

The Alpha's Mate Who Cried Wolf Epilogue

The End

With Moon Crest Castle destroyed, Queen Maia and King Damon decided to live in West Wallow Keep, the castle her parents once ruled and once resided in. Six months later, Queen Maia gave birth to a baby princess named Lilly. Ember, Vivian and her family decided to stay with Queen Maia along with Sir Hugo, who was excited to return to training the young orcs.

Magnus, Alec and I returned to Emerald Island to live. I created a portal from West Wallow Keep to Emerald Island so Queen Maia and I could port through to see each other daily.

I decided that each year at each midsummer solstice, I would enter through the veil to the celestial world, where I would spend that time with my fellow deities Selene, Ogrun, Cerridwen and Valkrim. To Selene's sadness, Atlanta had the same fate as Thypon, sealed forever in the crystal ball.

Lilac, Ela, Ria and Fern, along with their familiars, decided to return to Pandora's box to live with Yiselda.

Kadva's partner asked him to move in with him into his cottage in Wolfwell, where Flynn remained Alpha with his sister Josie and parents Astrid and Ryker by his side.

All Mysteria's guardians would reunite and celebrate over a great feast each year.

It's been two years since we sealed Thypon. I'm currently at our second reunion of the guardians, with Alec next to me on one side and Magnus on the other side of me.

I look over at Lilly, who's now a toddler and runs about the room and return my smile to everyone at the table,

Quinn approaches me. She has grown so much in the last two years. She hugs me gently, and Alec peers over my shoulder as we part. Read more free novels at Jobnib.com

'You never told me what fairy dust is made of,' he says.

I smile, lean toward him and whisper in his ear, 'The main ingredient is the fumes of a fairy,' I smirk.

'Fumes of a fairy?' he says loudly, gaining everyone's attention. Suddenly he pales and stares at Quinn, who blushes and laughs, shaking her head. We all burst into laughter.
