

The moment Madam Ruby saw Su Yang's massive dragon for the first time, all of the awkwardness between them during the pause vanished into thin air almost instantly.

Seeing her dazed face, Su Yang chuckled, "It's not too late to turn back now."

Her already red face flushed with even more redness, "D-Don't you dare underestimate me! I will handle it just fine!"

"If you say so..."

Su Yang pressed the tip of his rod into her soaking wet cave, splitting apart its soft walls that hadn't been touched for many years.

Madam Ruby clenched her fingers and toes as her entire body tensed up from the overwhelming monster that was slowly creeping into her body.

Before Su Yang's rod was fully inserted inside her, Madam Ruby's mind had blanked out, and her face was filled with ecstasy. Just the insertion had sent her to heaven.

When Su Yang pulled back his rod, he pulled back Madam Ruby's consciousness with it, shocking her awake.

"Heavens, have mercy!" Madam Ruby moaned out loud as Su Yang relentlessly knocked on her cave with speed and intensity, causing it to gush with Yin Qi, and her mountains were jiggling so much that its sweet nectar was being squeezed out itself, leaking everywhere.

Suddenly, Su Yang bent over and sucked on her breasts again while he kept on thrusting his rod.

Madam Ruby's milk fresh milk flowed inside his mouth, and just like the nectar from her cave, her milk also contained Yin Qi, albeit not as much and as pure. However, Su Yang had a unique technique that allowed him to absorb all Yin Qi, no matter how little or impure they were, leaving none wasted.

Within five minutes, Madam Ruby climaxed over 20 times. If it weren't for her cultivation, she would've collapsed long ago.

"Are you exhausted already? I still have a week left to spare, you know." Su Yang said to her.

Madam Ruby tried her best to speak without stopping moaning midway, "Stop... underestimating... me...!"

Su Yang smiled and continued thrusting his hips. However, he slowed down his pace just enough to let Madam Ruby recover without making it too obvious for her.

In the blink of an eye, four days have passed since Madam Ruby entered the room, and she has been cultivating without stopping for the whole duration.

When Madam Ruby didn't show her face after a few hours, the receptionist downstairs knew that she had finally found someone skilled enough to please her.

After the fourth day, Madam Ruby had to wave the white flag, "E-Ewougf! Ah cun't du diz enymor!"

Her words were sluggish and barely understandable.

Su Yang smiled, "Alright. We'll stop here then."

After unplugging his rod from her cave, Yin Qi flowed out like a river. He then sat by the bed and immediately began cultivating the Yin Qi he'd absorbed.

Unfortunately, even when compared to the Outer Court disciples from his sect, Madam Ruby's Yin Qi was falling behind. After all, she wasn't a dual cultivator. However, because she hadn't been satisfied in such a long time, the purity of her Yin Qi was slightly better, making it easier to absorb.

Meanwhile, the receptionist was anxiously waiting for Madam Ruby's return.

After the second day, the receptionist was surprised that they lasted for longer than a day. By the third day, he was completely astonished. On the fourth day, he wondered if they were actually still cultivating. He wanted to check on her several times to make sure she was still alive, but he didn't want to risk ruining such a rare moment for her.

On the sixth day, just as the receptionist approached their room, Su Yang opened the door and walked outside.

"Y-You... What happened to Madam Ruby?" The receptionist immediately inquired about her wellbeing.

"She's resting inside. I wouldn't bother her right now if I were you since she's still naked," he said with a calm smile.

"Did you actually cultivate for six days straight?" The receptionist couldn't help but ask.

"No, it ended on the fourth day."

"And you're just now coming out?"

Su Yang chuckled, "What can I say? We both worked very hard."

"Anyways, when she wakes up, let her know that I had a great time with her and hope to meet again."

After saying his goodbyes, Su Yang left the hotel and immediately made his way to his next destination.

Madam Ruby woke up on the 7th day with her entire body crying from pain, especially her lower back.

"What happened to me...?" she muttered in a weak voice.

She had moaned so much in the past few days that she lost her voice temporarily.

Eventually, her memories started returning to her, which shocked her greatly.

"Oh. My. God. I actually allowed him to have intercourse with me!" She was filled with guilt upon realizing what had happened, yet oddly enough, she did not have a single ounce of regret in her heart.

In fact, after calming down a bit, she even began to fantasize about their next meeting.

"Xiao Yang... You are good! Really good! All those failed attempts and patience were well worth it!"

She wanted to immediately schedule their next appointment, but alas, she had been away from home for an entire week now.

'They must be worried about my absence. I need to return as soon as possible and wait for the next opportunity for a 'business trip'!' she thought to herself.

After cleaning herself and getting dressed, Madam Ruby left the room and walked downstairs. When the receptionist saw her, he released a sigh of relief knowing that she wasn't dead.

"Here. If any of this leaks, I'll personally come to retrieve your head." Madam Ruby placed a storage pouch filled with spirit stones inside.

"T-This is more than the usual!" The receptionist said after looking inside.

"If you don't want it, I can take it back."

The receptionist immediately stopped talking and stowed the pouch away.

"Then I'll see you next time." Madam Ruby left the hotel immediately after and returned to her own home.

After completing his first mission, Su Yang made his way to the teleportation device and transported himself several hundred thousand miles to his next destination—Red Hook City.

Red Hook City is a small yet renowned city within the Celestial Heaven. Its primary allure is centered around entertainment, similar to the City of Pleasure but on a smaller scale. Nevertheless, the quality of the women in Red Hook City is often considered superior when compared to those in the City of Pleasure.

Built only a few hundred thousand years ago, Red Hook City is also considerably more modern in comparison to the City of Pleasure, which has been in existence since ancient times.

In his previous life, Su Yang had been to Red Hook City several times, but, like the City of Pleasure, he did not visit for indulgence in pleasure.

'Just like the City of Pleasure, not much has changed since I last visited.' Su Yang thought to himself as he entered the streets.

"Handsome! Come over here! This sister would like to have a work with you!"

"My~ What brought such a handsome young lad to this sort of place? Perhaps this little sister could entertain you?"

Although it was uncommon for the women in Red Hook City to call out to others in the streets, Su Yang was simply too handsome for them to ignore, so they swallowed their pride and beckoned for him.

Sometime later, Su Yang arrived at a somewhat average-looking building and went inside.

This time, Su Yang walked to the front desk and placed a small, red token on the desk without uttering a word.

When the worker saw the token, he immediately understood the situation and Su Yang's identity.

The worker took his red token and gave him a key in return. "Third floor. Your room number is on the key."

"Thanks." Su Yang immediately made his way to the third floor and found his room.

While Su Yang waited for his next client, the worker of that hotel contacted his client.

"Miss Chen. Your 'friend' has arrived," he notified her through her communication jade slip.

"Thank you, I will be there as soon as possible."

A few hours later, Su Yang stopped cultivating and opened his eyes when he sensed the temperature in the room suddenly lowered in an unnatural manner.

He turned to look at the door right as someone knocked on it.

"Come inside," he calmly said.

Right as the door opened and a masked figure walked inside the room, the temperature dropped some more, and it felt as though winter had arrived.

'This woman has a Heavenly Constitution!' Su Yang immediately came to this conclusion as he sensed an abnormal amount of Yin Element being emitted by this masked figure.

'She's probably doing that unconsciously because there's so much Yin Qi built up in her body that it has nowhere to go but outside. It's a wonder that she's even able to walk around in such a condition.'

Su Yang recalled a specific detail for this mission that recommended the disciple to have strong Yang Qi.

'He doesn't seem surprised about my condition...' The masked woman thought to herself when she saw Su Yang's nonchalant expression.

When the other disciples first saw her, they were always either surprised or terrified. This is the first time that anyone has managed to remain calm.

"The Stellar Yin Constitution, huh? Quite the uncommon Heavenly Constitution you have there," Su Yang said, breaking the silence in the room.

"You know about it?" she subconsciously asked him.

"Those blessed with a Stellar Yin Constitution are often seen as unparalleled geniuses, for they possess a natural affinity to absorb and harmonize with the Yin Qi around them. Their bodies are naturally imbued with the essence of Yin, enabling them to cultivate at an accelerated pace beyond the reach of most," Su Yang confirmed his knowledge regarding her Heavenly Constitution.

Continuing his explanation, Su Yang added, "Yet, there exists a potential drawback for those blessed with the Stellar Yin Constitution—a continuous need to expel excess Yin Qi due to their inability to cultivate at a pace that matches its accumulation."

"To be considered a genuine genius, one must have the innate talent to manage and control their Heavenly Constitution, a common characteristic among those with divine bodies."

He then silently pondered, 'Now, the question is whether she's a genuine genius who is struggling with her own Heavenly Constitution for some reason or an unfortunate individual who possesses only half of the divine gift.'

Most people who are born with a Heavenly Constitution are not born with the talent to match their divine body, so Su Yang wouldn't be surprised if his masked client was one of them.

"Thank you for the lecture, but I am here to fix my body. If you don't think you can handle my Yin Qi, you should leave now. I won't blame you, nor will I make any complaints against you." The masked woman said.

Su Yang smiled and reassured her, saying, "Don't worry, it's just a Stellar Yin Constitution. The most it'll do is make my hands a little chilly."

The masked woman's eyebrows twitched slightly at his words.

'He's treating my Stellar Yin Constitution like it's a joke!'

She then said, "Several of your fellow disciples have underestimated my Heavenly Constitution as well, and they ended up with nearly crippled hands."

"I think you've misunderstood my words. I'm not taking this matter lightly. It's just not a threat to me," Su Yang stood up and approached her until he was standing right in front of her. He then placed his right hand on her shoulder without any hesitation.

"See?" He revealed his palm afterward, and it appeared entirely unharmed.

The masked woman was appalled by Su Yang's recklessness, but she was relieved to see that he was unharmed, even a little hopeful.

'Perhaps he'll be able to help me...'

She then nodded, "Okay, I'll hire you."

She walked to the bed and sat on it.

"Before we begin, allow me to remind you of my rules."
