Chapter 661 Sensitive Period

Flora's POV:

Warren carried me all the way back to his dorm room.

Title of the document

Right after returning from the border, Warren applied for a room of his own. His previous roommate, Harry, was too noisy and he liked to eat midnight snacks. Warren, who was usually good at taking care of his body, would be tempted and would end up eating snacks with him.

After gaining five pounds, Warren decided that enough was enough. He moved out and got a single room. Warren gently placed me on the bed.

Without thinking too much, he took off his jacket and shirt, revealing his well-defined, s*xy muscles.

I had a sinking feeling about this. I wrapped my arms around my arm and took my coat off. Panic-stricken, I couldn't think straight.

I'll scream!" I squeezed my eyes shut and started screaming, flailing one eye open to peek at him. He was still sitting on the edge of the bed, put on a serious expression and demanded, "Why are you smiling like

Chapter 662 Friends

Sylvia's POV:

The next day, Rufus took me to Leonard's pack early in the morning. Many other cars full of gifts followed after his car. Those gifts weren't only for Alina's wedding, but also Ethan's appreciation for Leonard's help with the border crisis.

Title of the document

Warren also went with us. Even though their relationship wasn't as good as before, Alina grew up with him. That was why he felt like he should attend the wedding.

He wasn't in the same car with us, though. He drove his own car at the end of the convoy.

We arrived at the Silver Moon Pack in the afternoon. Leonard—together with Owen and Edwin—waited for us at the city gate.

Moon Pack's location was quite advantageous. It was surrounded by the sea, mountains, and rivers. The climate was pleasant because of that. I

Chapter 663 Meeting Parents

Sylvia's POV:

I was surprised that Warren actually brought Flora here. Then I soon noticed there was something wrong. Flora struggled in Warren's arms. It seemed that she didn't come here out of her own desire. "Put me down! I can walk by myself, you know!"

Title of the document

However, Warren did not act so gentle and obedient as he would have before. He continued to grip Flora's arms tightly and did not budge.

Everyone stood there, stunned. No one seemed to have any idea as to what on earth was happening.

Owen was the first to react. Anger registered clear on his face as he shouted, "What are you doing? Put her down! Have you no decorum? We're in public!"

It was only upon hearing those words when Warren put Flora down. Flora, cunning as she was, made a run for it the moment she was placed down. There was something in her that couldn't stand being at such close distance to Warren.

Warren, expecting Flora would run away, quickly made a tight grab at her wrist.

Flora's POV:

As soon as Warren finished speaking, the entire crowd gasped in astonishment.

I was so enraged that I aggressively grabbed Warren's arm and scolded, "What nonsense are you talking about? Who is your mate?"

Silence reigned. Warren's announcement seemed to have sent everyone into shock.

I cast a fearful glance in Owen's direction. I was scared that he wouldn't be able to accept the news and that the stress would make him faint. After all, I was just a mere Omega. Warren was way out of my league. Contrary to my expectations, Owen was overjoyed and looked at me with ecstasy.

Flora's POV:

After thinking for a while, I slowly said the word, "Honey." Warren froze in place and vigilantly stared at me.

I fought the urge to roll my eyes when I noticed him tense up. I simply continued to fake a gentle, sweet voice as I said, "I didn't mean to lose my temper. I'm pregnant, and I can't control my emotions. You haven't even asked me whether I want it or not."

Upon hearing my explanation, Warren looked guilty. He turned me around so I could face him. "I'm sorry. I won't force you anymore. But can you promise me you won't run away again? I really want to marry you, Flora. I like you so much."

He lowered his voice by the time he told me he wanted to marry me. His earlobes also turned a dark shade of red, indicating that he was embarrassed.

Chapter 666 Parents-in- law

Warren's POV:

I was shocked when I heard my father's announcement. I hadn't expected him to invite Flora's parents over so soon. I thought it would at least take a while before we finally met.

Title of the document

However, shortly after my father gave us this news, a subordinate came to inform us that Flora's parents had already arrived.

I was suddenly overwhelmed with nerves. This had happened so fast that I hadn't got a chance to prepare myself. I began to fret that Flora's parents wouldn't accept me. After all, I had knocked their beloved daughter up before we could get married.

I didn't know her father's nature. If he truly wanted to beat me up, I was willing to bear the pain. I was going to marry their daughter regardless of their consent. Receiving a few punches from him wasn't that big a deal.

My father, who was walking beside me, curled his lips up with a sneer. "Don't be scared, son. You still have me with you. I have already made excellent arrangements." "I'm not scared..."

"He didn't come..." the maid trailed off.

"Why didn't he? Hasn't he returned to the pack?" I had a feeling that Warren really was going to cut all ties with me at that moment. He didn't even want to see me anymore.

Sylvia's POV:

It would be great if Warren could inherit the position of an Alpha. He had been with Leonard ever since he was a child, and to a certain extent, Leonard had already regarded Warren as his own son.

As for what Leonard was worried about, I had a vague idea of what he meant.

that Warren would attach too much importance to his friends and family. I thought the same. Leonard sighed. "Warren is stubborn. Pedantic, even.
