

The Cute Baby by Yanxizi chapter 3

At this moment, Nina was about to walk to the elevator, take it downstairs and leave the hotel.

This was the only thing she had to do now.

She exerted all her strength to stand firm and strode towards the elevator step by step.

“Where is she? Where is the person I asked you to find?”

Several men stood together, and one of them roared at the other men.

“.....”

The tall men standing in front of the man were all silent.

All of them looked worried.

“You losers, can you afford to delay our boss’s work?”

The man’s face was full of anger, and his eyebrows were tightly knitted.

The men kept their heads down and said nothing.

The man looked at the people in front of him and glanced at them one by one.

“What should we do?”

The man whispered in a low voice, crossing his arms. He walked back and forth.

She was thinking about what to do? How? He couldn't get away with offending their boss.

“Sir!”

One of the men faltered.

“What's the matter? Say it!”

When the man was deep in thought, one of his men's words made him reply impatiently.

“Do you think you can fulfill your task as long as you have a woman?”

The man's eyes fell on the woman not far away from him.

“That woman has run away. The top priority now is to find her.”

The man had been eager to find the woman who had escaped, but he didn't expect to find another woman to replace her.

“We can catch a woman to take her place and send her to the room. We don't have to be empty-handed so that we can report to our boss.”

At the sight of Nina, another method of assigning tasks appeared in his mind.

“Well, but the point is the woman. ”

Thinking of what the man said, the man suddenly realized.

“Sir, look at the back.”

The man raised the corners of his mouth and pointed at Nina not far behind the man with a weird smile.

The man didn't take it seriously. He slowly turned around and looked at Nina from afar.

In a light blue shirt, her black hair was disheveled to her waist, pure and beautiful.

“You have good taste.”

Then, the men squinted at each other and walked towards Nina.

When she was about to press the elevator bon, she suddenly hit her back. A numb pain came, and her raised hand slowly fell down.

Then, she lost consciousness

“Sir, are you really okay? Do you need to invite Daniel over?”

A bodyguard asked the man who was supporting him.

“No, thanks. You can go downstairs and pick me up at half-past seven tomorrow morning.”

The man rubbed his temples and ordered in a low voice.

The bodyguard took the room card and opened the door. Seeing the man enter the room, he closed the door and left.

Gabriel staggered into the room.

His straight and slender figure, his handsome face, and his domineering temperament filled the room.

He supported his head with one hand against the wall and the other, shaking his head.

The discomfort surged up again.

Gabriel walked into the bathroom. He took off his coat and tie casually, trying to make himself comfortable after taking a shower.

A few minutes later, he walked out of the bathroom quietly.

She thought she would feel better after taking a shower, but she didn't expect the heat to be stronger.

He walked to the bedside and was about to lie down to have a rest, but he found a woman lying on the bed for no reason.

The woman's black hair was stered on the bed and her face, covering most of her face.

She looked at her dress vaguely and guessed that she was an inexperienced pure and new girl.

Because of the cover and being drunk, he couldn't see her face clearly.

Somehow, her body began to heat up and her cheeks became redder and redder.

He kissed her forehead, cheeks, and neck in a hurry.

It hurts.

The pain swept over her.

Nina was suffocating and dizzy like a fish without water. She opened her eyes in a daze.

In the soft darkness, the whole room was filled with a strange atmosphere.

She tried her best to push him away but failed. The man was unmoved.

Nina wanted to shout, but for some reason, her throat was stuck and she couldn't say anything. She could only make a faint whimper.

The pain spread all over her body, and she blurted out instinctively.

For a moment, she felt that her body didn't belong to her anymore.

The man's sweat dripped on Nina's hot and red face.

All of a sudden, she felt a sense of sadness.

The night was desolate and long.
