

I Practice Farming While the Rest Cultivates

10 Chapter 9 Full Moon_1

“Although it is only an auxiliary method, which cannot be used for cultivation or real combat, its value is no lesser than cultivation practices considering my current situation.”

The appearance of the white light group led to a rocket-like rise in Lu Xuan’s cultivation level.

Although his talent was ordinary, it would be fine in the short term, but if it goes on for a long time, others would definitely discover the anomaly in his cultivation level, which could possibly put him into a difficult situation.

Cultivators usually will not proactively probe into others’ cultivation levels, after all, it is a bit of an impolite behavior and could easily upset others.

But when you interact with more people, you will naturally come across intentional or unintentional prying.

The emergence of the concealment method can disguise me to a certain extent, just like usual, I am merely a Spirit Plant Master with a low level of cultivation.

Unless the other party’s cultivation level is much higher than mine, or even higher by a large realm, or they have practiced certain probing formula methods, otherwise, it will be difficult to detect my actual cultivation level.

Following the progression route of the cultivation technique, Lu Xuan slowly circulated the spiritual power within his body. In an instant, the spiritual power fluctuation emanating from him immediately converged, greatly lowering his presence.

He experimented for a while, revealing the Qi Cultivation Second Layer, and returned to his usual average Loose Cultivator’s status.

In the spirit field, among the two spirit plants that were planted before, all of the Spirit Firefly Grass had been harvested, leaving only the two Moon Erosion Trees on both sides.

The Moon Erosion Trees have grown a lot in this period, and the original crescent shaped Moon Erosion Fruits among the green leaves have gradually become full, from concave to flat, and then round.

The Moon Erosion Trees are slightly hidden among the lush foliage, appearing even more enchanting as they gradually become round and full.

Although the Moon Erosion trees have not been graded yet, they are more valuable than Spirit Firefly Grass. Lu Xuan is looking forward to what kind of light group reward it will bring him when the moon is full.

There is still some time before the newly planted Spirit Firefly Grass and Red Cloud Pine mature in the spirit field.

The difficulty of growing Spirit Firefly Grass is relatively low, generally maturing in two to three months. As for Red Cloud Pine, because it is a first-grade spirit plant, Lu Xuan estimates that it will take about half a year to mature.

Of course, this is the normal cultivation cycle of these two spirit plants for most low-ranking Spirit Plant Masters. Lu Xuan guesses that he may be able to slightly shorten their maturation time because he knows the real-time status of the spirit plants.

After all, other Spirit Plant Masters cannot accurately understand the small needs of spirit plants like him, and they cannot satisfy them meticulously.

For them, cultivating spirit plants is just a means of making a living, while cultivation is the right path.

Take the Spirit Rain Technique for example, the cultivation method adopted by Spirit Plant Masters usually involves wide-range watering, and it is completely impossible for them to control it as precisely as Lu Xuan, performing local application in order to maintain the spirit plants in their best condition.

The harvested Spirit Firefly Grass can't be stored for a long time, so Lu Xuan plans to go to Bai Cao Tang again to sell the fifteen strains of Spirit Firefly Grass he holds to Manager He.

Out of the fifteen strains of Spirit Firefly Grass, four are of ordinary quality, ten are of good quality, and one is of superior quality.

He fed two broken spirits to the Grass Puppet, opened the protective array, and left the house at ease

Bai Cao Tang.

It is the familiar scent of medicine again.

The attendants are bustling about processing materials, while the thin old man is casually lying on a wooden chair, flipping through the account book in his hands.

"Oh, Kid Lu is here again. How's the harvest?"

“You need to tell me the current market condition of Spirit Firefly Grass first.”

“Now that a large number of low-ranking Qi-cultivators have entered the wilderness, the demand for healing pills has dropped a lot.”

“But, recently, there are signs of an increase in pests in the North District, and many low-level Spirit Plant Masters’ spirit fields have been invaded, so the price is still the same as last time, twenty broken spirits and three Spirit Stones for ordinary quality ones, and an additional thirty broken spirits for each good quality one.”

Upon hearing this, Lu Xuan nodded slightly. On his way here, he already saw that the usual bustling congregating areas of Loose Cultivators were a lot quieter, and the place was empty.

As for pests, he had also heard about it. Many Loose Cultivators’ Spirit Fields without protective arrays were invaded by demon insects, causing heavy losses.

“Here, the Spirit Firefly Grass I brought this time, Manager He, you can distinguish them according to their quality.”

Lu Xuan placed fourteen Spirit Firefly Grass plants in front of the skinny old man.

“As for this one, it has a different price.”

He finally took out the superior quality Spirit Firefly Grass and waved it in front of Manager He.

“Is this... Superior Quality Spirit Firefly Grass?”

The skinny old man had been buying Spirit Firefly Grass for many years and immediately recognized the uniqueness of this plant, asking in surprise.

“That’s right, this is indeed Superior Quality Spirit Firefly Grass. Considering that your Spirit Field, which has almost no spiritual energy, can grow such high-quality Spirit Firefly Grass, that is quite remarkable.”

“It seems, perhaps you have decent talent in cultivating spiritual plants.”

He looked at Lu Xuan and sighed leisurely.

“It was just luck.”

“I just spent the time others use for cultivation on planting spiritual plants.”

Lu Xuan half-jokingly said.

"I don't care how you did it, the more high-quality Spirit Firefly Grass you plant, the better. I will buy them at a price you'll be satisfied with."

"I'll take this Spirit Firefly Grass for the price of three spirit stones, and seventy spirit fragments, what do you think?"

Manager He asked Lu Xuan.

Lu Xuan raised an eyebrow, smiling without a word.

It goes without saying, the price needs to be increased!

The skinny old man naturally understood the implication and quickly offered a price that tempted Lu Xuan.

"Four low-grade spirit stones, no more, as this is already 20-30% more than the purchase price of ordinary Spirit Firefly Grass."

"Deal!"

Manager He quickly exchanged the spirit stones for the fifteen Spirit Firefly Grass plants given to him by Lu Xuan, totaling fifty-one spirit stones and eighty spirit fragments!

With the three spirit stones he had left over before, his wealth has instantly increased to nearly fifty-five spirit stones.

"Kid Lu, if you ever get more Spirit Firefly Grass of this quality, remember to bring it to me. The price will definitely not disappoint you."

Manager He looked at Lu Xuan, who was stacking spirit stones around his waist, and specifically instructed.

"If you truly have talent in the spiritual plant path, I can introduce you to a path, which might be your chance."

"Oh?"

Lu Xuan became interested in the old man's words and looked at him curiously.

"It's not enough right now, let's see the quality of the spiritual plants you bring in the future."

"Thank you, Manager He. I will continue to support your business in the future."

Lu Xuan didn't care much about the opportunity mentioned by the old man. After all, the appearance of the white light cluster made any other opportunity seem insignificant.

On the contrary, it might affect his current peaceful and simple farming life.

He bid Manager He farewell and hurried home with a bunch of spirit stones around his waist.

At first he thought about buying some demon beast meat or spirit rice to improve his life and satisfy his appetite, but when he actually passed by the stalls, he felt reluctant.

He still has to pay the rent for the courtyard next month!
