

Why Are You Entertaining Other Men!

Caliana's POV

"That was fun, you're a good one," Garret laughed, joining me near his truck. I only frowned, he was enjoying this too much. We spent the day exploring the pack and he took me to the massive training field. It was nothing like I imagined, indeed the "Golden Stone Pack" was large and people are right to fear them. There are so many well-built soldiers, hundreds of them. Others are running and others are fighting, and the hundreds of soldiers were well-organized in groups. Realizing I'm staring in awe, Garret grabs my hand and takes me away into a room.

"This is the training field, again, yes, we are the best," I rolled my eyes but nodded. The men looked at me like a delicious meal while others whistled.

"Oh go back to training you horny dogs!" Shouted Garret playfully. The men whistled and clapped.

"She's Hot!" They screamed.

"Wanna piece of me." A guy winked with a playful smile.

"YOU FUCKING SHITS. This lady here is the new Luna!" He announced and everyone paled and fear took over their faces as they bowed low to me, apologizing for their behavior. I wasn't upset though, they were joking and having fun.

"It's alright," I said and they seemed relieved. Did they think I'll punish them?

"I'm here to collect my bag from the locker, can you wait for me here? I'll be back," He said and ran into the lockers. I sat on the bench as I waited but easily got bored and started to look around. The warriors were good and it was mesmerizing to watch.

"Caliana, what are you doing?" A gentle voice said, Jamal was peering at me as he walked towards me. I waved at him.

"Hi,"

"Hello, I didn't know you were coming," He squinted his eyes, unsure as he looked around the men who were ogling me. Before I could answer, my heart skipped as my eyes fell on the cruel Alpha. He only raised an eyebrow and looked down at me with dismay.

"Um, Garret was showing me around the pack and he came here to get something, so I'm waiting,"

"Oh alright, see you then. Brother, I'll call to tell you how it went," He told his brother who nodded. When Jamal was out of sight. My gaze returned to Alpha Edward, he had a stony expression on his face that didn't falter.

"Why are you here dressed like that?" He hissed, anger radiating from him. I dressed this way because I wanted to and it's hot! I imagined myself shouting but I knew better than to enrage him. He might kill me this time.

"Do you enjoy the attention you are getting from men?" His voice was teasing but I sensed jealousy in it.

"No, Alpha,"

"Then what is it... Mate," He growled in my ear. Tears stung my eyes and my heart was beating fast, just who does he think he is to make me feel this way? I felt like a prostitute. He suddenly grabbed my wrist, making sparks shoot all over my arm. He pushed me inside an office and closed the door with force.

"THEN TELL ME WHY YOU ARE ENTERTAINING OTHER MEN!" I jumped a foot in the air as his words rang in my ears.

"I'm not,"

"Aren't you the one parading around the pack with my cousin and bullying others?" I was shocked by his statement. I swallowed thickly and blinked my tears away. Has he been talking to that bitch?

"I wasn't, and as I said to the beta, Garret was just showing me around the pack house and your lover came at me, not the other way around," I hissed, anger rising in my tone. He tilted his head, seeing me angry and he smirked

"So you can talk back," He sounded amused. I didn't look at him again. The door to his office opened and Candace walked in boldly, my heart tightened when she went to his side, touching him to spite me.

"Babe, she even choked me," She cried, he rolled his eyes at her and went back to his seat behind a mahogany desk.

Candace attempted to sit on his lap but he stood up again, making her back away and she looked at him shocked and hurt.

"Are you going to wait till we start making out, Luna?"

Candace smirked and he growled.

"I'm leaving, someone is waiting for me outside," I sighed and turned on my heels, my wolf squealed.

'Did you see his face? He was jealous,'

'I didn't even want to look at him,' I barked at her. I hate that she is head over heels for that man. I felt a slight burning sensation in my chest, but it grew and I grabbed the wall tightly, wishing for it to end. It only gets like this when your mate is with another but from the pain I felt, they didn't do anything more than kissing. I sobbed like a child for the undeserving Alpha. He'll always choose that bitch over me. I wiped my tears and walked out, I found Garret waiting for me. ¹

"Hey," I waved. He smiled, relieved to see me.

"Are you alright? Your eyes are puffy,"

"I'm just tired, can we go home now?" He guided me to his truck, I felt the hair on my body stand up and I twisted my neck to the Alpha's office, he was watching me, his gaze unwavering. I inhaled and entered the truck.
