

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1091: Starting a War

As soon as the Leader 3 arrived in the realm and started investigating, Sam let one of his puppets leave a scroll near his residence and called it back along with the rest of the puppets he deployed.

It is about time for him to leave anyway. But before that, he painted a picture of perfect scenario at the spot where the mountain collapsed.

Now they have to go the leader 1's territory and do something from that side.

After reaching the city where Kiran and Vidyut made a mess, Sam let all the teammates go into the Ice divine dimension. He went to the Black Curtain Inn and asked a room. He paid a large price to get the most luxurious treatment the Black Curtain can offer and acted like a young master.

For two days, he chatted with the manager and came into contact with him at all times. On the second day, he started his plan.

He used a holographic projection technology to create a room exactly the same as the one manager used as an office. The table, the wood, the chair and everything is in the exact position.

Inside the room Kiran who disguised as the manager stood and started giving instructions to one of the subordinates. The subordinate is also an holographic projection and he is currently kneeling with his head down while listening to the instructions.

The subordinate is same as one of the dead bodies that Kiran and Vidyut brought.

They recorded the whole made up scenario and even let Kiran switch sides with the subordinate to speak while they made the manager into holographic projection.

The conversation is actually quite simple. First, the manager gave the instructions regarding some special explosives they got and how they should be used to defeat the leader 3 branch manager and deal with the investigators that came.

The subordinate understood all, but he asks, why he was given such a heavy task of leading the team even though he is not exactly the strongest of them.

The manager just brushed him off saying that he has some reasons.

Then another video was taken with the subordinate hidden in another place whispering.

"Master it seems like my cover was blown. I think the Leader 1 is trying to use this opportunity to spark some conflict between Leader 3 and you. That is why I am recording this video. I don't know if I will get a chance to send it to you. I hope you can find it. I overheard that the manager is already making preparations to make sure that my death looks legitimate and avoid suspicions."

With that the video ended.

Sam used two different recording crystals and didn't use the one he or his organization factory made. They are the most normal recording crystals one could ever find.

After finishing this, he went back to the Leader 3's territory and observed how he is doing with the investigation.

In the past two days while Sam is fabricating some evidence, the Leader 3 who found the scroll left behind by Sam already found the dead bodies of the Leader 1's people and his own in the mountain rubble. There are some traces of battle around the area.

He easily identified that they belonged to Leader 1 with the things in the spatial ring.

But they are still looking for more clues as the people went missing.

Sam was really surprised by this.

He was actually half expecting the Leader 3 to rush to Leader 1's territory and start a war after finding this out. After all, the whole scene was as natural as it could get. Sam didn't even clean up any traps he left, except for erasing the traces of his presence there.

But the Leader 3 is focusing more on the scroll that was left behind by Sam. He is feeling suspicious thinking whether someone is trying to screw him over. He believed that there is a great chance, someone is using him to clash with the Leader 1. It might be the plot of another leader.

That is why he held back and tried to find any other clues.

As they are searching around, Sam set up the recording crystals in the vicinity. He placed them in a obvious place, but the people can still understand why they couldn't find it until now. Once the recording crystals were found, the Leader 3 was stunned.

He is still suspicious of the scroll, but the recorded evidence is right in front of him to see. After all, he never heard or seen someone forging a recording in a crystal. But now that he saw this, and from the fact that it was found within the vicinities of the collapsed mountain, he is thinking that someone might have secretly helped him get this.

At least he believed so. Even though he couldn't understand what their motives might be, at least he is sure that the leader 1 indeed had something to do with this.

He immediately sent one of his trusted elites to the leader 1's territory. He gave him his badge so that he can look through the assassin registry in which they would record all the assassinations they took up and which assassin was assigned to each job.

The subordinate went there the very day and looked through the registry. Even though the manager didn't like this, he doesn't have the authority to stop someone with a leader badge on them.

He could only welcome them to look through the records.

After confirming the details of the dead assassin being dead but by a different cause, the subordinate is sure that the manager himself is the one who did this and this is definitely Leader 1's conspiracy.

The subordinate asked a few more questions to the manager and left in a hurry.

After returning back and reporting everything to leader 3, the leader stopped thinking and let rage take over him for a second.

"The First, you piece of shit. I will kill you with my own hands. I will definitely kill you. How dare you kill my son, you bastard."

He started cursing as he destroyed everything in his room. This is the first reaction he had after his son's death. Until now, he was extremely calm and collected as if the one who died is not his son rather a fellow colleague, and the investigation was also done as if it was his duty as a part of the organization. This is the first reaction from him as a father.

After calming down, he called for all his important associates and gave orders.

"Call for the Death soldiers. I want them to enter Leader 1's territory right now and deal with the assassins, branches, and everything that has anything to do with Leader 1 and his branch."

Use the emergency tokens of the outer forces and the Dead Clients and call them all. I am going to take over Leader 1 and kill him.

It seems like I have been too calm the whole time. I didn't want to deal with the other members of the organization and slowly wanted to separate myself from them, but now I will show them what will happen if they really piss him off.

All of you, follow me into the war."

With that, every associate is moving faster.

There is a reason why leader 3 is a strong contender for Leader 1. But the rest of the leaders knew why.

It is mostly because Leader 1 made him into one.

Out of the six leaders, leader 1 is the best assassin with the most success rate and kills. But Leader 3 has his own expertise. Not only his success rate and kills are right behind Leader 1 with a minute difference, but he also has great expertise in training. He has the best subordinates of all.

The rest of the leaders are all envious of his subordinates and Leader 1 who is on verge of becoming a leader even became afraid of this.

For this reason, he made a move on Leader 3 like an Idiot which made Leader 3 angry and from then on he started dealing with Leader 1's plans.

Everyone thinks that he is in the race for becoming the true leader of the organization, but what many people don't know is that the only reason they got that idea is because of all the trouble Leader 3 brought to leader 1 after he was pissed.

Every attempt of Leader 1 that could possibly give him a lead in the organization or get some good connections with external powers were all destroyed by leader 3 completely.

Since Leader 3 is attempting to sabotage leader 1 they assumed that he is also interested in the position of the leader. But he is not.

That is the only reason, that even though he has a lot of hidden power, he didn't show it to them. But today, he is going to do that, no matter what. Sam and the team stayed back and decided to watch a good show.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1092: Leader 3s strength

Sam and the team are currently in leader 1's territory.

They are currently in the city where the branch that they used and set up the whole scenario is located.

They are looking at the chaos that is occurring in the shadows without the citizens even knowing. They were surprised by the sheer number of experts that are under the command of Leader 3.

From the memories they gathered from the subordinates, they didn't get any information from this. There are more than a hundred Late transcendent cultivators under Leader 3 which is something that neither Sam nor the rest of the leaders expected.

Sam tried to gather some information, but everything is so tight with both of the branches, they are both attacking and defending against each other.

The team started thinking of ways to get a dead body and find some information, but for over a week, they didn't manage to get any. Shadow mice got some information, but nothing is crucial, it is more or less the battle plans of both parties.

Sam didn't want to make his presence known at the battlefields first. Most of them are assassinations and both sides are going at it discreetly. There are very rarely any flashy battles and provided by the fact that the first week both parties started taking out the weaker parties on each side just to reduce the numbers and morale for their opponents, it is completely understood.

To get more information, Sam even tried to get some dead bodies that died in this assassination spree and extract them from their souls, but that didn't happen, because every time they wanted to proceed someone from either side is coming to the spot.

Unless there is one high-profile clash with multiple members in the battle, it would be hard for them to get a hold of a body of a person that has any notable information.

So, they are pretty much just spectators for the whole week.

After one week though, they managed to find a place where a large-scale battle would take place.

It is an ambush on the remaining son of Leader 3 being planned by the branch manager of Leader 1 who also happened to be his son.

Son of Leader 3 and son of Leader 1 are going to clash and the people that are assigned to both of them are of pretty high level and are bound to have the proper information.

So, Sam and the team waited near the ambush place.

The son of Leader 3, from what Sam heard, he is actually no brain and only brawn. He is the guy that would look for a way to brute force through anything and the only time his brain works is when is assassinating somebody.

He doesn't have any talent in management whatsoever. In the past week from what Sam could estimate, he killed around eighteen members on the other side. Combining both the people that came after him and the people that he went after, he reached eighteen.

Now that he bared his fangs like that, the other party understood that he should be eliminated as soon as possible.

But Leader 3 is not stupid, so he immediately made preparations and sent a bunch of elites to protect his son and also kill everyone that came at them.

From the sheer numbers, Leader 3 is a clear advantage, now all that depends on the quality. From the looks of the people, it seems like Leader 3 also had an advantage in that.

As Sam saw the performance of these people, he is tempted to modify his plan.

At this moment, he wants both the leaders to fight each other and destroy each other forcing them to reveal their true prowess in both numbers and strength, he would only reveal himself at the last minute and finish them off and escape with the heirloom fragments without making his presence known.

Then, he would proceed to deal with the rest of the Black curtain.

But now that he saw Leader 3's prowess, he has half a mind to let him cause more chaos in the Black curtain. If he successfully destroyed the rest of the branches and even if he didn't, as long as he could damage them enough, Sam could swoop in and take everything away.

This ambush might be the deciding point of the change of plans. As far as Sam knew the Leader 3's son wouldn't know about the ambush, so he could see their group's performance.

As they hid a fair distance away, they looked through the surveillance set up as they waited for the ambush to take place.

After half an hour or so, Leader 3's son walked into the area with his group. But as soon as they walked into the group and the Leader 3's son became alert and made the first move. Sam was pretty impressed by this.

The battle went on, everyone is making killer moves and trying to defend themselves from others.

Just one proper hit is enough as long as it lands on the opponent and they will die. They are indeed skilled assassins.

The battle went on fifteen minutes and the Leader 3 group has the upper hand. But when Sam saw that one of them is dead and Leader 1 group already had several casualties, Sam thought of something and took out a different puppet, he changed the energy cell inside and let it go towards the battle field slowly.

He ordered the puppet to explode and an extremely flashy explosion occurred right in the middle of the battle field.

Even though it is flashy, it is not exactly powerful, but this made the already tension-filled contestants in the battlefield to flee without taking care of their fallen comrades.

Both sides thought that the explosion was caused by the opposite party and they thought that their opponents might have reinforcements coming to them.

Sam knew that this bluff wouldn't last long, so he immediately sent Night Ghost to capture all the corpses and they ran away instantly.

After reaching a hidden spot, they took out the corpses and performed the memory extraction.

Sam went through those memories and got as much information as they could.

The members of the Leader 1 group didn't give much information, it seems like Leader 1 operated the whole organization pretty calmly, the only secret he got is that the presence of death soldiers.

These are the specially groomed people that perform the mission they were assigned to irrespective of the cost.

They would blow themselves up if they have to kill the enemy. Their attitude towards death and their recklessness is their main weapon. They don't have any feelings, emotions and they couldn't be bought off.

And every branch leader has these people.

But just from one body of the Leader 3 group, they got some serious information.

For starters, the Leader 3 group also has death soldiers, but they are not that high in number, that is also the reason that even though the other leaders took Leader 3 as a threat, they didn't rank him as the highest threat.

As for the rest of the information, it shocked Sam.

There are other forces under the Leader 3 group that the rest of the groups didn't know of. The groups act as completely independent forces and on the surface they don't have any connections with the Black curtain, they managed to cover it up really well because they are mostly disguised as the merchant groups.

These people are called the External forces of Leader 3 and they act mostly in intelligence and scouting.

They operate a myriad of businesses and they come in contact with many types of people making it easier for them to gather any form of information.

They also look for talented kids in perilous situations and send them to Leader 3 who nurtures them into the deadly soldiers under him.

And then came the Dead clients.

Dead Clients is another force under Leader 3 and the existence of these forces is only known to extremely close confidants.

They are actually the people that are supposed to be dead under the hands of the Black Curtain, particularly under the hands of the rest of the groups other than the Leader 3.

Leader 3 has a great spy network by which he managed to gather a lot of information in other branches. But what most people know is that the spies of Leader 3 are not exactly focused on getting into high positions, but rather they are focused on getting into lower positions like the attendants who take jobs, or people who record the registry of the clients and the assassination targets.

His main target is that information and once someone obtains the information of someone putting a bounty on a powerful target, they will relay to the Leader who will try to contact the target before the Black curtain could take action and convinces him to join his force.

Even though it doesn't work most of the time, there are some targets who took his help to escape the situation in exchange for a favor.

Sam was impressed as he went through the memories and got more and more information.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1093: Chisk

Sam became more and more impressed as he learned about the Dead Clients.

Even in these Dead Clients, there are two sub groups one with the people that owe favors to Leader 3 and come and help him in case of emergencies, but the second group is the most lethal.

These are the people that are targeted by the Black Curtain because of the large sum of money offered by some large organizations. Even if they manage to escape the Black Curtain, they wouldn't be able to live a peaceful life.

Simply, put if an organization is super strong but cannot act on the target in the public eye directly and pick Black Curtain to do the job, Leader 3 will go to them, save them create a fake death that is particularly convincing, give them a new identity and finally taking him under him.

Now, Sam understood why there are so many people under Leader 3.

His branch alone is equivalent to a high-level phase three organization of the list. And now combined with the remaining five, Sam felt really glad that he decided to not mess with them directly and used tricks to make them fight within themselves.

He also decided to use Leader 3 to start going after the rest of the branches.

Anyway, the rest of the branches are already having some thoughts of their own and they are sure to act on them given the time and scenarios.

In fact, Sam is even tempted to directly meet Leader 3 and cut a deal straight away. But he knew for sure that it wouldn't go as well as he planned if he knew that Sam is the one who really killed the Leader's son.

But he got another plan with the extra information he got from this guy's head.

Because even though he is a close associate of Leader 3, he is actually a person who worked in Leader 2's territory before acting as a spy for Leader 3, and from the looks of it, there is the realm in which half of it is managed by Leader 2 and the other half is managed by Leader 1.

The representative of Leader 2 in that realm working as a branch manager is actually a bit eccentric which could be taken advantage of a bit.

This guy is actually the younger brother of Leader 2 and is full of ambitions. But he is not smart enough to have such ambitions, so the spy from Leader 3 managed to make use of his destroyed some serious earning opportunities and is also cost a lot of client credibility. As a result, he was demoted to a level of branch manager from a high-level executive and was even sent to a planet that was in the realm shared by both Leader 1 and Leader 2.

This caused him to lose his standing within the organization, so he is trying to bounce back. As soon as Sam learned this information, new plans were formulated in his mind. An ambitious idiot can easily be manipulated and is bound to be less problematic to do so.

So, he set off with the team to that planet and let Leader 1 and Leader 3 duke it out here.

The planet they are entering is the Drake Planet.

It was once a planet full of wildlife and wildlife alone and the apex predators are different types of Drakes.

Drakes of different species and elemental affinities are used to occupy different areas.

This time, Sam also wanted to collect some drakes to breed. They don't have much higher bloodline like dragons, but once he used his bloodline refinement techniques, they could be good mounts for the students and other employees in the organization and with his current cultivation level, if he used the bloodline refinement on the mortal plane beasts, he could refine bloodline of over a hundred beasts at the same time.

While thinking about all this, they arrived at the drake planet.

They directly went to the city where their target is. His name is Chisk.

This time Sam didn't go to him directly and just observed him from afar with the surveillance and the shadow mice for three days and just as Sam expected this guy is not slacking off.

He is making some preparations and particularly, he is moving around meeting with a bunch of family heads trying to get some help from them in the form of strong cultivators so that he could take over the business of Black curtain in one of the cities under Leader 1.

But he didn't manage to get any help from anyone.

One could easily understand just how low his standing in the Black Curtain was. Leader 3's son was taken care of properly by the local lord, but here the branch manager was being completely ignored.

Sam couldn't help but smile as he thought of how easy it is going to be.

Chisk is trying so hard to get some support and when he was getting drunk Sam also managed to learn that this guy actually asked his older brother, Leader 2 for some manpower so that he could take over a city or two from leader 1's territory.

But the only answer he got was that it is not possible.

He knew that his brother looked down on him, so the rest of the organization also did so and then the rest of the world did so.

He is trying to regain his dignity.

While the situation is like this, Kiran suddenly made an appearance in front of Chisk in a bar with his disguise.

Kiran is only a middle stage transcendent cultivator of the Astral Plane and even Kiran can hold him off a bit.

He went directly to the table of Chisk in the private room in the most unsuspecting of the disguises he could think of.

"Who the fuck are you?" Chisk asked as soon as he saw Kiran.

Kiran just smiled and sat down before opening a wine gourd, when Chisk smelled the wine, he couldn't help but feel a bit entranced.

Kiran poured the wine into two crystal glasses and spoke.

"Master Chisk, I heard you are in need of manpower."

Chisk frowned and said in a cautious tone.

"I don't know what you are talking about."

"No need to play dumb, Master Chisk. I know a lot of things than you think. I am here to offer a deal. If you accept it, I assure you, you can gain a lot more than just one city. I am sure that you would regain your footing in the Black Curtain."

Chisk's frown became deeper as he got ready to make a move.

But at this moment, he suddenly felt a chilling sensation on his back, he couldn't exactly sense a physical presence, but he could feel that something horrifying is behind him.

"Don't be rash now, Master Chisk. My companion is in the next room and he happened to be a lot stronger than you, before you could even make a move, you would die. If all I want is to kill you, you wouldn't even know how and why you died."

"What do you want?"

Chisk asked nervously.

"I need your help and in exchange, I would help you. My boss has some bad blood with the Leader¹ of your organization and he has been wanting to deal with him for a long time. In fact, we came from a realm far away from here.

If not for the involvement of Leader 3, we would have already made our move, but since this already happened, we decided to take advantage of this opportunity.

To ensure the destruction of Leader 1, we would reduce their forces and influence in their cities while they are at war.

And once we caused that destruction, I want another branch to take over those cities so that Leader 1 couldn't revive. Since you are the one closest to this area, we would like to ask you to take care of this.

We don't need any territory or resources that you obtain for yourself. The resources we obtain for ourselves would be ours, but we wouldn't take any territory.

Are you interested in the proposal?"

Chisk thought for a moment and said.

"How can I trust you? Not the just fact that there is a possibility of you betraying me, but there is also a chance that you are not even capable of what you are saying. What should we do then? How can you prove that working with you wouldn't be a loss?"

"It is not unreasonable of you to ask that. Then, do one thing. Come to Python city tomorrow. You can see something beautiful. The branch of the Black curtain will be met with a disaster and it would be of dark elemental energy.

After you see that might, you can think about whether you want to agree or not. We can meet in the most expensive bar in Python city at night. I will come and meet you myself."

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1094: Chisks conquest

Kiran hurriedly went back to the hiding spot after misleading the people following him. He came alone to meet with chisk and the only thing that accompanied him is one of the ghosts of Night Ghost.

After reaching the location of the team, they immediately set off to go to the python planet with a dimensional drifter.

The black curtain branch of the python planet is currently desolate, except for a few people who are necessary for maintaining the side businesses of the branch there are not many people. They even stopped the inn services for a while and even the assassination assignments were put on hold.

So, they didn't take long to find the exact location and set up some traps.

By noon the next day, they are done with all of that.

This time, Sam only used dark elemental liquid energy cells and blasted the inn.

The whole city was shocked. Some big shots in the city heard about the war between the two branches and they knew that their territory is within the range of the Leader 1 branch. They anticipated some chaos within the city.

But since this is the battle of assassins, they are not that worried about their lives and territories being disrupted and now it seems like they are being too relaxed. They didn't know that the black curtain would make this type of move.

So, in order to not disrupt the peace in their territories, they started making preparations.

Chisk also appeared in the city that morning secretly and kept an eye on the inn.

When he saw what happened by afternoon, he was stunned.

He saw a dark elemental energy explosion emerging from within the inn and destroying everything into smithereens.

The explosion left a large dark elemental energy cloud which is extremely volatile, when one of the city guards went there to investigate, his body was immediately infused with dark elemental energy and made him get poisoned by elemental energy, he even died shortly after that.

This scene caused Chisk to go crazy. He immediately ran to the most expensive bar in the city and waited there for Kiran to come.

If anyone sane was in his place, they would think of a different matter. If Kiran and his group were this strong and could create such a large commotion without even leaving any evidence, then why would they come for some lost cause executive who doesn't even have any influence within his own organization? Only after finding any possible answer, no matter how farfetched, one should make a deal.

But Chisk is stupid and as soon as he saw the power of another party, he immediately became excited and got ready to make a deal.

Kiran didn't show up at the bar until night, but the team is observing this guy from afar.

He is muttering to himself, sometimes even talking out loud, sometimes laughing to himself, it is as if he is a crazy guy.

If not for the fact that he ordered the most expensive wine and sat in a private room, the manager would have kicked him out.

Kiran arrived at the bar at night and went directly into the private room. He wore the same disguise as the day before and he is completely nonchalant as he spoke.

"So, are you ready to make an agreement?"

"Yes, Yes. Just what do you want me to do, tell me and I will do it."

"I heard Black Curtain has a process of taking over the city branches by another branch manager if the local manager dies suddenly or stuck in special situations.

We will be creating those special situations. Most of the time, people might go missing or even death with a lot of damage to the branch quarters.

You just come over and take over the area. I don't want anything going back to Leader 1. That is it."

"But what would you get out of this."

"As I told you, my boss wants revenge that is it."

"Do not worry, I will definitely help you with this," Chisk said as he extended his hand to shake on the deal.

Kiran looked at him with a dumbfounded expression. It could be said that the deal is completely benefiting Chisk. He wouldn't need to do much and just has to take over the extra territory and he is still acting as if he is doing Kiran a favor by taking over.

This kind of behavior is a bit unexpected for Kiran as he never came across someone so shameless.

He just shook his hand and stood up to leave, but right before that, he took out a spatial ring and handed it over to Chisk.

"As you are short of manpower, hire some people with this. I am pretty sure there are many people who want to join for a decent sum of money."

When Chisk looked through the contents his eyes gleamed with greed, but he suppressed it and thought of how to hire people.

"It wouldn't be enough in long term, but the money would be enough to hire people for one or two cities. You need to use the resources you obtained in every new branch to pay for people. But if you are short money even after that, you can ask me since we keep in touch. But don't you dare try to bite off more than you can chew.

After all, you are also a branch manager that runs an inn similar to the one that we destroyed today."

With that warning, Kiran left.

Chisk also left instantly, the very next day, by noon, he already arrived and took over the Black Curtain branch.

There is always the spare in with curses and killing formations in every branch, in the situations like these, that inn would be used as base of operations and even the emergency reports and contact methods of elites and other branches will be placed there in secret.

He took them and summoned all the elites by night and took over as the temporary branch manager.

The Elites are familiar with this process. It is not the first time this happened and they sure as hell knew that this is not going to be the last time. The term temporary only stays temporarily. Every time a temporary branch manager took over, that branch will always go to the leader he is working for and the elites have to work for them unless they say so themselves.

After Chisk took over the first city, he couldn't stop his glee from showing on his face.

Sam and the team moved to the next city and started planning something. The branch manager of this city actually wanted to take over the previous city but Chisk beat him to it, so he became a bit suspicious as well as cautious.

But it is of no use.

Two days later, Kiran contacted Chisk again asking him if he would take over another branch for which Chisk agreed instantly.

And another branch was destroyed instantly.

Chick hired a bunch of people and took over this city as well.

Now everyone from Black curtain became suspicious as soon as they heard the news. One city was already okay for Chisk to take over as everyone knew that he is desperate to get some credit and he might have reacted instantly.

But now they are suddenly feeling that something is wrong.

And after four more days, another city was taken over by Chisk and all three city branches are destroyed in the same way.

If the Black curtain didn't understand what is happening, they would all be idiots.

Leader 2 who is supervising the war that has been dragging on for a long time got the news and immediately called for Chisk and Leader 1 who is supervising the war also heard of the news and realized that someone is putting his ass on fire.

So, he couldn't help but send some people to inquire, when he got the report he was stunned.

He doesn't know what to do exactly, but leader 3 is not even giving him any breathing space, so he cannot do anything for now. He has to deal with this after the war was over.

Since Leader 1 himself didn't do anything, the rest of the Black Curtain stayed silent.

But Leader 2 is afraid of what would happen if he let Chisk do whatever he wants.

He sent people to call Chisk directly and wanted to talk to him, but for some reason, three days passed without any response.

Even if Chisk didn't want to come, the messengers would have come back and said so. But now the messengers disappeared and Chisk is nowhere to be seen.

One week passed like this. Every attempt Leader 2 made to meet with Chisk was repelled and he wasn't able to talk to him even once. He wasn't even able to give a message at all.

In this week, Chisk managed to 'conquer' two more cities and is on cloud nine.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1095: Recording Crystals

Chisk doesn't know that his brother is trying to contact him, because Sam and the team tried their best to stop every single messenger that wanted to approach Chisk and made them disappear. They killed some, they imprisoned some in the chessboard, but not a single message was passed to Chisk.

But after this week, Sam imitated the writing of Leader 2 and modified the scroll. He had to use some special tricks to change the message so that the scrolls would still have the spiritual imprint of the Leader 2.

Sam never expected that such a forgery would take such a long time.

Kiran disguised as one of the captured messengers and took the scroll to Chisk.

Inside the scroll, the original message was for Chisk to stop the madness and go back to Leader 2 instantly, but the current message is about praising Chisk for his contributions and telling him to expand the territory even more and even faster.

Sam made sure that they recorded the interaction between the 'messenger' and Chisk. He doesn't know whether he would be able to use it later, but it is better than having nothing when the situation arises.

Chisk met with Kiran and showed his brother's message. He wanted to use his brother's support as well as Kiran's support to expand faster and Kiran immediately granted his wish by agreeing to it.

The whole realm was subverted into chaos as Chisk rapidly took one city after another and Leader 1 couldn't bear it anymore.

A realm that was originally shared by Leader 1 and Leader 2 is currently only being occupied by Leader 2's forces. This is obviously a slap in the face for him.

And all the development just happened in another week.

This change caused Leader 2 to become anxious. Out of six since two are in a war, the rest didn't want to involve themselves in this shitty situation and get themselves messed up.

It is almost like a pact.

Leader 2 was extremely careful and only sent messages to Chisk because he didn't want to give the other leaders any wrong ideas. If by any chance they misinterpreted his presence in the territory of Leader 1 as a sign of his alliance with leader 3 and all the activities conducted by Chisk were misunderstood as his own actions, things would get tricky.

The remaining three will definitely think that Leader 2 and Leader 3 are planning to steal the organization for themselves and they would gang up.

But this sudden rapid occupation made him terrified. With Sam and his team's presence, the communication between him and Chisk has already gone down the hill. Both are getting the messages only Sam wanted them to get.

So, he was a little unaware of this sudden expansion.

After he learned of it, he couldn't control himself anymore and decided to secretly go and meet with Chisk so that he would stop his madness.

But as soon as he entered the city that Chisk is in, a large ice structure appeared outside of the city, and inside the ice, structure is the bodies of the assassins and branch managers under Leader 1.

When Leader 2 saw this he was shocked.

Because he is an ice elemental user and the way the assassins were killed was actually his own method. This is his way of doing things when he encountered some interesting targets.

After the initial shock, he realized something. When his brother is not responding, he already understood that there might be an involvement of a third party in this whole mess and now that he has seen this with his own eyes, he is sure of it.

Now, this news will definitely spread, and anyone from the Black Curtain who saw this ice structure would definitely think that he is the one that made all this mess. This is tantamount to declaring war against Leader 1.

He wanted to destroy the structure immediately. But at this moment, the person he wanted to talk to for over two weeks just came over.

Chisk had a grin on his face as he came running towards his brother.

"My Brother, you are indeed a level above me. Look at the ice structure. I didn't expect you to be bolder than me."

PAK

Leader 2 immediately slapped the face of Chisk and said.

"What the hell is wrong with you? Why are creating such a mess? No, I don't have time. I need to destroy that structure immediately. I will deal with you later."

He immediately ran out of the city and started destroying the structure. But he is not relieved at all, as he knew that the problem was already created.

He came back and asked his men to capture Chisk.

They went to the Black Curtain branch and he asked.

"What the hell did you do, you fool? Do you want me to die?" Leader 2 said exasperatedly.

"What do you mean brother? Our territory expanded half a realm because of me? Shouldn't you at least show me some appreciation?"

"You want appreciation? Your piece of shit, don't you know how much mess you have created?"

"What kind of mess are you talking about? I didn't attack each and every city. They are all attacked by some third party, I only took over following the rules."

Listening to his answer, Leader 2 doesn't even know whether he should scold his brother or not.

"You are indeed stupid. Can't you see? Even if there is no proof, there is no third party's presence that is visible to anyone and every city was destroyed in the same way and every time you were right on time to take over. Do you really think that everyone would be as stupid as you? If it was one or two times, nobody would care whether you are really connected to the attacks or not, but it happened over a dozen times. Now they don't even have to think about the so-called evidence.

And where is this third party that you are talking about? I want to meet them."

"He said he would meet you tonight. We need to wait."

"Tonight? What is his name?"

"He said it was Ash."

"Why did he even made a deal with a guy like you?"

"He said that it is revenge for his boss?"

"What is his boss' name?"

"I don't know."

"What organization do they belong to?"

"I don't know."

"What realm did they come from?"

"I don't know."

"Just what do you know about them?" Leader 2 asked in an exasperated sigh.

He is fifty percent sure that the other party is just playing. Not giving any details regarding them other than a name and that too, the name doesn't even have a last name, even if it had, they are not sure whether it is true or not.

He tried to ask all kinds of questions but there was no use. The only thing Chisk was able to answer is that they are rich and powerful and they are the ones who destroyed the bases.

They waited till night and went to the meeting spot. But no matter how long they waited there is no sign of another party. Now, Leader 2 is completely sure that his brother was played. He looked at his brother in exhaustion he doesn't even have any energy to be angry at him.

They didn't even bother waiting to see their reactions and how they would proceed after they placed the ice structure outside the city.

They just left and this time, they went to the core areas of Leader 1's territory.

Kiran disguised as a different person and went to the Black Curtain Inn. He is extremely nervous.

At least he acted so. He held a recording crystal and spoke to the manager in a nervous tone.

"S... Sir, I am a low-level hunter. I went hunting for some beasts this morning in the forest and I saw someone cleaning a battlefield from a cliff. It seems like someone has fought intently and the whole place is a mess.

After I left, I went to check the place to see if I could gain anything, but on my way, I found one of them on dying breath. He seemed to have been injected with a special poison. He gave me this spatial ring and asked me to give it to you."

The branch manager frowned and took a look at the contents of the spatial ring. Looking at the recording crystals, he frowned and took a look at them.

They are all the interactions of the messengers and Chisk. He was dumbfounded.

"Describe the person that gave you this."

"His face is unrecognizable. But he wore black-cloaked attire."

"Where is his body? Show me the way."

"I caught a glimpse at the people who killed them, sir. After disposing of the dead bodies they came searching for him. I don't know if he is still there. But I can show you the spot."

"Quickly, lead the way."

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1096: Myriad Curse guide

Similar scenarios happened in all the territories of the Black curtain. Every leader somehow got a copy of the recording crystals from Leader 2's territory and everyone was stunned by how rampant Leader 2 is.

From the recording crystals, they speculated that leader 2 is full of himself and wanted to use the craziness of his brother as an excuse to conquer the territory of Leader 1.

Some of them speculated that he is in cahoots with Leader 3, some thought that he is just taking advantage of Leader 1, but either way, they are not going to let this go easily.

They need to do something.

At this moment, Leader 1 left the frontlines and met with Leader 4. Leader 1 and Leader 4 are the only ones who have a rather good relationship. Leader 1 wants power and authority while Leader 4 wants money and resources along with luxuries.

Unlike Leader 1, Leader 4 knew his limits and understood that he wouldn't be able to grow much and he already realized all his potential. So, he doesn't want to fight for authority and territory, not even glory is worth it in his opinion. All he wants is some peace and luxury.

So, even among the leaders, he is more like a mercenary and most neutral of them. But he is also the one who is easy to change.

Leader 1 immediately met him secretly and offered a sweet deal.

"I will manage the territory in your stead and you don't have to take any additional responsibilities, but seventy percent of the profits that come will be handed over to you. Support me in this battle, as long as we get a female target, I will capture them and bring them to you.

Just help me this once. Leader 2 is not as strong as you. You can deal with him, while I fight with Leader 3."

Leader 4 agreed immediately. He made these kinds of deals with Leader 1 many times, so he didn't have any problem.

So, he started attacking Leader 2's territory and started occupying the very same day. He is subtler than Chisk and he is perfectly proficient in doing so.

Looking at the Leader 4's movements, the remaining two leaders felt left out. Now four leaders are involved in the war and the two of them wanted to stay out and take advantage when everything went astray.

But they knew that it would be impossible.

And soon they got some news that Leader 2 joined Leader 3 as soon as Leader 4 joined the battle. Now there are two groups with two leaders in each and the two leaders single and outside.

Whether they joined the forces are not, a clash is bound to happen when the current wars are over. A new war is bound to happen, no matter what.

Sam looked at the whole situation and couldn't help but smile to himself.

But he didn't stay put because of this. He went to Leader 5's core territory where the main branch is located and placed a high-profile assignment.

It is to kill a middle stage transcendent cultivator of a certain power.

Sam's rewards are different. If the assignment is completed within two days, then the black curtain would get triple the amount.

The leader was delighted by such an assignment and sent an elite immediately.

Meanwhile, Sam and the team notified the target of the Black Curtain operations indirectly making him prepare.

The target is actually a young master of a different organization. Even though he is not exactly powerful, he is the future hope of the organization and this organization is named the Phoenix tail sect.

This is one of the organizations under Indra.

Since the three of them messed with Sam by making their subordinates alert and made him run circles, he wanted their organizations to suffer as well.

With Gamblers warning this time, they would be extremely vigilant about doing something stupid like before.

But Sam can do whatever he wants and until the news reached the gods, he could play with their subordinates as much as he wanted.

For the next two weeks, he roamed around with his team and started conflicts between many people and the black curtain.

More than twelve realms dwelled in chaos because of his actions.

After creating all the mess, he waited for the people involved to blow it out of proportion and let his team keep an eye.

As long as the leaders are clashing directly, then he would make a move, but from the looks of it, it would take a few months for it.

So, he decided to study and research meanwhile and cultivate at the same time.

He is currently involved in the Myriad curse guide.

This book actually subverted everything that Sam knew about curses.

The contents of the books can be divided into four basic categories.

The first one is direct curses.

The Curses are basic and profound at the same time.

Rotten curse, Curse of Pain, the curse of chaos, the curse of destruction, the curse of hallucination, the curse of sleep, the curse of fear. There are many curses that are cast directly face to face or indirectly, but all these are curses that have immediate effect.

They came in the second part of the book. It is about elemental curses. These are various methods to use different elemental energy attacks to fuse with dark elemental energy to create a special curse.

In the second category, all the elemental attacks can be converted into curses. For example, a fireball can be fused with the curse spell and inflicted on the target, instead of the flashy fireball moving through the whole area, the curse will be placed on the target directly and the target will undergo all the changes that the fireball brings to their body. Like charring and the burning pain and the damage that the fireball would inflict and at the same time, a normal curse could be attached to attack. A curse of pain that caused immense pain in the soul of the person can be attached to the fireball and when the fireball strikes the person, not only would they take the damage caused by the fireball, the curse of pain will also be inflicted on them.

The third category is a fusion of curses. Its purpose is fusing basic curses with a Medium that doesn't have any other effect other than acting as a binding agent for merging the curses. And these curses are not suitable for landing in a direct battle, rather they are better to be set traps or attached to the projectile weapons and be launched at people.

In this merging process, an elemental curse and normal curse can be fused. Two normal curses can be fused, two elemental curses can be fused and in the same way, the numbers are not exactly limited to two, the maximum number of curses they could fuse is ten.

The fourth category is the concept of dispelling the curses.

There are many ways on how the curse can be dispelled, there are many explanations using the construction methods that were given in the previous three categories.

Sam was really impressed by Hel's detailed analysis. It could be said that Sam looted more from Hel than any other god. He got the whip from her Palace of Inheritance, he got the repel stylebook and now he got this Myriad Curse guide which in his opinion nowhere inferior to the Repel style.

He could think of many ways to use these things. He already had planned on how to use these to enhance Night Ghost's strength as well as to improve all the weapon systems he had.

For the next two months, Sam mostly started experimenting with curses. He never uses the dark elemental energy this much directly. Most of the time, he used death or even shadow elemental energy. This is the first time he used the dark elemental energy this much.

After constant practice, Sam came out. The war also reached its peak stage. Leader 3 cornered Leader 1 with the help of Leader 2. As for Leader 4, he was actually kept at bay with the reserve forces of Leader 3. More than half of Leader 4's forces were eradicated in the process, but Leader 3 still managed to bring more forces as if he didn't suffer any loss.

Now, Leader 1 and Leader 3 are on verge of clashing directly, in fact, there are already some skirmishes in the process of saving some elites they couldn't lose.

While these four forces are like this, Leader 5 and Leader 6 are in their own pickling situations.

Sam made them lock horns with some pain in the ass organizations by placing bounties and revealing them directly to the targets. But they are not on the verge of complete extermination.

But that was enough for Sam, all he wanted is for them to have some problems.

Anyway, as soon as the current war within Black Curtain was over, the remaining leaders would try to vie for the territory of the fallen ones and in process, there are bound to be more conflicts and that is enough for Sam to blow it out of proportion and deal with them.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1097: Using Curses

Sam and the team moved to the city where Leader 3 is currently located.

Both leaders are in the same realm at the moment but in extremely different situations. Leader 1 lost almost all of his troops except for some close confidants.

The rest of them all died. Now all that is left is a direct clash between him and Leader 3 which could subvert the situation.

While Leader 3's group is tracking, Leader 1 is escaping and hiding while killing Leader 3's troops here and there. He threw all the rules of war out of the window. Since all his territory is occupied by Leader 2 and Leader 1, there is nothing much they could do to him in return.

But he is sure that once he was spotted, the game would reach the final stage and he wanted to deal as much damage as possible.

The team got this information and decided to help Leader 3 a bit by tracking the other party. So, first, they placed surveillance at Leader 3's place and then waited for his move.

And the very next day, Leader 3 got the news and he moved along with his group. Sam sent some surveillance equipment closely with them so that he could capture a hint of audio on where they would be going. As long as he got a city name, he is sure that he could help leader 3.

After much effort, he managed to get the city's name as Leader 3 briefed his soldiers while they are moving.

Sam didn't even bother to call for all the surveillance equipment directly by himself. He left Agar and Argan there to collect the equipment as well as keep an eye on the troops of Leader 3 to see if they could find anything.

He also gave them some transference scrolls so that they could move faster towards the city Sam is currently going if something happens.

Sam then used the Dimensional drifter to move to that city destination faster. He arrived only around twenty meters outside the city and already let out of the surveillance equipment without even bothering to examine the surroundings. He and the team ran towards the city while dropping the surveillance equipment.

When they reached the city, there is still commotion and they followed the group to see where the commotion leads.

Soon, they found themselves in the Black Curtain inn's location, where the inn is completely destroyed.

Leader 1 and his group are not low profile at all, there is only a pillar left intact in the whole inn and there are a bunch of dead bodies tied to it.

They heard the whispers around and found out that Leader 1 is still in the city.

Sam understood why that guy is so leisure. He just wants to piss off Leader 3.

He could wantonly do what he wanted and since it would take a few hours for Leader 3 to come and do anything, he would leisurely relax for a while before leaving the place. Sam even heard someone saying that Leader 1 throwing out to a challenge Leader 3. He said that he would stay for an hour and a half in the city and he wants to let Leader 3 come and get him if he can.

It is just a fake provocation. He is neither going to be there when Leader 3 comes and nor does he stand on fighting directly if Leader 3 really comes.

But Sam decided to take this chance to his own advantage.

He immediately took residence in an inn with the team and let Five elemental King take control of the surveillance.

Meanwhile, he and Night Ghost sat in seclusion.

Sam sat cross-legged as he let Dark elemental energy envelop him completely and soon half of it is converted into shadow elemental energy.

Their energies merged together and soon an energy ball slowly started forming in front of Sam floating in mid-air.

Night ghost looked at the ball and could feel some sinister aura from it along with a lot of shadow elemental energy.

As the ball grew bigger and bigger, it took a few minutes to stop at a certain size.

Sam opened his eyes and looked at Night Ghost who understood instantly and brought curse ghost out.

The cursed ghost looked at the ball of energy intently and Night Ghost could feel its greed-filled emotions, with just a mere thought of approval, the ghost completely devoured the curse.

Sam didn't stop there though.

He immediately started conjuring another curse and this time, the dark elemental energy ball that appeared in the air, and soon Sam's fire elemental energy started riling up.

He activated fire elemental fusion and breathing a lot of air the surrounding spiritual energy was completely absorbed. He is using the bloodline art of Golden Sun crow. The large streak of golden flames was shot at the dark energy ball and one could see that both energies are merging perfectly.

Sam became exhausted. If it is a normal scenario, maybe he wouldn't have a need to use so much of his energy and would have been possible to use two to three bloodline arts.

But storing a bloodline art in a curse is something unfathomable. In fact, even Hel who created the technique wouldn't have thought of using something like this.

Using a bloodline art of such high caliber to mix with a curse? No one with a sane mind would think of that. For many people, the curse is a disgusting art while bloodline art is something noble. How could they ever think of mixing them up?

But Sam did. The only classification he had regarding the arts are, useful, useless, forbidden. And that is it.

When the cursed ghost saw this curse, it became excited beyond belief. Night Ghost didn't feel such a strong reaction from any of his ghosts much less Cursed Ghost which has the least activity of them all.

He let the cursed ghost swallow it and this time, the ghost took some time before it completely digested it.

After they are done, Sam then sent Night Ghost and the team to attack Leader 1 and his team while he rested inside the divine dimension. He is completely powerless at the moment because of his two curses.

Night Ghost directly went to the restaurant that was occupied by Leader 1 and his team.

They created an explosion on the road with a small energy crystal right outside the restaurant, which made the leader 1 alert.

He immediately came out with his team and observed. When he noticed that Night Ghost is just a late-stage cultivator, he became confident and wanted to deal with him right away.

But another explosion happened as Vidyut used an arrow to shoot a small liquid energy cell to shoot at the restaurant.

Within the commotion, Night Ghost immediately let the cursed ghost out and let it attack Leader 1 with the two new curses it got.

The first curse fell on the Leader making him feel stupefied. Before he could think of what is happening, suddenly a shadow silhouette similar to his rose from the shadow and started fighting with the Leader 1.

This is one of the curses that cause the shadow counterpart from the shadow world to emerge and make a fight with the owner.

It is not exactly something that could kill the other party, but it would inflict some decent damage and it would also be extremely time-consuming.

There is no need for him to worry about the scenario.

At the same time, the cursed ghost launched another attack and this time it is the Curse mixed with the bloodline art of golden sun crow.

When Night Ghost felt the energy consumption for this attack he was stunned.

He is a Late-stage transcendent cultivator. One realm of cultivation was their difference in strengths.

But even he felt a pinch from the attack, much less Sam. He now understood why Sam was so tired.

As soon as the curse landed...

"AAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH...."

Leader 1 screamed on top of his lungs. After all, the second curse is not exactly a small thing. Even if he is a Peak stage transcendent cultivator, currently he is defenseless too. The burning sensation that would happen when his flesh was burned with the bloodline art.

Taking this to his advantage the shadow silhouette started attacking.

The fight between them will go on for a while and in the meantime, the rest of the team started attacking Leader 1's team.

The battle on that side didn't last long, but leader 1's battle with his own shadow is going longer than anyone expected. It is almost like a circus freak show.

Even when leader 1 wanted to get out of the situation, there was nothing he could do. The shadow is moving along with him.

He couldn't sever his own shadow after all.

So, he could only fight.

Sam came out after the plan was perfectly established and he asked Night Ghost to take of the cursed ghost once again.

There is one more plan he wanted to use and he quickly recovered with the Heavenly wine to make another curse. This time it is not a bloodline technique, Sam wanted to use a different approach.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1098: Carrier Curse

Sam first created a medium that could fuse three normal direct curses. He merged three curses of pain. It didn't take much energy and Sam made three more fused curses just like that. But he didn't use the same curse of pain on it, instead, he used the curse of flesh corrosion, the curse of illusion, and the curse of slumber.

All of them are different curses and effects different parts of the body and mind.

After created four of these curses which are individually formed by merging three same curses, Sam once again created a different medium and merged four of these curses together.

He didn't stop after that, he called for Five elemental King.

"I want you to use your trump card. An attack that could use five elemental energies."

Five elemental king was curious on why Sam wanted to use that attack, but he just nodded and complied.

Sam instantly started curse generation and gestured the five elemental king to attack the dark energy ball.

When the five elemental energies fused together and gathered in Five elemental King's palm, he hit the dark energy ball.

But to his surprise, nothing happened. Only the energy and the momentum in his arm disappeared and dissolved into the dark energy ball.

Sam called for Paras next and asked him to do the same.

The large ax strike disappeared as it merged with another dark ball.

Then Vidyut came and gave his most powerful arrow strike.

The Saber Monarch, as for Kiran and twins, Sam didn't ask them.

Sam finally asked the night ghost to use his own attack. His attack would injure and strangle the soul which would make the body's reaction time completely sloppy.

After creating each curse with these attacks, Sam fused all of them together and fused the resultant curse along with the curse that he made with a fusion of basic direct curses.

The resultant thing was completely unbelievable. The sinister energy sent chills down everyone's spine.

But that didn't stop there.

Sam looked at Night Ghost who took the Cursed ghost out. It devoured the curse happily and digested within a few minutes. After that, Sam started building another curse.

"Use the curse you just absorbed on this one."

Night Ghost was puzzled, but he did as he was told and the attack merged with the curse.

Sam once again started constructing a different curse and fused both of them and finally, he attached everything to an arrow.

There is a reason why Sam used this roundabout way. If he let the cursed ghost absorb the curse, it would be able to use Night Ghost's energy and be able to utilize the curse multiple times. If it is not there, Sam would have simply merged it with the arrow direction.

But now that Night Ghost can use it repeatedly, even though it would take a lot of energy if they attached it to different weapons, things would be different and everyone among the team would have a trump card that could help them in perilous situations.

Sam looked at Vidyut and said.

"Can you shoot this at Leader 1 while he is fighting the shadow or do you need any more assistance to do that?"

Vidyut thought for a second and said.

"A little assistance would be good. If the other party's senses are distracted for a moment, it would be a lot better."

Sam nodded and turned to the remaining teammates, Night Ghost raised his hand and said.

"I will do it. It would be too dangerous for the rest of them."

Night Ghost immediately went out and his mere presence alerted Leader 1. After all, he is in a perilous situation and a Late-stage Transcendent cultivator of the Astral plane is a significant threat to him at the moment. He might even be killed.

Night ghost closed his eyes and sent a ghost out towards Leader 1.

Leader 1 who is actually expecting some straightforward physical attack, was surprised by the attack to the soul. His senses were blinded at little and his shadow managed to leave a wound on his body.

Vidyut took the opportunity when Leader 1's senses are blurry and shot the arrow right at the wound. He only used neutral spiritual energy and didn't use even a hint of lightning energy. Sam specifically asked to do so.

The arrow lodged itself and it just left a small stinging pain on his body.

The leader pulled the arrow and threw it away. Taking this situation to their advantage, Night Ghost and Vidyut went back to their hiding place.

Leader 1 wanted to pursue them, but he couldn't as he was still in the battle with shadow. When team members saw that the attack didn't do anything to Leader 1, they were surprised.

But there is no change in Sam's expression, even though they are tempted to ask what really happened, nobody did and they just stayed put.

Soon the battle with the shadow is over and Leader 1 immediately started running out of the city. He knew that Leader 3 might have neared the city, so he has to escape.

As soon as he came out of the city gate, he caught a glimpse of Leader 3 and his team who are approaching at an incredible speed.

Leader 3 also saw Leader 1 coming out of the city and he immediately started the pursuit.

Leader 1 is already exhausted and the charred feeling he is experiencing in his flesh because of the curse was not gone. He is still feeling the pain. As much as he tried to escape, he was simply not fast enough and was caught by Leader 3.

"Third, you cornered me. You leave me no other way. Even if I die, I will just drag you down with me."

Leader 1 spat coldly and started fighting. He didn't even bother defending himself anymore and straight-up used all his trump cards to attack Leader 3.

Leader 3's team members are all standing a bit away as they observed the battle. They are ready to swoop in and help the leader whenever it was needed. But from what they can see, Leader 1 is actually very weak. He is not even putting in any decent fight. He is fighting like a madman and that is the only reason he even managed to land any hits on Leader 3.

Leader 3 also frowned. He could observe Leader 1's condition and understood that the other party is indeed too weak for his cultivation. There are some injuries which he saw.

It seems like he was in a troubling fight. He was confused as to who posed such a problem to Leader 1. After all, he is sure that the branch in the city doesn't have that much power.

But he pushed those thoughts to the back of his head and continued with the battle.

Soon, Leader 1 collapsed with his reckless fighting and dropped down with no energy. Leader 3 is also panting as he sat on a rock nearby.

"First, why did you push it this far. You know I don't have any thoughts about taking over the Black Curtain, why did you start all this?"

Leader 1 took a deep breath and spoke in a painful and exhausted tone.

"What do you mean by that, you bastard? You are the one who started it and as for taking over Black Curtain. It is mine, and mine alone whether you want to or not, you don't have any right to take over it."

As he spoke, his final breath left his body while his eyes were still staring at Leader 3 with hate and envy.

Leader 3 leaned forward to close those eyes. But at this moment, he suddenly felt something is wrong as a small wisp of energy came from leader 1 and hit his chest.

But he didn't feel anything to his chest and closed his eyes to check his body. While he is doing so, he felt that something is wrong as a different kind of energy is being swelling up inside.

The curses are taking effect.

When Sam made Vidyut shoot the arrow, he didn't directly attack the curse so that the victim would be affected, the curse was modified a bit and it is a carrier type curse.

That means, the victim who got hit by the curse is not the one going to be affected, rather he would act as a carrier, and based on the construction of the curse, the curse will take effect.

For example, currently, Leader 1 is a carrier of the curse, and Leader 3 is the victim and the means of the curse transfer is the death of the carrier. The killer will be subjected to the curse.

And the means of transfer can be set according to the creator's requirements. They can set a specific amount of damage received by the carrier, a certain amount of spiritual energy level of the carrier, a certain level of pain experienced by the carrier, and so on and so forth. Many types of means can be employed and Sam used death as the means.

Now, Leader 3, the true victim is being targeted by the curse's true might.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1099: Aftermath

Leader 3 felt like his brain is going numb, he couldn't think clearly for a second and before he knew it, he started feeling dizzy and fell on the ground directly.

The subordinates of his immediately ran over trying to check up on him. But when they came near, all they could see is him being unconscious, with facial expressions full of pain and suffering. He is muttering something as if he is dreaming.

When they saw all these symptoms they felt puzzled and lost. They thought that he fainted because of the exhaustion or some hidden injury, but no matter how much they examined they couldn't see anything.

After all, none of them are healers. But if they were, they would have noticed that the flesh of their leader is slowly being corroded from inside out.

One of them immediately carried the Leader on the back and started running towards the city with the rest of them following. They even discarded the Leader 1's dead body and the spatial ring as if it is not their business.

As soon as they left, Sam and the team came and picked up the spatial ring. Night Ghost swallowed the soul while Tamas took the body.

Inside the spatial ring, Sam saw a small piece of metal which seemed to be a part of a blade's edge.

He could feel that it is special and that also fits the description of the heirloom of the Black curtain, being a dagger.

This is one of the dagger pieces.

He stored those away and the team slowly followed the group of leader 3 towards the city.

Half way there, the group suddenly stopped.

They placed Leader 3 on the ground trying to see what happened to him.

Leader 3 is spasming uncontrollably. He is still in the slumber and his energy is completely out of order as he experienced worst of his nightmares through the curse of illusion and the curse of pain intensified the pain caused by the curse of flesh corrosion.

While he is experiencing all of this, suddenly the chest of the Leader cracked open and blood started seeping out. The subordinates hurriedly removed the robes to see what happened and all they can see are two slashes diagonally on the chest. They are extremely clean as if they were cut of sharp blades.

But that is what confused the subordinates the most, because as they checked Leader 3 before, they didn't find anything wrong with the other party's body.

Before they could think of what to do, five elemental energies attacked the Leader followed by a long and dense electric shock. The soul attack of Night Ghost already attacked him but the effects are not visible to the naked eyes.

The subordinates don't know what to do, but they are sure that things are extremely troublesome and before they knew it, Leader 3 died.

The curse of slumber, illusions and finally Night Ghost's attack made it impossible for Leader 3 to even resist and the rest of the attacks caused by the curse made it impossible for him to survive.

The subordinates were horrified by this development.

Before they could even come out of the shock, Sam's team already arrived and a battle started.

Night Ghost sneaked an attack on one of the people while Vidyut shot an arrow at another one.

Both used the stored curses once again and two people died in the similar way the Leader 3 died.

Now the rest of the group are easy to deal with. After killing everyone, Sam found the second fragment of the heirloom and left the bodies like that. The city is not far away and people are bound to see it sooner or later.

Unlike before, Sam only let Night Ghost take the souls of the people and Tamas only got the bodies of the subordinates. The body of the leader was left there for people to see.

By the next day, the upper echelon of the city already came to know that Leader 3 or Black Curtain died. His subordinates are nowhere to be seen and Leader 1 also disappeared.

The news shook the remaining four Black curtain leaders to the core.

They don't know how the situation turned out this way. Some of them even went to the funeral conducted by the remaining son of Leader 3 just to make sure. They wanted to see the body and confirm it.

And after confirming it, their shock only doubled. The body is in such a tragic state. The flesh is corroding slowly and the muscles are all charred from outside, the two cleaves on the front of the chest are also a shock.

They immediately went back to their headquarters to make plans.

Now that leader 3 died and the situation of Leader 1 is unknown, they knew that chaos would reign supreme once again within the Black Curtain.

From the injuries on Leader 3's body, they could confirm that a third party is involved in the battle. They knew Leader 1's abilities, so they are sure that Leader 3 was not killed by leader 1 himself.

They speculated that leader 1 must have paid a large price to get someone to kill Leader 3.

But where did he go? No one knows.

The most nervous of all is actually leader 2. He joined hands with leader 3 after Leader 1 made a deal with leader 4 to suppress him. Now that leader 3 is gone, he would be forced to deal with leader 4 all by himself and he doesn't have any confidence in doing so. Particularly with his new expansion of the territory, things wouldn't be easy for him to start a war.

And leader 3's son is also in a pickle. The trusted subordinates of his father advised him to collect as many resources as possible and leave the place immediately.

They knew that the rest of the leaders will now look at Leader 3's territory like a big fat piece of meat ready to be eaten. Every leader would want a share.

That is a lot of territory. But at the same time, they are worried about the third party involved. The third-party which they speculated as someone the leader 1 hired.

But they couldn't bring themselves to just let this go and leave the territory to rot like that.

So, all the leaders had some tacit understanding. They would just take over leader 3's territory and leave Leader 1's territory up for grabs for himself if he ever shows up.

As for Leader 2 who was involved in the war, Leader 4 is not going to let it go, but Leader 3 who is also adjacent to leader 2's territory is also planning to take a bit over. They all knew that at least one more leader is going to die.

But only Sam knew that more than one is going to die.

After all, starting the conflict is the harder part, since the conflict already started escalating is a piece of cake. This might take two more months to reach the final stages, but that doesn't mean it wouldn't be worth it.

From the looks of it, Black Curtain is the most troublesome of all, so it would be easy for them after this was done.

And Sam didn't stop there. Someone anonymously tipped Phoenix tail sect about the Black Curtain who made a move on their future hope and their current situation.

So, now they are going to join in the fun.

Sam created chaos as time passed. Every day they arrived at one of the Black curtain's locations and just did things to escalate the situation more and more as the war intensified.

Nobody wanted to back down and even the Phoenix Tail sect is too involved and embroiled in the war.

And Sam took the chance to contact the rival of the Phoenix Tail sect and made a deal with them. All that he has to say is that they have some bad blood and want revenge. They would create chaos while they take over the Phoenix Tail sect's territory.

Everything went well.

And two and a half months later. The final battles took place between leaders and Sam collected one fragment after another. In every battle, one leader disappeared while the other one died.

And finally, only leader 4 remained and he managed to make peace with the Phoenix tail sect from his side.

He even offered to help them with the war against their rivals.

But after he promised, Leader 4 mysteriously disappeared, never to be seen again.

Only at that moment did Sam finally selected the Black Curtain in the list.

He noticed that all the leaders have a statue of Hel in their lairs, so Sam performed the ritual from the Leader 4's lair after they dealt with him to talk to Hel.

"How are you doing, Hel?"

"This is awfully fast."

Hel said calmly.

"Not really, It has been a few months. How clever of you to include an organization like Black Curtain in this game. That is as big as six organizations combined."

"But Leader is still a Peak stage Transcendent cultivator."

"Anyway, thanks for the Myriad Curse guide. It is really good. It really helped me in dealing with your organization."

Hel was dumbfounded.

"Okay, that is all I wanted to say. So, goodbye."

With that, Sam destroyed the statue and left.

RE-BIRTH OF A GENIUS. CREATOR/DESTROYER

Chapter 1100: Future Plans

For the two weeks, Sam focused on the Phoenix tail sect and got their heirloom after finishing them off.

By now two organizations are over in twelve and the remaining organizations are all smaller than the Black Curtain for sure.

And with the newfound usage of curses and all the toys he had, any surprise could easily be tackled.

They wouldn't have much trouble dealing with them.

But there is no use in finishing them faster actually. Because, after they finish with this, they would be facing the last of the organizations. Phase four organizations.

Phase four organizations are a bit tricky.

There are only twelve of them in total and they can be further divided into four groups of three.

The first group only has Initial stage Consummate cultivators of Astral Plane and then comes the second group with Middle Stage Consummate cultivators of Astral Plane, the third group has Late-stage Consummate cultivators of Astral plane and finally the fourth group with Peak stage Consummate cultivators of Astral Plane.

With each group only having three organizations each, the situation would be tough for the players to handle.

Each organization has several branches under them that worship different gods, but they only have one heirloom each. The value of heirlooms is too high and the resources they would get for that are too many.

Even for Sam with his team, the organizations are too big and powerful. For every organization, multiple players are needed to fight and there is a great chance that players would die in the process.

By the end of it all, only two to three players might live.

So, acting alone would be a bit reckless, so he needs to wait for the rest of the players to finish up Phase three and it might take a year or two.

In this time, Sam has to make plans to not waste any time. His last expansion went great and everything is running smoothly. He can start the next expansion.

This time, Sam wants to involve himself in the expansion this time and eliminate every problem. He also wants to expand the education department under the organization and strengthen it.

As he progressed in this game and dealt with organization, he realized some things. The gods are powerful and mighty, generally, there shouldn't be any need for them to care about these people and they really don't.

But these people worship him so much and the gods are also reluctant to lose these people even though they don't care about their well-being.

From all the memories he collected from various forces he also learned that the gods really did support the growth of these organizations and their strengths even though they don't care. This piqued his curiosity and he believed that there is a need or at least a use for gods with these people.

If he wants to contend with the gods, he might need some people like this. And with the number of organizations under the gods, he has seen. He was sure that his organization is not big enough.

Along with that, there is something else Sam was confused about.

For example, the feathered race which was the subordinate race of Goddess Nike, used to send people outside as soon as they broken through to a certain cultivation range.

Where did all these people go? That was one of the things that bugged him a lot.

During his break time, while challenging people here and there, he came across some organizations that are under Nike's control. But he didn't see a single feathered race cultivator. They don't even know the existence of a feathered race subordinate organization that worships Nike.

Similarly, he also came across different organizations that sent their cultivators to their god. They all have one thing in common. The people that were selected were selected to be the soldiers for the god.

If so, where did these soldiers go? What are they fighting against? Where are they stationed? He didn't even see any form of the battlefield or never even heard of something like that.

There are many things that are bothering him.

After all, he nearing the fourth phase of organizations and they are the pinnacle of Astral Plane cultivation. After that, the plane of cultivation is completely on a different level. The disparity is too large.

He doesn't know what the next part of the game would be but he is sure that they would come across that next plane cultivators.

That Plane of cultivation is closely related to the gods. The Divine plane of cultivation.

They would come close to the immortals and gods. So, Sam needs to understand their situation better before entering that area.

But the information is scarce and impossible to attain at the moment.

So, he has to work with whatever he has at hand. For that reason, he decided to focus on the development of the force. He wants to strengthen the organization and increase the cultivation limit of the core power.

Currently, the Dusk Organization has a strength of a middle-level Phase two organization without including its own team.

In these two years, he needs to build a solid foundation so that this could increase. After he was done with the organization, the team wouldn't have much to do with Sam and would join the organization increasing its level. The next five years after the organizations are done, the level of the organization should reach phase four, no matter what.

He took a week off after dealing with the Phoenix tail sect and started setting up a plan.

He thought of many things. Even though it might take a long time for this whole process to be over, it is not exactly a long time when the work done needs to be considered. He also needs to leave a strong next generation.

From what he can see the gods cannot come down whenever they wanted, so the next generation of leaders must be properly trained so that there wouldn't be any mishaps with the organization after he was gone.

So, after the plan, he started dealing with the remaining organizations in phase three while giving some orders to the administrators of the organization.

He wanted them to finish tasks that are easy but extremely time taking.

He ordered them to pick kids who just awakened. He wanted Watt to give some basic lessons for them, but he was stunned when he learned that Watt has already left the home planet he was staying in. He resumed his journey a long time ago.

Sam sighed, it seems like he was too disconnected from what is happening back at home.

But he bounced back instantly and just sent orders.

He ordered to construct academies on every planet they are on. The planetary academies will only train people until they reached the Mortal plane Pre-transcendent stage and there would be one Inter Planetary academy for every four planetary academies. In that academy, the people will only be trained until they reach the Mortal Plane Consummate stage.

For every realm with multiple Inter-Planetary academies, there would be one Supreme academy which would be for the Initiation stage Astral Plane students.

But there is one catch, the recruitment of the academies wouldn't be done in a normal way. For the normal Planetary academies, anyone can directly join as long as they are within the Acolyte or Novice stage after passing the test. But within their time there, they would be checked for some requirements and if they reach those requirements, they would be selected to a special program through which they would be sent to the Inter-Planetary academy after they finished their studies there.

Even in the Inter-Planetary academy, there would be two branches dividing the regular academy that would teach up to the Pre-transcendent cultivators and they would also be selected in the same way as other planetary academies.

Among the students that enter the Inter-Planetary academy once again, people will be selected based on some special requirements which would then be selected the Realm Academy.

This is the basic structure of the educational system.

For this, Sam needs a lot of cultivation techniques that could cover the whole spectrum of things.

But even before that, he decided to open a special academy in major cities of every planet the Dusk organization was in.

A school for primary education. The school where laws and principles of natures, different elemental energies, and all kinds of basics would be taught.

Any kind who is six years old or above can join and they can study different aspects until they reached Acolyte or some even Novice stage.

After the kids awakened, they would be taught how to use energy efficiently. They would be tested there and would be directly sent to the Planetary academy if they are qualified.

When the administrators saw the plans they were stunned. They didn't know why Sam suddenly put such an expansion plan forward. This is going to be quite difficult to do. But Sam didn't care. He made up his mind and used all the resources to them. Currently, his main source of income is not even the profits from the organization. In fact, he didn't even collect profits for a long time.

His current income sources are the organizations he is constantly destroying one by one.

So, he mobilized all the funds he has in profits and started constructing academies.

All the excess staff he had from the Desolate planet and the Feathered Planet are appointed as the temporary administrators and supervisors for the construction of the academies.
