Chapter 2191: Are You Awake?

"Where's Moe?" Jiang Yao asked Liang Yueze because she did not see him.

"Moe is still in the mountains. I think he's still searching the mountain. He's worried that he's missing something." Liang Yueze wanted to praise Jiang Yao's terrifyingly high IQ. However, she might not be in the mood to hear about that.

Jiang Yao grunted. She guessed that Moe was worried that more places in the mountains could hide a grown man, so he did not descend the mountain with Liang Yueze.

She did not say anything else. She pointed ahead and said, "Master Cheng and I will go that way. You guys can bring some people to look over there."

As soon as she finished speaking, Jiang Yao took the lead and walked forward.

At that time of year, it was already a little chilly in the north. Jiang Yao grabbed her coat. The grass beneath her feet was already withered. A large patch of grassland revealed the color of the soil. There were also instances where the dung of cows, sheep, and horses could be seen. The shepherds would most likely use the winter for grazing the cattle and horses. Support our Bonnovel.c0m

The grassland was vast. There was almost no end to it as far as the eye could see.

If it were another time, Jiang Yao might be admiring the mountains and rivers.

Master Cheng led his men and followed closely behind Jiang Yao. Master Cheng hurriedly passed the bottle to Jiang Yao after noticing her sweating as she walked. "Slow your breathing by drinking a few mouthfuls of water. Rest for two to three minutes before proceeding."

Master Cheng finally witnessed Jiang Yao's strength. Just as she said, she was not a delicate girl. "Are we still going?"

"Didn't they say there's a shepherd ahead of us? Perhaps Mrs. Lu can rest there," Master Cheng's subordinate said. "We're also almost out of water. We can replenish there. "

"Okay," Jiang Yao agreed. She did need to rest.

She had been holding on for a long time. Her body had not fully recovered, so she needed to go slowly. However, she had walked for a long time that day; she could no longer bear it.

"I wonder how far it is." Master Cheng looked ahead.

Coincidentally, after Master Cheng said that, a tractor appeared in Jiang Yao's line of sight. The tractor was moving quickly on the grassland, and the driver was an old man. The tractor was carrying a cart full of hay, presumably the winter food for his livestock.

Jiang Yao thought that the soldier had said there was only one shepherd there, so the old man must be from the same family.

What a coincidence. She might be able to take a ride on that old man's tractor.

A kid was sitting on the haystack. The kid was fair and neat, but he was a little different from any children there. Jiang Yao looked at him curiously. The child suddenly jumped into the tall pile of hay and disappeared.

Jiang Yao was stunned. She thought the child had fallen into the pile of hay and was worried that the child would be buried in the hay and suffocate. However, she never expected that there would be people lying in the pile of hay.

They were two men dressed in traditional clothing, and they were just lying there. The middle pile was empty, so it did not affect their breathing.

Jiang Yao saw the child jump down and reach out to touch the man beside him. She heard the child ask, "Uncle, are you still awake? The man beside you seems to have stopped moving."

Uncle?

Is the man in the traditional clothes a soldier?

The way the child addressed the two men, who were lying so Jiang Yao could not see their faces, made her excited.

Then, she saw the child push the man near him and shouted, "Uncle, don't sleep. Grandpa said that if you fall asleep, you won't be able to wake up. Uncle, wake up."

When the child realized he could not wake up the person, he exclaimed, "Grandpa, Uncle is sleeping!"

At that point, the person raised their hand to touch the crying child's face. "I'm awake, but I don't have much strength," he said weakly. "Help me wake up the man next to me."

That voice.

That voice.

Jiang Yao would never forget that voice.

It was him!

It was Lu Xingzhi!

"I found him!" Jiang Yao lost control of her words and ran forward as if she had lost her mind.

Master Cheng was shocked. "The baby! The baby! Don't run!" Come and read on our website Bonnoval.c0m. Thanks

She had had enough of worry.

"Be strong. Mommy will bring you to Daddy." Jiang Yao started to run forward again, but her movements were much slower.

On the other hand, when the shepherd heard the child's cries, he quickly sped the tractor as he said, "Don't let them sleep. If they fall asleep, they won't be able to wake up. They can't sleep. I'll drive faster. Let's find the others quickly."

She was close!

She was so close!

Finally, she did not need to work hard to see the figure in the tractor.

"Master Cheng, there's a tractor over there!" Someone behind Jiang Yao shouted, "Let's give that man some money and ask him to lend us the tractor. Let's drive the tractor and bring Mrs. Lu to the front, shall we?"

Jiang Yao waved at the tractor. She wanted to stop the old man, but Master Cheng and his men also waved at the old man. When the old man saw that, he did not stop the tractor but instead turned it around and sped away!

Jiang Yao was stunned, then she quickly shouted in the tractor's direction, "Stop! Stop! Stop the car! "

Jiang Yao did not know if Lu Xingzhi could hear her, but she tried her best to chase and shout at the same time.

Lu Xingzhi was lying on the tractor. His body trembled for a moment, then he asked the child beside him, "Did you hear a woman's voice?"

The child nodded. "A woman is running chasing after us. She's holding her stomach awkwardly. There are a few men behind her, and they don't look like good people.

"A strange woman with a hand on her stomach?"

Lu Xingzhi gritted his teeth and used all his strength to sit up. He parted the haystack and looked out. He quickly said, "Stop! Stop the car! That's my wife!"

The child was stunned for a few seconds before he dashed out like a monkey. He said, "Grandpa, Uncle wants you to stop the car. He said that the woman chasing after us is his wife!"

The old man grunted and stopped the car immediately. The child jumped out of the car and went to greet the woman who was still running toward them. "Sister! Sister! Uncle said that you're his wife. Is that right?"

Jiang Yao did not even have time to catch her breath and nodded repeatedly. Then, she walked around the child toward the tractor that had finally stopped. She was so tired that she lay on the haystack mountain. It was as if she could hug the person inside through the haystack.

"Xingzhi... I've finally found you." Her tears almost blurred her vision.

She had found him, and she felt as if her tears would flood her there and then..

Chapter 2193: He Has Already Passed

Both of their palms were gently pressed against the same spot on the hay. The wind in the grassland was light, so light that she could hear the person inside breathing.

“Sister, let me help you move the haystack. The uncles are injured. One of them is already asleep, and he won’t wake up no matter how loud I call him.” The little boy climbed onto the carriage using his hands. He was very strong. Very quickly, he pushed the bales of hay onto the ground.

Jiang Yao helped from the side. After Master Cheng and the others caught up, they began to move the hay as well. The person hidden by the hay was gradually revealed.

Lu Xingzhi’s injuries were severe. Even though he knew that Jiang Yao was there, he could only lean against the hay and breathe lightly. His vision improved until he could see her.

She had lost weight, but her stomach was a little bigger.

She was standing there quietly, looking at him, crying.

“Don’t cry.” He had to use all his strength just to say those two words.

Jiang Yao wiped away her tears and nodded obediently. She raised her hand to pull Lu Xingzhi out, but he just shook his head. “Yaoyao, can you save him?” he asked, turning to face his comrade beside him. “Save him. I can still hold on.

Jiang Yao looked at Lu Xingzhi with some reluctance. Then, she took some medicine and gave it to the little boy so that he could feed Lu Xingzhi. Then, she checked on the person beside Lu Xingzhi, who had not moved at all.

The person’s face was so pale that it seemed like he did not have any blood in him. Jiang Yao asked the system to scan him as she reached out to check. However, when she touched the person’s skin, she was stunned.

“He...” Jiang Yao bit her lip. “He is already dead.”

His body was cold. There was no sign of life.

“Maybe he’s not dead? Can you try to save him?” Lu Xingzhi pushed the unconscious man and shouted, “Ah Sheng, get up. You’re a man. Don’t just lie there. Didn’t you say that you wanted to see if my wife is as beautiful as I told you? Open your eyes and see if I was lying.’

Jiang Yao’s heart ached. She had heard of that man. He was Lu Xingzhi’s classmate from the military academy. The last time she and Lu Xingzhi went to Lanning, Lu Xingzhi lamented that it was a pity that his friend had been away on a mission. He did not know when they would be able to meet again.

"Xingzhi." Jiang Yao reached out and grabbed Lu Xingzhi's hand, pushing the hand of the person who had passed. "He has already left, and I can't save him anymore. Perhaps I can try if he was alive, but he is no longer alive. I'm sorry."

She could not save his friend, no matter how good her medical skills were. She was unable to bring him back from the dead.

Lu Xingzhi seemed to be in a daze. His eyes fell on the comrade beside him. He was in a trance, distant and heavy.

After a long while, he looked at Jiang Yao. He stretched his hands toward her and said weakly, "Let me hug you."

Jiang Yao did not say anything as she leaned into his embrace.

There was the smell of blood on his body. His wound must have been still bleeding, but she could smell the medicine she had given him. He must have taken it..

Chapter 2194: How Did You Save Them?

Jiang Yao did not know what to say to comfort Lu Xingzhi. That sacrifice was even worse than the last time.

Jiang Yao had no idea what Lu Xingzhi had been through in the last few days or how he had been living.

However, it did not matter. The most important thing was that he was still alive. Fortunately, he had all his limbs intact.

Finally, Lu Xingzhi passed out in Jiang Yao's arms. Master Cheng and the others pushed Jiang Yao onto the tractor. Master Cheng followed them while the others returned to the town on foot.

On the tractor, Jiang Yao administered first aid to Lu Xingzhi. The rest of the tasks could only be completed once they arrived at the town hospital.

The tractor made a very loud noise. They seemed to travel from the grassland to the horizon like a heartbeat.

Jiang Yao looked at Lu Xingzhi, who was lying on the tractor, his face turning red from her medicine. She began to calm down.

Even though she knew he was alive, she had never experienced the fear of not being able to find him. She felt better after hugging him.

“How did you save those two people?” Master Cheng asked the child beside him.

“My brother, Grandpa, and I were on the mountain helping to find the soldiers who had sacrificed themselves. When we were preparing to bury them, we accidentally ran into those two uncle soldiers. Then, Grandpa and I took them back to the tent,” the little boy said. “Grandpa and Brother told me that the soldiers are heroes and good people. My brother and I wouldn’t have been able to go home if there were no soldiers.”Support our B0nnovel.c0m

The old man driving the tractor nodded. “We have two children in our family. One of them disappeared when I brought him to the town. The other was stolen from our home when he was only a year old.

The two children disappeared around the same time. Our family was heartbroken. The children’s mother cried until her eyes were blurry. Their father had been working hard to look for them. A few years ago, an accident happened, and he died. I have always blamed myself because I didn’t take good care of the children. That was what broke our family. At least now I can answer my son when I see him again upon my death. I can tell him that his children are home.”

“The soldiers got my brother and me home. My brother suffered a lot, but my luck was a little better. My parents in the south were very good to me too. I promised them that I would study hard and go to their university to visit them.” The little boy scratched his head in embarrassment. “Even though it’s hard to get into university, I will work hard.”

Jiang Yao knew why that child was so fair. He had grown up in the south, so his skin was a little fairer than the children born and raised there.

“The uncles were seriously injured. Grandpa said that they would die if we didn’t bring them to a doctor. So, we’re bringing them to the shepherds. Grandpa said that the town is very chaotic, so he doesn’t want to go there.”

“It won’t be chaotic now.” Master Cheng looked at the boy, who was about the same age as his youngest son. The boy was also curious. “Now the town is full of many soldier uncles.”

“By the way, didn’t someone go to your tent to look for them? Where did you hide them? Why didn’t they find them?” Master Cheng glanced at the people around him and thought, ‘How do these people do things? If they had found them earlier, did we need to let Jiang Yao travel all the way here?’.

Chapter 2195: No Need

If they had found them earlier, they might have been able to save the other soldier.

"We didn't know who those people were. We thought they were bad guys from the mountain, so we didn't tell them anything. We hid the two uncles in the stable and covered them with hay. Then, we covered them with horse dung and cow dung. The person who came saw the circle and covered his nose before leaving," the little boy said.

Their tent was very far from the town, and they had young and old members in their family. They did not ask about the situation in the town. They only heard the other shepherds talking about fierce-looking strangers in the town.

Most importantly, they were a group of young and strong men. That was why the grandfather and grandson did not dare take the risk of sending the two injured men to the town's hospital.

Jiang Yao waited until her cell phone had a signal, then she called Liang Yueze and told him that she had found Lu Xingzhi. She told Liang Yueze to go back to the hospital and arrange an operating theater for her. Come and read on our website Bonnovel.c0m. Thanks

When Jiang Yao and the others arrived at the hospital, Liang Yueze and Old Master Liang had been waiting in the hospital for more than ten minutes. When they saw Master Cheng bringing Lu Xingzhi in on a stretcher, their hearts skipped a beat.

"Are his injuries serious?" Liang Yueze subconsciously looked away. Lu Xingzhi did look severely injured.

"We need to operate immediately. He has shrapnels, fractures, and internal injuries, probably caused by explosions." She briefly explained Lu Xingzhi's condition and then pointed to the man's face. She said, "There is shrapnel here too. They are embedded in his face's muscles."

His clothes covered the wounds on his body, but the wounds on his face were the most shocking.

When Jiang Yao found Lu Xingzhi, she did not notice the wound on Lu Xingzhi's face because his entire face was covered in blood. His hair was gray and long. The blood on it had dried up, so it was not noticeable. It was only after the system scanned the wound and Jiang Yao cleaned it and disinfected it that the damage was revealed.

“Will it be difficult? Do you need two doctors and nurses to help you?” The old man looked at the wound on Lu Xingzhi’s face, and his eyelids twitched. He thought, ‘Will it leave a scar?’

Would Lu Xingzhi’s handsome face be disfigured?

“There’s no need.” Jiang Yao shook her head and then told Liang Yueze, “I didn’t have a good signal just now. Then, I was preoccupied with Xingzhi’s injury and forgot to call Mom and Dad. Please call them back and reassure them. Oh, right! Keep Xingzhi’s injury a secret. Tell them that he’s okay, so they’re not worried.”

After giving her instructions, Jiang Yao pushed the patient into the operating theater.

Even though it was an operating theater, it was quite limited. One could say it was a temporary ward. Fortunately, she had the medical system. Otherwise, it would limit her ability to perform.

Old Master Liang finally breathed a sigh of relief when he saw Jiang Yao calmly pushing the patient into the operating theater.

“It seems like Xingzhi will be okay, at least with Jiang Yao here. Otherwise, she wouldn’t have been so calm just now.”

“Yaoyao’s medical skills are exemplary.” Master Cheng grinned. He knew that Jiang Yao was the Divine Doctor, a legend in the medical world and a genius in that industry, and she had many strange medicines that others could not get their hands on. There would be no problem with her personally performing the surgery on Lu Xingzhi..

Chapter 2196: Please Explain

Liang Yueze went to a quiet spot and dialed the number for the military base in Luo City. He spoke to Mr. Jiang, who thanked the heavens after learning that Lu Xingzhi had been found.

“Where is my sister? How is she?” Cheng Jinnian’s anxious voice came from the other side of the phone.

When he woke up and found that Jiang Yao had left, he suddenly felt like the sky had fallen. The little adult, who always thought crying was a sign of weakness, suddenly sat on the sofa in the living room and wailed for a long time.

Cheng Jinnian was also impatient. He used his own phone to call Master Cheng.

He thought his father was heartless for not calling him; of course, their whole family had been thinking about Jiang Yao.

The hospital was bustling. The wounded had been sent there, but there were not enough doctors and nurses, and there were not enough operating theaters to immediately treat the patients. Doctors were shouting and yelling because of anxiety.

Jiang Yao stayed in the operating theater for three hours before she came out. When she came out, she was not in a bad state of mind. The shrapnel on Lu Xingzhi's body had been removed, and she had put medicine on his wounds and bandaged them. His face was wrapped in white gauze when he was pushed out of the operating theater, so there was no trace of blood.

Lu Xingzhi was dressed in the hospital gown given to him by Jiang Yao from the medical system. The special hospital gown could withstand bacterial invasion and keep Lu Xingzhi's wound from becoming infected during recovery.

No one noticed Lu Xingzhi's hospital gown. Everyone thought that it was prepared in the operating theater.

"Find a quiet and clean place to let him rest for a while. When the situation permits, transfer him to another hospital," Jiang Yao said.

It was already considered an excellent medical resource for Danmu Town to have a hospital. Therefore, Jiang Yao did not expect that the hospital's ward would be any better. In the end, she arranged the best ward for Lu Xingzhi, the three-person room in the orthopedics department.

"If there are any severely-wounded patients in the hospital that the doctors can't handle, let me take a look. Xingzhi is okay now. I'm still a little energetic. I'll help as many as I can. After all, we're all comrades here," Jiang Yao said.

Jiang Yao had been in a bad mood because she could not find Lu Xingzhi. She still had enough energy to do what she could since Lu Xingzhi was in the ward.

"Don't you want to rest?" Old Master Liang asked with concern.

"It's okay. I won't over-exert myself." Lu Xingzhi's surgery was relatively easy for Jiang Yao. Furthermore, the System Admin helped with the medical system, so she had much less work to do.

The System Admin was Jiang Yao's most capable assistant.

"Then I'll go and talk to the doctors." Liang Yuezhe strode out of the ward. One more doctor meant that they could save one more person.

Liang Yueze instructed the hospital's director to arrange that. Jiang Yao's medical skills were the best among the doctors there, so they had to send the most troublesome patient to Jiang Yao.

During the waiting period, Jiang Yao sat beside Lu Xingzhi's bed and rested. The anesthetic dose that Jiang Yao gave Lu Xingzhi was not much, so it did not take long for Lu Xingzhi to wake up.

He opened his eyes, and they looked at each other. Time seemed frozen as if it had come to a halt at that precise moment..

Chapter 2197: Let Him Die

"You're awake?" Jiang Yao could not help but ask first. There was a hint of joy in her voice. "I didn't give you too much anesthesia." Your wound might be a little painful. Bear with it."

"Okay." Lu Xingzhi responded. His mental state was not much different from when Jiang Yao had just found him. She was beside him, so he could not help but force himself to look at her a few more times.

Jiang Yao gently stroked between Lu Xingzhi's eyebrows. "Don't think about anything. Close your eyes and rest."

That sentence seemed to have magical power. Lu Xingzhi grabbed her hand before placing it on his chest. Sure enough, he closed his eyes and breathed steadily.

Jiang Yao let him hold her hand until the hospital director came to Jiang Yao with a case.

"Doctor, take a look at this case." The hospital director did not know the identity of the woman in front of him. He only knew that she was a doctor. That was why he called her doctor.

Jiang Yao, Old Master Liang, and the others did not deliberately explain her identity. They just let the hospital director make his own assumption.

Jiang Yao took the case file and flipped through it. Then, she read it out loud. "Chen Qijie, surgical opinion, amputation of both legs."

Jiang Yao read what was written in the file. According to that person's condition, amputation was the best way to save his life. However, Jiang Yao did not handle that case.

Back in Lanning, Jiang Yao was able to reattach a soldier's leg, which had been blown off.

Jiang Yao had to pull her hand away from Lu Xingzhi to turn the page. She had no idea that when she pulled her hand back, the man opened his eyes and looked at her.

Lu Xingzhi also did not expect to hear Chen Qijie's name the moment he opened his eyes. His anger was immediate; his heart ached with pain. He did not know whether that was due to his injury or his emotions.

"Let him die!" Lu Xingzhi growled. "Don't help him! No one is allowed to help him! He doesn't have the right to accept your help!"

"Okay, okay, okay. I won't help him. I won't help him." Jiang Yao quickly threw the files in her hand and turned around to coax Lu Xingzhi. "You are not allowed to be angry, and you are not allowed to speak loudly. As long as you are obedient, I will listen to everything you say. If you don't want me to help this man, then I won't help him."

Jiang Yao's words managed to keep Lu Xingzhi calm. However, he did not release her hand. "You can help anyone, but you're not allowed to help him."

"Fine, I'll listen to you." Jiang Yao could guess who Chen Qijie was. He was most likely the team leader.

That team leader had disregarded Lu Xingzhi's advice and led his men to Qian Yunen's ambush. Later on, Lu Xingzhi brought his men to rescue his comrades.

It was a pity that Qian Yunen had targeted Lu Xingzhi. Perhaps he captured the captain to lure Lu Xingzhi away.

In other words, the trap was set for Lu Xingzhi. However, Lu Xingzhi did not jump into it. Instead, Chen Qijie could not wait to jump in regardless of his advice.

Lu Xingzhi hated Chen Qijie. Too many people had been sacrificed, and he had watched his comrades die..

Chapter 2198: It's Good Enough That He Didn't Die

“Did you hear what I said? I am not going to take that person’s case. Give this to someone else.” Jiang Yao picked up the dropped files and returned them to the director. “Time waits for no one. You have to be quick.”

The director wiped his sweat. The files were in front of him. He did not dare take them back. He wanted to persuade the doctor to reconsider, but when he saw the gaze of the patient on the bed, he did not dare to repeat those words.

It was not good to offend the soldiers. There was also someone else he could not offend.

Ultimately, the hospital director took the files with a straight face. Jiang Yao waited for the director to leave before returning her gaze to Lu Xingzhi. He had passed out again. He was obviously at the end of his rope then. He had exploded in a fit of rage.

“That’s what I meant. Why should we save him?” Master Cheng sneered. “It’s already good enough that we don’t kill him.”

Jiang Yao smiled. Indeed, if it were not for the fact that she could not kill him, she might have murdered Chen Qijie with her hands.

“It seems like the director was forced to bring Chen Qijie’s files here.” Liang Yueze clicked his tongue, “I guess that the division commander did not expect that the doctor the director mentioned would be Xingzhi’s wife. He wouldn’t have dared send his nephew to Jiang Yao if he knew.”

Therefore, it was a good thing that she did not accept Chen Qijie’s surgery.

When the hospital director returned, he held a few more files in his hands. However, the expression on his face was much more relaxed than before. “Take a look at these patients. The doctors feel like they are not able to do much for them here.”

Jiang Yao looked at one of the patients with a severe spinal injury. If she did not take over the case, the patient would be paralyzed for the rest of his life.

“I’ll be right back. You guys keep an eye on him.” Jiang Yao stood up. “The surgery won’t take too long.”

“Okay, go ahead. We’ll keep an eye on him for you.” Master Cheng looked at Jiang Yao; he was proud to see her saving other patients. Other doctors could not do anything about those patients, but she was relatively calm.

It was just as Jiang Yao said. The operation did not take a long time. The equipment in the medical system was very advanced, so it was not difficult for her to reattach the bone.

After that operation, she had a few more surgeries. She did more until she could not hold on anymore. Then, she set up a bed beside Lu Xingzhi's bed and slept.

She had been working all day and was physically and mentally exhausted. The people coming in and going out of the ward did not disturb her sleep at all.

Moe returned to the ward very late at night. After bathing himself, he jumped to the side of Lu Xingzhi's bed to help guard Lu Xingzhi and Jiang Yao, who had fallen asleep. His eyes were very energetic in the dark night.

Lu Xingzhi woke up the next day. When he opened his eyes, he did not see Jiang Yao. Instead, he saw Moe lying next to his pillow.

Probably because he had been through hell and had not seen Moe for a long time, Lu Xingzhi was a little nicer to Moe. He reached out and petted him. "I'll cook something nice for you when we get back."

Moe was alert. As soon as Lu Xingzhi reached out his hand, he looked at Lu Xingzhi. When he heard Lu Xingzhi's words, he meowed excitedly for a long time.

"Where is she?" Even though Lu Xingzhi could not hear what Moe was saying, he could understand the emotions in his meowing.

Moe's tail swept to the side of the bed. "She's sleeping like a pig."

Chapter 2199: I Forgive You

Unfortunately, Lu Xingzhi did not understand. He wanted to look at Jiang Yao without her realizing it. Unfortunately, he moved the wooden bed, and the creaking sound woke Jiang Yao.

Therefore, Lu Xingzhi turned his head and saw Jiang Yao's figure straightened. He was stunned for a second, and then he smiled. "Why don't you sleep somewhere else?"

"No, I have to stay with you. What if something unexpected happens to you at night?" How could Jiang Yao bear find another place to sleep at such a critical moment?

"Besides, I slept very soundly last night and am energetic now. I'll be fine if you are okay."

She could not sleep a few days ago because she was so worried, so she took sleeping pills. However, after listening to his breathing the previous night, Jiang Yao realized that the sound of a person's breathing could sometimes be the world's most magical and effective sleeping pill.

Even though she could not lie in his arms and act coquettishly while allowing him to hug and kiss her, she was content to see him that way.

"Have you been worried these past few days?" Lu Xingzhi patted Jiang Yao's head. "I'm sorry." He was the one who should have been apologizing, not her.

"Yes, I forgive you." Jiang Yao rubbed Lu Xingzhi's palm contentedly. "So you have to listen to Doctor Jiang's words these few days. You have to take your medicine and rest."

"Yes, I will listen to Doctor Jiang's words." Lu Xingzhi smiled.

Her forgiveness was straightforward. She did not hesitate and did not feel aggrieved at all. However, it made his heart ache.

Jiang Yao said, "I'm done sleeping. Go wash up and eat something. After I eat, I'll go to the ward to see if there's anything else I can do to help. Those are your comrades. I'll help them as much as I can. When Liang Yueze and Old Master Liang come back, they can accompany you."

"I don't need anyone to accompany me. I'll wait for Doctor Jiang to come back."

Jiang Yao thought that Lu Xingzhi's obedience was too cute. He kept calling her Doctor Jiang, so she laughed.

That guy probably felt guilty, so he tried his best to make her happy.

"Were you there when Qian Yunen called me that day? He kicked you and hit you, but you did not make a sound." Jiang Yao raised her hand, wanting to hit Lu Xingzhi to vent her anger. However, she did not want to hit him again. "You're not allowed to do that next time."

"There's no next time," Lu Xingzhi said. "I can die, but you can't be in danger."

A simple sentence expressed his emotions at that time. Even though he was covered in bruises and was kicked and hit again and again, and the shrapnel on his face was embedded deep into his flesh, the pain almost made him faint. However, he had to keep her safe, so he gritted his teeth and did not say anything.

Liang Yueze and Old Master Liang came earlier than Jiang Yao thought. They also brought Jiang Yao's breakfast—soup and bread.

"Xingzhi is on a liquid diet. Master Cheng will send some over later. You still have work to do, so eat more. The soup is nourishing." The old man smiled. "The taste is top-notch too."

Jiang Yao smiled. Some could say that men were not as intuitive as women. She was still experiencing some morning sickness, so she did not have much appetite when she smelled the soup's strong fragrance.

However, Jiang Yao did not refuse the food. Old Master Liang had been too kind to her. She thought she would only drink a few mouthfuls. However, she did not expect to finish the whole thing. Everyone, including Lu Xingzhi, was very happy to see that..

Chapter 2200: No Need For Trouble

Jiang Yao's ears turned red. After finishing the soup, she scratched her head, feeling a little embarrassed. "Did I drink too much?"

"That's nothing. "

"Back when Old Madam Liang was pregnant with our son, I drank even more." Old Master Liang laughed. Then he said, "I drank it in one gulp too."

Even Liang Yueze burst out laughing. That was the first time he thought Old Master Liang was funny.

Jiang Yao was pregnant. Old Master Liang compared himself to a pregnant woman like Jiang Yao. She probably did not feel consoled.

"The meat here is delicious; they're fresh and have no weird smell." Old Master Liang knew why everyone laughed. He might have looked solemn most of the time, but he could be open-minded too sometimes.

"It's been a long time since I've seen you eat so well." Lu Xingzhi was happy about that. "Is your morning sickness better?"

"A little." Jiang Yao nodded and stood up. "Rest. I've left your medicine over there. When you're done, get a nurse to help you change."

"There's no need to go through so much trouble. Big Brother knows how to do that too." Lu Xingzhi smiled at Jiang Yao. "Go and get busy, but rest. Don't tire yourself out."

Jiang Yao nodded as she walked out of Lu Xingzhi's ward.

The small town hospital was filled with people from the Liang and Cheng families, so Jiang Yao did not have to worry about walking into the building.

The soldiers who were not seriously injured were transferred to the nearest hospital after their condition stabilized. Only then did the ward become emptier. Otherwise, they would see many wounded soldiers in the corridor.

Even though Jiang Yao had assisted them the night before and saved some of the soldiers who were in critical condition, Jiang Yao did not dare to accept any patients she had no confidence in helping. As a result, a night passed, and two people died in the operating room.

Jiang Yao walked out of the ward. Along the way, the atmosphere was quite depressing. The director was in his office, sighing.

Jiang Yao stood at the door, knocked, and walked into the room. "Let me see if there are any patients who I can help."

"We sent some patients to the city hospital. They also sent some staff to assist us. Our doctors can finally breathe a sigh of relief," the hospital director said as he handed some files to Jiang Yao. "There are still a few patients whose conditions are a little difficult for us to handle."

Jiang Yao took them and looked through them. The results took some time, so some of those people were left in the ward because the results were only available the previous night.

They seemed to be in better condition than those sent to the hospital half-dead. However, they were not much better.

"This person's condition is a little similar to that of Chen Qijie. It took some time to find him, so the shrapnels in his legs had rusted. It caused a serious infection because it had been there too long. "

The hospital director looked at Jiang Yao, who remained silent. Then, he said, "Another doctor from the city took over Chen Qijie's case. He underwent an amputation surgery last night. He is in the intensive care unit now."
