education industry for so many years, she thought that she had seen all kinds of parents, but she had never seen someone like this. This person was not afraid of offending the kindergarten and all the parents of the students!

In reality, Leng ruoxue wasn't afraid at all. She was also very clear that the director would definitely pass on the message for her.

After reaching an agreement with the director, Leng ruoxue made another phone call to withdraw the report and left in a carefree manner. As for what those love-struck fools would do after they were released, it was not within the scope of her concern.

When she returned home, she reported this matter to the demon, grandfather, and the others. Everyone was rather impressed by Leng ruoxue's use of legal weapons. Leng ruoxue then proudly told them, ""They all want to be law-abiding citizens!"

A week later.

A portion of the teachers and parents obediently handed over the visiting fees for the evildoer. They really could not afford to lose face like that! Those who didn't send it over didn't think that Leng ruoxue would Sue them in court. Or rather, they didn't think that the court would accept such a matter!

However, the court accepted the case. Those love-struck fools who thought they were lucky also received a court summon very quickly.

This time, everyone was dumbfounded. If this really happened, their face would be thrown to Mars.

In the end, they had no choice but to beg Leng ruoxue for a truce and obediently paid double the visitation fee.

Seeing the lovestruck faces of those who had paid the visiting fee, Leng ruoxue wasn't angry. She only told them, ""If you knew this would happen, you wouldn't have done it!"

Many of the love-struck fools who thought that they had been extorted hated Leng ruoxue in their hearts. They wanted to find an opportunity to find trouble with her. No matter what, they had to make a fool of her!

With this thought in mind, some of the teachers and parents of the kindergarten were united. Leng ruoxue had become their biggest Public Enemy, but she didn't seem to mind. This made them feel like they had punched cotton.

In fact, they had even thought of targeting Leng ruoxue's children. According to their thoughts, if they couldn't find the fault of the child's mother, then they would find the fault of the children!

Such a heavy responsibility naturally fell on the teachers who harbored a grudge against Leng ruoxue.

Unfortunately, the three of them were as cunning as foxes. Some teachers had racked their brains to think of all kinds of ways to bully the three, but they couldn't. Instead, they were bullied by the three of them very miserably. They dared to be angry but didn't dare to say anything. They could only suffer in silence. The three of them found joy in kindergarten through bullying and being bullied.

In the blink of an eye, three months had passed. One day, the three of them, who had already gone to and from school alone, came home and told their parents that there was an activity at the kindergarten.

When Leng ruoxue heard this, she immediately asked for clarification. Only then did she know that it was a parent-child activity held by the kindergarten once every semester. It was rather Grand, and both parents had to attend.

Leng ruoxue didn't have any objections to this. During this period of time, she was very clear about some people's little tricks, but unfortunately, no matter how they jumped around, she didn't take it to heart and treated it as a training for her sons. To her, as long as the other party didn't cross her bottom line, she wouldn't lay a hand on ordinary people.

The demon was also too lazy to care about those clowns, but he was also unwilling to participate in his son's kindergarten activities.

"Honey, can I not go?" The demon said gloomily.

"Of course not. This is a parent-child activity organized by the kindergarten. If we don't go, or if I'm the only one who goes, the children and parents at the kindergarten may think badly of our children! Do you want them to treat our precious son as an illegitimate child or a child with an unknown father? Hubby, we're going to support our son! In addition, this can also be considered as following the local customs!" Leng ruoxue explained seriously.

When the evildoer heard that his son might be treated as an illegitimate child or his father was unknown, he immediately refused! Did he find it easy to get a wife? What right did he have to be ominous?

"Honey, let's all go!" The demon agreed.

The parent-child activity was set to be on the weekend and would last for two days.

On Saturday morning, Leng ruoxue and the demon brought the three of them out.

This time, they arrived at the kindergarten's parking lot without a hitch. When they entered the kindergarten, there was no longer the spectacular scene of love-struck fools gathering at the entrance. The evildoer was very satisfied with this. However, only Leng ruoxue was clear about how much influence an idol had on ordinary people! This calmness was just an illusion.

As expected, Leng ruoxue used her divine perception to scan the area and discovered a few women hiding in the dark, peeking at them. However, the other party did not take any further action, so Leng ruoxue pretended not to know.

After entering the classroom, Leng ruoxue and the demon found a corner and sat down.

However, their appearances were too eye-catching. Even if they wanted to keep a low profile, it was hard not to be peeked at.

Of course, they could still tolerate peeking from time to time.

Not long after, the class teacher of the three students also arrived at the classroom. That form teacher was about 25 or 26 years old and was once a fan of the evildoer. However, after being taught a lesson by Leng ruoxue, she had become much more restrained. Hence, this time, she only took a quick and furtive glance at the evildoer's position before immediately looking away reluctantly.

After explaining the process of the parent-child activity to the parents, the form teacher brought the children and their parents to the field.

At this moment, the field was ready.

On the first day of the parent-child activity, there was a parent-child sports event for each class.

The theme of the sports meet was parent-child, and parents were required to complete it with their children. Many parents were excited about such an event and were eager to give it a try. Only the evildoer felt that such an event was too boring.

SUPREME CRAZY WIFE

Chapter 3102 The Competition (1)

This was especially so for the competition of the upper years, which had already started. The silly fathers who participated in the competition flew all over the field and completed every sport according to the requirements. They were all exhausted and gasping for breath like dead dogs. Their foreheads were covered in sweat, and their image had really taken a dive.

For some fathers who didn't like sports, falling behind in scores wasn't the most embarrassing thing. The most embarrassing thing was that some of them couldn't finish all the events and were already exhausted to the ground. They were then carried away from the field by the medical staff.

As long as he thought of that scene, the demon's forehead would have a few more black lines. This was really tormenting people! Was this really a parent-child activity and not an activity to torture the parents?

No matter how the demon thought about it, he felt that the kindergarten was deliberately pranking the parents! Was there really a need for this? He felt that with such time, he might as well urge his sons to cultivate more!

From this, it could be seen that the master of the nine nether nether nether prison really didn't care about this childish activity. If you have the ability, then get serious! What's the point of playing this child's play?

It had to be said that there was a certain distance between the thoughts of gods and humans. In fact, the kindergarten held such activities every semester mainly to let parents and children interact more to cultivate parent-child relationships.

After all, in today's society, many parents neglected their children because of work, and the lack of care from parents might be a negative factor for children who were physically and mentally fragile. It was with this idea that kindergartens hoped that parents could spend more time with their children and even play games with them.

The reason why this parent-child sports event was so childish in the eyes of the evildoers was that most of the sports activities were games. Some games also tested one's physical strength. Therefore, some parents with weaker physiques and less exercise would have a situation of physical exhaustion. The kindergarten had also anticipated this situation, but they still arranged these games in the hope that parents could understand the importance of health and increase their exercise.

It could be said that the kindergarten had good intentions, but in the eyes of the evildoer, it was completely unnecessary. He did not even care for his own body. Could a small parent-child sports event change this situation? Dear, you think too highly of yourself. That's impossible!

Evildoers felt that they had to walk their own paths and grind their own blisters. Everyone had to be responsible for their own actions, especially adults. They could arrange their own lives and outsiders really didn't have to point fingers at them.

Especially during this parent-child sports Day, he felt that he was bullying the other children by letting his sons compete with these children. His sons could completely defeat all the other children in seconds! He could even defeat all the fathers in seconds!

At the thought of this, he lost all interest in the parent-child sports event. Not only him, but the three also felt that this activity was very boring. If they had the time, they might as well go home and feed the rabbits!

Unfortunately, even if they weren't interested, they would still have to compete. The slogan of the parent-child sports event was 'participation'!

Since they were going to participate, it was natural that every child and parent should participate. But fortunately, they could choose to participate in it, either their father or mother.

However, most fathers were very concerned about their reputation, so in the upper grade competition, it was basically the Father who participated, and the one who lost face was naturally the Father.

After the competition for the seniors had ended, it was the turn of the intermediate class. As for Leng ruoxue's three children, due to their age, they were assigned to the beginner class. Hence, the competition for the three of them would be held in the afternoon. As for the morning, they were just there to watch the fun. While they watched the others, the others secretly peeked at their family of five.

Every time they saw this family, the Father was handsome, the mother was devastatingly beautiful, and the three children were so cute that they looked like they had come out of a painting. Everyone could not help but sigh. How did this family of five grow up? It was really infuriating to compare people!

After a short break at noon, the competition for the beginner class officially began in the afternoon.

There were a total of five beginner classes this year, with about twenty people in each class. There were a total of one hundred children and their parents. The competition would be divided into four rounds, with twenty-five children and parents each time. The competition would last about twenty minutes.

Because it was the beginner class, it was slightly different from the morning's competition. There were five events in the morning, while the afternoon's competition reduced the two most energy-consuming events to only three.

The three competitions were divided into two people and three legs. Stepping on balloons, passing relay, and shooting were very simple. It was absolutely suitable for younger children and parents to play together.

It could be a father or a mother, but since the competition in the morning was usually held by the Father and the mother was responsible for cheering, when it came to the beginner class competition, the fathers would also do as the Romans do and participate in the parent-child sports event. However, when it came to the demon, under the anticipating gazes of the three form teachers, the demon did not stand up.

The one who stood out was Leng ruoxue. She was also the only mother who was participating in the competition today.

The moment Leng ruoxue stepped out, it could be said that she stood out like a crane among the chickens. In an instant, she had stolen everyone's attention. Although the daddies were very happy to have the chance to compete with a peerless beauty, the moment they thought of how a man was standing behind a woman at such a moment, they could not help but look down on a certain daddy!

As for the mothers and teachers present, when they saw that Leng ruoxue was the one who took the lead, they were instantly dissatisfied. However, they soon thought that since this woman was not by their idol's side, did that mean that they could take the opportunity to peek at her without any qualms?

At that moment, they felt that it was great that Leng ruoxue was participating in the competition. Who knows, they might even have the chance to strike up a conversation with their idol!

Among them, the three form teachers were the happiest. Without Leng ruoxue, she could now stand beside her Prince Charming in an open and aboveboard manner! At this moment, she truly felt the usefulness of being a mentor.

Look, my idol didn't object to me standing beside him!

The young teacher was elated, and her face and brows unconsciously revealed a hint of lust, but in reality, the evildoer did not notice her existence at all. Instead, it was Ruize and Ruixin who immediately became alert, standing on either side of their father like little guards.

Ruisheng also saw it, but he had to compete with his mother so he didn't have time to care about the Vixen getting close to his father. But after seeing the performance of his two younger brothers, he was relieved and even gave them a look of appreciation.

Before the official competition, Leng ruoxue naturally saw some small actions. However, she didn't care at all, because evildoer didn't need her to worry about him. That fellow was black-hearted!

The first round of the race was a three-legged race. After Leng ruoxue and Rui Sheng were ready, they were unusually relaxed. When the whistle was blown, the mother and son rushed to the finish line without much effort. Their smooth and natural movements stunned many people!

SUPREME CRAZY WIFE

"You bastard!" When did it become so easy for two people to reach three feet? Didn't you see that a few of the lower grade students fell down? Why was the child completely fine, and why did the mother and son walk away in such a majestic manner?

When they reached the finish line, Leng ruoxue sent a flying kiss to the evildoer before joining her son in the fun.

"So boring, so childish!" Looking at the children who kept falling down, Rui Sheng made a conclusion.

Faced with her son's conclusion, Leng ruoxue nodded in agreement. However, when the judge next to them heard the conversation between the mother and son and their expressions, the corner of his mouth kept twitching. He couldn't help but think, 'if children and parents are all like you two, then wouldn't that be uninteresting and childish!'

About ten minutes later, the two-man, three-legged race finally ended.

The next step was to step on the balloon.

The parents and children stood in a circle and tied the ropes around their waists. The balloons were dragged on the ground behind them. Parents and children had to step on other people's balloons. Of course, parents could only step on the parents' balloons. While stepping on other people's balloons to prevent themselves from being stepped on, they also had to protect their children's balloons from being stepped on by other children.

With such a rule in place, some parents simply carried their children in their arms or carried them on their shoulders.

The balloon stepping competition lasted for five minutes. When the competition officially started, the small circle became the domain of Leng ruoxue and Saint Rui.

The two of them were agile and fast. Some of the parents did not even have time to react before Leng ruoxue and Saint Rui stepped on the balloons and crushed them. By the time they realized what was going on and decided to join forces to fight the enemy, they could not even catch Saint Rui, let alone Leng ruoxue. More importantly, even if they caught Saint Rui, it would be useless because the rules stated that parents were not allowed to bully children.

However, Leng ruoxue and the rest would not be able to bully her! Not only that, but the balloons behind him were also exploding ...

Very quickly, all the parents except Leng ruoxue were eliminated, but Leng ruoxue's balloons were still there.

In the remaining time, it was up to Saint Rui to show his skills. Basically, all the children who participated in the competition were bullied by him like frightened little quails. Their tears were stuck in their eyes and did not dare to fall, making the parents' hearts ache.

After the balloon stepping competition finally ended, Leng ruoxue and her son had become a thorn in the eyes of the parents.

The last round was a passing relay and shooting, which was still five minutes long.

Within five minutes, the pair of children and parents who completed the most passes and shots would win!

At first, before the last round of the competition, the parents had made up their minds to get the highest score at least once. But when the competition really started, the participating fathers were shocked to realize that there was no hope of getting the highest score at all. That abnormal mother and son could not be defeated!

Disappointment, anger, confusion, and all sorts of complicated feelings surrounded the hearts of the participating fathers. They were so sad and angry. Wasn't this 'he shengliang, he shengyu'? With such a powerful opponent, how could they still play around happily?

At this moment, their thoughts of playing with the devastatingly beautiful woman had long disappeared without a trace. Their only hope was that the other party would make a mistake, even if it was just once! Wuuu ...

Unfortunately, while wishes were beautiful, reality was cruel. Once the five minutes were up, Leng ruoxue immediately stopped and left the stage.

There was no need to ask the judge for everyone to guess the results.

Unlike her fathers who were listless, Leng ruoxue was in high spirits.

However, this kind of game was too easy for her and the children. She felt that it was better to play it only once. However, someone did not want her to play it only once, just because she had three children.

When she heard from the three form teachers that their family had to participate in two more of such childish competitions, Leng ruoxue's expression turned sour. She had three children, but wasn't it normal to only participate once? He had to give the other parents a chance, right?

Leng ruoxue felt that she was very kind. At the very least, she didn't want to deal a blow to all the parents who were participating in the competition. That would be too cruel!

However, the three head teachers told her that there was no other way. The school rules stated that unless the child was sick, all children had to participate in this activity. Of course, the teacher also suggested that if she didn't want to participate in the competition, she could let the child's father participate.

At the mention of the child's father, the female teacher was very depressed. She had been standing beside him for more than 20 minutes, but she didn't dare to strike up a conversation with her male God. She even enjoyed the baptism of his cold air. She even wanted to cry to death. Boohoo ... What a good opportunity! How could she let it go to waste? She was starting to look down on herself!

And the reason why she had to let the other two children of the ye family participate in the competition, other than the school rules, was also for her own selfish reasons. According to her thoughts, even if she didn't dare to hit on her male God, she could at least look at his elegant demeanor when he was playing the game!

But how could the evildoer do as she wished!

Our evildoer has always put on a cold and aloof front. Other than his own wife and children, he doesn't even look at anyone! Of course, his expression also made it clear that he would definitely not participate in such a childish game.

Since it was the kindergarten's rule, Leng ruoxue could only continue to lead the children into the battle.

However, because the evildoer had never participated in a competition before, he was despised by all his fathers. He had also become a useless pretty boy in the eyes of his daddies. However, the demon did not care about this.

When Ruize and ruiqiao's matches ended, the mother and children instantly became the targets of the parents and children present.

Three sons, three competitions, and Leng ruoxue had brought her children to the top with perfect scores. Her dazzling red results blinded everyone's eyes, and no one dared to look directly at her.

In the final round, Leng ruoxue and her own child became the Champions without any suspense.

After the first day of the parent-child activity ended, Leng ruoxue and the demon brought the three of them home calmly.

At the same time, the other parents were still depressed and could not recover until the next day.

The second day's activity was in the form of a field trip. The main purpose was to cultivate the children's ability to survive in the wild and adapt to changes. Therefore, after sending the children and their parents to a deep mountain, the kindergarten teachers left.

As for the final task of the children and their parents, it was to find a farm in the mountains and complete a cooperative planting between the children and their parents. After two days of activity, the children and parents with the highest scores in each grade would be able to get a chance to travel around the sea. This was the material reward for the two-day parent-child activity.

Although parents might not care about the trip around the sea, it was different for children. This was because this was an opportunity that the children had obtained through their own hard work. It was a kind of recognition and reward for their performance. Therefore, the parents also paid more attention to it.

SUPREME CRAZY WIFE

Chapter 3104 Side Story: Small Farmyard (1)

It was precisely because of this mentality that the kindergarten was able to hold such parent-child activities once every semester, and it lasted for a long time.

On the day of the event, other than Leng ruoxue's family, who seemed to be very calm as if they were out for an outing, the other parents were very nervous. Not only did they bring many items in big and small bags, some parents even brought wireless navigation devices.

Looking at their reactions, then looking at herself and the demon who were empty-handed and not even carrying a bag, while the three of them were carrying a small bag, Leng ruoxue suddenly felt that she had been very irresponsible. However, she couldn't say that her sister had a storage ring and didn't need those things.

So, she and the evildoer could only stand aside and silently endure the rolling eyes of some parents who did not know the truth. Of course, most of the eye rolls came from women. Most of the women would think that she was an irresponsible mother.

The evildoer had also received some disdain from his fathers. The fathers 'thoughts were the exact opposite of the mothers'. They all felt that the evildoer had not been a good father.

Fortunately, both Leng ruoxue and the demon had already trained their skin to be very thick. Hence, they were able to remain as calm as ever under the watchful eyes of the crowd.

As for the three children, they received sympathy. Many parents felt that these three cute little children were too pitiful. Their mothers didn't love them, and their fathers didn't love them.

Fortunately, the three of them didn't understand what the others were thinking. Otherwise, they would have shouted, "I don't need you to meddle in my business. This is how we get along in our family! Besides, they're not little kids. Do they need to rely on their parents for everything?"

The three self-proclaimed independent eyes did not need anyone's sympathy. That was an insult to their noble bloodline!

The strong didn't need the pity of others, and the future strong would be the same!

As the saying goes, the Poor's children grow up early! So what if it was a child of a God?

The three of them knew very well that from the moment they became the children of their parents, their birth had determined that they could not be like ordinary human children, who would surround their parents all day, act coquettishly, cry, and have runny noses. They were future powerhouses, and their starting point was high from birth. Thus, they were destined to be extraordinary from a young age.

At this moment, deep in the mountains, due to the strong wind that blew from time to time, some of the timid children were already crying in fear. Only three of them looked normal, and they didn't even throw themselves into their parents' arms, which made the three of them even more extraordinary.

Many of the parents present had noticed this. They were quite envious, jealous, and hateful of this child. How did he raise this child? How could he be so calm and composed?

Although they were envious, the gap between their children and other people's children was not just a little bit. Thinking of this, many parents who hoped for their children to become successful made up their minds. In the future, they must not dote on their children without principles. Otherwise, what would they do if they raised their children into the second generation of useless people?

After this parent-child activity, many children would live in misery in the future, and the three of them were not aware of it at all. This was the aftermath of the parents seeing the gap between them and other children.

What were the three of them doing at this time?

They were already urging their parents to set off ...

The three of them didn't want to stand there and receive the so-called sympathetic gazes. That would make them feel like they had failed as gods. Hmph! Would a future powerhouse need the sympathy of ordinary humans? Leng ruoxue and the evil demon had wanted to leave for a long time. Now that their sons were urging them, the couple turned around and left with their sons.

This mountain was located on the outskirts of the city and was considered a barren mountain that had not been developed by humans. Although Leng ruoxue did not understand why the kindergarten would choose this place as the parent and child activity venue, she was certain that there was definitely no Manor here. Or rather, there was no proper Manor here.

If the so-called Manor that the other party was talking about was the one she had scanned with her divine sense, then it really couldn't be considered a Manor. At best, it could only be considered a small farmyard.

At the thought of this, Leng ruoxue was a little speechless. Did they get played by the kindergarten? Leaving these children and their parents here and not caring about them, wasn't he afraid that they would encounter large beasts in the mountains?

After her divine sense scan, she knew better than anyone else that there were many fierce beasts in this mountain. She even heard from the beasts 'language that some of them were saying that a human fool had come to their door again!

He wondered how the parents would feel if they knew that they were treated like fools by the beasts. In any case, she didn't want to treat a certain beast as a fool!

Out of humanitarian concerns, Leng ruoxue kindly turned around and reminded the parents before she left, "Be careful. There should be many large beasts in this mountain. Don't disturb them!"

Originally, Leng ruoxue had good intentions. Unfortunately, a considerable number of parents didn't believe her words. According to the parents' thoughts, this was just a barren mountain, so how could there be a large ferocious beast? If there were, how would the kindergarten dare to let them come here? Wouldn't that be sending them to their deaths?

It was precisely because they did not take Leng ruoxue's warning seriously that the parents did not take the potential danger to heart. Furthermore, there were many small paths in the mountain. In order to prove their strength, only six pairs of parents chose to follow behind Leng ruoxue and her husband. Most of the parents did not take the same path as Leng ruoxue's family of five. Seeing how willful they were, Leng ruoxue could only let them be.

Along the way, the couple took the three children and looked around as if they were on an outing. They were very relaxed. The parents who had chosen to follow them could not help but scoff in their hearts when they saw them like this. They couldn't help but think to themselves, don't they know that this is also a competition? He actually had the leisure to look at the scenery!

Due to their competitive nature, there were quite a few times when the parents of the six pairs walked in front of Leng ruoxue's family. Leng ruoxue and the demon didn't mind at all. When it was time to play, they would play. When it was time to rest, they didn't delay at all. On the other hand, the six pairs of parents were exhausted after a short while because they had walked too fast and too hurriedly. At this time, Leng ruoxue's family of five had overtaken them.

Just like that, Leng ruoxue and the six pairs of parents took turns to walk in front. In the end, the six pairs of parents couldn't move anymore and could only follow behind slowly. However, at this moment, Leng ruoxue and the demon brought the children and walked faster and faster. They didn't show any signs of fatigue.

The dog-tired parents who followed behind them were really angry and jealous, but they really couldn't keep up with the other party, so they could only stare helplessly.

Very quickly, Leng ruoxue and the demon brought the three of them and disappeared without a trace.

The parents who had been left far behind only had one thought in their minds at that moment, and that was that his physical fitness was really good. He walked in the mountains as if he was walking on flat ground! Al! It can't be compared!

By noon, Leng ruoxue and the demon had already brought the children to the small farm.

SUPREME CRAZY WIFE

Chapter 3105 Side Story: Small Farmyard (2)

The owner of the small farmyard was a man in his thirties with an ordinary appearance. When he saw Leng ruoxue, the demon, and the three of them, he was clearly stunned for a long time before he reacted, ""Are you here to participate in parent-child activities?"

The man was both shocked and surprised. He really didn't expect that a child's parent would find this place so quickly. Moreover, this couple gave him a feeling that they were quite unfathomable. This was really too incredible. However, even though he was surprised, he did not show it on his face.

Leng ruoxue, on the other hand, glanced at the man and nodded. Although the man in front of her was an ancient martial arts practitioner, she still did not think that he could protect so many parents in this barren mountain full of wild beasts. If something happened, he would not be able to split himself up!

Even though Leng ruoxue had such thoughts in her heart, she also knew that this had nothing to do with her. Hence, after nodding her head, she directly asked, ""We're here now, so we should be in time for lunch! The children are all hungry!"

"..." Hearing this, the man was a little confused. From what he heard, this pair of parents had specially brought their children here early to make a living?

Wiping the sweat from his forehead, the man weakly replied, ""Sure, but it's in the middle of nowhere, there's really nothing to entertain us with!"

"It's okay. There are many ferocious beasts in the mountains. Just one of them will be enough for our family of five!" Leng ruoxue laughed evilly, but she could not help but complain in her heart. Damn it, did he think that she did not know about this man's relationship with the wild beasts in the mountains? Obviously, she knew that the man had a Black Panther, and that Panther was doing well in the mountains. As such, the man's movements in the mountains were unimpeded.

Sure enough, the man's expression changed when he heard this. Then, he said with a constipated look, ""That's not very good! Animals are the best friends of humans!"

"You're right, but we're hungry now. As the host, you should at least provide us with a meal!" Leng ruoxue said with a smile.

"Uh! I'm afraid you won't be used to my simple life here. " The man hesitated.

"It doesn't matter, we're not picky!" Leng ruoxue said indifferently.

Hearing Leng ruoxue's words, the man knew that he couldn't reject her. He could only brace himself and go back into the house to get his own food. He really didn't prepare food for the parents! This was because he didn't expect parents to find this place so early. According to his calculations, the earliest parents would find this place was in the afternoon. Now, he had miscalculated!

In a short while, the dining table in the living room was filled with several large bowls.

After a quick glance, Leng ruoxue looked at the man and said,""Is that all you're eating? You're really poor!" The bowl was filled with vegetables, and there was not even a single piece of meat.

"The conditions in the mountains are simple. I can't do anything about it!" The man said, somewhat embarrassed.

"Hubby, go and hunt a beast!" Ignoring the man's words, Leng ruoxue directly spoke to the demon.

"Alright," he said. The demon nodded and turned to leave. His son was still growing, and he really couldn't just eat vegetables.

"Al! Wait a minute!" Seeing that his handsome father was really going out to hunt, the man quickly stopped him. He could not let the animals in the mountains suffer at the hands of this demon, or else his leopard son would blame him when he came back.

"My sons are still growing ..." The demon frowned when he saw that he was being stopped.

"Uh! There's still some meat at home, I'll go get it!" For the sake of the animals in the mountain, the man could only offer up the leopard's son's food.

The meat was still raw when it was brought over. Rui Sheng took a look and quickly brought it in front of his mother, saying proudly, "Mom, have some barbecued meat!"

"Yes, there are still many fresh vegetables in the yard. Son, go and pick some." Leng ruoxue nodded and instructed.

The three of them turned around and ran. When the man saw this, he hurriedly chased after her, shouting as he chased, ""Don't randomly pick! Some of the dishes are not mine and can't be touched!"

Then, a series of banging sounds came from the courtyard ...

When the three of them returned to the living room with fresh vegetables in their arms, their faces were full of joy and satisfaction. The man, on the other hand, looked dejected. These three little demons ... Boohoo ... They were his weekly ration! They had all been plucked by them!

However, this was not what made him the saddest. What really made him sad and angry was that he, a man, could not defeat three little children. Sob ... How could he live? I can't play with him anymore!

The man was filled with grief, anger, and sorrow. The way he looked at Leng ruoxue and the evildoer was filled with sparkling water droplets, and he looked as if he had been wronged.

Seeing this, Leng ruoxue could only smile helplessly, ""I just took your order! Do you have to do this?"

"It has nothing to do with the vegetables! I just want to know, Who are you?"
The man suddenly said in a serious tone.

"We're the parents of our children! Didn't you already ask?" Leng ruoxue smiled.

"A straightforward person does not resort to insinuations. You know I am not asking about this." The man said gloomily. From the behavior of the three children, this couple was definitely not ordinary people!

"How would I know which one you're asking? Besides, curiosity killed the cat. Sometimes, knowing too much is not a good thing!" Leng ruoxue warned.

"Yes, dear, you want to know too much!" Rui Qiao suddenly interrupted.

When Leng ruoxue heard her son's baby-like voice, she couldn't help but laugh. The man's face darkened. This little kid was really unlikable! It was obvious that he was being laughed at by a little boy.

Unfortunately, he wasn't very good with words, so he didn't know how to react. At this moment, a howl came from not far away, and the three's attention was immediately attracted.

"There's a kitten!" The three of them said in unison. Then, the three of them ran out of the courtyard happily.

"Wait, isn't that a kitten ..." Before the man could finish his sentence, a few mournful howls were heard. Immediately, the man was shocked and chased after them.

Outside the courtyard, a large black leopard with shiny fur was pounced on by three children. At first, when the man saw the situation, he was very worried for the three children. He was not worried that The Leopard Son would deliberately hurt the three children, but that the three children would be accidentally injured by his son's sharp claws. However, when he saw that his son was obviously at a disadvantage, he simply did not know what to say.

That was a leopard! It was the ferocious Black Panther!

But now, he was being pressed down on the ground by the three of them like a house cat. His poor son had become their plush toy. What was even more infuriating was that his son could not resist!

What the hell is this?

The man became even more indignant! He felt that today was not a good day for him and his son. They should not have come here!

The man regretted! He regretted it so much that his intestines turned green! Originally, he didn't have much to do today, but he knew that his son hadn't been back here for a long time, so he wanted to take the opportunity of the kindergarten activity to bring his son back to see his old friends. Who knew that he would actually meet these little fiends! Why were they so unlucky?

SUPREME CRAZY WIFE

Chapter 3106 Side Story: Small Farmyard (3)

"My son, my son! Little ancestors, please let my poor son go!" Seeing that his son had been pressed down, the man couldn't help but plead for his son.

"This kitten is your son?" Hearing the man's words, Saint Rui asked curiously.

"Yes, I raised it. Also, it's not a kitten. It's a Black Panther!" The man corrected.

"It's a kitten! And it's much more obedient than my cat. We like it!" Rui Sheng said with a smile. All the cats in his house were elders. Their mother had never allowed them to bully them, so they didn't dare to bully them. This cat was really to their liking.

Look at this soft and smooth fur, it's like silk, it feels great! The three simply couldn't bear to part with it.

At this moment, Leng ruoxue and the demon walked out from the courtyard. The moment they saw their parents, the three of them immediately requested, ""Mom, let's take this kitten home and raise it!"

Hearing the three little demons' words, the beautiful black leopard's eyes rolled back and it fainted. Leng ruoxue looked at the leopard's human-like actions and found it rather interesting.

An animal that had yet to gain sentience could understand human speech, which was enough to prove its spirituality. Of course, it could also be that this leopard had lived with humans since it was young. But no matter what, this leopard was clearly different from the other beasts.

"Sons, this kitten is taken, we can't bring it home." Leng ruoxue then said with a stern expression. Although she doted on her sons, she didn't wish for them to develop an overbearing personality. Furthermore, her sons didn't lack anything, so there was no need for them to snatch away someone else's favor.

Sure enough, the three little faces all drooped after hearing this.

"Although you can't bring this kitten home to raise, you can invite them to our house as guests!" Leng ruoxue continued.

Their mother's suggestion made their eyes light up and they became lively again. As the Big Brother, Rui Sheng even looked at the man shyly and said, ""Uncle, can you bring the kitten to my house as a guest? Don't worry, we won't bully it!"

"Uh! I'll bring Baoer along after this event. " Faced with the little boy's clear and expectant eyes, the man really could not refuse, so he could only force himself to say it. But then he thought about it, if he went to the mysterious couple's house, maybe he could find out some of their secrets! With this thought, he immediately looked forward to it.

The black leopard, who had been pretending to faint, actually fainted after hearing what his human father said.

Oh my God! The leopard didn't want to live!

After taking care of the three, the man finally had a chance to save his son. However, when he touched the Black Panther's body, he realized that his son was in a bad state! Did he really faint?

Oh my God! Wasn't her son too timid?

With great difficulty, the man picked up his heavy son and walked toward the room with heavy steps.

Leng ruoxue and the evildoer brought the three of them and followed behind. After a few short steps, the innocent Rui Jin could not help but ask, ""Mom, isn't that kitten pretending to be unconscious? Why was the uncle still hugging it? Don't you think it's heavy?"

When Rui Jin said this, his voice was clear and melodious. The man who had already entered the room could not even pretend to be deaf and mute. After placing the black leopard on the bed, the man could not help but look at his silly son with sympathy, thinking, my son! Have you met your nemesis?

At the same time, Leng ruoxue and the demon brought three of them into the room.

Leng ruoxue glanced at Black Panther who was lying on the bed and said to her son seriously, ""Sons, this kitten is really dizzy now, do you see? This is because she's too timid and got scared!"

The three listened to their mother's words and nodded solemnly. Their clear eyes were full of sympathy. In fact, they really didn't do anything to the timid cat. They just played with it for a while, so they really couldn't understand how the kitten fainted from fear. She's really not the usual kind of timid!

"Mother, it's too pitiful that it's so timid. Why don't we give it some spiritual intelligence?" After thinking about it, Rui Jie requested. He felt that if he gave the kitten intelligence, the cat might be smarter.

"You'll have to ask this uncle about this. " Leng ruoxue pointed at the man who was standing at the side.

At this moment, as the man listened to the conversation between Leng ruoxue and his sons, he became more and more confused. Now, he was shocked to realize that he seemed to have discovered some shocking secret. So, he did not feel good at all. What was he trying to do?

"Uncle, will that do?" Seeing the man in a daze, Rui Jin tugged at the corner of his clothes and asked.

"Uh!" The man didn't know how to answer. Could the 'enlightenment' that the other party was talking about be the one written in the ancient book? Would he? Would he?

Looking at Leng ruoxue, the man's eyes were filled with helplessness. At this moment, he urgently needed someone to answer his questions.

Leng ruoxue could not be bothered to waste her breath. She took out a pill and handed it to the man, ""If you want your son to gain sentience, then feed it!"

"Will there be any side effects?" The man was a little excited, but he still asked cautiously.

"Side effects? If it accidentally speaks in front of outsiders, it might be captured by some research institutes and cut into pieces!" Leng ruoxue thought for a moment and said.

"Argh! You can still speak?" The man's face was filled with disbelief. Was this medicine really that magical? Wouldn't that be even more high-end than what the ancient books said! The ancient book only said that animals with spiritual intelligence could use their spiritual power to communicate with ancient martial arts powerhouses. If he could really speak now, it would save a lot of trouble! However, this matter was just as the woman in front of him had said. If outsiders knew about it, the consequences would be very serious!

However, he had raised the little leopard himself and had always treated it as his son. Naturally, he hoped that his son would be able to achieve something in the future. In addition, the lifespan of ordinary animals was limited. He really did not want the little leopard to be unable to accompany him in his long life. Because this leopard was not only his family, but also his most trusted partner.

"Sure." Leng ruoxue said with certainty.

The man became even more excited when he heard this. After receiving Leng ruoxue's confirmation, he no longer hesitated. He pried open the black leopard's mouth and stuffed the soybean-sized elixir inside.

After a while, the black leopard woke up. Immediately after, it began to roll around on the bed in pain. Blood kept oozing out of its pores, mouth, and nose. The man was so frightened that he quickly stepped forward to help it, but he was stopped by Leng ruoxue.

"Don't touch it, it has to get through this on its own!" Leng ruoxue reminded.

After hearing Leng ruoxue's words, the man immediately lowered his hands obediently by his side like a baby, not daring to move at all.

However, the pained howls of Bao's son on the bed reached his ears without any hindrance, causing his entire heart to be twisted together. His heart ached so much that his eyes were filled with tears, but he did not dare to move, so he could only watch his son, who was already covered in blood, roll around and howl in pain ... His heart, ah, felt as if it had been cut into pieces by a knife.

About half an hour later, the black leopard finally stopped rolling around and howling. The man was relieved to see that. However, after waiting for a while, his leopard son was still lying on the bed, motionless. He couldn't even feel his breathing. This time, he was scared again.

"How could it be like this? How could it be like this! My son! Are you going to leave your father like this? "Sob, sob, sob ..." The man sobbed in despair.

Hearing the man's moans, Leng ruoxue was speechless. This guy was really ...

The demon simply turned to look at the ceiling. Otherwise, he was afraid that he would not be able to resist the attack. The other three opened their eyes wide in curiosity, looking at the man who was no longer young and crying.

"Uncle! Don't cry, the little cat is fine. " Rui Jin, who had been staring at the man for a long time, couldn't take it anymore and reminded him.

"Wuwuwu ... He's not breathing, how can he be fine? Eh? Wait, you said it's fine?" The man replied to himself, and only managed to react to what Rui Jin was saying halfway through his sentence, and quickly asked.

"I'm fine!" Rui Jin nodded his head seriously.

"B-but it's not breathing!" The man asked in disbelief.

"She's breathing, but it's too weak. Uncle, you can't feel it. " Rui Jin said with a smile.

"Uh!" The man was a little depressed. Although he was happy to know that Bao's son was fine, he didn't know why he couldn't be happy, because he found himself too useless! Even a little boy could sense that his son's breathing was weak. He was an ancient martial arts master, but he couldn't sense it at all. How could he bear this?

More importantly, he didn't think that the little kid in front of him was lying to him! This made him even more conflicted. Sob, sob, sob ... What was this little doll? she was really too impatient!

As the man waited in self-pity and self-loathing, the black leopard, which had dried blood on its body, finally moved its fat claws. The man didn't even dare to blink when he saw it, afraid that he was hallucinating.

After a while, the Black Panther slowly opened its eyes. Its slightly wet, deep blue eyes were still a little dazed. A few seconds later, its eyes clearly reflected the man's figure. Then, it suddenly pounced on the man, hanging on him as it sobbed loudly, "Daddy, sob, sob, sob ... These three human Cubs are bullying your precious baby!"

The prolonged voice and the similar crying made Leng ruoxue's face turn black. She secretly regretted awakening this leopard's intelligence. Could this fellow not be so mushy?

After a short while, Leng ruoxue deliberately put on a straight face and said unhappily, "Human babies are not young. Please remember!"

"Then what should we call it? That's what we all call him!" The Black Panther asked carefully. It could clearly sense that the woman in front of it was not in a good mood.

"It's our child, our baby!" Leng ruoxue corrected him. She didn't care how these animals called human children in private, but her child must not be called a young cub!

"Oh!" The leopard learned from this. A good leopard knows its mistakes and can change. Then, it turned to the man and said, "Sob, sob, sob ... Daddy, a human child is bullying your precious baby!"

"....."

Leng ruoxue was speechless. The words 'darling' gave her goosebumps, especially when these words came from a leopard.

However, the man clearly didn't think his son was that mushy. He coaxed him with a pained expression, "Baby, it's okay, don't be afraid! They said that they won't bully you anymore!"

"R-really?" The Black Panther asked fearfully.

"Of course it's true!" The man promised.

"Uncle, did we say we won't bully it?" At this moment, Rui Jin asked without giving him any face and with a confused look.

"Of course. Didn't you invite us to your house as guests and promise that you won't bully my baby again?" The man's eyes widened.

"I see!" Rui Chen's pitch-black eyes turned. Actually, he really wanted to say that he was just being polite. As for whether or not he would be bullied, it really depends on the person's wisdom. However, he was smart enough not to say these words out loud. Otherwise, I'm afraid this father and son would not be willing to go to their house, hehe!

Rui Jin, who was laughing in his heart, did not say anything.

The man saw this and said to his silly son, "Treasure! Did you hear that? They won't bully you anymore. "

"You really won't bully me anymore?" The black leopard couldn't believe it, and it timidly looked at the three with its watery eyes.

"Don't worry, we'll only treat you well!" The three of them patted their chests and promised.

Hearing this, the Black Panther's heart that had been in its throat finally relaxed a little. Suddenly, it froze for a moment, then turned to the man and said, "D-dad, did they understand what I said?" It obviously hadn't reacted yet.

"Treasure! You're the one who can talk. " The man touched the silly leopard's head and reminded him.

"How is this possible? I'm a leopard! You've always been speaking leopard language, when did you learn human language?" The silly leopard's face was full of shock and disbelief.

"I've given you intelligence. You can already speak the human language." Leng ruoxue smiled.

"Ah!" The Black Panther cried out in excitement. At this moment, it was simply impossible to describe its joy.

When it was done barking, it then remembered to jump down from its father's back and pounced towards Leng ruoxue. It then hugged Leng ruoxue's leg tightly and said, "My benefactor! You're my second parent!"

"..." Leng ruoxue could not help but feel speechless. The word 'benefactor' was so ancient! Who did this silly leopard learn it from?

"Benefactor, I have no way to repay your great kindness, I can only devote my life to you!" Just as Leng ruoxue was deep in thought, the leopard, whose reaction was obviously slower by half a beat, started to flatter Leng ruoxue non-stop. It did not even notice that at this moment, one of the evildoer's expression had already turned very dark.

Originally, when he saw his wife being hugged by a leopard, his face had already darkened by half. Now, when he heard this stupid leopard say that he wanted to devote himself to his wife, his entire face was blacker than ink. His clenched fist made cracking sounds. Just when he saw that a certain leopard was about to be in big trouble, the man said with a bitter face, "Baby, don't you want daddy anymore?"

"Yes! But wanting a father doesn't affect me from repaying my kindness. Benefactor, please accept me! Let me work like a cow or a horse for my benefactor!" The silly leopard pleaded with a sincere look.

SUPREME CRAZY WIFE

Chapter 3108 Side Story: Little Kitten (2)

"Don't!" Leng ruoxue shot a glance at the evildoer and rejected him directly.

"Why?" The leopard was in extreme grief. In order to repay the favor, it had even cast its father aside. Sob, sob, sob ...

"Troublesome, you're too noob!" Leng ruoxue was very honest.

The black leopard was greatly shocked. Troublesome vegetables? Didn't daddy always say that it was very powerful?

At the thought of this, the leopard looked at the man with a resentful gaze. His teary eyes were filled with accusation. "Daddy, you lied to your darling!"

The man didn't know how to respond. If he were to say, "baby, you're really a noob in front of me," it would definitely hurt his baby's fragile little heart! Oh! He couldn't say it!

After making up his mind, the man turned his head to the side.

Seeing this, the silly leopard was even sadder. Was his father silently agreeing?

Sensing the kitten's low mood, the three kind-hearted cats comforted it. "'It's fine, we don't mind you. You can hang out with us three brothers in the future!"

After that, the three of them lifted the kitten, which weighed nearly 100 kilograms, and left the room. The leopard saw that it was going to be bullied again, and it was so scared that it burst into tears.

The man wanted to save his son, but he cowered under Leng ruoxue's warning gaze.

Leopard's son was carried away by the three of them, but his son's miserable shrieks could not be stopped. The man wanted to move, but he did not dare to. He could only stiffen his body and watch Leng ruoxue and the demon carefully.

At this moment, Leng ruoxue and the demon had already found a chair to sit down on. However, neither of them said a word, and they only stared at the man indifferently. The man's heart was palpitating under their gazes. The pressure these two people gave him was too great.

The man had no choice but to reveal his identity.

" I'm from an ancient martial arts family ..." The man started from the beginning.

After listening to the man's explanation, Leng ruoxue found out that the kindergarten she had chosen for her son had a close relationship with some ancient martial arts family. The person in front of her was from the Yang family.

The reason why the kindergarten chose this place for parent and child activities was that this was the Yang family's territory, so there wouldn't be too much of a problem with safety. In addition, because of the high degree of confidentiality here, and the wilderness, it was just the right place to test the children's ability to take care of themselves, and to see if there were any promising talents.

However, this member of the Yang family had been in closed-door cultivation all this while. After he came out, he had snatched this mission and brought his son here to guard. Hence, he had never heard of Leng ruoxue's three babies, nor was he clear that Leng ruoxue's family had been registered in the Yang family. In addition, he was a very reliable person, so the people in the clan had overlooked the fact that he did not know Leng ruoxue's family. Otherwise, how could he not recognize the three identical babies in front of him?

Now, after he had explained everything, the evildoer did not even spare him a glance. On the other hand, Leng ruoxue only nodded her head slightly and did not have any other reaction. This fact made the man feel inexplicably worried.

However, he also knew that the strength of the two people in front of him was unfathomable, so he didn't expect the two of them to say anything. At the same time, the three of them had taken care of the little kittens in their eyes. The three babies and the Beast were happily playing together.

When Leng ruoxue, the demon, and the man arrived at the courtyard, they saw the four little fellows getting along harmoniously. The man instantly felt relieved.

After lunch, the four of them continued to play together. Leng ruoxue and the demon found a shady place to spend some time with each other.

All of a sudden, an angry beast's roar reverberated through the sky. When the black leopard heard this sound, it immediately said, "Something has happened!" She ran out of the courtyard.

Seeing this, the three of them quickly chased after it. Just as the man was about to leave, he was blocked by Leng ruoxue and the demon.

"You can stay at home!" Leng ruoxue said calmly.

"But the beasts in this mountain ..." The man was about to say that the beasts in the mountain were not to be trifled with. Who knew that before he could finish his sentence, Leng ruoxue and the demon had already teleported and disappeared.

The man who was standing there in a daze rubbed his eyes. He looked in disbelief at the direction where Leng ruoxue and the demon disappeared. Was he ... Seeing things? Where did he go? This was definitely not Qinggong! The man didn't dare to think further.

After Leng ruoxue and the demon teleported away, they quickly arrived at the scene of the incident. However, in order not to scare the ordinary people, the two of them stopped when they were a few meters away from the scene and walked to the scene.

On the way, the two of them had already figured out the situation. It was not that they wanted to be nosy, but they did not want their son to appear too different in front of these ordinary humans.

The cause of the incident was very simple. It was just that a little child had taken a fancy to a little tiger cub and had a conflict with the little Tiger's parents. However, the little boy's parents were a little powerful and had many bodyguards with them. As such, humans and animals were at odds. On the surface, the humans seemed to have the upper hand, but in fact, the Tiger couple was already calling for help.

This time, the mountain was going to be lively.

Initially, Leng ruoxue and the demon had intended to watch the show. However, the two of them did not intentionally hide themselves. Hence, the moment they arrived, they were immediately discovered by the parents who were present.

One of the parents wanted to call the two of them over to his side, but Leng ruoxue and the demon didn't move. The person who called out to them immediately said anxiously, "Mr. Ye, Mrs. Ye, come here quickly. It's too dangerous there!"

"We're about to be surrounded by ferocious beasts. It's the same anywhere." Leng ruoxue said indifferently.

"Madam ye, you, what do you mean by this?" The parent asked in disbelief.

"Didn't you notice? These two tigers have already called for help. Otherwise, why do you think they can stay so calm and not move?"

That's right, the Golden Tiger couple with black stripes were extremely calm at this moment. They were even looking at the human in front of them with disdain with their clear, yellow eyes!

But towards Leng ruoxue and the demon, the Tiger couple was extremely alert. Needless to say, their beast instincts had already told them that the man and woman in front of them were not people they could afford to offend! So, as long as Leng ruoxue and the demon didn't help these humans who wanted to snatch their children away, they wouldn't take the initiative to start a conflict with them. However, as long as they wanted to snatch their children away, they wouldn't let them off even if they had to risk their lives!

After sensing the two tigers' emotions and saying those words, Leng ruoxue walked over to the two tigers' side. She slowly stretched out her hand, wanting to touch one of the furry heads. Her actions frightened many of the parents so much that they didn't even dare to breathe.

No one had expected Madam ye to be so bold. Many of the parents present had seen a ferocious beast that could only be seen in the zoo. It had appeared in front of them with its bloody mouth wide open. Their legs had long gone soft from fear. But now, this young and beautiful woman in front of them was actually going to touch the Tiger! Wasn't this just seeking death?

Well ... A Tiger's butt can't be touched!

Someone shouted in a hurry, ""You can't touch a Tiger's butt!"

When Leng ruoxue heard this, black lines appeared on her forehead. She turned around and asked, ""Is your Tiger's butt on its head?"

"..." Everyone was silent. He was still in the mood to joke at this time. It could be seen that he was really not afraid!

After that, Leng ruoxue turned to look at the two tigers in front of her. Her pair of slender Jade-like hands finally landed on one of the Tiger's furry head.

The aura on Leng ruoxue's body made the Tiger, who had been taken advantage of, feel very comfortable. Thus, it did not struggle and instead allowed Leng ruoxue to caress it with a look of enjoyment. Fortunately, it was a female tiger, or the evildoer would have gone mad again. However, at this moment, the evildoer's face was also black. It was obvious that he was not willing to let his wife touch someone else, even if it was a female!

Actually, Leng ruoxue didn't touch this tigress to take advantage of her. She was communicating with the mother Tiger! However, in order to hide it from others, she could only use this method.

As the tigress's furious gaze turned gentler, Leng ruoxue retracted her hand and turned to the person in question, ""Return the Tiger Cub to them!"

At this time, the palm-sized Golden Tiger cub was in the arms of a little girl about three or four years old. Perhaps the little girl's grip was a little too strong, but the little tiger let out an extremely weak and painful howl in her arms. When the mother Tiger heard it, she angrily growled a few times in a row as a warning.

However, be it the little girl or her parents, it was obvious that they did not take Leng ruoxue's words or the Tiger's threat to heart. The child's mother was even more furious as she said, ""Mind your own business. My daughter has taken a fancy to this little tiger, so we're raising it. I'll see who dares to snatch it from me!"

After hearing the child's mother's overbearing words, Leng ruoxue was speechless. Did she think that she liked to meddle in other people's business? If it wasn't for the fact that she wanted to cover for her sons and was also afraid that other innocent children would be accidentally injured, she wouldn't have said anything at all.

Moreover, as a mother, she was very clear on the importance of a child to a mother, whether it was a human or a beast, it was the same! "You're the one who snatched someone else's child, so even if you're looking for death, don't drag others down with you!" Leng ruoxue reminded him.

"What did you just say? Whose child did I snatch? Who have I implicated? How dare you slander me? do you know who my father is? "My father is ..."

The child's mother immediately exploded when she heard Leng ruoxue's words.

However, Leng ruoxue's words resonated with the other parents. They were innocent in this matter, but now they were trapped here and didn't dare to leave. Of course, the main reason was that they didn't have a chance to leave because the Tiger couple treated them as a group. As long as they showed any intention of leaving, the two tigers seemed to rush up and bite them at any time, so they could only stay where they were.

Due to the fact that the parents who had snatched the Tiger cubs were quite powerful, they didn't dare to say anything to stop them. Now that Leng ruoxue had spoken, the trapped parents seemed to have seen their Savior. However, they weren't sure if Leng ruoxue would be able to resist the other party's power. At the thought of this, many parents showed worried expressions.

Leng ruoxue couldn't help but laugh when she heard the child's mother's words. Was she going to fight for her father?

Even though snatching of baby beasts could happen in any realm and it was not as if she had never seen it before, this kind of thing usually happened in worlds where both humans and beasts could cultivate. As for the world of ordinary humans, it was deep in the mountains. Leng ruoxue really could not understand. Where did an ordinary human get the courage to provoke a ferocious beast so publicly?

Or did they think that the beast had a good temper, so they thought it was Kitty?

Chapter 3109 The Black Python (1)

In reality, Leng ruoxue really wanted to give this couple a thumbs up for their brave actions. However, the prerequisite was that they must not implicate others! It was not very professional of him to seek death and harm others at the same time.

At the thought of this, Leng ruoxue was too lazy to argue with the other party. She only said in an unusually cold voice, "I'll say it for the last time, return the Tiger cubs to them!"

When she said this, Leng ruoxue even intentionally added a hint of pressure. However, even though the little girl's parents' hearts trembled, it was obvious that they did not take her seriously. They still did not take her words seriously. Regarding this, Leng ruoxue did not fuss over it and walked in front of the little girl, saying softly, "Little girl, give the little tiger in your hand to Auntie."

"I won't! It's mine!" After the little girl heard Leng ruoxue's words, she stubbornly refused.

"It's not yours. It belongs to her parents." Leng ruoxue patiently communicated with the little girl.

"Mine! It's mine!" The little girl shouted. As Leng ruoxue spoke to the little girl in a gentle tone, the little girl did not feel afraid at all. In fact, she even felt that this Auntie who wanted to snatch her pet was a bad person. Following that, she burst into tears.

The moment the little girl started crying, the child's mother could not take it anymore. She immediately threw the pressure that Leng ruoxue gave her to the back of her mind and even stood in front of the little girl in an aggressive manner. She shouted angrily, "You're an adult. Don't you feel bad bullying my four-year-old daughter?"

Leng ruoxue laughed and asked,"I bullied her? If you think I'm bullying her just because I asked her to return the little tiger to her parents, then I have nothing to say. Just take it that I bullied her! Now, quickly return the Cub to this Tiger couple, or else, bear the consequences!"

"Hmph! You finally admit that you bullied my daughter! You're an adult, how can you bully a child!" The child's mother seemed to have caught hold of something that Leng ruoxue could use against her. She raised her voice on purpose and changed the topic,""You're threatening me? Do you need me to remind you of my identity? You should know that there's no one alive who dares to threaten me!"

After hearing the child's mother's words, Leng ruoxue was even more disinclined to waste her breath on her. Seeing that Leng ruoxue actually dared to ignore her, the child's mother was so angry that she turned around and shouted at the parent standing beside her,""You've all seen it. This woman dared to bully my daughter and even threatened me! Hmph! I'm going to Sue her, and you have to be my witness!"

When the parents heard this, they couldn't help but scoff in their hearts. However, due to the other party's influence, they didn't dare to refute and could only secretly give Leng ruoxue an apologetic look.

Whether it was Leng ruoxue or the little girl's parents, they were obviously on the stronger side. If they could, these parents didn't want to offend anyone. However, if they were forced to choose, they would definitely choose the little girl's parents. After all, they didn't know Leng ruoxue's identity, but they knew the power of the little girl's parents.

Seeing them like this, Leng ruoxue didn't feel annoyed at all. Originally, she had only meddled in other people's business because of these children. Now that the parents didn't even dare to fight with the evil forces, she naturally didn't need to get angry with a few passers-by. It wasn't worth it!

After a while, she silently returned to the evildoer's side. Instantly, the little girl's mother was pleased and even gave Leng ruoxue a threatening look. However, Leng ruoxue couldn't be bothered to even look at her. Her baby was nearby, so she'd better wait for her baby!

At the same time, when the female tiger saw that the humans did not listen to Leng ruoxue's words, it roared angrily. In an instant, a strong dark wind suddenly blew towards them. Before the parents could react, the dark wind had already surrounded them. It was only then that the parents could see clearly that this was not wind! It was clearly a huge black python that was nearly a hundred meters long and had a waist that was thicker than a bucket!

"Ah!" The berserk Python's disaster!

Seeing the large Python, the parents lost their minds and were immediately thrown into chaos. Their shrieks were deafening, and they wished they could just faint. The children were also so scared that they kept crying. The parents wanted to run away with their children, but they discovered in despair that their legs were soft and they had no strength at all. When the Python saw that its entrance had frightened many people, it felt rather pleased with itself. However, its cold eyes did not dare to look in the direction of Leng ruoxue and the demon. The leopard brothers had already warned it that among these humans, it could offend anyone but that terrifying couple!

After thinking about it, the Python deliberately extended its huge head in front of the little girl's parents. It even opened its mouth and stretched out its tongue to make a hissing sound. Then, it pretended to bite the little girl's mother. The little girl's mother was so scared that her eyes rolled back and she fainted.

Seeing that one of them had fainted from fright, the Python was very pleased. However, when it unintentionally met Leng ruoxue's clear eyes, the Python's cold vertical eyes revealed a trace of innocence.

It didn't do it on purpose, no way!

But it would not admit that it was playing a prank! Hehe! The Python secretly thought that it would be great if this woman also took a fancy to it. At that time, she could also give it some spiritual intelligence! The Python could not help but daydream.

"This snake is quite funny." Leng ruoxue watched the Python's every move and sent a message to the evildoer. However, the evildoer didn't think the same way. Instead, he gave the Python a warning look, which was obviously telling him to stop having any ideas about his wife!

After the Python was warned, it hurriedly retracted its gaze, unwilling to part with it. Then, with a light curl of its long tail, the little girl who was carrying the Tiger Cub was curled up high into the air. The little girl immediately cried even louder in fear. When the little girl's trembling father saw this, he said in a trembling voice, "Let, let go of my daughter!"

The Python understood and gave him a mocking look. It was a pity that it couldn't speak. Otherwise, it would definitely tell this human that since he had snatched away our Beastie's child, we would return the favor and snatch your child away. This was called an eye for an eye. It wasn't that he didn't want to take revenge, but it wasn't time yet!

Then, the Python handed the little girl, who was wrapped in its tail, to the Tiger couple.

The tigress took over the little girl, raised her paw, and gently swiped it across the girl's arm. The little tiger was released from the little girl's imprisonment, while the little girl fainted from the pain and shock.

The little girl's father saw that his daughter had also fainted, and there were five claw marks on her arm. He suddenly lost all fear and quickly shouted at the bodyguard beside him,""You guys are dead! Why are you still standing there? Hurry up and save my daughter!"

The bodyguards listened to their employer's words, but they still did not move. It was not that they did not want to move, but their bodies were all frozen in fear. What was even more abominable was that the huge Python was actually using its tail to tease them ...

The little girl's father saw that his bodyguards were so useless and was so angry that he almost vomited blood. At this time, a huge Snake Face suddenly appeared in front of him and looked at him affectionately. There was a fishy smell coming from the snake's mouth. The girl's father could not stand the strong smell and instantly fainted.

SUPREME CRAZY WIFE

Chapter 3110 The Black Python (2)

The Python had taken action and directly finished off the family of three. It had frightened the other parents so much that they didn't dare to breathe. Their small bodies were also shaking and they almost couldn't stand steadily. Obviously, the Python's power was above that of the Tiger couple. The Python was quite proud of such an outcome.

It wagged its head and crawled in front of the Tiger couple. The snake and the Tiger conversed for a while. Then, the Python gave Leng ruoxue a reluctant look before it slowly crawled into the depths of the forest and disappeared.

The veins on the demon's forehead could not help but throb as he watched the Python reluctantly turn its head every three steps and look at his wife like a wronged wife. Although he had already experienced his wife's charm among the beasts, those beasts had all developed spiritual intelligence. Why were these ordinary beasts like this now? Hey!

The demon was a little mad, and the sea of jealousy in his heart made him want to beat someone up.

Leng ruoxue could tell that her husband's face had turned black and was a little upset. She quickly hugged his arm coquettishly and said, "Hubby, let's leave too!"

The demon nodded and looked at the Tiger couple with a hidden meaning in his eyes. The two big tigers were so frightened that they didn't even dare to say goodbye to Leng ruoxue. They brought their child and disappeared into the forest. The demon was very satisfied with this. Otherwise, if this Tiger family of three had to bid farewell to him reluctantly, he would be even more driven mad!

Seeing that the beast had left and there were no casualties, the demon pulled his wife and left without looking back. The parents who were so scared that their faces turned pale quickly followed. Some of the parents couldn't help but say in a trembling voice, "Wait, wait for us! Don't leave us behind!"

After seeing that there were many large beasts here, they really didn't dare to travel alone.

In fact, they had only seen a few ferocious beasts! Including the Tiger Cub, there were only four of them. Most of the other beasts did not even show up.

What were the other beasts doing?

The answer was very simple, he was busy pleasing the three!

When Leng ruoxue and the demon found their sons, what they saw was the three of them being surrounded by many ferocious beasts. Those beasts had taken out many of their collections and were trying to please the three of them.

Leng ruoxue didn't know whether to laugh or cry when she saw this. No wonder his three sons did not come to the scene. It turned out that they had been entangled by these beasts.

However, when the ferocious beasts saw the outstanding human couple who had suddenly appeared in front of them, they all took a big step back in unison and remained vigilant.

When the three saw this, they quickly comforted him, "calm down!" They are our parents!"

Upon hearing that these were the three little ancestors 'parents, the eyes of the ferocious beasts lit up and they all looked at Leng ruoxue and the demon shyly.

Leng ruoxue and the evil black line, what are these guys trying to do?

"Benefactor, they are my friends. What do you think of them? Do you want to take them in as your errand boys?" The Black Panther spoke in a fawning manner. As the saying goes, we should share good fortune and misfortune together. Now that it had obtained great benefits, it naturally could not forget these Good Brothers who had been with it all this time!

"Why do you want to keep them? I'm not running a Zoo!" Leng ruoxue was speechless.

"Uh! I'll just keep it, and when I'm free, I can play with my little benefactor. " The Black Panther suggested.

All the beasts nodded in agreement. Although they were very ordinary, they were still very useful. There was no problem with guarding the house.

Facing the expectant gazes of the beasts, Leng ruoxue felt a slight headache.

"Mom, let them be our little brothers!" Seeing that his mother still didn't agree, Rui Sheng opened his mouth to plead.

"It's not that you can't let them be your little brothers, but they have so many mouths. How are you three going to raise them? You have to know that your little brother's father and mother won't care!" Leng ruoxue said with a stern face on purpose. Of course, she said this because she hoped to cultivate a sense of responsibility in her sons. If they were willing to take on the responsibility of these beasts, it wouldn't be a big deal for her to raise more beasts.

The three of them heard their mother's words and gathered together to discuss in whispers. The beasts did not stay idle and communicated in their beast language.

After a while, Rui Sheng spoke on behalf of his two younger brothers, ""Mom, we'll take care of them. We'll work hard to earn food for them."

These words were easy to understand, and all the beastmen were moved to tears. At this time, the black leopard also spoke on behalf of all the beastmen, ""Little benefactor, don't worry. The Beasties have discussed it and we'll strive to solve the problem of rations by ourselves!"

The Black Panther was extremely proud when it said this. It was a good thing that its brother was willing to earn his own keep! This time, the benefactor wouldn't refuse, right?

As expected, Leng ruoxue was a little surprised when she heard the Black Panther's words. After all, this was not the divine realm. It was extremely difficult for the beasts who had been living in the deep mountains to leave this place and earn their own keep. They might even be captured and taken to the zoo ... But since these beasts had this intention and her sons were willing to take them in, she naturally would not stop them.

Leng ruoxue then said to her sons in a serious tone,""Children, since you've decided to take them as your underlings, you can't abandon them no matter what happens. Remember, they're not pets, but your partners!"

The three of them nodded, then turned to the black leopard and said,""Tell them that we will take them into the spirit beast space and take them away. Tell them not to be afraid!"

The black leopard understood in an instant and roared a few times as a translator, and the other beastmen nodded in agreement.

A few seconds later, the three spirit beasts had moved the spirit beasts into the spirit beast space. At this moment, a black shadow rushed over and rolled around on the ground, acting cute.

The demon's face darkened when he saw this guy.

'Damn it!' Why was this Python here? Just as he was thinking about this, he saw three golden figures, two big and one small.

When the Tiger couple saw the evil demon's unfriendly eyes, they cowered a little, but they still bravely stayed where they were. On the other hand, the Tiger Cub did not know what fear was. Instead, it kept moving closer to the three.

It was obvious that the Tiger cubs liked the three of them very much. The three of them were also very fond of the fluffy and baby-like Tiger cubs, so much so that they even held the Tiger cubs in their arms and refused to let go.

Leng ruoxue was helpless. She knew that the Tiger Cub was very cute, and most children would find it hard to resist its charm. Otherwise, the previous incident wouldn't have happened. However, her three sons were not ordinary children at all. Why did they ...

Thinking about the beasts at home who could mimic others, his sons had never been so close to them.

Forget it. Since his son liked it, he could raise one beast or a group of beasts. He had already brought so many away, so it didn't matter if he brought a few more.

Seeing that their mother had acquiesced, the three of them happily put the few beasts that arrived later into the spirit beast space.

After returning to the small farm, the man had been pacing back and forth at the entrance uneasily. When he saw Leng ruoxue and the demon, he quickly went up to them and asked, "How is it? did anything happen?"

The man only felt at ease after he explained the matter simply and said that it had been resolved.

When the man saw the dispirited parents, he didn't know what to say. However, when he did a headcount, he realized that a family was missing.

"Why are there three people missing? Did any of you see them?" The man could not help but ask.

Everyone looked at each other, but no one said a word. In reality, the family of three that was missing from the list, as well as their bodyguards, were currently lying in the forest. When the parents brought their children away in a hurry to chase after Leng ruoxue and the demon, no one thought of bringing them away. Now that the man had asked, they were naturally too embarrassed to answer.

"Didn't you see?" The man was in a difficult position. It was getting late. If they didn't start the planting activity, they wouldn't be able to finish it today! He couldn't let these parents stay in the mountains for a night, right? It was foreseeable that the parents were definitely not mentally prepared to spend the night in the mountains. In addition, they were all frightened, so it was even more impossible for them to agree to spend the night in the mountains.

The parents remained silent. The man looked at Leng ruoxue helplessly, hoping that she would answer his question.

"Mr. Yang, you only have two choices at the moment. One is to cancel this planting activity, and the other is to start now," Leng ruoxue said calmly.

Ugh! After hearing Leng ruoxue's words, the man understood. That family of three most likely wouldn't be able to make it. However, he had thought that they had withdrawn from the event. He would never have thought that the family of three who couldn't make it were the culprits of the previous incident!

It was impossible to cancel the event, so he could only make do with it and start.

At the man's command, the parents went to his place to get their seeds and find a place to plant them.

Looking at the parents' negative attitude, the man's mouth couldn't help but twitch. This was the most boring planting activity in history. Out of all the parents, only Leng ruoxue's family was in high spirits and in high spirits.

Of course, it was mainly because the three of them were very excited and had a great time. In fact, their happiness had nothing to do with the farming activities. They were happy because they had recruited a lot of new followers.

In the end, the most boring planting activity in history came to an end. Needless to say, Leng ruoxue's family had obtained the highest score in the activity with an absolute advantage, and not a single parent had any objections.

After the planting activity, the parents asked the man to send them home.

The man was speechless, but he understood that the parents and children had suffered a great shock, so he happily fulfilled their requests.

Leng ruoxue and the demon brought their children and left with the parents.

As he watched Leng ruoxue's family leave, the black leopard, who was afraid of scaring people, hid away and cried like a baby!

Knowing that his son was being raised by someone else, the man felt rather upset, but he still patiently coaxed, ""Baby, don't cry. I'll take you to them tomorrow!"

"Thank you, dad." Hearing his father's promise, the little leopard immediately stopped crying.

The man couldn't help but sigh. A father can't control his son!

After he was done with his melancholy, the man packed up and left the small farmyard with his silly son, who was in the CAO camp but not in the heart.
