"Yes, I do. Now, just tell me the truth and advise me on what need to do for my baby. I promise I'll pay more attention."

The doctor nodded. "Alright, Miss Todd."

After that, he told me a lot of things, such as getting proper rest and having a good state of mind. He also told me about doing exercises every day, eating lots of fruits and veggies for natural vitamins, avoiding radiation, and having regular prenatal examinations.

I waited for half an hour after he left, and then immediately ran to my room and gathered a few belongings. I went downstairs calmly, as if it was just another ordinary day. "Maya, I have to go to the army."

Holding a vase in one hand and a duster in the other, Maya paused and eyed me strangely. "Miss Todd, why do you suddenly want to go to the army? Didn't Prince Rufus suspend your daily training and missions in the army last week?"

In fact, I already knew from Blair that the meeting had ended, but I still had to pretend to be surprised. "The meeting ended so early! Does that mean we can get to the restaurant early?"

There was a long pause. Then Rufus' apologetic voice came through. "I'm sorry, Sylvia. I wanted to come home earlier, but I have other plans. I'm afraid I'm going to have to cancel our date tonight."
