

D. Hero 1871

The Domestic Hero - Chapter 1871

...

War is like an endless quagmire, no matter who it is, once it is involved, it will only sink deeper and deeper.

In particular, this intergalactic war against the extraterrestrial demon, spreading to multiple galaxies and sweeping countless planes, from the time it broke out, no one knows when this war will end.

The edge of the Milky Way galaxy is also the center of this interstellar war. The abyssal world has been destroyed in ruins after more than two thousand years of war.

It is dark, chaotic, and broken, with wreckage of floating warships and various corpses of various races wearing mechas or combat uniforms.

The original main continents of the abyssal world have now become a large floating asteroid belt.

Once the endless abyss and the dark sea, and after the abyss world was exploded, accompanied by these asteroid fragments, spreading in this cosmic void, it became a cosmic cemetery of Nuo Da. For more than two thousand years, I don't know how many cosmic creatures were buried.

Today, this war is still not over.

This day, the eastern part of the huge abyss cemetery.

The three large fleets that have been assembled are advancing slowly in this asteroid belt filled with dark sea cyclones and abyss debris, in a zigzag square array.

It seems that a long-prepared war is about to erupt.

"Allies, we are about to reach the designated position. If we can eliminate the main force of the devil today, we will definitely win this war!"

A calm and dignified middle-aged male voice is being passed from the flagship of the Central Fleet.

This central fleet, which is located in a zigzag square array, has no fewer than 300 warships of various sizes, each of which is very beautiful in shape. The outer layer is equipped with pure white ceramic armor, and the armor is shining brightly. Light.

Such a gorgeous and powerful fleet is the main force of the starship from the Kingdom of Light.

The person who has just spoken out is the Divine Kingdom, which is located in the flagship of the Divine Kingdom Fleet, and the leader of the resistance alliance, the Holy Father, the Holy Father, Albert.

At this time, the Father of Light was wearing gold armor and a golden crown, and the light wings behind him were gathered together, revealing a thick and majestic momentum.

He looked far ahead, his eyes showing perseverance, as can be seen from his tense expression, he was bound to get this action.

“I just got the news that the friendly forces of Hellworld and the other three parties have already attacked the rear of the Heavenly Demon Alliance in the M76 Nebula of Andromeda. As long as we defeat the main force of Heavenly Demon here, we will definitely be able to end this war in two hundred years Completely defeat the extraterrestrial demon within a thousand years! “

The answer was coming from the lower left side of the Shenguo fleet.

Located on the left side of the pin-shaped square array, it is an interstellar fleet of the same size, but with a tough hull shape.

From the fleet’s hull exuding the cold metallic color and the bright red sign full of blood, it can be seen that this powerful fleet comes from the earth.

The person who spoke at this time was the chief of the Earth Fleet, the silver armor sword, and the heroic moon sword Gao Mingyue.

It is no surprise that Gao Mingyue can become the commander of an earth fleet.

She was very talented and trained, and her ability was very outstanding. When Wang Yan left, when the Galaxy Resistance Alliance and the Heavenly Demon Alliance launched a long-lasting war, she soon became an artillery due to her outstanding achievements. Yan Zun, the commander of the sub-fleet under the command of the Earth.

And more than 500 years later, Gao Mingyue, with the help of allies such as the Bright Father God and the Three Devil Gods of Hell, successfully reached the summit and became the only female sword * on earth with swords.

War has indeed stimulated development in many areas, but there are also countless heroes and lives that have been involved in it and have been sacrificed in the end.

In this war, since Wang Yan and the demon Lord Luo Sui left, both sides wanted to eliminate each other as soon as possible.

On the other side of the heavenly demons, many gods and demons want to make great efforts to destroy more resistance troops before the devil returns. Fortunately, when Demon Lord Luo Shu returned, he invited the Demon Lord for credit.

The Galactic Resistance Allied Forces hope to destroy the extraterrestrial demon as soon as possible when Wang Yan leads away the demon Lord Luo Ai. In this way, when Wang Yan returns, he can concentrate all his combat power to help Wang Yan defeat Luo Ai.

But neither party thought that the battle was over two thousand years.

Both sides are equal in strength, and no one can gain a decisive advantage. So in order to win this interstellar war, the two sides pooled all their resources, attracted many allies, and the scope of the war was constantly expanding.

At this point in time, war has spread to multiple galaxies and thousands of planes.

During this process, there were many heroes and stories that weeping and weeping, as well as many reliable companions, who fell on the cruel battlefield.

For example, at this time, the fleet on the right side of the zigzag shape was a coalition of black and white elves and several allies led by the white elf queen Ashley.

About a thousand years ago, the white elf queen Ashilia and the black elf king Polman, under the auspices of the light father, combined to marry, and since then split the two black and white elves, formally united.

It is a pity that the good times are not long. After just two hundred years, the black elf king Polman and his friend mountain giant Orton were attacked and killed, and the white elf queen Athelia lost an eye.

Since then, the white elf queen Ashley has become the common king of black and white elves and allied mountain giants. Revenge has become a lifelong wish of these races, as well as the elf queen Ashlia herself.

“Humph! The * of the plague apostle, and the man of the black apostle, this king must break them to pieces!”

The white elf queen Ashilia wears a leather one-eye mask, wears a pure white battle skirt, and has a very small temperament. The remaining beautiful eyes are staring coldly at the desolate universe in the distance.

As she said, the plague apostle Seramis and the black meteorite Gangte and his wife, after the demon Lord Luo Sui left, because they had the largest power, they quickly ganged up and formed an apostolic council composed of many gods All matters of the entire Demon Army.

The couples of the Plague Apostle and the Black Fallen Apostle naturally became the core senior members of the Apostolic Council.

They are the culprits of the ambush black and white elf king and their friend Mountain Giant Orton.

“That’s it! If you kill them, you must kill them! That pair of adulterers should be * it!”

At this time, the white elf queen’s side, a green-skinned long tail, like a toad-like human race, is screaming angry and sad.

“That’s the pair of adulterers , that is, they killed Ben’s father and destroyed Ben’s home!”

“In this battle, the king must lead the people, destroy the adulterers, and recapture our planet!”

This green-skinned long-tailed, human-like, intelligent race calling itself King is the half-lizard from the edge of the galaxy.

However, they did not appear to have gods, and the strongest king in the group had only a demigod peak, but they had unique leading technology in the development of energy.

In order to compete for energy and related development technologies, a Demon Fleet under the command of the Plague Apostle couple easily invaded the world.

The half-lizard king died in battle, and the remaining survivors followed the former prince, now the new king, Hati, and fled all the way to the white elven universe, accepting the help of the white elf queen.

Finally, under the introduction of the White Fairy Queen, he joined the Galaxy Anti-Union and became a member of the Anti-Union.

In fact, there are many such things in this huge interstellar war.

In order to expand their own advantages and to occupy more resources, a large amount of the world was destroyed, and countless races were forced to leave their homes and begin exile.

As the core high-level of the extraterrestrial demon, the insidious and cunning plague apostle couple naturally did countless.

Because of this, the joint fleet now entering the battlefield, all the generals are full of resentment against the extraterrestrial demon, and the couples of the plague apostle and the black apostle.

Few items.

With the advancement of this Galactic Alliance, the main fleet of extraterrestrial demon gradually appeared in the eyes of everyone.

However, it seems that the Heavenly Demon side has already been prepared. The core high-level leaders such as the Plague Apostle Siramis and the Black Meteor Apostle are not in a hurry. The Heavenly Demon Coalition side, all warships began to slowly turn the bow at this moment.

“Giggle, bright old dog, do you think the concubine doesn’t know what you are thinking? The concubine has been waiting for a long time.”

The plague apostle Theramis wore a purple skirt, enchantingly leaning on the flagship command post, “Submit the order, the main gun is charged, and ready to fight!”

“Ji Jie, it’s time to settle the ledger with the old Guangming dog.”

On the other main ship adjacent to the Plague Apostle, Blackfall Apostle Steel had a burly body and grinned broadly, “My wife, with the strength we have accumulated to the present, we can definitely wipe out the bright old dog in one fell swoop!”

“Cough, yes, as long as the bright old dog dies, what kind of * alliance hasn’t all collapsed?”

The plague apostle Seramisme said, a fiery chill shone in her eyes.

Soon under the command of several Demon Gods, thousands of large and small Demon Fleets were all ready to fight, waiting for the main force of the coalition led by the Bright Father and God to enter their attack range.

On the other side, the Father of Light also ordered the resistance coalition to immediately enter the fighting state, and all the main guns of the warships began to recharge.

Nearly a thousand coalition warships slowly drove towards the demon, a large-scale showdown that has been preparing for a long time, and it will soon erupt.

But at this moment, the vast universe between the two armies suddenly appeared a wave of space fluctuations.

With the emergence of space fluctuations, a figure stepped through time and space and appeared between the two armies out of thin air.

The Galactic Resistance Alliance and the Devil's Army, the two fleets, a total of millions of soldiers, were all stunned, and their eyes widened.

“Why, what’s going on?”

“One, one person, how come out of nowhere?”

“Wait! Zoom in! Quick! Zoom in!”

With the high-level leaders of both parties eagerly ordering, the large screens of the flagships of the two sides magnified the figure by dozens of times.

It’s okay if you don’t zoom in. As the figure is clearly displayed on the big screen, all the high-level people on both sides were all shocked on the spot.

“Wang, Wang Yan!”

“It’s him, it’s Wang Yan!”

In the eyes of God, the bright Father couldn’t help but smile aloud, “Hahaha, good! Good! That kid really lived up to expectations, he, he really came back!”

With the laughter of the Father of Light, the entire Anti-Allied Coalition Army suddenly fell into joy.

After more than two thousand years, although this joint military officer, except for a few core senior executives, more than ninety-nine people have not seen Wang Yan, but Wang Yan ’s deeds and legends are well known and unknown. .

Almost every coalition soldier has been educated since childhood, and everything they have now is because of the hero Wang Yan who sacrificed himself!

Without Wang Yan, there would not be them now.

Now that they have seen Wang Yan returning from the depths of the universe, and their core leaders are all excited, how can they not cheer for them?

Among the jubilant allied soldiers, Gao Mingyue was standing alone in front of the observation window, standing for a long time, silently.

Her pair of cold eyes, when she saw the familiar figure, burst into tears, her inner emotions were hard to calm down, and even her delicate body shivered slightly.

The man she was looking forward to and worried about, finally came back!

He succeeded!

“Oh, it’s really amazing, we won this battle!”

On the other main ship, a white elf queen with sorrowful spirit, when she saw the coming people, there was a lot of relief and warmth in the sharp eyes full of hatred.

Speaking of sacrifice, the human kid in front of him can pay a lot more than she did.

And now that he is back, will he be far from the victory of this war?

“Your Majesty, this young man who appeared suddenly is really the legendary hero, Wang Yan, the * of flames?”

The half-lizard young King Hati, leaning beside the White Elf Queen, asked curiously, “He had disappeared for more than two thousand years after he led away the demon Lord Luo Sui, and he is still able to come back now. It is really remarkable. But he looks Very ordinary? He really can deal with the demon Luo Luo, and let us finally win the war? “

Wang Yan suddenly appeared in front of him. His clothes were ragged, his feet were bare, his hair had grown over his shoulders, and he was so scattered around his shoulders and back. If it weren’t for his handsome appearance, like the appearance of that year, the core leaders of the Allied Army, such as the Bright Father and God, would even think of him as a sloppy barbarian.

It is for this reason that Wang Yan has never been seen, and only the half-lizard King Hati, who has heard of the relevant deeds, only expressed his doubts at this time.

In front of him, Wang Yan does not seem to be powerful at all. Can he really escape from the hands of the demon Lord Luo Sui and change the battle situation?

In addition, now that Wang Yan has returned, what about the demon Lord Luo Sui?

“Oh, Hati, your half-lizard eyes are too narrow.”

The White Elf Queen smiled proudly, “Why is Wang Yan’s greatness manifested in superficial appearance? And from Wang Yan’s calm expression and the absence of a second space fluctuation for so long, you can see that the devil Lord Luo Sui Bacheng cannot return. We will definitely win this battle! “

“hiss!”

Hatti, the half-lizard, took a breath of breath, and then realized the horror of the matter. “You, you mean the devil Lord Luo Sui ... can’t come back? Difficult, don’t ...”

Just think about the following things, the half-lizard Hati is almost floating.

If it is really like the Queen of the White Elves, then in this battle, those extraterrestrial demon still fart?

“Long live His Majesty the Vulcan! Aw!”

Under the leadership of the half lizard King Hati, all the half lizards also joined the celebration.

...

“Fire! Hurry!”

“Aim at the suddenly appearing human and fire quickly!”

Plague Apostle Theramis, Blackfall Apostle Gunter, and several other high-level demons, all like a ghost, one after another, fearful of bones, hurriedly ordered.

“All main guns fire immediately! Kill that human!”

These high-level demons have seen Wang Yan lead Demon Lord Luo Su away. Today, after more than two thousand years, Wang Yan suddenly returned. Despite his ragged appearance, his whole body was introverted, as if he were integrated into the surrounding universe, and his expression was calm.

It was so calm that it was so weird to the extreme.

In addition to the most important point, the demon Lord Luo Sui did not chase it, and even a little extra space fluctuation did not appear.

What does this indicate? Could it be that their Lord of the Devil has fallen?

This almost catastrophic event to the extraterrestrial demon is not impossible.

Therefore, the most important thing right now is to seize the opportunity and kill this sudden Wang Yan first!

“Boom!”

Thousands of large and small Demon warships poured their powerful firepower that they had saved for a long time.

Under such fierce firepower, even if it is blocked by a Nuo Da star, it will be completely destroyed!

The terrible artillery fire turned to the extreme, but Wang Yan seemed to be unaware, always standing in the middle of the battlefield, and remained motionless for a long time.

There was a daze in his eyes, as if he had come to a familiar place, but found that there was a big difference from his memory.

Until a violent roar, the main guns of thousands of warships all blasted on Wang Yan alone.

Such a terrible big explosion can almost tear this battlefield.

However, the explosion caused by the main gun was forcibly captured by an invisible force, and then swallowed by force.

In a short moment, all the main gun power was absorbed into the body by Wang Yan, and the slightest amount of energy did not boil out.

“How, how is it possible?”

“This, this, this, what a terrible power!”

The demon leaders headed by the Plague Apostle and the Black Fallen Apostle, as well as all the extraterrestrial demon are terrified.

They felt as if they had fallen into an endless abyss, fear and chill, and instantly filled their limbs and bones.

Seemingly attracted attention by this sudden attack, Wang Yan slowly turned around and at the same time raised his right palm and gently wiped it horizontally in the void.

In a flash, horrible things happened.

A tremendously invisible force, like an eraser, forcibly wiped out all Demon battleships.

Thousands of warships, together with hundreds of thousands of warrior generals inside, are all crushed by this invisible force, decomposed and melted, and finally all turned into nothingness chaos, returning to the entire universe.
