Chapter 691 The Beginning Of The Wedding

Sylvia's POV:

On the day of the wedding, I had wrapped a gift and was ready to leave for the venue with Rufus.

He wore his watch and glanced at the exquisitely packaged walking stick on the table. "Don't you want to take this with you too?"

I shook my head and walked closer to him to straighten his tie. "No. It's for Leonard. I'll find an opportunity to give it to him after Alina's wedding."

Sylvia's POV:

I was a little surprised as this was the first time that Alina had wanted to talk to me in private.

Title of the document

True, we had issues with each other before, but we had never confronted each other in private. Later she went back to her pack and I decided to let go. After all, we might never see each other again.

However, I came here for her wedding now, and what happened on the day of the welcome banquet was really disturbing.

Sylvia's POV:

Rufus always listened to me because he was my boyfriend, but why would Leonard cater my every need? What was she even talking about?

Title of the document

Although Leonard and I knew each other well now, he only treated me the same way an ordinary elder would treat a young person. Alina just was just talking nonsense.

I scowled and said in a frosty voice, "Alina, today is your big day, so I don't want to say anything that could upset you. But if you keep pushing..."

Immediately, I shouted at Rufus outside the door. However, to my surprise, no one responded. Alina sneered and said, "Just give up, Sylvia. No one can hear you. This place is isolated from the outside world."

I was shocked when I heard her words. It turned out that Alina had colluded with Noreen! Seeing Alina walking towards Noreen with ease, my blood boiled. It seemed that Alina brought me here today to K*ll me.

Now that Alina was going to get married, she could look forward to a lifetime of happiness. Subconsciously, I reached into my pocket and pulled out a chocolate bar. But a hand snatched it out of my fingers just as I was ready to bite into it.

"You shouldn't eat sweets." Rufus looked very serious as he tossed the candy into the bin.

Rufus’ POV:

The figure in black ran really fast. As I chased it, I could see the hemline of Sylvia’s dress fluttering in the air along with the shadow. I didn’t dare to let go. As I kept following the figure, the rage in my heart began to boil uncontrollably.

Sylvia's POV:

I felt groggy as I slowly regained consciousness. I wiggled my fingers feebly, feeling as if I were lying on a big soft bed. I had a splitting headache and my brain seemed to be covered in cobwebs.

When I came to my senses completely, I saw that I was really lying on a big bed. My surroundings were bright, and dazzling sunlight streamed into the room. I shut my eyes, feeling quite uncomfortable.

Still in a daze, my body was feverish. The room was eerily quiet. Every time I drew a breath, I felt as if my internal organs were being ripped apart.

Chapter 698 The Black Witch Bloodline*Sylvia's POV:

I was so angry that I burst into maniac laughter. That was a foolish thing for Noreen to say. I was to blame for the black thorn on Rufus' back? Why didn't she just tell me that I was the descendant of a witch? It was ridiculous, as if saying that a vampire would faint at the sight of blood.
